CONFIRMED: The Trillion-Dollar Lawsuit That Could End Financial Tyranny

Written by David Wilcock Monday, 12 December 2011 12:12

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/995-lawsuit-end-tyranny>

It could be the biggest, most explosive story in modern history. We are just starting to put the pieces together and understand what is going on in the occult financial geopolitical scene, and how a 117-nation alliance is working to free the Earth from financial tyranny.

[UPDATE, NEXT MORNING: On the same day this article came out, Benjamin Fulford was allegedly detained in a hotel against his will by a "CIA-type group"... and his life may be in danger.

This caused him to miss his appearance on a TV show he was scheduled to be on. The videos are at the end. This could be serious. We pray for Ben's well-being and encourage you to help spread the word. Publicity is protection!

UPDATE, 12:44 AM SAME NIGHT: We just found out that Fulford is alive and OK. He may have been held in the hotel for his own protection, but we do not know yet. More information will follow as soon as we get it and will be updated below.

UPDATE WEDNESDAY 3:48 PM: I have received a very serious death threat from a highly-placed insider, who told me it would be "a very good idea" for me to release Part Two tonight. I will be working non-stop towards that goal. More at the bottom of the article.

UPDATE WEDNESDAY 5:43 PM: To all holders of the Wilcock File: DO NOT attempt to contact me in any way. Your instructions are now included in the most recent update.

UPDATE THURSDAY 5:30 PM: We are scrambling to get Part Two finished but making good progress. David was contacted by Coast and will be appearing briefly at or around 10PM Pacific time to give a short three-minute synopsis of what happened. This SUBSTANTIALLY increases our protection and security.

UPDATE SATURDAY 5:15 PM: My phone has been literally ringing off the hook since I made these announcements. I am getting calls stacked up on call waiting just while I'm trying to complete the ones I'm already in. This has been very distracting!

I do not believe I am in danger any longer. This article now has 350,000 hits and I was told that anything over 200,000 would practically guarantee no one would come after me. I am scrambling to finish Part Two and will probably have it out tomorrow.]

IT MAY BE THE BEST THING THAT'S EVER HAPPENED TO US

As I write these words, the average person is coming face-to-face with disturbing, if not dire news.

Not only could the disastrous financial debacle of 2008 be about to repeat itself, it may even be a lot worse this time.

As of November 28, 2011, media outlets announced that we could be as little as ten days away from a complete collapse of the Euro -- and with it, much of the rest of the world's economies could be pulled down as well.

Yet another grandiose "bailout" maneuver was used to buy some time -- but this has done little to address the gnawing unease in the public, particularly as the saber-rattling in the Middle East is again reaching a fever pitch.

This, at least, is the mainstream media's perspective on what is going on -- and thankfully, it is completely baseless.

In classic Orwellian terms -- such as "War is Peace, Freedom is Slavery, Ignorance is Strength" -- the mainstream media's "Global Financial Collapse" cry of doom may very well be the best thing that's ever happened to us.

At least in any known, recorded history.

A VERY MYSTERIOUS, VERY QUIET AND VERY LARGE-SCALE FINANCIAL SCANDAL

You are about to dive into a story that, for quite some time now, has been nothing but a great-sounding idea -- a wonderful "what if." Almost nothing of this story could be found in the mainstream media.

However, the bizarre origin of the story did briefly find its way into FOX's Glenn Beck show in 2009.

I highly recommend you watch this first, as it will draw you directly into the mystery -- which flickered for the briefest moment in mainstream media, only to disappear into shuddering silence:

Notice that Beck says FOX contacted the Treasury Department about this case, and received an official blow-off letter in response -- basically saying they had "no comment" on this 134 billion dollars in US bonds, seized at the Italian border, as it was "evidence in an ongoing investigation."

Beck then goes on to put up the numbers of which countries hold the largest numbers of US bonds. In order, they are China at 763.5 billion, Japan at 685.9 billion, the United Kingdom at 152.8 billion, Russia at 137.0 billion and Brazil at 126.0 billion.

Based on the public, unclassified numbers, 134.5 billion dollars in US bonds could only have been produced by Russia, the UK, Japan or China... no one else. The amount of money is so huge that if Russia produced it, they would only have 2.5 billion dollars in US bonds left over!

Joe Wiesenthal, the editor of BusinessInsider.com, said that whether this was a government dumping its bonds or a counterfeit operation, it was "gigantic" in scope and "unlike anything we've ever seen -- not just in size but also in sophistication."

According to Wiesenthal, in order to counterfeit these bonds, "it would be the kind of technology you would expect only a government to have." Wiesenthal also believes the 1934 issuance date on the bonds suggests they may be elaborate forgeries.

OTHER LINKS TO COVERAGE OF THE ORIGINAL SCANDAL

Once you know what you are looking for, you can do some digging and find all the most significant articles published online about this strange story when it first broke in June, 2009.

Here is the original Bloomberg article on the scandal:

Here is a Daily Kos summary of links describing what may have happened:

<http://www.asianews.it/index.php?l=en&art=15456&size=A>

In these two articles, "The Underground Investor" analyzed the evidence and clearly established how strange this whole story really was:

THE LAWSUIT IS NOW A REALITY FOR ALL TO SEE

Ever since this bizarre event happened, the only follow-up to the story has been in the form of an elaborate amount of 'insider' information leaked by Benjamin Fulford -- the former Asia-Pacific bureau chief for Forbes Magazine -- on a week-by-week basis.

Finally, the lawsuit at the epicenter of this investigation has now become a tangible reality -- validating everything Fulford has been saying about this mysterious case since it originally started.

Looming storm clouds threatened to demolish Fulford's credibility in a single crash of lightning as the all-important date of November 15th, 2011 came and went -- with nothing to show for it -- after years of fanfare and buildup on his websites.

However, on November 23, 2011, the clouds parted. A vast, 111-page legal complaint was filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. This complaint is now a provable matter of public record... as you are about to see.

I have since discovered hundreds of pages of intricate, complex material to read, firsthand eyewitnesses to interview, and official documents to scrutinize. There is no lack of "homework" to be done for those who are interested.

MAINSTREAM MEDIA PICKED UP THE STORY AS OF DECEMBER 5, 2011

Dan McCue started asking the same questions you may now be thinking about... and as a result, he was the first mainstream journalist to cover this story in Courthouse News Service, a nationwide news service for lawyers and the news media.

McCue isn't necessarily convinced -- the article is entitled "Bizarre Claim for \$1 Trillion" -- but given that this is a real case, he is certainly interested enough to write about it.

Bizarre Claim for $1 Trillion

MANHATTAN (CN) - An American expatriate in Bulgaria claims the United Nations, the World Economic Forum, the Office of International Treasury Control and the Italian government conspired with a host of others to steal more than $1.1 trillion in financial instruments intended to support humanitarian purposes.

The 111-page federal complaint involves a range of entities common to conspiracy theorists, including the Vatican Illuminati, the Masons, the "Trilateral Trillenum Tripartite Gold Commission," and the U.S. Federal Reserve.

THE FIRST MAINSTREAM ARTICLE TO EXPLORE THIS STUNNING CASE

<http://www.courthousenews.com/2011/12/05/41930.htm>

MANHATTAN (CN) - An American expatriate in Bulgaria claims the United Nations, the World Economic Forum, the Office of International Treasury Control and the Italian government conspired with a host of others to steal more than $1.1 trillion in financial instruments intended to support humanitarian purposes.

The 111-page federal complaint involves a range of entities common to conspiracy theorists, including the Vatican Illuminati, the Masons, the "Trilateral Trillenum Tripartite Gold Commission," and the U.S. Federal Reserve.

Plaintiff Neil Keenan claims he was entrusted in 2009 with the financial instruments -- which included U.S. Federal Reserve notes worth $124.5 billion, two Japanese government bonds with a combined face value of $19 billion, and one U.S. "Kennedy" bond with a face value of $1 billion -- by an entity called the Dragon Family, which is a group of several wealthy and secretive Asian families.

"The Dragon family abstains from public view and knowledge, but, upon information and belief, acts for the good and better benefit of the world in constant coordination with higher levels of global financial organizations, in particular, the Federal Reserve System," Keenan claims.

"During the course of its existence over the last century, the Dragon family has accumulated great wealth by having provided the Federal Reserve Bank and the United States Government with asset assignments of gold and silver via certain accounts held in Switzerland, for which it has received consideration in the form of a variety of Notes, Bonds and Certificates such as those described ... that are an obligation of the Federal Reserve System."

Keenan says that with accrued interest the instruments are now worth more than $1 trillion. He says the family designated him as its principal in an effort to select certain registered and authorized Private Placement Investment Programs (PPPs) for the benefit of unspecified global humanitarian efforts.

In his remarkable complaint, Keenan claims that the U.S. government [received] enormous amounts of money -- delivered in gold and other precious metals -- from the Dragon Family many years ago, and that the money was placed into the Federal Reserve System for the benefit and underwriting support of the dollar, "which was to become and currently remains the global reserve currency"....

The complaint alleges a complicated history with many moving parts and scores of internationally known and unknown characters, the sum of which is that Keenan claims he was entrusted with billions of dollars in bonds by the Dragon Family....

[These instruments were then stolen as two Japanese agents attempted to cross the border from Italy into Switzerland with them, contained in the suitcase you see in the image at the top of this article.]

[Keenan] claims that as the conspiracy continued to unfold, various high level officials repeatedly offered him a bribe of $100 million to "release" the instruments without disclosing their theft to the Dragon family, and to allow the instruments to be converted to a so-called UN "Sovereign Program" wholly under the auspices, protection and umbrella of the sovereign immunity enjoyed by the defendants.

Other defendants include UN General Secretary Ban Ki-Moon, Former Italian Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi, Giancarlo Bruno, who is identified as head of the banking industry for the World Economic Forum, Italy's ambassador to the UN Cesare Maria Ragalini, Ray C. Dam, president of the Office of International Treasury Control, and David A. Sale, the deputy chief of the council for the cabinet of the OITC.

Keenan seeks the return of the stolen instruments, punitive damages and court costs on multiple claims of fraud, breach of contract and violation of international law.

He is represented by William H. Mulligan Jr., with Bleakley, Platt & Schmidt of White Plains, N.Y.

Interested? I encourage you to visit Courthouse News Service, as McCue does a great job of summarizing the rest of the case. This is just an overview.

YOU HAVE GOT TO BE KIDDING ME...

Courthouse News Service didn't quite have the stomach to quote one of the most interesting paragraphs in the entire complaint... but I do. This is where the whole story really started taking shape for me:

Upon information and belief, these Bonds [held by the Dragon Family] have values ranging in the many Thousands of Trillions of United States Dollars, a relatively small portion of which is involved in the claims giving rise to this action.

Each of these currencies, such as the DFFI [Dragon Family Financial Instruments] involved in this action, was and remains duly registered within the Federal Reserve System -- and are directly verifiable by the Federal Reserve through its efficient verification system and screening process.

Thousands of trillions of dollars? You have GOT to be kidding me! As soon as I read that, I had to know more... because I had enough information to be convinced that this was not a spurious lawsuit. I immediately lined up an interview with Fulford to clear this up.

The bottom line is that the Dragon Family intended for these bonds to be stolen. They represented only a small percentage of the overall asset base... all of which is clandestinely registered within the Federal Reserve and the Bank of International Settlements!

Fulford gave an introduction to the story in this interview -- and I then found out much, much more as time went on.

This was an elaborate sting operation that has brought us to where we are today -- where a vast international alliance of 117 countries now has a legal way to end the financial tyranny of the Old World Order.

A STAGGERING AMOUNT OF INFORMATION

I have been working solidly on this case, every day, for over three weeks now -- which in my current life seems like an eternity, given all the other balls I'm juggling at the same time.

The amount of information to assimilate and correlate, and the complexity of fitting the pieces all together, is staggering.

I have now been in extensive contact with Neil Keenan, the principal plaintiff in this case, as well as Keith Scott, who is also mentioned in the complaint. Scott is an expert in this utterly secretive world of trading between central banks -- and is well aware of the vast wealth underwriting them, all held in the strictest secrecy.

Keenan has never worked for any government or clandestine agency. He is a businessman who ultimately became acquainted with the Dragon Family -- the former ruling party of China, prior to the arrival of Communism - - and gained their trust.

I have now personally surveyed over 300 different photographs and dozens of separate documents Keenan sent me, related to this case -- including the now-infamous Book of Maklumat. They are extremely complex -- and extremely compelling. This all appeared after I conducted the interview with Fulford you are about to hear... and read.

This whole story is true. Devastatingly true.

It is the single biggest real problem the Powers that Were have ever had. That also means it's extremely good news for everyone else.

LOTS OF VALIDATION

In one particularly remarkable case of personal validation, I emailed Keenan with a description from one of my highest-placed insiders about what the boxes that contained these bonds actually looked like. None of this information had ever been put online.

Less than 15 minutes later, Keenan sent me dozens of pictures that precisely matched the description I had just given him. I was absolutely stunned. There is no possible way he could have faked something like that within fifteen minutes.

It is not yet clear whether I will release any of these images. The last thing I would want to do is to damage this case in any way, and it may also violate international laws -- giving the loyal opposition an easy way to attack me.

However, we do have at least one image that is safe to share. Here, again, is the photo released by the Italian media after these bonds were first seized:

Let's not waste any more time. Here's the link to download the 98-meg, high-quality MP3 file of this stunning, 98-minute interview... followed by the transcript, which I have loaded up with links you can check out yourself:

INTRODUCTION

DW: Hello. This is David Wilcock and I'm here with Benjamin Fulford. This is another Divine Cosmos audio blog.

I'm interviewing Benjamin Fulford today, which in my time here in Los Angeles, California would be November 28th, 2011, a Monday – for Ben it's already a Tuesday.

The reason why we're doing this interview is Ben has, for a very long time now, been talking about a counter-insurgency against what I lovingly call the Old World Order, which is a mélange of international characters.

[This counter-insurgency] started out as an Asian secret society.

BENJAMIN FULFORD'S BONAFIDES

DW: For those of you who don't already know, I'd like to establish some of [Fulford's] bonafides so it doesn't sound like he's tooting his own horn here.

Ben was the Asia-Pacific bureau chief for Forbes magazine. He has a long history of professional, credentialed academic journalism.

As you can find out from many other interviews he's done, some of which are on my site, he got involved into a world of intrigue when he started to trace where the money was going from the Japanese economy.

He realized the economic stimulus that could be generated for the world was not being used for anything that was positive – and it seemed like a lot of money was disappearing.

That investigative trail led to him getting death threats and getting drawn into an Asian secret society as a counterbalance against the Old World Order guys.

SELLING HIS SOUL

DW: [The Old World Order] also tried to silence him and bribe him by offering him – I forget, Ben, was it an ambassadorship they wanted to offer you, or something like that?

BF: They offered me at one point the job of Finance Minister of Japan.

DW: Finance minister of Japan. Right.

BF: They also, believe it or not, offered me General Electric and General Motors.

DW: Really!

BF: Yeah.

DW: Like you would be the CEO, or something?

BF: Yeah, and I guess the chief shareholder.

The problem, of course, is I had to go along with their plan to kill four billion people. It's the classic "sell your soul to the devil" situation.

DW: Right. They just need to lighten the load and get rid of some surplus. That's how they like to talk about it.

BF: Well, they want to save the environment and get rid of the "useless eaters".

DW: Exactly.

FULFORD DIDN'T EMERGE UNTIL HE HAD PROTECTION

DW: So look, man, I've been on the Internet since 1996. I've had my own public presence since 1998. I watched you ever since you came out.

I noticed right off the bat – I believe you emerged in 2007 – was that correct, something like that?

BF: Yeah, it must have been around that time. I had been researching a lot of stuff before then, but I didn't feel it was safe to go out in public because I knew they would kill me.

It wasn't until I got protection that I was able to come out and start saying this stuff.

DW: Right.

MORE THAN THIRTY BOOKS AND OVER A MILLION COPIES SOLD

DW: And it is true that within Japan, you are a bestselling author. How many books do you have in print and how many units have you sold?

BF: I don't know. More than 30 books, and I don't know, maybe a million in all. I haven't kept track.

DW: 30 titles is very substantial.

You are fully bilingual. Nobody can challenge that. There are plenty of videos they can watch of you talking fluently in Japanese.

WHY WOULD YOU BE CHOSEN FOR SOMETHING LIKE THIS?

DW: I have seen endless iterations of every type of hate comment that someone would lob at you.

The most frequent one is they just can't wrap their head around the story. They think it's too implausible that these Asian secret societies would contact you.

I see that you are bilingual, and you are a credible financial journalist who then became a best-selling author. You are quite renowned for these, as you're saying, 30 books you have in Japan.

There's no other gaijin – that's the word they use for foreigner – there's no other gaijin in Japan, no other white guy out there that I'm aware of who is doing what you've done.

So who else would they have chosen for something like this – to try to bridge over to the Western world?

FULFORD COULD GET AWAY WITH MORE EDGY JOURNALISM

BF: Sure, look. What you have to realize is that there are a couple of reasons why I fell into this particular niche.

One is that I wrote a lot of stuff that if I had been a Japanese journalist, I would have been killed for.

DW: Oh really?

BF: But because I was a foreigner working for Forbes, I was off-limits.

DW: This is stuff that would have rattled the chains of the government, or stuff that would have insulted the Emperor? What are we talking here?

THE SECRET COLONIAL GOVERNMENT RULING JAPAN

BF: I'm talking in essence about the secret colonial government here.

DW: Right. [DW: Later in the interview, Fulford said Japan had been secretly run by the Rothschilds – since the Meiji Restoration of 1868.]

BF: They've been using a network of North Koreans and gangsters and bribed Japanese. They've been using bribery and murder to make this country into a colony that is only an independent country on the surface.

DW: Now I want to get back to that, but briefly...

BF: [crosstalk] OK, but let me just tell you how I got involved, in a really short summary.

DW: OK.

WROTE BOOKS EXPOSING 9/11, BEGINNING IN 2006

BF: I basically started writing books in Japanese...

DW: And this was what year, approximately?

BF: I guess the ones that caused troubles came out around 2006. I was basically saying the 9/11 stuff that was uncovered by many researchers in the West.

DW: So this was before you ever appeared on Rense or anything in the West?

BF: Yeah.

DW: OK.

EXPOSING 'SARS' AS A BIO-WEAPON TARGETING ASIANS

BF: And then I had a book out in Japanese that pointed out that SARS was a bio-weapon that was designed to kill non-Caucasian people.

DW: For those who don't remember, SARS was the bird flu.

BF: I quoted from the documents written by the Neocons, like the Project for a New American Century.

The documents pointed out very clearly that there was a group of Western elitsts that were planning on starting World War III and reducing the world's population.

HE RECOMMENDED THEY CUT OFF THE MONEY

BF: [I also argued that] Asians could stop this by cutting off their money – because they required Japanese and Chinese money to finance this insane project.

An order came out in the Japanese underworld to have me killed.

DW: That's understandable, if you start putting your finger in [places it doesn't belong....]

PROTECTION WAS OFFERED – AND HE LEARNED ABOUT FREEMASONS

BF: The South Korean secret police then told the Chinese – and the Chinese sent a secret society to offer me protection.

That's how I became involved in a world I never even knew existed until that time.

If you talked to me before that about Freemasons, you would have gotten a nervous giggle and a shrug, and that's about it.

DW: It's a funny handshake, and they give money to charity, and so on. Right.

“THE CHINESE” HAD EAVESDROPPED ON BOHEMIAN GROVE

BF: The other thing is the Chinese themselves had eavesdropped on one of the conferences at the Bohemian Grove.

They were fully aware of this plan to start World War III, and they were trying to stop it.

When they realized I was being put on a hit list for trying to warn them of something they already knew about, that's how I got involved.

WHO DO YOU MEAN BY “THE CHINESE,” EXACTLY?

DW: OK, one thing. As I'm talking to you I'm also responding to the fact that when we've published articles in the past, we get two or three hundred written comments on them.

I'm able to read what everybody says and the feedback they have. I'm trying to speak not just for myself, but also for the collective.

One of the stumbling blocks I think we've had in other interviews that people don't get clear on is when you say “the Chinese,” people naturally think of this repressive government.

It's burning people's houses down in Tibet. It is restricting YouTube. It is restricting freedom. It won't let people march on Tianmen Square.

It is basically just this human-rights-crushing monster.

IT IS AN ASIAN SECRET SOCIETY

BF: OK. I guess I made a mistake when I said Chinese.

DW: Okay.

BF: I should have said Asia. This transcends China. It involves Indonesia, the Philippines, Thailand, Japan, Taiwan and Korea.

In fact, it goes right to the group of non-aligned nations – a 77-nation group that included places like Yugoslavia.

It was wrong of me to call it the Chinese. It is an Asian secret society, not a Chinese secret society.

WHAT IS THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CHINA AND THIS SOCIETY?

DW: OK. What would be the relationship between this Asian secret society and the current Communist government of China?

BF: Believe it or not, the old royal families of Asia decided that communism would be the best way to modernize China.

Behind and above the communist government of China and the government of Taiwan, you'll find an old group of families whose connections go way beyond temporary political structures.

THE DRAGON FAMILY

DW: Now correct me if I'm wrong, but China was named after emperor Qin, who was of the Dragon Family. That was the first dynasty of China, right?

BF: Yeah.

DW: So these people... he's the one who built the Terra Cotta Soldiers, where he took every soldier and every horse in his army and built a stone sculpture out of them.

There's all sorts of interesting facts about how this Dragon family showed up. They basically erased all the history from China before then, which is now being rebuilt by certain scholars.

These Asian secret societies appear to be dynastic. They've largely been behind the scenes. They've amassed large amounts of wealth.

That's part of what we're into now. That's what we're talking about. Right?

COMPETING SECRET SOCIETIES, EAST AND WEST

BF: You've got to remember that there are several different competing groups.

You have essentially a similar thing in Asia as in the West. You have secret societies that are connected to ancient dynastic bloodlines.

In the West that would be the Rothschilds, the British royal families, the Freemasons and the P2 Lodge.

In Asia, it would be the Dragon Families, I would guess. This would be all the various dynastic families and clan groupings based on family ties.

But, in the West you had a different group. It is confusing, because there are several groups that call themselves Illuminati.

SOME GROUPS OPPOSED TO BLOODLINE RULE

There is a group that has contacted me and they've proven to me they are connected to various agencies as well as international drug-smuggling rings.

They claim they started the French, American and Russian revolutions, and that they are opposed to bloodline rule.

[DW: I have already stated to Ben that this sounds like a rival faction of the same people trying to reinvent themselves. He said he is not joining them or supporting them – merely listening to what they have to say.]

In the same way, the Asians have a secret society that is also based on meritocracy. They are also opposed to bloodline rule.

The Chinese triads, the Japanese yakuza groups and various other secret groups in Asia have strict rules against nepotism.

The son of a gang boss could never take over his father's gang.

These are linked to martial arts societies and also chambers of commerce.

There's no clear line between chambers of commerce and outlaw gangsters being chased by police. It's a gray zone. Light gray and dark gray, you know?

Both in the West and in the East, you have meritocratic secret societies and bloodline secret societies. OK?

ARE THE ASIAN SECRET SOCIETIES PRACTICING EVIL?

DW: Could you just briefly enunciate for us... A lot of people have PTSD around hearing things like Illuminati.

As soon as you say stuff like that, the paranoia kicks in, and the fear and the anxiety kicks in.

So when you say that these are dynastic bloodline families in Asia – that these are secret societies – are they sacrificing babies? Are they drinking people's blood? Are they doing satanic rituals?

[DW: This was a question I already knew the answer to, and just wanted him to clarify. He has repeatedly stated the Asian secret societies are vigorously opposed to these occult practices, and want to help create a better world.]

What are we talking about here in terms of: who are these people, what do they think, what's their philosophy, what do they want?

Do they want to take over the planet? Are they fighting against the Illuminati to control the planet?

What is their agenda?

THEY WANT A FAIRER SYSTEM, NOT DOMINATED BY THE WEST

BF: They think that the control of the future of the planet should no longer be controlled by a small Western elite.

They would rather have it fall under the control of the people of the planet.

There is a group, of course, of chauvinistic people who say China should rule the world – in China.

But, the general consensus in Asia as a whole is it should be equal for all the people in the world – not just for a Chinese or a Khazarian-controlled family business that runs the planet.

What they say publicly, I think, is really what they expect for now – which is a multi-polar world, not one controlled by a single group.

HOW DID YOU GET ALL THIS INFORMATION – AND FROM WHO?

DW: OK. Another question, which I think might help to allay the skeptics. There's a lot of them, and they're very nasty.

Could there be the possibility of a single-point failure in what you're telling us?

Is it possible that all of the stuff that you just told me about these Chinese secret societies is the result of you meeting one or two guys, and them telling you these elaborate stories?

You call the guy on the phone every other day and he gives you new information, and that's it.

FULFORD MET MANY OF THE MOST POWERFUL PEOPLE IN ASIA

BF: Listen. I was a journalist. I've been a journalist here for more than 25 years. I've met most of the post-war prime ministers in Japan.

DW: Wow!

BF: I've met finance ministers, the heads of most of the large corporations in Asia. Remember, I was the Asia-Pacific bureau chief for the world's largest business magazine.

DW: But what does that really mean? How do you get to meet the Prime Minister? Why would they talk to you?

BF: I would go to Taiwan, I would go to China, I would go to Russia, I would go to Vietnam, I would go to Australia and I would meet the heads of large corporations who would want to publicize their companies.

DW: [crosstalk] Were you trying to sell ads?

HIS SOURCES RUN INTO THE HUNDREDS

BF: [crosstalk] What I'm trying to say is that since quitting that job, I've literally... my sources run into the hundreds.

I know the bosses of the Triads, the Yakuza gangs. I know the heads of the Japanese military intelligence and the police forces here.

I know the heads of the martial arts societies. I've talked to the politburo members in China.

So no, it's not me talking to one handler or two handlers feeding me disinformation.

However, it's true that they've thrown all sorts of disinformation my way to try to ruin my credibility.

[DW: Fulford is saying that SOME of his many sources have done this, not all of them. He has had to weed out many contacts over time. He has said publicly that if he catches any source lying to him, he breaks off that contact immediately afterwards.]

TRYING TO CONVINCING THE MILITARY-INDUSTRIAL COMPLEX

BF: At the end of the day, what people need to realize is I don't need to prove this to the public at large. Right now we're trying to convince the heads of the Pentagon, the CIA, the NSA, the KGB and the Freemasons.

In other words, we're trying to convince the people who control the military industrial complex, and the politicians, that this is a better plan than what is in place now.

I'm sorry, but a lot of people out there have been so brainwashed by television that all you have to do is change what is on the TV to change their minds.

DW: Sure.

BF: I have provided tape recordings and photographs and videos and various proofs to assorted police and investigative agencies.

So I don't really need to prove myself at this point. Although, if there is a legitimate criticism, I am happy to answer it.

WHO IS THE GUY WITH THE RASPY VOICE AND WALKING STICK?

DW: Oh, I understand that. One question that I would like to edify here.

When we see videos of you in Japan, on at least three videos I'm aware of, you're appearing with a man who seems to have – he is carrying a walking stick and he seems to have kind of a raspy voice.

So who is this guy and what is his connection? Most people don't speak Japanese and they have no idea what is going on.

BF: His name is Chodoin Daikaku. He controls the world's martial arts societies. He is the head of the karate associations, the aikido associations.

There's a couple like the judo and the Chinese martial arts where he's not the head of them, but he knows the guys who run them.

So he's a bigwig. He's not just some flake.

DW: OK. When you say he controls the karate association...

BF: Well, he's the head of the organizations.

APPROXIMATELY 50 MILLION PEOPLE STUDYING JAPANESE MARTIAL ARTS

DW: OK. So how many schools and how many people are we talking about that he would be working with?

BF: I think there are like 50 million people worldwide studying Japanese martial arts. They have karate schools in Mexico, in Iran, wherever.

DW: Sure.

BF: We're talking very big organizations here.

DW: Couldn't anybody just open a karate school without accreditation? Or are you saying there is an accreditation, and he's at the head of that accrediting agency?

BF: If they opened a karate school, they probably got a black belt. They did that by going to some teacher affiliated with this organization.

DW: I see. So there is some sort of centralized authority that you have to appeal to if you want to run a karate school.

BF: If you want to get a belt, you have to study at one of these accredited schools. Yeah.

YOU COULD GET RECOGNIZED IF YOU ARE COMPETITIVE

DW: I see. So nobody could just hang out a sign and say "Here's a karate school and here's your black belt," and have you be taken seriously if you wanted to go to a Martial Arts tournament and actually compete?

BF: It's a meritocracy. If you just put on a black belt and go to these tournaments and beat people's ass, they [the martial arts societies] will recognize you!

DW: [Laughs]

BF: [Laughs]

DW: [Laughs] OK.

[DW: What Ben is saying here is that many of these martial arts schools and tournaments worldwide have a central group that organizes them and keeps track of everything. Daikaku is the head of the largest of these groups.]

ALSO CONNECTED TO INSIDER JAPANESE SELF-DEFENSE FORCES

DW: But within Japan maybe in particular, let's say, this guy that you were referring to, Chodoin Daikaku...

BF: Daikaku. Yeah.

DW: He is sort of like the kingpin of martial arts groups in Japan?

BF: A major kingpin, let's put it that way. He is also connected to the Japanese self-defense forces.

MOST INSIDERS WANT TO STAY INSIDE

BF: What you need to realize is that most of the guys I talk to don't want their name or picture out there at all.

DW: Sure! Absolutely.

BF: They refuse to let me name them or put out their photograph. But, I have introduced them to MI6, CIA types – and at that level they do communicate.

WHAT IS A TYPICAL DAY LIKE FOR YOU?

DW: I know it's hard to pin you down time-wise. Could you paint for the average listener what your day is like?

How many insiders... how many different people do you think you talk to in a given week right now?

BF: It really depends. What happens now is I talk to people who are connected to large organizations.

I have one guy I talk to who I know has strong Pentagon / CIA connections.

There's another guy I talk to who is definitely Rothschild, MI6 connected, British Royal Family type.

I've confirmed independently, through multiple sources, that these people are real.

WHO ELSE DO YOU TALK TO?

BF: Then there's another guy I talk to who would be connected to the Japanese right-wing groups as well as the Asian secret societies.

Then there's this Chodojin guy I talk to.

Then less often, for example, I talk to senior people in the Japanese gangs – like the Yamaguchi-gumi or the Inagawa-kai or the Sumiyoshi.

There's a guy I talk to who is a KGB / Serbian intelligence type, who I talk to quite regularly.

DW: [crosstalk] From Russia or from Serbia?

BF: Originally from Serbia. I shouldn't say more than that.

DW: Right. I don't want to betray your sources at all.

BF: For example, I've gone out drinking with the wife of the Prime Minister Kan Naoto many times. She lives in my neighborhood.

DW: Wow.

BF: There's a lot of people I know.

A VERY INTENSIVE PLAN TO DESTROY FULFORD

BF: There has been, though, and I've mentioned this... there's been a very, very intensive campaign to make me seem like a flake.

DW: Sure.

BF: They have a book, about as thick as a phone book – a file on me.

First of all, they tried to kill me.

Then when they realized there was protection behind me, and whoever ordered the kill would be killed themselves in retaliation, the next thing was they tried to drive me into bankruptcy – by blacklisting me.

When that didn't work...

HIS CAREER AS A PRIME-TIME TV PERSONALITY WAS DESTROYED

DW: Hold on. What do you mean by blacklist?

BF: OK. I used to have regular TV shows in Japan.

DW: Oh, you did?

BF: Oh yeah! Big prime-time shows.

DW: Like on NHK, or what network? [DW: NHK is the biggest, most popular TV network in Japan.]

BF: NHK had a 20-minute special on me on prime time. I had various networks.

The point is I was also able to publish stories in places in major Western media. But I got put on a blacklist.

DW: Around what time was that? What year?

BF: I guess that happened around 2005 or 2006. It was 2006, after I left Forbes and I started writing stuff about 9/11. That would be about it.

DID YOU START WRITING ABOUT 9/11 BY PUBLISHING A BOOK ?

DW: So 9/11 was your first major book that you put out?

BF: No, it was magazine articles.

And then I was holding press conferences at a foreign correspondents' club, explaining why I was writing about 9/11.

THE WESTERN MEDIA WOULDN'T DARE TOUCH "9/11 TRUTH"

BF: I was trying to get publicity in the Western media.

That's when I realized that either they were scared of losing their jobs, or they were working for some agency and only pretending to be a journalist – and that the media was controlled.

I already knew it was controlled, but I didn't know how thoroughly it was controlled until I had press conferences about 9/11 – and presented the evidence.

I had the New York Times correspondent telling me that he would be fired if he wrote about this!

NOT JUST "ARABS WITH BOX CUTTERS"

DW: So your opinion about 9/11 is obviously not "Arabs with Box Cutters."

Could you synopsise what was your conclusion that got you in so much trouble? You're obviously not supporting the official dogma around 9/11.

BF: I think the short story is that slogan – it was an inside job.

The evidence is overwhelming that it wasn't done by a small group of Saudi terrorists with box cutters.

THE ALTERNATIVE IS TOO MIND-BOGGLING FOR SOME TO HANDLE

BF: The problem that most people encounter is that if it wasn't, then the implications are so mind boggling.

It involves such a large number of people and so much planning, and so many insiders, that people go into a state of denial.

Such a conspiracy is too large to be possible. And their minds shut it off.

IT CREATED POST-TRAUMATIC STRESS DISORDER ON A MASSIVE SCALE

DW: My major in college was psychology. I went through a suicide hotline internship, so I have the equivalent of a Master's just in education.

[DW: I also worked for eight years as a counselor, and processed a total of 500 paid clients with about a 99-percent satisfaction rating.]

We learned, especially in crisis counseling, about PTSD – post-traumatic stress disorder.

It turns out that when someone has been traumatized heavily, they create a dissociative partition in their mind. It's like a separate personality that handles the trauma.

They get very defensive.

Typically if you tell them information that brings up that PTSD, that triggers that trauma, they will attack the messenger.

The trauma is so severe that they will do anything not to actually re-experience it.

PEOPLE DO NOT HAVE PTSD AROUND THE HISTORICAL EXAMPLES

BF: They have always had to create fake incidents in order to get people fired up to get into war.

You go back to historical cases, and people don't have that trauma associated with it.

For example, if you look at why the Spanish-American war started, you'll realize it was a fake incident.

Blowing up the ship the [USS] Maine, and blaming it on Spain. That's a nice rhyming headline there, eh?

DW: [Laughs] Yeah.

BF: And then 70 years later, they say "we actually blew it up ourselves!"

DW: Right.

BF: But if you were, at the time, saying it was done by the Americans, they would have lynched you in the street!

THE TITANIC KILLED 600 TOP OPPONENTS TO THE FEDERAL RESERVE

DW: You mentioned a mind-blowing piece of information about the Titanic.

BF: Remember a book came out a year before about a ship called the Titan that sank on its maiden voyage?

DW: That's right!

[DW: Previously, Ben has said this book was deliberately released to "hide it out in the open." This is a key aspect of the occult science these groups are working with. It helps them feel that we have chosen to be enslaved by them.

Technically, the book came out 14 years before the Titanic sank. You can read more at this link:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Futility,_or_the_Wreck_of_the_Titan.]

BF: They got rid of, in one fell swoop, about 600 industrialists who were opposed to the taking over of the Fed. JP Morgan was saying "Hey, let's all talk about it as we cross the Atlantic."

Of course, he missed the ship at the last moment.

They were prevented at gunpoint from boarding the lifeboats.

WOODROW WILSON'S FAMOUS QUOTE: INSPIRED BY THE TITANIC?

[DW: Fulford has also said they deliberately did not put enough lifeboats on the Titanic. The captain knowingly sabotaged the ship.

The “women and children first” principle further insured none of the Fed’s opponents would survive.

This is not merely Fulford’s assertion – other researchers have suggested the same thing.

The Titanic tragedy of April 15, 1912 apparently inspired a terrified Woodrow Wilson to print his infamous quote in a book he released the following year. (See below.)]

WAS THE FEDERAL RESERVE PART OF AN APOCALYPTIC PLAN?

[DW: The Federal Reserve began operating on December 23, 1913 – with the passing of the Federal Reserve Act.

This is almost 99 years to the day before the Mayan Calendar end-date of December 21, 2012, which may have been intentional.

The Aldritch Plan may have been intended to create the Federal Reserve in 1912, but it received a fatal blow when Democrats swept the White House and Congress that November:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Federal_reserve

Had this stunning political defeat not occurred, the Aldritch Bill may have ultimately created the Federal Reserve on the all-important date of December 21, 1912 – exactly 100 years before “the End of the World” in occult circles.

Given the cabal’s fascination with attempting to fabricate an Armageddon, as Fulford is about to discuss – as well as their love of ritual dates – such an idea is not difficult to comprehend.]

WOODROW WILSON’S QUOTE

[DW: In Woodrow Wilson’s 1913 book The New Freedom, Section 1, “The Old Order Changeth,” page 13, he said the following:

http://en.wikiquote.org/wiki/Woodrow_Wilson

“Since I entered politics, I have chiefly had men’s views confided to me privately. Some of the biggest men in the United States, in the field of commerce and manufacture, are afraid of somebody, are afraid of something.

“They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive, that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it.”

This is only one of a series of revealing quotes at the above link that show how concerned Wilson was about the Federal Reserve.

This quote may have been triggered by Wilson having insiders tell him the Titanic disaster was used to murder 600 opponents to the Federal Reserve. In the picture below, from when the Federal Reserve debuted, Wilson looks deeply worried at best, if not terrified.]

BF: There’s a lot of stuff that’s gong to come out.

SABBATAI ZANTH – PROPHET OF DO-IT-YOURSELF ARMAGEDDON

BF: The conclusion I've reached, and it's really quite mind-boggling, is [this].

The story goes back to Sabbatai Zanth, a self-described Messiah of the Jews who lived in Turkey about three hundred and some years ago.

He said he was a Messiah. It was the job of the Jews themselves to carry out the prophecies of the Torah. We shouldn't wait for God to do it.

The sultan of Turkey had him called up and said “If you are really the Messiah, then do some miracles. If not, then convert to Islam – or else we will execute you.”

He couldn't perform the miracles. So he pretended to convert to Islam.

Instead they worked on subverting the Turkish government from within. That was the “Young Turks”, eventually.

HOW DOES THIS RELATE TO THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE?

DW: Did that become the Ottoman Empire, or is that something different?

BF: That was what undid the Ottoman Empire. Ataturk was one of their members – the founder of modern Turkey.

There's hundreds of pages of documents to back up what I'm saying. I'm not just talking out of the side of my mouth here.

THE ROTHSCHILDS LIKED THE IDEA OF CREATING ARMAGEDDON

BF: The point is that the Rothschilds liked this idea.

You had this group – about a million-member sect – that believes the prophecies are inevitable. They can't be stopped. And they're actively working to carry them out!

This is the really mind-boggling part of it. It's just too big and too ridiculous for most people to comprehend. But the evidence is overwhelming.

These prophecies call for a huge battle between two great nations – Gog and Magog. Armageddon.

90 percent of humanity would be killed in this battle. The remaining ten percent would be enslaved by the Jews, who would each have 2,800 slaves.

Now remember, I have Jewish ancestors on both sides. This is not mainstream Jewish thinking. This is a particular sect.

THE SABBATEANS

DW: Would that be Sabbatean Jews?

BF: Yeah. Sabbateans I call them. I wouldn't even call them Jews, because their belief system isn't really Jewish.

DW: Right.

THE CUBAN MISSILE CRISIS WAS INTENDED TO CREATE ARMAGEDDON

BF: You had Israeli newspapers... they tried to set up this war between the Soviet Union and the West, which would have done that.

They almost succeeded in the Cuban Missile Crisis. I happened to be living in Cuba at the time – I was just a baby.

DW: Wow.

MANY OF THE WORLD'S NATIONS DID NOT AGREE WITH THIS PLAN

BF: What happened then – and this is where we get into hard financial history, international financial treaties, stuff that is very well documented in the archives.

A lot of the nations of the world said this is crazy. They wanted something different.

THE HISTORY BEHIND THE LEGAL ACTIONS NOW UNDERWAY

BF: I'm going to take you back a bit so people can understand what is happening now and what specific legal actions we are taking against this group of fanatics.

DW: Please do. Yeah. I've read the entire 111-page document, thoroughly, as if it was a contract I would be signing myself.

When we get to that, I'd be happy to dialogue about it – but yeah, go ahead.

BF: I've been shown many, many, many documents related to this. Nothing to do with that lawsuit.

DW: Right.

JAPAN INVADED CHINA TO STEAL THEIR GOLD IN THE 1930s

BF: Essentially, in the 1930s the Japanese invaded China.

Their goal was to take the gold – confiscate the Chinese gold.

DW: Was Japan at that time trying to create what they called the Greater East Asian Co-Prosperity Sphere?

BF: Yes, but Japan was also still linked to the British. It's complex.

There were conflicting groups with conflicting goals. It's not a monolithic story. There are different stories with different actors.

THE ROTHSCHILDS BUILT UP JAPAN... TO STEAL CHINA'S GOLD

DW: Japan was medieval up until 1877 when Captain Morgan, right, stormed the Japanese shore with gunboats and basically said "Westernize or die."

[DW: My bad! I was hurriedly trying to remember something I wrote in a college paper in 1994. It was Commodore Matthew Perry, and the real year was 1868. Not Captain Morgan, getting them all drunk on his Spiced Rum! LOL]

DW: Japan then went into an extremely rapid, almost unprecedented industrial growth after that.

BF: It wasn't a Captain Morgan [but you are right.] The Rothschilds built up Japan as a military colony to use to dominate China.

DW: Beginning in the 1800s?

DW: So as soon as they Westernized. Right. Okay.

THE MEIJI RESTORATION: ILLUMINATI?

DW: So the Meiji families – that was the Meiji Restoration where that all started. The Meijis were apparently kids, right? It was a youth rebellion.

Are you saying that the Rothschilds financed these youths and put them in power?

BF: They [the Rothschilds] took over the southern clans of Satsuma and Choshu, and then gave them modern weapons and used them to conquer Japan.

[DW: Interestingly, the word "Meiji" means "Enlightened Rule". http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Meiji_restoration. "Meiji" could therefore be seen as a Japanese derivation of the word "Illuminati."]

DW: [crosstalk] So Japan was feudal until then.

BF: [crosstalk] Anyway, that's an interesting thing, but let's get to what's happening today.

DW: OK, great.

JAPANESE MILITARY WAS SECRETLY PLAYING BOTH SIDES AGAINST CHINA

BF: We need to go back to the 1930s. The point was that Japan was invading China. They had these bandits run by a guy called Kodama Yoshiyo.

They go into a town. They would seize the gold and loot the treasure.

Then the Japanese army would show up and say, "We hear you've got bandit problems. We will protect you!"

By that time the gold was all being shipped off to Tokyo, and then later to the Philippines.

DW: Very clever.

THE KUOMINTANG GOVERNMENT GAVE GOLD TO THE US IN 1938... FOR "SAFE KEEPING"

BF: The Kuomintang government didn't want their gold to be taken by the Japanese.

In 1938, seven US warships filled with Chinese gold and silver were sent back to the United States.

A lot of gold was sent out before, too, going back to the 1920s.

THE US GAVE THEM 60-YEAR GOLD BONDS

The Chinese were given 60-year bonds. Let's just stick to the 1938 ones.

They were given 60-year bonds in exchange for the gold they handed over to the Federal Reserve Board.

DW: I just want to thread this. Are you saying that the Rothschilds, to some degree, were still behind these criminal actions of stealing the gold?

BF: The American families behind the US Federal Reserve Board were trying to grab gold. The Rothschilds were trying to grab gold.

It was a gold grab, with different people trying to grab gold for themselves and for their groups.

DW: So Japan in some sense was acting as a proxy for [the Federal Reserve families in America and Britain.]

BF: Yes.

DW: Okay. That's an important point.

BF: A lot of gold was shipped to the United States. The Chinese were given lots of US government bonds, with astronomical denominations, in exchange for that gold.

THE KUOMINTANG WERE NOT CHINESE COMMUNISTS

DW: You mentioned that Kuomintang was the government at that time.

BF: That would be the nationalist Chinese government that was in power at that time. Chiang Kai-Shek.

DW: Are these the Communists, or is that something else?

BF: No. They weren't communists. They were the people who then fled to Taiwan after the Communists took over.

IS THIS HOW TAIWAN ENDED UP WITH SO MUCH ECONOMIC POWER?

DW: Well, here's Taiwan – this little tiny country which has so much economic power.

That's why China seems to be always trying to invade them and get it back.

Are you saying that that's when this all started?

TREASURE HIDDEN BEHIND THE NATIONAL TAIWAN MUSEUM

BF: The Taiwanese took a lot of the treasure with them when they fled China.

They have a museum in Taiwan which is very famous.

[DW: The National Taiwan Museum was founded on October 24, 1908:http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/National_Taiwan_Museum.]

There are some hills behind the museum.

Every year they change the display in the museum. They've been doing that for 50 years.

They haven't even begun to make a dent in displaying all the treasures they have hidden in those hills.

DW: My goodness. You're saying these are subterranean vaults inside the hills?

BF: This is the ancient imperial treasure of China.

DW: Wow!

BF: And that's just one of the many treasure hordes that are out there.

[DW: As we will explore in Part Two, one of my top insiders personally toured this vast underground complex -- and claimed it was hand-dug by a massive number of laborers. It is apparently 50 miles by 40 miles in size and seven levels deep.

One half of the complex is filled with gold -- and the other half with all the imperial treasures of China.]

WHERE DID ALL THIS TREASURE COME FROM?

DW: Was this from the Mongolians? Where did all this treasure come from in the first place?

Did they conquer people and get it that way, or what?

BF: OK. For example, if you look at the old archives and history books, you will see that the Romans were buying silk and ceramics and spices from the Chinese... and paying for it in gold.

DW: Oh my God.

BF: And so were the Spaniards. They took all the gold they stole from the Aztecs and the Incas – and they spent it on Asian stuff!

85 PERCENT OF THE WORLD'S GOLD ENDED UP IN ASIA

BF: About 85 percent of the world's gold ended up in Asia over the past [few] thousands of years.

DW: I'm really getting it now. This is amazing! Go ahead.

BF: Part of what World War II was about was a grab for this gold.

DW: Wow.

DO THEY HAVE MILITARY GUARD AROUND THE TAIWAN MUSEUM?

DW: Do they have military fortification around these hills in Taiwan?

Obviously they would have to guard that very extensively, if you are saying there are that many assets there.

BF: Sure. Their big plan for when China invades is to scoot out the back side with all their gold! [Laughs]

DW: [Laughs]

BF: [Laughs] Getting back to the thread...

DW: So the Kuomintang fled China to Taiwan.

THE WESTERN OLIGARCHS WANTED TO CONTROL THE WORLD'S GOLD

BF: What happened was the Western powers – the Western oligarchs, let's call them – planned to take all the gold out of private hands in the world.

DW: What timeframe are we in now? 1938?

BF: This is in the 1930s. Remember, in 1934, Roosevelt banned the private ownership of gold.

DW: Right. Allegedly due to the Great Depression and the need to [save the economy by pooling everyone's gold assets into the Federal Reserve.]

BF: Right. The Jews didn't want to give up their gold. That was one of the reasons why they were rounded up and sent to concentration camps.

The Asians didn't want to give up their gold. That's why they sent the Japanese army to come in and take it.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE TOOK GOLD OUT OF THE SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES

DW: With the Federal Reserve, the basic idea was that Roosevelt said, "Everybody [has to give up their gold.]"

Some people may still not know this if they're that ignorant. The Federal Reserve confiscated everybody's gold.

Even if you had it in a safe deposit box in a bank, they looted your safe deposit box and they took your gold away. Correct?

BF: Yeah. They're doing that now, too.

DW: Really!

BF: If you have gold in a safety deposit box and they haven't taken it yet, get it out! ASAP!

DW: Wow.

BF: Anyway, let's go back to the history.

MOST OF THE WORLD'S GOLD WAS TAKEN OFF-MARKET BY 1944

BF: In 1944, they had the Bretton Woods agreement. At this agreement, the gold-backed international financial system was set up.

Most of the gold that was not being controlled by the Western powers was removed from the market.

DW: How do you mean “removed from the market?”

BF: It was blacklisted, or hidden in caves, or buried in sunken ships at the bottom of the ocean.

DW: Wow. So you’re saying that this equity did not count towards whatever currencies were created worldwide.

BF: No. It was taken off-market. This is a question of control.

THE THAI ROYAL FAMILY’S GOLD AND THE PERSIAN GOLD WAS BLACKLISTED

BF: So, for example, the Thai royal family had lots and lots of gold. They are not allowed to cash that – even to this day.

The same with the Persian gold, which was shipped to Thailand when the Shah of Iran fell.

But again, let’s try to get to the thread. Let’s stick to the plot here. We’ll go back to this stuff later.

DW: Understood.

BRETTON WOODS WAS A 50-YEAR MANDATE FOR GLOBAL CONTROL

BF: So in 1944, Britain, France and the United States were given a fifty-year control over the global financial system. A fifty-year mandate.

They were supposed to develop and modernize the planet.

However, Roosevelt was poisoned – killed. He didn’t just die.

There was a fascist coup.

The military-industrial complex guys, instead of developing the planet, they wanted this cold war between the Soviet Union and the West.

This was part of this Gog / Magog plan.

DW: Right.

BY 1955, 77 NATIONS OPPOSED THE BRETTON WOODS PLAN

BF: In 1955, the non-aligned nations – that’s a 77-nation group, including China, Indonesia, Yugoslavia, India – said this is crazy. We don’t want to be part of this Cold War.

They had the historical rights to most of the Asian treasure.

DW: Were most of the Asian countries represented in the non-aligned nations?

BF: Oh yeah! Pretty well all of them.

DW: How about South America?

BF: Yeah. A lot of the countries are there. Brazil was a part of the non-aligned nations.

DW: How about Africa?

BF: Africa was still a proxy colony.

DW: Okay.

THE NON-ALIGNED NATIONS WANTED TO MODERNIZE ASIA AND AFRICA

BF: The point is that 77 nations – I don't have the list in front of me now, but it included most of the people on the planet.

Just not the Soviet Union and North America – the European peoples, basically.

They [the non-aligned nations] said they wanted to finance a Marshall Plan for Asia and Africa – to modernize these regions.

DW: This is the non-aligned nations that wanted this.

BF: Yes. They pooled their treasure to finance this.

THEY CREATED THE “HILTON GREEN MEMORIAL” TREATY IN 1963

BF: There's an international treaty that people who dug me can look up. It's called the Hilton Green Memorial.

DW: Right. I've seen you talk about that.

THE ONLY ONLINE VERSION OF THIS DOCUMENT IS AN OBVIOUS FRAUD

[DW: Fulford's own insiders have now shown me some of the real documents. A painfully fraudulent version of it was created and “leaked” online. One Indonesian blogger wrote about this agreement here:

<http://lisnosetiawan.blogspot.com/2008/11/green-hilton-agreement-geneva-1963.html>.

The online version is an obvious fraud, as it is supposedly from 1963, but it clearly uses modern Microsoft Word-style Times New Roman fonts, complete with bold:

http://ramasakti101.multiply.com/photos/album/14/Green_Hilton_Memorial

Even the way the ink was stained is consistent with what happens when you wet down a printout from a modern inkjet printer.

Furthermore, I have seen typewritten documents from the 1950s that don't look anywhere near this distressed.

The obvious problems with the online documents are discussed here – including the fact that the alleged US Presidential seal is actually based on something Indonesian:

<http://www.educationforum.ipbhost.com/index.php?showtopic=9198>

It is inevitable that fraudulent documents will be created in a case like this in such a sensitive issue. They lure in the unwary “believers” while convincing the skeptics that it's nonsense.]

PRESIDENT SUKARNO HAD A STRONG BLOODLINE CONNECTION

BF: [The Hilton Green Memorial] was the treaty where they wanted to finance a Marshall Plan for developing Asia and Africa and the rest of the world.

DW: And they had as their asset base these black-listed gold funds that were in Thailand?

BF: Yes. And the signatory to all this money was President Sukarno of Indonesia, who happened to be related to most of the royal families – at least in Asia.

DW: Oh! So that's why Indonesia, then. It's because he had a blood connection to these folks.

BF: Yes. They designated him as a signatory.

BENJAMIN FREEDMAN BLEW THE WHISTLE ON ARMAGEDDON PLANS

BF: When the Cuban Missile Crisis came, and the world nearly went to all-out nuclear war, a guy named Benjamin Freedman came out.

He basically admitted these insane Gog-Magog plans [were real].

[DW: The key Benjamin Freedman speech was at the Willard Hotel in Washington DC, 1961. The Cuban Missile Crisis did not actually happen until 1962, but the tensions were already very high by 1961.

You can download MP3s of the audio of this speech at http://www.erichufschmid.net/TFC/Ben_Freedman.html.

The full transcript is available at <http://www.sweetliberty.org/issues/israel/freedman.htm>.]

KENNEDY GOT THE MESSAGE

BF: Kennedy and a lot of people in the US said “All right, this is crazy. We don’t any more of this secret society craziness.”

He agreed to work with the non-aligned nations to end the Cold War, and to finance the development of Africa and Asia.

To keep the military industrial people happy, he was going to send a man to the moon – and do that kind of stuff.

DW: Did Benjamin Freedman also blow the whistle on what was going on behind the Cuban Missile Crisis? Is that why you mentioned that?

BF: He said they’re trying to create this war so they can take over the planet. There is plenty of evidence for this.

KENNEDY GOT INDONESIAN GOLD AND ISSUED U.S. TREASURY NOTES

BF: Kennedy got gold from Indonesia.

He put out Kennedy bonds and notes – dollar bills that were controlled by the US Department of Treasury, not the Federal Reserve Board.

DW: That was Executive Order 11110, right?

BF: Yeah, something like that.

IT’S A LITTLE MORE COMPLEX THAN WE THOUGHT

[DW: The story of Executive Order 11110 is a little more complex than I thought – once I actually did more research.

Kennedy signed this bill just days before he died. It stopped the US Treasury from selling its silver to private buyers, and gave the President the right to issue silver-backed currency – without the permission of the Federal Reserve System.

The Federal Reserve may well have been deliberately buying up all the Treasury silver so they could ultimately print as much money as they wanted – without having to back it up with any solid assets.

The Wikipedia page on Executive Order 11110 has a deviously interesting spin on the story, where it tries to argue that this plan actually expanded the powers of the Federal Reserve – since silver coins were replaced with dollar bills:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Executive_order_11110

However, by stopping the bleeding of this precious metal out of the Treasury, Kennedy's act actually protected silver. 11110 also gave the President the direct ability to issue certificates – dollars – that were backed by silver as collateral.

The US Treasury Secretary was stripped of the power to issue silver notes. Kennedy probably did this because the Treasury Secretary was being controlled by the Federal Reserve.

Kennedy probably felt that silver-backed dollars would be a stopgap against inflation and the creation of “bubble money” by the Federal Reserve.

His assassination, just days later, did not appear to be a coincidence.

If Fulford's sources are right, Executive Order 11110 was only the first visible phase of Kennedy's plan to defeat the Federal Reserve and ultimately use Asian gold as collateral for a new financial system.]

THE CABAL KILLED KENNEDY AND DROVE SUKARNO FROM POWER

BF: [Kennedy] was killed.

Then Sukarno was driven from power.

DW: By whom, are you saying? Who drove Sukarno from power?

BF: By the West. By the military-industrial complex. By the Cabal, as I call them.

The people who own the Federal Reserve Board. These Sabbatean sectists.

THE ASIAN SOCIETIES DIDN'T HAVE THE MILITARY POWER TO FIGHT BACK

DW: Couldn't the Asian societies designate a new signatory that would bring these blacklisted funds online and create a new currency that would compete with the dollar?

BF: Well, they didn't have the military power.

DW: Oh.

BF: What they did is they went underground. They didn't sign over anything.

SUKARNO'S NEPHEW SIGNED OVER THE RIGHTS... TO MAKE THIS CURRENT LAWSUIT A REALITY

BF: We have Sukarno's nephew. [He] has signed over the rights to us now.

We'll get back to that.

THE CABAL FORGED THE RIGHTS TO ISSUE CURRENCY AGAINST THE ASIAN GOLD IN 1968

BF: What happened was that in 1968, they set up a fake heir. A fake signatory.

DW: “They” is the Asian societies?

BF: No no. This would be Henry Kissinger, the Rockefellers and all these people. The Bushes. The people behind the murder of Kennedy. The members of this Sabbatean cabal.

DW: They set up a fake heir [who would allegedly gain the rights] to what?

BF: They forged the rights to use that money as a basis for issuing currency. For creating dollars.

They didn't have the historical rights to 85 percent of the world's gold that was owned by the Asians – but they faked the rights.

They forged documents to claim they had the rights.

STOLEN ASIAN GOLD WAS LAUNDERED TO FINANCE “BLACK OPS”

DW: So they wanted to repatriate this gold they had taken out of the market before Bretton Woods was convened.

BF: Some of it was laundered by BCCI, Chase Manhattan Bank, Black Eagle Trust and a few other of these groups.

It was this gold that was illegally laundered from these Asian stashes that financed the black ops and the various secret doings.

THE LAUNDERED GOLD WAS ORIGINALLY STOLEN IN THE 1930s

DW: So this gets back to what you were saying in the 1930s, where the Japanese troops were confiscating gold from the Kuomintang.

BF: Right. That was taken either to the Philippines or to Japan. At first to Japan, and then when it got too iffy, they transported it over to the Philippines.

THE GOLD WAS HIDDEN IN ABOUT 125 KNOWN SITES

DW: Now that wasn't kept in any type of Federal Reserve Bank for those countries. That was kept in some kind of private storage that was totally offline.

BF: It was hidden. There are about 125 known sites where it was hidden.

DW: Wow.

[DW: David Guyatt, a 28-year veteran investment banker within the Cabal-controlled City of London, gave incredible supporting evidence, including documents, for everything Fulford is saying here:

<http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/about.htm>

In many ways, Guyatt goes into vastly more detail about the story behind this hidden gold than Fulford has done here.

In his online book “The Secret Gold Treaty,” Guyatt's data suggests there were 172 sites where the plundered gold was stolen:

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/secret_gold_treaty.htm]

Fulford's own insiders have since told me there are even more than 172 sites involved.]

AT LEAST TEN OLYMPIC-SIZED POOLS' WORTH OF “OFF-MARKET” ASIAN GOLD

DW: How much tonnage are we talking about here? How much gold was it?

BF: What I've been told is [this].

The story we've all been told about how all the gold ever mined in history could fit into one or two Olympic swimming pools... is a total lie.

There's at least nine times or ten times more off-market gold than there is officially tradable gold.

DW: My God!

BF: Some of it, like I say, was laundered by the CIA types to finance various things.

ASIANS IN THE GOLDEN TRIANGLE CONTACTED THE CIA

BF: Now again, I want to take a little side trip here. One of these Asian secret society groups I contacted worked in the Golden Triangle during the Vietnam War.

DW: Where is that?

BF: That's the area between China and Vietnam where they were producing all the heroin in those years.

DW: Oh goodness.

BF: And they were selling heroin to the CIA. And the CIA was selling the heroin to finance their black ops.

DW: So they had quite a markup off of the original price that they were paying.

BF: It was a big business that was out of the control of governments.

What happened was the Asians contacted their old CIA contacts. They said, "What the hell are you guys doing? Why are you spreading diseases and trying to start World War III?"

THEY DIDN'T LIKE BEING USED

BF: So a lot of these CIA bad guys came out and started helping us. It was kind of ironic, but it's still welcome.

DW: Maybe they're trying to avoid the hangman's noose, right? [Laughs]

BF: They realized they were being fooled by this fake anti-communism. They didn't like being fooled and used.

DW: I did speak to one guy who worked in the CIA and actually worked with one of the recent American presidents in cocaine smuggling.

He explained to me, in quite some detail, the rationale behind why they felt it was necessary to try to control the flow of cocaine.

They have all these rationalizations. "We don't want people to die from bad cocaine." "If we can control it, then we know exactly where it's going."

BF: "Plus we get these Swiss bank accounts, with all this money." You know?

DW: Right! Exactly.

BF: ...Which helps lubricate your conscience a little bit... but still.

DW: [Laughs]

BF: [Laughs]

THE 50-YEAR BRETTON WOODS MANDATE EXPIRED IN 1994

BF: Anyway, let's get back to the main flow.

In 1994, the Bretton Woods mandate expired.

DW: Right. You said this was a 60-year commission that started in 1944.

BF: A 50-year commission. Before that, they stole the money from the foreign holdings, the dollar holdings of the Soviet Union.

DW: I'm sorry, I want to ask you one dumb question, though. You're saying 1944, but World War II didn't end until 1945.

BF: The Bretton Woods conference was in 1944. They already knew what was going to be the result [from World War II]. That's open history. Bretton Woods is an open secret.

DW: So you said that the mandate expired in 1944 after a 50-year term.

BF: Yes. It wasn't renewed.

IN 1994, ABOUT 200 COUNTRIES SAID THE PROMISES WERE NOT KEPT

BF: They said, "Hey, France, United States and Britain. You didn't modernize the world. You didn't keep your promises."

DW: Who is "they" in this case?

BF: It would be all the other countries. Remember, you have [about] 200 countries that have sovereign rights still.

DW: So they would have to ratify the agreement to get it to renew. They would have to sign off on it.

BF: Right. So there has been no real agreement at the top of the global financial system since then.

DW: So the only reason why it hasn't changed any faster is they don't have the military muscle to do anything about this.

BF: That's part of it.

CLINTON AUTHORIZED 100-TO-1 FINANCIAL GAMBLING PRACTICES

BF: President Clinton, he started... these guys were thinking, "The hell with it. We're just going to start World War III and get ourselves out of this mess by killing everybody."

Clinton started off by allowing 100 times leverage. Gambling 100 times. So with one dollar, you could buy 100 dollars' worth of tickets.

If it goes from 100 dollars to 200 dollars, then your one dollar is multiplied by a hundredfold.

They turned the financial system into extreme gambling.

[DW: They obviously knew this could have apocalyptic effects, under certain circumstances, but that was the whole point... as Fulford said.]

DW: Were they using these confiscated gold accounts from the Kuomintang to back that up?

BF: Yeah. They didn't have any legal backing anymore, but they were going ahead with it anyway.

THE KUOMINTANG SUED THE FED IN 1998 FOR THE RETURN OF THEIR GOLD

BF: Now what happened was in 1998, the Chinese sued the Federal Reserve Board. They said "Hey. You've got to give us back our gold.

"We have these contracts. We gave you the gold. The sixty years is up. Give us back the gold!"

DW: Why would they have waited four years? Why 1998?

SEVEN SHIPLOADS OF CHINESE GOLD WERE SENT TO THE US IN 1938

BF: 1938 was when the seven shiploads of gold was sent to the United States from China.

DW: Oh!

BF: There were many shipments, but in 1938, seven battleships evacuated Chinese gold from China to the United States to avoid it being taken by the Japanese.

They gave the Chinese all these Federal Reserve Board bonds, promising to give the gold back in 60 years.

DW: Is there any recorded history of that?

BF: Oh yeah! The Chinese have elaborate documentation, which is why this whole lawsuit is taking place.

DOCUMENTS WILL BE PUBLIC DOMAIN ONCE THE LAWSUIT COMES OUT

DW: Is any of that documentation public domain, though? ...Yet.

BF: It's all going to be there in that lawsuit, so it's public domain once it goes into the lawsuit.

I've seen lots of pictures. I don't know, I'm not an expert in arcane bonds, but...

DW: Right, but as a financial journalist you have certainly had contacts with economists.

Would the average Western economist have known about these shipments in 1938?

BF: Yeah, that would have been headline news. I'm sure if you go back to a newspaper archive, you would find stories about it.

DW: Terrific. OK, great.

BF: This is something you can find. Just go to an archive. I'm sure you'll find stories about Chinese gold being evacuated.

[DW: More research is needed to prove this online – however, the following link makes it clear that the Japanese invasion did come to a ferocious head in 1937-38:

<http://www.san.beck.org/21-5-ChinaatWar1937-49.html>]

THE US MILITARY PROTECTED CHINESE GOLD FROM THE JAPANESE

DW: So this was done by the US military to protect the Kuomintang gold from the Japanese army.

BF: Yes.

DW: ...Which was actually the Rothschilds.

BF: Let's leave all that stuff out for now.

DW: Okay.

THE KUOMINTANG SUED FOR THE RETURN OF THEIR GOLD IN 1998

BF: The point is that in 1998, the Chinese owners of the gold sued the Federal Reserve Board, and said "Give us back our gold."

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SAID 200,000 TONS GIVEN IN THE 70s HAD BEEN ENOUGH

The Federal Reserve Board people argued that they didn't have to give back the gold.

[They said they had paid in full] because they gave a bunch of gold to Chairman Mao in the 1970s when the United States renewed relations with communist China.

DW: Could you be more technical than what you said... "a bunch?" What are we talking, here?

BF: Two hundred thousand tons?

DW: Geez. But two hundred thousand tons is not going to fill seven battleships.

BF: That's the point. They lost the case.

DW: Right.

THE FIRST GOLD SHIPMENT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE SEPTEMBER 12, 2001

BF: The International Court of Justice said "You guys have to give back the gold you took."

They said "Okay." The first shipment of gold they were supposed to give back was due to be sent back on September 12th, 2001.

DW: Jesus Christmas!

BF: And of course, as you know, the World Trade Center got blown up on September 11th.

The gold that was in the basement went missing.

ALL THE PAPERS AND THE EMPLOYEES HANDLING THEM WERE DESTROYED

BF: Cantor Fitzgerald Securities, the company that was handling the paperwork, was blown up – and all 600 of their employees were killed.

DW: Was that in Building 7?

BF: No, this was in [one of] the [two main] World Trade center building[s].

Building 7, where the Treasury police and all these people were, was blown up – and all the paperwork there was blown up.

Basically, they were saying, "We're not giving back the gold!"

WAS THIS PLANNED FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE WTC?

DW: It leads one to reason that if charges were placed in the World Trade Center when it was constructed – I believe it was constructed in the 1970s, right?

BF: Look, I don't want to... there was plenty of evidence.

President Bush's brother was in charge of security at the World Trade Center. There was all sorts of construction going on there.

DW: I'm just trying to think with the audience here. We're talking really fast, and some of these things are just going to make them go head over heels.

They're going to be reeling when they hear this.

You are exposing an absolutely incredible through-line that shows more compellingly than any other motive I've ever heard of why, specifically, did the World Trade Center come down.

THE GOLD WAS SHIPPED TO CALIFORNIA, THEN TO PARAGUAY

DW: There was this massive gold cache underneath the World Trade Center, and they snuck it out – I guess by some kind of railroad tracks or something, right, on a train?

BF: It was shipped to California and then I believe to Paraguay.

THE KUOMINTANG KNEW THEY HAD BEEN CHEATED

DW: Oh my God. So China must have known they got rolled. When they saw the World Trade Center come down, they must have suspected something immediately!

BF: Of course they knew! They said “These bastards aren’t going to pay us back. They’re trying to start World War III.”

DW: Holy cow!

BF: And what happened was they quintupled the US military budget with this fake War on Terror.

THE PATRIOT ACT WAS IDENTICAL TO THE NAZI CONSTITUTION

DW: Right. And you’ve got this Patriot Act, which is five inches thick of paper that just spontaneously showed up.

BF: Yeah, which is identical to the Nazi constitution, OK?

DW: Oh my God.

[DW: I apologize for not using more interesting exclamatory phrases, but I had honestly not heard many of these things before!]

THEY WANTED TO START A NUCLEAR WAR AND SET UP MARTIAL LAW

BF: And more to the point is that they had this... and there’s a lot of insider evidence about this.

They had this plan to start this whole Gog and Magog thing again.

This time the plan involved starting a limited nuclear war between Iran and Israel.

They were going to use that war as an excuse to set up martial law in the G7 countries.

DW: What’s the timeframe you are talking about for when this was being planned?

BF: They’ve been trying it for quite a long time now – ever since 2001, even before.

CABAL WAS TRYING TO CREATE WORLD WAR III, POST-9/11

DW: So just to set up the chessboard now, we’re post-9/11.

The Chinese know that they’ve been rolled – that this gold has once again been stolen.

China wants to get their gold back. In the meantime, the Rockefeller faction in the US...

BF: They’re building up their military. They’re trying to get the Western countries on a full, militarized basis to prepare for World War III.

DW: And what’s that going to do for them? They want to reduce population and they want to wipe out the Chinese?

BF: And they don’t want to lose control. They don’t want to lose power. They still have their Messianic, fascist, cultist beliefs that they are destined to rule humanity.

The Israeli newspapers openly referred to China and Russia and Iran as Magog, and the G5 and G7 as Gog.

They were trying to get all these countries to kill each other. They were trying to start World War III.

I've seen a map where they were trying to divide China into six countries.

DW: Like balkanize it. Yeah.

BF: Post-World War III.

THE PENTAGON REALIZED 90 PERCENT OF HUMANITY WOULD DIE – INCLUDING THEM

BF: What happened was that the Pentagon realized through their game scenarios that if they started all-out World War III, 90 percent of humanity would die – including most of them.

So they didn't want to go along with it.

THE PENTAGON HAS SYSTEMATICALLY SABOTAGED THESE PLANS

BF: They constantly prevented attacks on Iran. They stopped Israeli air raids.

They invaded Georgia to stop an Israeli attack on Iran from there.

They didn't want to start World War III, because they realized it was insanity.

DW: You're talking about the South Ossetia war now?

BF: Yeah. That was an Israeli air base that was designed to attack Iran and start this whole thing.

DW: Oh, wow.

BF: It's truly crazy stuff, but the evidence is right there in front of your eyes.

Like I said, the Israeli newspapers openly talked about it – in Haaretz, and places like that.

THE ASIAN SECRET SOCIETIES SET UP A STING OPERATION

BF: What happened now was a counter-plot. They sent these people to cash a trillion dollars' worth of these bonds that were given to them by the Feds.

DW: So [when you say "They",] you're saying now that the Asian Secret Societies.

[They] control enough gold that if it were repatriated, it would be thousands of trillions of dollars – that's what it says in the legal document...

BF: Yes.

DW: They created a sting operation with these guys...

BF: Together with the CIA guys who they used to work with in Southeast Asia.

DW: Who don't want the Powers that Were to still be running the show.

BF: Yeah. They realized they were insane and incompetent. They were one level below these guys and knew that they were crazy.

PLENTY OF EVIDENCE SUPPORTING THE BONDS SCANDAL

DW: When we write this up and we have this all transcribed on my website, I'm going to embed videos for people and the original articles on Bloomberg.com.

[These articles and videos] demonstrate the mainstream media – to a limited degree, because hardly anybody would touch this story – saying that these guys were detained on the border in Italy, I believe, with 134.5 billion dollars in 1934 bonds. Right?

BF: Yes.

[DW: As I revealed at the beginning of this article, the first thing you want to watch is this Fox News report, from Glenn Beck, about the scandal:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ttSmZknU9ml&feature=related>

Here is the original Bloomberg article on the scandal:

<http://www.bloomberg.com/apps/news?pid=newsarchive&sid=ayy1QKcwcGN0>

Here is a Daily Kos summary of links describing what may have happened:

<http://www.dailykos.com/story/2009/06/13/742096/-Japan,Italy,and-US,-134-Billion-in-US-Bonds-Smuggling-Case>

<http://www.asianews.it/index.php?l=en&art=15456&size=A>

In these two articles, "The Underground Investor" analyzed the evidence and clearly established how strange this whole story really was:

<http://www.theundergroundinvestor.com/2009/06/the-strange-inconsistencies-behind-the-134-5-billion-bearer-bond-mystery/>

<http://www.theundergroundinvestor.com/2009/07/possible-links-to-a-coming-bank-holiday-in-the-ongoing-134-5-billion-bearer-bond-mystery/>

NEITHER YAMAGUCHI NOR WATANABE WERE HELD BY ITALIAN POLICE

BF: Now this is very important. There are a couple things you need to let people realize when they try to create disinformation about this.

DW: OK, great.

BF: The guys' names... I have talked to both of them. Yamaguchi and Watanabe.

I was involved because I got called by the P2 Freemason lodge. I talked to some of the Italian Treasury police who arrested them.

First of all, they said the bonds were forgeries – but neither Yamaguchi nor Watanabe were arrested. They were let go.

THERE IS NO RECORD OF A TRIAL

BF: Then the Italians said that there was a trial, but there is no record of a trial.

THERE IS NO RECORD OF THE BONDS BEING OFFICIALLY CONFISCATED

BF: There is no record of these bonds being officially confiscated.

EVIDENCE THAT BERLUSCONI TRIED TO CASH THEM

BF: We do have evidence that Prime Minister Berlusconi tried to cash them.

HEAD OF THE U.N. ALLEGEDLY TRIED TO GIVE 100-MILLION-DOLLAR BRIBE

BF: We do have evidence that Ban Ki-Moon, the head of the UN, came forward and said “We’ll give you 100 million dollars to go away and forget about this whole thing.”

[DW: This is incorrect. Keenan emailed me after this was posted and said it was Giancarlo Bruno who offered a one-time payment of 100 million.]

DW: Jesus.

THE DAVOS WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM WAS ALSO INVOLVED

BF: We have the Davos World Forum [as well].

EVERYONE WAS FOLLOWED AND RECORDED

BF: In other words, we can prove that the head of the UN, the UN, the Davos World Forum and Prime Minister Berlusconi, among others, were involved in this theft.

And that’s a provable case, OK?

These people [such as Berlusconi, Ban-Ki Moon and others] were followed.

They were recorded. They were videotaped.

This is all provable in a court of law – which is why we went through a lawsuit.

BONDS WERE MADE TO LOOK FRAUDULENT FROM THE VERY BEGINNING

DW: OK, but let’s get one thing clear, though. These bonds were generated in 1934, by the Federal Reserve.

But, in 1934 they made sure that if China ever actually tried to use these bonds, they would appear fraudulent when they were attempted to be cashed.

BF: Yeah. There are deliberate typos. And the numbers themselves are astronomical.

371 TRILLION DOLLARS OF DRAGON FAMILY GOLD AND TREASURE

BF: You’ve got to understand that there are two financial systems in the world.

The stuff that’s on the books, in there, according to the official government statistics, the world GDP is 63 trillion dollars, right?

DW: Mm hm.

BF: And then we have these bonds that are supposedly worth 371 trillion dollars.

There’s a disconnect.

DW: What bonds are worth 371 trillion?

BF: The total amount held by the Dragon Family. The 85 percent of the world’s gold and treasure. That’s how much it was assessed at.

DW: OK. So this is the stuff that was blacklisted – prior to Bretton Woods.

[DW: Keith Scott, one of Fulford's insiders, told me he has repeatedly tried to correct Ben on this point, as the 371 trillion was only the value of one large treasure site in Malaysia. The full number is in the many thousands of trillions.]

POWER OF ATTORNEY GIVEN TO NEIL KEENAN AND KEITH SCOTT

BF: This is what Sukarno's nephew gave us power of attorney to sue over.

DW: And that power of attorney was specifically given to Neil Keenan, as cited in your document.

BF: Yeah, and Keith Scott. That [power of attorney was granted] just to say "Hey, you guys stole gold and treasure that doesn't belong to you."

[DW: Obviously, one trillion dollars' worth of bonds is only a very small percentage of the total Dragon Family / Kuomintang asset base.

Later, Fulford clarifies that this is not intended to put Keenan and Scott in charge... it is only intended to open the door. However, it is true that Keenan and Scott have complete signatory control over the missing, stolen bonds until 2020.]

LAWSUIT CREATES THE LEGAL RIGHTS TO OPEN THE "BLACK SCREENS"

BF: What makes this lawsuit scary to the people who run the financial system is they have the legal right now to open what is known as a "Black Screen."

This is esoteric stuff. You've got to remember that 95 percent of the money in the world exists only as numbers in a computer. Only five percent of it exists as cash money.

DW: That's like most people's bank account too, right? Unless you withdraw the money, it's just in a computer.

BF: Yeah. But otherwise what you get is a book entry with numbers.

DW: Sure.

BF: There's high-level codes that allow you to punch in... you go through the secret stuff, you punch in your access code and whatever.

Then you type in a billion dollars, and bingo – there's a billion dollars.

THE SABBATEANS DON'T WANT TO GIVE UP THE FINANCIAL CONTROL

BF: Now that's a pretty nice little thing to have your hands on. You can see why these guys don't want to give it up.

DW: These guys meaning the Western powers.

BF: Not the Western powers, but the Sabbateans who are above and behind the Western powers.

I'm talking about the Rockefellers, the Rothschilds and all these kinds of people.

THE BLACK SCREENS ARE THE CURRENT VERSION OF BRETTON WOODS

DW: So these black screens are part of the same financial system that was created by Bretton Woods.

BF: It's the current version. It's the ultimate high-tech computer network where the money is all supposedly hidden.

QUINTILLIONS OF ILLICIT DOLLARS HAVE BEEN CREATED

BF: The problem is because no one was in charge at the top, and there was no agreement, different groups started creating ridiculous numbers.

I've heard that there are now quintillions of dollars that they've tried to put into the system.

DW: I've heard that as well.

BF: And that's like 33 orders of magnitude more than there is of real world economy.

So the system is broken. It has mathematically malfunctioned at the highest level.

PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS FACILITATE TRADES BETWEEN CENTRAL BANKS

DW: Now one of the insider things that I have heard... it's something I've never said publicly before, but it's an important point.

It's my understanding that as a result of Bretton Woods, central banks were forbidden from directly trading with one another.

They had to have civilian intermediaries who were actually the bond holders – who actually kept the equity in their own private accounts.

Part of Bretton Woods was that these people were supposed to deposit 80 percent of the yield, as this money was created out of thin air, into humanitarian relief programs.

Would you agree with that?

BF: I have heard something along those lines. And I know at least a couple of people who do this trading between governments.

[I know] one of 20 people at the BIS who are authorized to do this stuff. I talk directly to them.

DW: Right.

THE MONEY WAS STOLEN – NOT USED FOR HUMANITARIAN CAUSES

BF: The problem is that if they open these screens – and we have the access codes now – they will realize that the money wasn't used mostly for humanitarian purposes.

It was stolen and used for military-industrial purposes.

WHAT ABOUT THE “BOOK OF MAKLUMAT” FROM SUHARTO?

DW: When you say “open the black screens,” is that the equivalent of what you were calling the Book of Maklumat that came from Suharto in Indonesia?

BF: The Book of Maklumat is one of several physical account entries that would allow people to open up this can of worms and prove that money was stolen.

DW: Is there one copy of it only?

BF: No, there are many copies of it hidden all over the place now, of course, because it's such a sensitive issue.

[DW: After this interview, I was able to see a digital copy of the Book of Maklumat. It definitely did not strike me as fraudulent. Most of it was a very detailed accounting of the staggering number of assets being held, with all the code numbers and descriptions.]

THEN WHO HAS THE JURISDICTION TO GO AFTER THEM?

DW: But who has the jurisdiction to go after these guys? That's one of the problems with this.

BF: That's the problem! We are in kind of uncharted territory. We don't have the structures right now.

The United Nations are run by a bunch of gangsters. A lot of the world leaders have been bribed and blackmailed into obeying these people.

So what's happening is we are entering into a kind of vacuum. We need to set up new structures, new systems, a new way of running the planet.

THE EURO AND THE IMF ARE BANKRUPT

DW: But if the Euro and the dollar become bankrupt, people are going to be really pissed – and those changes could happen pretty quickly.

BF: The Euro is already bankrupt. You can see the IMF, which is supposedly the highest financial body on Earth, is saying they don't have any money.

DW: [Laughs] That's scary.

BF: When Russia was bankrupt, it was the IMF that bailed them out. And now the so-called IMF doesn't have money.

That's because they don't have a legal mandate. It expired in 1994. They're just a bunch of people claiming to have the right. No one gave it to them.

THE NON-ALIGNED NATIONS HAVE BLACKLISTED ALL BUBBLE MONEY

DW: That means these non-aligned nations you're referring to, they are not accepting the bubble money that's being created in the computers anymore?

They are not accepting that equity?

BF: It's all being blacklisted – kept out of the system.

That's why the dollar hasn't... you haven't had hyperinflation in the United States. That money is not being put into the system.

Otherwise, all these numbers announced by the Fed – if you do the math, there should be hyperinflation, but there isn't – because it's not being allowed into the system.

It is a mess – but here's the real point.

CREATING MONEY ALLOWS US TO SHAPE THE FUTURE WE WANT TO LIVE IN

BF: The creation of money, in a way, is the process of deciding what we as a species will do in the future.

And it's being controlled by religious fanatics who wanted to carry out Old Testament prophecies. It's really wacko and mind-boggling.

Most of us ordinary humans, like any Miss America candidate, or pretty well any guy you pick off the street, will say, "End poverty, stop environmental destruction, and make everyone rich and happy." Stuff like that.

It's not rocket science. What we want in the future is not what the current set of leaders has in mind.

They want World War III and killing four billion people, and the rule of an elite over a slave population. We don't want that!

COULD THIS MASSIVE GOLD SUPPLY PROVIDE COLLATERAL FOR A NEW ECONOMY?

DW: We've revealed something in this interview that I've never heard you say publicly before.

The amount of gold that is here [is huge]... all of the confiscating of the Roman Empire, [as well as the Spanish conquistadores.] pulled it out of these ancient places where it already was.

It somehow all made its way over to China because of silk trading, and this and that, and opium.

BF: [crosstalk] Asia. Asia. Spice, silk, ceramics...

DW: Right. So there's this massive amount of gold that could put us back on a gold standard, where currency is tethered to something of real value.

A NEW “GOLD STANDARD” CENTRALIZES CONTROL TOO MUCH

BF: The problem with a gold standard, if you talk to the people... and one group that supported us are the people who used to control the gold.

As far as they're concerned, the “Golden Rule” is “He who has the gold... makes the rules.”

DW: [Laughs]

BF: Well, that's not really a viable alternative to fiat money, if you ask me.

DW: True.

FULFORD SUPPORTS MULTIPLE GROUPS TO PLAN THE FUTURE

BF: What I personally support is we need multiple different groups that have some kind of planning function into the future.

Whatever they do has to be based on stuff that exists in the real world.

There is a discipline in reality that you cannot escape. If you grow wheat, that wheat exists. And then you can put out a receipt that says “This is good for wheat.”

But, if you just put out a receipt that is backed by nothing, it doesn't exist. It's just a fact of nature.

JAPAN HAD EXCELLENT SUCCESS WITH ECONOMIC PLANNING AGENCIES

BF: What I've supported... I came here in the 80s when Japan was number one. It was the country of the future.

They had a system which I thought was the best we've seen so far on this planet.

They had what was known as an economic planning agency. They would draw an idea of where we want to be as a country five years from now.

Everyone would be consulted. People would say we want more roads, we want more sewage, we want more schools, we want a space station, whatever.

Then they would draw up plans. The Bank of Japan would go around and figure out how much money they could print that was backed by real stuff, without causing inflation.

Backed by real stuff means real estate, gold, rice, anything real. Then private industry would actually carry it out.

TEN PERCENT GROWTH PER YEAR – AND ECONOMIC EQUALITY

BF: What they had was fast economic growth, for decades – close to ten percent a year.

They had the lowest gap between the poor and the rich in any developed country, and probably any country on Earth.

AMERICANS FORCED THEM TO DISMANTLE THE SYSTEM

BF: It was the Americans who came in and bullied them and forced them to dismantle that system.

This is why they've had stagnation for the past 23 years.

THE CHINESE ARE STILL USING A SIMILAR MODEL – AND ARE GROWING

BF: The Chinese are still using a system similar to the old Japanese system, which is why they still have fast economic growth!

DW: Wow. Okay.

DEMOCRATICALLY DECIDE WHAT PEOPLE WANT – AND FIND A WAY TO DO IT

BF: So what I'm saying is that you need some people who are selected because they are very smart, because they passed a good exam, who are given the job of carrying out people's wishes in a realistic manner.

So everybody says "This is what we want the world to be in five years." Then these guys try to make it real by focusing on numbers and stuff that can actually be done.

Now I'm not saying we want a single planning agency for the whole planet. I'm saying this could be one of many competing groups trying to create new projects for the future.

The CIA guys and these people I talk to, and the Rothschild faction that is helping us, they want their own new offshore centers where they can carry out their own plans and projects for the planet.

And that's fine.

[DW: Elsewhere, Fulford has made it clear that this would only be allowed if they worked on projects that did not harm the planet or its people – and they would need to be monitored carefully.]

MONEY HAS TO BE BASED ON REAL THINGS

BF: I don't think we want a centralized control network. But we do need to make sure that anything that does exist is disciplined by reality.

It has to be based in something real.

The system should be that if someone takes a log and carves it into a totem pole, they have created money.

DW: [Laughs] Yeah.

BF: It shouldn't be some guy with a computer, some powerful oligarch with a computer punching numbers and acting like God – which is what we have now.

THE WESTERN COUNTRIES HAVE BEEN GETTING MORE THAN GIVING

BF: The other thing, of course, is that if you look at reality right now, the fact of the matter is that the European countries, the United States and Australia have been getting more stuff from the rest of the world than they have been giving.

DW: Right. The only export they have is "Financial Products," which is basically bubble money.

BF: And weapons.

SUPPRESSED TECHNOLOGIES COULD CREATE AN INCREDIBLE NEW CIVILIZATION

BF: The United States has the world's best universities still. They have a very intelligent, well-educated, hardworking population.

And, they have all this high tech that has been suppressed for so-called national security reasons.

So if we can get these scumbags out of power in the Federal Reserve Board and free the people, the potential for a boom such as has never been seen before is right there. It's ready!

THE CABAL IS FIGHTING TO THE BITTER END

But first, we have to let the old system collapse. These guys are not going to go quietly into the night. They are threatening war still. They are still trying to attack Iran.

I've had reports now that they are planting nuclear bombs in the seabed off the shore of Tokyo to create another tsunami here.

DW: Jesus.

BF: They're up to all sorts of nasty stuff. And we have to stop them.

WHAT ABOUT THE PENTAGON CONDUCTING MASS ARRESTS?

DW: Now you've said before that one of the enforcement arms that could come into play, now that you've driven the wedge with this lawsuit, is the Pentagon.

The good guys in the Pentagon could at some point actually do mass arrests at gunpoint of, as you've said, I believe most of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

[This is] because these guys have private accounts in the Vatican Bank and they have been bribed, right?

BF: Yeah.

DW: You're [also] talking about the heads of the top five media companies that have been controlling the media to promote this agenda.

These guys [in the Pentagon] are preparing to move on that at some point, right?

NO ONE HAS FORMED A CONSENSUS OF WHAT TO DO, OR WHEN TO DO IT

BF: They're not quite sure what to do next. That's the problem. There's a lot of confusion. It's one thing to say "All right, let's put these guys in jail" – but then they say, "Well, now what?"

There's no coherent plan in place for what's next. Keenan and his people have their ideas. I've got mine. Other people have their own plans they're all pushing.

What I do believe, though, is that yes – you do need to get the out-and-out criminals out of power. Put them under house arrest. You don't have to put them in jail.

CHANGE THE TOP OF THE PYRAMID

BF: Most of them... it's one of those systems. I don't know if you've seen the movie The Scorpion King.

It's one of those movies where you come in to the top of the pyramid, you beat the guy in a swordfight, you show up at the top of the stairs with his head in hand and everybody bows down to you. [Growling voice:] "OHHHHH!"

DW: [Laughs]

BF: Most of these guys are used to that pyramid system. If you change the top, they automatically go along with the new program.

They say "Hey, I was just following the pharaoh", you know?

DW: Right.

BF: So it could be a system where you don't even have to put anybody in jail. You just say "OK, we've changed the plan now. There's a new game plan. Now instead of building pyramids, you're going to be building universities."

And they say, "OK, let's go for it!"

OBAMA HASN'T BEEN ABLE TO RESIST THE PRESSURE GROUPS

BF: But, having said that, there are a lot of incompetent gangsters at the highest levels of power who shouldn't be there. They don't know how to run a country and they don't know how to run a planet.

And they don't belong in that job. And I mean Obama among others. His record proves it!

DW: I think he's folded way too many times to the pressure groups around him.

BF: Well, he's just a puppet. That's the fact of the matter.

WE NEED TO HAVE AN OPEN DEBATE ABOUT WHAT TO DO NEXT

BF: What we do need to have, as quick as possible, is an open debate. We want to get everybody in on it, so that we can say, "What are we going to do next?"

It's one thing to get rid of the old system, but if you don't have anything ready in place, you end up with chaos.

You end up with a loss of civilization. You end up with collapse of order.

That's one thing we all agree we don't want.

There has got to be a transition towards a better way of running the planet that's not going to destroy, but build.

WE DON'T EXACTLY HAVE A LOT OF TIME TO FIGURE THIS ALL OUT...

DW: I don't mean to play devil's advocate here, but [you have said] the Asian Secret Societies and the non-aligned nations have put this squeeze play [on the Western economy.]

[Now,] as of our interview, November 28th, there's stuff in the news saying the Euro isn't even going to last ten days.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2068138/Britain-joins-multi-billion-pound-global-bailout-key-banks-face-new-credit-crunch.html>

DW: [That means] we don't have a lot of time to make those decisions.

People are going to start suffering when these collapses that you guys apparently have helped to engineer finally happen.

THEY ARE ACTING LIKE HITLER AT THE END OF WWII

BF: Unfortunately, because the people in power in the United States, in Washington, in Wall Street and in Europe are being very stubborn, they are acting like Hitler was at the end of World War II:

"I will let Germany collapse before I will move from power."

There is going to be a really tough winter in the United States and in Europe as things stand now.

These guys are not going peacefully and quietly into the night. They are not accepting that we need a fundamental change in how we run this planet.

That is why it is going to be a tough winter unless you hurry up and get these guys out.

THERE WILL BE VERY POWERFUL DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGNS

DW: Well, they're going to have incredibly powerful disinformation campaigns that will do everything they can to make you appear to be a fool, and that everything you are saying is a lie.

BF: Sure!

[DW: These groups know the war is fought in public opinion – so strong efforts are being made to pose as ordinary people writing comments on blogs and discussion forums.

Two scientists at the Canadian University of Victoria investigated the problem of the “paid armies” of fake commenters in China. They created software that was 85-percent successful at weeding them out:

<http://www.technologyreview.com/blog/arxiv/27357/?p1=blogs>

India Daily posted an article that clearly asserts that China is not the only group “flooding” the Internet this way – hence the name “Internet Water Army”:

<http://indiadaily.com/editorial/22740.asp>

The Internet Water Army is a group of individuals who act as paid mercenaries to inundate the Internet with comments, gossip, or other content to build up or demolish credibility of articles, information, Websites and more.

These people demolish the consumer ranking of products and services, create false images, provide a sense of false perception to destroy the truth.

Some blame China as the pioneer of the Internet Water Army. China may be using the same but the list of abusers is vast. It is very common in the free world.

The corporations are employing them, the unions are employing them, and even the political parties employ them.

The Internet Water Army are typically tasked with registering on a Web site and then producing content in the form of posts, articles, links to sites and videos, etc.]

THEY WILL ARGUE THAT THIS IS THE “NEW WORLD ORDER” EVERYONE IS FEARING

DW: [They will strongly argue] that if this [Asian] group actually succeeds, it's the New World Order, it's the Illuminati, it's fascism, martial law, FEMA camps and all the things they've been trying to get people afraid of.

So how do you counter that?

THEY WON'T BE ABLE TO AFFORD TO CREATE PROPAGANDA ANYMORE

BF: The reality of the situation is stronger than the propaganda.

They can talk all they want. They say “Well, now I've got a quadrillion dollars. A quintillion dollars. See, it's in my computer!”

Then go try to spend it. See what happens! See how far you get with that!

Bush was trying to flee to Paraguay, and they stopped him.

See what happens when he takes his black card, or whatever they have, and he goes to the store, and they say "Sorry. You can't buy anything."

These guys will be just street trash once their money is frozen. And it's being frozen.

LOTS OF BEHIND-THE-SCENES NEGOTIATIONS GOING ON NOW

DW: Right now you're saying there isn't really a consensus within the Pentagon as to when or if to do these so-called mass arrests.

BF: I don't know. What I do know is these Pentagon people always told me they are waiting for this lawsuit to be a trigger.

Now there's a lot of, "OK, well, it's there. We understand that the system is rotten and broken, but we're not quite sure what to do next."

There's a lot of behind-the-scenes negotiating and talking and running around.

As things stand, unfortunately it looks like things are going to have to get more chaotic before these people's minds are concentrated enough that they're ready to start building new systems, new agreements to share this planet.

A FIFTY-FIFTY SPLIT BETWEEN "EAST" AND "WEST"

DW: The basic [idea] that I have said as an operating principle is that Western and Asian civilization need to start out with an exactly 50-50 deal that underlines whatever it is that we start building on top of the old system.

We don't want, suddenly, Europeans and Americans to be taking orders from Asians. And the Asians are tired of having the Europeans tell them what to do.

We need to have a forum where we reach a consensus. We both agree, "Yes, that's a good idea."

Build a space colony? "Yes, that's a good idea."

WHERE DO THE ISLAMIC COUNTRIES FIT INTO THIS?

DW: What side would all the Islamic countries be in that 50/50?

BF: The Islamic countries are basically with us, except for a few colonies that are still controlled by the cultists, pretending to be Muslims.

Essentially, they're just afraid of ending up the way Khadafi did, so they are keeping their heads low – but they are essentially with us.

DW: Okay.

HELP THE JEWISH PEOPLE UNDERSTAND THE CORRUPTION OF LEADERSHIP

BF: What we really need to do now is to get the Jewish people to realize that their leaders, a lot of them, were a part of an insane cult.

They shouldn't allow those people to speak for them as a people. These are the same people behind the Holocaust, you know?

DW: Right. The atrocity is too boggling for most people's minds to even wrap around.

BF: Exactly. That's what they were counting on. It's just too big for people to wrap their minds around.

But all this is provable, you know?

DW: Right.

VERIFYING THE LAWSUIT AS AUTHENTIC

DW: One thing I want to make sure we cover before we would end this interview is this presentation of this legal document.

The law firm that is listed on the document is Bleakley, Platt and Schmidt LLP, in White Plains, New York.

The principal attorney behind it is William H. Mulligan, Jr.

I've been to their website. They are definitely a very bonafide legal firm. I haven't actually called them yet, but I plan on calling Mulligan and asking him just to verify that this suit is real.

[DW: I did call Mulligan and speak to him on the phone. Please do not bother him. He released an official, recorded statement via my colleague Kimberley Jaeger confirming the lawsuit is genuine, as you hear at the end of the MP3 of our interview.]

THIS DOCUMENT SHOULD HELP CONVINCING THE SKEPTICS

DW: It's a hyper-complex document. It's loaded with numbers, documentation, with names.

I'm still on the receiving end of tons of hateful comments people are directing towards you.

[DW: Paid bloggers... Water Army crusaders... we love you! Think about what you're doing and who you're supporting, as you have to live here too!]

I hope this document will do a lot to allay those concerns – because it is very comprehensive.

THE PEOPLE BEHIND THE LAWSUIT ARE NOT THE ONLY ONES DOING THIS

BF: You've got to remember [this].

The people behind that lawsuit are an important group within the West that support a move towards a more sane international financial system – but they are not the only group out there.

A lot of people know that something needs to be done.

THERE IS CHAOS – PEOPLE DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO NEXT

BF: Like I say, it's a situation right now.

My understanding is that chaos is the best word to describe what is happening right now within the leadership circles of the Western world.

I would even include Japan in that. There's a lot of confusion. People don't know what to do next.

THIS NEEDS TO BECOME PART OF AN OPEN, PUBLIC DEBATE

BF: It's important to have a lot of open debate and truth disclosure, so that people can make informed decisions.

I don't think this should be handled behind closed doors anymore. I think this should be open to the public.

If people have specific things where they think I am either wrong or crazy, I am happy to answer it.

There is no point responding to slander, but if there are real arguments there, I would be happy to listen to them.

SOME OF THE LEGAL DOCUMENT WAS SOURCED FROM WIKIPEDIA

DW: When I did my due diligence on the document, my biggest concern, which I published on your forum, was that in section 33, there is a series of eight sentences regarding the World Economic Forum.

When I was concerned about whether the document was legitimate, I looked up World Economic Forum on Wikipedia.

The sentences on Wikipedia were almost exactly the same as what is in the legal document.

BF: Sure! The guy writing the legal document says, "All right. We know the Davos World Economic Forum [is involved], because there is a tape recording of a conversation with Giancarlo Bruno, who is the head of financial services at the World Economic Forum, [discussing it]."

So we have evidence, forensic evidence, that they are linked.

But then [we say] OK, so what is the World Economic Forum, anyway?

So the lawyer goes to Wikipedia and cuts and pastes eight sentences. Sure. That's what people do. Even lawyers writing up legal documents.

CLEARING UP THE ISSUE OF THE "OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL TREASURY CONTROL"

DW: The other mistake that I made publicly, which I want to correct, to your credit, was that in the document, the Office of International Treasury Control was referred to.

I didn't read the document carefully enough when I wrote my comments to see that in the legal document, the legitimacy of this OITC and its alleged UN charter is challenged. In other words, they attack the OITC.

When you look at the OITC website, it is painfully amateur. It made me have to reload my browser in 32-bit mode. The videos were done in Power Point. There are lots of grammatical errors on the website. It's a joke!

BF: Yeah. It's a joke. The guy RC Dam, who they supposedly put up as the guy who was in charge, is some Cambodian guy... he's on the run now. He's fled. People don't know where he is.

He was raised by the CIA. He was just a front man.

A COMPLEX, HIGH-LEVEL FINANCIAL FRAUD INVOLVING FIJI

DW: If you actually look up OITC, Office of International Treasury Control on Wikipedia, you read about this massive fraud that these guys – posing as the OITC, which was allegedly where the equity of the world's banks is being kept – instilled a fraud on Fiji.

They were allegedly going to finance Fiji with billions of dollars – which obviously did not come to pass.

Any conventional con-man would have to have really brass balls to try to defraud an entire country like that!

BF: These guys probably realized that the people who actually control the financial system themselves were basing it on fraud. So they were trying to get a piece of the action.

That's my reading of it. What I do want to emphasize is that even though Keenan and Scott have power of attorney right now, they shouldn't be put in charge of running the planet.

[DW: That is not what they want or expect either, based on my discussions with them.]

117 NATIONS HAVE AGREED TO SET UP A NEW SYSTEM IN THE MONACO ACCORDS

BF: We need an open discussion involving lots of people. That discussion is going to take place at the forum of 117 nations, the Monaco Accords, who have agreed to set up a new financial system.

We need to get the G5 nations and their satellite countries to participate in these discussions, so we can as quickly as possible come up with new global structures to replace the corrupt and rotten UN, World Bank, BIS and IMF with something more representative of the people on Earth.

I don't mean a global government. I mean a common set of rules for the planet we all share, the air we all breathe and the oceans we all use. Not some centralized New World Order control grid. All right?

DW: Absolutely!

WHAT ABOUT THE MALAYSIAN WAR CRIMES TRIBUNAL?

DW: Now is the Malaysian war crimes tribunal that found Bush and Blair guilty of war crimes, is that in any way related to this 117-nation alliance?

BF: No. It's just another sign that humanity is waking up, and they are tired of being controlled by this criminal cabal.

But, no consensus has been come up with about what to do next.

LOTS OF SUPPORT FOR A NEW ECONOMIC PLANNING AGENCY

BF: However, I can say this. There is a lot of support for my idea for a new international economic planning agency to do things like turn the deserts green and replenish the oceans with fish, and stop environmental destruction.

Not as a world government, but simply as some group that carries out big, long-term and large-scale projects for the benefit of the people and the living organisms of this planet.

DW: Yeah. And I think that a lot of the people in these groups don't want to be working for the bad guy. They want to save face.

BF: Exactly! They all want to save the planet, so let's do it!

Listen, I have to go, but thanks for talking to me.

DW: I really appreciate it, Ben. This has been a great interview. My prayers and support are with you guys.

THE LEGAL DOCUMENT DID SAY THE "OITC" WAS FRAUDULENT... AND FAULTS THE U.N.

DW: There was one other thing I just wanted to toss in briefly about the Office of International Treasury Control. And that is that I made a misstatement publicly.

When I went back and read your document, it clearly states that this was a fraudulent organization, but that the UN is at fault because they allowed this organization to prosper without ever publicly refuting their alleged charter.

BF: That's because Ban Ki-Moon himself, the head of the UN, is using fraudulent documents as we talk to try to take over African countries – just as they're trying to use the same fraudulent documents to take over Europe!

DW: My God.

BF: Okay? He's citing "seven families" as his authority. The seven families are the ones who founded the Federal Reserve Board.

And they have no authority! They're a bunch of crooks and gangsters. And we need to kick the bums out. All right?

DW: Thank you very much, Ben.

END POVERTY, STOP ENVIRONMENTAL DESTRUCTION AND CREATE A STAR TREK FUTURE!

BF: I don't want to end on a bad note. What we really need to do is end poverty, stop environmental destruction, and create a wonderful new future for the planet and the species on it.

DW: Well, we're all behind you, and we look forward to the next update. Thank you so much, Ben.

BF: Thank you very much.

DW: All right. Take care.

[END OF INTERVIEW]

PART TWO IS COMING SOON

What you've just read is quite stunning... but it still turned out to only be the beginning of the story.

I was able to grill Fulford and get a lot more information out of him than I've ever seen before. However, once I made contact with the people involved in this lawsuit, I found out there was much more to the story than what Fulford has reported so far.

In Part Two I will give a proper historical overview of how and why these vast assets were seized and held by the Federal Reserve and the Bank of International Settlements... beginning in 1921 with Emperor Hirohito's trip to the United Kingdom.

This interview was truly just the beginning -- and much of what has delayed me so much in getting this posted has been the process of doing all the follow-up. I decided to break it into two parts so you don't have to keep waiting.

THE TIMETABLE HAS SPED UP SINCE OUR INTERVIEW

It is also important to quote a bit of Fulford's two most recent blogs -- as the latest actions by the United States have accelerated the timetable wherein the "mass arrests" may occur:

The US Senate and Obama claiming the right to murder and imprison Americans without trial was a fatal mistake (Dec. 5th)

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2011/12/05/the-us-senate-and-obama-claiming-the-right-to-murder-and-imprison-americans-without-trial-was-a-fatal-mistake/>

The word is that the Pentagon, the agencies and the militias are on the brink of taking violent action against President Obama and the Senators who claimed the right to kill and/or indefinitely imprison Americans without trial.

[DW: "Violent action" may sound a bit too strong, as all he's talking about here is arrests at gunpoint -- probably without shots ever having to be fired.]

The criminal cabal in Washington D.C. and Wall Street may be able to pretend they are setting up a fascist/totalitarian dictatorship in the US for a while longer, but no serious armed group is going to support them.

The same is true in Europe, where Freemason P2 lodgers and Bilderbergers will make a move towards fascist control this week, and will seem to be on the offensive -- but will ultimately fail.

The simple fact of the matter is that these fascists simply do not have any reality to back up the numbers they are putting into their financial computers to bribe people and hire bully boys.

They are mathematically doomed.

The awareness in the thinking part of the population of Western countries has reached a critical mass. The group that is sitting brainwashed in front of their TVs is irrelevant, because the contents of their TV mind-programming will change once police and the military remove the criminals now occupying the corporate media.

Anyone who still believes there is an ounce of truth or decency in the large corporate media establishments has to ask themselves why these organizations do not write 911 truth or about the murder of 2 million Iraqis or about the vast bribes most top Washington D.C. corporate government officials have received.

They must ask why people are being railroaded into an agenda of war against Iran as a precursor to World War 3.

More than anything else, they need to ask themselves why the so-called governments of the West do not make any serious future plans for the planet other than fomenting war.

In signs of imminent revolution, the Senators who voted to kill and imprison Americans without trial are being confronted in their offices by angry constituents. The military has told Obama to buzz off, which is exactly what he did by running off to Hawaii....

DECEMBER 12TH -- EVEN MORE INFORMATION

Earlier today as I write this piece, Fulford just posted his next update into this fascinating, ever-changing story. Here is a small excerpt from his paid blog:

Cabal struggles desperately to create fascist world government as multiple criminal investigations zero in on them

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2011/12/12/cabal-struggles-desperately-to-create-fascist-world-government-as-multiple-criminal-investigations-zero-in-on-them/>

The fascist cabal known as the Bilderbergers, CFR, committee of 300 etc., is desperately and without hope trying to start WW3 and install a fascist world government in an attempt to pre-empt criminal investigations closing in on them from all sides.

Their efforts will fail because the Pentagon and the agencies in the US (with the exception of homeland Gestapo) are preparing to remove them from power, according to CIA and other sources.

For example, multiple investigations are closing in on alleged President Obama, including one for illegally declaring war on Libya. A count among US representatives show the votes necessary to impeach him are there, US law enforcement officials say.

In addition, evidence of bribery and other forms of illegally tampering with government is being compiled against George Soros, among others. There is also a lot going on under and on the surface in Europe, Japan and the Middle East....

In the US, as mentioned last week, the Obama regime has asserted the right to murder and imprison Americans without due process, meaning he has declared the US to be a fascist dictatorship. Again, it looks on the surface like the plans for a world fascist government are proceeding smoothly.

Fortunately for the rest of the human race, the fascist power grab is really just a sign of desperation....

The problem is that almost the entire leadership structure in Washington D.C. is corrupt and compromised, but people in the Pentagon and the agencies are so used to taking orders that they do not know what to do when their leaders become dysfunctional.

For example, there are enough votes in the US Congress and Senate now to impeach Obama, but the problem is nobody can agree on a replacement.

The various corruption investigations against the Obama regime can remove him [and the greater architecture of corruption behind the scenes] from power, but nobody knows what to do next.

The only answer is for the military to set up a temporary government headed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff until the garbage can be removed from Washington D.C. and Wall Street. The military rightly claim that armies are not good at governing. However, they are good at cleaning up a mess -- and restoring constitutional order.

The US military also worry about being able to meet the payroll, but the backers of the new financial system have already promised generous financing to ensure a restoration of US economic might -- and a gradual transition of the military industrial complex into something that can be self-supporting and good for the planet.

DON'T LET ALL THIS FREAK YOU OUT

Thirty years' worth of dedicated research into the greatest hidden mysteries of science, and of the Universe, led to the creation of my magnum opus, the encyclopedic The Source Field Investigations, which debuted as a New York Times bestseller in August.

In this work, I reveal compelling proof that life on Earth is being guided by a Universal consciousness I call the Source Field -- the ultimate author of space, time, matter, energy and biological life.

This is no longer a speculative, "woo woo", "New Age" discussion -- it is squarely rooted in a great wealth of scientific facts that have never been fully understood.

The Universe is not a "dead", unthinking and unfeeling void. It is vast, vibrant and full of life -- written directly into the quantum level.

In this book, I reveal that dozens of ancient cultures around the world were given prophecies about a coming Golden Age of peace and prosperity. The focal-point for when this would come about was the year 2012.

Regardless of what else may or may not happen around this time, it is remarkable to see the real-world evidence of this mass, international uprising against the Powers that Were coinciding so neatly with prophecies that are thousands of years old.

WE ARE BEING GUIDED INTO A GLORIOUS FUTURE -- BY A UNIVERSAL INTELLIGENCE

Some people do get it. The Source Field wants to let you know that it exists. Many people have sent in testimonials about the incredible synchronicities that begin happening in their lives once they find out about this stuff.

If you're laughing right now, it's only because you haven't had this happen to you yet. Or, more likely, the 'confirmations' have happened to you, but you simply blow it off.

We all grow up in an educational system that demands we be "right", and punishes us with bad grades and "failure" if we are "wrong." For this same reason, we all have strong conditioning to avoid shame.

Now we have the science to prove that this is not ridiculous nonsense. The case stands perfectly well on its own without the addition of the Fulford / Dragon Family / Keenan material -- but I see all of this as part of one vast, interconnected tapestry.

So many people are living in fear and terror of the future. We now have the science to prove that things are getting better, and in fact they must get better -- it's written into the design of the Universe, and is a fundamental aspect of what we're now going through.

I believe we are being intelligently guided through a planetary awakening at this time -- and as we head into 2012, it seems that the public downfall of the Old World Order will be a key part of that process.

GRAB YOUR OWN COPY!

You can grab your copy of The Source Field Investigations today at Amazon, Barnes and Noble, IndieBound or any bookstore near you -- in hardcover, audiobook or ebook form. The online price is still being held below 20 dollars by the publisher as a Christmas special.

With this new information I've shared as context, the story becomes even more exciting... and extremely cutting-edge.

Your purchase of these and other products on this site gives us critically-needed financing to continue in this campaign to transform the planet. For that, I honor you and I thank you for your support.

I would also recommend you check out our previous post, if you haven't already seen it -- as in it I released a new 20-minute video with good production value that is chock-full of great material on personal growth that can help you in these changing times!

A LITTLE SYNCHRONICITY UPDATE

As of 1:44 AM, I went back in and re-read this whole document, looking for any minor things that needed cleaning up. I found one place where the paragraph spacings needed to be corrected -- and I am about to upload it now.

Exactly 1777 hits had reached this article already -- just since I posted it -- and these numbers keep popping out as one of the ways the Source Field conveys messages:

Article ID:	995
State	Published
Hits	1777 <input type="button" value="Reset"/>
Revised	19 Times
Created	Monday, 12 December 2011 12:12
Modified	Tuesday, 13 December 2011 01:38

It's not going to convince everyone, but it was interesting -- so I thought I'd mention it!

UPDATE NEXT MORNING: FULFORD BEING DETAINED BY "CIA KIND OF GROUP" IN A HOTEL AGAINST HIS WILL?

Just when you thought this story wasn't dramatic or overwhelming enough, now we have even more to add to it.

Fulford was supposed to appear on mopal.jp's popular online show, "State Emergency Committee," on December 13th -- during the exact same time that this article came out. I had already telegraphed that it was imminent -- and tremendous in scope.

However, the producers of the show were informed that Fulford was being detained by a "CIA kind of group" in a hotel, against his will. They suspected that his life may be in danger -- which could be true, but it is too early to know.

Here is a short synopsis of what they said, from one translator:

Here is a longer version of the same video, complete with the opening sequence of the show, performed by a different translator. Unfortunately, the CC overlays other text that is already on-screen, making it a mess -- so just hit the CC button to turn it off:

If you want to see the entire 15-minute show, in Japanese without subtitles, click here.

WE WILL NOT BE INTIMIDATED

I do not believe Fulford to be the type of person who would lie about this or stage such an event. If anything happens to him, this story will explode into view much faster than it already is.

The genie is out of the bottle. You cannot stop this. Stand down and do not harm us. This is not your planet to abuse anymore.

Spread the word. Tell everyone you know about this story. Share the link. Write. Blog. Comment. Publicity is protection. Thank you!

OFFICIAL STATEMENT FROM NEIL KEENAN, 12:07 PM, DEC. 13, 2011

Dear Mr. Wilcock,

I am very concerned for Ben's safety. He has been a friend of mine for two years and I see him traveling and risking his life in order to provide his readers with stories. I know more than I tell, but he is a very gentle, concerned person -- and he really wants to see the deserts green.

I pray that what we are hearing is not happening -- and if so, I pray they release him safely.

I fear that Benjamin is being held because of his mentioning of holding the Book of Codes and Maklumat.

This simply is not true.

Not even I have them -- but they are in safe hands.

[DW: All I've seen is low-resolution JPEG images of it that are not even sharp enough to actually make out any of the codes. I will not be releasing them, nor ever planned to. I do not wish to get in trouble... just to report on a public story.

Those named in this suit should be smart enough to know that if they create martyrs, they will have a much more serious problem on their hands. You are being offered a settlement. Take it.]

So if this is it, please let Benjamin go -- so he can return to his rightful position, advising the world of its wrongs.

UPDATE TUESDAY NIGHT / WEDNESDAY, 12:44 AM: BEN IS ALIVE AND OKAY!

I just got word from Neil Keenan that he is now on the phone with Ben and he is alive and OK. That is literally all the info I have.

The most probable guess I have seen out there right now is that Ben was actually being detained for his own safety against another threat -- of which there have been several.

More information will be provided as it comes in.

UPDATE TUESDAY NIGHT / WEDNESDAY, 1:05 AM: SAY WHAT?

This story just gets stranger and stranger. Fulford told Keenan he just forgot about the show and went off for a happy trip to the mountains with his wife, then came home to sleep.

The network apparently was supposed to call and remind him, but forgot. They reached him on the phone at some point, but by that point it was too late, he was too far away and he couldn't go.

Ben's side of the story, as he explained it to Keenan, was that "the hotel incident story was not accurate, and was totally made up by the network."

This may be true, and it may not be true. Keenan doesn't know, and there is no way for any of us to know at this point. Even if the network admits they made it up, we can't prove that is actually a true statement either. Fulford has had strenuous threats lately.

Let's be glad that Fulford is alive and well. If he was narco-interrogated and/or threatened and sworn to secrecy, and the network told the truth, that's all the more reason for us to double and redouble our efforts to get this astonishing story out into public view.

It's time to take the planet back. This was a very healthy reminder for me of the stakes. I will not rest until humanity is free.

WEDNESDAY 12/14, 8:36 AM: CHODOIN DAIKAKU SAYS FULFORD "RELEASED AFTER NEGOTIATION"

Why would Chodoin Daikaku go on television and rather haltingly make this statement... offering very little information as if he were concerned about saying anything more?

Even further -- why would a man with such a prestigious, easily provable public position go on a popular program and tell such a blatant lie?

FEMALE: We have got some questions about Benjamin Fulford situation via the Internet. Please let us know.

CHODOIN DAIKAKU: Yesterday, we got information that Benjamin was captured and detained by foreign agents (spies).

After the program, I managed to find out his location. He was detained at Roppongi (Central Tokyo).

After various negotiations at onsite, I (we) have managed to release him. He is in safe at his home now.

He will attend the next meeting (a Mopal program on December 27th), and he will express his opinion, I suppose.

This is the only comment from myself.

DW: Fulford disappeared for an entire day and on through an overnight to the next day. He did not answer email or phone. He may have been forced to give a cover story for his own protection, as Daikaku is saying something altogether different.

Let's be glad Ben is alive. He's also been naming specific names lately and that could also have been something that got him in hot water.

There is every reason to believe that the timing of what Daikaku is calling a "capture and detaining" was not an accident, considering we just released the definitive article proving everything he's been saying about this lawsuit all along is true -- and I telegraphed it on Ben's blog for two weeks before it came out.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14TH, 3:39 PM: DEATH THREAT

For the first time in my entire career as a journalist, I have been given a very severe threat, handed to me from one of my top insiders.

I was told that I have tonight only to get Part Two out -- "it would be a very good idea" for my own safety, as publicity is protection.

Although the exact nature of the threat is unspecified, I was told I might be "lucky" if all I got was torture.

If I am savvy, so I am told, I may get away with spending the rest of my life in a top-secret facility in a "deep, dark hole" working as a black-ops scientist.

The best protection I have is publicity. For that same reason I will be releasing Part Two as soon as possible, even if I have to stay up all night.

It has been an honor serving you. Never forget how much you are loved. If I am to die, then I die with honor -- a noble soldier of the Light. I thank you for all the love and care you have shown me over the years and am grateful that I have left such a vast legacy of helpful material for you.

I have to get to work now. Thank you and God bless you.

WEDNESDAY 12/14, 5:37 PM: NOTICE TO ALL HOLDERS OF THE WILCOCK FILE

DO NOT attempt to call. DO NOT attempt to email. Answer ANY anonymous phone call that comes in over the next week.

DO NOT release Category 1 under any circumstances except as directed below. DO NOT inspect the video, audio, photographs or document files.

You will be receiving a large update shortly. All of this is Category 1 material and belongs in the Category 1 folder.

Proceed with Category 1, as directed, if I do not speak further over the next four days. DO NOT, under any circumstances, release Category 2 unless at least three of the events listed in the Revealing folder have occurred.

Remember your code phrases. If you see any of them in my next article, proceed with Distribution Plan 1 in the Revealing folder, but DO NOT release Category 1.

No further public statements will be made. Please do not ask for clarification if you do not know what I am talking about. I did not expect to ever have to use this, but I am also not stupid.

AS FOR EVERYONE ELSE

This is not a joke or a publicity stunt. The best way you can help is to send us your prayers and good thoughts, and SPREAD THIS INFORMATION AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE. Thank you and I know you are with me, always.

I am told the most critical period is the next 3-4 days, depending on how fast Part Two spreads. I was also told if I make it through that, it will be impossible for anyone to hurt me. Once we hit a critical mass of views, they must completely back off.

There is true horror at the highest levels that I have done this.

Please be assured that if the Wilcock File is released it will be much worse for you. We can end this peacefully and with a minimum of trouble.

I will be your best public advocate for a fair trial and / or immunity. Very few people are the real problem. Remember.

UPDATE 6:40 PM

I will be appearing on Kerry Cassidy's radio show in the next half hour to speed up the process of telling the rest of the story.

7:21 pm: We are on commercial break with American Freedom Radio. I have already given a synopsis of the most important points.

8:40 pm: So many people are trying to listen to the show that it has completely maxed out the streaming servers. Please be patient.

An MP3 version will be posted within one hour after the show is completed -- circa 10PM Pacific time. We will have it up here on this site and it will be on Project Camelot as well.

9:41 pm: I have been in conversation with various folks and I do not believe I will be harmed. The bulk of what I needed to reveal in Part Two was shared on live radio. I may give myself time to sleep and post this tomorrow rather than stay up all night, as this has been an emotional time for me.

Thank you for all the beautiful letters of support. At this point it would be very unwise for anyone to attempt to hurt me, for several different reasons -- including those revealed on the radio program from "Anonymous."

I will continue doing my best to give you the highest-quality inspirational material... for so long as I shall live.

UPDATE WEDNESDAY 9:48 PM: BIG, POSITIVE SYNCHRONICITY

Kerry just sent out the following message I got on Skype:

December 14, 2011

The SHOW STREAM WILL BE AVAILABLE IN 1 HOUR... we will post it here and on the Camelot Forum please send it around the world. David is now safe and protected.

Thank you to everyone listening for all the help and love. Please continue to send your love and stand in solidarity with David and all of us during this time. We place arms around the world in blessing and stand together - for together, united we are strong.

Breaking News! David Wilcock receives Death Threat

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DJFiaX3hLQE>

I clicked on the link and it wasn't until I was almost a minute into it that I looked at the number of hits... check it out, I did not make this up:

Wild stuff... I believe "Management" has spoken once again. Thanks to your support in publicizing this and spreading the word, no harm will come to me. I do appreciate it!

THE LINK TO THE RADIO SHOW

Only seconds after I just posted this 22,222 synchronicity, I got the next update from Kerry under the same window. She sent me the link where you can now download this radio show, in which I was very emotional and cried a lot, but did manage to summarize everything that is going to be appearing in Part Two -- all the main points.

This has been a very surreal and difficult day, but we moved quickly and I think it saved my ass. The YouTube sync I just had is very reassuring. I thank you for all your support.

Another commercial-free version of the radio show is being edited for YouTube distribution. Once that becomes available I will post a link to it here.

This link is to the same radio show, with commercials, but saved locally on our super-fast Divine Cosmos server in the event that American Freedom Radio's service is hacked or compromised in any way.

<http://divinecosmos.com/podcasts/Project-Camelot-32k-121411.mp3>

This is our best form of defense. You have the power to make this all turn out for the best, and I do appreciate your help. It means a lot.

As further protection, here is a link to a PDF file of this article that you can distribute far and wide in case you have trouble seeing this site or if it ever goes offline:

http://divinecosmos.com/media/The_Trillion-Dollar_Lawsuit_That_Could_End_Financial_Tyranny.pdf

Thanks again -- and stay tuned for Part Two!

UPDATE THURSDAY 2:08 PM: ALL IS WELL

I stayed up pretty late last night but did not finish the piece yet. I took SAM-e and GABA to help me sleep and I awoke to a phone call at 1PM from someone asking me if I was OK.

So everything is fine and I will continue on this path to jump back into the article ASAP and get it posted. Thankfully, Kerry's offer of a radio show allowed me to get out the most critical information right away.

I have also now been contacted by the Dragon Family representatives associated with the lawsuit, and as a result of this threat, I have been told to relay the following:

IF ANYTHING FURTHER HAPPENS TO DAVID WILCOCK, OR ANYONE ELSE ON THIS CASE, WE WILL OPEN THE BOOK OF CODES AND THE BOOK OF MAKLUMAT TO THE PUBLIC AND YOUR ASSES WILL BE HAULED OFF TO JAIL. STAND DOWN IMMEDIATELY.

I was additionally told that the entire network of international protection surrounding this case has now been extended to me. For all those helping on all these different levels, I do thank you.

UPDATE THURSDAY, 2:42 PM: COMMERCIAL-FREE YOUTUBE VERSION NOW ONLINE

I just checked my Skype and found that the commercial-free version of this show has now been uploaded to YouTube. This is another key way of getting the word out... so here it is:

UPDATE THURSDAY, 5:31 PM: GOING ON COAST TONIGHT

Coast-to-Coast AM with George Noory was apparently bombarded with emails of people who were very concerned about this death threat I received.

To increase my own security and help the story break out to a wider audience for everyone's best protection, I will be appearing as of 10PM Pacific time for 2-3 minutes to give a brief overview of what happened.

In the meantime I have been going through email back-and-forths with the interviewees for Part Two. Since this was all done in writing, it's important we get it right.

I may just release all the interviews as Part Two and then write a larger summary later on. That way we do not suffer further delays.

UPDATE SATURDAY 12/17, 10:45 PM

The new article has forced me to do a lot of research and preparation, including a summary overview before I go into the interview section. However, I must say it is truly remarkable to see how it is all coming together.

I really love writing, and other than The Source Field Investigations, this is the most invigorating and amazing trail of research I've ever gotten involved in. The stakes are high -- but the amazement factor is off the charts.

Once I finish Part Two, I have to send it off to the others involved for a final proofread and approval -- but hopefully we can get this all cleared up and posted tomorrow.

Thanks again for all your courage and support in helping me promote this vitally-needed truth. I do truly owe you my life, as if you didn't care about this story, I could have disappeared.

The truth will not be stopped. Humanity will be set free. This is what we need to do to create the world we deserve.

UPDATE SUNDAY, DECEMBER 18TH: PART II NOW AVAILABLE!

This story and the greater synchronicity surrounding it has attracted an incredible body of complex, interconnected new information. All of this is stuff I was never aware of before.

I've literally spared no personal expense and worked as fast as I possibly can to get this all out there. The end is now in sight, but I wanted to get something out now to keep you busy while I do the rest.

I've also decided to break off the comments section into a separate page, since this page is now so huge that it is collapsing people's browsers due to the 1000-plus number of comments. The hit counter is already well over 400,000 as I do this.

The Trillion-Dollar Lawsuit That Could End Financial Tyranny, Part II: History Lesson

Written by David Wilcock Sunday, 18 December 2011 07:33

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1022-lawsuit-end-tyranny-ii>

David's life has been threatened to tell you this story... so we are rushing it out to insure his safety.

This is the big one... over two million tons of gold secretly confiscated by the Federal Reserve to create "bubble money", and the lawsuit that could bring the whole global conspiracy crashing down.

THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR SUPPORT

First of all, I want to thank you for giving this your serious consideration. Nothing I've ever written before has gotten me a death threat -- and though I consider myself a strong person, I was quite disturbed by it.

I sprung into immediate action to insure this electrifying story went as far as wide as possible -- in case anything happened to me.

We now have multiple, powerful insider groups pledging to protect me -- and the story has spread so quickly through the Internet that I believe its publicity is its greatest protection.

As I prepare to post this section, we've already had over 400,000 hits, 1000 written comments and 21,000 Facebook Likes on Part One in less than six days.

Tens of thousands of people are writing about this on their own websites, and the growth rate is at least geometric, if not logarithmic at this point.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED

It was 3:30 PM on Wednesday, December 14th, 2011 when I found out I might be tortured to death for writing "The Trillion-Dollar Lawsuit That Could End Financial Tyranny."

I was told I should get Part Two out that night for my own protection, as this was the most sensitive, jealously-guarded secret of all -- and tomorrow may be too late.

I moved very quickly to protect myself once this call came in, immediately publishing "death threat" updates to my article, which was already extremely popular.

Kerry Cassidy suddenly called me and told me she was going on the radio in 20 minutes and recommended I join her. I ran into the shower and started the show immediately after I dried off in a hurry.

Our outdoor heat pump was dying after 23 years of service, so the room was disturbingly cold. All the lights would noticeably dim for three seconds every minute or two as I heard the compressor struggle in vain to kick on.

I had no idea how long the power would stay on or how much I would be able to get out on the air.

I'd barely had time to think about how horrible it would be to die of torture. It all hit me while I was on the show. From what you've been telling me in your letters, hardly anyone can listen to this show without crying.

Our heat pump wasn't the only equipment that nearly died of exhaustion during this broadcast. We literally collapsed American Freedom Radio's streaming audio server for the first time in their entire history -- due to unprecedented demand.

YOU MAY HAVE SAVED MY LIFE

Kerry's fast action, as well as Coast bringing me on the air for an update the next night, may very well have saved my life.

However, none of this would have been enough to protect me if you hadn't sprung into action so quickly -- by educating yourself and spreading the word far and wide.

For that, you have my eternal gratitude.

Everyone is pissed off about the world economy right now, and this is the real history of how we all ended up in this position.

It's not a cosmic, sci-fi story about extraterrestrials and UFOs. (Well, hmm... after re-reading everything, I can't really say that anymore!) Overall, it's very tangible, very terrestrial, and very straightforward.

This information is so amazing, and has been kept so secret, that I expect many great movies will be written about it for years to come. You are about to be one of the very first to learn something that will ultimately be common knowledge.

This is Part Two of an article series. The information is quite intricate and not everything will be reiterated. For that reason, you may want to read Part One and get familiar, if you are not already:

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/995-lawsuit-end-tyranny>

A BRIEF OVERVIEW

In Part One I gave undeniable proof that a lawsuit has been filed in the Southern District Court of New York, naming the United Nations, World Economic Forum, the Italian Republic and the Italian Financial Police as defendants -- among others.

This lawsuit is one visible manifestation of an international, 122-nation campaign that is actively bringing down the "Old World Order." This secretive cabal has been destroying our planet with bubble money -- which is backed by nothing but hot air.

This, at least, is what we have all been led to believe. It turns out that the nations of the world actually are on a gold standard... it's simply been kept hidden from the public, with no accountability.

It may not sound like much, but this is the biggest secret of all. Talking about this is so dangerous that it has remained almost completely invisible -- even to the massive numbers of people scouring the Internet for the latest conspiracy news.

I've been actively researching the world of occult, insider politics since 1993 -- but it took me all this time to finally put the pieces together.

Without finding the right insiders who were willing to risk their lives to help me see the Big Picture, this entire story would never have been possible.

Now, in Part Two, I want to focus in on the "Big Picture" that is now assembling as various insiders come forward -- with breathtaking new information.

IT'S VITALLY IMPORTANT TO KNOW WHO YOU'RE DEALING WITH

Before we launch into the story, we need to set up the characters. Otherwise, you may have difficulty understanding how this Nazi-type mentality could exist. Denial is the main weapon that has kept this story secret for so long.

You might also fall into an even more dangerous pattern: the Salem witch-burning mentality of "Us" versus "Them," "Black" versus "White," "God's Chosen" versus "Satan's Demons."

These are real people, not cartoon monsters. That is ultimately what guarantees that the plans of these groups cannot succeed.

However, if you don't know who you're dealing with, you will never be able to understand them enough to help solve the problem.

The majority of their members are miserable, feel trapped, and want nothing more than to escape -- and to be treated with love and respect.

The groups themselves are far too big, interconnected, worldwide and powerful to be transformed from the outside.

The only real shot you have at changing the world is by changing the people in the world -- including those within these groups.

You can't do that by stepping in, acting like a hot shot and telling them what to do. You have to listen to them, understand them, find out what they want, what they need and why they have been hurting so much.

And that's called love.

A LIFE OF MISERY

So here's the key: They grew up in a life that is so much worse than anything you've experienced that you could barely even begin to understand them -- how they really think and feel, moment to moment, day to day.

Nonetheless, it is possible to do so -- if not vital.

I believe almost anyone can be "broken" and become sociopathic if they are tortured enough -- regardless of their age. Look at any hardened criminal and you will find he got that way from being abused... usually thanks to an alcoholic parent.

Nonetheless, he always has the choice to step back from his own life and look at it like an outside observer.

He can observe himself, see what has happened, and strive to forgive and accept those experiences. He can forgive himself for the things he has done to others as well -- seeing how difficult it was for him not to repeat the same patterns.

He can also realize that even though his own family life was horrible, most people are not like that. There is real love out there. There are people who really do care, and will give their lives to help someone else.

NO SUPPORT SYSTEM... AND THE ABUSE GOES ON

However, for most people who have experienced severe abuse, this process of forgiveness is much, much too difficult.

It requires a level of personal strength and willpower they simply cannot produce, because our society lacks effective support systems to help them heal.

If you can't face your own pain, you usually end up running away from it. This is where alcohol and drugs become very effective tools in making your life more bearable. I speak from experience, with over 19 years of sobriety at this point.

Our abused child then grows into a man. He picks up the bottle just like Daddy did, finding that it helps to mask the pain of the horrors he went through -- for a few hours at a time, until he passes out -- only to wake up with a terrible hangover.

He abuses his own wife and children in a desperate attempt to release the emotional agony he is feeling inside, and try to feel better about himself.

Unfortunately, abuse just creates more abuse. No one feels 'loved' by being abused. They fight back. This just makes Daddy even more angry, which creates even more abuse.

The vicious cycle continues.

TRAUMA TAKES MANY FORMS

There is another form of torture that can create even more psychological damage than being yelled at and beaten. Having sex forced on you against your will, particularly if you are a child, creates very significant damage.

I continue to be shocked at the lack of social awareness about this issue. Everyone should know that forcing sex on another person, even one time, can create an inner scream that will haunt every day of their lives for years and years to come.

I've lived with people who have been through this. It's not pretty.

If you are hurt this way by one of your parents, this creates an even more extreme type of damage -- a violation of the sacred bond of family and trust that, again, is almost impossible for the average person to comprehend.

We now know this trauma actually re-wires the brain to be hyper-vigilant... ready to flip into fight-or-flight mode much faster than a person who hasn't been through this.

They will almost always develop a hair-trigger temper, ready to explode at the slightest provocation. It will be difficult or impossible for them to trust anyone. Everyone is a suspect. Everyone is a thief. Everyone is a scumbag.

They will have extreme anger boiling right below the surface of their conscious mind at all times. Underneath this is a sorrow so profound that they fear if they let themselves cry, they will be unable to stop -- and will want to commit suicide.

Many of them will be so damaged they can barely function in society -- except in predictable, unchallenging lives with as little exposure to risk, change or genuine hard work as possible. Others will become "thrill seekers" and constantly seek the next adrenaline rush.

CAN YOU HEAL?

It is possible to heal from these events, yes... but it takes a lot of work.

If you have been through a childhood that involved routine humiliation, yelling, beating or other forms of assault, it can be very difficult for you to truly develop empathy for the feelings and emotions of others.

It's all about you, your pain, your story, your mission.

You will typically build your identity around the idea of being "strong."

You will also naturally resent those who are "weak."

You may well see them as easy targets to be exploited and manipulated for your own gain -- puppets who can create wealth for you without you having to do very much work.

You may feel you are teaching them a valuable lesson by controlling and manipulating them. The more they listen to what you tell them to do, the better and stronger they will become as people.

Ultimately, they will get strong enough to rise up against you. They have finally awakened to their own power and strength. Now you reveal to them how special they are -- and you may even invite them to join you.

Then, together, you can continue to help awaken others who are "weak". You know that only the most gifted ones will learn how to become "strong" -- and understand the deeper reasons behind the seemingly senseless things you have been doing.

BONDING WITH THE GROUP

The bottom line is that if you abuse and torture a person consistently enough, he will almost inevitably have no sense of compassion or regard for others -- unless he can get away from you and go through a profound healing process. It's that simple.

However, you can tailor your abuse to create extreme loyalty and love in the person. This is done by alternating between severe "punishment" and love-bombing -- pumping them up to make them feel special.

A typical analogy is an abusive husband who beats his wife, only to show her "grandiose gestures of affection" afterwards -- such as a huge bouquet of roses.

In crisis hotline training, we watched videos of horribly beaten women, with their eyes nearly swollen shut, gushing about how much they still loved their husbands -- and how they understood why he beat them.

Like Stockholm Syndrome, you can end up falling in love with the very people who tortured you the most. It is far easier to adopt their beliefs and accept their "punishment" than to go against them, for sedition is death.

The ultimate goal for any group like this is worldwide power and control. That's the Holy Grail -- at least until they reach a level of technology that would allow them to migrate off-planet.

If you can wrap your mind around the idea that people like this actually exist, and have been meticulously planning on world domination for hundreds of years, you can begin to understand how we got where we are today -- and how simple their motive really is.

IT'S REALLY COOL TO HAVE MONEY

It's really cool to have money. Let's face it. You can go out there and do whatever you want -- indulging your greatest fantasies.

Now imagine that you could create as much money as you wanted, whenever you wanted, out of thin air.

Once you gain the ability to do this, you have become the ultimate magician -- wielding the very essence of the Universe in its physical form.

You can create power, wealth and prestige at the push of a button. If you can dream it, you can do it. You have true mastery and dominion.

People will do whatever you tell them just so they can get a little closer to you -- and taste some of the magic. You could be butt-ugly, but now you're the hottest thing in town -- and everybody wants to be your Number One.

The world is truly at your fingertips: "He Who Has the Peso Has the Say-So."

Unlimited money, for unlimited self-indulgence, is the ultimate goal of everyone who lusts for power -- and believes they are one of the "Strong."

HOW COULD IT EVEN BE POSSIBLE ?

How could you ever hope to pull off such an incredible stunt as to be able to create money out of thin air, all over the world, and have people believe you?

Most people don't think like this. Very few would be willing to do enough "homework" to figure out how to accomplish such a seemingly impossible feat.

Look at all the different countries and cultures in the world. All those languages. All those customs. All those people. All those lands.

It could take years and years of research by many thousands of people to even begin to understand what might be required to rule over them.

You would need high-level espionage. You would need to dominate every new business that comes along, by whatever means necessary. Many of your best people would lose their lives as they attempt to gain the most sensitive information for you.

Some of your people would train their whole lives to learn one language, just to do one job undercover -- and they may never even get the right "window" to use the skills they trained for. It could take years for a spy to gain someone's trust and learn the deepest secrets.

Naturally, you would need the most extreme secrecy imaginable to accomplish something of this size, scope and complexity.

It would take hundreds of years of meticulous planning to accomplish such a stunning goal -- and only your great, great, great, great grand-children would be able to enjoy its ultimate benefits.

TAKE ALL THE GOLD IN ORDER TO CREATE WORLDWIDE FIAT CURRENCY

It wouldn't take very long for you to figure out that your number-one enemy is gold and treasure.

The more gold is out there, the more trouble you've got.

People are naturally greedy and fearful. Gold represents real wealth they can hold in their hands. If any gold-backed money is available, they will obviously want it -- and reject your "worthless paper".

Let's say you already know there is an incredibly large amount of gold in the world.

Let's say you also have a very good idea of where most of it is.

Somehow you've got to take that gold "off market" and hide it away forever -- without the public ever even knowing about it.

Otherwise, you will always be vulnerable to someone creating a gold-backed financial system.

The ignorant, drooling masses of the weak would immediately lose faith in your printing press... and rush to hoard gold.

YOU NEED TO USE VIOLENCE

Of course, lots of people already have gold. You can't let them keep it if you want to create your magic money printing press.

Otherwise, they could band together, pool their resources and take you down.

Naturally, they won't just hand over their gold to you willingly. They will have weapons in their homes -- and tell you to come pry the gold out of their cold, dead hands.

That's the point. You will need to use violence in order to create this new, global financial system.

Military invasions will be necessary to force individual gold holders or even entire nations to give up their assets.

Futhermore, you somehow have to convince the majority of the world's leaders that it is in their best interest to do this -- or else kill them if they don't go along with it.

Once you've got control of the worldwide magic printing press in your hands, it doesn't matter what the world leaders think -- but until then, you'd better give the people a great story.

Create something that really arouses their deepest feelings of patriotism and passion.

KEEP IT SECRET... KEEP IT SAFE

When the common people see violence occurring, including invading armies, you need to give them compelling, believable reasons for why these horrible events took place.

Cook up some outrageous assassinations and atrocities against the people who stand in your way. Figure out who you want the people to be angry at, and then blame every nasty thing you did on your new, manufactured enemy.

All of this is nothing but elaborate stagecraft -- while the real goal is to get all their gold, so you can create as much money as you want.

In the meantime, you secretly tell the leaders of the various nations that these atrocities are actually a sad but necessary key to creating world peace, security and prosperity -- and preventing far greater tragedies from occurring.

Any government, military or financial leaders who disagree with the plan are threatened or killed, to insure everyone is on the same page.

Every leader who goes along with the plan is assured that it will ultimately generate much greater abundance and happiness... a world free of war, suffering and depravity.

A NECESSARY EVIL... FOR A GREATER GOOD

That was the promise. That was the carrot. A New World Order... of peace, prosperity and happiness. All of this really got started with the founding of the Federal Reserve in 1913, the Bank of International Settlements in 1921, and the Bretton Woods agreement in 1944.

World leaders are not geniuses. They are often ordinary people with ordinary intellects who happened to win or steal an election. Or, they were simply appointed into that position because of who their parents were.

This plan for a New World Order was presented before them as a necessary evil... which only someone at their illustrious level of power and influence could even hope to understand.

They would undoubtedly spend long nights in bed, staring at the ceiling and tossing and turning in a cold sweat, as they realized what had to be done.

However, sooner or later, as ugly and horrifying as it would be, they would realize they had to act on behalf of the greater good -- for their children's children's children. And they knew if they didn't go along with the plan, they would be assassinated.

Every world leader is forced to make decisions that could kill countless numbers of people in order to secure the interests of the country -- and the planet. That's life. That's reality. That's what it takes. So put on your uniform, suck it up and get over it.

Yes... it would be very painful to create this new system, but once it was done, everyone's lives would be much better.

THEY FELT THEY HAD BEEN DECEIVED

By 1954, the 77 "non-aligned" nations of the world clearly felt they had been deceived.

Instead of the golden era of peace and prosperity they expected to develop after the end of World War II and the signing of the Bretton Woods agreement, the world had been plunged into even deeper horrors.

The United States and the Soviet Union were arming up for total nuclear war and planetary annihilation.

The US dollars that were promised for humanitarian programs to build up developing nations never arrived.

The dollar, as a "global reserve currency", got distracted into pumping up the military machine.

The non-aligned nations wanted to change the system, but did not have the military force to do anything to stop it. Anyone who dared to make the slightest little whisper about what was going on would be threatened or killed.

This invisible, desperate battle has continued straight through to this very day.

This is the biggest secret. This is the real history of the global financial system. This is the story that almost got me killed. This is a small taste of how the blueprint for global control was meticulously followed... over the course of hundreds of years.

ASIA: WHERE THE WHOLE STORY BEGINS

The greatest secret in the world, as I have now discovered, is that "Gold is as Plentiful as Sand." This is obviously an exaggeration, but apparently not by much. It has been truly stunning for me to uncover this information.

All this gold had to be confiscated, by a vast method of worldwide deception, in order to pave the way for a "New World Order" -- where money could be created out of thin air.

To truly understand this highly secretive battle that has led to "The Trillion-Dollar Lawsuit That Could End Financial Tyranny," you have to go back in time.

Everything ultimately becomes East Versus West in this grand "Illuminati" game -- as I finally now understand.

My investigation of this story led to direct threats against my life, relayed by one of my top insiders. Therefore I take this very seriously... and I don't want to leave anything out.

WHAT IS WEALTH, EXACTLY?

Let's begin by thinking about wealth. What do people really see as being valuable?

Wealth doesn't just appear in the form of commodities like gold -- it also manifests in high-quality products of various kinds.

Anything that enhances our comfort and enjoyment of life is wealth. It's something we're more than happy to pay for.

For thousands of years, Asia was producing the most highly-regarded stuff in the world -- including those things that appealed to the most primal human instincts.

ALL THE FINEST PLEASURES

Asians discovered there was a white worm that would spin flossy webs of a very fine material. This material could be collected, gently cooked and made into durable clothing that was extremely soft -- almost supernaturally soft.

Asians also spent hundreds of generations hunting for the best possible dyes -- allowing them to make bright, vibrant colors that were not available anywhere else in the world.

By combining these two technologies, gorgeous, colorful silk fabrics with incredible designs could be produced.

The softness of silk was directly associated with sexual pleasure.

The feeling of wearing or rubbing against silk was enough to get you totally aroused -- and it was also very expensive.

Cotton was also a key Asian import. You could make clothes that were much softer, and more comfortable than linen or wool, and much less prone to wrinkling than linen.

GORGEOUS CERAMICS

Asians were also making all sorts of ceramics, including incredibly detailed vases painted with dragons in gold leaf. Elaborate, fancy china sets were also created, using firing techniques unknown to the Western world.

Still to this day, Westerners have a deep, almost genetic memory of impressing their guests by "breaking out the fine china."

In the olden days, simply having a genuine china set to serve dinner on was a sign that you were really a hot shot. Otherwise your plates and bowls were probably made out of wood, metal or stone.

Tea-drinking, so central to European life, simply isn't the same without white ceramic teacups -- which could only be purchased in China.

For many hundreds of years, no one had any idea how to make such fine glazed ceramics in the West -- though they did finally catch up.

ORIENTAL RUGS

We are bombarded by images. In any given day, we can see tens of thousands of different images of beautiful things and beautiful places... all without ever leaving the home.

It wasn't until I visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York that I realized why people would pay so much money for paintings... back in the old days.

There were no pictures. There were no movies. There was nothing to see. If you didn't go to these beautiful places in person, you didn't see anything nice. Period.

Who could afford to travel? And even if you did go somewhere that was beautiful, how much of the view would you really remember as the years went by?

Most people's lives were too caught up in day-to-day survival to ever see something as majestic as a mountaintop view or a beautiful shore. If they were lucky, they might get to see the color of fresh spring flowers for a few weeks a year -- that's it.

It took a lot of work for me to imagine my way into such a boring, monochromatic life -- seeing the exact same things, day after day, and nothing else. Nothing nice. Nothing special. Just the same four wooden walls.

Asians were making rugs that were extremely detailed, colorful and beautiful. Everyone had to have one. It became the focal-point of your home. You could lose yourself in the beauty of its patterns -- and let your mind drift to finer worlds.

FOOD USED TO BE MONOCHROMATIC AS WELL

We completely take flavors for granted these days. People would have literally killed each other to get their hands on those little containers in our kitchen that we haven't even opened in the last five years.

It's hard to imagine a life in which the food was as bland and monochromatic as the scenery -- but that's the way it was.

Asia had delicious spices that were unavailable anywhere else in the world -- key ingredients we now take for granted in dinners and desserts.

For example, cinnamon was extremely rare and expensive just a couple hundred years ago. It came from the bark of a tree that only grew in Asia.

Not only is cinnamon a well-known aphrodisiac, just think about what happens to almost any dessert with a little cinnamon added in... particularly cooked apples. Without that complex, marvelously seductive note of cinnamon, it's just not the same.

Nowadays, if you see a jar of cinnamon on the ground, you probably won't even pick it up. In the old days, you would have grabbed it and ran like hell.

Sugar wasn't available except as an Asian spice back in those days either. The same goes for coffee. Life just wasn't as sweet without Asian goods.

THINK ABOUT ALL THE ASIAN SPICES

Imagine tasting the zing of chili peppers for the first time. Or the distinctive enchantment of coriander -- known as cilantro in Mexico, a key ingredient in making guacamole and burritos taste right.

Black pepper was so greatly loved that it is still a cliché in the Western world to have it on your table, right next to the salt. This was ultimately the single most profitable and widespread Asian spice export -- literally shipping out by the ton.

Ginger adds a deliciously complex buzz to sweet and savory dishes alike. Only the very rich could afford gingerbread or ginger cookies.

The licorice flavor comes from anise... which is native to China. Don't just think about candy... veggies flavored with anise form an excellent companion to fine meats, such as lamb or fish.

AND THAT'S NOT ALL

In a Thai restaurant, you will be dazzled by notes of lime leaves, lemongrass, Thai basil, coconut extract and galangal. Imagine the joy of bringing that taste home with you after a long, fascinating adventure into Asia.

Cloves add marvelous subtlety to sweet and savory dishes. They became essential additions into a ham before roasting it -- and made cookies and sweet breads 'pop' in a way nothing else could. If you were really outrageous you could even smoke them like cigarettes.

Nutmeg was another key Asian spice -- a marvelous addition to many dishes. Ever taste egg nog? All that splendid, complex flavor is thanks to nutmeg.

The slightly funky allure of cumin can make meats and savory breads come alive -- particularly with some nice salt and some of the other spices included. Pair it up with curry leaves, cardamom and turmeric, also only available from Asia, and now you really have something.

And, for someone who lives on "Earl Grey" black tea as a staple of life, day in and day out, imagine what a game-changer it is the first time you sip a beverage brewed from the finest blossoms of jasmine.

IMAGINE THE SCENE NOW

Only the ultra-rich, gold-encrusted Westerners could afford to have the best-tasting food.

Imagine busting out a dinner with even a few of the amazing flavors I've just listed above -- in an otherwise monochromatic world. Jasmine tea. Cinnamon. Sugar. Ginger. Pepper. Cumin. Coffee. Curry. Cardamom. Licorice. Cloves.

Only the very rich could brighten up their dreary days with the best desserts -- and the best flavors mixed into their appetizers and entrees.

Think about how powerful it is to serve someone a meal made with flavors their body immediately craves, with almost a sexual urging -- even though they have never tasted them before.

Now imagine these meals being served on incredible gold-leaf china, on a fancy table that sits on top of a majestic Oriental rug -- with a huge dragon vase in the corner of the room.

If you want to build your status and power in the world, and put on a big show for a potential investor in your latest venture, this would be a great way to do it. "Where do I sign?"

DRUGS AND MONEY

If your investor still wasn't ready to sign, there was nothing quite like smokin' him up on some high-octane Asian opium -- the ancient forerunner of modern-day heroin.

After that delicious dinner, a beautiful woman hands him his incredible silk "smoking jacket" -- just a sexy Asian robe, disguised with a more manly-sounding name.

The hookah beckons him in to the opium den with its spidery arms. Silk pillows and curtains, in lurid reds and pinks, line the room as the almost absurdly-sweet smoke hangs lazily in the air.

You might also want to burn incense in there to make it smell even more extravagant. Sandalwood was another very expensive, highly sought-after Asian export.

Who knows what kinds of wild sex and mystical dreams he will have once he goes in there -- with the prostitutes you'd hired for the occasion?

What a show.

Similar pleasures were used to convince men to commit contract murders for payment, without question -- in the Order of Assassins.

NO GOLD, NO LUCK

One amazing dinner served on fine china, followed by an after-party in the opium den, could practically guarantee you would get all the best business contracts.

The most beautiful and highly prestigious women, from the most illustrious families in the country, would all want to join your lavishly opulent parties.

Asia had every ticket to Paradise the ultra-rich could ever ask for... and what could possibly be worth more?

There's one big problem, though. The Asians refused to accept anything as payment except gold. No trade. No barter. No money. No nothing.

"Paper money? What is this? You want this, and you want to give me a piece of paper? You... you get the hell out of here!"

If you didn't have gold, you got sent home empty-handed.

For this same reason, much of the gold of the Roman Empire, and later of the Spanish empire, ended up in Asia.

THE SECRET ASIAN GOLDMINES

This is one key way in which 85 percent of the world's gold ended up in Asia.

When I interviewed Fulford in Part One, his sources had informed him this was the main way that Asia got all the gold.

However, a very high-ranking Asian insider has now given me incredible new information on all of this.

Neither he nor his associates have spoken to Fulford or anyone else in the public eye about what they know -- for it is much too dangerous.

It turns out there are massive, massive deposits of gold in Asia that have been kept secret -- but more on that in a minute.

THE JADE LION

This insider did not contact me through the Internet. A good friend of mine told him about me, and what I was working on, during a recent trip he took through Asia. They had already been friends for many years by this point.

Had my friend not discussed my story, and the secrets I've been uncovering, he probably never would have heard a thing about the highly dangerous, hidden life this man had been leading -- for over 20 years now.

At first, when my friend told me this story, it sounded too good. Too easy. Too convenient. I didn't even take it seriously. I laughed it off. However, once my life was threatened, I started paying attention.

I spoke to this new insider the day after I got my death threat, using my friend's phone for security. I asked tons of questions and got the whole story in meticulous detail. It is almost impossible that this could have been a setup to feed me disinformation.

This is not a random stranger. His bonafides are well-established -- and for now, he must remain anonymous, along with much of his story. I will call him the Jade Lion.

GOLD IS EVERYWHERE

JL revealed that China is sitting on top of an absolutely colossal gold mine.

Secret gold deposits run through Cambodia, Laos and other countries in Southeast Asia as well. It is as if they are literally standing and walking on gold. It's everywhere.

THE ELDERS

This secret gold deposit came under the control of a mysterious group known by various names... a group that was instrumental in the founding of modern-day China.

Some call them the Dragon Family. JL says they simply call themselves the Elders.

This is the same group that was responsible for building over 100 pyramids in the Xian province of China.

Emperor Qin, the first of the Dragon Family to rule China, ordered the "Terra Cotta Soldiers" to be built out of his entire army -- each one completely personalized, down to the last man -- and then had them all buried under one of the pyramids.

According to another high-level insider who corroborated much of these details, the Elders now live in the Forbidden Zone of China. It's very highly secure and is almost like a nation-state unto itself.

Very few people can gain access to it at all -- and it is in a tough mountainous region.

No one would dare threaten the Elders because they have a vast, worldwide network of contacts, as well as the military power of the current Chinese government behind them.

INCREDIBLE LONGEVITY

JL told me the Elders eat an extremely pure diet -- and cultivate special herbs and medicines that have given them incredible longevity.

Another insider suggested the Elders may possess secrets about the healing benefits of gold that most people are not aware of either.

This could partly explain the otherwise ridiculous-sounding idea that some Elders can live to be as much as 300 years old.

I know I may have lost you right there. However, I will not let my personal biases get in the way of reporting the truth to you, as it was told to me by Jade Lion and others.

One key Elder handling the lawsuit I am about to discuss -- different from the trillion-dollar complaint mentioned in Part One -- is apparently 165 years old, according to JL.

WERE THEY COLONISTS?

I asked JL if the Elders were the direct descendants of humans who were born on another planet and migrated here. He personally has no knowledge of this, and was told their supernatural lifespan was merely due to diet and herbs.

Other high-level insiders have revealed to me that fully five different groups of extraterrestrial humans have colonized the Earth in the past. The Elders are apparently the living descendants of one of these groups.

The larger Chinese pyramids were apparently built as landing platforms for their ships. I have been told there are still vast networks of crystalline pipes underneath the ground, linking these sites together.

Much like an RV-equipped park, these pipes allowed them to have water, sewage and power hookups when they landed. Their ships' defense systems insured they would remain safe from any locals who wanted to attack them.

Chinese legends do report that the pyramids were built by "the Ancient Ones who descended to Earth in flying metallic dragons," as I reveal in The Source Field Investigations.

FIVE KEY BLOODLINES

Again, according to top insiders I have spoken with, there were five key groups of off-planet immigrants in more recent times.

Each of these groups became royal families in their respective regions. They have tended to keep their bloodlines intact.

Let me be clear in saying that the Elders are peace-loving, highly evolved people.

They wish to see our world transform into a much more positive, loving and prosperous place for everyone.

This is surely going to be one of the most surprising, mind-blowing things to emerge once we do finally have Disclosure.

BRING OVER YOUR FAVORITE STUFF

It is also quite possible that the Elders brought many of their favorite things over from their home world. This may explain why so many great spices could only be found in Asia and nowhere else.

They may also have released some of their technology to the people -- including silk and ceramics manufacturing techniques.

It is also possible that the silkworms themselves were not originally native to this planet -- and may have even been genetically engineered to perform their uniquely valuable service.

One of my top insiders told me that the great pyramid-building cultures of Atlantis were all founded by immigrant humans who came here from other worlds.

Some people may be laughing at this now, but I don't think they have a whole lot of time left to remain ignorant of these things.

DO THEY HAVE OFF-PLANET ALLIES WITH ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY?

Remember -- JL did not have any personal knowledge of the Elders being the descendants of off-planet human immigrants.

Nonetheless, I also asked him if the Elders have contact with people who have advanced technology and do not live on Earth -- perhaps their own distant relatives.

He personally has no knowledge of this, but he did accept that he may not be on a "need-to-know basis" for information like that.

CHINA'S OCTOBER SURPRISE

JL's data nonetheless provides stunning new context to the story of China's October Surprise that I've been hearing from my own insiders.

If you've been following my website, you know I've been tracking this story ever since October 2010, when it all really started.

The basic gist of the story was that the Federal Reserve screwed China -- and in these negotiations, they were told if they didn't pay up and surrender, China's extraterrestrial allies would begin systematically destroying their ability to take over the planet.

There are a wide variety of seemingly inexplicable failures of military equipment that can be attributed to this -- including a spectacular failure of 50 ICBMs in Wyoming, during which time a cigar-shaped UFO was seen hovering over the facility.

These extraterrestrials are apparently working with China and other nations to insure the G5 "Illuminati" countries cannot fulfill their plans of global dominance and genocide.

The occult insiders' plan included the staging of a mass, fake alien invasion, using advanced technology. That is no longer possible.

It's obvious to most open-minded people that UFOs are real. The story behind them is only known to a very privileged few. I have done my very best to put all the pieces together for you.

Apparently this will all be common knowledge -- much sooner than we think.

A STUNNING SETTLEMENT

JL has never met any of the Elders personally. However, he is in contact with someone who lives with them and has been working directly with the Federal Reserve families through the Bank of International Settlements.

The Elders' main contact has been shot at five times in the last year alone. The Elders sued the Federal Reserve families in September 2010 for gold contracts going back hundreds of years, in a secret world court within the BIS -- and the Elders won as of December.

These new figures fit in very nicely with the timing of China's October Surprise, as I had reported it on this website -- though JL had never read any of those articles, nor knew anything about it.

The judgment was for 286 Trillion dollars. The Federal Reserve has been delaying the big payout ever since.

However, JL tells me they have been in intense negotiations on a daily basis since last December, and almost all the details have now been worked out.

We therefore should expect major changes to occur "very, very soon." [Augh... there's the "S word" again!!!]

EVERYONE'S LIFE WILL IMPROVE

Everyone's life on Earth will dramatically improve if what Jade Lion is telling me is true.

This case, and its eventual outcome, is a completely separate issue from the trillion-dollar lawsuit I covered in Part One.

The trillion-dollar lawsuit is perfectly provable and on public record.

The 286-trillion-dollar lawsuit, on the other hand, occurred in secrecy -- and I have no way of proving it is true at this point.

However, other top insiders have since confirmed that this is very real, and it will probably go public by the Spring.

Another insider referred to the time we are about to head into as a "Reset Point" -- and said it has huge significance for life on Earth.

KEEP IT HIDDEN

The Elders obviously felt it was vital to China's national security that they not reveal where this vast supply of gold was... or how much of it they really had.

According to JL, China still has vastly more gold reserves than they have been able to mine in the last few thousand years.

Had the Elders revealed this secret, they may not have been able to maintain the illusion that gold was a highly valuable, highly rare commodity.

The Elders had a key strategic advantage by having a nearly limitless supply of the one thing everyone in the world could agree was "real money".

It is also possible that the Elders brought a gold-synthesizing technology with them, and still use it to this day.

This could explain why other insiders have scratched their heads and said if such secret mines really did exist, they surely should have known about them.

THE UNITED STATES: THE GREATEST ASIAN INVESTMENT IN EARTH'S HISTORY

How did the United States go from being just a few ragtag colonies, with people desperately trying to eke out a living, to becoming the world's pre-eminent superpower?

Is it really as simple as the idea that they had a lot of land to convert into natural resources -- and hence economic power?

Apparently not. Without gold to secretly back up the issuance of American currency, they never would have been able to afford to grow so fast. It would have been a massive bubble that would be constantly threatened with destruction.

According to JL, the biggest secret of the United States is that it was all built up with Asian money -- directly from the Elders.

America was a rebellion against colonial, imperial, monarchic rule in Europe -- and the Asians saw this as a very necessary investment for their own security.

WHY BUILD UP THE UNITED STATES?

The Dutch, Portugese and British were duking it out for supremacy over the hugely profitable Asian spice trade by the late 1500s. Things started to get serious by 1600, with the formation of the English East India Company.

The Dutch formed the Dutch East India Company in 1602 as a defensive counter-move against this massive power-play.

Things quickly got bloody and nasty. The English scored a decisive military victory against the Portugese in the Battle of Swally in 1612, and their power grew much faster after that. As it says in Wikipedia,

By a series of five acts around 1670, King Charles II provisioned [the East India Company] with the rights to autonomous territorial acquisitions, to mint money, to command fortresses and troops and form alliances, to make war and peace, and to exercise both civil and criminal jurisdiction over the acquired areas.^[14]

Essentially, the English were invading Asia, bit by bit -- since that's where all the money was.

They created a corporation that had become a complete nation into itself -- an early foreshadowing of the world we live in today. The East India Company could print its own money, declare war, take over any land it wanted to, and make all the rules -- with no oversight.

This was all happening right in China's backyard -- and it was all "legal" by 1670. The Elders were obviously very concerned about this -- and needed to do something to create an effective resistance against this encroaching menace.

INVESTING IN THE "NEW WORLD" TO BALANCE THE POWER EQUATION

JL told me that the Asians were secretly financing the buildup and development of the United States -- well before the American Revolution of 1776.

The people behind the American Revolution obviously had their own agenda, as we now know -- but in order to create a massive development project on such a vast scale, they needed an investor... with deep pockets.

The Founding Fathers signed separate, secret contracts for each shipment of gold they received. The Elders fully expected to be paid back for the gold they were shipping out... in time.

They knew it would take many years to build the United States up to the point where it would be fully self-sustaining and profitable on its own -- but it was necessary to balance the power equation in the world.

Shiploads of gold, averaging 2000 metric tons per trip, were routinely being sent to the United States. This gold was secretly used as collateral by the United States Treasury to issue currency -- financing an unprecedented industrial expansion.

The United States made sure not to give away any of the gold. It was secretly stashed in Mexico and elsewhere as time went on -- including places in Asia that were mutually agreed upon for safe keeping.

This secret buildup reached its peak in the 1800s. For almost an entire century, I was told that the United States received as much as two thousand metric tons of gold per month. Every shipload generated a completely separate contract and debt to be repaid.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILROAD -- A KEY ASIAN INVESTMENT

If you're not paying attention in American history class, you could easily miss that one day where your teacher talks about how Chinese "slaves" were largely responsible for building the first transcontinental railroad between 1863 and 1869.

The slang name for these laborers was the "Coolies". Apparently they were the best at shimmying down ropes, planting dynamite in holes cut in the rock, lighting the dynamite and climbing back up the ropes fast enough to avoid getting blown up.

The reality is very different. The "Coolies" were not slaves at all. They were highly-skilled professional builders sent over from Asia. The Chinese didn't trust Americans to do the job. They sent over their own people to make sure everything went smoothly.

THE "CELESTIALS"

Your history teacher probably never told you what everyone actually called these Chinese laborers back then. They were not called "Coolies" at all:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First_Transcontinental_Railroad_%28North_America%29

The Central Pacific's grade was constructed primarily by many thousands of emigrant workers from Chinawho were commonly referred to at the time as "Celestials" and China as the "Celestial Kingdom."

Even though at first they were thought to be too weak or fragile to do this type of work, after the first few days on which Chinese were on the line, the decision was made to hire as many as could be found in California (where most were independent gold miners or in service industries such as laundries and kitchens). Many more were imported from China.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Celestial_%28Chinese%29

Celestial^[1] was a term used to describe Chinese emigrants to the United States, Canada and Australia during the 19th century. The term was widely used in the popular mass media of the day.^{[2][3]} The term is from Celestial Empire (Tianchao Daguo [天朝大國]), a traditional name for China.^[4]

Celestials. The Celestial Kingdom. The Celestial Empire. Very interesting.

OK, WAIT A MINUTE... WHAT DOES "CELESTIAL" ACTUALLY MEAN?

Just so we are absolutely clear about what this word means, let's look up the word "Celestial" on dictionary.com:

<http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/celestial>

ce-les-tial [suh-les-chuh I]  Show IPA

1. pertaining to the sky or visible heaven.
2. pertaining to the spiritual or invisible heaven; heavenly; divine: celestial bliss.
3. of or pertaining to celestial navigation: a celestial fix.
4. (initial capital letter) of or pertaining to the former Chinese Empire or the Chinese people.

It's not that hard to figure out that the name "Celestials" and "Celestial Kingdom" was chosen for a simple purpose.

They were proud of the fact that they came from the sky -- from "outer space." The heavens. Another planet supporting human life. We may have lost all written and spoken records of our "extended family", but that doesn't mean we are alone.

Imagine this scene back in the 1800s. Why else would they pick a name like this?

AMERICAN: "Why do you call yourselves the Celestials?"

CELESTIAL: (Smiles)

AMERICAN: "What?"

CELESTIAL: (Points up to the sky and smiles again.)

AMERICAN: (Laughs in disbelief.) "OK. Riiight."

Another part of this legacy that has carried through into modern times, with very few people being aware of it, is one of the largest tea companies in the world being named after the Celestials -- invoking all the mysteries and wonder of the spice trade:

BUILDING UP AMERICA AS AN INVESTMENT -- WHICH THEY EXPECTED TO GENERATE A RETURN

The Celestials were secretly building up America to be a huge industrial power. They had no intention of throwing away their money. The idea was to develop America until it was profitable enough to repay all the original investments.

The transcontinental railroad exploded into view, opening development of these vast territories at unprecedented speed.

Without these massive shipments of gold coming in every month, America could never have experienced such a stunning economic boom. Their currency would have been built on hot air, hyper-inflated, and popped -- causing the Dream to come crashing to earth.

The Asians had written contracts for every shipment of gold that came in. There are a huge number of outstanding contracts for the construction of the railroad system. They all still need to be paid back.

This is the core of the 286 trillion-dollar judgment that was found against the Federal Reserve last December, according to JL.

Once America built itself up as an industrial power, it could sell products and export them to the rest of the world. Then, the money they made and goods they produced could be sent back to Asia to repay the loans.

THE UNITED STATES HINTS OF BETRAYAL

The Celestials probably realized they were being betrayed shortly after the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad. As soon as the US had this critical piece of infrastructure up and running, they tried to kick all the Celestials out.

They did this by adopting the pejorative term "Coolies", reframing them as "slaves", and passing laws making it illegal for them to live in the United States:

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coolies>

Although Chinese labor contributed to the building of the first Transcontinental Railroad in the United States and of the Canadian Pacific Railway in western Canada, Chinese settlement was discouraged after completion of the construction.

California's Anti-Coolie Act of 1862 and the federal Chinese Exclusion Act of 1882 contributed to the curtailment of Chinese immigration to the United States.

Notwithstanding such attempts to restrict the influx of cheap labor from China, beginning in the 1870s Chinese workers helped construct a vast network of levees in the Sacramento-San Joaquin River Delta. These levees made thousands of acres of fertile marshlands available for agricultural production.

According to the Constitution of the State of California (1879):

The presence of foreigners ineligible to become citizens of the United States is declared to be dangerous to the well-being of the State, and the Legislature shall discourage their immigration by all the means within its power.

Asiatic coolieism is a form of human slavery, and is forever prohibited in this State, and all contracts for coolie labor shall be void.

All companies or corporations, whether formed in this country or any foreign country, for the importation of such labor, shall be subject to such penalties as the Legislature may prescribe.^[9]

THE CELESTIALS STOPPED ALL GOLD SHIPMENTS BY THE TIME THE FEDERAL RESERVE WAS FORMED

According to JL, the Celestials fully realized they were being screwed by 1911, as the United States was making bold moves to create the Federal Reserve.

All gold shipments were halted at this time. Credit was still extended, on a tentative basis, but no longer in the form of any hard assets such as gold.

The Celestials were obviously not aware of the fact that the Federal Reserve System was the visible manifestation of a plan that had been in place since at least the 1700s -- as I will conclusively demonstrate in Part Three.

The ultimate goal of the Federal Reserve bankers, and the secret society they were a part of, was just as I said before: to eliminate the gold standard and create limitless amounts of "bubble money".

Now it might be clearer to you that going after the gold meant going after the Celestials.

ONE MORE IMPORTANT SIDE NOTE

In Part One, we described how the Kuomintang dynasty in China moved gold to Taiwan to protect it from being stolen by the Japanese in the "Golden Lily" plundering program.

JL is not aware of any shipments of gold that were sent to the US for safe keeping in 1938.

These shipments may have been from a separate faction of the Dragon Family, or it may just be that JL is unaware of this aspect of the Elders' plans.

JL did tell me that the Elders have the full backing and support of the Chinese military -- and this massive, outstanding US gold debt is causing "absolute terror" in the halls of government.

They know this has to go public -- and soon -- and once it does, people will be so pissed off that they genuinely fear for their lives.

Let's stop here -- just so you have something to read while I keep working.

In Part Three, which I will release as soon as possible, I will return to our central theme, which is far more documentable -- how the "Illuminati" tried to double-cross the Celestials, created a worldwide magic printing press, and almost succeeded.

TO BE CONTINUED -- IN PART THREE!

[DISCLAIMER: Bear in mind that Keenan and Scott, those named in the trillion-dollar lawsuit, are unaware of the information provided by JL. I do not wish to damage their credibility in any way. They have no knowledge of extraterrestrials that I am aware of.

I am not trying to say one group is right and one group is wrong. I'm just presenting you with the information I am receiving, and packaging it the best way I possibly can, so you can make up your own mind.

I am also aware that very little of the insider testimony I've shared here can be proven with documentable data at this point. I've done my best to connect the dots to outside sources wherever possible.

Nonetheless, the credibility of Jade Lion has been firmly established to me -- and this is tying together many different puzzle pieces I've been aware of for years now. I find this quite fascinating -- and I am sharing the discovery process with you as I go.]

UPDATE SUNDAY, JANUARY 1, 2012 -- ALMOST THERE

We are putting the finishing touches on Part III. This is a VERY significant and comprehensive article for reasons I am not at liberty to disclose, but should be apparent within a reasonable amount of time.

So yes... I am fine and have been working straight through the holidays, though at a more relaxed speed than during other times of the year.

The moderators informed me we are getting inundated with comments from people linking to a story on Conscious Media Network about someone claiming to represent an alliance of 130 countries that will be launching a new financial system.

THIS IS A HOAX. I am now in direct contact with the top people organizing the 122-nation alliance we have been speaking of, as a consequence of getting deeply involved in investigating and writing about the lawsuit -- and they told me this story is not true.

It is possible that we are just dealing with someone looking for publicity. It is also possible that this is intended to distract people from the real issue and do it in a way that can be discredited, so people do not believe the real story.

Anyway, my goal is to have the new article up ASAP. Stay tuned!

FURTHER UPDATE, SAME NIGHT

The above comments have attracted attention, as we are still being inundated with people linking to this interview as if it were true.

Since I am in direct contact with the organizers of the Monaco Accords -- the 122-nation alliance -- let me say this:

The "old guard" were not even INVITED to these meetings -- and if any of them showed up, they were turned away. Fulford documented all of this at the time.

The number of nations that was chosen -- namely 130 -- is too close to the Monaco Accords figure to be accidental.

That being said, Kerry Cassidy vouched for the legitimacy of the man giving the information. That would imply that whomever told him this is lying to him.

It is also interesting, and may be significant, that less than 24 hours before this story broke on the Internet, one of the chief organizers of the "real" Monaco Accords was hit by a car and narrowly escaped with his life.

He is very lucky to have had fairly minor injuries, and will be fine. Nonetheless he is in a lot of pain and is mostly staying in bed.

To me, all of this is only further proof that the negative elite are on their last legs and are making desperate moves to stave off their inevitable defeat.

UPDATE TUESDAY 1 / 10 / 12 -- ALMOST THERE

FINANCIAL TYRANNY is now up to 125 manuscript pages. This is my equivalent for "conspiracy theory" as Source Field Investigations was for consciousness science.

I think you all will be very pleased with it. I hate to work under this much time pressure. I have passed out three times in the last week from exhaustion, including one night where I woke up at 3:45 AM with the lights on and my clothes on, lying on my bed.

No measure of negative comments will be sufficient to force me to release this before it is right. It would be better if folks did not hold me to deadline expectations as this is far from an ordinary article. This is a quarter the size of SFI and equally as complex.

I have multiple groups working to save our planet who have very high hopes for the impact this will have. Some content was added by specific request. Please help spread the word far and wide as soon as it is released.

FINANCIAL TYRANNY: Defeating the Greatest Cover-Up of All Time

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1023-financial-tyranny>

Section one – Defeating the Greatest Cover-Up of All Time

FINAL VERSION 2/9! A 122-nation alliance is backing a lawsuit that could free the Earth from financial tyranny. This investigation reveals who the perpetrators are and what we can do to solve the problem.

Note: The most recent updates to these first six sections were posted on Sunday, January 29th. [The remaining four sections had to be published separately, due to size constraints on our database.

Please Note: You may quote excerpts from this investigation and republish them in your blog, but please do not re-post the entire investigation, as additional updates and 'tweaks' may be necessary. Instead, please link your readers back to the original. Thanks!]

JUST IN THE NICK OF TIME

2012 has begun as a year of rampant paranoia and hopelessness on the Internet and throughout mainstream media.

The economy appears to be in a dire predicament -- ready to go over a cliff into an abyss few can even allow themselves to consider.

The Euro has been teetering on the brink of total collapse. A frantic bailout of the entire European Union, proposed by the Federal Reserve, has done very little to relieve the fears of the public.

On December 19th, 2011, Britain announced they will refuse to participate in this bailout -- showing how tense and uncertain the situation really is.

Simultaneously, very aggressive and blatant moves are being made to start World War III in the Middle East -- with imminent, ever-increasing threats from Israel and the United States to attack Iran.

Since 9/11, Americans and much of the Western world have been led to believe that the biggest enemy they face is terrorism from Islamic extremists. Nonetheless, there is now overwhelming, undeniable evidence that the true enemy... is within.

You are about to read a comprehensive investigation summarizing all the best information I have gathered about the true nature of this crisis since I became directly aware of it, twenty years ago -- in 1992.

Very few people are aware that a massive 122-nation coalition has formed to solve the problem -- just in the nick of time -- and they are backing a legal, public solution to end Financial Tyranny.

A TRILLION DOLLAR LAWSUIT

A trillion-dollar lawsuit was filed as of November 23, 2011 -- and the resulting investigation will provide a rock-solid legal framework to reveal the full nature of the problems we face... and arrest those responsible:

http://divinecosmos.com/media/Keenan_complaint_11-23-2011_SDNY.pdf

Bear in mind that the evidence backing this lawsuit, if made public, will completely expose what has been going on at the highest levels -- by the people themselves, speaking in their own words.

This would be the most dramatic public expose' of the group responsible for this Financial Tyranny since the early 1800s -- as you will see.

Our initial announcement and confirmation of this lawsuit has already received over 650,000 hits, 34,000 Facebook Likes and 1000 written comments as we publish this final, completed investigation.

LETHAL CONSEQUENCES

This initial announcement also earned me a very serious warning -- from two different insiders working at high levels of government -- that I needed to publish the entire investigation as quickly as possible, or my life could be in imminent danger.

The conspirators are desperate to stop the bleeding and save themselves from prosecution. Threats, bribery, blackmail, torture and murder are their standard tools of the trade.

As you will see, on December 31st, David Hutzler publicly conveyed vital information to me for this case, acting directly on behalf of Benjamin Fulford -- the former Asia-Pacific bureau chief for Forbes Magazine, and a leading representative of this international alliance.

Ben had David direct me to the "Unwanted Publicity Intelligence" website, which contains extremely sensitive documents. I was astonished when I reviewed this website, considering that I was told it is lethally dangerous to publish pictures of the Federal Reserve bonds we will be discussing.

A week later, on January 6th, David and his eight-year-old son Mackie burned to death in their home. Hardly anything recognizable was left. Accelerants were found outside and arson has not been ruled out.

UPDATE 2/7: THEY WERE SHOT TO DEATH, THEN BURNED

Just as we were preparing to publish the final version of this investigation, we discovered startling new news.

Autopsies revealed that David Hutzler and his son both died of gunshot wounds -- not fire.

<http://www.journal-news.net/page/content.detail/id/574757/Police--Fire-victims-had-been-shot.html?nav=5006>

MARTINSBURG - The bodies of a father and son discovered after a fire in Glengary last month were found to have gunshot wounds, and an investigation has determined that the blaze was intentionally set, officials confirmed for the first time Monday.

The bodies of 56-year-old David Cole Hutzler and his son, 9-year-old James Hutzler, were discovered Jan. 6 after a fire at 436 Apple Harvest Drive in Berkeley County near the Virginia state line. Both victims were found in the mobile home's rear bedroom.

"I can confirm for you that the fire was intentionally set," Assistant West Virginia State Fire Marshal Patrick Barker, who investigated the fire, said Monday.

Meanwhile, West Virginia State Trooper J.D. Brand, who is one of the officers leading the investigation into the deaths, confirmed reports that both victims had gunshot wounds. He told a reporter Monday that the incident is now being considered a homicide investigation.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSERTION THAT THIS WAS DONE DELIBERATELY

We all knew and loved "Hutz" on Benjamin Fulford's forum. He participated frequently and really wanted to make a difference in this world. His comments were funny and insightful. He loved my work and believed in what I'm doing.

He was one of those people who had "the burden of wisdom" -- the knowledge of the degree of harm that is being done in this world by Financial Tyranny.

Friends of his have spoken to me personally and said how dearly he loved his son. He would have done anything for Mackie.

Hutz knew from Fulford that we were very close to some major changes in the world -- which were extremely positive. That's why he forwarded me the links to this damning evidence on Ben's behalf.

All that being said, the police are literally expecting us to believe that he shot Mackie, lit his own home on fire with gasoline well enough to burn it beyond all recognition, and then went back and shot himself -- in the same room where Mackie was.

http://your4state.com/fulltext?nxd_id=235772

"We believe he took the life of his son and then set the fires and than took his own life," says Trooper Brand.

From the investigation and talking to people close to the victims the lead investigator, Trooper Brand says the father had a history of making remarks that seemed questionable and unstable.

"Spoke to a number of people that new the victims quite well. Received several accounts of the victim making suicidal comments and also several indicators that over the past couple years he had become mentally unstable," says Trooper Brand.

Trooper Brand says unless any new information is found, their investigation is complete.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

If you start learning the truth about Financial Tyranny, you will naturally be branded as making "questionable remarks" that seem "mentally unstable" by people who are unaware of the things you are about to read.

Given the fact that this one legal case could single-handedly destroy a conspiracy for global financial tyranny that goes back at least 300 years, do you really think this cover story is true?

If you're suicidal enough to kill your own son and kill yourself, why would you be so concerned about trying to destroy all the evidence?

Out of fear, skeptics will insist there is no connection between this bizarre double murder and the damning information Hutz passed along to me. I disagree.

Even in light of this blatant threat, I will not be intimidated. This tragic event only inspired me to do an even better job with the investigation.

You deserve to know the truth.

Our future depends on it.

THIS IS NOT YOUR TYPICAL NEWS STORY

Up until now, the only mainstream media outlet that has dared to report on this intriguingly vast and mysterious case is the Courthouse News Service:

Bizarre Claim for $1 Trillion

By DAN MCCUE

MANHATTAN (CN) - An American expatriate in Bulgaria claims the United Nations, the World Economic Forum, the Office of International Treasury Control and the Italian government conspired with a host of others to steal more than $1.1 trillion in financial instruments intended to support humanitarian purposes.

The 111-page federal complaint involves a range of entities common to conspiracy theorists, including the Vatican Illuminati, the Masons, the "Trilateral Trillennium Tripartite Gold Commission," and the U.S. Federal Reserve.

The "back story" behind this lawsuit is extremely complex. Since November 23rd, 2011, I have worked an average of 14 or more hours a day to produce this report.

Furthermore, the core information pertaining to the case itself is cloaked in the deepest secrecy. Much of it must be obtained firsthand -- from people who have to risk their lives to tell the truth.

Wherever possible, I have drawn off of provable information. When this was unavailable, I relied as much as possible on "leaked" insider testimony that is already well-established on public record to reveal the story. The works of David Guyatt -- at <http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk> -- have been uniquely beneficial in this regard.

In addition to the above investigative methods, you will also read the world's first exclusive, detailed interview with the two main plaintiffs responsible for filing this lawsuit -- explaining what they are doing and why it is so urgently needed.

First, however, we need to break down the lies and reveal the full scope of the problem -- relying upon provable facts, documented in the public domain, as much as possible.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Since 1913, the currency of the United States has been owned and managed by a private corporation of international bankers known as the "Federal Reserve System."

This group prints "Federal Reserve Notes" and loans them out to the United States Treasury. American taxpayers then pay interest to the Federal Reserve banking families for the rights to use their money.

The Federal Reserve banking families can therefore print as much money as they want -- and give it to whomever they want, secretly, with no oversight or input from the United States government.

In this clip, former Federal Reserve chairman Alan Greenspan admits that the Federal Reserve is an independent agency whose decisions cannot be overruled by any element of the legitimate United States government.

"REPORTER: What is the proper relationship... what should be the proper relationship between a chairman of the Fed and a president of the United States?"

GREENSPAN: Well, first of all, the Federal Reserve is an independent agency. And that means basically that, uh, there is no other agency of government which can overrule actions that we take.

So long as that is in place, and there is no evidence that the administration, the Congress or anybody else is requesting that we do things other than what we think is the appropriate thing, then what the relationships are don't frankly matter.

I've had very good relationships with presidents."

26 TRILLION DOLLARS OF FRAUD

Thanks to heroic efforts of Congressman Ron Paul, former Congressman Alan Grayson and Congressman Bernie Sanders to audit the Federal Reserve, we now know that the Federal Reserve secretly lent out 26 trillion dollars' worth of American money from 2007 to 2010 -- much of it to foreign banks.

Twenty. Six. TRILLION. Dollars.

This is a very difficult number to comprehend -- but we do now have a way to wrap our minds around it.

At his website usdebt.kleptocracy.us, Los Angeles-based 3D designer Oto Godfrey has created an incredibly powerful series of images to help us actually visualize this much money -- in stacks of 100-dollar bills.

Before you see it, try to stop for a minute and think what it will look like. How many stacks do you think there are? How big do you think they will be? I was quite surprised when I saw it for myself.

The website goes into more detail about each category -- so I recommend going there and checking it out, and supporting Oto Godfrey's amazing work.

WHAT DOES 26 TRILLION DOLLARS ACTUALLY LOOK LIKE?

100 Dollars

Ten Thousand Dollars

One Million Dollars

One Hundred Million Dollars

One Billion Dollars

One Trillion Dollars

One Trillion Dollars

Fifteen Trillion Dollars

CONGRESSMAN GRAYSON SPELLS IT OUT

Fifteen trillion dollars -- or one year's worth of the US National Debt -- is a stack of money that is longer and wider than a football field... and over 2/3rds the height of the Statue of Liberty.

If you add another 11 Trillion to get our total of 26 Trillion, that same stack will now be taller than the Statue of Liberty.

This monstrous mass of paper would look as if a gigantic Borg Cube had completely invaded an entire football stadium -- past the ceiling.

Here is a small part of the letter where Congressman Alan Grayson reveals how he found this number, in the newly-audited Federal Reserve balance sheets, to John Hively -- "The World's Most Accurate Economic Forecaster Since 1989".

<http://johnhively.wordpress.com/2011/12/05/breakdown-of-the-26-trillion-the-federal-reserve-handed-out-to-save-rich-incompetent-investors-but-who-purchase-political-power/>

CONGRESSMAN GRAYSON: I wouldn't want anyone to think that I'm dramatizing or amplifying what this GAO report says, so I'm just going to list some of my favorite parts, by page number.

Page 131 – The total lending for the Fed's "broad-based emergency programs" was $16,115,000,000,000. That's right, more than $16 trillion. The four largest recipients, Citigroup, Morgan Stanley, Merrill Lynch and Bank of America, received more than a trillion dollars each.

The 5th largest recipient was Barclays PLC. The 8th was the Royal Bank of Scotland Group, PLC. The 9th was Deutsche Bank AG. The 10th was UBS AG. These four institutions each got between a quarter of a trillion and a trillion dollars. None of them is an American bank.

Page 205 – Separate and apart from these "broad-based emergency program" loans were another $10,057,000,000,000 in "currency swaps." In the "currency swaps," the Fed handed dollars to foreign central banks, no strings attached, to fund bailouts in other countries....

These currency swaps and the "broad-based emergency program" loans, together, totaled more than $26 trillion. That's almost $100,000 for every man, woman, and child in America.

That's an amount equal to more than seven years of federal spending — on the military, Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, interest on the debt, and everything else. And around twice America's total GNP....

If the Fed had extended $26 trillion in credit to the American people instead of Wall Street, would there be 24 million Americans today who can't find a full-time job?

TWENTY SIX TRILLION DOLLARS? HOW CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?

Does this upset you? Or have you become so numb that you just want to click away and look at hot models – or read about celebrities? "I don't want to hear this $#!+. My life is bad enough as it is."

26 Trillion is a gigantic number. Seemingly unimaginable.

This is a documented, proven fact. Isn't it strange that you've hardly heard anything about this in the mainstream media?

That should be your first clue. Knowledge is power. Instead of feeling sick, angry, paranoid, sad or depressed, be aware that once you know the truth, nothing can stop us.

There will be losses. David and Mackie Hutzler may be two of the most recent ones. However, once a "critical mass" of people possess sensitive information, there is simply no possible way to stop it from spreading.

Most people can't even comprehend such a vast amount of money as 26 Trillion dollars in practical terms – but we'll get to that.

The results of the audit were first published on the morning of July 21, 2011.

At first, the most obvious number that jumped out from the report was "only" 16 trillion. You have to add in the ten trillion in "currency swaps" to reach the full 26-trillion-dollar mark.

JUST HOW BIG IS IT?

Let's stick with the initial figure of 16 trillion for now, as there are very few articles on this subject – and most of them quote that number.

This next article from Unelected.org clearly reveals the scope of the outrage:

<http://www.unelected.org/audit-of-the-federal-reserve-reveals-16-trillion-in-secret-bailouts>

The results of the first audit in the Federal Reserve's nearly 100-year history were posted on Senator Sanders' webpage earlier this morning: <http://sanders.senate.gov/newsroom/news/?id=9e2a4ea8-6e73-4be2-a753-62060dcbb3c3>

What was revealed in the audit was startling: $16,000,000,000,000.00 had been secretly given out to US banks and corporations, and foreign banks everywhere from France to Scotland.

From the period between December 2007 and June 2010, the Federal Reserve secretly bailed out many of the world's banks, corporations, and governments.

The Federal Reserve likes to refer to these secret bailouts as an all-inclusive loan program, but virtually none of the money has been returned -- and it was loaned out at 0% interest.

Why the Federal Reserve had never been public about this or even informed the United States Congress about the $16 trillion dollar bailout is obvious.

The American public would have been outraged to find out that the Federal Reserve bailed out foreign banks while Americans were struggling to find jobs.

PUTTING IT IN PERSPECTIVE

So how much could this figure of 16 trillion dollars have done if it were redirected into the United States economy, on behalf of the people -- rather than rewarding the banks and financial institutions who started all this mess in the first place?

Let's continue with the article from Unelected.org and find out:

<http://www.unelected.org/audit-of-the-federal-reserve-reveals-16-trillion-in-secret-bailouts>

To place $16 trillion into perspective, remember that the GDP of the United States is only $14.12 trillion.

The entire national debt of the United States government spanning its 200+ year history is “only” $14.5 trillion.

The budget that is being debated so heavily in Congress and the Senate is “only” $3.5 trillion.

Take all of the outrage and debate over the $1.5 trillion deficit into consideration, and swallow this Red pill: There was no debate about whether $16,000,000,000,000 would be given to failing banks and failing corporations around the world.

In late 2008, the TARP Bailout bill was passed -- and loans of $800 billion were given to failing banks and companies. That was a blatant lie -- considering the fact that Goldman Sachs alone received 814 billion dollars.

As it turns out, the Federal Reserve donated $2.5 trillion to Citigroup, while Morgan Stanley received $2.04 trillion. The Royal Bank of Scotland and Deutsche Bank, a German bank, split about a trillion and numerous other banks received hefty chunks of the $16 trillion.

IT'S VERY DIFFICULT TO COMPREHEND THE DEPTH OF THE FRAUD

The initial figure of 16 trillion that jumped out of the Federal Reserve audit is more money than all the goods and services produced by every single person in the United States -- for any given year.

It is greater than the entire amount of debt ever racked up by the United States in its 235-year history as well.

The 2010 Census estimated there are 114,825,428 households in the US. Sixteen trillion dollars in secret bailouts adds up to 139 thousand and 342 dollars per household.

The full figure of 26 trillion adds up to nearly a quarter million dollars per household – $226,430.68 to be exact.

When you put it in those terms, the full weight of the theft becomes nothing short of staggering.

Imagine if your family had a quarter million dollars saved -- and then someone robbed you. What if the thief then told everyone what he did – but no one cared enough to do anything?

That's what just happened to every single family in the United States of America.

Every single adult in the United States who was unemployed or on public assistance could have been given a job – so they can lead a happy, fulfilling and prosperous life – with plenty of money to spare.

A vast public works program could easily have been created to stimulate the economy – so that the money would become an investment, not a one-time gift.

WHAT COULD WE HAVE DONE?

We could have built high-speed bullet trains to make it easier and faster than flying to travel through congested urban areas -- such as the East Coast megalopolis -- and other corridors between nearby cities.

We could have restored our archaic, battered fleet of passenger airliners, (which still have ashtrays in the bathrooms,) with all new jets – and bigger, more comfortable seats. (Many flights are delayed or canceled for maintenance. This is a consistent problem when I fly.)

We could have restored our crumbling roads and bridges – increasing comfort, safety and gas mileage.

We could have transformed the inner cities with massive construction and refurbishing projects, and dramatically improved public transportation – making it easier for people to work.

We could have massively upgraded the nation's fiber-optic capabilities – bringing our Internet access up to speed with most of the rest of the developed world.

We could have completely modernized public schools with enough computers for every kid.

We could have trained or hired teachers to educate our children in the skills and software needed to be competitive in today's evolving workforce – including touch typing, word processing, spreadsheet, Photoshop, web design, video editing, motion graphics, computer animation and music sequencing.

We could have noticed the enormous popularity of Guitar Hero and RockBand and built sound-proofed music studios in schools, where kids earn lessons and studio time on real musical instruments as an incentive for good grades. If they sign a record deal, a figure such as 25 percent of their advance would be paid back to help finance the school.

We could have boldly invested in clean energy technologies to heal the environment – as China is now doing, to the tune of half a trillion dollars.

And, as Foster Gamble revealed in his groundbreaking independent film Thrive, we could have ended poverty and environmental destruction for as little as 200 billion dollars a year.

Instead of doing any of this, the "one percent" continued to live the lifestyles of the rich and famous -- while the poor sank ever deeper into the Next Great Depression, as economist Paul Krugman recently called it.

CONGRESSMAN BERNIE SANDERS STRIPS AWAY THE LIES

In early November, Congressman Bernie Sanders revealed that in addition to handing out 16 trillion dollars, (not counting the ten trillion in "currency swaps" Congressman Grayson pointed out), the Federal Reserve also owns the financial agencies they are supposed to be regulating:

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/rep-bernie-sanders/the-veil-of-secrecy-at-th_b_1072099.html

The GAO [audit] also revealed that many of the people who serve as directors of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks come from the exact same financial institutions that the Fed is in charge of regulating.

Further, the GAO found that at least 18 current and former Fed board members were affiliated with banks and companies that received emergency loans from the Federal Reserve during the financial crisis.

In other words, the people "regulating" the banks were the exact same people who were being "regulated."Talk about the fox guarding the henhouse!...

For example, the CEO of JP Morgan Chase served on the New York Fed's board of directors at the same time that his bank received more than $390 billion in financial assistance from the Fed....

Getting this type of disclosure was not easy. Wall Street and the Federal Reserve fought it every step of the way.

But, as difficult as it was to lift the veil of secrecy at the Fed, it will be even harder to reform the Fed so that it serves the needs of all Americans, and not just Wall Street. But, that is exactly what we have to do.

MAINSTREAM MEDIA ATTEMPTS TO LIE ABOUT THE REAL SIZE OF THE BAILOUTS

So far, we've seen that the Federal Reserve secretly created 26 trillion dollars, without US government approval. This adds up to nearly a quarter million dollars per household in America.

This money was then handed out to financial institutions like Goldman Sachs, Citigroup, Bank of America, JP Morgan Chase, Morgan Stanley, the Royal Bank of Scotland and Deutsche Bank.

While I was conducting this investigation in mid-December, it felt very surreal to see mainstream media journalists say the entire bailout added up to nothing more than 1.2 trillion dollars. Then they tried to say "this is what a central bank is supposed to do."

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/12/23/federal-reserve-emergency-loans_n_1168341.html

Add up the emergency loans the Federal Reserve distributed to banks between 2007 and 2009 -- when the American economy lurched closer to collapse than anyone had previously thought possible -- and it's an impressive picture.

On Friday, Bloomberg News made available the fullest version yet of its data on Fed emergency lending, a subject the news organization has written about numerous times in the past year. The Bloomberg release includes records of about 50,000 transactions the Fed made through seven different financial mechanisms.

At their peak, these seven programs represented \$1.2 trillion in loans to banks and financial institutions -- the high-water mark of a massive, systemic bailout whose details the country's central banking authority has not always seemed eager to divulge....

Even as critics have accused the Fed of being less than forthcoming, few people claim that the central bank did the wrong thing by stepping in to backstop a financial system that seemed to be on the verge of imploding.

"In the middle of the financial crisis, this is what you need. This is what a central bank is supposed to do," said James Wilcox, a professor at the Haas School of Business at the University of California, Berkeley.

Wilcox compared the financial crisis to a forest fire -- except, he said, "forest fires are more predictable in the path they're going to take."

The Huffington Post featured the genuine figures earlier, as we just saw -- which made this all the stranger.

The utterly fake figures of 1.2 trillion and 7.7 trillion were both refuted on December 13th, 2011 by economist L. Randall Wray, who said the actual number is a full-on 29 Trillion dollars.

<http://www.newsmax.com/StreetTalk/Economist-Fed-Exposure-Trillion/2011/12/13/id/420763>

The true total of Federal Reserve emergency lending to Wall Street is not $1.2 trillion, as Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke contends, nor the $7.7 trillion figure reported by Bloomberg News, which Bernanke publicly contests.

The real number, argues economist L. Randall Wray, is a staggering $29 trillion.

Wray writes that Bernanke's recent defense of the lower figure is "misleading" and that the chairman's claim that Fed bailouts do not constitute a form of spending is plain wrong.

WAS THE 26-TO-29 TRILLION DOLLARS ENOUGH TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM?

There is simply no justifiable explanation for why this much money was needed. It had nothing to do with securing the assets of ordinary Americans, as we will see.

However, let's ask this question first: Was this enough money to rescue these institutions and restore them to full health? Or, did it merely keep them on life support a little longer?

THEY ARE IN WAY OVER THEIR HEADS

The answer is shocking. The 26 trillion dollars was nothing more than a sudden gasp of air for companies that are still drowning in debt.

Thanks to deregulation, such as the repeal of the Glass-Steagall act, these institutions were allowed to hold one dollar in the bank, but then spend like they had 5, 10, 30 or even 100 dollars.

To put it in perspective, if you had ten thousand dollars in your checking account, you would suddenly become a millionaire if you could leverage it at the "100X" point in one single "trade".

These financial institutions have manipulated and abused this system to do casino gambling, on a global scale -- to the tune of hundreds of trillions of dollars.

It's a very complex discussion, but when you see the term "derivatives", this is what it means.

THE 600-TRILLION-DOLLAR TIME BOMB

Incredibly, just four financial institutions have gambled 600 trillion dollars' worth of money they don't even have -- so this bailout was still not even close to being enough to protect them.

Even if they had all the money in the world at their disposal, they'd still need ten times more to bail themselves out:

<http://moneymorning.com/2011/10/12/derivatives-the-600-trillion-time-bomb-thats-set-to-explode/>

In 2009, five banks held 80% of derivatives in America. Now, just four banks hold a staggering 95.9% of U.S. derivatives, according to a recent report from the Office of the Currency Comptroller.

The four banks in question: JPMorgan Chase & Co. (NYSE: JPM), Citigroup Inc. (NYSE: C), Bank of America Corp. (NYSE: BAC) and Goldman Sachs Group Inc. (NYSE: GS).

Derivatives played a crucial role in bringing down the global economy [in 2008], so you would think that the world's top policymakers would have reined these things in by now -- but they haven't.

Instead of attacking the problem, regulators have let it spiral out of control, and the result is a $600 trillion time bomb called the derivatives market....

The world's gross domestic product (GDP) is only about $65 trillion, or roughly 10.83% of the worldwide value of the global derivatives market, according to The Economist.

So there is literally not enough money on the planet to backstop the banks trading these things if they run into trouble.

WHAT DOES 600 TRILLION DOLLARS LOOK LIKE?

Oto Godfrey has not created a graphic description of 600 Trillion dollars -- yet. However, he did create an image of the total amount of unfunded liabilities in the United States -- the total amount that will be needed, in the coming years, to pay all the bills.

That comes out to 114.5 Trillion dollars. Remember -- the amount that has already been created by the derivatives swindle is at least five or six times this much.

IT'S EASY TO BACK UP THE SAVINGS OF AVERAGE AMERICANS

I personally do not think it is a bad thing to let these companies fail. I fight back with facts – and think for myself instead.

The real money of ordinary people holding accounts in those banks could have been protected for much less than the cost of even the first public TARP bailout.

Just to prove the point, let's go to billshrink.com and get some provable statistics:

<http://www.billshrink.com/blog/10053/how-much-do-american-save/>

The average American household income was 50,000 dollars in 2010. The overall tax rate is 19 percent, leaving $40,500 in disposable income.

Overall, Americans spend an incredible 94 percent of their disposable income. The remaining 6 percent is saved in the bank.

This adds up to a mere $2,400 dollars per household. This is not a guess, but a provable statistic.

With 114,825,428 households in the US, it would only take one payment of 275 billion, 581 million dollars to guarantee the savings of all American citizens.

The Fed's secret bailout of 26 trillion dollars was nearly 100 times greater than that.

WHAT ABOUT THE STOCK MARKET?

Obviously the money being held in the stock market is a lot more than 275 billion dollars – but how much is there, exactly?

We know this figure. All you have to do is add up the value of all the companies on the New York Stock Exchange.

This is called “total market capitalization” or the “Total Market Index.” As of this writing, it is just over 13 trillion dollars:

<http://www.gurufocus.com/stock-market-valuations.php>

As of today (12/24/11), the Total Market Index is at $ 13,197.2 billion, which is about 88% of the last reported GDP.

This means that even if every single company in the world were to completely stop doing business -- abandoning their offices, factories, equipment and services – we could still guarantee every stock on Earth for half the cost of the $26 trillion dollars in interest-free ‘bailout’ loans handed out by the Fed.

Obviously, the offices, factories, equipment, inventory and 95% of the employees could still be used after breaking up these monopolies and arresting the top conspirators. Without the toxic profit losses due to such incredible theft, these companies would probably thrive like never before.

The idea that any company's entire value to its shareholders would simply disappear in the face of a breakup is completely illogical. Stocks always go down and up, down and up. That's what they do. People will always need things. There will always be buying and selling.

HOW FAR DOWN DOES THE RABBIT HOLE GO?

Again, the Federal Reserve is a private corporation that prints money for the United States. The US then pays interest for the rights to use these “Federal Reserve Notes.”

The Federal Reserve secretly handed out 26 trillion dollars in bailout money between 2007 and 2010. The top four bailed-out banks are now doing 95.9 percent of all the gambling. Their total risk adds up to 600 trillion dollars – ten times more than all the money in the world.

At this point, it may seem that all we have to do is dismantle the Federal Reserve, let the US Treasury print its own money, back up everyone's bank accounts for 275 billion dollars, and then allow a handful of “too big to fail” financial institutions to collapse -- and be restructured in smaller pieces.

However, we now have scientific proof that this problem goes much deeper than just the Federal Reserve and a few of their closest banking buddies.

Instead, the Federal Reserve appears to be at the epicenter of a vast “interlocking directorate” of companies that may earn up to 80 percent of all the world's wealth.

This, of course, makes it a lot more complicated to clean things up – but I do still believe it can be done, or else I wouldn't have conducted this investigation.

USING SUPER-COMPUTERS TO PROVE THE FED RUNS THE WORLD

Ever since Benoit Mandelbrot discovered “fractals” in the 1970s, the fascinating new science of Chaos Theory has become a part of our collective knowledge base.

Mandelbrot discovered a remarkable “geometry of nature” – in which highly complex systems can be reduced down to a few very simple ingredients.

What if we use this same science to “hack” the world's economy with super-computers – and see how many corporations actually control it?

Three scientists from the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich, led by James Glattfelder, recently did this – and their results were published in New Scientist, a respected science magazine.

Glattfelder's team unleashed a vast armada of supercomputers on Orbis 2007 -- a very elaborate database of the top 37 million corporations and individual investors worldwide.

The results were absolutely stunning.

A CORE OF 1,318 COMPANIES EARN 80 PERCENT OF THE WORLD'S WEALTH

The Swiss scientists quickly found a total of 43,060 trans-national corporations in the Orbis 2007 database.

From this group, Glattfelder's team revealed that a 'core' of 1,318 companies directly controlled 20 percent of the world's wealth.

However, these corporations also appeared to own and control the stock in a majority of the world's largest companies -- whose profits added up to an additional 60 percent of global revenues:

<http://www.newscientist.com/article/mg21228354.500-revealed--the-capitalist-network-that-runs-the-world.html>

Although they represented 20 per cent of global operating revenues, the 1318 [corporations] appeared to collectively own, through their shares, the majority of the world's large blue chip and manufacturing firms -- the "real" economy -- representing a further 60 per cent of global revenues....

[This] core of 1318 companies [had] interlocking ownerships. Each of the 1318 had ties to two or more other companies, and on average they were connected to 20 [other corporations].

A “SUPER-ENTITY” OF 147 CORPORATIONS CONTROL 40 PERCENT OF THE WEALTH

If that isn't surprising enough for you, then how about this?

Glattfelder's team then crunched the numbers even harder – and found a very deeply hidden “super-entity” of only 147 corporations – and “much of it” was connected to the 1,318-company ‘core’.

These 147 companies were all interconnected with each other in an “even more tightly knit” pattern than the 1,318 corporations in the ‘core’. To put it simply, they all owned each other's companies.

[Specifically, each company within the “super-entity” owned shares in all 146 others.]

Together, this super-elite, good-old-boys-club of 147 companies directly earns a whopping 40 percent of all the wealth in the world:

When the team further untangled the web of ownership, it found much of it tracked back to a "super-entity" of 147 even more tightly knit companies -- all of their ownership was held by other members of the super-entity -- that controlled 40 per cent of the total wealth in the network.

Without the advanced technology of supercomputers and chaos theory, no one would have been able to discover this. History has caught up to the Powers that Were.

THE SAME PEOPLE RUN THE FEDERAL RESERVE

Next question: What kind of companies do you think these top 147 corporations are? Remember – they control a staggering 40 percent of the world's wealth.

As it says on page 6 of the paper, 75 percent of the corporations within the “super-entity” were financial institutions.

The top 20 financial institutions within the “super-entity” should sound pretty familiar to you by now.

They include Barclays Bank, JP Morgan Chase & Co., Merrill Lynch, UBS, Bank of New York, Deutsche Bank and Goldman Sachs.

THE SCIENTISTS DIDN'T WANT TO STICK THEIR NECKS OUT

To be fair, these scientists did say this could all be due to the magic of Chaos theory.

They said this could all be a “logical phase” of the “self-organizing” nature of complex systems – such as the global economy:

<http://www.newscientist.com/article/mg21228354.500-revealed--the-capitalist-network-that-runs-the-world.html>

"Such structures are common in nature," says Sugihara.... Or as Braha puts it: "The Occupy Wall Street claim that 1 per cent of people have most of the wealth reflects a logical phase of the self-organising economy."

So, the super-entity may not result from conspiracy. The real question, says the Zurich team, is whether it can exert concerted political power.

Driffill feels 147 is too many to sustain collusion. Braha suspects they will compete in the market but act together on common interests....

"It's disconcerting to see how connected things really are," agrees George Sugihara of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in La Jolla, California, a complex systems expert who has advised Deutsche Bank.

THE END OF THE PAPER IS WORDED MORE BOLDLY

You never waste words when you write up a scientific paper after years' worth of hard work. Bearing that in mind, read the last paragraph of the actual paper itself:

http://arxiv.org/PS_cache/arxiv/pdf/1107/1107.5728v2.pdf

This is the first time a ranking of economic actors by global control is presented. Notice that many actors belong to the financial sector... and many of the names are well-known global players....

This means that they do not carry out their business in isolation but, on the contrary, they are tied together in an extremely entangled web of control.

This finding is extremely important since there was no prior economic theory or empirical evidence regarding whether and how top players are connected.

Finally, it should be noted that governments and natural persons are only featured further down in the list.

Then add this line in from the second-to-last paragraph of the first part of the paper, on page 8:

Our results show that, globally, top holders are at least in the position to exert considerable control, either formally (e.g., voting in shareholder and board meetings) or via informal negotiations.

"Informal negotiations" would be one way to describe the Federal Reserve System secretly handing 26 trillion dollars to the "top holders" within the "super-entity" of 147 corporations.

THIS MAY NOT BE A "NATURAL SELF-ORGANIZING EFFECT" AT ALL

Remember what we learned from Congressman Bernie Sanders after they audited the Federal Reserve?

The directors and board members of the 12 Federal Reserve banks are also running the top financial institutions. They just printed 26 trillion dollars of American money and gave it to themselves.

There's nothing "natural" about this at all.

Our next task is to "follow the money" – and see if we can find out what corporations and industries are owned, either publicly or in secret, by the Federal Reserve "super-entity". (Glattfelder's team has not yet published the full list.)

It's not that hard to do. If 80 percent of all the world's profits are going to the Federal Reserve "super-entity", then they would need to control many of the most profitable industries.

As Glattfelder's team already said, this entity controls "the majority of the world's large blue chip and manufacturing firms."

In case you are unfamiliar with the term "blue chip," it refers to any large company that consistently draws profits. The Dow Jones Industrial Average tracks the top 30 "blue chip" companies.

WHAT ARE THE MOST PROFITABLE INDUSTRIES TO BE IN?

I was able to find a Fortune 500 listing of the most profitable industries, by percentage, for 2008 – but nothing more recent. (If you can find it, let me know.)

This list only applies to American companies, but it is still very relevant. Here's how it looks:

<http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/fortune500/2009/performers/industries/profits/>

The Number One industry on the list is Network and Other Communications Equipment, earning a 20.4 percent profit margin. Number Two on the list is Internet Services and Retailing, at 19.4 percent.

Financial Data Services do not appear until sixth place – at 11.7 percent.

Pharmaceuticals squeak into third place at a 19.3 percent margin. However, this is misleading – because the overall healthcare / pharmaceutical industry is broken up into fully seven different categories:

Pharmaceuticals – 19.3%. Medical Products and Equipment – 16.3%. Insurance: Life, Health (stock) – 4.6%. Health Care: Pharmacy and Other Services – 3.0%. Health Care: Medical Facilities – 2.4%. Health Care: Insurance and Managed Care – 2.2%. Wholesalers: Health Care – 1.3%.

There are only 43 industries on the Fortune 500 list that actually generated profits – and seven of them are healthcare.

Healthcare therefore accounts for 16.28% of all the money-making industries on the Fortune 500 list. Nothing else captures that many different categories.

WHAT ABOUT THE OIL COMPANIES?

The second most-profitable American industry, based on the number of categories it has on the list and how high of a percentage they make, is the petroleum and energy business – which controls six out of 43 spots:

<http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/fortune500/2009/performers/industries/profits/>

Mining, Crude Oil production – 11.5 percent. Oil and Gas Equipment, Services – 10.2 percent. Utilities: Gas and Electric – 8.7 percent. Petroleum Refining – 2.1 percent. Pipelines – 1.5 percent. Energy – 0.9 percent.

The oil companies therefore enjoyed 13.95% of all the most profitable categories of American businesses in 2008.

Together, oil and pharmaceuticals occupy 13 out of 43 slots on the Fortune 500 list of the most profitable American industries – or a stunning 30.23 percent of all the money there is to be made.

THE OIL COMPANIES ARE THE MOST PROFITABLE INDIVIDUAL BUSINESSES

Remember – the above figures only tell us how strong of a profit each of these industries is making. If you invested in an industry that was making 20 percent profit per year, you'd be very happy.

This doesn't actually tell us how much money they are pulling in. If you had a company that cost ten dollars to run, and you made twelve dollars a year, you'd still be making a 20 percent profit.

In order to figure out how much actual money is being made, you have to look at individual businesses.

Here is a link to the Fortune 500 list of the 50 most profitable American businesses in 2010:

<http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/fortune500/2011/performers/companies/profits/>

The single most profitable American corporation in 2010 was Exxon Mobil -- earning 30 billion, 460 million dollars.

Chevron comes in behind AT&T to take third place at 19 billion, 24 million dollars.

ConocoPhillips was #16 at 11 billion, 358 million. Devon Energy and Occidental Petroleum both made 4.5 billion.

Add it all together and you get 69 billion, 842 million dollars in oil profits for 2010 alone – basically 70 billion – and that's only the oil companies in America's top 50.

INTERNATIONAL LISTINGS CHANGE THE PICTURE

The Fortune 500 list only applies to American industries.

You have to go international to include the non-American “supermajor” oil companies – namely BP, Royal Dutch Shell and Total S.A. – each of which are also very substantial – in addition to the American-based Chevron, ExxonMobil and ConocoPhillips.

The full international list with all these companies included is called the Forbes Global 2000. This gives us a better overall sense of what's going on in the world – but it still only tracks companies that have to publicly report their earnings.

Eight out of the top 20 largest international companies are banks: JP Morgan Chase, HSBC (UK), ICBC (China), Citigroup, BNP Paribas (France), Wells Fargo, Banco Santander (Spain) and China Construction Bank. That's a total of 40 percent.

Seven of the top 20 public international companies are oil and gas: Exxon Mobil, Royal Dutch Shell, Petro China, Petrobras, Gazprom, Chevron and Total. That's 35 percent.

So, fifteen out of the top 20 companies on the Forbes 2000 list – seventy-five percent – are either banking or oil. That leaves only five slots left in the top 20.

Let's also not forget that the Forbes 2000 list only applies to publicly-traded companies.

LET'S LOOK AT THE PHARMACEUTICALS

Let's go back to the Fortune 500 list of the top American corporations for a minute.

Fully nine out of the top 50 most profitable Fortune 500 companies in 2010 were pharmaceuticals – and they add up to a total of 64 billion, 924.6 million dollars in profits.

These are only the most obvious, verifiable pharmaceutical / healthcare companies on the list, and only those that appear in the top 50 of the Fortune 500 list:

<http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/fortune500/2011/performers/companies/profits/>

Johnson and Johnson weighs in at ninth place with 13 billion, 334 million. 10th place is Warren Buffet's Berkshire Hathaway, with 12 billion, 967 million. Then, Procter & Gamble comes in right behind them for 12th place at 12 billion, 736 million.

Pfizer shows up at number 21 with 8 billion, 257 million. Eli Lilly is in 29th place with 5 billion, 69.5 million.

UnitedHealth Group comes in at 32nd place with 4 billion, 634 million. Amgen is right behind them at the 33rd slot with 4 billion, 627 million.

United Technologies appears at 37th place with 4 billion, 373 million. Then lastly we see CVS Caremark at 47th place with 3 billion, 427 million.

Again – nine out of all 50 of the top Fortune 500 companies are pharmaceuticals. These companies alone pulled in almost 65 billion dollars in profits for 2010, close behind the 70 billion made in oil money.

Pharmaceuticals do not jump out this much on the Forbes Global 2000 list. The only pharmaceutical company in the top 20 is Berkshire Hathaway at #8, which is technically a conglomerate that has holdings in other industries as well.

DON'T FORGET THE UNITED STATES DEFENSE BUDGET

The total combined income for oil and pharmaceuticals in the top 50 slots of the Fortune 500 list is 70 billion plus 65 billion -- or 135 billion in total.

The United States Department of Defense handed out 721.3 billion dollars in Fiscal Year 2011 alone.

This does not include 20.9 billion for Atomic Energy Defense activities, nor 124.5 billion in veterans' benefits, nor 10.1 billion in foreign military aid, nor 44.1 billion in foreign economic aid, nor 7.5 billion in defense-related activities.

There are supposedly over 330,000 defense contractors receiving this income.

The top 100 defense contractors in 2010 only earned about $129.48 billion, based on a rough, approximate calculation -- out of a total Department of Defense expenditure of 692 billion for that year. That still leaves 562.5 billion dollars unaccounted for.

The top five defense contractors for 2010 were Lockheed Martin at 16.7 billion, Northrop Grumman at 11.1 billion, Boeing at 10.4 billion, Raytheon at 6.7 billion and SAIC at 4.7 billion.

In order for the 'core' of 1,318 companies to be earning 80 percent of the world's wealth, it would be absolutely essential for them to profit from this enormous defense budget. There's nothing else like it in the world.

Based on the new findings of the Swiss scientists, many of these defense contractors may be part of a single mega-conglomerate working behind the scenes.

A DIRECT CONNECTION TO THE FEDERAL RESERVE

To review, 80 percent of the world's profits are being earned by a 'core' group of 1,318 corporations.

As we look even deeper, we find this 'core' is mostly run by a "super-entity" of 147 companies that are totally interlocked. 75 percent of them are financial institutions.

The top 20 companies in the "super-entity" include Barclays Bank, JP Morgan Chase & Co., Merrill Lynch, UBS, Bank of New York, Deutsche Bank and Goldman Sachs.

Many key Federal Reserve personnel work for these companies – and they secretly handed themselves trillions of dollars in free money between 2007 and 2010.

The 147-part "super-entity" has controlling interest in the 1318-part "core", which in turn has controlling interest in 80 percent of the world's wealth.

It would be utterly essential for the Federal Reserve corporations, and their beneficiaries, to be heavily invested into oil and pharmaceuticals -- as well as the United States defense system -- in order to earn such a tremendous percentage.

Is there any proof that the Federal Reserve elites are, indeed, invested in these and other top businesses? Absolutely.

Let's now do some historical research on the top two Federal Reserve names we always read about – the Rockefellers and Rothschilds – and see what we find.

ROCKEFELLER'S STANDARD OIL COMPANY

John D. Rockefeller, one of the top architects who founded and bankrolled the Federal Reserve System, also owned and ran Standard Oil Company, beginning in 1870. He soon became America's first billionaire.

Rockefeller's spectacular oil profits ultimately allowed him to be in a position to essentially buy the United States government -- and its ability to print money – via the Federal Reserve.

Standard Oil had a virtual monopoly on producing, transporting, refining and marketing oil up until 1911, when it was broken up by an alarmed United States Supreme Court in antitrust legislation.

Standard Oil of New Jersey became Esso, later to be renamed Exxon – which became a key part of ExxonMobil, currently the most profitable company in the world -- earning 30 billion, 460 million dollars.

Standard Oil of California became Chevron – currently the third most profitable company in the world at 19 billion, 24 million dollars per year.

Continental Oil Company became Conoco, now a part of ConocoPhillips – currently the sixteenth most profitable company in the world at 11 billion, 358 million dollars.

BP Amoco is a conglomerate of several Standard Oil splinter companies. Yahoo Finance currently lists BP Amoco's gross profit at 16 billion, 28 million dollars.

Therefore, four out of the six “supermajors” in the oil industry are direct Rockefeller spinoffs – BP, Chevron, ExxonMobil and ConocoPhillips.

Our Swiss scientists proved that these companies never really broke apart. The 1,318 in the “core” and 147 “super-entity” corporations are extremely interlocked with one another.

THE ROTHSCHILD FAMILY

Many researchers and insiders have suggested that the single largest Federal Reserve shareholder is the Rothschild family.

I went straight to the source and read their officially-sanctioned The Rothschilds: A Family Portrait, by Frederic Morton, Atheneum Press, New York, 1962, to learn more about them.

I didn't realize that Frankfurt, Germany was very hostile to Jews in the late 1700s. The Rothschilds lived in the ghetto, were subject to extreme public humiliation, and were nearly broke as of 1764.

http://www.amazon.com/ROTHSCHILDS-FAMILY-PORTRAIT-frederic-Morton/dp/0020230028/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1326081738&sr=8-1

16: On his way Mayer could not escape the street urchins whose favorite amusement was to shout, "Jew, do your duty!"—whereupon the Jew had to step aside, take off his hat, and bow.

Having thus entertained the local children, Mayer reached the heavy chains with which soldiers manacled the Judengasse (Jew Street) every night.

The ghetto... [had] an ordinance that barred Frankfurt Jews from farming, from handicrafts, even from dealing in nobler goods such as weapons, silk or fresh fruit....

Another city edict limited the Jews to five hundred families and to no more than twelve marriages a year.

ANGER TURNS TO ACTION

With such extreme public humiliation and oppression, occurring on a daily basis for generations, the Rothschilds may well have lost faith in the goodness and kindness of humanity.

Mayer Amschel Bauer (later "Rothschild") was born in 1743. After his father's death, he apprenticed for three years at the Bank of Oppenheimer and became a junior partner.

By then, he had earned enough money to buy his father's counting house, which was adorned with a red shield, symbolizing the desire for Revolution – thus inspiring him to take the last name "Rothschild." (The family home he purchased later had a green shield.)

Mayer Amschel soon found ingenious ways to make highly intelligent business deals with top royals, providing banking services to handle all the unpleasant transactions they didn't want to be involved in.

He won over their good graces through a variety of clever techniques, such as selling them rare and precious coins at absurdly low prices.

I was surprised to see how bluntly the author of The Rothschilds spoke about the level of influence Mayer Amschel's family came to have on the world – but things were very different in 1962, when the book was written.

13: [In] Frankfurt [Germany]... in a cramped ghetto dwelling... with a yellow star pinned to his caftan, Mayer Amschel Rothschild kept a small store two centuries ago.

[He] married Gutele Schnapper, and raised with her those five incredible sons who conquered the world more thoroughly, more cunningly and much more lastingly than all the Caesars before or all the Hitlers after them.

NO ONE DENIES THE POWER OF THE ROTHSCHILDS

The Rothschild name is no longer commonly heard in mainstream media – but this wasn't the case when The Rothschilds was written in 1962. Their deep connections to royalty were openly admitted in the book.

5: No modern name breathes a more storied eminence. No nonroyal family has held so much power so consistently, so peculiarly....

It would be insufficient to sum up the family as "still very wealthy." The Rothschild fortunes in England and in France are as ineffable as ever....

6: For generations the people at Buckingham Palace have recognized the kinship: Queen Victoria often dined and slept in Rothschild houses; the Duke of Windsor fled to a Rothschild (an Austrian one) directly after his abdication.

11: The two big [Rothschild] banks in London and Paris (probably the world's largest private financial institutions)... have not so much as a name plate outside.

Though they control scores of industrial, commercial, mining and tourist corporations, not one bears the name Rothschild.

Being privately held partnerships, the family houses never need to, and never do, publish a single public balance sheet or any other report of their financial condition.

QUITE AN INORDINATELY SUCCESSFUL FAMILY

As we read further in The Rothschilds, we find out that Mayer Amschel's five male children distributed themselves throughout Europe – becoming essentially the world's first multi-national corporation.

Each of his sons rose to very prominent positions of power – in Germany, Austria, England, Italy and France, respectively.

29: Perhaps the early Romans were the most successful nation we have known; perhaps Napoleon the most formidable individual.

It is quite possible that the people still bustling obscurely at the Green Shield [at the end of the 1780s in Frankfurt's Jewish ghetto] were the family par excellence in modern history.

As long as Mayer lived alone with his wife, he was... a Caesar without centurions. But soon those boys marched out of Gutele's womb like so many dauntless legions.

First came Amschel, future treasurer of the German Confederation. Then Salomon, who in the end achieved exactly the exalted station in imperial Vienna that remained [Prince] Landgrave William's perpetual daydream.

Then Nathan, who rose to more power than any other man in England. Then Kalman, who wound the Italian peninsula around his hand. Then Jacob, who was to lord it in France during Republic and Empire.

NATHAN ROTHSCHILD BUYS THE BRITISH EMPIRE

Morton's book does not apologize about the Rothschilds' behavior. One of the most stunning examples is in the discussion of "consols" beginning on page 49.

"Consols" was short for "consolidated annuities" – essentially the stock of the British government after it consolidated its assets in 1751. Trading "consols" was literally trading the wealth of the British empire – and its people.

The French Empire, under Napoleon, was trying to take over everything in Europe. A seven-nation alliance commanded by the British was fighting back. It was commonly expected that the final outcome of this conflict would be decided at Waterloo.

The battle all happened on June 18, 1815. Napoleon was outnumbered – 72,000 to 118,000. Napoleon surrendered as of 10PM – after 25,000 of his men had been killed or wounded. 19,300 men were killed or wounded on the Anglo-Prussian side – all in a single day.

That much death and destruction in one field was a horror show. Four days later, Major W. E. Frye surveyed the damage and had to leave, because he was so traumatized he nearly threw up.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Battle_of_Waterloo

On arrival there the sight was too horrible to behold. I felt sick in the stomach and was obliged to return.

The multitude of carcasses, the heaps of wounded men with mangled limbs unable to move, and perishing from not having their wounds dressed or from hunger, as the Allies were, of course, obliged to take their surgeons and waggons with them, formed a spectacle I shall never forget.

INSIDER TRADING

Nathan Rothschild was one of the very first to get the news of the British victory – on the dawn of June 20th.

The Rothschilds tells us an agent named Rothworth rushed Nathan the news by boat – beating the official British messenger by several hours.

49: There was no news more precious than the outcome of Waterloo... If Napoleon won, English consols were bound to drop. If he lost, the enemy empire would shatter and consols rise....

Another man in his position would have sunk his worth into consols. But this was Nathan Rothschild... He did not invest. He sold. He dumped consols.

His name was already such that a single substantial move on his part sufficed to bear or bull an issue.

Consols fell. Nathan leaned and leaned, and sold and sold. Consols dropped still more. “Rothschild knows,” the whisper rippled through the ‘Change. “Waterloo is lost.”....

Consols dived, consols plummeted—until, a split second before it was too late, Nathan suddenly bought a giant parcel for a song. Moments afterwards the great news broke, to send consols soaring.

We cannot guess the number of hopes and savings wiped out by this engineered panic... how many liveried servants, how many Watteaus and Rembrandts... [Rothschild] won that single day.

SIX THOUSAND, FIVE HUNDRED-TIMES INCREASE IN WEALTH

According to the meticulous research of Eustace Mullins (1985), in this one single maneuver Nathan Rothschild expanded his fortune by a staggering factor of 6,500 times.

If you don't understand what happened, he basically tricked everyone into selling everything they had, and then bought it all back on the cheap – right before the stock prices skyrocketed.

MASS PANIC IS BIG BUSINESS IF YOU ALREADY KNOW THE OUTCOME

The single greatest way to make money and secure control is to stage a mass panic. That was the lesson. If everyone sells and you know exactly the right moment to buy, you can achieve seemingly limitless power.

As the Amazon commenter "SmokeNMirrors" pointed out on August 7, 2009,

http://www.amazon.com/ROTHSCHILDS-FAMILY-PORTRAIT-frederic-Morton/dp/0020230028/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1326081738&sr=8-1

Nathan himself believed that with that move he came to control the British money supply, and with it the whole of the British Empire.

That wealth begets wealth is well known; if less than 2 centuries ago one family essentially owned the British Empire, there is a very real chance that that fortune is now many times larger than it was then....

What is beyond doubt is that they have controlled the Federal Reserve since its creation (indeed, it was their creation!) and officially the Bank of England since at least the mid-1800s.

THIS IS NOT A "JEWISH CONSPIRACY"

The Rothschilds' own sanctioned family biography reveals the extent of power they came to hold throughout Europe.

However, blaming all this on the Jewish people would be a fatal and ridiculous mistake. Any time we begin demonizing whole races of people, we have voted for genocide.

The motivations and philosophies behind these "banking families" are rooted in secret societies that have nothing to do with Judaism, as we will soon see.

I do believe that forgiveness – despite the atrocities that have been and are being committed – will serve us much better than any desire for vigilante justice.

I have had multiple, trusted insider contacts tell me that the younger generations of this and other top banking families want to create radical, positive changes.

They do not share the cynical, negative attitude towards humanity that many of their elders still have.

Furthermore, the "system" is so large, so interconnected and so woven through all aspects of our society that the only valid way to transform it is from within.

Knowledge is the key. The system has thrived in secrecy. The truth will set us free.

WHO ACTUALLY RUNS THE FEDERAL RESERVE?

Though this information is a closely-guarded secret, there have been enough leaks to confirm the identities of the key banking families who founded the Federal Reserve.

By now, many of them should sound familiar to you – since they used the Federal Reserve to bail themselves out:

<http://www.globalresearch.ca/index.php?context=va&aid=25080>

J. W. McCallister, an oil industry insider with House of Saud connections, wrote in The Grim Reaper that information he acquired from Saudi bankers cited 80% ownership of the New York Federal Reserve Bank- by far the most powerful Fed branch- by just eight families, four of which reside in the US.

They are the Goldman Sachs, Rockefellers, Lehmans and Kuhn Loebs of New York; the Rothschilds of Paris and London; the Warburgs of Hamburg; the Lazards of Paris; and the Israel Moses Seifs of Rome.

CPA Thomas D. Schauf corroborates McCallister's claims, adding that ten banks control all twelve Federal Reserve Bank branches.

He names N.M. Rothschild of London, Rothschild Bank of Berlin, Warburg Bank of Hamburg, Warburg Bank of Amsterdam, Lehman Brothers of New York, Lazard Brothers of Paris, Kuhn Loeb Bank of New York, Israel Moses Seif Bank of Italy, Goldman Sachs of New York and JP Morgan Chase Bank of New York.

Schauf lists William Rockefeller, Paul Warburg, Jacob Schiff and James Stillman as individuals who own large shares of the Fed. [3] The Schiffs are insiders at Kuhn Loeb. The Stillmans are Citigroup insiders, who married into the Rockefeller clan at the turn of the century.

Eustace Mullins came to the same conclusions in his book The Secrets of the Federal Reserve, in which he displays charts connecting the Fed and its member banks to the families of Rothschild, Warburg, Rockefeller and the others. [4]

PHARMACEUTICAL COMPANIES SACRIFICE PEOPLE FOR PROFITS

Now that we've touched on the Rockefeller oil and Rothschild banking aspects of the Federal Reserve, let's move back to pharmaceuticals for a minute.

Again, nine out of the top 50 most profitable Fortune 500 companies in 2010 were pharmaceuticals – at a total of 64 billion, 924.6 million dollars in profits.

Most people are unaware of the blatant crimes against humanity that have been committed by the biggest pharmaceutical companies:

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/johann-hari/the-horrifying-hidden-sto_b_251365.html

The US Government Accountability Office says that far from being a font of innovation, the drug market... spends virtually nothing on the diseases that kill the most human beings, like malaria, because the victims are poor, so there's hardly any profit to be sucked out....

“ME TOO” DRUGS

Many pharmaceutical companies are in the business of creating “me too” drugs. They take a popular drug, change it by at little as one molecule, and re-release it as a new product.

This generates massive amounts of profits – and it is costing us dearly:

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/johann-hari/the-horrifying-hidden-sto_b_251365.html

A detailed study by Dr Marcia Angell, the former editor of the prestigious New England Journal of Medicine, says that only 14 percent of [pharmaceutical companies'] budgets go on developing drugs -- usually at the uncreative final part of the drug-trail.

The rest goes on marketing and profits.

And even with that puny 14 percent, drug companies squander a fortune developing "me-too" drugs -- medicines that do exactly the same job as a drug that already exists, but has one molecule different, so they can take out a new patent, and receive another avalanche of profits....

The European Union's competition commissioner, Neelie Kroes, recently concluded that Europeans pay 40 percent more for their medicines than they should because of this "rotten" system -- money that could be saving many lives if it was redirected towards real health care.

ARSENIC IN CHICKEN FEED

The pharmaceutical giant Pfizer manufactures chicken feed for factory-raised birds. The droppings of these birds are then fed to factory-raised cattle.

A recent expose' revealed that Pfizer has been putting arsenic in their chicken feed to allegedly kill parasites and stimulate faster growth.

For many years they argued this did not pass into the meat, but all went out as waste.

Recently this was proven incorrect by the FDA. All factory-raised chicken meat could have had arsenic in it – a deadly poison. This makes it very likely that factory-raised beef may have had arsenic as well.

Though this product Roxarsone has now been pulled from shelves in the United States, Pfizer indicated it wouldn't necessarily pull it from about a dozen other countries unless regulators force them to.

The toxic poisoning of arsenic creates health problems. Most people try to solve their health problems by taking pharmaceuticals – rather than changing their diets, such as to ethically-raised organic meats.

THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION WAS FINANCED BY THE FED

Foster Gamble's "Fact Checking" section of the Thrive Movement website reveals that the American Medical Association was financed by the Rockefellers (Federal Reserve).

If you own and control the pharmaceutical industry, it would certainly make sense to secretly run the agency in charge of regulating your products:

http://www.thrivemovement.com/fact_checks

Fact: The American Medical Association (AMA) is largely funded by the Rockefellers, who in turn use their funding to influence AMA research and decision-making.

The Rockefeller Foundation website points to various connections between the American Medical Association and the Foundation. Here are a few examples:

Rockefeller Foundation Annual Report, 1932

Rockefeller Foundation Annual Report, 1957

Making the eHealth Connection: Participants

The Long Road to Universal Health Coverage

The American Medical Association has been accepting money from the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations from as early as 1910.

In The World Without Cancer G. Edward Griffin makes the argument that the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations began to support the AMA in an effort to control the medical schooling establishment and to gain power over this "large and vital sphere of American life."

WHY WOULD WE KEEP SUCH A CORRUPTED HEALTHCARE SYSTEM?

If the pharmaceutical industry is putting profits over people, and gouging money out of an already strapped economy, then why would we keep it?

Johann Hari reveals the answer – they literally bought the government.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/johann-hari/the-horrifying-hidden-sto_b_251365.html

Why would we keep this system, if it is so bad?

The drug companies have spent more than $3 billion on lobbyists and political "contributions" over the past decade in the US alone. They have paid politicians to make the system work in their interests.

If you doubt how deeply this influence goes, listen to a Republican congressman, Walter Burton, who admitted of the last big health care legislation passed in the US in 2003: "The pharmaceutical lobbyists wrote the bill."

IT ALL STARTS TO BLUR TOGETHER

This is where the lines between government, military, finance, defense contractors and corporations all begin to blur. At the core of all this is a “super-entity” of 147 companies – 75 percent of which are financial institutions.

A hugely popular Rolling Stone article by Matt Tabibi systematically revealed how Goldman Sachs is at the center of an incestuous relationship between Wall Street, the elected government and the Federal Reserve.

This article earned 23,000 Facebook Likes and 268 written comments as a result of its stunning journalism – most of which I won't include here due to its complexity:

<http://www.rollingstone.com/politics/news/the-people-vs-goldman-sachs-20110511>

[Goldman Sachs] seemed to count on the unwillingness or inability of federal regulators to stop them — and when called to Washington last year to explain their behavior, Goldman executives brazenly misled Congress, apparently confident that their perjury would carry no serious consequences....

Goldman... [is] a powerful, well-connected firm, with the ear of the president and the Treasury, that appears to have conquered the entire regulatory structure -- and stands now on the precipice of officially getting away with one of the biggest financial crimes in history.

The fact that this evidence [covered throughout the article] comes from a U.S. senator's office, and not the FBI or the SEC, is itself an element in the worsening tale of lawlessness and despotism that sparked a global economic meltdown....

If the Justice Department fails to give the American people a chance to judge this case — if Goldman skates without so much as a trial — it will confirm once and for all the embarrassing truth: that the law in America is subjective, and crime is defined not by what you did, but by who you are.

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO THE SKEPTICS?

Most people go with the “gut” rather than with scientific facts.

Go ahead and try to tell someone that a “super-entity” of 147 corporations appears to be running the world, and those corporations are completely interconnected with the Federal Reserve – which handed out 26 trillion dollars in bailouts, without any regulation or oversight from the American government.

You may find yourself coming face-to-face with very strong denial, ridicule and attack -- even in the face of undeniable evidence.

Our Swiss scientist James Glattfelder, who used supercomputers to prove that a small number of companies control the majority of the world's wealth, spoke directly to the skeptics in this next quote:

<http://www.newscientist.com/article/mg21228354.500-revealed--the-capitalist-network-that-runs-the-world.html>

"Reality is so complex, we must move away from dogma, whether it's conspiracy theories or free-market," says James Glattfelder.

"Our analysis is reality-based."

The next question you would reasonably ask yourself is this: How the hell have these people avoided getting caught for the last 100-plus years?

THE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

What if it were possible to discourage critical thinking in the public – so people would never put all the pieces together? One useful way to do this would be to control the educational system.

Again, I understand that I am hitting a brick wall with the “average person” by bringing this up, as they cannot face the possibility that the world they live in has been so deeply manipulated and compromised.

Nonetheless, Foster Gamble’s “Fact Checks” section of the Thrive Movement website makes a compelling case that this is what happened.

THE ROCKEFELLERS “BOUGHT” THE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

The Federal Reserve created the National Education Association via the Rockefeller family:

http://www.thrivemovement.com/fact_checks

In the early 20th century both the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations were donating large sums of money to education and the social sciences. They supported, in particular, the National Education Association.

By way of grants, they spent millions of dollars -- money which was used to radically bend the traditionalist education system toward a new system that favored standardized testing over critical thinking, toward “scientific management” in schools.

This was part of a calculated plan to make the schooling system benefit corporate America, at the expense of the American school child. Powerful foundations with private interests, such as the Ford Foundation, continue to support, and thereby influence the policy of, the NEA to this day.

Additionally, an unprecedented U.S. Congressional investigation into tax-exempt foundations identified the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations engagement in an agenda for vast population control.

Norman Dodd, Research Director for the Congressional Committee, found this statement in the archives of the Carnegie endowment:

“The only way to maintain control of the population was to obtain control of education in the U.S. They realized this was a prodigious task... [so] the portion of education which could be considered as domestically oriented [was] taken over by the Rockefeller Foundation and that portion which was oriented to International matters [was] taken over by the Carnegie Endowment.”...

MEDIA CONSOLIDATION

In order for such a vastly interconnected group to avoid detection for this long, it would also be an absolute requirement for them to buy, own and control the media.

You will soon see compelling, documented proof that the power elite were already bragging about this accomplishment by 1815 – the same year Nathan Rothschild won the British government on a bet.

However, we will review recent history first, so as to better understand how today’s world of seemingly hundreds of independent media sources is actually quite tightly controlled.

In 1983, there were 50 different independent media companies in the United States. By 2004, this number had reduced to five key players: Time Warner, Disney, News Corporation (FOX), Bertelsmann of Germany and Viacom (formerly CBS).

Ben Bagdikian expertly lays out all the proof for this media in his updated 2004 edition of The New Media Monopoly.

<http://benbagdikian.net/>

These five huge corporations — Time Warner, Disney, Murdoch’s News Corporation, Bertelsmann of Germany, and Viacom (formerly CBS) — own most of the newspapers, magazines, books, radio and TV stations, and movie studios of the United States....

These five are not just large — though they are all among the 325 largest corporations in the world — they are unique among all huge corporations: they are a major factor in changing the politics of the United States, and they condition the social values of children and adults alike.

SIX CORPORATIONS DOMINATE THE UNITED STATES' MEDIA

A more recent investigation by FAIR.org revealed that the vast majority of media in the United States is dominated by six mega-corporations: General Electric, Walt Disney, News Corp, Time Warner, Viacom and CBS.

As you delve into the individual categories of [cable, television, print, telecom and radio, you find a few more companies chasing behind the Big Six – but not many.]

These companies often control the entire creative process of a film or television show from beginning to ending – making it an ideal environment for creating propaganda:

<http://www.freepress.net/ownership/chart/main>

The U.S. media landscape is dominated by massive corporations that, through a history of mergers and acquisitions, have concentrated their control over what we see, hear and read.

In many cases, these giant companies are vertically integrated, controlling everything from initial production to final distribution.

Three of these mega-conglomerates appear on Fortune 500's Top 50 Most Profitable list for 2010:

<http://money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/fortune500/2011/performers/companies/profits/>

This includes General Electric at 11 billion, 644 million; Walt Disney at 3 billion, 963 million; and Comcast at 3 billion, 635 million.

General Electric is also the world's third biggest public company – according to the Forbes 2000 list.

AN INTERNATIONAL PLAN TO GENERATE PROPAGANDA?

You may not realize that most of the cable channels on American television are international. Subtitles are used in foreign countries. This is part of why so many people now speak English.

Therefore, the scope of this media consolidation is truly worldwide. Bertelsmann is the only company among Ben Bagdikian's "Big Five" that is not primarily centered in the United States.

In his seminal work, Bagdikian reveals how these five main companies are shaping and molding society:

<http://benbagdikian.net/>

These Big Five (with General Electric's NBC a close sixth) do not manufacture automobiles, or clothing, or nuts and bolts. They manufacture politics and social values.

The media conglomerates have been a major force in creating conservative and far right politics in the country.

They have almost single-handedly as a group, in their radio and television dominance, produced a coarse and vulgar culture that celebrates the most demeaning characteristics in the human psyche — greed, deceit, and cheating as a legitimate way to win (as in the various "reality" shows).

OPERATION MOCKINGBIRD

All this being said, it would be a terrible mistake to arrest and imprison the lower, middle and upper-mid-level staff in the media as if they are all complicit in the problem.

CEOs may not fully understand what's going on either. They are well-paid to be the scapegoats when all hell breaks loose. The biggest powers are always those who work behind the scenes.

Key managers and directors are likely being bribed, blackmailed and threatened into doing the biddings of the Federal Reserve corporate super-entity – partly by not wanting to disappoint their advertisers.

This was well underway by 1948, with a little-known CIA project called Operation Mockingbird. Many documents have since been leaked or declassified on this subject.

Spartacus Educational is overflowing with documentation and links you can read – including references to multiple academic books investigating the subject.

<http://www.spartacus.schoolnet.co.uk/JFKmockingbird.htm>

In 1948 Frank Wisner was appointed director of the Office of Special Projects. Soon afterwards it was renamed the Office of Policy Coordination (OPC).

This became the espionage and counter-intelligence branch of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Wisner was told to create an organization that concentrated on "propaganda, economic warfare; preventive direct action, including sabotage, anti-sabotage, demolition and evacuation measures; subversion against hostile states, including assistance to underground resistance groups, and support of indigenous anti-Communist elements in threatened countries of the free world."

Later that year Wisner established Mockingbird, a program to influence the domestic American media. Wisner recruited Philip Graham (Washington Post) to run the project within the industry....

According to Deborah Davis (Katharine the Great): "By the early 1950s, Wisner 'owned' respected members of the New York Times, Newsweek, CBS and other communications vehicles."...

NEW YORK TIMES EXPOSES OPERATION MOCKINGBIRD

The New York Times actually revealed a small part of this explosive story in 2007.

<http://washington.blogs.nytimes.com/2007/06/26/project-mockingbird/>

The C.I.A. monitoring of journalists in 1963, 1971 and 1972, including wiretapping their phones and setting up observation posts across the street from their offices to track their comings and goings and their visitors, was a practice that the White House itself employed during the Nixon administration....

As with other questionable or illegal C.I.A. activities that were endorsed by top government officials, this account shows that spying on reporters was approved at the highest levels of the Kennedy administration....

By ordering the director of central intelligence to conduct a program of domestic surveillance, Kennedy set a precedent that Presidents Johnson, Nixon, and George W. Bush would follow.

The top investigative books on this subject include A Very Private Woman by Nina Burleigh, Mockingbird: The Subversion of the Free Press by the CIA by Alex Constantine, The Mighty Wurlitzer: How the CIA Played America by Hugh Wilford, Who Paid the Piper? by Frances Stonor Saunders and The Very Best Men by Evan Thomas.

This consolidated control did not fizzle out in more recent years. It has only gotten worse.

After a shocking betrayal, Conan O'Brien led the pack in revealing how centralized the media still is today.

CONAN O'BRIEN'S SHOCKING BETRAYAL FROM BIG MEDIA

Very few entities within the mainstream media have ever risen up against their own companies – but Conan O'Brien is a rare exception who should definitely be mentioned at this point.

Conan O'Brien was spectacularly humiliated by Big Media in January 2010 – only seven months after NBC made him the host of the Tonight Show, fulfilling a long-term contract from 2004.

NBC felt Conan's ratings weren't high enough. In a classic power-play attempt, NBC tried to force Conan to give the coveted 11:30 slot back to Jay Leno and settle for a show that didn't begin until 12:05 am.

Conan refused to cave in to their power move – and quit.

He soon won a 40 million-dollar settlement for him and his staff due to this obvious breach of contract – and gave a healthy portion of his side of the settlement to his staff as well.

CONAN SANK INTO A DEEP DEPRESSION

After this stunning public humiliation, Conan sank into a deep depression:

<http://abcnews.go.com/Entertainment/conan-obrien-quits-declares-tonight-show-time/story?id=9539812>

I grew up watching Johnny Carson every night and the chance to one day sit in that chair has meant everything to me.

I worked long and hard to get that opportunity, passed up far more lucrative offers, and since 2004 I have spent literally hundreds of hours thinking of ways to extend the franchise long into the future.

<http://www.hollyscoop.com/conan-obrien/conan-obrien-admits-to-depression-following-tonight-show-firing.html>

"I felt like I'd just been in a car accident," O'Brien admits to the mag.

His wife Liza Powel says Conan suffered from depression...

"I hated to see him in such a state of tension and unhappiness," Powel says on a more serious note. "It was very painful for him to let go of this hallowed ground that he'd finally got a chance to stand on.

CONAN GETS HIS REVENGE – TWO YEARS LATER

In late September 2011, Conan announced on his relatively-new TBS show that he was going to officiate over the first same-sex wedding on television – between his costume designer Scott Cronick and his partner David Gorshein.

The mainstream media covered the story – but not with very much originality.

Fully eighteen different news and entertainment shows, from all different networks, were shown reading the same script – almost always word-for-word.

The key phrase revealed on Conan's show was "Conan O'Brien may be about to push the envelope on late-night television."

Conan thinly disguised this as comedy – when in fact it was a shocking, unprecedented expose' of just how thoroughly centralized and controlled the media really is:

THE MEDIA ALSO OWN THE PHARMACEUTICAL AND INSURANCE INDUSTRIES

These facts clearly establish that the mainstream media is heavily consolidated and controlled – despite there being seemingly limitless television channels and media sources.

However, we still haven't proven that the largest media corporations are interconnected with the Federal Reserve banking families – which dominate the "super-entity" of the top 147 corporations on Earth.

I was surprised to find out that nine of the biggest media corporations on Earth are also controlling partners in the pharmaceutical / healthcare industry.

A recent FAIR study of nine major media corporations and their major outlets, Disney (ABC), General Electric (NBC), CBS, Time Warner (CNN, Time), News Corporation (Fox), New York Times Co., Washington Post Co. (Newsweek), Tribune Co. (Chicago Tribune, L.A. Times) and Gannett (USA Today) found connections to six different insurance companies.

Five out of the nine media corporations studied shared a director with an insurance company; two insurance companies—Chubb and Berkshire Hathaway—were represented by more than one media corporation director.

The study also found crossover between these media corporations and several large pharmaceutical companies, such as Eli Lilly, Merck and Novartis....

Out of the nine media corporations studied, six had directors who also represented the interests of at least one pharmaceutical company. In fact, save for CBS, every media corporation had board connections to either an insurance or pharmaceutical company....

Media Corporation	Insurance & Pharmaceutical Companies
Disney/ABC	Procter & Gamble
GE/NBC	Chubb, Novartis, Procter & Gamble, Merck
Time Warner	AIG, Health Cap, Paratek Pharmaceuticals
Fox/News Corp	GlaxoSmithKline, Genentech, Hybritech
New York Times Co.	First Health Group, Eli Lilly
Tribune Co.	Abbott Labs, Middelbrook Pharmaceuticals
Gannett/USA Today	Chubb

IT'S NOT AN EASY THING TO ACCEPT

We have been raised in an educational system that rewards us with prestige and social status if we can precisely regurgitate the "accepted" information.

We can then get into the best schools. They may even pay us to go. We work hard... and money, career, success and fortune will follow... or so we were told.

In order to earn these benefits, we have to be right. We cannot be "wrong". Our opinion -- what we have learned - is the strongest asset we have.

If the information we hold as truth is incorrect, within the standards of the educational system, we receive an F...
...for Failure.

If we are a Failure, then that jeopardizes our money, our health, our livelihoods and the lives of those we care about.

"THEY" ARE COMPLETELY WRONG

We have been taught to use the word "They" when we refer to commonly-held, officially-sanctioned information.

For that same reason, I fastidiously avoid using the word "They" when describing a new scientific discovery.

"They said?" They who?

It's important to know exactly who said what... and question those sources.

WHO, EXACTLY, IS 'THEY'?

Who are you? And who are they?

Are you really an individual -- capable of having your own thoughts?

Or... are you a corporate product?

Are you trained by design to be a sick, depressed, fearful and obedient worker? Sad, pissed off and "Broke as a Joke"?

Given what we have just learned about the media, the American Medical Association and the National Education Association, it's not much of a leap to figure out that "They" is actually the voice of the Federal Reserve.

These wealthy international bankers literally bought the rights to become the "collective voice" that you instinctively feel must be correct.

SHAME IS THE GREATEST WEAPON

If you read the comments at the end of this investigation, you will see that some people simply do not have the "shame tolerance" sufficient to process this simple, provable, irrefutable truth.

Shame is the single greatest injury we can ever feel. Shame stays with us much, much longer than any physical pain we may feel -- such as if we get a cut or a burn.

Shame can persist long after we've healed from a broken bone -- or even a terrible car accident. Shame can become an emotional state that defines our entire life -- our personality, our job, our residence, our relationships... everything.

Shame is what causes us to commit murder -- like we may fantasize about if we catch our partner having sex with another person.

Shame is intolerable. Shame sears us with pain. We cry. We shake with rage. We are on the verge of throwing up. We feel as if we are spiraling into catastrophe. We feel there is no hope. All is lost.

We lie in bed, wishing we could sleep, but sweating out each tick of the clock... moment by moment.

Tick. Tock. Tick. Tock. Tick. Tock.

Breathe in. Breathe out. Breathe in. Breathe out.

WHAT IS SHAME?

What is shame?

Shame is nothing more than what other people think about you.

If no one ever had any negative opinions of you, then you would never feel any shame.

Ever.

You see? It's that simple.

Intellectually you can understand it. There is nothing to it. The truth is right there in front of you.

It's only your emotions that get in the way.

Who are the most important people you feel you must avoid being shamed by... at all costs?

THEY are.

YOU DO NOT NEED TO ACCEPT THE POISON

If THEY think you are a failure, then you have been taught to feel you are truly lost.

And guess what? THEY have taught you exactly what lines not to cross. THEY reinforce these teachings everywhere you look.

Some thoughts are actually illegal. Particularly if they transform into actions. At that point, you have broken the law -- and you will be punished. You are taught what not to do -- and you know the consequences.

What if you could love the people in your life who attempt to shame you -- without accepting the poison?

What if you could make a decision to simply not be hurt by anyone's attempt to dump shame on you?

Listen, yes. Make sure you are not violating free will. Avoid manipulating or controlling others. Care about what they have to say. Listen to them. Offer feedback. Be willing to be wrong. Be sensitive to their feelings.

All of this can be done without accepting the poison of shame -- or delivering it to others.

You can be a loving person -- holding true to all the world's greatest spiritual teachings -- and have the true freedom to think for yourself, and not be bothered by those who would attempt to shame you.

Your survival may well depend on it.

MANY PEOPLE CAN'T HANDLE IT

I can lay all of the evidence out for you... with meticulous, irrefutable references... but if you're not ready to hear it, you will use a variety of coping mechanisms in order to rebuild the worldview you have chosen to accept as truth.

You will scramble to avoid shame -- and maintain the beliefs you have built up throughout an entire lifetime of experiences, day after day, week after week, month after month, year after year.

This, of course, is the worldview that has been fed to you -- by the people who then convert your ignorance into profit.

In shame, you pick up the shattered pieces, use a variety of faltering arguments that sound as smart as possible, and proudly strike down any offending thoughts that jeopardize the worldview you have been taught to believe is true.

Deep in your heart, you know you are wrong... but the shame is much too great for you to go there. You have too much at stake. There is too much to lose.

THEY will think you are a failure.

Here's what I have to say about that.

IT'S NOT YOUR FAULT

Your educational upbringing has constructed a reality for you. It speaks to you from every school. Every university. Every newspaper. Every magazine. Every television station. Every radio station. Many (but thankfully not all) books.

It's not your fault.

You have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of.

There are so many people who love you. I can promise you that you are not alone. You are loved and cared for... more than you can ever possibly imagine.

I don't believe this. I know this.

Why? Because I am one of those people.

And there are many, many others just like me.

THAT'S WHY I'M HERE

That's why I'm putting my life on the line -- risking hideous torture and death -- to tell you all this.

I could be doing something else. Something much, much safer and easier.

But I'm not. I'm here. Right now.

And with these words, my thoughts of freedom have created immortality.

The idea can never again be silenced. The concept of freedom. The belief in abundance, peace and happiness... for everyone.

You didn't ask for the world to be this way. You didn't choose this. It just IS.

And now you and I have to do something about it -- and help others who are fighting on our behalf.

In order to do that, my role in this is to continue to educate you. To continue the investigation. We've barely even gotten started.

Shame may have prevented you from hearing and understanding the rest of the story -- but it's time for you to know the truth.

STEP BACK AND THINK ABOUT IT

Now step back and think about what we have learned so far in the course of this investigation.

The Federal Reserve handed out 26 trillion dollars in bailout money – to themselves. To their own companies. To their own banks.

That means they're suffering. This is not something they would have done if they weren't forced to.

They are experiencing real trouble – and it's affecting global headlines with rumors of financial collapse.

A 122-NATION ALLIANCE

According to former Forbes Asia-Pacific bureau chief Benjamin Fulford, the 2008 collapse was pushed over the tipping point by an international coalition of countries who are actively resisting the Federal Reserve group.

I can now independently confirm this is true because I am in daily contact with some of their top representatives.

It happened because of my willingness to pursue this investigation -- once I saw that the lawsuit Benjamin Fulford had been talking about for over a year was real, and had actually been filed in the Southern District Court of New York.

You are not alone. There are already 122 countries fighting for you. More are preparing to join the coalition. They are afraid to speak out because they know they will be killed if they do. At least for right now.

I have written and conducted this investigation on the direct request of this and other important groups -- who are fighting for you.

They have handed me provable evidence to give to you. There is much, much more they will give you through other means.

This is, and will be, evidence that no one has ever seen before. Some of it will be very difficult for you to hear -- and see.

THIS IS WHAT WE'VE GOT

"Well, this is just a metaphysical website. This is not CNN. This is nothing. Who the hell are you? This is the best they could do? LOL LOL LOL LOL!!!"

The reason why it's not someone else is simple. I sought them out. I've done the homework. I was extremely lucky to be offered this chance. And I am brave enough to take it.

As of January 23rd, 2012, I have heard from my top insiders that there are seismic waves of shock rippling through this community at the level of bravery I have demonstrated here by revealing all of this to you.

These peacekeepers will, at the right moment, lay down their lives -- if necessary -- for your freedom.

Hopefully it won't come to that.

What we seek is a peaceful, negotiated surrender of the people running these organizations. Not genocide. Not masses rising up to torture and destroy them. A world we can all live in and share... together.

In peace. Free from pain. Free from corruption. Free from Financial Tyranny.

LET'S NOT FORGET WHAT WE'VE LEARNED ABOUT THE FEDERAL RESERVE

In order to be free, we must continue the investigation. Let's not forget what we've learned as we head into Section Two.

The Federal Reserve appears to control, directly or indirectly, 1,318 corporations that earn up to 80 percent of the world's wealth. 147 corporations within that group are totally interconnected with each other, and earn 40 percent of global revenues.

Global media was consolidated from 50 independent corporations to five giants in barely over 20 years -- from 1983 to 2004.

One of the top two or three most profitable businesses in America is the healthcare industry. In order for the "super-entity" of 147 corporations to control 80 percent of the wealth, they would almost certainly need to invest in healthcare.

Six out of the top nine media corporations have directors with controlling interests in the pharmaceutical companies.

Eight out of the top nine media corporations have insurance and / or pharmaceutical company executives serving on their Board of Directors.

This is precisely the type of interconnectedness discovered by the Swiss team of scientists – using supercomputers.

Conan O'Brien was burned badly by Big Media – and got his revenge almost two years later, by revealing how virtually every television network was reading off of the same prepared script.

If this all seems very strange to you, it might start making more sense as we head into the next section of our investigation: The History.

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1023-financial-tyranny?start=1>

THIS PRESENTS US WITH A MAJOR PROBLEM

In Section One, we learned how the Federal Reserve bankers secretly control an astonishing 80 percent of the world's income-earning businesses. They have rigorously dominated the media through CIA-fronted programs such as Operation Mockingbird.

This obviously presents us with a major problem. These plans are so well-constructed, so interconnected that it seems almost impossible to believe they exist – or could ever be stopped.

Most people automatically put this sort of data into the category of “supernatural.” If they dare to entertain the idea that this is all really true, they will be paralyzed with unspeakable, sleepless paranoia.

In order to get back to leading functional lives, most people naturally go into complete denial – making excuses for why the things they read could not be true.

Let me be clear: that won't make it go away.

In President Woodrow Wilson's 1913 book The New Freedom, Section 1, “The Old Order Changeth,” page 13, he said the following:

http://en.wikiquote.org/wiki/Woodrow_Wilson

“Since I entered politics, I have chiefly had men’s views confided to me privately. Some of the biggest men in the United States, in the field of commerce and manufacture, are afraid of somebody, are afraid of something.

“They know that there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive, that they had better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it.”

This is only one of a series of revealing quotes at the above link that show how concerned Wilson was about the Federal Reserve.

YOU’RE NEVER GOING TO HEAR ABOUT THIS FROM THE MEDIA

Any serious effort to expose what is going on – or to reveal the insiders responsible for causing the problem – is almost certainly not going to appear in the mainstream media. At least not yet.

As one example, you do not see any disclaimers during television commercials telling you that the network has a controlling interest in the drugs they are advertising – even though this is a conflict of interest.

Hardly anything about Goldman Sachs or the auditing of the Federal Reserve has appeared in the mainstream media – even as we seem to be poised on the brink of a repeat of the 2008 financial collapse.

Now don’t forget what we learned: THEY STOLE TWENTY SIX TRILLION DOLLARS.

How much have you heard about this in the mainstream media?

How much more proof do you need that the Federal Reserve, and its affiliates, control the media?

However, let’s again be clear: a majority of the people in the media want to do an honest job of reporting. As soon as the threat of speaking out is taken away, there will be an incredible abundance of new data.

THIS MUST GO BACK A REALLY LONG WAY

Obviously, such a vastly coordinated effort would require secrecy and planning on an almost unimaginable level -- spanning hundreds of years. Few people can even imagine how such a thing could be possible.

In Spring 1992, I crashed into the truth while taking a sociology class at the State University of New York at New Paltz entitled “Contemporary Social Issues.”

Our college professor matter-of-factly informed us of many great conspiracies that I had never heard about before then – setting me on a path that has now led up to our discussion here.

After taking that class, and another one covering similar topics, I wanted more – but there was very little of this sort of material available at the time. I didn’t even know where to look.

Then, in 1994, I found The Character, Claims and Practical Workings of Freemasonry by Rev. C.G. Finney in a used bookstore – and it completely changed my life.

Finney’s book revealed key events that defined American history throughout much of the 1800s.

This knowledge was already starting to be lost to the younger generations – due to deliberate, calculated media suppression – by the time he wrote the book in 1869.

THE MURDER OF CAPTAIN WILLIAM MORGAN

The Masonic Order is normally seen as a fraternal organization that runs hospitals and “lodge” meetings, which sounds pretty boring to most ADD people in today’s world -- just a lot of sitting around and talking.

However, in 1826, a man named Captain William Morgan attempted to publish the exact details of the first three degrees of Freemasonry for the general public.

Morgan's book was entitled Illustrations of Masonry by one of the Fraternity Who has devoted Thirty Years to the Subject. It was finally released in 1827 in Batavia, New York on an independent label.

Freemasons are taught that anyone who reveals the secrets of the Order will be brutally murdered. Morgan was indeed kidnapped and killed by fellow Masons – despite having a wife and two children.

V.I.T.R.I.O.L

Any Mason who joined in the 1800s would have realized there was a dark energy involved. Before you even receive the ceremony for the first degree, you are placed in a "meditation room" -- and are asked to write down your philosophical and moral testament.

In this process you confess any and all moral failings you feel you have, in specific detail -- giving the group power over you in the process. You acknowledge that you are "profane"... and are about to receive "the light" of Masonry.

This website has a surviving picture of what the "meditation room" actually looked like during those times -- as you see below. In case you don't know, the word "vitriol" means sulfuric acid -- but it also refers to severe, searing hatred.

The word is still used a lot today, when you hear about someone mounting a "vitriolic" attack against another person -- such as by hate speech on the Internet.

THERE'S MORE TO IT THAN THAT

The word VITRIOL is listed as an acronym -- with periods between each letter -- suggesting it is a larger phrase. With a little digging, our readers found out what this actually stands for.

<http://watch.pair.com/new-earth.html#6.I.OT>

Professor Henrique J. de Souza, President of the Brazilian Theosophical Society and a leading authority on the Subterranean World, in his magazine, published an article he wrote, 'Does Shangri-la Exist?' from which we quote.

Among all races of mankind, back to the dawn of time, there existed a tradition concerning the existence of a Sacred Land or Terrestrial Paradise, where the highest ideals of humanity were living realities.

This concept is found in the most ancient writings and traditions of the peoples of Europe, Asia Minor, China, India, Egypt and the Americas. This Sacred Land, it is said, can be known only to persons who are worthy, pure and innocent, for which reason it constitutes the central theme of the dreams of childhood.

'The road that leads to this Blessed Land, this Invisible World, this Esoteric and Occult Domain, constitutes the central quest and master key of all mystery teachings and systems of initiation in the past, present and future. This magic key is the 'Open Sesame' that unlocks the door to a new and marvelous world.

The old Rosicrucians designated it by the French word VITRIOL, which is a combination of the first letters of the sentence: 'VISTA INTERIORA TERRAE RECTIFICANDO INYENES OMNIA LAPIDEM,' to indicate that 'in the interior of the earth is hidden the true MYSTERY.'

The path that leads to this Hidden World is the Way of Initiation.

So, in effect, V.I.T.R.I.O.L., if researched by the new initiate, represents the idea that they will be acquiring "the true mystery" that can be found "in the interior of the earth."

In traditional terms, the interior of the Earth is associated with Hell -- a realm of darkness and evil. Obviously anyone exposed to this teaching is going to wonder if that's what they meant by V.I.T.R.I.O.L.

45,000 MASONS ABANDONED THE ORDER

The murder of William Morgan became a very public scandal -- and ultimately led to over 45,000 out of 50,000 total Masons in the United States "disfellowshipping" and leaving the Order.

Over two thousand lodges completely shut down – including virtually every lodge in the Northern states – within less than a decade.

This is an incredibly important moment in American history. It all happened roughly 180 years ago. I never heard a word about it in the Rockefeller-financed American public educational system.

Batavia, New York erected the William Morgan Pillar in his honor on September 13, 1882, as you see here.

A huge political movement called the Anti-Masonic Party was formed soon after Morgan's death. A variety of high-level meetings occurred at the state government level to address the problem – and hopefully eliminate it.

Remember that in those days, under the Constitution, the states carried most of the political power. Therefore, a meeting in the assembly hall of the state capitol of New York was extremely significant.

RETRACING THEIR FOOTSTEPS

The key book Finney quoted from in his 1869 text, describing these events, was Light on Masonry by Elder David Bernard -- from 1829.

Back in college it was impossible for me to track down Bernard's book – but now, thanks to the far reach of the Internet, I was able to order two copies of it from Kessinger Publishing.

After publishing this investigation, I found out the entire work can also be read online, thanks to Google Books.

After I quote from Finney's book, we'll also read some of the most significant parts of Bernard's Light on Masonry as well. Taken together, they paint an extremely compelling picture.

By restoring this information that was carefully suppressed from the pages of history, we can clearly identify the blueprints of meticulous planning, over at least the last 200 years -- held in the utmost secrecy.

THE CHARACTER, CLAIMS AND PRACTICAL WORKINGS OF FREEMASONRY

Now let's begin with the most significant quotes from Rev. Finney's classic book:

Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1869 by the Western Tract and Book Society, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of Ohio....

1: Forty years ago we supposed that [Freemasonry] was dead, and had no idea that it could ever revive. But, strange to tell, while we were busy in getting rid of slavery, Freemasonry has revived, and extended its bounds most alarmingly....

9: About forty years ago, an estimable man by the name of William Morgan, then residing in Batavia, N.Y., being a Freemason, after much reflection, made up his mind that it was his duty to publish Freemasonry to the world.

He regarded it as highly injurious to the cause of Christ, and as eminently dangerous to the government of our country.

I suppose [he] was aware, as Masons generally were at that time, that nearly all the civil offices in the country were in the hands of Freemasons; and that the press was completely under their control, and almost altogether in their hands.

Masons at that time boasted that all the civil offices in the country were in their hands. I believe that all the civil offices in the county where I resided while I belonged to them, were in their hands.

I do not recollect a magistrate, or a constable, or sheriff in that county that was not at that time a Freemason....

As you can now see, the control of the media and elected government by a secretive group of powerful individuals was well-known in the early 1800s.

Finney said the press was “completely under their control” – as well as “nearly all the civil offices in the country.”

THE MURDER OF WILLIAM MORGAN – A CONFESSION

Henry L. Valance confessed in 1848 that Morgan was murdered by drowning. Rocks were tied to a rope around his waist. The total weight of the rocks was greater than his own body.

Morgan was then dumped into the Niagara River after crying and pleading with his captors for his life. This obvious Masonic murder ultimately caused the whole story to break open.

[Years later, ex-Masons working at the state government level created a substantial trust fund to help compensate Morgan's wife and children for their loss.]

Let's continue with the excerpts from Finney's book:

11: Two or three [Masons] have since, upon their death-bed, confessed their part in the [murder of William Morgan]....

The account of the manner in which this was done will be found in a book published by Elder Stearns... entitled "Stearns on Masonry".

It contains the deathbed confession of one of the murderers of William Morgan. On page 311, of that work, you will find the confession....

"CONFESSION. The Murder of William Morgan, Confessed by the Man Who, With His Own Hands, Pushed Him Out of the Boat Into Niagara River!"

17: [The Masons] also kidnapped Mr. Miller, the publisher; but the citizens of Batavia, finding it out, pursued the kidnapers, and finally rescued him.

THE COURTS WERE NOT EFFECTIVE

11: The courts of justice found themselves entirely unable to make any headway against the wide-spread conspiracy that was formed among Masons in respect to this matter.

These are matters of record. It was found that they could do nothing with the courts, with the sheriffs, with the witnesses, or with the jurors; and all their efforts were for a time entirely impotent.

Indeed, they never were able to prove the murder of Morgan, and bring it home to the individuals who perpetrated it.

45,000 OUT OF 50,000 MASONS LEFT THE ORDER

18: In consequence of the publication of Morgan's book, and the revelations that were made in regard to the kidnapping and murdering of Mr. Morgan, great numbers of Masons were led to consider the subject more fully than they had done; and the conscientious among them almost universally renounced Masonry altogether.

I believe that about two thousand lodges, as a consequence of these revelations, were suspended.

The ex-president of a Western college, who is himself a Freemason, has recently published some very important information on the subject, though he justifies Masonry.

He says that, out of a little more than fifty thousand Masons in the United States at that time, forty-five thousand turned their backs upon the lodge to enter the lodge no more.

ALL THE SECRETS FOR EVERY DEGREE WERE PUBLISHED

18: Conventions were called of Masons that were disposed to renounce it. One was held at Leroy, another at Philadelphia, and others...

At one of these large conventions they appointed a committee to superintend the publication of Masonry in all its degrees.

19: Elder Bernard... with the assistance of his brethren who had been appointed to this work, obtained an accurate version of some forty eight degrees.

He published also the proceedings of those conventions... and also several speeches that were made by prominent men in the State of New York.

This work was entitled "Light on Masonry."... Great pains were taken to secure the most accurate knowledge of the degrees published by the committee....

20: In the Northern or non-slaveholding States Masonry was almost universally renounced at that time.

But it was found that it had taken so deep a root that in all New England there was scarcely a newspaper in which the death of William Morgan, and the circumstances connected therewith, could be published.

This was so generally true throughout all the North that newspapers had to be everywhere established for the purpose of making the disclosures that were necessary in regard to its true character and tendency.

The same game is being played over again at the present day. The "Cynosure," the new anti Masonic paper published at Chicago, is constantly intercepted on its way to subscribers.... The editor informs me that the [issues] are constantly intercepted....

It was found that Masonry so completely baffled the courts of law, and obstructed the course of justice, that it was forced into politics; and for a time the anti-masonic sentiment of the Northern States carried all before it.

Almost all Masons became ashamed of it, felt themselves disgraced by having any connection with it, and publicly renounced it.

If they did not publish any renunciation, they suspended their lodges, had no more to do with it, and did not pretend to deny that Masonry had been published.

SHOCKING THAT MASONRY MANAGED TO RECOVER

21: Now these facts were so notorious, so universally known and confessed, that those of us who were acquainted with them at the time had no idea that Masonry would have the impudence ever again to claim any public respect.

I should just as soon expect slavery to be re-established in this country, and become more popular than ever before – to take possession of the Government and of all the civil offices, and to grow bold, impudent, and defiant – as I should have expected that Masonry would achieve what it has....

POLITICAL ACTION WAS REQUIRED

34: It was found that there was no other way than for the people to rise up and take the offices out of their hands by political action.

At first there was no thought on the part of any one, so far as I could learn, that it would ever become a political question. But it was soon found that there was no other alternative.

41: In February, 1828, a convention of seceding Masons was held at Le Roy, in the County of Genesee [New York], composed of some thirty or forty of the most respectable citizens.

They published a declaration to the world under their signatures... [that] the revelations of William Morgan... [were] strictly true and accurate.

In the course of the same year, Elder Bernard, a Baptist clergyman of good character, and who was a distinguished Mason, published... "Light on Masonry"....

MASONRY EXPOSED IN THE STATE COURTS

41-42: In 1829, on the trial of Elihu Mather, in Orleans County, the obligations of the first three degrees and of a Royal Arch Mason, were proved, at a Circuit Court held by Judge Gardiner, by the testimony of three seceding Masons and one adhering Mason.

In obedience to a resolution of the Senate of New York, Judge Gardiner reported this evidence, and it was printed by order of the Senate.

In 1830, on a trial in Rhode Island, the same obligations were proved in open court, and the trial was published at large in the newspapers.

In 1831, on the trial of H.C. Witherell, at New Berlin, in Chenango County, the same obligations were proved by the oaths of three adhering Masons, among whom was General Welch, the sheriff of the county.

In the year 1830, Avery Allyn, a regular Knight Templar, published a book, called the "Ritual of Freemasonry," in which the ceremonies of initiation, the lectures oaths and mummeries of thirty-one degrees are fully exhibited.

Thousands of Masons individually have, under their names in the public papers, declared these publications of Bernard and Allyn to be strictly accurate.

MY MASONS, RIGHT OR WRONG... INCLUDING MURDER AND TREASON

90: All Masons above the third, or Master's degree, are sworn to keep inviolate the secrets of a brother, murder and treason excepted, up to the seventh, or Royal Arch degree.

In the oath of this degree the candidate... swears to keep all the secrets of a companion of this degree, murder and treason not excepted. All Masons of and above this degree are solemnly bound to do this....

After swearing to the same points contained in previously taken oaths, the kneeling candidate, with hands on the Holy Bible, proceeds: "I furthermore promise and swear, that I will aid and assist a companion Royal Arch Mason when engaged in any difficulty, and espouse his cause so far as to extricate him from the same, if within my power, whether he be right or wrong."

THAT'S ALL I HAD

What you've just read are the passages I highlighted in my copy of Finney's book back when I first read it – along with a few others that jumped out at me as I reviewed it for this investigation.

At the time, I felt Bernard's Light on Masonry was totally lost – a victim of crushing media suppression. It was only while working on this investigation that I tried to find it on Amazon.

My two copies of Light on Masonry only arrived in the mail a few weeks ago. I was not disappointed.

You can also read the whole thing here at Google Books.

It took some time, but I worked my way through the book and found the most important passages – as you are about to read.

LIGHT ON MASONRY

Light on Masonry – David Bernard – 1829

Secretary of the Convention of Seceding Masons, held at Le Roy, July 4th and 5th, 1828.

William Williams, Printer, Utica, NY, 1829.

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK, TO WIT:

BE IT REMEMBERED, that on the thirteenth day of April, in the fifty-third year of the Independence of the United States of America, A.D. 1829, David Bernard, of the said District, hath deposited in this office the title of a book, the right whereof he claims as author, in the words following, to wit:

"Light on Masonry: a collection of all the most important documents...."

R.R. Lansing, Clerk of the District Court of the United States; for the Northern District of New-York.

A WORLDWIDE PROBLEM

392: An Address to All Honest Masons. In Eight Numbers. (Originally published in 1828, in the Le Roy Gazette, Genesee county, N.Y.)

395: No. III. [Written address submitted by an anonymous former Mason.]

It is well known to all 'active Masons' and to persons generally, that in the dark conclave and secret meetings of Masons, have been planned conspiracies that have caused convulsions which have been felt in every part of the government under which they were bound to live as good citizens.

There has been planned and executed deeds by them in their midnight conspiracies, (I cannot call such meetings by a more gentle term,) at which humanity has revolted.

In France all was thrown into confusion, and anarchy came near ruling a people striving for liberty, by the society of Free Masons. At one time, considering they had all power, they throw off all disguise and discovered their real object....

But France is not alone in having her liberties invaded by Masons. It at one time came near overthrowing the government of Germany, and those that were honest Masons among them separated and forsook the institution....

396: Masonry was considered in Spain, Portugal, and Russia, of such a dangerous tendency, that it was put down by the strong arm of the law. It is now disturbing the tranquility of our brethren in South America.

ANTI-MASONIC CONVENTION OF THE NEW YORK STATE GOVERNMENT – FEB. 1829

(Appendix, pg. 27)

Appendix, No. II. Proceedings of a Convention of Delegates, from the different Counties in the state of New-York, opposed to Free Masonry.

Held at the Capitol in the City of Albany, on the 19th, 20th and 21st days of February, 1829.

THE CONVENTION,

Of whose proceedings the following sheets furnish a history, was called by the following notice:--

ANTI-MASONIC STATE CONVENTION.

28: PROCEEDINGS, &c.

The Delegates met in the Assembly Chamber of the Capitol at the City of Albany, on the 19th day of February, 1829, at four o'clock, P.M., and were called to order by Samuel M. Hopkins, delegate from Albany County....

33: More than four hundred initiates, within our own state, including Members of every Degree, from an Entered Apprentice to the Thrice Illustrious Knights of the Holy Trinity, have publicly renounced the Institution.

Thousands have silently withdrawn, and it cannot be presumed that any good man, who received it upon trust, will continue his connexion with the Fraternity after he has thoroughly examined the tendency of its principles.

BRAINARD'S BOLD AND AUDACIOUS SPEECH REVEALING THE TRUTH IN 1825

34: Perhaps we cannot convey a bolder or more comprehensive view out of fancied power and unchastened ambition of Free Masonry, than is found in the Oration of the late W. F. Brainard, at New-London, Ct., before the Union Lodge, June 24, 1825, on the recurrence of one of her fabulous Anniversaries.

Mr. Brainard says---

"What is Masonry now? IT IS POWERFUL. It comprises men of RANK, wealth, office and talent, in power and out of power; and that in almost every place where power is of any importance.

And it comprises among other classes of the community, to the lowest, in large numbers, active men, united together, and capable of being directed by the efforts of others, so as to have the FORCE of CONCERT throughout the civilized world!

They are distributed too, with the means of knowing one another, and the means of keeping secret, and the means of co-operating, in the desk – in the legislative hall – on the BENCH – in every gathering of business – in every party of pleasure – in every ENTERPRISE of GOVERNMENT – in every domestic circle – in peace and in war – among enemies and friends – in one place as well as in another!

SO POWERFUL indeed, is it at this time, [June 24th, 1825] that it fears nothing from violence, either public or private; for it has every means, to learn it in season to COUNTERACT, DEFEAT and PUNISH IT!"

CONVENTION PRESIDENT FINN ADDRESSES THE NEW YORK STATE DELEGATION

50: ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

FELLOW-CITIZENS--- A great crisis has occurred in our social condition.

The peace of this community has been extensively disturbed, the domestic security of the citizens openly violated, their property unlawfully invaded, and the life of one of them, without doubt, feloniously destroyed.

And these calamitous events have proceeded from a source which threatens our most valuable institutions, and all those possessions which make life desirable.

With these facts deeply impressed upon our hearts, we have been delegated to assemble here, to consult together, and advise upon the proper course to be pursued, in so momentous an emergency....

When the public peace, our domestic safety, our property, our life, our reputation, our equal rights as citizens, are all assailed, by the concerted action of numerous, wealthy, intelligent, and powerful bodies of men; and the regular operations of our constituted authorities is found unable to protect us, then, it is most equally becoming to our minds and hearts, to our self-respect, and the most cherished interests of human liberty, that we should protect ourselves whatever evils may ensue....

THE POWER SHOULD BELONG TO THE PEOPLE

53: In our country the people are the only legitimate source of civil power. It is the will of the people by which laws are enacted, and applied to the various rights and pursuits of life.

This will calls into employment, elective, legislative, judicial, and executive bodies, which are only the instruments by which it is brought into visible and useful action.

But the will of a state, or nation, like the will of an individual, depends upon opinion,---the opinion of a majority of the people of a state, or nation; and the opinion of such majority is PUBLIC OPINION.

---Public opinion, therefore, controlling the will of the people, in every free country, must govern every thing, which is properly subject to governmental power.

This is the theory of our government. It is clearly the only theory consistent with the rights of man. And among us, it has been so well applied in practice, heretofore, as to ensure the good anticipated by the framers of our government.

But we have recently witnessed an alarming change. The machinery of our government has become obviously disordered.

---Free Masonry has come into violent collision with it; and its healthful operations are now either suspended, or rendered ineffectual.

And the great question is now presented to the people of this state, what shall be done to restore it to its salutary and effectual operation....

FREEMASONRY ACTS AS ITS OWN, WORLDWIDE GOVERNMENT

Free Masonry is a distinct, peculiar, independent government. It acknowledges no allegiance to civil government, nor alliance with it.

It has departments of its own, titles of its own, officers of its own, laws of its own, revenues of its own, oaths of its own, penalties of its own, sympathies of its own, and purposes of its own.

All the nations of the earth, however diverse their forms of government, or distant their territories, are but its provinces. It has no jurisdictional limits but the habitable globe.

Throughout its whole extent, it secures the loyalty of its subjects, by cords most ingeniously twisted, and of surpassing strength....

The possibility of its existence is dangerous; its actual occurrence demands instant, resolute, continued, and united, though prudent, exertion, till it shall become impossible....

WILLIAM FINN, President.... Rochester, March 15, 1829.

THE ANTI-MASONIC PARTY

These meetings and speeches directly led to the formation of the Anti-Masonic Party, the first "third party" in the history of American politics.

William A. Palmer was elected governor of Vermont in 1831, on an Anti-Masonic ticket, and held that office until 1836. Joseph Ritner was elected governor of Pennsylvania from 1835 to 1838.

William Wirt ran for President on the Anti-Masonic ticket in 1832, and won all seven electoral votes from Vermont as well as 7.78 percent of the popular vote.

After this Presidential defeat in 1832, the Anti-Masonic Party merged with the Whig Party. I heard about the Whigs briefly in grade school, but had no idea of the suppressed history behind them.

WORLDWIDE RESISTANCE

In December 1996, my knowledge on this subject took a quantum leap when I found New World Order: The Ancient Plan of Secret Societies by William T. Still, at Borders Bookstore in Albany, New York.

I still consider this book to be the defining standard of scholarship for this subject. It quotes from Finney's book and many, many others, forming a much more complete picture of these events:

118: The furor over the murder of William Morgan in 1826 had caused American Masonry to almost cease to exist, and European Masonry was in turmoil as well.

Bavaria had forbidden Masonry as a danger to the state in 1784, then again in 1845.

In 1814, the Regency of Milan and the Governor of Venice had acted in a similar manner.

King John VI of Portugal prohibited Freemasonry in 1816, and renewed it in 1824.

In 1820 several lodges were closed in Prussia for political intrigues, and in the same year Alexander I banished the order from the whole Russian empire. A similar occurrence took place four years later in Spain....

108: As a result of this [Morgan] scandal, the anti-Masonic party was formed. It polled 128,000 votes in the 1830 election and carried Vermont in the 1832 presidential election.

Rhode Island and Vermont passed laws against blood oaths. Thousands of Masons burned their aprons. In a few years' time, membership in the New York lodges dropped from 30,000 to 300 as a direct result of the Morgan incident. [29]

[29. William J. Whalen, Christianity and American Freemasonry, (Milwaukee, WI: Bruce Publishing Co., 1958), p. 9.]

DUNCAN'S MONITOR ATTEMPTS TO DOWNPLAY THE SCANDAL

By 1866, every degree of Masonry had been published and widely scrutinized – particularly by people in the Northern states.

In response, the Masonic establishment decided to release Duncan's Masonic Ritual and Monitor. It revealed the first seven degrees in detail – including illustrations of the gestures and handshakes.

[Now, Masons tell me they are strictly forbidden from reading this or other books that expose the inner workings of the Order.]

Interestingly, the very first paragraph of the book addresses the Morgan scandal, and attempts to downplay it:

<http://www.sacred-texts.com/mas/dun/dun01.htm>

3: [Freemasonry] has, at various times and in several countries, incurred the ill-will of political parties and of religious bodies – in consequence of a belief, on their part, that the organization was not so purely benevolent and philanthropic as its members proclaimed it to be.

In the State of New York, many years ago, it was supposed, but we think unjustly, to wield a powerful political influence, and to employ it unscrupulously for sinister ends.

The war between Masonry and Anti-Masonry which convulsed the State at that period is still fresh in the remembrance of many a party veteran.

The Order, however, has long since recovered from the obloquy then heaped upon it, and is now in a flourishing condition in most parts of the civilized world.

KEY DIFFERENCE BETWEEN “LIGHT ON MASONRY” AND “DUNCAN’S MONITOR”

Finney's book reveals that one of the main focal-points of Anti-Masonic sentiment was the oaths that a seventh-degree Royal Arch Mason would be forced to swear to.

There is a small but very significant difference between the Masonic oaths published by Ballard as opposed to those in Duncan's Ritual Monitor of Freemasonry.

Here are some of the key quotes from Ballard's Light on Masonry that created so much distress as to nearly destroy Masonry in America – causing 45,000 out of 50,000 members to quit.

Masons must swear on pain of death to uphold these principles.

130: I will promote a companion Royal Arch Mason's political preferment in preference to another of equal qualifications. [Some lodges also include “I will vote for a companion Royal Arch Mason, before any other of equal qualifications.”]

Furthermore, do I promise and swear, that a companion Royal Arch Mason's secrets, given me in charge as such, and I knowing them to be such, shall remain as secure and inviolable in my breast as in his own, murder and treason not excepted.

Ballard reveals that the line “murder and treason not excepted” was only administered in some of the Masonic chapters. It did not appear in Duncan's Monitor – but it is still implied, as we will see.

Furthermore, the line about promoting a fellow Royal Arch Mason politically was completely deleted from *Duncan's Monitor.

WHAT DOES DUNCAN’S MONITOR SAY?

Since the Masonic oaths are orally transmitted, there are superficial differences throughout Duncan's Monitor and Ballard's Light on Masonry.

However, despite deleting the phrases about politics, murder and treason, Duncan's Monitor still maintained much of the original, troubling verbiage – as we see here.

<http://www.sacred-texts.com/mas/dun/dun08.htm>

230: I furthermore promise and swear, that I will employ a Companion Royal Arch Mason in preference to any other person of equal qualifications.

I furthermore promise and swear, that I will assist a Companion Royal Arch Mason when I see him engaged in any difficulty, and will espouse his cause so far as to extricate him from the same, whether he be right or wrong.

I furthermore promise and swear, that I will keep all the secrets of a Companion Royal Arch Mason (when communicated so me as such, or I knowing them to be such), without exceptions....

To all which I do most solemnly and sincerely promise and swear, with a firm and steadfast resolution to keep and perform the same, without any equivocation, mental reservation, or self-evasion of mind in me whatever;

binding myself under no less penalty, than to have my skull smote off, and my brains exposed to the scorching rays of the meridian sun, should I knowingly or willfully violate or transgress any part of this my solemn oath or obligation of a Royal Arch Mason.

So help me God....

WHAT HAPPENS AS YOU READ THE HIGHER DEGREES?

Scottish Rite Masonry goes up to 33 degrees – though the 33rd is an honorary title reserved only for a select few. Light on Masonry reveals data from all 33 degrees – and other offshoots.

The Anti-Masonic Party was deeply concerned about Freemasonry's openly blatant attack on Christianity – particularly in the 28th degree of Masonry, Knight Adept of the Sun (or the Eagle).

Here is a direct excerpt of what the initiate hears as he is receiving the 28th degree.

265: Requisitions to make a good Mason.---If you ask me what are the requisite qualities that a Mason must be possessed of, to come to the centre of truth, I answer you, that you must crush the head of the serpent of ignorance.

You must shake off the yoke of infant prejudice, concerning the mysteries of the reigning religion, which worship has been imaginary, and only founded on the spirit of pride....

[The reigning religion] employs every matter to satisfy carnal desires, and raises to these predominant passions, altars, upon which she maintains, without ceasing, the light of iniquity, and sacrifices continually offerings to luxury, voluptuousness, hatred, envy, and perjury.

Behold, my dear brother, what you must fight against, and destroy, before you can come to the knowledge of the true good and sovereign happiness!

Behold this monster which you must conquer – a serpent which we detest as an idol, that is adored by the idiot and the vulgar under the name of RELIGION!!!

THIRTY-SECOND DEGREE DIRECTLY TARGETS MUSLIMS

According to the author's written-in commentary on the thirty-second degree, or Sublime Prince of the Royal Secret, Prince of Masons, an apocalyptic war with Arabs is highly desired.

Historic 1800s-Era 32nd Degree Masonic Apron with Skull and Crossbones

294: The ostensible object of this [thirty-second] degree is the invasion of the Holy Land, and its deliverance from the infidels.

This is to be effected by uniting all the Masons, ancient and modern, under one commander, and directing them 'en masse' upon the Mahometans, who have wickedly established themselves in that sacred region.

Hence the complexion of this degree is military. The draft or carpet contains the plan of this 'MASONIC ARMY!'...

It is believed that the ceremonies of initiation have never been committed to writing, or practiced in North America; hence, though many have received the obligation, words, signs, &c. formally, they remain like the rest of the world ignorant of the peculiar rites of the degree.

HATRED IS ONE OF THE ULTIMATE GOALS

There is very little about the 33rd degree in Light on Masonry. However, when you read through the 32nd degree, you can clearly see that Masons are being taught to hate.

This hate is supposed to become such a passion that it blinds them to all else in life.

You may not be aware that the legend of "Friday the 13th" being unlucky may stem from a mass arrest of Knight Templars, including their leader Jacques De Molay, that occurred on Friday, October 13th, 1307.

Not all scholars agree with this, but it was presented in "The Da Vinci Code" as if it were the truth.

What you are about to read is directly spoken to the 32nd degree candidate during his initiation.

300: The captivity of the Grand Elect and Sublime Masons, (i.e. by the Chaldeans,) shows us the persecution of the Christian religion under the Roman emperors, and its liberty under Constantine the Great.

It also calls to our remembrance the persecution of the Templars, and the situation of Jacques De Molay, who lying in irons nearly seven years, at the end of which our worthy Grand Master was burnt alive with his four companions, on the eleventh of March, 1314, creating pity and tears in the people, who saw him die with firmness and heroic constancy, sealing his innocence with his blood.

My dear brother, in passing to the degree of Perfect Master, in which you shed tears at the tomb of Hiram Abiff, and in some other degrees, has not your heart been led to revenge?...

By the degree of Master Elect and Kadosh [30th degree], you are properly disposed to fulfill all your engagements, and to bear an implacable hatred to the Knights of Malta*, and to avenge the death of Jacques De Molay.

[*The reader must not suppose that the Masonic Knights of Malta are here intended; the reference is to the ancient order of that name, which, when the order of Templars was suppressed, received their estates.]

Your extensive acquaintance with symbolic Masonry, which you have attained by your discretion, leaves you nothing more to desire here.

THIS ALL CAME ABOUT IN THE 1760s

The addition of the Knight Templars material, and most of the higher degrees of Freemasonry, did not come about until the 1760s.

In The New Knighthood, historian Malcolm Barber explained this in detail.

It was during the 1760s that German masons introduced a specific Templar connection, claiming that the Order, through its occupation of the Temple of Solomon, had been the repository of secret wisdom and magical powers, which James of Molay had handed down to his successor before his execution and of which the eighteenth-century Freemasons were the direct heirs.

Barber, Malcolm (1994). The New Knighthood: A History of the Order of the Temple. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press. ISBN 0521420415, pp. 317–318.

YOU BECOME ROYALTY AT THE 32ND DEGREE

Some Masons have told me the 32nd Degree initiates are now simply known as Knight Templars.

If we continue directly from where we left off, we also see that the 32nd degree Mason is told he has now entered into the ranks of bloodline royalty – not by birth, but by his membership in the Order.

The modern-day Masonic sash for the 32nd degree features a crown on it -- clearly symbolizing the attainment of this illustrious goal. The "32" in the triangle is surrounded by sacrificial daggers -- situated directly above the skull and crossbones on the apron.

This rank is conferred by a mysterious "society of men" that is only referred to in passing, as the initiate continues to be spoken to during his ceremony.

300: You see, my dear brother, how, and by whom, Masonry has come to us.

You are to endeavor by every just means to regain our rights, and to remember that we are joined by a society of men, whose courage, merit, and good conduct, hold out to us that rank that birth alone gave to our ancestors.

You are now on the same level with them.

Avoid every evil by carefully keeping your obligations, and carefully conceal from the vulgar what you are, and wait that happy moment when we all shall be reunited under the same Sovereign in mansions of eternal bliss.

“The vulgar” is a term Masons use for anyone who is not a member of their group. This same “society of men” instructed the initiate in the 28th degree to “crush the head of the serpent... of RELIGION.”

I'm not sure I would use the term “good conduct” to describe the actions of this society of men.

WHAT HAPPENS ONCE YOU REACH THE ALL-IMPORTANT 33RD DEGREE?

All you read in Light on Masonry for the final 33rd degree is a rather ominous-sounding description of what the room is like where “the obligation” is accepted.

When you first walk in, you see the words “Deus meum que jus” over the door. This roughly translates as “God's[Deus] Authority [Jus] is mine [Meum],” or “God [Deus] is mine [meum] as well as [que] Reason and Authority [jus].”

FreemasonCollection.com

A transparent glass equilateral triangle then hangs down before you enter into a canopy of purple curtains.

The room is then dominated by a triangular altar, guarded by a full-sized skeleton holding a Masonic staff and a poniard – a long, lightweight thrusting knife most people would identify as a "sacrificial dagger" – in attack position.

“Death's heads” and skull and crossbones images are all seen as well.

The highest-ranking officer, or Thrice Puissant Sovereign, wears a blood-red robe with a black sash. He has a stunning crown on his head like a European king – and he carries a sword.

The bottom of the sash has a rose of red, white and green. The center of the sash has the number 33 inside a triangle with rays coming off of it, and the image of a poniard dagger running through the triangle.

The jewel that is mounted on the sash is a double-headed eagle clutching a sword. The eagle's beak, claws and sword are made of gold.

WHY DO THEY WANT TO DO ALL THIS?

Back when Light on Masonry was written, no more than nine 33rd-degree Masons were allowed in any given kingdom or republic.

What we do not see in any of the degrees is a clear indication of why they want to control the media, dominate the financial system, or attempt to create a global control matrix.

It appears that Masonry is only a cover for the “society of men” referred to in the 32nd degree – who despise religion, elevate their highest members to the level of royalty, and say “God’s Authority is Mine.”

Were they wise enough to insure that their ultimate intentions were not explicitly written into the Masonic oaths and obligations?

Apparently so.

THE GREAT PLAN

William T. Still's 1990 book New World Order: The Ancient Plan of Secret Societies fills in the missing details – through the words of other esteemed Masonic scholars.

30: One of the greatest secrets of Masonry, and of all the secret societies, is something called the “Great Plan,” the details of which are known only to those with access to the inner doctrine. As one Masonic scholar explained:

Though the whole extent and origin of the plan was known only to an initiate few, members of the outer order were subjected to a selective system by which they could attain to numerous degrees and proportionately receive deeper insight into the work.

This in turn spurred them to greater effort and endeavor in their various occupations and stations in life, and made them useful instruments. [38]

[38. Marie Bauer Hall, Collections of Emblems, Ancient and Moderne, by George Wither to which is Added Foundations Unearthed, (Los Angeles: Veritat Foundation, 1987), p. 14.]

This outer doctrine allows the average member to see his organization as little more than a social fraternity involved in a few charitable works.

However, for those who are judged ready, or “worthy” to accept it, the inner doctrine drops all pretense of this idealism.

THE BAVARIAN ILLUMINATI

What exactly is this “Great Plan” that Still is referring to? Apparently we’re seeing it now. Masonry provided the secrecy necessary for a small group to gain control of the planet and its resources.

It is a documented historical fact that Adam Weishaupt headed a group in Bavaria (now a part of Germany) that called themselves the Illuminati – meaning the Enlightened Ones. This is thoroughly examined in Chapter Five of Still’s book, “Weishaupt’s Illuminati.”

According to a research paper by Andrew Hitchcock, Adam Weishaupt was paid to start this group by none other than Mayer Amschel Rothschild – in 1770.

On page 69, Still says Weishaupt was indoctrinated into Egyptian occultism in 1771 by a merchant named Kolmer – and spent five years formulating the plan to consolidate all occult systems into a single organization.

One book that suggests the Rothschilds financed the Bavarian Illuminati is Pawns in the Game by Wm. Guy Carr – which is listed with publication dates as far back as 1956 on Amazon.

Carr's book alleges that Mayer Rothschild convened a meeting of twelve other wealthy men at his home in Frankfurt, Germany as of 1773 – back when his family still lived under the Green Shield in the ghetto.

From there, they created a 25-point strategy for Rothschild's new group, "The Illuminati."

Let's not forget that the higher degrees of Freemasonry had only been created in the late 1760s.

DIVINE INTERVENTION REVEALS THE PLAN

In a seeming act of Divine Intervention, lightning struck a courier who was riding to the meeting on horseback, carrying the full 25-point strategy in his inside jacket pocket. He was killed instantly.

The authorities went through all the courier's belongings and were shocked to find this document. All 25 points are published, in full, on various websites, such as this one.

I'm not going to list all 25. You can read them at the above link. I have specifically chosen the most shocking and, I believe, important ones so you don't get distracted as you read it.

Remember – this is not a conspiracy theory; the seizure of this document was an established fact, causing extreme concern in the Bavarian government.

#1 Use violence and terrorism rather than academic discussions....

#4 Any and all means were justified, on the grounds that a moral code left a politician vulnerable....

#6 Remain invisible until the very moment when it has gained such strength that no cunning or force can undermine it....

#7 Use Mob Psychology to control the masses. "Without absolute despotism " one cannot rule efficiently

#8 Advocate the use of alcoholic liquors, drugs, moral corruption and all forms of vice, used systematically by "agents" to corrupt the youth

#9 Seize property by any means and without hesitation, to secure submission and sovereignty.

#10 Foment wars, but direct the peace conferences so that neither of the combatants gain territory. They would be placed further in debt and therefore into our power.

#12 Choose candidates for public office who will be servile and obedient to our commands, so they may be readily used as PAWNS IN OUR GAME

#13 Use the Press for propaganda to control all outlets of public information, while remaining in the shadows, clear of blame

#14 Make the masses believe they had been the prey of criminals. Then restore order to appear as the saviors.

#15 Create financial panics; use hunger to subjugate the masses.

#16 Infiltrate Freemasonry... "When the hour strikes for our sovereign Lord of all the World to be crowned, these same hands will sweep away everything that might stand in his way."....

#18 a Reign of Terror is the most economical way to bring about speedy subjection.

#19 Masquerade as political, financial and economic advisers to carry out our mandates... without fear of exposing "the secret power behind national and international affairs."

#20 ULTIMATE WORLD GOVERNMENT is the goal. It will be necessary to establish huge monopolies, so even the largest fortunes... [will] go to the bottom together with the credit of their governments ON THE DAY AFTER THE GREAT POLITICAL SMASH."

#21 Economic War. Rob the Goyim of their landed properties and industries with a combination of high taxes and unfair competition.

#22 Make the Goyim destroy each other so there will only be the proletariat [poor] left in the world, with a few millionaires devoted to our cause, and sufficient police and soldiers to protect our interest.

#23 Call it THE NEW ORDER. Appoint a Dictator....

CREEPY STUFF

I understand how disturbing this must be. The farther into this investigation we go, the more unsettling it becomes – and we're not done yet.

The principles of this 25-point document appear to have been meticulously followed in the 238 years since its original drafting.

In fact, it is quite remarkable to see how precisely this document outlines the plans we are seeing come to fruition today.

Despite the discovery of this 25-point document in 1773, Weishaupt still launched the Order of the Illuminati on May Day, 1776.

William T. Still says the Bavarian Illuminati's exposure and downfall was primarily due to a high-level disagreement that began in 1786.

The details of this exposure were published by the highly respected British historian Professor John Robison -- a professor of natural philosophy at Edinburgh University and a Mason for many years.

Robison's book Proofs of a Conspiracy exposed the Illuminati in 1798 -- and "caused a sensation in the United States" among the Founding Fathers.

HOW IT ALL FELL APART

On page 74-75 of Still's book, he reveals that candidates for the Illuminati were "almost always drawn from Masonic lodges of the day," just as we saw in Point #16.

Baron von Knigge was the third-highest ranking member of the original Rothschild / Weishaupt Illuminati, and took on the code-name of Philo.

Von Knigge began to disagree with Weishaupt's plan to try to push atheism on the members of the lower degrees. He felt it was better to "defer the development of the bold principles till we had firmly secured the man."

As time went on, von Knigge realized that Weishaupt's ultimate goal was to instill a belief in Lucifer as a benevolent God-figure. This caused him to feel the Order had been "painted... in the colors of hell, and would have scared the most intrepid." (Still, p. 79.)

Von Knigge left in 1783, and informed the Bavarian government of the danger the Illuminati presented. The government then banned all secret societies the following year.

Four other Illuminati members, each of whom were professors, fled the order in April 1785. The Bavarian government summoned them to a court of inquiry -- and they all spilled the beans.

The professors revealed that the Illuminati wished to annihilate all religion, all love of country and all love between parents and children.

Suicide was to be encouraged as a "voluptuous pleasure."

BAVARIAN GOVERNMENT RAIDS THE ORDER AND SEIZES DOCUMENTS

This testimony was more than enough legal grounds to act. Nonetheless, the Bavarian government was very careful -- and they didn't make their move until the following year.

On October 11, 1786, the Bavarian government raided the chief Illuminati lawyer Herr von Zwack's home -- and seized a treasure-trove of documents.

These documents were then published and widely distributed as Original Writings of the Order of the Illuminati.

The Bavarian government sent this book to every government in Europe -- but no one took it seriously, even though the members of the Illuminati acknowledged the documents were real.

EUROPEAN MASONRY MERGED WITH ILLUMINATI IN 1782

Still also reveals that European “Continental” Masonry was wedded with the Illuminati -- beginning with a written agreement as of December 20, 1781.

This was finalized in the still-secret Congress of Wilhelmsbad in July 1782. The Comte de Virieu spoke out in his biography about what had occurred at this meeting.

82: All this is very much more serious than you think. The conspiracy which is being woven is so well thought out that it will be... impossible for the Monarchy and the Church to escape it. [46]

[46. Nesta H. Webster, World Revolution, (Devon, UK: Britons Publishing Co., 1971 edition, originally pub. 1921), p. 31.]

According to Still, after this agreement in 1782, the headquarters of “Illuminized” European Freemasonry was moved to the Rothschilds’ home town of Frankfurt -- and was securely within their control.

GUISEPPE MAZZINI INHERITED THE EUROPEAN “ILLUMINATI”

According to Monsignor George Dillon, the Illuminati – i.e. “the supreme government of all the Secret Societies of the world” – fell into the hands of Italy after Weishaupt’s death in 1830 (Still, p. 119).

Monsignor George E. Dillon, D.D., [Grand Orient Freemasonry Unmasked as the Secret Power Behind Communism, (Metairie, LA: Sons of Liberty revised edition 1950; original edition New York: Burns and Oats, 1885), p. 50-51.]

Giuseppe Mazzini was the head of the highest Italian lodge, the Alta Vendita, at this time.

The Alta Vendita controlled the French, English and German lodges at the highest levels.

The Alta Vendita was originally started by none other than Kalman (Karl) Rothschild, “who wound the Italian peninsula around his hand,” as we learned on page 29 of The Rothschilds.

Mazzini’s dream was not going to be easy to achieve. The Anti-Masonic Revolt was in full swing in the United States by this time – and it was creating public and governmental uprisings all over the world.

One of the top Alta Vendita chiefs named Nubius died mysteriously in the 1830s – and this released many incriminating documents that allowed historians like Monsignor Dillon to put the pieces together.

The Illuminati’s plans at the time included the legitimizing and legalizing of prostitution, the elimination of morality from literature, and the introduction of atheism and hostility towards religion into education.

MAZZINI AND PIKE PLAN TO UNIFY EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN MASONRY

From here, Still’s book reveals how Mazzini worked to unify all Masonic circles in the world – ultimately gaining the allegiance of Albert Pike, who had become the unifying head of Masonry in the United States.

121: Even though Mazzini was able to take control of Italian Masonry, the task of uniting World Masonry was still formidable. Italian Masons in particular, and World Masonry in general, were divided into numerous rival sub-groups, frequently hostile to one another.

Around 1860, after many years of struggling to unite European Masonry, Mazzini wrote to Albert Pike, the recognized leader of Scottish Rite Masonry in the United States, to discuss the possibility of including the United States in an international group.

After the 1826 murder of Captain William Morgan, Pike tried to regroup American Masonry, which had been all but eliminated between 1830 and 1840. Many American lodges were forced to disband until the storm of public criticism abated....

123: So pronounced was anti-Masonic sentiment that it was an issue when Congress tried to impeach President Johnson in March 1867.

THE PALLADIAN RITE

Ten years after Mazzini first wrote to Pike, they were able to hammer out an agreement to unify all the Masonic groups in Europe and America.

This agreement also allowed more of the Illuminati philosophy to be blended into the Masonic groups at the highest degree levels.

In order to understand the agreement Mazzini and Pike made, some further context needs to be filled in first.

The secret beliefs of the Illuminati included the idea that there is a “Great Architect” of the Universe, divided into two polarities – the Christian God, which they called Adonay, and Lucifer.

In this system, Lucifer is not seen as “the bad guy” – merely one of the two Divine aspects of the Great Architect.

The idea of Lucifer falling and becoming “Satan” is rejected within the inner teachings of this philosophy.

In the Bible, Lucifer originally appears as the highest and brightest angel of all. Illuminists believe Lucifer was kicked out because the Christian God was actually the bad guy.

Their arguments were founded on the Church’s suppression of freedom, sexuality and scientific inquiry – wisdom. The Church was the government back then, and they demanded obedience.

Jacques DeMolay, whose agonizing death we heard about in the 32nd degree of Freemasonry, was tortured by the Church – as were many others who preserved the ancient mystery school traditions.

While I agree that the Church had become a repressive system, I don't see the need to demonize every Bible teaching as the work of an evil, jealous, power-mad god – but that's what happened.

PIKE'S HINTS ABOUT LUCIFER IN "MORALS AND DOGMA"

"Morals and Dogma" was Pike's most popular book – released in 1871, a year after his secret agreement with Mazzini was formalized.

Morals and Dogma is considered an essential text of Masonry, providing commentary on each and every degree. Pike's true opinions on Lucifer are only hinted at, in commentaries on the third and nineteenth degrees.

III. The Master....

The true name of Satan, the Kabalists say, is that of Yahveh reversed; for Satan is not a black god, but the negation of God. The Devil is the personification of Atheism or Idolatry.

For the Initiates, this is not a Person, but a Force, created for good, but which may serve for evil. It is the instrument of Liberty or Free Will.

They represent this Force, which presides over the physical generation, [i.e., sex] under the mythologic and horned form of the God PAN; thence came the he-goat of the Sabbat, brother of the Ancient Serpent, and the Light-bearer or Phosphor, of which the poets have made the false Lucifer of the legend.

Gold, to the eyes of the Initiates, is Light condensed.

<http://www.sacred-texts.com/mas/md/md20.htm>

Council of Kadosh: XIX, Grand Pontiff....

The Apocalypse is, to those who receive the nineteenth Degree, the Apotheosis of that Sublime Faith which aspires to God alone, and despises all the pomps and works of Lucifer.

LUCIFER, the Light-bearer! Strange and mysterious name to give to the Spirit of Darkness! Lucifer, the Son of the Morning!

Is it he who bears the Light, and with its splendors intolerable blinds feeble, sensual, or selfish Souls? Doubt it not!

THINK ABOUT IT

Let's put together what Pike just said here. First of all, he feels Lucifer is a force created for good, which may serve for evil but doesn't necessarily have to.

"Feeble, sensual or selfish Souls" will be blinded by the "light" that Lucifer bears.

Pike implies that anyone who is not "feeble, sensual or selfish" may be able to experience the "good" aspect of the Luciferian force.

These "hints" could cause some Masons to start asking questions – which might ultimately cause them to be invited into the Illuminati.

Pike says that the Luciferian force is "Liberty or Free Will." This apparently indicates that Luciferians can practice Free Will to its fullest extent – doing whatever they choose, without ethical or moral constraints.

This becomes clearer in other secret documents that were leaked, as we shall see.

PIKE AND MAZZINI CREATE "THE PALLADIAN RITE" IN 1870

In 1870, the year before he published Morals and Dogma, Pike finalized the agreement with Mazzini that led to the consolidation of all Masonic groups in Europe and the United States.

As we see in this quote from Still's book, they brought more of the teachings of the Illuminati and Luciferianism into Masonry, through introducing the "New and Reformed Palladian Rite".

123: In 1870, Mazzini and Pike reached an agreement for the creation of the new supreme rite, to be called the New and Reformed Palladian Rite....

Membership in the "Palladium" was very limited, and its deliberations were shrouded in the strictest secrecy:

No mention of it would ever be made in the assemblies of the Lodges and Inner Shrines of other rites... for the secret of the new institution was only to be divulged with the greatest caution to a chosen few belonging to the ordinary high grades.

Palladism is essentially a Luciferian rite. Its religion is Manichean neo-gnosticism, teaching that the divinity is dual and that Lucifer is the equal of Adonay.... [25]

25. [Edith Starr Miller, Occult Theocracy. Hawthorne, CA: The Christian Book Club of America, 1933, p. 217.]

PIKE MAKES HIS INTENTIONS CLEARLY KNOWN

By 1889, Pike had surpassed Mazzini to become the head of World Masonry, as well as American Masonry and D.C. Masonry.

From this power position, he wrote an edict for the "23 Supreme Councils of the world" on July 14, 1889. These appear to be the top-ranking control groups for all Masonic circles in Europe and America.

This, again, was a highly secret document -- leaked by those who saw the danger it presented. It is only thanks to these heroes that we are aware of what the ultimate plans of this group have always been.

This all-important quote can be found in A.C. De La Rive's book, La Femme et l'Enfant dans la Franc-Maconnerie Universelle, and appears on page 123 in Still's book.

That which we must say to the crowd is—We worship a God, but it is the God that one adores without superstition.

To you, Sovereign Grand Inspectors General, we say this, that you may repeat it to the Brethren of the 32nd, 31st, and 30th degrees—The Masonic religion should be, by all of us initiates of the high degrees, maintained in the purity of the Luciferian doctrine.

If Lucifer were not God, would Adonay (The God of the Christians) whose deeds prove his cruelty... and hatred of man, barbarism and repulsion for science, would Adonay and his priests calumniate him?

Yes, Lucifer is God, and unfortunately Adonay is also God. For the eternal law is that there is no light without shade, no beauty without ugliness, no white without black.

That is why the intelligent disciples of Zoroaster, as well as, after them, the Gnostics, the Manicheans and the Templars have admitted, as the only logical metaphysical conceptions, the system of the two divine principles fighting eternally, and one cannot believe the one inferior in power to the other.

Thus, the doctrine of Satanism is heresy; and the true and pure philosophic religion is the belief in Lucifer, the equal of Adonay; but Lucifer, God of Light and God of Good, is struggling for humanity against Adonay, the God of Darkness and Evil. [27]

27. [Miller, p. 220-221; secondary quote from A.C. De La Rive, "Instructions" issued by Gen. Albert Pike on July 14, 1889, to the 23 Supreme Councils of the world as recorded in La Femme et l'Enfant dans la Franc-Maconnerie Universelle, p. 588.]

AN INTERESTING CONTRADICTION IN PIKE'S LOGIC

Pike was clearly wrong about Zoroastrians saying these "two divine principles" are "fighting eternally" and are of equal power.

As I write in The Source Field Investigations, Zoroastrianism does acknowledge a negative force in the universe, which they call "The Adversary".

However, the most current research from Boyce and Grenet has clearly revealed that God created the Adversary to be defeated at the end of the Age – which they called "Fraso-Kererti".

They said the Adversary would be defeated gradually, and finally groan to a halt -- thanks to "the focused efforts of the just."

The Zoroastrian description of the End of the Age is very similar to what we see now.

This cycle shift-point from one Age to the next has been calibrated by many ancient cultures as occurring on or around the end of this year 2012 – as I reveal in my new bestseller, The Source Field Investigations.

I worked very carefully to insure the absolute secrecy of the content of this book right up until it was actually in published form -- specifically because we were well aware of the dangers involved in telegraphing the move.

MAZZINI AND PIKE PLAN FOR THREE WORLD WARS – IN 1871

Some people could conceivably argue that Luciferianism is merely a philosophical construct that should be protected under the banner of religious freedom like any other.

Obviously, Christians have a knee-jerk reaction to the word Lucifer – but ultimately, if Luciferians respect the rights and sovereignty of others, under the US Constitution, they can think whatever they want.

However, Still's book reveals that Pike and Mazzini made major additions to the plan for how their secret group – the "Illuminati" – could seize control of the planet, financially and politically.

Their plan was to deliberately create three world wars – on false pretenses. This means killing people and orchestrating events behind the scenes to create death and bloodshed on a level never before seen.

Two out of three of these wars appeared exactly as planned. The third World War – a battle with a ragtag group of terrorists in the Middle East – has been attempted for some time, but still has not succeeded.

Nonetheless, it is obvious that the struggle to create this Third World War is very much a present-day issue. The Federal Reserve “super-entity” is still following the old script as if it were Scripture.

The fact that this document was kept in plain, public view for many years in the British Museum Library shows that the truth is indeed out there – for those who are capable of hearing it.

Again, I wouldn't write about any of this if I didn't firmly believe this group is about to be defeated.

STILL'S BOOK REVEALS THE PLAN FOR THREE WORLD WARS

Here are the key passages in Still's book that had such a huge effect on me when I first read them in 1996.

127: Although they had finally united Italy, Mazzini and Pike realized that the unification of all Europe under the banner of Illuminism would be extremely difficult, if not impossible.

Nationalism runs strongly in the human spirit, and is very difficult to erase, especially on a continent divided by warfare for many centuries.

Therefore, they set to work on their greatest plan -- a plan so vast in scope that only a reader familiar with the great power wielded by the secret societies could begin to believe it.

In 1871, Mazzini issued a letter in which he outlined the final three-part plan of the Illuminati: their grand design for ridding not just Europe, but the entire world of Christianity, and bringing it under the “illuminated” dictatorship of Luciferianism.

This remarkable letter was for many years on display in the British Museum Library in London. [32]

[32. Salem Kirban, Satan's Angels Exposed, 1980, p. 161.]

PLANS TO CREATE A ONE-WORLD GOVERNMENT

127: Mazzini proposed a series of world wars.

These wars were to embroil every nation in a conflict so bloody and chaotic that eventually every nation would surrender its national sovereignty to an international government, like the League of Nations, or the second attempt – the current United Nations – in order to prevent subsequent global bloodletting....

The first of these world wars, they hoped, would topple the Czarist government of Russia and establish an Illuminized dictatorship – a new level in the game of control of populations.

This would give the Illuminists a secure base from which to operate, with a large population and vast natural resources to fuel the new engine of Illuminism.

The second World War would allow the new Soviet Russia to capture Europe – or as it turned out, half of it.

The third World War would be in the Middle East between the Moslems and the Jews, and would bring about the biblical Armageddon.

Certainly by the end of this Third World War, the battle-wearied nations would be ready to accept any proposal so long as it promised peace, uniting the entire world under the fatal banner of the Luciferian New World Order. [34]

[34. Kirban, p. 162-163.]

PIKE REVEALS THE PLAN IN HIS OWN WORDS TO MAZZINI

127: Pike wrote to Mazzini about the consequences of the Third World War in 1871:

[It will] provoke a formidable social cataclysm... and the most bloody turmoil.

Then everywhere, the citizens, obliged to defend themselves against the world minority of revolutionaries [terrorists], will exterminate those destroyers of civilization, and the multitude, disillusioned with Christianity,...

...will be without a compass, anxious for an ideal, but without knowing where to render its adoration, will receive the true light through the universal manifestation of the pure doctrine of Lucifer, brought finally into public view.

[This is] a manifestation which will result from the general reactionary movement which will follow the destruction of Christianity and atheism, both conquered and exterminated at the same time.

THE REVEALING

Everything I've shared with you is documented, historical fact. Much of it came from insiders who broke away from the group and revealed their testimony.

This is still happening in the present day – and as a result, we have strong reason to believe the Illuminati is very much alive and well.

I have had personal interaction with a woman named Svali, who claims to have been a mid-level member of the modern-day Illuminati – the living inheritors of this plan – up until she escaped in the early 1990s.

Svali's writings are extremely extensive – enough to fill several books. I was directly responsible for orchestrating and transcribing her one and only surviving radio appearance – on Greg Szymanski's show on Republic Broadcasting Network, on January 17, 2006.

While studying her discussion forum on her website at the time, lionlambministries.org, I saw her say in December 2005 that she was ready to break her silence and go on the radio.

Greg Szymanski's name came up as one of two choices. I immediately wrote him an urgent letter with her contact info. She and I also began a written communication that unfortunately ended after the show.

I appeared as a call-in guest on the show towards the end and thanked her for her bravery. I deliberately misspelled my own last name in the transcript to make it less obvious that I had helped orchestrate this.

http://divinecosmos.com/Illuminati_Defector_Svali_Speaks.mp3

Svali has never again made a single written, public statement anywhere after this show aired in January, 2006, but we do know that she is alive. She was severely tortured for doing this radio show.

THE REVEALING

If Svali is correct, this “pure doctrine of Lucifer, brought finally into public view” is called The Revealing. She had been told it was planned for the year 2020.

The Revealing was not planned to occur on any ordinary day. The formula calls for a global economic collapse to provoke the “formidable social cataclysm” planned by Pike and Mazzini.

I do not believe The Revealing will ever happen -- due to the widespread awakening now reaching critical mass in the public.

Pike and Mazzini were not wise enough to have foreseen the possibility of a worldwide, totally free and unregulated media – thanks to the Internet. This was the single most critical failure in their plan.

The resulting public awakening has now created an alliance of 122 nations, as we will soon discuss, who plan to break the media stranglehold, expose the truth and free the planet.

Things had to get to a critical crisis-point in order for there to be a strong enough will, worldwide, for this group to finally be defeated – but that will has finally been achieved.

SHATTERING THE DENIAL

However, before we discuss the resolution of this problem, there are yet additional walls of denial that need to be shattered.

I understand that these following sections will be the most troubling parts of the investigation – but again, we have reached a planetary crisis point, and we can no longer afford to stay in denial of the truth.

What you are about to read is excerpts from a written interview Svali gave with H. J. Springer, the founder of the now-defunct Centrex News website, in 2000.

I pulled the original links below off of archive.org.

All of Svali's works, including these written interviews and the transcript of the radio show, have now been compiled and arranged at <http://svalispeaks.wordpress.com>.

Let me make it very clear that eyewitness testimony is considered evidence admissible in court. Should that evidence then be verifiable, that testimony is considered legal proof.

Other authors who heavily validate and support Svali's testimony, and are extremely challenging to read, include Brice Taylor (Thanks for the Memories), Cathy O'Brien (Trance-Formation of America and Access Denied), Annie McKenna (Paperclip Dolls), Kathleen Sullivan (Unshackled), Carol Rutz (A Nation Betrayed), Lynn & Cheryl Hersha (Secret Weapons) [some argue this book is a CIA whitewash], Wanda Karriker (Morning, Come Quickly), "Mauri" (Vatican Ratline), Janet Thomas (Day Breaks Over Dharamsala), James Shelby Downward (King-Kill 33 and The Carnivals of Life and Death), and Fritz Springmeier (Bloodlines of the Illuminati, The Illuminati Formula Used to Create an Undetectable Total Mind-Controlled Slave and Deeper Insights Into The Illuminati Formula).

After we discuss Svali's testimony, we will briefly explore tangible information that verifies Svali's allegations in the everyday world.

UTTERLY COMPELLING

The volume of written data generated by Svali is very extensive – several hundred pages. The radio show I linked to above is extremely gripping... and utterly compelling.

She talks with speed and confidence about very complex and difficult subjects. Furthermore, our historical research verifies many of the key aspects of her testimony.

Svali's life was threatened after she did that show, and she went into hiding. She never once attempted to profit off of the hundreds and hundreds of pages' worth of material she wrote to expose this group.

Though other survivors have come forward, Svali was the highest-ranking member thus far, and has provided the greatest amount of written documentation of her knowledge and experience.

After her radio interview, I alerted Henry Makow to her work, as he was already publishing investigations along these lines. Soon afterwards, he wrote an article that gave a great overview of her testimony:

<http://www.rense.com/general30/illuminatidefector.htm>

I've tried to avoid the "ritual abuse" discussions as much as possible in these excerpts, so as to protect you from having to read about these troubling subjects unless you decide to get more involved.

Suffice it to say that hallucinogenic drugs, hypnosis and torture -- primarily through electroshocks -- can apparently create personality fragments that have their own separate sense of self, and can be isolated from the others by "amnesic barriers."

For now, let's focus on some of the specific facts about the organization itself that Svali gave.

WHAT IS THE ILLUMINATI?

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030813222809/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/svali02.html>

Q: Svali, I think our readers are wondering 'Is the Illuminati a religion, secret society, satanism or is it a combination of it, or something different all together, or more sinister?'

A: The Illuminati is a group that practices a form of faith known as "enlightenment". It is Luciferian, and they teach their followers that their roots go back to the ancient mystery religions of Babylon, Egypt, and Celtic druidism.

They have taken what they consider the "best" of each, the foundational practices, and joined them together into a strongly occult discipline.

Many groups at the local level worship ancient deities such as "El", "Baal", and "Ashtarte", as well as "Isis and Osiris" and "Set".

This said, the leadership councils at times scoff at the more "primitive" practices of the anarchical, or lower levels.

I remember when I was on council in San Diego, they called the high priests and priestesses the "slicers and dicers", who kept the "lower levels happy".

This is not to offend anyone, it only shows that at the leadership levels, they often believe they are more scientifically and cognitively driven. But they still practice the principles of enlightenment.

There are 12 steps to this, also known as "the 12 steps of discipline" and they also teach traveling astral planes, time travel, and other metaphysical phenomena. [DW: We will cover the 12 steps in a minute.]

Do people really do this, or is it a drug induced hallucination? I cannot judge.

I saw things that I believe cannot be rationally explained when in this group, things that frightened me, but I can only say that it could be a combination of cult mind control, drug inductions, hypnosis, and some true demonic activity.

How much of each, I cannot begin to guess. I do know that these people teach and practice evil.

WHAT ABOUT THE HIGHER LEVELS?

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030813222809/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/svali02.html>

At the higher levels, the group is no longer people in robes chanting in front of bonfires.

Leadership councils have administrators who handle finances (and trust me, this group makes money. That alone would keep it going even if the rest were just religious hog wash).

The leadership levels include businessmen, bankers, and local community leaders. They are intelligent, well educated, and active in their churches.

Above local leadership councils are the regional councils, who give dictates to the groups below them, help form the policies and agendas for each region, and who interact with the local leadership councils.

At the national level, there are extremely wealthy people who finance these goals and interact with the leaders of other countries.

The Illuminati are international. Secret? By all means. The first thing a child learns from "family, or the Order" as they are called, is "The first rule of the Order is secrecy".

This is why you don't hear from more survivors who get out. The lengths that this group goes to, to terrify its members into not disclosing, is unbelievable.

Q: Is this the same Illuminati that was created by Adam Weishaupt in Germany?

A: Weishaupt did not create the Illuminati. They chose him as a figurehead and told him what to write about.

The financiers, dating back to the bankers during the times of the Templar Knights who financed the early kings in Europe, created the Illuminati. Weishaupt was their "go fer", who did their bidding.

WHAT IS THE CONNECTION BETWEEN FREEMASONS AND THE ILLUMINATI?

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030810070816/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/svali04.html>

Q: Svali, one of the more important points, which I am sure a lot of readers would like to know more about, is, what is the Illuminati /Freemason connection, as far as you are aware of, given your previous position in the Illuminati?

Q: Was - and is - there an infiltration of the Masonic Order?

A: The Freemasons and the Illuminati are hand in glove. I don't care if this steps on any toes, it's a fact.

The masonic temple at Alexandria, Virginia (the city itself was named after Alexandria, Egypt, and is a hotbed of Illuminati activity) is a center in the Washington, DC area for Illuminati scholarship and teaching.

I was taken there at intervals for testing, to step up a level, for scholarship, and high ceremonies. The leaders in this masonic group were also Illuminists.

This has been true of every large city I have lived in. The top Freemasons were also top Illuminists.

My maternal grandparents were both high ranking Masons in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa. (president of the Eastern Star and 33rd degree Mason) and they both were also leaders in the Illuminati in that area.

Are all Masons Illuminati? No, especially at the lower levels, I believe they know nothing of the practices that occur in the middle of the night in the larger temples.

Many are probably fine businessmen and Christians. But I have never known a 32 degree or above who wasn't Illuminati, and the group helped create Freemasonry as a "front" for their activities.

THE ILLUMINATI BELIEVE THEY ARE GOOD – NOT EVIL

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030810070328/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/svali03.html>

I want to address another misconception. That is, the one that the Illuminists know that they are evil.

When I was in the group, I and those around me were ideologically committed to the agenda as being GOOD.

I thought I was helping others reach their full potential when I was a trainer.

I believed that after years of sweat and hard work, that my intelligence won out, and that I made an excellent leader.

I fought Jonathan and others on the council when I thought they were unfair, and stood up for the people beneath me. Others did the same. They honestly think they are doing a GOOD thing, and if you told them it was wrong, or evil, they would look confused.

It took a LOT of therapy and deprogramming myself, doing reality checks with noncult people to realize that it was all a lie.

I was devastated. I had dedicated my life to helping others bring in the glorious new order, and then found out it was EVIL and abusive. I went through a period of intense grieving/mourning over this.

Most Illuminists I knew weren't evil, they were deceived. Only the top leadership perhaps were consciously being hurtful.

ARE THE ILLUMINATI TRYING TO RUN THE WORLD?

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030813222809/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/svali02.html>

The Illuminati believe in controlling an area through its: banks and financial institutions (guess how many sit on banking boards? You'd be surprised)

Local government: guess how many get elected to local city councils?

Law: children are encouraged to go to law school and medical school.

Media: others are encouraged to go to journalism school, and members help fund local papers.

FUNDING THE "NEW WORLD ORDER"

http://web.archive.org/web/20030608223845/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/12/suite101_07.html

I saw a large amount of money being used to fund the projects of this group, funds that poured in from around the northern hemisphere and the world.

Couriers were sent to the corners of the globe, and many of the top financial institutions had a vested interest in bringing this "new world order" to pass.

This was discussed in leadership meetings; shown in videos to members of the group (such as the grainy films I saw in the 1960s showing a large round table with 13 members sitting around it, and the words "these are your leaders" spoken as the members rose and pledged allegiance to the coming new order.)

I will not mention the figures shown in this film in order to avoid the claim of "libel" but they were well known, influential, and many were behind the banking system of the modern world.

DW: [In this subsequent article, Svali revealed that the Rothschilds and Rockefellers both hold seats on the Supreme World Council that is intended to rule in "the New Order to come."]

The Illuminati are funding this coming world order quietly, behind the scenes.

They believe that money not only "talks" as the saying goes, but buys media coverage, or silence; protection; and the influence needed to shape our modern world....

Are the Illuminati out to rule the world? Yes, and this is what they teach their members. They are working avidly towards this goal even as I write.

THEY ARE A VERY SMALL BUT POWERFUL MINORITY

http://web.archive.org/web/20030810071654/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2001/01/Q_A01.html

The Illuminati and their followers are a minority of our world's population. In San Diego county, where the population is over 2 million, there existed 5 years ago 24 sister groups with membership of roughly 60 to 75 each. Leadership council over the county was 13 members.

So, in a metro center with over 2 million, the active Illuminists comprised less than 1500 members. The Illuminati are possibly 1% to 2% of the population in the US.

What this means is that 99% of the people you know and work with are NOT Illuminati. They are good, hard working people (at least most are) who want a paycheck, and a good family life.

MOST of the leaders in our communities and financial systems have never heard of the Illuminati, because they are a minority.

So, why worry about them? Because a small group of evil people can do great damage. I will use an analogy.

MOST people in our society are not involved in child pornography, consider it a crime against children, and would fight against it given the chance.

Yet, the small minority of those involved in it do incalculable damage to the children involved. The effects of the crime are greater than the bare numbers involved.

Why isn't child pornography stopped? We have the evidence, law enforcement knows it exists, yet it is a multi-billion dollar industry.

HOW do these people "hide" from justice and capture? Why don't the police stop them? Because they aren't stupid.

They work under secrecy. They change locations frequently, and kill those who talk to law enforcement. Bribes and other means are used to cover their tracks, and they hire excellent lawyers.

Okay, now lets look at the Illuminists. The 1% of our nation involved are extremely intelligent. They have sworn an oath on pain of death from toddlerhood on to never reveal their true allegiance to outsiders.

WHAT ARE THE BIGGEST WEAKNESSES OF THE ILLUMINATI?

<http://svalispeaks.wordpress.com/2008/09/12/part-7-illuminati-symbols-and-clues-level-of-infiltration/>

1. They are arrogant, and this could be their downfall. They view the common man as “sheep” with no intelligence.

They are full of pride, believe they are invulnerable... and that any press about them is the equivalent of a gnat to be swatted.

Arrogant people make mistakes, and they are becoming more blatant and open in recent years.

2. They believe they can overcome God, which is a huge mistake. God can stay the hand of history, and has so far, in the hope that more from this group will get out, because He is merciful.

3. Most of them are wounded, abused victims, who don't realize that it is possible to leave the group.

There is a lot of discontent in the ranks, and there would be a mass exodus if the members believed it were really possible to get out (and live).

Many of the trainers I knew (I know, wicked, torturing pedophiles) were NOT happy with what they did.

They would whisper quietly, or give a look, to show that they disagreed with what they had to do. They would resignedly do their jobs, in the hope of advancement.

Know what one of the biggest carrots offered to those who advance up in the group is? That you don't have to hurt people anymore, and that you can't be abused.

(It's true: only those higher than you in the group can abuse you, so everyone wants to move up, where the pool of candidates becomes smaller).

Of course, people can choose to abuse anyone beneath them, and that motivates some (but not all!) to move up.

SVALI ANSWERS WILCOCK QUESTIONS IN PRIVATE EMAIL

Even with everything Svali revealed publicly – of which the above is just a very small sample – I still felt there were some unanswered questions.

As a direct result of our negotiations to get her on the radio, she indicated a willingness to answer my personal questions. This is the first time I have ever made those results public.

I will be the first to acknowledge that her answers are controversial. They imply that black magic is being used in the group, and that tangible results are apparently being obtained at times.

These visions and experiences could be the result of drug-induced hallucinations, which can be shared – based on my research in The Source Field Investigations.

In the interest of full disclosure, I will not censor anything she said.

SVALI'S EMAIL TO WILCOCK -- INTRODUCTION

Subject: to David from svali

David,

I promised to answer some questions, and so will now. Also, I did contact Greg, and he will be interviewing me this Wednesday.

This is the second of only two radio interviews I have ever granted. But both you, and a long-time friend have vouched for him, so I will do this.

FIRST QUESTION TO SVALI

WILCOCK: You have said there are six branches of study in the Illuminati, and different members specialize in different areas, depending on their proclivities.

Three of them are easy to figure out: Military, Media and Leadership. The other three, "Scholarship," "Sciences" and "Spiritual", seem to be very difficult to pinpoint.

If you could give a more detailed description, by category, of what each branch does, that would be very useful to people trying to really understand this.

THE SCIENCES BRANCH (SVALI'S OWN SPECIALIZED AREA)

SVALI: Sciences was involved in overseeing the areas of scientific study and research, including behavioural science, brain mapping, experimental drugs, [hypnotic] induction techniques, and how to implement training more quickly and reliably.

They truly do follow the "scientific method", and have numerous national and international research protocols.

The top trainers and scientists in the group are heavily involved in this branch. Also children undergo at least some training in sciences; but the ones with a real aptitude and the right intelligence are directed here.

Those in sciences hold regular (yearly) conferences, to teach others, and in fact, teaching new techniques and disseminating the results of recent research are quite important.

Sciences also oversees such things as ensuring that training protocols based upon observation are followed, and that those involved in training and research are skilled in observing and recording changes in physiology, behaviour and stress patterns.

Sciences can include observing children behind a one-way mirror and observing normal patterns, as well as patterns when an external stimulus or change is introduced.

It may also involve monitoring how well an individual is coping with being "tanked" (placed in an isolation tank), to ensure that they aren't over-stressed.

SVALI ON THE SCHOLARSHIP BRANCH

SVALI: Scholarship is heavily involved in the oral teaching of family history; in the research and passing down of genealogy, and the study of new learning.

Languages, including learning ancient languages, goes under this branch.

More recently, training in computer science and hacking has gone under scholarship (yes, they have very, very skillful hackers).

If a tradition, oral history, or story is important to the group, it will go under scholarship.

Those heavily involved in this area are outstanding teachers, and will supplement the teaching with dramatization of the history being taught.

They are also skilled at testing knowledge.

SVALI ON THE SPIRITUAL BRANCH

SVALI: Spiritual is the branch of the group involved in spiritual enlightenment. Again, while all members undergo training in this area, those especially skilled are selected to specialize in this.

Spiritual covers the following:

- intense mentoring by one's spiritual mentor, a person skilled in this area;
- the ability to travel dimensions and through time, psychically travel ("out of body");
- strength in power battles;
- the ability to wound or kill others psychically, and other paranormal phenomena.

Training in spiritual can include being tortured, and then passing to another dimension and reporting what one sees there.

Spiritual may also involve a visit to StoneHenge (yes, it really is a spiritual place for the group), going through a ceremony, and going through a portal back in time.

This training may also feature a chess game with a "chess master" with pieces that animate on the board, demonically.

Strange sounding stuff, to say the least, but this is what spiritual does. They are also in charge of rituals, or what is sometimes referred to as "slicing and dicing" by those who are not in spiritual.

WHAT ARE THE "TWELVE STEPS OF ENLIGHTENMENT?"

WILCOCK: Also if you could spell out in detail what these 12 steps of so-called enlightenment are, that would also be beneficial in helping to track how you say some Hollywood films try to teach it.

People might also see that it was not something you would have invented off the top of your head because it is probably quite comprehensive, albeit confused and distorted because of what it obviously leads to.

SVALI: In my book, "Breaking the Chain", I outline these. [Here is a current link to it on the website containing her material.]

Basically, the goal of these steps is the ultimate goal of enlightenment: to become a god. The Illuminati believe that the truly enlightened, at the top of the journey, become a god -- they really do.

This is the aim of all the pain, torment, and training for these people.

And some of the top trainers (such as Mengele, and others I knew) had parts inside that really did believe they were a "god", and insisted on being addressed as so.

THE FIRST THREE STEPS

SVALI: The first three steps involve abandonment, not wanting and not needing, or a breaking away from physical needs.

The child is conditioned to [1] never ask, [2] never want, and [3] never need through horrific experiences and teaching sessions.

These are designed to break down their will and sense of self; and teach them to look to external people for cues as to what they should want.

STEPS THREE THROUGH SIX

SVALI: The next three steps involve a breaking away from emotional relationship with others.

[4] To hurt is love; [5] to care brings pain, and at step six, [6] betrayal is the greatest good.

The child is taught to rely first and foremost upon themselves, and to never trust another.

A lot of spiritual training is also put in at this point. For instance, the child will have a trusted spiritual mentor, who has been a patient teacher for years.

Suddenly, the mentor turns on the child, and tries to kill them psychically, forcing the child to call on their own psychic protector (demon) to save their life.

If the child fails the test, they may die or be wounded terribly, and take months to recover.

Those who pass are able to fight their mentor and maintain, but at great spiritual cost, since protectors always take their "pound of flesh" emotionally and spiritually in return for sparing a child's life (they don't do this out of kindness).

STEPS SEVEN THROUGH NINE

SVALI: The next three steps instill deep loyalty (7-9), with the directives to [7] never disobey, [8] never question and to [9] protect the triad (the three adults the child is enmeshed with through a trauma bond).

This is the point where most of the assassin training is put in as well, and also suicide programming.

(For example: the child is given the command to suicide by their trainer. They must actually be falling down onto a knife to pass this test. The trainer and two assistants stop the child before they can succeed).

TEN THROUGH TWELVE: SPECIALIZATION IN THE CHOSEN BRANCH

I am sorry if this is upsetting for you to read. Some people will have no trouble with it. Others will be feeling extremely saddened, terrified and depressed at this point. I do understand that.

These overwhelming emotions have served very well in stopping us from studying and understanding the problem on any widespread level – but unless we know what's going on, we cannot expect it to stop.

As you can see, these "stages of enlightenment" are nothing more than horrific abuse and trauma, leading to a fully suicidal personality. Such trauma also makes a person capable of committing murder.

Svali later clarified, in a short letter, that the last three stages are different, depending upon which branch the child has chosen and / or has been selected for.

Each branch has different requirements for leadership. Many children are unable to move past even the ninth stage – where they protect the lives of their abusers over their own.

The farther a child can go through these last three stages, the higher and more influential they will become in the Order – and in the public eye, particularly in Leadership, Media and Military.

Leadership graduates may become politicians, church leaders, judges or heads of corporations, for example.

Media graduates may end up as visible actors on television and film, news journalists or career musicians – though not all of them will work in the public eye.

Military graduates may end up with commanding positions for national defense in their native country, but may also work behind the scenes – such as for defense contractors.

SVALI EXPLAINS STAGES TEN THROUGH TWELVE

SVALI: 10-12 are steps of leadership; at the end of level 12, the child will have received their diamond. [This is a ring worn in ceremonies to connote high rank.]

Examples at one step are military leadership, with lessons taught such as, "If one member of the group is holding the others back, and it places your unit in danger, get rid of them (and they don't mean send the person home)".

At this point, the child will have shown their area of expertise, and is considered an adult within the group after passing the highest level they will achieve (not all children go to level 12; some go to level 9, 10, or 11).

I hope this is helpful.

Best wishes,
svali

HOW, WHEN AND WHERE DO THEY HAVE THEIR MEETINGS?

Many people don't see how it would be possible for a group like this to function with such secrecy in the course of people's daily lives.

Svali's key article explaining how, when and where this group meets is "A Day in the Life of a Trainer." Here are some of the highlights:

http://www.suite101.com/article.cfm/ritual_abuse/84219

9:30 I get ready to go to bed. I have to get ten to twelve hours of sleep a night, or I am completely exhausted. Many times, I fall asleep reading to my two children.

Just before falling asleep, I say to my husband, "Remember" and give him the code that lets us know we have to wake up later....

1:00 am. My husband wakes me up. He and I take turns being the one to wake up the others. We don't need an alarm, because our internal body clocks wake us up. I am in my sweats, I fell asleep dressed to make it easier when I rise in the middle of the night....

"Get the kids," he says in a low tone. I go upstairs and tell them, "Get ready, now."

They are up instantly, completely obedient which is very different from during the day. Quickly, silently they put their shoes on and I take them down to the car.

My husband drives, I am in the passenger seat. He drives with the headlights off until we are on the road so we won't wake our neighbors up....

WHAT HAPPENS ONCE THEY ARRIVE?

1:20 am We are at the first checkpoint at the military base. We drove in the back entrance and are waved through, the lookouts recognize our car and our license plates. They would stop anyone who wasn't familiar or authorized to be there.

We will pass two more checkpoints before coming to the meeting area. It is at a large field on a major marine base that includes hundreds of acres.

Small tents are erected, and temporary bases set up for the night's exercises. We come either here, or to one of three different meeting places, three times a week.

People are chatting and drinking coffee. There are a lot of friendships here, because everyone is working towards the same goal. The work is intense and the friendships are just as intense....

I go to the tent to change into my uniform. We all wear uniforms at night, and we all have ranks too, based on how high we are in the group and how well we do....

1:45 am We start going to our assigned tasks....

3:30 We have changed out of our uniforms, which are placed in a special hamper to be cleaned. My clothes, which were neatly folded on a shelf are back on, and we are all in the car on the way home....

4:00 am We are home and collapse into bed, instantly asleep....

7:00 am I wake up to the alarm, tired. It seems I am always tired, and this morning I have a slight headache. I hurry to get the kids up and get ready to teach another day.

REVIEW AND ANALYSIS

As you can see from Svali's testimony, they have meetings two or three times a week.

The three most frequent locations for meetings would be military bases, private estates and Masonic lodges, though some meetings are apparently held in churches as well.

On those nights, a member's first sleep cycle will be almost three and a half hours, from 9:30-9:45 until 1AM. Then three more hours of sleep occur between 4AM and 7AM, adding up to a total of six.

This is how the members of this group can have a sustainable lifestyle – though the traumas they go through obviously are a major cause of the constant fatigue Svali reported having.

Each meeting allows for 10-15 minutes of social time at the beginning, and over an hour and a half of focused work in their chosen area of specialty.

If there are three meetings a week, that allows for over four and a half hours of highly specialized training per week: 18 hours a month and 216 hours a year.

Svali also said that some of these meetings are specifically ceremonial in nature – such as re-enactments of historical events. These ceremonies would help to increase a sense of group cohesiveness.

You can certainly read more about all this if you like, but I have made an effort to trim out the discussions of abuse and trauma so you can more easily understand how this works.

Click on the first "Next" link below as we head into the next section -- showing how the Illuminati discussion has now affected the "Real World" we all have to share.

POSSIBLE PHYSICAL PROOF OF SVALI'S ASSERTIONS

I have asked Svali and other insiders if I inadvertently stumbled over a “ritual site” back in 1990, in Scotia, New York – and they said it probably was.

Let me say, up front, that I do not believe the vast majority of Masons have any knowledge of these activities, nor anything to do with them. I feel it would be grossly unfair to blame them for this.

We did reveal how Masonic oaths could be used to conceal damaging secrets. However, that doesn't change the fact that most Masons are good, kind-hearted people who do not want to participate in anything nefarious.

Approximately one mile away from a Masonic lodge in my home town of Scotia, New York, just east of Collins Lake, Sunnyside Avenue became a bridge that crossed over railroad tracks.

In 1990, a friend of mine was riding his motorcycle under this bridge when he saw something truly terrifying. He rushed over to my house and told me I had to come see it right away.

He wouldn't say more.

I went there with him and was shocked by what I saw. It was a gigantic, Egyptian Left Eye of Horus – the classic Illuminati symbol – painted in full colors -- bright red, bright blue, bright yellow, jet-black and white -- under the bridge.

The spots of dirt on the Eye are my footprints from the day before. The Eye is about 40 feet wide.

The paint was very fresh, colorful and crisp in 1990. There was no other graffiti in the area. Not a single thing other than this Eye. No other designs. No scribbles. Nothing. Just the Eye.

I was surprised at how little it had degraded, overall, when I went back to photograph it in 2004. There was a lot of new graffiti, but nothing else even came close to the Eye in the quality of its execution.

Admittedly I was terrified to go there and do this, but I did it anyway.

GRAFFITI NEXT TO THE EYE SOUNDED LIKE THE KU KLUX KLAN

In this next image, I used simple Transform filters in Photoshop to get the Eye looking the way it did when it was originally drawn – before they drafted it all out as a mural, using the bricks as a grid.

What I found even more troubling was that when I returned there in summer 2004, I found extremely hateful, and in some cases satanic graffiti – particularly under the opposite side of the bridge.

Jews and African-Americans were specifically targeted. Swastikas were drawn, as well as other symbols I could not identify. Next you will see one of the (believe it or not) less-offensive but nonetheless all-inclusive examples.

I went back a third time in winter 2004 and captured video film of this and much more of what was under there. I drive directly from the Masonic Lodge, around the corner, down the street, park in the lot, walk to the bridge, go under the bridge and see this.

My friend and I both felt an oppressive sense of evil when we were there in 1990. We realized that people could do ceremonies under this bridge and be undetected. There was a huge parking area nearby.

Back at the time we had no idea that there would be a connection between Egyptian symbols and black magic rituals – but why else would someone paint this huge, utterly perfect Eye, and not one other thing?

It was also strange to go back in 2004 and see that someone had repainted the Eye any time other graffiti was placed over it -- such as the "tags" of whomever called himself "M-Side."

Paint seems to degrade very fast on concrete, particularly in cold climates. Graffiti I see on a regular walk I take has already faded almost to invisibility in less than a year. It would appear the Eye has enjoyed regular upkeep and maintenance since I first saw it.

I really didn't understand what I saw, or how it all fit together, until I read Still's book in December 1996 – and particularly after reading Svali, beginning in 2001.

THE WEIRDEST, SCARIEST THING FROM MY CHILDHOOD

As I read Svali, I also felt like I finally had an explanation for something my parents saw one night, when I was maybe seven years old, that utterly terrified them with supernatural dread.

The house across the street from us was owned by a successful local car dealer. At the far south end of our street lived a family that owned a local oil company, a local bank, and also won positions in local elections.

In the middle of the night, my parents watched at least three different couples walk down the street and enter the house across the way from us.

There were no lights on outside or inside the house. They did not knock – they just opened the door and walked in. They walked almost like a military march – no talking, no gesturing, just very stiff.

My father was completely terrified and told us never to say anything to anyone about this. Neither of my parents like it when I ask them to tell me the story – and it's always the same after all these years.

At least one of the couples they saw was Masonic. Mr. W was an elderly member of the Masons. His wife was a member of Eastern Star, the female version of Masonry.

We had at least three elderly male Masons and their wives living on our street – the Ws, the Fs and the Ms – all within no more than four houses' distance from the one across from us. These were probably the people my parents saw.

The Ms were an Italian family that owned a local shoe repair shop. I wondered if there was a mafia connection, as periodically they would host large parties where lots of cigars were smoked.

Down the north end of the street, we had a group of guys stand in formation, wear kilts and play bagpipes every year. This would happen for one or two days. They were rehearsing for a local parade.

LET'S NOT FORGET THE POSITIVE SIDE

Both of these things really happened to me as a kid. What my parents saw was very real. The eye under the bridge was very real. Later on, all this research helped me put the pieces together.

You may be having a very strongly negative reaction as the full scope of this investigation becomes clear. You may feel too sick to keep reading, but you still want to. I do understand that.

That Eye really freaked me out when I was a high school student. It was way too perfect to have been done for no reason.

When I read Svali's materials in the summer of 2001, I felt like the world was closing in on me. I had trouble sleeping and I felt a continuing sense of dread and anxiety.

Unlike many people, I did not have reactions of denial, ridicule, sarcasm and hatred. I had too much of a background – too much education – to fall into that trap.

The only way I could read about all of this was to take it in small doses, which I would then balance out with reading positive, uplifting inspirational material.

It took months for me to work through the grief, fear and disgust that came up for me as I learned about all of this. I have since become vastly more confident in a positive outcome.

This is our planet. This is who we have living here. This is the situation. I do believe in positive, angelic forces guiding and protecting our planet – and I also believe they need our help.

One of the strongest inspirations I saw in Svali's testimony was the fact that the vast majority of these people don't like what is happening to them, and would get out and help the world if they could.

The same thing happened during the Anti-Masonic Revolt of 1826 to circa 1840.

WILCOCK PUBLISHED AN INVESTIGATION UNDER A PSEUDONYM IN 2003

When I read Svali, I had seven years of studying and integrating Finney's book into my daily thoughts, and five years to take in the much bigger picture of the history and goals of the "Illuminati" revealed in Still's book.

I was stunned by the degree to which Svali's testimony validated these provable, historical facts. Furthermore, there was plenty of evidence in the present world that such a group did exist.

This included a wide variety of movies that I would have never shown any interest in watching – but once I knew what to look for, I considered this to be a necessary form of research.

I did not want to publish my findings about all of this on my own website, under my own name, at the time, though I have since lost that fear.

On July 27, 2003 I briefly took on the pseudonym "Art Aqua" and published a comprehensive investigation of Svali and various corollary materials on Joe Mason and Dee Finney's website GreatDreams.com.

I wrote about the Eye, but I couldn't remember where it was at the time – and didn't have pictures. I retraced my footsteps on a trip to New York the following summer and found it.

IF YOU WANT MORE PROOF, WATCH CERTAIN MOVIES

Certain Hollywood films provide excellent proof to validate Svali's testimony once you know what you are looking for. In many, many cases, the agendas of this group are being presented in these movies.

I revealed the best examples in Part Three of my investigation, with specific details.

There have obviously been others since 2003 – but I largely abandoned this 'research' practice as it was emotionally disruptive. Each time I saw one I was vividly reminded of how real this all is.

Three films that actually exposed the group's agenda – albeit in a very creepy and disturbing way – were David Lynch's Mulholland Drive, Stanley Kubrick's Eyes Wide Shut and The Skulls.

Two of the most popular film series of all time directly expose their agenda in thinly-veiled symbolism, thus helping to ensure their defeat: The Lord of the Rings series and the Star Wars series.

Additional expose' films include Dr. Strangelove, The Parallax View, and both versions of The Manchurian Candidate.

Other than many obvious examples of horror films, the movies I saw that seemed to most directly promote this group's agenda, as I discussed in detail, are:

The Lawnmower Man, Independence Day, Starship Troopers, Total Recall, Fight Club, The Cell, The Devil's Advocate, The Game, Conspiracy Theory, A Beautiful Mind, Signs, X-Men I and II, The Matrix, The Matrix Reloaded, Face/Off, Tomb Raider, The Core, DareDevil, Hulk and Terminator III.

I apologize to M. Night Shyamalan for having included "Signs" in this list, as I do not believe he is a member of this group – only that they liked his concept.

BLATANT EXAMPLES IN THE RECENT PAST

Since 2003, there have been other blatant examples. I was stunned when I watched Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban, as the treatment of Gary Oldman's character "Sirius Black" seemed to precisely mirror how Svali says this group sees Lucifer.

The power battles against "Dementors" in that movie were quite disturbing for a children's movie as well. In the series finale, Harry has to let Voldemort kill him in order to "win" – another common theme.

Batman Begins and The Dark Knight Rises are both loaded with obvious correlations once you've familiarized yourself with Svali's material. The villains are used to reveal the group's agenda.

A Series of Unfortunate Events is one of the most blatant examples of all time – almost like a love letter from the group to its own children. The All-Seeing Eye appears constantly in this movie.

The Golden Compass was a big-budget flop that is thoroughly loaded with symbolism and programming.

The Imaginarium of Doctor Parnassus, Heath Ledger's last film before his drug overdose, is an extremely obvious example – and reveals that the group knows they are losing, and desperately need a pep talk.

Inception is so closely related to the "training" Svali discusses that it would seem its ultimate creators must have been fans of her website – and / or that she is telling us the truth.

I went back and watched Dark City upon recommendation, and this also had many correlations. ExistenZ is another older (1999) example that seems heavily influenced by the group. Be warned that both of these films are difficult and disturbing to watch, although ExistenZ is also corny and lacks believability.

Hundreds of thousands, if not millions of people are now investigating this subject and looking for examples. Certain music videos are quite blatant as well as certain video games.

THERE IS MASSIVE RESISTANCE – INCLUDING FROM THE MILITARY ITSELF

You have probably seen at least a few of the movies I've just mentioned. Now that I'm finally giving you all the pieces I've been putting together, you may very well be feeling overwhelmed.

That's exactly what they want.

Denial is their first line of defense – creating a sarcastic disbelief in which people boost their egos by convincing themselves this is all a joke, and then attacking and humiliating anyone discussing it.

Their next line of defense is fear. The people within this group do literally believe that if you fear them, you worship them. They see fear and worship as interchangeable.

There are many, many people who begin acquiring knowledge about this group, but then conclude it is completely hopeless for anyone to stand up to them.

I do not fear them. I published this all at once for my own protection. We had hundreds of letters asking me when this would be finished, but for my own safety it was important that it all come out at once.

I understand we have a very serious problem – and I have now had contact with a massive 122-nation alliance that has formed to solve it.

Particularly since 9/11, a majority of the active and retired United States military has become completely aware of this group, its agendas and ultimate intentions – and apparently intends to stop them.

Fulford's Pentagon sources assert that we will soon see mass arrests. There may be a public unveiling of evidence like what I have presented. This "history lesson" may soon become common knowledge.

THINK BACK TO THE ANTI-MASONIC REBELLION

There is a historical precedent for what could be about to happen now.

180 years ago the Anti-Masonic Revolt was in full swing. A staggering 45,000 out of 50,000 Masons fled the group once they realized they could. Masonry was nearly destroyed in America as a result.

These people had taken their oaths. They were well aware of the secrecy, preferential treatment and loyalty they had sworn to uphold – upon pain of death.

Nonetheless, after this happened they became some of America's strongest and bravest allies.

Using this written history as our guide, let's again remember what Svali said:

<http://svalispeaks.wordpress.com/2008/09/12/part-7-illuminati-symbols-and-clues-level-of-infiltration/>

3. Most of them are wounded, abused victims, who don't realize that it is possible to leave the group.

There is a lot of discontent in the ranks, and there would be a mass exodus if the members believed it were really possible to get out (and live).

Many of the trainers I knew (I know, wicked, torturing pedophiles) were NOT happy with what they did.

They would whisper quietly, or give a look, to show that they disagreed with what they had to do.

PROJECTION IS A CLASSIC TRAP

There is an incredibly vast amount of material about the Illuminati on the Internet. Much of it is of very poor and unconvincing quality.

The overwhelming majority of these articles are loaded with anger, victimhood and the witch-burning mentality. I hardly ever see any acknowledgement of the humanity of the people stuck in these groups.

I believe this "projected" anger happens when we cannot face our own shadow side – the pain, humiliation and sense of inadequacy and defeat that goes back to early childhood, when we first heard the word "NO".

This buried shame can lead to the use of alcohol and drugs to numb it out, as well as many other addictive and compulsive behaviors.

Unhealed pain creates a 'victim' mentality, in which we are constantly searching for an external enemy to blast with our repressed rage. We project this rage onto a convenient, easy target.

If we can blame someone for why we feel bad, then for a short time we feel better.

If we haven't forgiven and accepted ourselves, and those who hurt us, and stepped into a true knowing of our own value, we will keep seeking revenge over and over again.

This is nothing short of an epidemic in our society. Just look at the comments on any YouTube video as an obvious example.

THERE ARE ALREADY SIGNS OF REBELLION

The "Internet Conspiracy Theorists" channel this repressed rage and self-loathing into a mythical scenario that is extremely destructive to individuals, groups and nations.

Many of them seem utterly incapable of healing, or even realizing what they're doing.

In this scenario, it becomes black and white. God Versus Satan. People versus Things. Good Guys versus Bad Guys. Us Versus Them.

Look at what happens when you think like this. Everyone in the government is the enemy. Everyone in the military is the enemy. Everyone in a corporation is the enemy. Everyone in the media is the enemy.

Our warriors have pledged their lives to protect us. That is a truly valiant sacrifice. Our own fathers and brothers paid the ultimate price for our freedom -- with their blood.

I will not dishonor the brave men and women of our armed forces by suggesting, for even one minute, that "they are all in on it."

Some of them are. Absolutely. But most of them are not. They have chosen to risk torture and potentially sacrifice their lives to protect the will, the freedom, the safety and the lives of the people.

They have not chosen to increase the comforts of a small group of wealthy bankers.

Anyone who works inside or outside the system, and chooses to stand and fight, has become a soldier for Truth -- protecting the people who are still half-"asleep" and cowering in fear.

We have a word for those who stand and fight to protect and defend others. They are called heroes.

HEROES IN THE MEDIA AND MILITARY

One of the most heroic exposures of Truth, paving the way for much more that will follow, aired on CNN in January, 2010. Videos of this stunning expose are still available.

I have transcribed this clip in case it should ever be taken offline, as the information is too important to ignore. It features an interview between Anderson Cooper and Republican senator Charles Grassley.

This expose' could not have come about without the coordinated, heroic efforts of military, media and governmental officials. I first wrote about it here, in 2010.

ANDERSON COOPER: Keeping them honest tonight. Potentially hundreds of military employees and contractors who may have bought child pornography online, and haven't been prosecuted or in some cases even investigated.

That's right, you heard me. Child pornography. As many as 1700 names, according to a US Senator, on a list of 5200 from an Internet sting operation – overlooked the first time around, four years ago.

Only now are they supposedly getting a second look, and only after pressure from investigative reporters and the US Senator you are about to hear from – Republican Charles Grassley.

The Pentagon porn story began in 2006. An immigration and customs enforcement child pornography sting operation called Project Flicker produced payment records of about 5200 people – many of whom provided Army or fleet zip codes, or military email addresses.

Subsequently, the Pentagon's investigative branch, DCIS, began going through the ice list to identify who actually was a DOD employee or a contractor.

The investigation, however, only ran for eight months – and only cross-checked some 3500 names for Pentagon ties, according to the senator.

According to DCIS documents, revealed in a Freedom of Information Act request, out of that 3500, investigators uncovered 264 employees or contractors – including staffers for the Secretary of Defense and contractors at the NSA.

Nine people had top security clearances. But only about 20 percent of those 264 people were completely investigated. Fewer still were prosecuted, and after about eight months, the entire probe was halted.

It left about 1700 names totally unchecked. 1700 alleged kiddie porn customers – an unknown number of whom may still work in some capacity for the Defense Department.

Late last summer, after investigations by the Boston Globe and Yahoo News revealed the figures, a Pentagon spokesman promised to re-open the investigation, conceding that DCIS had stopped due to lack of resources.

DCIS says it is now revisiting all 5200 names, telling Senator Grassley's staff they have now identified 302 employees or staffers. The Pentagon's IG telling us, quote,

“Any suggestion that the D.O.D. Office of Inspector General or its criminal investigative arm, the DCIS, is not taking Operation Flicker and the issue of child pornography seriously is in error.”

Senator Grassley says he is still not getting the cooperation he needs from the Pentagon. I spoke to him earlier.... [snip]

AC: One of your staffers told us that getting information from the Defense Department on this has been like pulling teeth. Is that how you'd describe it?

SG: I've been involved in oversight of the Defense Department for almost all the years I've been in the United States senate.

It is very difficult to get answers from a lot of bureaucracies, but it's quite more difficult in the Defense Department.

AC: Senator Grassley, I appreciate your time. We will continue to follow this. Thank you.

TWO WARRING FACTIONS IN THE PENTAGON

What you are seeing here is the result of two warring factions in the Pentagon. The minority “Illuminati” loyal faction still enjoys an institutionalized cover-up that protects certain members from being prosecuted.

Based on firsthand witnesses leaking intel to former Forbes bureau chief Benjamin Fulford, we have every reason to believe that the majority of the Pentagon, and the military, are fully aware of this problem.

They have listened to the will of the people – particularly since 9/11 – and they intend to do their job to protect the people... and save our planet from a plan that very few people really want.

If the rumors Fulford is hearing are correct, such an operation would have required an extraordinary degree of international cooperation and secrecy – and stunningly deep espionage.

Pentagon sources have said the trillion-dollar lawsuit I have reported on, and will cover again here, is one of several key strategies to make us aware of the urgent need for these mass arrests.

The group must be tackled by strictly legal means, so there is no possibility of confusion. Then, in the ensuing investigation, many other suppressed truths will emerge.

David DeGraw covered many of the under-reported news stories behind this takedown on September 3, 2011, in an article entitled Full-Blown Civil War Erupts on Wall Street. These stories are still extremely current.

A WORLD EVENT MUCH BIGGER THAN 9/11 IN SCOPE AND IMPACT

Cell phone and Internet service will nearly grind to a halt if / when something like this happens. Twitter and Facebook will overload and crash. It will be much bigger than 9/11 in scope.

Undoubtedly, many people will believe this is a worldwide military coup, and be terrified by it.

Nonetheless, I feel confident that the Pentagon and their international allies wouldn't do this unless they had information that will leave little doubt of the need for action – and for why it had to be done.

I am not in denial. Neither should you be. Facts are facts. This group exists. The media can't talk about it without being killed. A coalition of the willing is increasingly rising up to defeat Financial Tyranny.

By writing this and setting it free to the Internet, I have done my part. I have never seen any other presentation of this data all in one place, with the full sensitivity to the history involved.

I have no involvement in this possible military operation other than to have written this investigation -- to help pave the way for the major changes and the complete honesty and truth-telling that is required.

I do not believe we will be 'rescued' by UFOs, ETs, angels or otherwise. While I do admittedly believe in such things, I also feel that this is our problem – and we are the ones who have to solve it.

In this sense, the military would merely become the instrument for the will of the people. We have said what we want, on a massive level. You can help by understanding what is coming, in advance -- and helping to educate your friends and family, to reduce propaganda and panic, once it actually occurs. I very much believe it will.

We may never be able to predict how this change will occur, but I do believe events are now reaching a critical mass. Powerful alliances and opposing factions are closing in on this group from all sides.

I will now cover some additional, critical evidence before we head into a discussion of the lawsuit itself, and present the back-story and supporting material that I have only recently been made aware of.

This will be the last of the material that is upsetting to read. It is important to understand that the Penn State trial is only a brief glimmer into the world of organized pedophilia – and it must be stopped.

NAMBLA

If you go to NAMBLA.org, you will find the official website of the North American Man-Boy Love Association. Seriously.

Just the name sounds like the punch line of a joke – and Season Four, Episode Six of South Park, "Cartman Joins NAMBLA," was devoted to it.

I feel this episode is crude and insensitive, as are almost all of them – yet humor was used to expose a very real problem.

Most of the people watching this episode had no idea that NAMBLA is a real organization – and are disturbed if and when they find out the truth.

The NAMBLA logo features an offset, capital M and a lower-case B. Any image or video file will have a certain number of “megabytes” on a computer.

Megabytes are also delineated as Mb – the “Man-Boy” within the NAMBLA logo.

Therefore, the NAMBLA logo implies that by becoming a member of this group, you will have access to the same “Man-Boy” materials Anderson Cooper and Senator Grassley said were being downloaded by various members of the Department of Defense.

AN EXCERPT FROM THE NAMBLA WEBSITE

Since NAMBLA receives hardly any media coverage whatsoever, I have found that even very open-minded, clear-thinking people have a hard time believing me when I tell them about it.

Yet, you can go to their website yourself and see how extensive it is. This excerpt says it all:

<http://www.nambla.org/welcome.html>

WELCOME! The North American Man/Boy Love Association (NAMBLA) was formed in 1978....

NAMBLA is strongly opposed to age-of-consent laws and all other restrictions which deny men and boys the full enjoyment of their bodies and control over their own lives....

We call for fundamental reform of the laws regarding relations between youths and adults....

We provide factual information and help educate society about the positive and beneficial nature of man/boy love.

Other parts of the NAMBLA website feature graphic fantasy descriptions of erotic encounters between men and boys, clearly intended to help pedophiles get “in the mood.”

Again: just as Svali said, this is right out in the open – but no one seems to be paying attention.

NAMBLA WAS INFILTRATED BY THE F.B.I.

The “good guys” in the FBI created a long-term sting operation against NAMBLA – thanks to the work of Bob Hamer, a 30-year veteran operative who spent three years infiltrating the organization.

A 1995 FBI investigation revealed NAMBLA had 1,100 registered members. The article featuring this information appears to be blocked – I had to leave it up on my browser for hours before it loaded.

FBI targets pedophilia advocates

SAVE THIS EMAIL THIS PRINT THIS MOST POPULAR

Little-known group promotes 'benevolent' sex

By Onell R. Soto

UNION-TRIBUNE STAFF WRITER

10:08 p.m. February 17, 2005

On its Web site and newsletters, the North American Man/Boy Love Association advocates sex between men and boys and cites ancient Greece to justify the practice.

It goes by the acronym NAMBLA, and the FBI has been following it for years, linking it to pedophilia and recently infiltrating it with an agent successful enough to be asked to join the group's steering committee.

Agent Bob Hamer ultimately wrote The Last Undercover – The True Story of an FBI Agent's Dangerous Dance with Evil, a groundbreaking book about his investigation.

This book is currently available for free download here. Please donate or buy the hardcover version to support Hamer's work.

As this next video shows, Hamer discovered that this group was primarily focused on coordinating efforts to find and have sex with boys – not as the legal lobbying group it claimed to be.

Unfortunately, Hamer's investigation did not go very far up the ladder – but the Franklin Cover-Up revealed much more, thanks in part to the testimony of Paul Bonacci, a child NAMBLA victim.

THE FRANKLIN SCANDAL AND COVER-UP

The original book investigating these issues, The Franklin Cover-Up, features graphic descriptions of ritual abuse and murder similar to what you find in some of Svali's materials – which I did not publish here.

The author, a 16-year senator from Nebraska, tells his story in the documentary A Conspiracy of Silence, which got pulled from Discovery Channel before airing in 1994 – but is now widely available on YouTube.

More recently, Nick Bryant wrote The Frankin Scandal – and substantially added to the scope and the amount of provable data in this investigation.

Bryant's book is also written with much greater sensitivity to the reader – and does not provide the graphic depictions of abuse that make The Franklin Cover-Up so difficult to read.

This Amazon review of Bryant's book by "Puzzlenomics" reveals the scope of what it contains.

http://www.amazon.com/Franklin-Scandal-Story-Powerbrokers-Betrayal/product-reviews/0977795357/ref=cm_cr_pr_btm_link_3?ie=UTF8&showViewpoints=0&pageNumber=3&sortBy=bySubmissionDateDescending

I applaud Nick Bryant for bravely and selflessly investigating the inner workings of local, state, and federal officials to conceal the sexual terrorism, murder, and blackmail of many Nebraskan underage children by some of America's most affluent, successful, and revered men in government, law enforcement, education, and clergy....

In this utterly disturbing work, Bryant deftly elucidates the confluence of the "real" powers within our taxpayer-funded government to craftily coordinate assets within key judicial, media, and law enforcement agencies to effect its will to suppress worldwide exposure of a possibly CIA-sponsored (blackmail) operation -- pandering minors to some of the country's most influential, affluent, and powerful men in business, media, and government.

This network of judges, policemen, lawyers, FBI agents, and media figures is so extensive, so deep, that the "powers" seemingly have an inexhaustible supply of "assets" ready to carry out their assigned tasks at a moment's notice.

NAMBLA INVOLVED IN CHILD SEX TRAFFICKING

Paul Bonacci was directly involved in the Franklin cover-up, and is featured in the book. You can see part of Bonacci's testimony about NAMBLA to FBI agent Ted Gunderson in this video.

In The Franklin Cover-Up, Bonacci claims that NAMBLA was used to coordinate child auctions.

<https://s3.amazonaws.com/bk1/bk2/the-franklin-coverup.pdf>

229: The North American Man-Boy Love Association, or NAMBLA, figured prominently in what else Bonacci could recall.

The motto of NAMBLA is "Sex before eight, or it's too late." Bonacci reports... that he witnessed NAMBLA-organized auctions of children.

300: Paul Bonacci reports... trips on behalf of the North American Man-Boy Love Association (NAMBLA), the pedophile group now given semi-official status by the United Nations.

Paul cites travel to the Netherlands and Germany carrying child pornography for subsequent "import" to the U.S.A. to avoid prosecution.

In Amsterdam, he names "Charles Hester," and the British "Tommie Carter," who had on computer a global list of child pornography users. NAMBLA is also cited for organizing auctions of children.

AN IMPORTANT CLARIFICATION

It is a misnomer to think that most of these children are being snatched off the street. If parents have their children take normal precautions outdoors, they should be fine.

The evidence does not support paranoid assertions that most missing children were dragged into pedophile rings that may be organized by groups like NAMBLA.

The reality is that many of these kids were sexually abused by their parents first, and the parents were offered freedom in exchange for allowing their children to participate in "medical experiments."

Many, if not most of the kids involved in this are from within the group itself, or "sister groups" that work with the Illuminati. Some kids are specifically trained to specialize in this kind of work.

I am not at all trying to cover for this group. Nor does this in any way undermine the seriousness of what is going on, or of the need for it to be stopped immediately.

I just do not want loving parents to be living in constant fear when the odds are extremely small that anything like this would happen to their children.

FAMOUS CHILD ACTORS COME FORWARD

Regardless of what you may think about FOX, they have very bravely carried this and other shocking and important stories -- and for that they deserve credit.

In December 2011, three new witnesses joined the team of former child actors claiming they were repeatedly sexually abused in the film and television industry – going back to the 1950s.

<http://www.foxnews.com/entertainment/2011/12/05/recent-charges-sexual-abuse-children-in-hollywood-just-tip-iceberg-experts-say/>

If a spate of recent allegations proves true, Hollywood may have a hideous epidemic on its hands. The past two weeks have brought three separate reports of alleged child sexual abuse in the entertainment industry....

Revelations of this sort come as no surprise to former child star Corey Feldman.

Feldman, 40, himself a survivor of childhood sexual abuse, unflinchingly warned of the world of pedophiles who are drawn to the entertainment industry last August.

"I can tell you that the No. 1 problem in Hollywood was and is and always will be pedophilia," Feldman told ABC's Nightline. "That's the biggest problem for children in this industry... It's the big secret."

Another child star from an earlier era agrees that Hollywood has long had a problem with pedophilia.

"When I watched that interview, a whole series of names and faces from my history went zooming through my head," Paul Peterson, 66, star of The Donna Reed Show, a sitcom popular in the 1950s and 60s, and president of A Minor Consideration, tells FOXNews.com.

"Some of these people, who I know very well, are still in the game."

"This has been going on for a very long time," concurs former "Little House on the Prairie" star Alison Arngim. "It was the gossip back in the '80s. People said, 'Oh yeah, the Coreys, everyone's had them.' People talked about it like it was not a big deal."

Arngim, 49, was referring to Feldman and his co-star in "The Lost Boys," Corey Haim, who died in March 2010 after years of drug abuse.

"I literally heard that they were 'passed around,'" Arngim said. "The word was that they were given drugs and being used for sex."

It was awful – these were kids, they weren't 18 yet. There were all sorts of stories about everyone from their, quote, 'set guardians' on down that these two had been sexually abused and were totally being corrupted in every possible way.”...

Even though Feldman spoke candidly about the abuse, he hasn't named the predator. “People don't want to talk about this because they're afraid for their careers,” says Peterson.

“From my perspective, what Corey did was pretty brave.

It would be really wonderful if his allegations reached through all of the protective layers and identified the real people who are a part of a worldwide child pornography ring, because it's huge and it respects no borders, just as it does not respect the age of the children involved.”

WHAT TO DO IF YOU ARE A VICTIM OF ABUSE

Once the secrecy around this issue is broken – and I do believe that it will be – there will be a vast, unprecedented need for psychologists, counselors and social workers to provide effective treatment.

Whether you are a victim of abuse or you find yourself in a position to help survivors, there are resources available that will greatly assist you.

The top book recommended by Svali is Breaking the Circle of Satanic Ritual Abuse: Recognizing and Recovering from the Hidden Trauma by Daniel Ryder.

Another very useful classic that focuses in more specifically on the sexual abuse aspect is The Courage to Heal, by Ellen Bass and Laura Davis.

Svali's own writings provide detailed information about how the “programming” is done, making it much easier to anticipate what could happen -- and recognize it when it does.

FURTHER COMMENTS FROM “THE FRANKLIN COVER-UP”

This comment appears on the Franklin Cover-Up Amazon page, and was written by Jed Schlackman on August 5, 2003.

http://www.amazon.com/Franklin-Cover-up-Satanism-Murder-Nebraska/dp/0963215809/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&qid=1325807271&sr=8-1

It's interesting that former CIA director Bill Colby ambiguously acknowledged to the author that the scenario described is real, and not long thereafter Colby turned up dead under suspicious circumstances.

This comment by John Doe "JD" (NJ), on February 8, 2011, also spells out a typical reaction from someone who reads the book.

This makes Rosemary's Baby and An Invitation to Hell look like bake sales. The scope of the crimes, people involved and lack of justice is overwhelming....

Chief of Police, District Judge, Senior Editor, Senator, President, Foster Care worker, FBI, is anyone in power not a raving lunatic?

Drugs, child pornography, prostitution, murder, embezzlement, satanism, all with the help of very powerful friends in Omaha and D.C.

DECAMP SAYS "GO AHEAD AND SUE ME"

This quote indicates that former Rep. DeCamp welcomes anyone to sue him if they can disprove what he has written.

Comment by Emi (MD, USA) – December 25, 2007

http://www.amazon.com/Franklin-Cover-up-Satanism-Murder-Nebraska/product-reviews/0963215809/ref=cm_cr_pr_btm_link_next_3?ie=UTF8&showViewpoints=0&pageNumber=3&sortBy=bySubmissionDateDescending

Mr. Decamp so much as said that if anyone believes that he is lying, or being untruthful about ANYTHING he's written in his book, then that person should just 'go ahead and sue him'.

He wrote that, he in fact, "welcomes" any suits that anyone would like to bring against him challenging his honesty in what he's written in this book....

Ultimately, Mr. Decamp concludes that the reason why this huge cover-up has gone on for so long, is because there are very prominent people who like where they are in the social hierarchy.

If this scandal were to reach the mainstream, then the whole "system" itself would collapse entirely, thus threatening the security of their position.

KEY QUOTES FROM FORMER CIA DIRECTOR WILLIAM COLBY

Knowing the penalty of lying in such a sensitive, controversial case, Rep. John DeCamp revealed the content of his conversations with former CIA director William Colby in the beginning of his book.

The "Larry King" being mentioned is not the former television news anchor, just to be clear.

<https://s3.amazonaws.com/bk1/bk2/the-franklin-coverup.pdf>

Colby and his wife, Sally Shelton Colby, a United States ambassador under President Jimmy Carter, were at that very moment warning me to get away from the Franklin child abuse investigation, Larry King, and anybody else linked with Franklin, as quickly as possible for the sake of my own life and safety.

Sally and Bill had never talked to me like this before. They sat me down, made it clear that this was not one of our routine discussions about life and health and happiness, and emphasized to me the serious nature of what and whom I was dealing with.

"What you have to understand, John, is that sometimes there are forces and events too big, too powerful, with so much at stake for other people or institutions, that you cannot do anything about them, no matter how evil or wrong they are and no matter how dedicated or sincere you are or how much evidence you have.

That is simply one of the hard facts of life you have to face. You have done your part. You have tried to expose the evil and wrongdoing. It has hurt you terribly. But it has not killed you up to this point.

I am telling you, get out of this before it does.

"The Central Intelligence Agency owns everyone of any significance in the major media."

William E. Colby, former Director, CIA

Sometimes things are just too big for us to deal with, and we have to step aside and let history take its course. For you, John, this is one of those times," Bill warned, with Sally nodding her head in affirmation....

"But Bill," I argued, "somebody has to do something. The problem here is that our institutions of government have been corrupted.

If there is a cover-up -- and I now absolutely believe there is, even though originally I thought this whole Franklin story had to be a fantasy -- then that cover-up can only take place with the cooperation and even the active assistance of some of our key institutions of government, from the courts to the cops, from the highest politicians, to the media representatives, to the wealthiest business leaders of our community and country.

"I can't believe what you are telling me, Bill. Are you saying I should just lay it down, and walk away from this, when I know kids are being abused and killed; when I know our most respected citizens and business leaders are up to their eyebrows in drug dealing and official corruption; when every bone in my body tells me that evil is triumphing and everybody who is anybody is scared beanless to do something about it, for fear of one thing or another?

How can any honest or intelligent person do this? If I, or someone like me, do not keep pursuing this, then who will? And if we quit now, then when, if ever, will the truth come out and something be done about this evil and this corruption?"....

"So, what's the message?" I asked. "What are you trying to tell me?"

"Sometimes," Bill said, "There are forces too powerful for us to whip them individually, in the time frame that we would like.

We have to keep working at our goal. But we have to be sensible enough, not to risk everything and get ourselves destroyed or killed in the process. That victory we seek may take much longer than we wanted, and come in ways we never anticipated."

I believe that victory that Colby spoke of – and may have been killed for – is upon us now.

I also want to be clear in saying that not everyone in these insider groups is a pedophile. The problem is that some of them are – and the group as a whole is concealing their crimes.

Now we will turn our discussion back to subjects that are a lot easier to talk about – with a greater focus on the solutions that are now emerging.

PUBLIC OUTRAGE REACHES A NEW EXTREME

This stunning Federal Reserve bailout figure of 26 trillion dollars, and other evidence like it, has directed the people's wrath towards the financial industry... rather than the elected government.

Nothing like this has ever happened before.

Millions of people have taken to the streets in the "Occupy Wall Street" movement. It has pulled back due to cold weather, fatigue and threats of arrest, but is certainly far from over.

By October 10, 2011, the movement had spread to fully 900 different cities:

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/10/10/occupy-wall-street_n_1002809.html?ref=occupy-wall-street

Occupy Wall Street, a movement that began as a small band of protesters in Zuccotti Park, gained endorsements from major unions and progressive leaders as well as prominent politicians.

Within a few short weeks, it has come to resemble a movement with more than 900 meetups in 900 cities across the country.

It has even gone international with Occupy sites in Australia and London and other cities saddled with long unemployment lines, gross income disparities, and hapless politicians.

THE "1 PERCENT" ARE SCARED OUT OF THEIR WITS... BELIEVE IT

I do believe the "1 percent" are scared out of their wits of a mass, public uprising. I believe there is clear evidence to prove it.

We've already seen Occupy Wall Street protestors gathering directly in front of the homes of key figures in financial and media corporations:

http://money.cnn.com/2011/10/10/news/economy/occupy_wall_street_protest/index.htm

NEW YORK (CNMoney) -- Occupy Wall Street is on the move ... uptown.

Why uptown? Because that's where the rich folks live!

Organizers are planning a march on Tuesday that will visit the homes of JP Morgan Chase (JPM, Fortune 500) CEO Jamie Dimon, billionaire David Koch, hedge fund honcho John Paulson, Howard Milstein, and News Corp (NWSA, Fortune 500) CEO Rupert Murdoch.

The millionaires and billionaires are being targeted for what event organizers called a "willingness to hoard wealth at the expense of the 99%."

DESPERATE COUNTER-MEASURES

In desperation, the United States Congress passed the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA).

If you don't know what this is, you should. It is a declaration of war against the people of the United States by the insiders running their government:

<http://www.washingtonsblog.com/2011/12/new-bill-authorizes-rendition-of-american-citizens-living-within-the-united-states-to-other-countries-for-torture.htm>

Top experts – including the sponsors of the bill – say that the newly-passed National Defense Authorization Act authorizes indefinite detention of Americans living within the United States.

Top legal experts point out that the government claims the right to assassinate American citizens on U.S. soil without any charges, trial or other constitutional protection.

I noted last month that Congress was considering repealing prohibitions against torture. (I wrote to attorneys at the ACLU, but haven't received word yet on whether such a provision has been enacted).

However, Mother Jones notes today that Congress has explicitly authorized rendition, allowing American Citizens on U.S. soil to be sent to other countries which do torture.

NDAA -- A BLATANT COUNTER-ATTACK BY THE FEDERAL RESERVE CABAL

Here are two other articles that came out shortly after Obama actually signed the bill -- but only by adding a "signing statement" to it that attempted to de-fang it of its power.

Obama Signs NDAA Into Law – But Won't Detain Americans

<http://www.infowars.com/president-obamas-ndaa-signing-statement-i-have-the-power-to-detain-americans-but-i-wont/>

Revised Bill Still Gives Obama Right to Lock Up Citizens

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/12/13/indefinite-military-detention-defense-bill-citizens_n_1146181.html

RIFT BETWEEN CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENT

The members of Congress may be all under death threats, forcing them to sign the NDAA bill -- despite it being political suicide to do so, as it gives permission for the US to lock up its own citizens, without a trial, and throw away the key -- forever.

However, it was very clear that Obama did not want to sign it at all. He put in a "signing statement" that clearly contravened the underlying intent of the bill.

Obama Signs NDAA Bill Despite "Serious Reservations"

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/12/31/obama-defense-bill_n_1177836.html

"I have signed this bill despite having serious reservations with certain provisions that regulate the detention, interrogation, and prosecution of suspected terrorists," Obama said in the signing statement.

Presidents issue such statements when they feel a law conflicts with the executive's constitutional powers. Obama criticized them during the Bush administration, but has found the practice useful on a handful of occasions.

In this case, Obama argued that the changes Congress made to the bill affirm only authorities that the Bush and Obama administrations have already claimed in fighting terrorism.

But he noted that the codification of those powers in law was unnecessary and perhaps harmful. And he insisted he would not use the powers to detain citizens without trial.

"I want to clarify that my administration will not authorize the indefinite military detention without trial of American citizens," Obama wrote.

"Indeed, I believe that doing so would break with our most important traditions and values as a Nation.

"My administration will interpret section 1021 [of the bill] in a manner that ensures that any detention it authorizes complies with the Constitution, the laws of war, and all other applicable law."

Civil liberties advocates like Romero pointed out that once the provisions are law, however, they will be available to a President Newt Gingrich or Mitt Romney or any future president, who could choose to use the powers granted more aggressively.

"We are incredibly disappointed that President Obama signed this new law even though his administration had already claimed overly broad detention authority in court," said Romero. "Any hope that the Obama administration would roll back the constitutional excesses of George Bush in the war on terror was extinguished today."

DOES NOT APPLY TO AMERICAN CITIZENS

This article from Politics USA attempted to diminish the hysteria around this NDAA bill by explaining what this "signing statement" really means.

Others disagree with this, as we see -- but the important point is that Obama did not blindly sign it. We can clearly see that there is an epic power struggle going on, right now, at the highest levels.

It is literally quite amazing that we are seeing such a blatant example of the war between the "insider" government and the elected government -- playing out right in front of our eyes, for all to see.

The trick was that this same NDAA bill is required to make sure the military receives funding. By withholding that, the country would have been completely and utterly defenseless -- and that is an intolerable situation.

Obama's Signing Statement Prevents NDAA From Applying to American Citizens
<http://www.politicususa.com/en/obama-ndaa-statement>

Those who believe that Obama should have vetoed the NDAA don't seem to realize that what they are asking for is that the military go unfunded.

The NDAA is a yearly funding measure, and as such could be amended when a new, and hopefully saner Congress is sworn into session to remove the war on terror language that this Congress -- foolishly, in a bit of near-election-year pandering -- passed.

Too many Democrats went along with supporting the NDAA, and those members of Congress along with their detention and torture-loving GOP colleagues must be held accountable. I know that it is easier to blame the president for everything, because he is but one man, but the truth is that we need to clean out and disinfect this Congress.

Yes, Obama signed the NDAA. Even if he would have vetoed it, an override would have been likely. His veto would have been nothing more than an empty symbolic gesture that would have caused more problems than it solved.

The NDAA does a lot of things, but the one thing it does not do is authorize the detention of American citizens. As we head into to 2012, can we finally put this bogus piece of misinformation to bed?

PUBLIC OUTRAGE KEEPS GROWING AND GROWING

Obama's signing statement wasn't enough to satisfy many people. There is a growing paranoia online about the depth and severity of threat presented by this bill.

Look. It's obvious. The Federal Reserve elites are trying to scare you out of protesting, or even reading about this stuff. They want to make you afraid that you will be hauled off and thrown away. The Constitution is completely toast.

Even if Obama tried to avoid endorsing NDAA, the underlying threat it represents is so severe that no one is happy about it at all.

NDAA Outrage Continues to Grow Online – January 5, 2012
<http://www.businessinsider.com/ndaa-outrage-continues-to-grow-online-2012-1>

This is day three of living in post-NDAA America.

In case you've been living under a particularly large and comfy rock, the NDAA is a radical and dangerous bill -- which Barack Hussein Obama quietly signed into law on New Year's Eve, while almost every American was preoccupied with New Year's binge drinking.

(His administration had previously vowed to veto the NDAA, before strangely reversing course and signing it into law. He issued a signing statement saying his administration would not use the controversial indefinite detention provisions.

This promise, however, is not legally binding -- and it also does not prevent future Presidents from detaining and torturing American citizens without the right to a trial or attorney, and without bringing formal charges against them.

The signing statement is the legal equivalent of a Post-it note affixed to a manuscript.)

How bad is this law, really? Here are some experts:

Presidential candidate Ron Paul on NDAA: "...bold and dangerous attempt to establish martial law in America."

Rep. Justin Amash: NDAA was "carefully crafted to mislead the public."

Amnesty International: "Provisions that were snuck into the bill with little notice from mainstream media could spell indefinite detention without a hearing, keep Guantanamo open, and hinder fair trials."

And Americans, despite some pro-Obama spin to the contrary, are definitely targeted by NDAA's indefinite detention provisions. As Salon columnist and constitutional lawyer Glenn Greenwald explained:

"Myth #3: U.S. citizens are exempted from this new bill: This is simply false, at least when expressed so definitively and without caveats. The bill is purposely muddled on this issue which is what is enabling the falsehood."

The American broadcast media has been eerily silent on NDAA's passage into law, despite the fact that foreign newspapers and broadcast networks have been covering this as one of their top international stories.

Yesterday, however, FOX News began to let NDAA mentions seep into their news coverage....

Jonathan Turley in The Guardian \(UK\): "President Barack Obama rang in the New Year by signing the NDAA law with its provision allowing him to indefinitely detain citizens.

It was a symbolic moment, to say the least. With Americans distracted with drinking and celebrating, Obama signed one of the greatest rollbacks of civil liberties in the history of our country ... and citizens partied in unwitting bliss into the New Year.

Ironically, in addition to breaking his promise not to sign the law, Obama broke his promise on signing statements and attached a statement that he really does not want to detain citizens indefinitely."

Petitions and online protests like this one, which call for the impeachment of Obama and recall of Senators who voted in favor of NDAA, are also beginning to appear.

This should be an interesting year. If you don't see any future articles or tweets from me, you'll know I've been relocated to the Guantanamo Beach Club.

THE BRITISH TOSS IN THE IDEA THAT THE UNITED STATES IS AN "ILLEGAL" COUNTRY

In the midst of all these other things going on, I chuckled when I read this.

Still, after all these years, certain members of the British press are insinuating that the United States is an illegal country, and should still rightfully be a colony of Great Britain.

This may be another sign that we are truly reaching what some insiders have been calling a "Reset Point" -- in which geopolitical events could cause rapid, almost unprecedented changes.

SUDDEN RESIGNATION OF THE HEAD OF THE NEW YORK TIMES

In another sign of imminent trouble, breakdown and chaos at the highest levels, the head of the New York Times resigned very suddenly and out of nowhere in December.

Everyone knows newspapers are losing money. Profit losses do not explain her panicked, spontaneous and total withdrawal, as if some major disaster is about to happen and she didn't want to get caught in the middle of it.

NY Times CEO Exiting, Without Explanation

Robinson, who steered the company through one of the harshest business environments it has ever faced, underscored the struggle her company faces during a presentation at the recent UBS investor conference in New York.

The Times Co gave no explanation for Robinson's sudden departure, which caught analysts as well as company insiders by surprise.

Speculation among industry observers and the analyst community centered on the company's faltering stock price, which has declined more than 80 percent since Robinson was appointed CEO in December 2004. This year alone, shares are down nearly 25 percent....

"It is very unusual to have a long-time CEO suddenly announce her leaving within two weeks with no replacement," said Evercore Partners analyst Douglas Arthur....

Within the New York Times' newsroom, word of the shakeup began to spread about 20 minutes before the announcement.

"No one had an inkling this was coming," said a source at the paper, who declined to be named. "As recently as last week she was taking meetings with people and mapping out business plans for well into next year."...

HUFFINGTON POST SCOOPING UP JOURNALISTS

The Huffington Post has been quietly absorbing journalists who have broken away from The New York Times and other Mockingbird-dominated sources. It definitely appears that "HuffPo" is much less controlled than other, more traditional media outlets.

Mass "Defection" of NYT Reporters to HP
<http://www.wwd.com/media-news/digital/huffing-and-puffing-5331908>

Times lawyers fired off a cease-and-desist letter to Arianna Huffington on Monday, claiming that The Huffington Post's new blog, Parentlode, is a rip-off of the Times blog Motherlode and she better change the name or else.

Longtime Times writer and Motherlode founder Lisa Belkin decamped to The Huffington Post earlier this month and began writing for the new blog on Monday in a post titled, "Welcome to Parentlode."...

In the last year, Times writers and editors like [Lisa] Belkin, Tim O'Brien, Peter Goodman and Tom Zeller have all jumped to The Huffington Post. In the spring, then executive editor Bill Keller dedicated part of a Times Magazine column to trashing HuffPo's aggregating ways and its merger with AOL.

ANOTHER MOVE FROM THE CABAL: FRAME THE 99 PERCENT AS "DOMESTIC TERRORISTS"

In addition to passing the NDAA bill, it appears that the Federal Reserve insiders' cabal created the "Tom Clancy's Rainbow 6: Patriots" game as a form of propaganda.

In this game, the people who marched in the Occupy Wall Street movement are framed as if they are domestic terrorists -- and should be hauled away into "detention camps" as the NDAA bill recommended.

<http://www.rawstory.com/rs/2011/12/21/tom-clancy-game-casts-99-percent-as-domestic-terrorists/>

An upcoming game in the Tom Clancy franchise is ruffling some feathers for depicting a domestic terrorist attack staged by individuals who sound sympathetic to the 99 Percent movement.

"Tom Clancy's Rainbow 6: Patriots," due out in 2013 for Xbox 360, PlayStation 3 and PC, was teased in a recent trailer released by French publisher Ubisoft, which produced a clip wherein a collection of American mercenaries raid a corporate boardroom and murder the CEO.

"This all started when you became bigger than the governments," a narrator's voice explains. "And governments became bigger than the people. That's how the land of the free became the kingdom of the few — a few like you, Mr. Walsh.

It's time for a new balance of power. You may not answer to the government, but you will answer to us."

And like a scene from a Wall Street CEO's worst nightmare, the captive is strapped with explosives and hurled from the skyscraper office down to the street below, where the bombs detonate seconds before he hits the pavement.

Conservative blogs have been rather appreciating how these fictional terrorists mirror the message of the 99 Percent movement, although it's not yet clear what the characters' true motivations are.

STILL ADDITIONAL BAILOUTS REQUESTED

Even with the 26 to 29 Trillion dollars in bailouts we described earlier in this investigation, there is still such a great insolvency in the Western institutions that Obama was forced to ask for yet another bailout on December 27th.

It was an additional 1.2 Trillion -- added to the "debt ceiling" of the United States.

Obama Asks for 1.2 Trillion-Dollar Bailout (Tuesday 12/27)

<http://www.reuters.com/article/2011/12/27/us-usa-treasury-debt-idUSTRE7BQ0KU20111227>

The approval is expected to go through without a challenge, given that Congress is in recess until later in January and the request is in line with an agreement to keep the U.S. government funded into 2013.

The debt is projected to fall within $100 billion of the current cap by December 30, when the United States has $82 billion in interest on its debt and payments such as Social Security coming due.

President Barack Obama is expected to ask for authority to increase the borrowing limit by $1.2 trillion, part of the spending authority that was negotiated between Congress and the White House this summer.

Under the agreement struck in August during the showdown over the government's debt limit, the cap is automatically raised unless Congress votes to block the debt-ceiling extension.

Lawmakers have 15 days within receiving the request to vote, which is largely symbolic because the president can veto it and Congress would be unlikely to muster the two-thirds majority to override it. Moreover, the U.S. House of Representatives also is in recess until January 17.

The deal called for raising the debt ceiling by $2.1 trillion to serve the nation's borrowing needs into 2013 and also included mandatory cuts to the federal budget deficit. Since then, the extension has been increased twice by a total of $900 billion.

The debt limit currently stands at $15.194 trillion and would increase to $16.394 trillion with the request.

ADDITIONAL PROPAGANDA -- DISINFORMING THE PUBLIC ABOUT AN INTERNATIONAL UPRISING

China has a key role in the 122-nation alliance that has banded together to take down the Powers that Were.

Such an event seems imminent enough now that on December 31st, there was a mainstream media article that seemed to be getting people ready for it.

The 'spin' here is that it would be a terrible thing if this were to happen -- akin to an invasion while America is at its weakest moment.

2012 Voters Feel Dispirited

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/12/31/2012-presidential-election_n_1177897.html

Republicans or Democrats, liberal or conservative, young or old, they lack confidence – in the country's potential to be great again, in their elected leaders' ability to do the right thing, in the economy and in themselves.

It's not that they feel incapable of doing what needs to be done, as much as they are uncertain about what that right thing is and whether anything they can do will have any real impact....

In Lima, Ohio, where people have seen America's industrial might falter: "I'm just waiting for China or somebody to take us over. That's the way it seems," says Becky Jamison, 36, who has watched her 18-year-old son look unsuccessfully for work for months. "Because we're just falling apart."

WARS ARE NOT WHAT WE HAVE BEEN LED TO BELIEVE

By now, the public is realizing that war is big business. It's all about money, power and control. 9/11 was immediately turned into an excuse to invade Iraq. As soon as US forces got there, it was all about the oil.

Wars for Oil

<http://www.serendipity.li/wtc9.htm>

Skipping over a long history of U.S. imperialist aggression against other countries, we may note that the U.S. did not go to war in the Persian Gulf in 1991 to liberate Kuwait from Iraqi aggression (to which its ambassador to Iraq, April Glaspie, had given a green light) but rather to move military forces into the area and to establish military bases so as to exercise greater control over the area's oil.

Talk of removing "that evil dictator Saddam Hussein" is simple obfuscation.

Bush, Cheney and Rumsfeld are lying to the American people when they pretend to be outraged at the actions of the Iraqi dictator (whom the U.S. supported right up until 1991, including Saddam's use of chemical weapons against the Kurds).

In fact it is control of Middle Eastern oil which is the primary motivation for U.S. military plans for that area.

BOTH SIDES AGAINST THE MIDDLE

The Federal Reserve has been lending money to foreign banks for a lot longer than you might think.

You may also be surprised who they were lending to -- but then again, after all you've read, maybe you're starting to get the point. This is another excerpt from Still's book, New World Order: The Ancient Plan of Secret Societies.

150: Less than four years after its passage in 1913, with World War I in progress, the Federal Reserve loaned American dollars to the Soviet Communists immediately following the Russian revolution. As we will see, a similar injunction of American cash occurred less than thirty years later during the next World War.

On June 15, 1933, Congressman McFadden explained to Congress what the Federal Reserve, along with the Rockefellers' Chase Bank (soon to merge with the Warburg's Manhattan Bank to form Chase-Manhattan Bank), had done on behalf of the fledgling Communist government.

The Soviet Government has been given United States Treasury funds by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Bank acting through the Chase Bank... you will be staggered to see how much American money has been taken from the United States Treasury for the benefit of Russia. [23]

9/11 EXPOSED BY A TOP CIA AGENT

Another extremely vital "leak" of information that came to my attention during this investigation is from Susan Lindauer, who worked for the CIA in the lead-up to 9/11.

Lindauer wasn't just any CIA employee. She was the chief liaison between Iraq and the Bush Administration.

What she reveals in this videotaped testimony is astonishing. The Iraqis wanted peace, and were willing to do anything, trade anything, give up anything to get it. They were flatly refused.

Furthermore, she reveals that she was warned not to go to New York in the weeks leading up to 9/11. She was told that miniature nuclear devices were going to be used and there would be radioactive fallout.

By blowing the whistle and revealing that there was prior knowledge of 9/11 at the highest levels, she suffered a prolonged imprisonment -- but was ultimately freed.

She also asserts that the pilot who shot down Flight 93 over Shanksville, Pennsylvania is still incarcerated, and is being drugged into a "chemical straight jacket."

THE MAGIC PRINTING PRESS

The greatest victory of the Federal Reserve cabal has been the ability to print money out of thin air. Creating 26 Trillion dollars of bailouts for their own banks and financial institutions was quite a stunt -- as we discussed.

This "magic printing press" technology did not come easily. The only way you can print money out of thin air and have people use it is to confiscate most of the world's gold and treasure first -- so no one has access to it in the open market.

Individuals and nations will not give up their gold easily. As we will see, it takes something on the scale of a World War -- make that two World Wars -- in order to fully accomplish such a stunning feat of financial engineering.

Despite my deep involvement in researching these subjects since 1992, I only learned about this aspect of the Federal Reserve agenda very recently -- but it nonetheless is of vital importance in understanding the Big Picture.

In this section I will reveal highly classified information that has only rarely been made public -- in the interest of securing a better future for everyone. Also, by revealing all my secrets on this subject, I am no longer a threat -- as there is nothing left to hide.

A 786-PAGE HISTORY LESSON

The secret Western plan for a worldwide "magic printing press" began in 1776 with the publication of Adam Smith's "An Inquiry Into the Nature and Causes of the Wealth of Nations" -- or "The Wealth of Nations" for short.

This meticulously researched 786-page monster document formed the intellectual, philosophical and economic argument behind the creation of the current "free market" global financial system -- and is well-known to insiders.

This document also helped to establish the criteria and reasoning for creating the secret, "off-market" central-bank trading platforms that were backed by all the hidden, stolen gold. [I will explain how these platforms work as we go on.]

Several university websites offer a PDF version of this document for download. Here is Penn State's version:

<http://www2.hn.psu.edu/faculty/jmanis/adam-smith/Wealth-Nations.pdf>

SMITH'S VISION WAS MISUSED

Though at its core, Smith's masterwork had positive ideals, intended to create a better world for everyone, most nations of the world now feel Smith's vision has been wildly distorted and misused within the current economic system.

Many strategies are secretly being used to combat this global crisis -- including the trillion-dollar lawsuit mentioned in Section One and in earlier reports I have written.

This entire "Illuminati" financial system is finally breaking open and becoming public -- for the first time since its inception.

Most scholars who are aware of Smith's work focus on his defense of "free market" economics -- which is still a cornerstone of many political arguments today.

Smith argued that government tariffs and oversight will restrict economic growth. Politicians can be bought off and manipulated by big corporations, keeping prices high and quality low.

However, without government restrictions, the people will democratically "vote with their wallets" for whatever is best -- and in a truly fair and open game, they will ultimately get better products at better prices.

We do not have a "truly fair and open game" at this time. As we saw in Section One, an "interlocking directorate" of 147 corporations, headed by the top Federal Reserve financial institutions, apparently earns and controls 80 percent of the world's wealth.

DEMOLISHING THE GOLD STANDARD

Smith's core argument is rarely discussed in the public world.

In his monster document, Smith argued -- quite convincingly -- that no country could legitimately remain on a gold standard if we wanted world peace.

It is astonishing to remember that this was all laid out in 1776 -- which, interestingly enough, was the same year Adam Weishaupt was financed to start the Illuminati in Bavaria. Smith was likely paid very well for his work -- as was Weishaupt.

Although there may well be truth in Smith's argument, there was a deeper agenda hidden behind it -- which was the exact opposite of what he seemed to be saying.

*If no country or group is left with any gold, then no country or group can financially oppose the ruling cabal.

Even if a world leader of typical intelligence could only make it through the first 44 pages of this book, he or she would already have a strong sense of inevitability regarding Smith's ultimate position on gold.

Here are four of Smith's most compelling arguments that emerge just within the first 44 pages. It's important to understand the logic behind this plan, and how far back it goes in history.

1. INFLATION IS INEVITABLE ON A GOLD STANDARD

First of all, if a country only has a certain, fixed amount of gold, massive inflation is inevitable.

More people will be born, and those people will produce more goods and services. Immigration also increases your population -- and you may end up with a lot more people.

All of this forces you to print more money -- but the problem is that you don't have more gold.

The more money you print, the less gold anyone can actually get for it. This makes their money worth less and less over time.

Everyone who has paper money in the bank -- or stashed in their closet -- will find it continually decreasing in purchasing power.

This problem would inevitably cause suffering, riots and ultimately mass casualties as the public realizes their money is worthless -- and / or when other nations refuse to honor their currency.

This could ultimately choke off an entire nation from needed survival supplies, because they can't afford to buy them -- causing grave humanitarian disasters by the sheer force of market economics.

2. A COUNTRY CAN BE DESTROYED BY SIMPLY MOVING THE GOLD

Second of all, what if someone within a given country feels they either own the gold or could successfully steal it - including the ruling party or some of their minions?

This individual or group -- which may just be a warring, pissed-off faction within the overall power structure of the nation -- could mount a sting operation, take the gold out of the country, bring it somewhere else and then defend their actions with military force.

How hard is it, really, to transport a few thousand tons of this shiny, yellow metal? How many soldiers and guards do you need to kill, in the middle of the night, as your teams swoop in and move it out -- in massive shipments?

Ask Hitler. He did it all over Europe. We'll be talking more about that later on.

Thanks to the invention of the wheel, and the inevitable availability of large groups of mercenaries to do the work, you just send in a bunch of guys and haul it the hell out of there. With enough planning and logistics, it could all happen in one night.

By simply moving the gold from one nation to another, by whatever violent means were required, someone could instantly and completely destroy the nation they took the gold from.

3. ANY COUNTRY WITH GOLD IS A PRIME TARGET FOR INVASION

Thirdly, if one country has gold reserves and others do not, they become a target for invasion.

Natural human greed and violence would inevitably doom the people in that country to invasion by others wishing to steal it.

The only way to solve that problem is to insure that no one nation has gold-backed currency.

That way the game is fair for everyone... all across the board.

4. THE COUNTRIES WITH GOLD WILL ONLY BECOME MORE AND MORE POWERFUL AS TIME GOES ON

Lastly, any country who does have a gold-backed currency will have an unfair advantage over other nations.

The people of the world will naturally want to invest in a gold-backed currency rather than one that is just "worthless paper".

Why take a piece of paper that is backed by nothing when you can have a piece of paper that is literally "as good as gold" -- and you can go get the gold out of a bank in exchange for the paper?

The "Golden Rule" is "He who has the gold... makes the rules."

Therefore, on a gold standard the powerful will only get more powerful, while the weak become systematically weaker.

The nations with the gold will quickly scoop up all the world's investments, as everyone wants gold-backed currency.

SMITH DOES SOUND A LITTLE TOO DESPERATE IN SOME PLACES

The above four arguments are definitely compelling. However, when you read The Wealth of Nations with a discerning eye, there are places where Smith sounds a little desperate -- and seems to be trying a bit too hard.

On page 40, and again on page 44, he implies that coins should not be used for money because they degrade over time from "rubbing and wearing". Smith argued that merchants would offer less for degraded coins than they would for fresh ones.

40: "The silver coin still continues in the same worn and degraded state as before the reformation of the gold coin. In the market, however, one-and-twenty shillings of this degraded silver coin are still considered as worth a guinea of this excellent gold coin."

44: "But if, by rubbing and wearing, forty-four guineas and a half generally contain less than a pound weight of standard gold, the diminution, however, being greater in some pieces than in others, the measure of value comes to be liable to the same sort of uncertainty to which all other weights and measures are commonly exposed...."

In consequence of a like disorder in the coin, the price of goods comes, in the same manner, to be adjusted, not to the quantity of pure gold or silver which the coin ought to contain, but to that which, upon an average, it is found, by experience, it actually does contain."

I was interested in numismatics for a while and held modest numbers of gold and silver coins. Gold bullion coins, even going back to the Napoleon III era in the 1800s, when 1/5th-ounce coins were in widespread circulation, hardly ever show any significant wear and tear.

I did have some American silver coins that had worn down -- but these dated back to the early 1800s, and you could still make out what they said. Once they get that old, you wouldn't use them as typical money to pay for something anyway.

THIS IS HOW IT HAPPENED

In summary, The Wealth of Nations was used to tell the leaders of the world that eliminating gold-backed currency was the only way they could be safe -- and insure world peace. Instead of a gold standard, money could be issued via fiat.

Though the term "fiat" is akin to saying "the Devil's Pitchfork" to anyone who reads this sort of material, the original idea behind fiat currency was simply that it would be backed by the wealth created by the people.

Adam Smith made this point right from the beginning in The Wealth of Nations -- as we can see here in a quote from page 31.

31: "It was not by gold or by silver, but by labour, that all the wealth of the world was originally purchased; and its value, to those who possess it, and who want to exchange it for some new productions, is precisely equal to the quantity of labour which it can enable them to purchase or command."

In its ideal form, a nation calculates the actual amount of wealth created by its people, and then issues currency in proportion to that equity. With the Internet, this could be openly calculated and audited by the public with complete transparency.

In this setting, no economic collapse ever needs to happen again -- and the more motivated a country is to produce wealth, the more wealth it can generate for itself. This, according to Smith's vision, could not be accomplished with the gold standard.

However, as you're about to see, the world is still on a gold standard. It's simply been kept very, very secret -- and has been highly abused. Those who wish to straighten it out have been opposed at every step with deadly force.

PLANS TO INVADE AND PLUNDER ASIA

According to Benjamin Fulford, the former Asia-Pacific bureau chief for Forbes Magazine who broke open this whole investigation for the public, fully eighty-five percent of the world's gold ended up in Asia -- over thousands of years of time.

Historically, Asia was the only place to buy fine silks, elaborate vases, gorgeous china, exotic spices and plenty of opium. The Roman Empire and later the Spanish Empire splurged on Asian goods. The Asians would only accept payment in gold.

The Spanish Empire and other such groups had acquired their gold and treasure by various means -- including robbing and plundering every nation they could manage to conquer, such as the Mayan and Aztec Empires.

As I revealed in Part Two of our original investigation, a credible, high-level Asian insider also told me there are vast gold mines in China that have been kept strictly confidential. If they needed more gold, all they had to do was dig it out of the ground.

By the 1700s it was well known that much of the world's gold had ended up in Asia. Adam Smith, and the people financing him, obviously were well aware of the massive storehouse of treasure that was hidden there.

Asia was the number-one enemy to creating a worldwide fiat currency. The gold had to be withdrawn and hidden away in order to create this new economic system. The only way to do this would be to invade and plunder China -- as well as its neighbors.

This plan ended up requiring over 150 years to be fulfilled -- but the amazing part is that it actually did work.

JAPAN WAS KEY

The British Empire, secretly headed by the Rothschild clan, saw Japan as the best nation for establishing a beachhead -- so they could ultimately grab all the Asian gold. It was a medieval country, with very little technology, but a huge population center.

As Fulford indicated in our interview, the Satsuma and Choshu clans in southern Japan were outfitted by the British with modern weapons and military strategies -- and they quickly subdued the rest of the country.

This led to the "Meiji Restoration" of 1868, in which young Japanese people were put in power.

The term "Meiji" means "Enlightened Rule" -- and as I said in the original article, which now has over 700,000 views, the name "Meiji" is therefore interchangeable with the Western term "Illuminati".

It took time, effort and a great deal of money to make Japan powerful enough to invade and plunder China. Japan was a very, very large bet -- financed by the most powerful and secretive entity in the world.

This is apparently why Japan experienced the fastest economic boom and Westernization in recorded history -- beginning directly after the Meiji Restoration. They went from utterly medieval to highly modern and competitive in the span of less than 40 years.

Japan was very active in World War One. Great atrocities occurred on an absolutely unprecedented scale -- but the situation in the world was no different afterwards. The same tensions still existed, and no conflicts had been truly resolved.

ORIGIN OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS

The Federal Reserve began on December 23, 1913. President Woodrow Wilson expressed grave concerns about the seriousness and the danger of what had just occurred -- the overthrow of the American economic system by a group of private bankers.

The first major spark to begin World War I occurred the following June, when Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the Austria-Hungary throne, was assassinated -- along with his wife.

As we revealed in Section Two, World War One had been planned by Guiseppe Mazzini, the head of European Freemasonry, and Albert Pike, the head of American Freemasonry, back in 1871. Their plans were proudly displayed at the National Museum Library in London.

In June 1914, Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated by a nationalistic member of a different country -- Serbia. Then, most likely thanks to press manipulation, the public was whipped up into a frenzy -- and they were told that this was an act of war.

Assassinations are very easy to stage. That appears to have been a key part of how Pike and Mazzini's plan to start World War One was realized in practical terms.

The outrage from this assassination spread throughout Europe. The controlled press in different countries most likely contributed by manipulating their people into taking sides.

Germany quickly sided with Austria and Hungary. Germany then declared war on Serbia and her ally, Russia, seeking vengeance for the murder of Archduke Ferdinand.

IT SOON SPIRALED OUT OF CONTROL

Germany's declaration of war was on August 1, 1914 -- and very soon afterwards, the whole world began spiraling out of control.

Germany invaded Luxembourg, declared war on France and invaded Belgium to have an attack point against France. Britain declared war on Germany in defense -- and even Canada joined the fight.

This all occurred in 1914, and the battle raged on until 1919 -- with several other countries getting drawn in along the way. Germany was crushed at the end of the war, and the Treaty of Versailles was drawn up to help rebuild their economy.

By 1921, it was clear that nothing had really changed in the world. The rich still got richer, the poor still got poorer, and no one really "won" the Great War -- as it was called back then.

Within the insider circles of the international community, much of the problem was blamed on the gold standard -- for the reasons outlined in Adam Smith's The Wealth of Nations from 1776.

The degree of atrocity that was suffered from the gold standard was sufficient to convince Emperor Hirohito of Japan to travel to the United Kingdom and sign a secret pact, in 1921, to create the Bank of International Settlements (BIS).

The BIS was created by the founders of the Federal Reserve, which had started about seven years earlier. We will learn a lot more about them -- and read from their own official documents -- in Section Five.

The BIS was intended to expand the powers of the Federal Reserve into a truly global reach... and it worked.

HIROHITO ACCEPTS THE PLAN TO START THE BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS

The plan Hirohito accepted was also secretly agreed to by several other nations in the 1920s. It took time, but a consensus was reached within less than a decade -- and they eventually went public about their new alliance.

Whether voluntarily or involuntarily, all the most significant supplies of gold and silver in the world were turned over to the Federal Reserve and Bank of International Settlements and "blacklisted" -- that is, taken off-market.

The idea was obviously not to destroy all the gold and treasure -- that would be a stupid and needless tragedy. Instead, the various leaders were told they merely had to put all their gold on deposit. Secret deposit.

Everyone still got to keep their gold -- only the public would be told it was missing, or it had never existed in the first place. The Asians certainly hadn't gone public with how much they really had, so that whole story could be easily kept secret.

BONDS WERE ISSUED IN EXCHANGE FOR THE GOLD

Each country that handed over its gold -- and / or had its gold forcibly taken -- was given certificates of deposit, orbonds, in exchange for what they gave up.

The bonds were issued by the Federal Reserve, through their various banks in major cities of the United States. These bonds were considered to be as valuable and as redeemable as cash.

The problem was that the Federal Reserve printed vastly, vastly, vastly more money in these bonds than existed in the open, honest economy -- trillions upon trillions of dollars' worth, beginning in the 1920s.

Remember -- the amount of gold that actually existed was much greater than anyone could have ever imagined, since the Asians had kept it all very secret.

Had the public found out how much gold there really was, it would have created a massive economic shock. Gold would have become practically worthless overnight.

The world leaders needed to know that the gold they put on deposit was still worth its actual value in conventional dollars. Otherwise, they would be really pissed off about not getting "fair market value" for what they were "depositing" with the Federal Reserve.

EVERYTHING WAS PACKAGED VERY NICELY -- AND VERY SECURELY

The bonds looked very sexy -- and had huge numbers on them.

There were 100,000-dollar gold certificates, million-dollar gold certificates, 100-million-dollar bonds and even billion-dollar bonds.

That's right. Single sheets of paper were allegedly worth a billion dollars in some cases.

I am aware of how crazy this sounds, but the intel on this is very good -- including pictures that David and Mackie Hutzler may have given their lives for us to see.

As an investigator, my job is to pass along the information to you. I cannot assume that I know everything, or that every piece of data is correct. However, when I have multiple, totally independent sources tell me the exact same things, I listen.

Though there were several different types of storage containers, many of these bonds were put into 8.5x11-sized boxes carved out of a single piece of durable wood -- about two and a half inches deep, making them almost as big as a typical ream of 500 sheets of paper.

THEY NEEDED TO STAY SECURE FOR 60 YEARS

The wooden boxes were then glued shut. That way, the bonds were much less likely to get moldy -- after being stored in a chest and buried underground in a secure location for 60 years.

After the 60 years, the Asian countries were told they could dig up the chests, cash out the bonds and get their money back if they wanted to.

According to Fulford, Keenan and other sources, in 1938, the Kuomintang dynasty in China sent seven battleships' worth of gold -- a staggering amount -- to the United States to protect against it being stolen by the Japanese.

This is a key aspect of the trillion-dollar lawsuit we have been discussing.

In response, the United States issued massive amounts of 1934-series Federal Reserve bonds -- carefully sealed in boxes, which were then sealed in locked chests -- and handed them back to China as collateral.

THE 60 YEARS WERE UP IN 1998 -- AND THE FEDERAL RESERVE LOST THE CASE

In 1998, the 60 years were up. The Kuomintang had fled to Taiwan and were no longer the ruling party in China, but they still wanted their gold back. The Federal Reserve fought them in a secret international court at the Hague -- and lost.

The Federal Reserve was ordered to pay out the debt as of September 11, 2001. They did not. We all know what did happen that day.

What very few people knew, until now, was that all the Kuomintang gold was being stored under Building 7 at the World Trade Center. After the towers came down, the vaults were "mysteriously" found to be empty.

The Kuomintang have been fighting ever since to get their gold back. The size and scope of such a "winner takes all" heist is truly extraordinary -- but something outrageous and unprecedented in any known laws of physics did happen that day.

Susan Lindauer is now the highest-level, most credible witness to have added significant strength to the story that "9/11 was an inside job."

The lawsuit Neil Keenan has filed on the Dragon Family's behalf could potentially break the whole story open before the eyes of the world -- and again, this lawsuit has the backing of a 122-nation alliance.

I have written this investigation to help end the deadly silence -- so justice can be served. Ultimately, this is everyone's war -- not just those seeking to reclaim their stolen property.

THE BOXES WERE COVERED WITH ENGRAVED COPPER

Before we go into more detail about the BIS and the open, provable aspects of the story, it's important to fill in a few more of the technical details about the bonds, the bond boxes and the bond chests.

The 8.5x11-sized wooden bond boxes were faced and sealed with bronze-colored sheet metal -- for extra protection from the elements underground.

The sheet metal on the boxes had elaborate, official engravings on every side. The engravings indicated that the bonds were issued by the Federal Reserve. They indicated which Federal Reserve bank, from which American city, had issued the bonds.

The range of serial numbers for the bonds were also engraved into the sheet metal -- as well as the staggering value of the financial instruments inside.

MORE ABOUT THE CHESTS

Many of the larger chests, particularly in the 1934 series, held a total of 13 of these boxes. They did very much look like the classic "treasure chest."

Twelve of the bond boxes inside these chests were about two and a half inches wide, as we said -- and the thirteenth was only half that width and was actually a "Book of Redemption", not containing bonds but rather instructions on how to redeem them.

Each chest also contained a single, small cylindrical "Information Scroll" mounted in a clamp. All thirteen of the boxes fit neatly and snugly into the chest like a row of books.

The chest was then also covered with engraved sheet metal. The engravings said the bonds were issued by a Federal Reserve bank from a given American city. The serial numbers of the bonds were listed, as well as the total value of everything in the box.

Many of these 1934-series chests carried a written value of Three Trillion Dollars -- and a substantial number of them were produced. Each chest was padlocked shut for even further protection.

THE BONDS WERE NEVER MEANT TO BE USED IN THE "OPEN" ECONOMY

Even though the Kuomintang had the option to reclaim their gold after 60 years, the bonds were never meant to be used as cash. The money was still expected to be held on deposit and used as collateral for the existing "open" currencies of the world.

If the bonds were freed up and actually cashed, they could ruin the United States economy -- which had nowhere near as much money in it as the Federal Reserve had printed in the bonds.

The whole idea was to keep the bonds on deposit -- as well as the gold they were issued against.

The bonds represented how much value a given country held in the BIS system. We will explore the inner workings of this system in Section Five.

Most importantly, the bonds, boxes and chests all contained deliberate, glaring errors in spelling and grammar. That way, if anyone did actually try to use them, the authorities would say they were "Fake".

It is not clear whether the Asians and other foreign nations were aware of these deliberate errors or not. Probably some of them were, and some of them were not.

Meanwhile, anyone who actually tried to cash the bonds would be lucky to escape from their plan alive.

HOW DID I KNOW ALL THIS?

The reason why I know all this is rather convoluted, but compelling. In mid-December, once I knew what questions to ask, a top insider described to me what these bond boxes actually looked like. He had also toured some of the vast facilities where the gold was held.

I then emailed Neil Keenan, the principal in this trillion-dollar lawsuit, with the information. Less than 15 minutes later, he sent me an avalanche of pictures that looked exactly the same as what I had just described -- even though he had never met my insider.

Bear in mind that I'd already been in contact with Keenan for nearly three weeks by this point. There was no possible way he could have moved fast enough to create fakes that matched what my insider had just described.

I never thought I was going to do this, but since there are already two other online sources that have leaked very similar images, here are some of the pictures Neil Keenan sent me.

NEIL KEENAN / DRAGON FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS OF BONDS

This is the world debut of these photographs -- exactly as they were sent to me, a mere 15 minutes after I wrote Neil and told him what my insider said they should look like.

I was absolutely shocked at how perfectly they fit the description. Many of these images are larger than they appear, so you can save them to your computer and zoom in on them with various programs.

THERE WAS ONE PROBLEM

As soon as I looked at these pictures, I felt like there might be a problem with the font on top of the two chests, as we see here. It looked just like a Windows font.

Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia Bond Chest and Boxes

However, upon further investigation, I found out that the modern Arial font is very similar to Akzidenz-Grotesk, which the Berthold Type Foundry released in 1896.

Here is an image of the original 1896 font. This was an early, successful "sans serif" font, and many others were released afterwards.

Since these bonds were actually issued in 1938, it is possible that in the ensuing 42 years, a different sans serif font was created -- perhaps for newspaper headlines to cram into a smaller space, while also being more readable from a distance -- that looked like what we see on top of the chest.

By narrowing the height of the top halves of lower-case letters like h, f, b, d, k and t, and widening the letters, readability was greatly enhanced.

Therefore, even though Microsoft Word does have a similar font, this does not mean it is Arial and therefore couldn't have existed before 1982.

STEVE BECKOW INDEPENDENTLY GETS PICTURES OF BONDS FROM A NEW INSIDER

Less than two weeks later, on December 30th, Steve Beckow published pictures of bond boxes on his website -- except that these were from a 1928 series, unlike the 1934 series boxes I had seen.

Other than the dates, they were very, very similar-looking to the ones I had -- far beyond the likelihood of chance -- and I was amazed.

Keenan had sent me the original bond pictures 15 minutes after I told him what the boxes looked like. Now I had yet another insider giving me the same information -- an insider who risked everything to reveal his real name -- Udo Pelkowski.

Udo did not know my own source, as I immediately confirmed with a phone call, and he did not know Neil Keenan or his people either. English is not his first language, but I do believe his intent is pure.

<http://the2012scenario.com/2011/12/evidence-corroborating-david-wilcocks-recent-allegations-philippine-gold/>

Dear Steve, the time has come. My friend J.P. van den Berk and me are without fear. Please give this important information to David Wilcock and Ben Fulford. We have more photos and more information about this findings to share.

We have NO FINANCIAL or any other interest, but to share the truth.

We did inform Barack Hussein Obama, President of The United States of America, Anna Escobedo Cabral, Treasurer of The United States of America and James Dimon, Chairman of the Board of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

We sent the letter with Fax and Email twice. We followed them up per phone twice too. Nothing happened for a while. Some months later JPMorgan Chase Manhattan & Co opened a Bank here in Cebu.

Best regards, Udo

Pelkowski sent Beckow these stunning images, but Beckow didn't publish them until after I released Part One of my initial investigation.

There were other images as well, but these were by far the most compelling. The gold certificates inside the boxes perfectly matched some of the other images Neil Keenan had already sent me. I've only shared a small portion of all the documentation I received.

The last picture came from a subsequent update Udo sent to Steve Beckow, as you can read here.

Then, the very next day, the story got even more outrageous... and even more believable.

DAVID AND MACKIE HUTLZER -- UNWANTED PUBLICITY

The following day, December 31st, 2011, Benjamin Fulford wrote me a brief letter, and asked David Hutzler, known as "Hutz" on his discussion forum, to post it for him.

The letter was a link to Unwanted Publicity Intelligence -- a website that featured even more pictures of these same types of bond boxes.

This public message from Ben, through "Hutz," soon reached me when someone else re-posted it as a comment on my original article. Fulford had been receiving serious death threats during this same time -- and so had I.

Ben asked me to post this I dont know what it is ,, shall we take a look together ?

David,

THE SECOND TIME IN 24 HOURS -- BUT IT CAME AT A TERRIBLE COST

I clicked on the link and could hardly believe my eyes. I had been told that it was potentially lethal to publish any images of these bonds, but this was the second time in 24 hours that I was looking at images that were nearly identical to what I'd received from Keenan.

I had no idea that David and his eight-year-old son Mackie would burn to death in their home, just a week after he conveyed Ben's message to me, on January 6th. This may be the last known picture of them.

Accelerants were found outside the residence, and arson was not ruled out.

I do not want their deaths to be in vain. This tragic event made it much more likely that these bonds are real, and that someone was blatantly warning me to call off this investigation.

Fear obviously did not deter me from publishing. Otherwise I'd have to live with being a coward, and potentially allowing this innocent father and son to have died for nothing. I would then have to deal with that pain for the rest of my life.

Even if this was all somehow an elaborate hoax, involving a coordinated effort between multiple, seemingly independent players -- which I highly doubt -- whoever is playing this game and feeding Ben and me "disinformation" is willing to kill all of us.

And that upsets me.

Greatly.

UNWANTED PUBLICITY BONDS COLLECTION

Here are the most striking images that jumped out at me when I browsed through the various collections on the Unwanted Publicity Intelligence website.

Again, there are absolutely irrefutable, undeniable similarities to what we have just seen from Neil Keenan and Udo Pelkowski -- and what my own insider had described to me before I ever got to see a picture.

In particular, I found a chest issued by a different Federal Reserve bank -- this time in Dallas, Texas -- that was almost identical to the images of the 1934 series boxes that Neil Keenan had sent me.

Unwanted Publicity also had more pictures of the bonds that were inside the boxes -- some of which looked quite outrageous, and were elaborate, detailed and sexy enough to be believable -- despite their seemingly astronomical denominations.

COUNTER-INTELLIGENCE FROM THE MAINSTREAM MEDIA

Yet another stunning confirmation came a mere twelve days after David and Mackie Hutzler's death -- while I was still frantically working to finish this investigation.

Bloomberg News published a story that directly named and attacked the 134.5 billion-dollar bonds theft that is behind our investigation.

This appeared to be the big "kill shot" that was planned to come out in the mainstream media -- as a counter-move to this lawsuit.

Furthermore, the Bloomberg article published pictures of bonds that were painfully obvious fakes -- and said there is a rich market for fraud in this business, which undoubtedly is true.

However, these fake bonds were ridiculously bad imitations of the real thing. An image of the US dollar was obviously photoshopped, the other bonds are a joke and the chests also look like crap compared to what we have just seen -- but here you are.

LET'S READ THE ARTICLE FOR OURSELVES

<http://www.bloomberg.com/news/2012-01-18/no-one-knows-truth-about-300b-bonds-from-alleged-plane-crash.html>

Chris Estrella, a Filipino social worker, says he led a troop of five porters out of a Mindanao jungle in January 2000 with a weather-beaten iron and leather box crammed with $25 billion of U.S. government bearer bonds.

"The elders of the Umayamnon tribe told me an American plane crashed in their river in the 1930s," Estrella, 47, says by mobile phone from a footpath between the tribal village and Davao, the largest city on the Philippine island. "The river dried up in the 1990s, and the natives went into the plane and found 12 boxes that contained $300 billion in bonds."

Each box, emblazoned with the Great Seal of the United States and the words "Federal Reserved Bond," held five gold coins struck with a portrait of George Washington on one side, Estrella says.

They rested atop stacks of certificates purporting to have been issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta in 1934 and redeemable in gold bullion. The notes bore the signature of then Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr....

Ponte Chiasso

It wasn't the first time a cache of bogus U.S. bonds emerged from the Philippines.

"We were matching wits with the underworld on an op in southern Italy when the call came in," says U.S. Secret Service Special Agent Robert Gombar, head of the agency's Rome office.

The date was June 16, 2009, and Gombar, 65, recalls rolling his eyes at the news delivered by Italy's Guardia di Finanza fiscal police via his liaison officer in Rome.

"The Guardia caught two Japanese guys secreting U.S. Treasury bonds in the false bottom of a suitcase aboard a freight train about to cross into Switzerland," Gombar says, twirling a pencil behind his desk inside the U.S. Embassy in Rome. "It was suspicious, so we jumped an express north."

What Gombar found in the border village of Ponte Chiasso was a stack of 1934 U.S. Treasury bearer bonds with a face value of $134 billion, making the two suspects the U.S. government's fourth-biggest creditor at the time, behind Russia with $138 billion of U.S. debt and ahead of the U.K. with $128 billion.

Hybrid Counterfeits

Although a local magistrate released the suspects because of a lack of evidence of intent to sell or proof the pair was involved in the manufacture of what turned out to be a suitcase of sham bonds, the incident marked the sixth time Italian authorities had called upon Gombar to authenticate a haul of what looked to be smuggled U.S. securities.

Like most of the other cases, this one pointed to Asia: The two Japanese suspects had arrived in Italy from the Philippines, Gombar says.

"We call these bonds hybrid counterfeit instruments because there's no such thing as a $500 million Treasury bond," explains Gombar, who has chased global funny-money rings from the Secret Service's Rome outpost since 1998. "It's like counterfeiting a $3 bill, something that doesn't exist."

Although Treasury securities were shifted from paper to electronic form in the 1980s and the government stopped issuing bearer bonds in 1982, Gombar says the pre-World War II provenance of the bogus bonds, stamped with Morgenthau's forged signature, remains a lure in the con artist's tackle box.

Fictitious Instruments

"People are gullible," Gombar says. "Even those who work in the financial world. The $134 billion worth of 1934 Morgenthau bonds seized in Ponte Chiasso was nearly five times more than America's $27 billion national debt that year."

The largest U.S. Treasury bond ever issued had a face value of $10 million, says Gombar's partner, Special Agent Michael Giovanniello. Only about $105.4 million in outstanding bearer bonds have yet to be cashed in, he says.

"Bogus bonds are officially referred to as fictitious financial instruments," Giovanniello, 44, says. "Counterfeit financial instruments reflect something that actually exists. Either way, it's a fraudulent scheme that we're extremely interested in pursuing."

The Secret Service averages about 100 cases a year related to bonds and other fictitious instruments, resulting in about 70 arrests, says Special Agent Edwin Donovan, a spokesman for the agency in Washington. The average annual loss to victims is about $11 million, he says.

'Great Extremes'

.... "Nowadays the bonds are almost always U.S. Treasuries from the 1930s, and the forgers have grown more sophisticated," Gombar says.

"They go to great extremes, putting them in antiquated treasure chests stuffed with newspaper clippings from the 1930s. It takes a great deal of time and trouble to print these bonds and establish the con."

LET'S GET CLEAR ON THIS...

Benjamin Fulford has never once tried to profit off of this bonds story. Nor has Udo Pelkowski, who clearly said he had no financial interest in publishing his images. The insider who first told me what the bonds looked like has never once asked me for money.

The author of Unwanted Publicity Intelligence has made no effort, anywhere on his website, to say that he has bonds for sale. In fact, I have heard that he is quite impoverished and has had his life destroyed from publishing his findings.

Neil Keenan has never once tried to solicit money from me, or tell me that I can "get in now" and make money on these bonds once they come out. Nor have I been able to find a single shred of evidence that he or his associates have done this with anyone else.

The same thing goes with the Dragon Family / Kuomintang, who issued two different sets of bonds that started this whole mess -- each of which was approximately a trillion dollars in its interest-matured value.

The face value of the set that was seized in Chiasso, Italy was 134.5 billion. The set entrusted to Neil Keenan, which was later stolen by Daniele Dal Bosco, thus leading to the filing of this lawsuit, was a total of 144.5 billion.

The Dragon Family wishes to recoup the losses incurred from both sets of these bonds. Callous media disinformation, death threats and ritual murders are not going to solve the Federal Reserve's problem.

They lied. They stole. And Keenan's lawsuit has absolute, irrefutable proof to back up these claims.

As we head into Section Five, we will drill down even more into the details of Financial Tyranny -- the provable information of how it works, and more importantly of what we can do about it.

CONTINUE TO SECTION FIVE

Section five – Bretton Woods and the BIS

Written by David WilcockFriday, 13 January 2012 13:13

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1023-financial-tyranny?start=4>

THINGS ARE REALLY HEATING UP

We are investigating Financial Tyranny -- on a global scale -- and what we have just learned in the previous four sections is shocking.

80 percent of the world's wealth appears to be earned by a "core" of 1,318 corporations, which in turn are being controlled by only 147 companies. 75 percent of these companies are financial institutions -- and the top companies on the list are the Federal Reserve banks.

The media has been systematically bought out and controlled by this group -- on a global scale -- meaning that until the rise of the Internet, most people didn't have a clue about what was really going on.

The Federal Reserve created 26 to 29 trillion dollars' worth of bailouts for their own companies between 2007 and 2010. This was revealed in their own audit statements -- and confirmed by United States Congressmen and prominent financial analysts.

This situation did not happen by accident, nor by "natural self-organizing complexity". It is the result of an incredibly well-orchestrated plan for global control -- rooted in highly occult practices.

There has been almost no media coverage whatsoever of this staggering theft. This demands an immediate, focused, sustained response -- until real change occurs.

HUNDREDS OF YEARS IN THE MAKING

We have traced this plan back to the 1700s, with the astonishing rise of the Rothschild family from poverty and obscurity to world control.

As many of our commenters have noted, other investigators have followed the trail much farther back in time -- such as through the Knight Templars and/or the Vatican.

The Masonic Order was built up in the late 1700s -- apparently to provide a front organization for this plan of global control to be realized. Well-meaning men were brought into a world in which secrecy was enforced on pain of death.

Most Masons were, and still are, unaware that their entire Order was created by another, far more secretive group. These hidden insiders chose the name "Illuminati" -- meaning "The Enlightened Ones."

The Illuminati originated in Bavaria (now a part of Germany) in the late 1700s -- and were very likely financed by the Rothschilds as well as other powerful banking families.

The Bavarian government ultimately exposed and drove out the Illuminati -- but this did not stop them. It merely forced them to move elsewhere, such as to Italy, as they continued to develop and carry out their plans.

THE "ILLUMINATI" STILL EXIST TODAY

We have explored stunning new testimony from Svali -- a woman who claims to have escaped from this same group in modern times, and has written hundreds of pages of highly detailed, technical, and at times, extremely disturbing information about them.

The correlation between Svali's modern-day testimony and our historical research is absolutely one-to-one.

Here are some additional Svali quotes that are very relevant to the news headlines we are seeing today. Bear in mind that I do not believe these plans will work. Otherwise I would not have risked my life to publish this investigation.

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030810094231/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/10/chapter03.html>

The Illuminati has planned first for a financial collapse that will make the great depression look like a picnic.

This will occur through the maneuvering of the great banks and financial institutions of the world, through stock manipulation, and interest rate changes.

Most people will be indebted to the federal government through bank and credit card debt, etc. The governments will recall all debts immediately, but most people will be unable to pay and will be bankrupted.

This will cause generalized financial panic which will occur simultaneously worldwide, as the Illuminists firmly believe in controlling people through finances....

The Illuminati banking leaders, such as the Rothschilds, the Van derBilts, the Rockefellers, the Carnegies, and the Mellons, as examples, will reveal themselves, and offer to "save" the floundering world economy.

A new system of monetary exchange, based on an international monetary system, and based between Cairo, Egypt and Brussels, Belgium will be set up. A true "one world economy", creating the longed-for "one world order", will become reality....

Obviously, if the Federal Reserve insiders are actually defeated, we are still going to need to create a new financial system in the aftermath.

However, if mass arrests occur as Benjamin Fulford and others have suggested, the truth may become quite inescapable. A tidal-wave of suppressed knowledge will become public domain in the corporate media -- for the first time in history.

How could the Federal Reserve bankers set the stage for a truly "global economic collapse" that would give them the chance to seize control of the planet in a "New World Order"?

They knew they had to eliminate the majority of the world's gold and treasure from the open market -- so no alternative gold-backed currency could offer them any competition.

In order to get the world leaders behind them, they had to weave a compelling story -- and offer them impressive-looking Federal Reserve bonds, in shiny bronze boxes stacked in "treasure chests", in exchange for all the real wealth.

SIX KEY AREAS THE ILLUMINATI TARGETED TO INFILTRATE AND TAKE OVER

As we continue from the above Svali excerpt, we find out that there are six key areas the Illuminati targeted for infiltration -- in order to hopefully insure their plans would succeed.

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030810094231/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/10/chapter03.html>

At present, the Illuminati have quietly and covertly fostered their takeover plan by their goals of the infiltration of:

- 1. The media
- 2. The banking system
- 3. The educational system
- 4. The government, both local and federal
- 5. The sciences
- 6. The churches

They are currently, and have been working the last several hundred years, on taking over these six areas.

In my groundbreaking new book The Source Field Investigations, I have presented an unprecedented amount of information revealing the extent to which the sciences have been manipulated and distorted -- apparently by direct intent.

I drew almost entirely from little-known, media-suppressed scientific discoveries from credible Ph.D.'s to make the case.

Together, it is a very impressive mosaic -- and it reveals that all the phenomena associated with UFOs and science fiction are achievable -- and scientifically sound.

This includes, but is not limited to, remarkable healing technologies, gravity shielding, "free energy", teleportation and time travel.

Furthermore, we can totally shatter the Darwinian model of "random" evolution in favor of an energetically-driven model. This model has nothing to do with Creationism and is not religious in nature.

DARWIN CAME FROM A MASONIC FAMILY

This investigation by Cornelius B, published at Henry Makow's website, reveals that Charles Darwin came from a Masonic family. To this day, any questioning of Darwinian evolution is smashed down by the media.

http://www.henrymakow.com/was_darwin_an_instrument_of_th.html

Darwinism, the theory of "natural selection and survival of the fittest", is of major importance to the Illuminati. We know this because, as Richard Milton explains in his article, "Darwinism - The Forbidden Subject", public debate of Darwinism is forbidden.

"Most educated, rational people will find it almost impossible to believe that the debate of Darwinism through mainstream news papers and the principal TV channels is forbidden. I still find it hard to believe myself," Milton writes.

While there is no [direct] evidence that Darwin was a Mason, the males in his family were Freemasons, and so were his close colleagues and friends.

Before coming to Derby in 1788, Dr. Erasmus Darwin (1731-1802), physician and biologist, grandfather of Charles, became a Mason in the Lodge of Cannongate Kilwinning, No. 2, of Scotland.

Sir Francis Darwin, (1786-1859), physician and traveler, brother of Charles Darwin's father, became a Mason in Tyrian Lodge, No. 253, at Derby, in 1807.

The name of Charles Darwin does not appear on the rolls of the Lodge, but it is very possible that he also was a Mason....

DIRECT CONNECTION BETWEEN DARWINIAN EVOLUTION AND ADAM SMITH'S "WEALTH OF NATIONS"

Dr. Stephen Jay Gould noticed a strong connection between the philosophies of Smith's "The Wealth of Nations", which is of very key importance in this investigation, and Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

http://www.henrymakow.com/was_darwin_an_instrument_of_th.html

In his essay, "The Structure of Evolutionary Theory" (2004), Stephen Jay Gould finds a strong kinship between Darwin's "natural selection" and "the invisible hand of the market" of Adam Smith in "The Wealth of Nations."(1776)

According to Smith, each individual is in a constant search to satisfy his own interests, to best employ his capital and to better sell his work.

The establishment of the relationship of "genuine competition" of all private interests in a "free market" would result in "the greatest wealth and happiness for all."....

With his vision of the economy, Smith introduced the destruction of the social bonds -- of neighborhood, of trade corporations with their ancient solidarity, of inter-help and reciprocity.

This ideology undermined the traditional mutual help and assistance between the members of the same family.

All these relations that enriched the social fabric, and the quality of life, were reduced to the notions of cold personal interest, selfishness and the quest of money....

Smith's free market competition corresponds to Darwin's survival of the fittest. The rest of the population becomes disposable, and therefore eventually must disappear -- or may be disposed of as pleased.

This discussion is well outside the scope of our current investigation -- but I have written extensively about it in other articles on divinecosmos.com. My book is available online and in many bookstores -- in hardcover, ebook and audio format.

In The Source Field Investigations, I present a wealth of scientific evidence that humanity is still in an active process of evolution. No one is used to thinking like this, because the discussion itself has been completely suppressed.

I believe that the defeat of Financial Tyranny is very essential to helping us achieve our next big advance -- in every aspect of civilization, including the sciences.

Once this group is defeated, we will immediately inherit a wealth of technology that is so advanced we could barely have even dreamed it were possible. Over 1000 academic references make the case in Source Field Investigations.

I intend to work directly to help make these technologies a reality once Financial Tyranny has been defeated.

THESE PEOPLE DO NOT APPEAR TO BE NEGATIVE

Svali, our modern-day Illuminati whistleblower, also makes a very important point about how the members of this group appear in everyday life.

There is no easily obvious way to tell if these people are engaged in anything negative.

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030810094231/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/10/chapter03.html>

If you met them in person, you would probably instantly like any of these intelligent, verbal, likeable, even charismatic people.

This is their greatest cover, since we often expect great evil to "appear" evil, led by media portrayals of evil as causing changes in the face and demeanor of people, or marking them like the biblical Cain.

None of the Illuminists I have known had unkind or evil-appearing persona in their daytime lives -- although some were dysfunctional, such as being alcoholics....

THERE IS A GREAT SICKNESS

We will feature even more Illuminati whistleblower evidence in this Section -- including rarely-ever-seen documents.

We will also feature two disturbing photographs from directly inside what appears to be a very high-level ritual site.

I believe it is important that we see all of this, because it reveals that there is a great sickness in our world.

The scope of the problem is much greater than most people want to think about.

As a result, denial -- out of fear -- has provided an excellent cover for this group and its operations.

THERE IS PLENTY OF HOPE FOR A SOLUTION

Perhaps the most significant aspect of Svali's revelations is the understanding that the majority of people in this group would quit, in a "mass exodus," if they saw the opportunity to escape -- and live.

A similar historic event occurred in the United States, beginning with the Masonic murder of William Morgan in 1826.

Within a few years, 90 percent of all Masons left the Order -- 45,000 out of 50,000 members, including every single lodge in the Northern states.

In practical terms, the widespread unrest within the modern-day Illuminati means any significant uprising against them could exponentially multiply, within days -- once the members realize they can actually get out.

It is very important that we support and protect these heroes when they do this -- just as the early Americans supported all those who came forward in the Anti-Masonic Revolt.

A WORLDWIDE GOLD GRAB

The Wealth of Nations, Adam Smith's 786-page "manifesto," was published in 1776 -- the same year as the founding of the Illuminati.

It was presented to world leaders as "proof" that the gold standard had to be eliminated in order for there to be world peace.

Nearly a century later, Guiseppe Mazzini, the head of European Masonry, and Albert Pike, the head of American Masonry, created a plan for three world wars that were intended to seize total control of the planet.

Their plan was all written down and finalized as of 1871 -- and publicly displayed at the British Museum Library for many years.

When we add this to the overall weight of information -- some of which we haven't explored in detail just yet -- it leaves little doubt that World Wars I and II were deliberately orchestrated and engineered.

A key objective of these two wars was to confiscate the majority of gold and treasure in the world. This aspect of the plan was not directly written into Mazzini and Pike's blueprints -- as the knowledge was far too sensitive.

Thanks to multiple insiders, we now know that leaders who surrendered their gold and treasure, and/or had it forcibly stolen from their countries, were given bronze boxes filled with Federal Reserve bonds in exchange for their assets.

The value of these bonds is much, much greater than the amount of money in the legitimate world economy. This is part of why the secret has been so jealously guarded.

If the truth were known, and the gold was revealed, it would destroy Financial Tyranny.

NEVER BEEN MADE PUBLIC BEFORE

Many of the images of bonds you just saw in Section Four have never been made public before. Click here if you haven't read the new Section Four yet -- and go take a look for yourself.

Four different sources, each completely independent, gave me the exact same information about these bonds -- and what they looked like -- in a two-week period.

Three out of the four sources -- Neil Keenan, Udo Pelkowski and "Unwanted Publicity Intelligence" -- provided pictures of the bonds. They were all nearly identical.

David Hutzler and his son Mackie very likely gave their lives for us to see the bonds from the Unwanted Publicity website.

They did not do this willingly. They appear to have been murdered -- to threaten me into abandoning this investigation.

All this did is inspire me to do a much, much more thorough job than I had already planned.

The leaders who received these chests of bonds were explicitly instructed to bury them underground -- where they could never be found or stolen without explicit instructions.

As a result, the chests and the bonds often look quite rough by the time they are dug up out of the ground.

Furthermore, the Federal Reserve made sure to include deliberate errors in spelling, grammar and punctuation, so that if anyone ever did steal the bonds, they could be written off as fakes.

DISINFORMATION

Early in January 2012, Bloomberg News published an article asserting that any and all such pictures of Federal Reserve bonds are fakes. This article was released just as we were finishing our investigation -- and the timing was suspect to say the least.

One of the Federal Reserve bond chests we saw in Section Four had what appears to be a Microsoft Windows Arial font on the top. This obviously posed another problem.

After I released Section Four of this investigation, Keith Scott revealed to me that the Federal Reserve has continued issuing 1934-series bonds straight through to the present day.

Slight design changes in the chest, therefore, are perfectly reasonable -- and may even help convince people the bonds are counterfeit if they ever get exposed to the public.

The reason why these bonds are still being issued is simple. As the price of gold increases, the original owners of the gold have demanded that more bonds be printed -- to match the full value of their "deposits."

This is perhaps the single biggest reason why there has been such an incredible effort to depress the price of gold. This has been well-documented by the Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee at gata.org.

FORMER FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD OF GOVERNORS MEMBER BLOWS THE WHISTLE

Kevin M. Warsh, a former member of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, came forward on January 26, 2012 with explosive new information -- at the Stanford University Institute for Economic Policy Research.

Warsh revealed that the price of gold is rigorously controlled by central banks. If the legitimate demand for gold was reflected in its current price, it would almost certainly be much higher.

<http://www.gata.org/node/10927>

Central banks are now so heavily influencing asset prices that investors are unable to ascertain market values, former Federal Reserve Board of Governors member Kevin M. Warsh told the Stanford University Institute for Economic Policy Research tonight.

This influence is especially evident, Warsh said, with the Fed's purchase of government bonds, which has made it impossible for investors to use bond prices to learn anything about markets.

Warsh, who disclosed during GATA's freedom-of-information litigation with the Fed in 2009 that the central bank has secret gold swap arrangements with foreign banks (<http://www.gata.org/files/GATAFedResponse-09-17-2009.pdf>), added that the Fed is trying to do too much and the rest of the government not enough to encourage economic growth.

While he said nothing explicitly about gold, Warsh seemed to come pretty close to your secretary/treasurer's observation almost four years ago that there are no markets anymore, just central bank interventions. (See <http://www.gata.org/node/6241>.)

The countries who handed over their gold are very upset about how the promises have not been kept. Furthermore, if they ever actually tried to cash these bonds, there would be lethal consequences.

A REMARKABLE REVELATION OF SUPPRESSED TRUTH

In addition to the Dragon Family / Neil Keenan / Keith Scott lawsuit we have been discussing, another intriguing lawsuit emerged on December 23, 2011 -- exactly one month after the Keenan suit -- that sheds even more light on our story.

This only came to my attention after publishing Section Four. This lawsuit appeared before the bonds I got from Keenan and the ones Beckow got from Pelkowski were published online -- and yet there is an overwhelming, undeniable similarity amongst all of them.

By now, this should all look and sound very familiar. Joseph Riad acquired three "sealed and certified bronze boxes" that contained a total of 750 billion dollars in Federal Reserve bonds -- from a representative of the South African government.

Each bond was a billion dollars in its denomination. All the images you are about to see are from the lawsuit that resulted.

Courthouse News Service reported on this very real lawsuit shortly after it was filed. Joseph Riad has obviously devoted years of his life, and untold amounts of money in legal fees, to prepare this 15-billion-dollar lawsuit against the United States Government.

You can download the complaint and read it for yourself

JOSEPH RIAD'S LAWSUIT COVERED ON COURTHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

Here is an excerpt from Courthouse News Service's coverage of this fascinating story.

Strange Tale of Billions in U.S. Bonds

<http://www.courthousenews.com/2011/12/23/42507.htm>

PHILADELPHIA (CN) - A man from suburban Philadelphia claims to have 735 $1 billion Federal Reserve Bonds stashed in a bank outside the city, and that 15 more have yet to be returned to him by a scheming agent from the Department of Homeland Security.

Joseph Riad claims the 15 bonds came from three ultra-rare "sealed and certified bronze boxes," each of which contains 245 $1 billion 1934 Federal Reserve Bonds.

[DW: This was a slight mistake. The boxes contain 250 bonds each, but 15 out of 750 were stolen by the DHS.]

Riad sued the United States for $15 billion, in Federal Court.

The billion-dollar bonds allegedly were used by the government for debt-management purposes in the 1930s when physically moving lower-denomination currency or gold was impractical.

[DW: In reality, it wasn't practical to move the gold because it had been put "on deposit" with the Federal Reserve banks, worldwide.]

While there have been reports of fake billion-dollar bonds turning up in the past, Riad claims his bonds are genuine, and that several experts support that contention.

But no federal agency will redeem them, he says, despite "extensive and exhaustive proof of the authenticity of the Bonds."

According to what he calls an Affidavit of Procurement, filed as an exhibit to his complaint, Riad claims the boxes became his collateral for more than $76,000 in loans he made to a "mandate to the South African government."

RIAD COMES INTO CONTACT WITH GOVERNMENT AGENTS WHO CONFIRM THE BONDS ARE REAL

It may seem rather ridiculous that representatives of the South African government would give Joseph Riad 750 billion dollars in bonds as collateral for a 76,000-dollar loan.

This may have been done deliberately -- perhaps because the bonds had been stolen in the first place, and the representative knew they could not be cashed without him being killed -- and were therefore worthless.

However, this theft has now led to a lawsuit that is helping us break the entire story open.

Riad first acquired the bonds in 2006. If you go through and read all the documentation, you will see that Riad has done a staggering amount of work to prove these bonds are real -- including meeting with government agents.

A VISIT FROM THE SECRET SERVICE

As this stunning lawsuit continues, we find out that the plaintiff was contacted by the Secret Service, who told him the bonds were indeed real -- and wanted to help him put them back into the system.

<http://www.courthousenews.com/2011/12/23/42507.htm>

Riad says his bonds are the real deal, and that the Secret Service has indicated as much.

He contacted that agency in mid-2008, then met with two Secret Service agents at his then-lawyer's Houston law office, according to his complaint.

The agents referred him to an official at the Bureau of Public Debt (BPD), but when Riad contacted BPD official Donna Ayers, she "categorically denied the existence of bonds such as plaintiff's bonds," according to the complaint.

Ayers bounced him back to the agents, who "inspected plaintiff's bonds, reviewed the accompanying expert reports, and performed their own evaluations and tests so as to render their own opinion as to the authenticity of plaintiff's bonds," Riad says.

The agents then contacted Ayers "and informed her that plaintiff had completed the appropriate and required examination and authentication of the Bonds and that the redemption of said bonds did fall under the purview of the BPD, since the Bonds were outstanding government issued securities/debts," according to the complaint.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY AGENT STEALS 15 BILLION IN BONDS

At this point the story gets even more interesting.

Another government agent -- this time from the Department of Homeland Security -- got involved, confirmed the bonds were real, and then ended up running off with 15 billion dollars' worth of them.

<http://www.courthousenews.com/2011/12/23/42507.htm>

Finding no luck with the BPD, Riad says he continued his quest of "repatriating the bonds to the U.S. Treasury, with his intent being to assist in reducing outstanding U.S. debts."

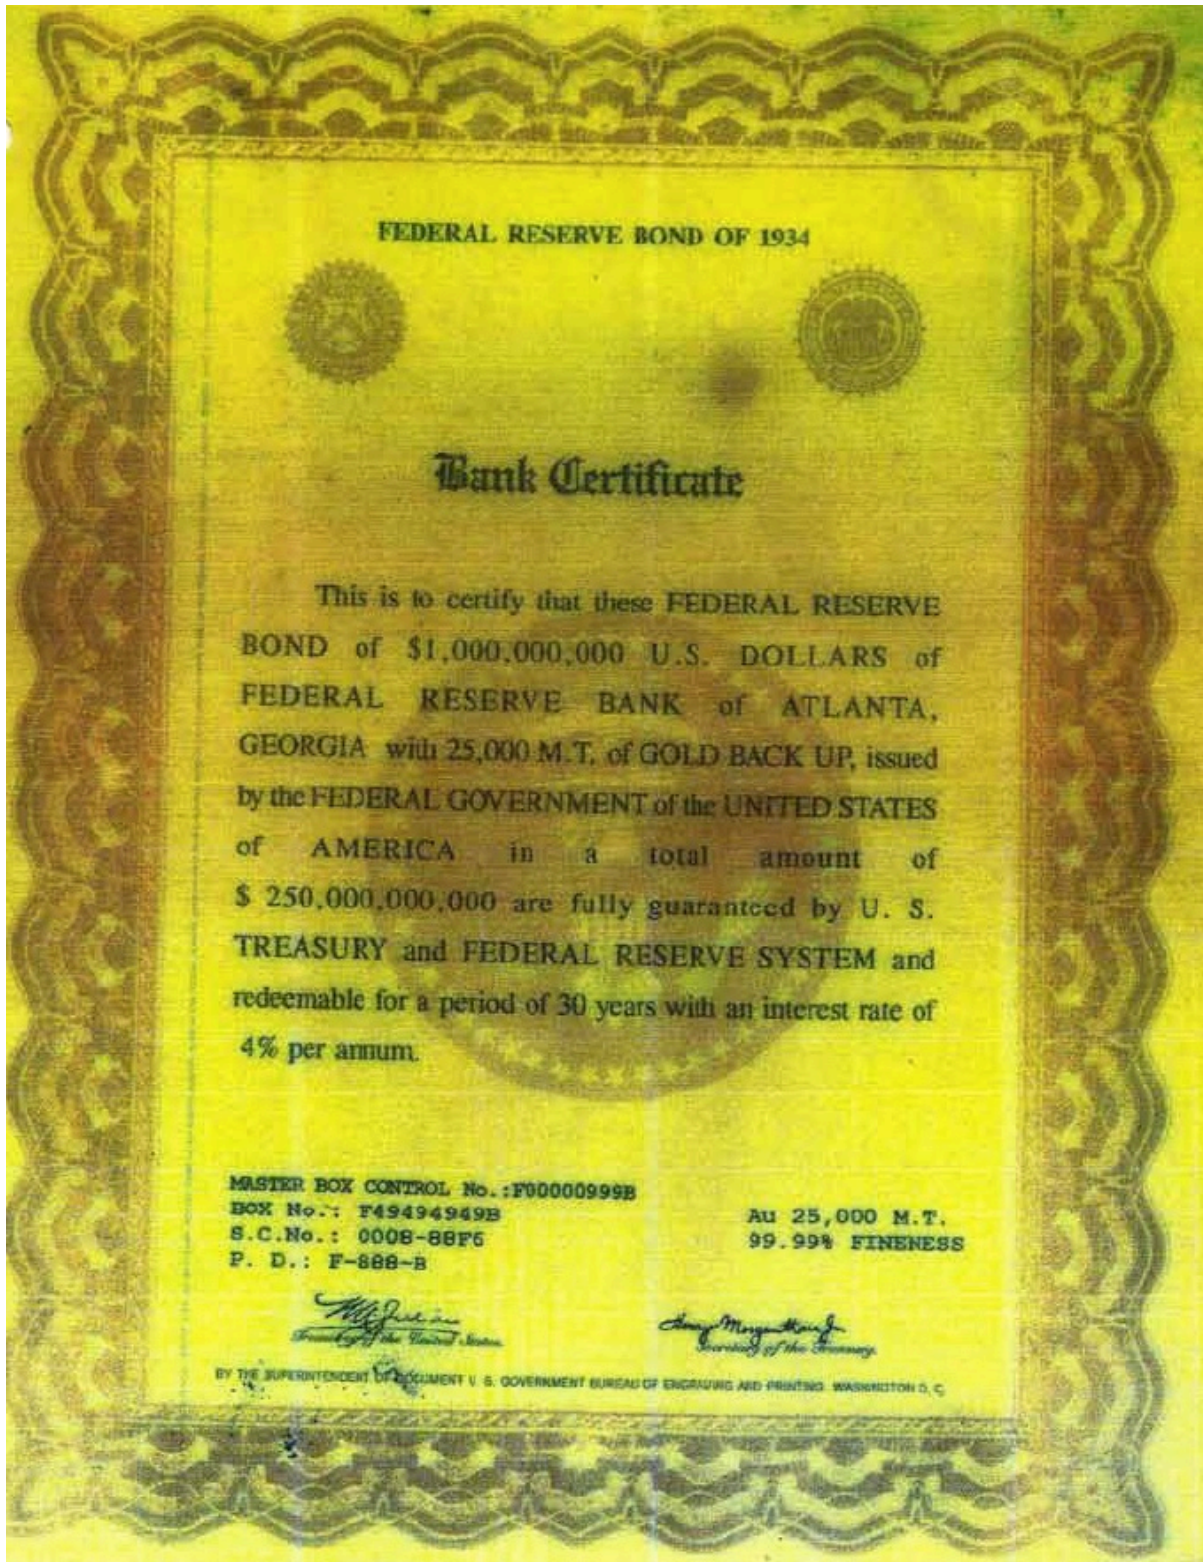

During his quest he encountered Nickolaus Jones, an agent for the Department of Homeland Security, who was bent on "fraudulently" obtaining the bonds, Riad says in his complaint.

Riad says he learned about Agent Jones through a man who called himself Neil Gibson.

Gibson was "an alleged British financial consultant who claimed to have experience in the repatriation of high-denomination U.S. government bonds...

"[Gibson] represented to plaintiff that he had a contract with the U.S. government to complete such transactions, and that he had successfully handled such projects on behalf of the U.S. government in the past," according to the complaint....

Riad says Jones told him that he could share his analysis of the bonds only with a federal agent possessing a sufficiently high clearance level, which, "fortuitously," Riad's bond expert, Kermit Harmon, a former security director for the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank, did have....

Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta Bank Certificate.

[Notice deliberately bad grammar: "these FEDERAL RESERVE BOND... of FEDERAL RESERVE BANK", the word "BACK UP", and the phrase "are fully guaranteed by U.S. TREASURY".]

The complaint continues: "At or about this same time, Agent Jones sent plaintiff and Mr. Oxford emails, demanding that plaintiff's three (3) bronze boxes and the remaining seven hundred thirty-five (735) bonds and supportive documents be surrendered to him immediately.

Agent Jones also threatened plaintiff that he would be prosecuted under federal law for refusing to turn over the bonds, citing specific U.S. Code provisions as authority for his threats.

However, due to the unethical and uncertain circumstances surrounding Agent Jones, it appeared to plaintiff and Mr. Oxford that Agent Jones was attempting to scare plaintiff in order to secure personal possession of the bonds and the bronze boxes.

Upon the advice of Mr. Oxford, plaintiff ignored Agent Jones' demands and threats.

THERE IS NO REASON WHY THE MEDIA SHOULDN'T COVER THIS STORY

Joseph Riad's lawsuit is not 'crazy' -- particularly in light of all the supporting evidence we have presented, including photographs from three other completely independent sources -- Keenan, Pelkowski and Unwanted Publicity.

I found out that Riad has since been contacted by Neil Keenan's team, and is now a contributing partner in the greater initiative to end Financial Tyranny.

Given the tremendous amount of evidence we have surveyed thus far -- including these four independent sets of images and two comprehensive lawsuits -- there is absolutely no reason why the media shouldn't be covering this story.

As we revealed in Section One, the Federal Reserve effectively bought the media -- and the facts have remained extremely well-hidden as a result.

THE BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS

Though these and other bond boxes were issued by the Federal Reserve, they are all part of an even larger banking network.

Very few people have heard of the Bank of International Settlements, or BIS -- but this is the global version of the Federal Reserve.

Keith Scott casually quoted from the BIS charter in an email he sent me -- right as I was getting ready to publish this section of the investigation.

I immediately asked him if this was online or classified. When I found out that everything was public, I got very excited, as this made it much easier to develop our case.

LOOK AT THE LOGO

First of all, notice that the BIS logo is a stylized Eye -- only in this case it has a diamond-shaped iris with lines coming off of each corner.

Everything you are about to read came directly off of the official BIS website -- in the Legal Info section:

<http://www.bis.org/about/legal.htm>

I have provided links where you can download each of these documents for yourself, directly off of the BIS website.

BANK OF INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS -- BRUSSELS PROTOCOL

This first excerpt is from the Brussels Protocol document. It spells out who joined the BIS, when it was officially created (originally in 1929 and 1930), and what its purpose was.

As I said in Section Four, the initial meetings included Japanese emperor Hirohito in 1921 -- but it took almost a decade to bring in all the countries that ultimately became signatories to the agreement. Here I will add emphasis where I feel it is appropriate.

Bank of International Settlements Legal Info – Brussels Protocol

<http://www.bis.org/about/protocol-en.pdf>

Protocol regarding the immunities of the Bank for International Settlements

(of 30 July 1936) [1]

The duly authorised representatives of the Government of His Majesty the King of the Belgians, the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the Government of Canada, the Government of the Commonwealth of Australia, the Government of New Zealand, the Government of the Union of South Africa, the Government of India, the Government of the French Republic, the Government of His Majesty the King of the Hellenes [Greece], the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, the Government of His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, the Government of the Republic of Poland, the Government of the Republic of Portugal, the Government of His Majesty the King of Roumania, the Government of the Swiss Confederation, the Government of His Majesty the King of Yugoslavia;

Whereas

In accordance with Article X, paragraph 2 of the Agreement with Germany [2], which was signed at The Hague on the 20th January 1930 and has duly come into force, their respective Governments (with the exception of the Swiss Confederation) have conferred upon the Bank for International Settlements, the establishment of which was laid down by the Experts' Plan of the 7th June 1929, certain immunities regarding its property and assets as well as those which might be entrusted to it;

Article 1

The Bank for International Settlements, its property and assets as well as all the property and assets which are or will be entrusted to it, whether coin or other fungible goods, gold bullion, silver or any other metal, precious objects, securities or any other objects the deposit of which is admissible in accordance with banking practice, are exempt from the provisions or measures referred to in paragraph 2 of Article X of the Agreement with Germany and in Article 10 of the Constituent Charter consecutive to the Convention with Switzerland, of the 20th January 1930.

The property and assets of third parties, held by any other institution or person, on the instructions, in the name or for the account of the Bank for International Settlements, shall be considered as entrusted to the Bank for International Settlements and as enjoying the immunities laid down by the Articles above-mentioned by the same right as the property and assets which the Bank for International Settlements holds for the account of others, in the premises set apart for this purpose by the Bank, its branches or agencies.

DID YOU CATCH THAT?

The BIS charter clearly states that it is a worldwide central bank that has taken in "deposits" from all the member nations -- as well as "third parties", which could include individual people.

These "deposits" include coins, gold bullion, silver and precious objects. The part most people do not understand is how this secret, coordinated, worldwide effort was made to confiscate all the world's gold and treasure -- and put it on deposit with the BIS.

The three nations that confiscated the most gold, during this time, were Germany, through Hitler's efforts; Japan, through plundering wealth from Asia, particularly China; and the United States, during the course of World War II.

Hitler invaded a wide variety of countries in Europe -- and systematically plundered their central banks at every stop. Japan was equally aggressive throughout Asia. This was all part of the secret plan -- and we will learn more about it as our investigation proceeds.

WILLFUL SURRENDER -- SUCH AS FROM THE UNITED STATES

Other nations, such as the United States, willingly surrendered the gold from their own central banks, and forced their private citizens to give up their gold as well. All of this gold was secretly put on deposit with the BIS, as per the protocol you just read.

In 1933, President Roosevelt passed Executive Order 6102, which made it illegal to own gold -- in a desperate effort to end the Great Depression. Private citizens were ordered to sell their gold to the Federal Reserve at $20.67 an ounce.

This was legally enforced by the Gold Act of 1934. Those citizens who did not comply had their seemingly private "safe" deposit boxes looted of any and all gold. Everything was then deposited into the BIS.

As the BIS Protocol document states, once these deposits were put in, they were "entrusted to the Bank of International Settlements" -- and the member nations enjoyed "immunities" as a result.

The Charter of the BIS goes into more detail about what, exactly, these immunities consist of.

THE BIS CHARTER

When you read the BIS Charter off of the official BIS website, you find out that the BIS is not just composed of the central banks of its member nations.

It is also composed of a "banking group" that includes, but is not limited to, J.P. Morgan, the First National Bank of New York and the First National Bank of Chicago -- i.e. the Federal Reserve member banks -- as well as an unnamed "financial institution of the United States of America" -- which is obviously the Federal Reserve.

The amounts that were listed as being put on deposit with the BIS were much lower than what they really had, based on what we now know. However, the charter itself allows for much more to be deposited -- without any public knowledge or oversight.

Furthermore, the Federal Reserve banks are held completely immune from any and all taxation on their profits from the BIS, thanks to the way the charter is written.

BIS Charter
<http://www.bis.org/about/charter-en.pdf>

Constituent Charter of the Bank for International Settlements
(of 20 January 1930) [1]

Whereas the Powers signatory to the Hague Agreement of January, 1930, have adopted a Plan which contemplates the founding by the central banks of Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Japan and by a financial institution of the United States of America of an International Bank to be called the Bank for International Settlements;

And whereas the said central banks and a banking group including Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Company of New York, the First National Bank of New York, New York, and the First National Bank of Chicago, Chicago, have undertaken to found the said Bank and have guaranteed or arranged for the guarantee of the subscription of its authorised capital amounting to five hundred million Swiss francs equal to 145,161,290.32 grammes fine gold, divided into 200,000 shares;....

6. The Bank shall be exempt and immune from all taxation....

7. All funds deposited with the Bank by any Government in pursuance of the Plan adopted by the Hague Agreement of January, 1930, shall be exempt and immune from taxation....

10. The Bank, its property and assets and all deposits and other funds entrusted to it shall be immune in time of peace and in time of war from any measure such as expropriation, requisition, seizure, confiscation, prohibition or restriction of gold or currency export or import, and any other similar measures.

WHAT DO THEY MEAN BY "IMMUNE?"

Number 10 in the Charter says that "The Bank, its property and assets and all deposits and other funds entrusted to it" shall be "immune... from... seizure [or] confiscation."

What this means in practical terms is that every ounce of gold and treasure put on deposit with the BIS is registered and tracked.

If you ever dared to try to go after any of this gold, you would very likely be killed. Deadly force is used to insure that these assets will remain "immune from seizure or confiscation" -- as otherwise various groups would obviously attempt to steal them.

This is obviously why Joseph Riad was handed three 250-billion-dollar bond boxes in exchange for a $76,000 dollar loan. The perpetrator knew Riad could never cash them -- they belonged to the BIS.

David Hutzler and his 8-year-old son Mackie may have been killed just for conveying Ben's message to me -- telling me to send you to Unwanted Publicity Intelligence, so you can see real pictures of these Federal Reserve bonds and learn the whole story for yourself.

PRIVATE SHAREHOLDERS

Even more is revealed, in open and public view, when we dig into the statutes of the BIS. We find, among other things, that "private shareholders" can be a part of the BIS -- not just central banks.

There is nothing written in the BIS statutes that says these entities could not be private, individual shareholders.

Furthermore, these "private shareholders" can enjoy the profits from the BIS -- all of which are, as we just saw, completely non-taxable.

This may not seem like a big deal until we find out, a bit later, how enormous these profits are. It's literally a magic printing press -- where anything goes and nothing is sacred.

This little-known fact is only one of a series of interesting things that jump out when you read the BIS statutes.

THE BIS STATUTES

BIS Statutes

<http://www.bis.org/about/statutes-en.pdf>

Article 3

The objects of the Bank are: to promote the co-operation of central banks and to provide additional facilities for international financial operations; and to act as trustee or agent in regard to international financial settlements entrusted to it under agreements with the parties concerned.

Article 18(A) – In accordance with the resolutions of the Extraordinary General Meeting held on 8 January 2001 and in order to implement Article 15 of the Statutes as amended, the Bank will, on a compulsory basis, repurchase each share which, as of that date, is registered in the name of a shareholder other than a central bank (a “private shareholder”)....

The Bank may enter into special agreements with central banks to facilitate the settlement of international transactions between them.

For this purpose it may arrange with central banks to have gold earmarked for their account and transferable on their order, to open accounts through which central banks can transfer their assets from one currency to another....

The Board shall be composed as follows:

(1) The Governors for the time being of the central banks of Belgium, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and the United States of America (hereinafter referred to as ex-officio Directors).

Article 29

Directors must be ordinarily resident in Europe or in a position to attend regularly at meetings of the Board.

Article 48

The financial year of the Bank will begin on 1st April and end on 31st March. The first financial period will end on 31st March, 1931.

Article 51

The yearly net profits of the Bank shall be applied as follows:....

(4) The disposal of the remainder of the net profits shall be determined by the General Meeting on the proposal of the Board, provided that a portion of such remainder may be allotted to the shareholders by way of a transfer to the Special Dividend Reserve Fund.

Article 55

(1) The Bank shall enjoy immunity from jurisdiction....

(2) Property and assets of the Bank shall, wherever located and by whomsoever held, be immune from any measure of execution (including seizure, attachment, freeze or any other measure of execution, enforcement or sequestration),....

LET'S REVIEW WHAT WE JUST LEARNED HERE...

If you were reading this carefully, you would see that the BIS acts as an intermediary and trustee for the "settlement of international transactions" between central banks.

Specifically, the gold that is held on deposit within the BIS system can be transferred from one account to another. This also allows central banks to "transfer their assets from one currency to another."

The Statutes also indicate that this whole process is "free from jurisdiction" outside the BIS system. Best of all, some of the shareholders who take part in this system can be "private"... and are "other than a central bank."

These "private" shareholders can enjoy the profits from the "settlement of international transactions" where gold held on deposit within the BIS is transferred from one account to another -- and massive profits are generated in the process.

Wouldn't it be nice if you could be one of those shareholders enjoying the profits, free from taxation and jurisdiction?

I was faced with that very same question -- and it was very real in my case. I did not get involved, but I did listen -- as the offers came in from several different sources within a fairly small window of time.

THE BRETTON WOODS AGREEMENT CLARIFIED AND ENHANCED EVERYTHING

It wasn't until the end of World War II that the foundation we just learned about from the official BIS website was fully clarified and extended -- into a worldwide economic system.

730 delegates from all 44 Allied nations met in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, as we are about to see.

What we do not see, in any public records I am aware of, is that these delegates agreed that in order for the world's economy to run properly, they had to be able to create money by fiat -- i.e. out of "thin air."

This was exactly what Adam Smith had argued in The Wealth of Nations -- which was the visible prototype for this entire financial agreement that most of the delegates were already familiar with.

The delegates knew this fiat currency would be secretly backed by all the gold that had been put on "deposit" with the BIS. That helped them feel more comfortable that it wasn't actually "funny money," backed by nothing.

The details I am about to share with you are considered to be some of the most heavily-guarded secrets on Earth. I only learned about them through conversations with multiple insiders.

PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS HAD TO ACT ON BEHALF OF CENTRAL BANKS

Many of the 730 delegates at Bretton Woods were paranoid about the centralization of world power. As a result, they agreed that central banks could not trade directly with each other.

The potential for back-alley deals and secret transactions was far too great in such a system.

Instead, private individuals were required to actually facilitate the trades between central banks.

The central banks were only able to vote "yes" or "no" on any particular "trade" that came their way.

A central bank could also offer a trade of their own, and put it on the market -- but a private individual would then have to apply for the trade, and find another central bank to act as a buyer.

In effect, these private individuals became brokers for the trades that needed to occur between central banks -- in order to keep their currencies functioning properly.

PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS HAD TO HOLD THE COLLATERAL IN THEIR OWN ACCOUNTS

Furthermore, the paranoid Bretton Woods delegates also agreed that the central banks could not hold the collateral in their own accounts.

All the money had to be held in the accounts of the private individuals -- and it was all very strictly regulated.

This was intended to prevent the central banks from looting these accounts, as they did not have direct access to them.

They could only use the accounts as collateral for their own transactions -- such as in the "Forex" currency exchange and other markets.

As a result, you could have one individual who has an account that holds, say, 100 Billion dollars. However, that 100 Billion could actually be providing collateral for several different central banks.

Meanwhile, the 100 Billion in that account is backed up by the gold that is secretly being held on deposit by the BIS.

NO LEGAL REPRESENTATION

The whole plan was meant to be kept highly secret, in order to preserve the health and safety of these private individuals -- so they could do their jobs.

In order to protect secrecy, it was decided that these private individuals could not have a broker, lawyer or other representation.

The only way you could learn about the system was to have someone else teach you how it works -- but they could not be a licensed financial analyst either.

The transactions of these private individuals were also subject to rigorous auditing and regulation from the United Nations and the SEC in the United States, among others.

From what I've heard, many of the private individuals with the largest accounts in this system are members of the "Illuminati families" -- but that should come as no surprise by now.

All of this information came to me by way of several different insiders over the years -- each of whom said essentially the same things.

AN INCREDIBLE AMOUNT OF JARGON TO LEARN

The jargon that has since been created within this insiders' financial system is massive.

When I first heard people using this jargon in a fast-moving conversation, I felt like I was trying to understand a foreign language.

Private Placement Programs. (PPPs.) Tranches. Medium Term Notes. (MTNs.) Stand-By Letters of Credit. (SBLC.) Aged Shelf corporations. Bullet trades. Safe Keeping Receipts. (SKR.)

However, by paying rigorously close attention and memorizing every term as it came out, I was gradually able to link the pieces together -- and in a fairly short period of time I was able to sound somewhat intelligent in the discussion.

LOTS OF TRAPS TO DISTRACT ANYONE WHO STUMBLES OVER THIS

Almost every person I met who was involved in this system gave me strict warnings to never put any of these terms into Google as a search.

That alone could be enough to have Feds come knocking at your door... or so I was told.

I was also told that deliberate, highly compelling disinformation had been put out on the Internet to make people think the whole thing was a very elaborate scam.

This article on "Prime Bank / High Yield Investment Schemes" is a great example -- and we will read some of it a bit later.

There is very good evidence that this insiders' system is NOT a scam, as we will see.

SOME PEOPLE DO GET PULLED OUT OF THE REAL SYSTEM DUE TO DISHONESTY

A certain number of "traders" who get too greedy in the real system are deliberately pulled out.

Once they get tossed out, they are told the whole thing was a fake -- and they got ripped off.

The litigation that then results makes the claims that it is all a "Ponzi scheme" sound legit.

Nonetheless, spending $7500 of "real money" and ending up with millions of dollars in tax-free profits is unlike any other Ponzi scheme I've ever heard of.

A Bernie Madoff-type Ponzi scheme is pathetic by comparison -- in which you only earn back a measly 20 percent interest per annum.

I WILL SHOW YOU HOW IT IS DONE

In this section I will show you how you could quickly become a multi-millionaire, with millions more in profits every month, off of a 7500-dollar investment -- providing you know the right people.

I have had several deals like this offered to me in the last few years -- in an obvious attempt to "buy" me so I could be bribed, blackmailed and ultimately destroyed.

I was warned that this was a very elite insiders' club -- and simply looking up the terms online could get me in serious trouble.

A friend of mine actually did do a search for these dangerous financial terms, using IP-address-scrambling software.

He found this website, Inside Trade LLC -- and if I had read all of it back before I was in some of those meetings, I could have gotten up to speed a lot faster.

"HUMANITARIAN RELIEF"

These trades were built to generate profits out of thin air. The Bretton Woods delegates all agreed this was necessary. The amounts of profits these trades could potentially generate were spectacular.

For this same reason, the 730 delegates were quite paranoid about generating money out of thin air.

They did not want it to end up back in the hands of the wealthy bankers -- including the Nazis, who were still members of the BIS... as we will see.

A majority of delegates agreed that 70 percent of the profits must go to humanitarian relief programs.

However, the remaining 30 percent could be invested into non-humanitarian programs of the private shareholders' own choosing.

If these private shareholders were involved as directors of these programs, they could then pay themselves a healthy salary for their work.

Later in this section, we will explore solid evidence that this system of "trading" is alive and well.

THE WRITTEN DESCRIPTION OF BRETTON WOODS

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_Nations_Monetary_and_Financial_Conference

The United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference, commonly known as the Bretton Woods conference, was a gathering of 730 delegates from all 44 Allied nations at the Mount Washington Hotel, situated in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, to regulate the international monetary and financial order after the conclusion of World War II.^[1]

The conference was held from 1-22 July 1944, when the agreements were signed to set up the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), and the International Monetary Fund (IMF)....

HITLER'S GOVERNMENT WAS A PART OF THE BIS -- CAUSING CONTROVERSY AT BRETTON WOODS

Another little-known problem that came up at Bretton Woods was the key participation of Germany in the Bank of International Settlements.

Most nations thought the BIS was mainly used to help enact the Treaty of Versailles -- in which funds were pledged to help rebuild Germany after its staggering defeat in World War I.

However, if the Nazis were the bad guys in World War II, killing untold numbers of Jews as well as so many others, what the hell was Germany still doing in the BIS?

That was a good question -- and it caused a great deal of controversy, as we see here.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_Nations_Monetary_and_Financial_Conference

In the last stages of the Second World War, in 1944 at the Bretton Woods Conference, the Bank for International Settlements became the crux of a fight that broke out when the Norwegian delegation put forth evidence that the BIS was guilty of war crimes and put forth a motion to dissolve the bank; the Americans, specifically President Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau, supported this motion.

This resulted in a fight between, on one side, several European nations, the American and the Norwegian delegation, led by Henry Morgenthau and Harry Dexter White; and on the other side, the British delegation, headed by John Maynard Keynes and Chase Bank representative Dean Acheson, who tried to veto the dissolution of the bank.

The problem was that the BIS, formed in 1930, had as the main proponents of its establishment the then Governor of the Bank of England, Montagu Norman, and his colleague Hjalmar Schacht, later Adolf Hitler's finance minister.

The Bank was as far as known, originally primarily intended to facilitate money transfers arising from settling an obligation from the peace treaty after WWI.

After World War I, the need for the bank was suggested in 1929 by the Young Committee, as a means of transfer for German reparations payments ("see: Treaty of Versailles").

The plan was agreed in August of that year at a conference at the Hague, and a charter for the bank was drafted at the International Bankers Conference at Baden Baden in November. The charter was adopted at a second Hague Conference on January 20, 1930.

The Original board of directors of the BIS included two appointees of Hitler, Walter Funk and Emil Puhl, as well as Herman Schmitz the director of IG Farben and Baron von Schroeder the owner of the J.H. Stein Bank, the bank that held the deposits of the Gestapo.

NORWAY, THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER EUROPEANS ARGUED THAT THE BIS SHOULD BE DISSOLVED

As we can see in this next excerpt, Norway, the United States and other European delegates argued that the BIS should be dissolved.

It was well known at the time that "the BIS had helped the Germans loot assets from occupied countries during World War II."

The British fought hard and ultimately won. As a result, the BIS still exists today, despite this outrageous conflict of interest.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_Nations_Monetary_and_Financial_Conference

As a result of allegations that the BIS had helped the Germans loot assets from occupied countries during World War II, the United Nations Monetary and Financial Conference recommended the "liquidation of the Bank for International Settlements at the earliest possible moment." ^[2]

This dissolution, which was originally proposed by Norway and supported by other European delegates, as well as the United States and Morgenthau and Harry Dexter White, was never accomplished. ^[3]

In July 1944, Dean Acheson interrupted Keynes in a meeting, fearing that the BIS would be dissolved by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Keynes went to Henry Morgenthau to prevent or postpone the dissolution of the BIS, but the next day the dissolution of the BIS was approved.

The British delegation did not give up, however, and the dissolution of the bank was still not accomplished when Roosevelt died. In April 1945, the new president Harry S. Truman and the British suspended the dissolution and the decision to liquidate the BIS was officially reversed in 1948. ^[4]

THE DOLLAR BECAME THE "GLOBAL RESERVE CURRENCY"

Among other things, the IMF or International Monetary Fund was created in Bretton Woods. Furthermore, as you will see, all currencies worldwide were "pegged" to the United States dollar.

The United States was now the only country allowed to officially possess gold reserves -- so the US Dollar became "as good as gold," thus making it the "global reserve currency."

However, in the "Nixon shock," the United States refused to back up dollars with gold as of 1971 -- meaning the US dollar, and therefore the entire global economy, was now backed by nothing but "hot air."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bretton_Woods_system

Setting up a system of rules, institutions, and procedures to regulate the international monetary system, the planners at Bretton Woods established the International Monetary Fund \(IMF\) and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development \(IBRD\), which today is part of the World Bank Group.

These organizations became operational in 1945 after a sufficient number of countries had ratified the agreement.

The chief features of the Bretton Woods system were an obligation for each country to adopt a monetary policy that maintained the exchange rate by tying its currency to the U.S. dollar and the ability of the IMF to bridge temporary imbalances of payments.

On August 15, 1971, the United States unilaterally terminated convertibility of the dollar to gold. As a result, "[t]he Bretton Woods system officially ended and the dollar became fully 'fiat currency,' backed by nothing but the promise of the federal government." ^[1]

This action, referred to as the Nixon shock, created the situation in which the United States dollar became the sole backing of currencies and a reserve currency for the member states....

FEDERAL RESERVE CHAIRMAN BERNANKE SAYS GOLD STANDARD HAD TO BE ABANDONED

Mirroring Adam Smith's suggestions in his 1776 mega-document The Wealth of Nations, Ben Bernanke explained in his book The Great Depression that the countries of the world had to abandon the gold standard to "escape the deflationary vortex".

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bretton_Woods_system

Here's Ben Bernanke:

"... [T]he proximate cause of the world depression was a structurally flawed and poorly managed international gold standard...

For a variety of reasons, including among others a desire of the Federal Reserve to curb the US stock market boom, monetary policy in several major countries turned contractionary in the late 1920s—a contraction that was transmitted worldwide by the gold standard.

What was initially a mild deflationary process began to snowball when the banking and currency crises of 1931 instigated an international "scramble for gold"....

As a result, individual countries were able to escape the deflationary vortex only by unilaterally abandoning the gold standard and re-establishing domestic monetary stability, a process that dragged on in a halting and uncoordinated manner until France and the other Gold Bloc countries finally left gold in 1936." (from "Great Depression" B. Bernanke)....

ALLIED NATIONS TRANSFERRED GOLD TO THE UNITED STATES / BIS

Let's not forget how the Rothschilds learned their lesson about making huge profits in times of the greatest crisis - namely whether a battered, broken nation was about to be defeated by Napoleon.

The United States found itself in a similar position in World War II. Allied nations were deeply in debt, and ended up transferring their gold to the United States -- and secretly putting them on deposit with the BIS -- in order to repay their debts.

These countries then became a part of the BIS system, in which central banks traded with other central banks through the use of private individuals who acted as intermediaries -- and thus enjoyed the profits.

This was another critical aspect of how the ancient plan for a "New World Order" actually coalesced into reality. These countries did not do this willingly -- they were forced to, by powers seemingly beyond their control.

Little could anyone have realized how carefully and deliberately orchestrated this was -- unless they were a part of the Great Plan. The Soviet Union did not participate -- and soon became the New Bad Guy.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bretton_Woods_system

The U.S. dollar was the currency with the most purchasing power and it was the only currency that was backed by gold.

Additionally, all European nations that had been involved in World War II were highly in debt and transferred large amounts of gold into the United States, a fact that contributed to the supremacy of the United States....

Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau insisted that the Big Four (United States, United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, and China) participate in the Bretton Woods conference in 1944,^[11] but their goal was frustrated when the Soviet Union would not join the IMF.

CRITICAL REVELATIONS FROM CITY OF LONDON BANKER DAVID GUYATT

Former City of London banker David Guyatt has done incredible research into this highly secretive plan to confiscate the world's gold after World War One.

He released his first incredibly detailed book exposing these plots in 2000. By 2002, his knowledge base had considerably grown -- and his article "The Spoils of War," he revealed firsthand knowledge of the group behind the Federal Reserve, and their plans.

As I now have learned from Keenan and Scott, David Guyatt did not have access to all the information. He apparently did not understand that the gold confiscation was truly worldwide, nor that it all ended up going on deposit with the BIS.

Guyatt did the best he could with the information he had -- and he focused most strongly on the Japanese confiscation of Asian gold:

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_spoils_of_war.htm

The story about what really happened to the loot plundered by the Nazis and Japanese during WWII remains one of the best-kept secrets of the last fifty years.

Few outside of the charmed circle of initiated insiders possess any knowledge whatsoever of the true dimensions of what can be described as the biggest cover-up of all time....

German Reichsbank Underground Gold Storage Vault -- Put On Deposit for Bank of International Settlements (BIS) -- From Unwanted Publicity Website

By putting the spotlight on Nazi plunder from the very beginning, public attention was diverted away from the industrial scale looting undertaken by Japan's special plunder teams known as the "Golden Lily." And it is here that the real story dwells....

Prince Chichibu was the younger brother of Japan's Emperor Hirohito, and had been named by the Emperor to head the ultra-secret Golden Lily – a secretive group tasked with looting China of its wealth – both government and privately owned hard assets.

Beginning in 1937, with the Rape of Nanking, the plunder teams set to work with a vengeance.

The spoils were far larger than had been imagined. It is believed that 6,000 metric tonnes of gold, plus a bounty of silver and precious gemstones, fell in to the hands of Japan's imperial treasury as a consequence.^[2]

The phenomenal wealth of East and Southeast Asia had accrued over thousands of years -- and Japan wanted it all.

Over the next seven years the Orient was wrung dry of its precious metals, solid gold religious artefacts and an unbelievable quantity of gemstones.

One-Ton Solid Gold Buddha image from Guyatt's book.
The head unscrewed, revealing a body cavity filled with precious gemstones.

BURIED IN THE PHILIPPINES

As Guyatt's article goes on -- an article that is really just a summary of his impeccably-researched books freely given away on his website -- he reveals that the financial value of the confiscated gold was much, much higher than most people would ever believe.

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_spoils_of_war.htm

Most of this [treasure] was shipped by the Japanese to the Philippines as a collecting point, for onward shipment to Tokyo. However, by 1943 the sea-lanes had been cut by US submarines and the decision was taken to bury the plunder throughout the Philippines....

Image of Filipino Buried Gold from Guyatt's Book

The quantity of gold and other treasures buried was phenomenal. Japanese cartographers made maps of each site and trusted accountants marked them with three digits signifying the Yen values of the gold, diamonds and other assets buried in each.

A site bearing the designation "777" was valued at 777 billion yen. With 1945 exchange rates fluctuating between 3.50 and 4.00 yen to the dollar, just one triple seven site was worth almost US$200 billion – a king's ransom by any measure.

Image of Filipino Buried Gold from Guyatt's Book

There were many triple seven ("777") sites as well as triple nine and lesser sites.

Not only were these figures based on 1945 values -- when a dollar was really a dollar -- but also when the price of gold was $35.00 an ounce.

Today [in 2002,] the price of gold is closer to $300 an ounce. But add to this the fact that in the Philippines alone there were over 170 burial sites, and a picture forms of a wealth so unimaginable that it almost defies belief.[\[4\]](#)

[DW: The price of gold WAS 300 an ounce when David Guyatt published this article in 2002. It is obviously much more than that now. If all this gold becomes publicly acknowledged, the "spot price" of gold will almost certainly plunge.]

IMAGES OF OFF-MARKET THAI GOLD

Not all the gold put on "deposit" with the BIS was buried underground. Some of it was kept in secret storage facilities. Thailand is a great example of a country that did not bury their gold, but chose to keep it above-ground.

Neil Keenan sent me the following images of the Thai gold -- which is apparently all registered with the BIS, and not part of the world's acknowledged, "open" gold supply.

DISINFORMATION DELIVERED IN ONLY FIVE DAYS

Something very curious has happened since we published the above images from within a Thai gold warehouse. It appears that the disinformation engine kicked in immediately.

Sections Five and Six were first posted on Saturday, January 28th. Five days later, on Thursday, February 2nd, the Daily Mail released nearly identical photos -- and claimed they were from their own gold depository.

Since then, seemingly innocent readers' comments have been appearing all over -- acting as if this proves the British are telling the truth, and that this one piece of data somehow destroys our vast treasure-trove of evidence.

There were fewer posters on the wall in this picture, yes... but even the camera angle was exactly the same.

Cash-strapped British people will breathe a sigh of relief when they see these impressive treasure troves.

Despite the financial crisis, it seems the country still has some money left in the Bank of England's vault beneath London.

In fact, there are stacks of gold bars worth a whopping £156billion stored in an old canteen deep below the streets of the capital.

Treasure trove: The Bank of England's vault under central London contains 4,600 tons of the precious metal, worth an incredible £156billion

THE EMAIL WAS ORIGINALLY SENT DECEMBER 15TH, 2011

I have deleted my email address and contacts for privacy, but otherwise this is exactly what Neil Keenan sent me on December 15, 2011.

Fox News is now embroiled in an email-hacking conspiracy where celebrities' emails were hacked in order to provide tips for news stories. Gmail, of course, has absolutely no security -- you don't even have the emails stored on your own machine.

THREE WEEKS LATER...

On January 7, 2012, three weeks after Neil sent me these damning pictures, the Daily Mail published an article that used the exact same camera angle -- from within the exact same facility.

In this case, the only difference is there were more posters on the wall.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/home/moslive/article-2082126/From-river-prospectors-canny-investors-everyones-hunt-gold.html?ITO=1490>

Then, as I said, another article with the same exact camera angle of the same exact facility appeared precisely three weeks later -- just five days after I got courageous enough to actually go public with these images.

ALL THE POSTERS ARE FROM THE PENINSULA AND ORIENT CRUISE LINE

Every poster on every wall is an advertisement for the British luxury cruise line Peninsula and Orient, or P&O. This next poster clearly advertises trips to China and Japan. I slightly stretched it in Photoshop to make it easier to see.

This underground gold storage facility was built with the British in Thailand, back in the 1930s when this all began. The British bankers set it up as a depository for the Bank of International Settlements, or BIS -- the international version of the Federal Reserve.

The bankers apparently chose to take a luxury cruise out to Thailand and make it a vacation -- rather than flying over, putting them at risk of being shot down on such a sensitive mission.

Then, as they left their staterooms and disembarked from the ship, they brought posters with them that were current for the time... namely the 1930s... and hung them up.

THE BEST CRUISE TO THAILAND AVAILABLE... IF NOT THE ONLY

The best cruise line available -- and likely the only British cruise line available -- was P&O, or Peninsula and Orient.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/P%26O_Cruises

P&O Cruises originates from 1822, with the formation of the Peninsular & Oriental Steam Navigation Company... In 1837, the company won a contract to deliver mail to the Peninsula,^[2] with its first mail ship, RMS Don Juan, departing from London on 1 September 1837....

In 1904 the company advertised its first cruise on the 6,000-ton Vectis, a ship specially fitted out for the purpose of carrying 150 first-class passengers. Ten years later the company merged with the British India Steam Navigation Company, leaving the fleet with a total of 197 ships....

A major event in the company's history took place in December 1918, when P&O purchased 51% of the Orient Steam Navigation Company...

During the 1920s, P&O and Orient Line took delivery of over 20 passenger liners, allowing them to expand their operations once again. Cruises began operating once again in 1925... During 1929, P&O offered 15 cruises, some aboard Viceroy of India, the company's first turbo-electric ship.

THE POSTERS ARE ALL CORRECT FOR THE 1930s

Thanks to the Internet, we can study all the different eras of P&O Cruises posters, and clearly identify that all of the posters in this facility originated in the 1930s -- when all the 'deposits' of gold were originally being made.

Cruise Line History – P&O Chusan

<http://cruiselinehistory.com/?p=4399>

ISN'T IT STRANGE?

Isn't it strange that on January 7, 2012 -- just three weeks after I got the email with these pictures -- the Daily Mail would publish an article with almost the exact same image in it?

Isn't it strange that all the posters on the wall are 1930s-era P&O Cruises posters -- even though the posters have been moved around from one Daily Mail article to the next?

Isn't it strange that after we first published Section Five, the exact same photograph appeared in yet another Daily Mail article -- a mere five days later?

Isn't it strange that the whole purpose of this new article was to say that this was a British storage facility for gold - with otherwise no 'story' to speak of?

Isn't it strange that every poster in the entire facility would have easily come off of an elite British cruise ship to Thailand in the 1930s -- and there are no images of the Queen or any other attempts at decoration whatsoever?

HINTS OF THE INTERNATIONAL 'DEPOSITS' AS WELL

Furthermore, in the second Daily Mail article that exposed these pictures, there were some interesting statements at the end.

These statements directly addressed the data we published in this piece about the Bank of International Settlements taking 'deposits' from other nations.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2095535/Bank-Englands-glittering-stash-156BN-gold-bars-stored-canteen-London.html>

The old-fashioned posters that hang around the room depict sunny climes, luxury cruises and happier times - which may be as welcome a sight as the valuables for many.

Three-foot long keys are needed to unlock to the doors that guard the rooms holding the gold - but sadly not all of it belongs to us.

Some is deposited by foreign governments as well as our own. Different shapes and marks distinguish the varying sources of the wealth.

To me, this is every bit as suspicious as David and Mackie Hutzler dying of gunshot wounds to the head, having their house burned down, and then having the whole thing blamed on David -- who was thrilled about the impending defeat of Financial Tyranny.

Even if Neil Keenan and Keith Scott's contact who sent us these pictures was somehow lying to us -- which he definitely does not appear to be -- seeing two different articles appear in mainstream media with the exact same picture in such a short time is very suspicious.

THE BLACK EAGLE TRUST

As our excerpt goes on, Guyatt describes how these stolen assets were incorporated into the "Black Eagle Trust" and spread across more than 40 countries -- all of whom were signatories of the Bretton Woods agreement.

Again, we've now heard from Keenan and Scott that this was all done legally -- at least within the hidden charter of the Bank of International Settlements.

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_spoils_of_war.htm

With the defeat of Japanese forces in the Philippines in 1945, a project of the utmost secrecy was launched to recover the buried Golden Lily plunder.

This project was placed under the day-to-day control of Captain Edward Lansdale and OSS operative Severino Garcia Santa Romana... The CIA would later recruit both officers.

Over the next few years numerous plunder sites were located and the stolen assets recovered. The gold, gemstones and other treasure were deposited in over 170 bank accounts spread across more than forty countries -- all of whom were signatories of the 1944 Bretton Woods agreement.

Collectively, the recovered loot came to be known as the Black Eagle Trust or fund.

Even to this day the mere mention of the Black Eagle Fund causes unease, and the entire subject remains cloaked in official secrecy.

For example, during a 1999 discussion on this subject, one highly placed banker familiar with the existence and arrangements of this slush fund cautioned: "if you wish to discuss certain aspects of military program finance on the internet, you may be doing so in contravention of several statutes and regulations, both in the United States and in any NATO-member jurisdiction."....

According to official figures, the present volume of above ground gold stocks is approximately 142,000 metric tonnes. This, it is claimed, accounts for all the gold mined over six thousand years. [5]

In contrast to these figures, just one of the many "777" Golden Lily sites would have held, using a conservative estimate, upwards of 90,000 metric tonnes. [6]....

TRILATERAL COMMISSION AND "ILLUMINATI"

David Guyatt didn't know much about the Illuminati when he wrote The Spoils of War in 2002. However, he definitely heard the name from his own insiders.

Specifically, a member of the Trilateral Commission told his wife, on his deathbed, that he had been in a secret society called the Illuminati -- and that they had created a fifty-year plan to "corner the major part of the world's gold supply."

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_spoils_of_war.htm

...the last word about the involvement of the Trilateral Commission in plundered gold comes from Mr. Goldfinger himself -- Severino Garcia Santa Romana.

Prior to his death in 1974, Sta. Romana told his wife that he was a senior member (indeed, he claimed to be the head) of the Trilateral Commission -- that he said "controlled world finance."

He also revealed he was deeply involved with a secret society known as the “Illuminati” which he maintained had set in motion a fifty year plan to “corner the major part of the world's gold supply.” [41]

It is, of course, impossible to verify this claim.

But it can be no more an outrageous idea than that propounded by Cecil Rhodes for his secret society...

The [British] Minister of Economic Warfare... Lord Selborne... was a member of the top level “circle of initiates” of the secret society formed by South African gold and diamond magnate, Cecil Rhodes – who founded De Beers....

For [these "Illuminati" plans] to succeed, Rhodes wrote in 1891, to his friend W T Stead, would require “...gradually absorbing the wealth of the world...” [42]

Controlling the world’s supply of gold, platinum and diamonds would undoubtedly be one way of achieving this ambition.

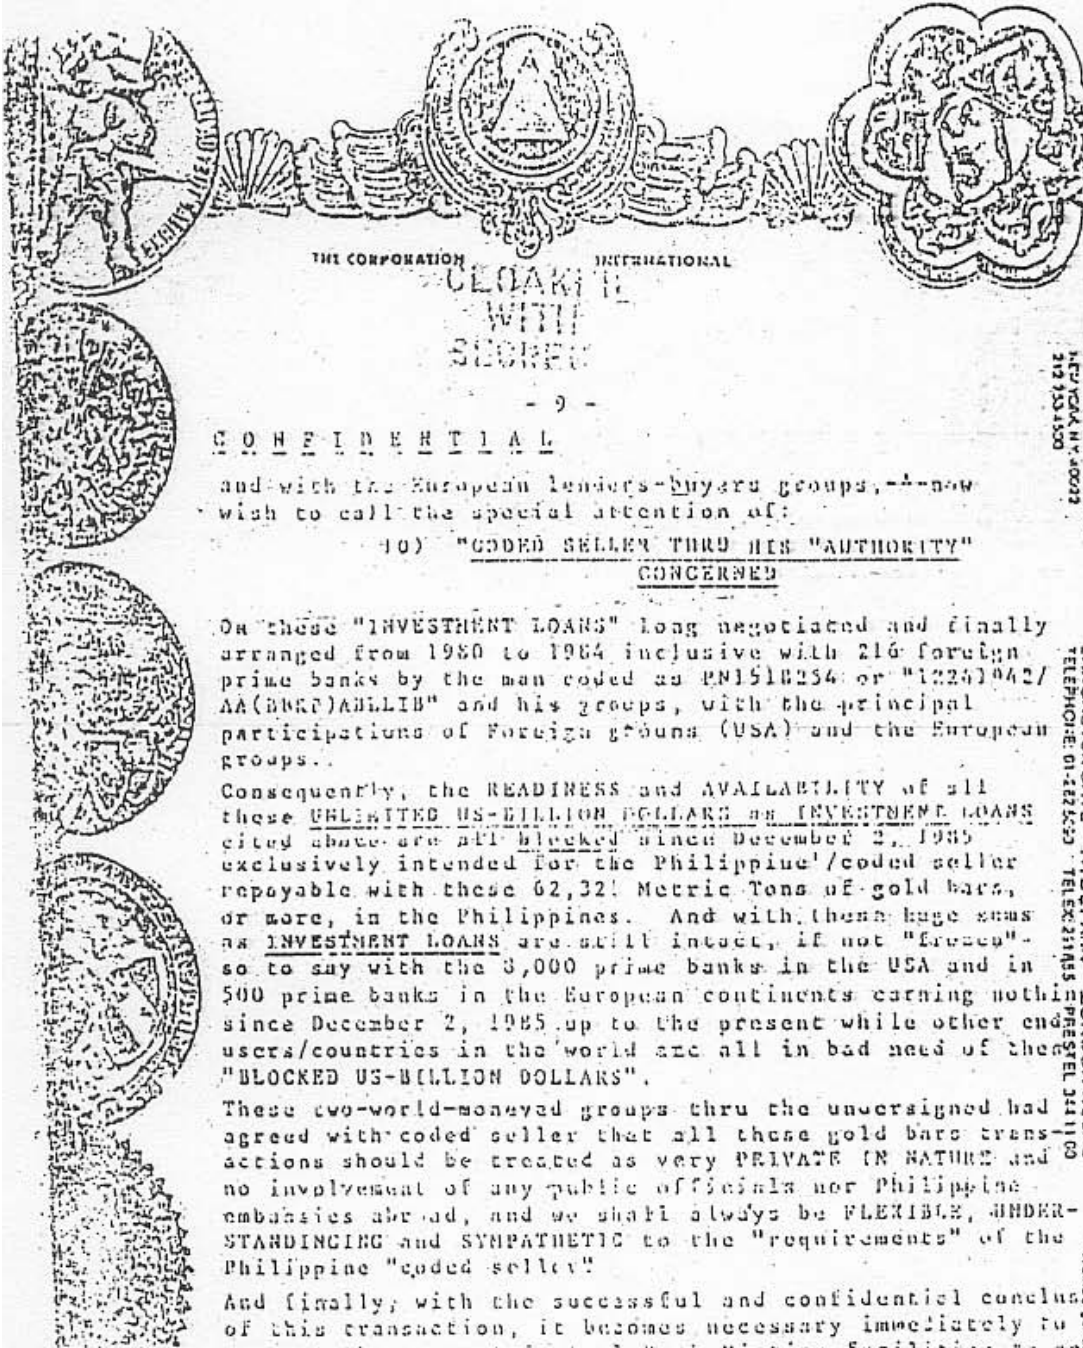

THE DOCUMENTS

David Guyatt didn't just make open-ended claims -- he provided leaked documents and photographs to back up what he said.

Some of these documents came from Erick A. San Juan's book, Marcos Legacy Revisited: Raiders of the Lost Gold. It was published in Makati City, Phillipines, in 1998.

These are just a few of the stunning images you will see when you read "The Secret Gold Treaty". Notice the Illuminati symbol dominating the top of each document.

In case you can't read it, the key underlined part of this document says that it provides for "unlimited US-Billion dollars as investment loans" that are backed up by 62,325 metric tons, "or more", of gold bars held in the Phillipines.

This next document has the best-quality capture of the bizarre seals we see on the above document -- including the Illuminati symbol from the obverse side of the Great Seal of the United States.

It is very likely that these seals represent each of the main "banking families" in the Federal Reserve / BIS.

ADDITIONAL ILLUMINATI DOCUMENTS FROM LEO ZAGAMI

I followed Leo Zagami's career closely when he first went public in 2006 with the [Illuminati Confessions](http://www.ileuminati Confessions website) website. The content can now all be found at <http://www.ileozagami.com/confessions/>.

I also spoke to Leo once or twice over Skype -- and applauded him for his bravery in going public with his story.

Though he is named in the Keenan lawsuit, he is not directly charged. Zagami did numerous radio interviews with Greg Szymanski and also conducted video interviews with Project Camelot and Benjamin Fulford.

Leo's involvement with Benjamin Fulford ultimately led to a deal that was supposed to help free up the bonds from the former Chinese ruling party, the Kuomintang. These bonds are now at the center of the trillion-dollar lawsuit.

Thanks to a connection facilitated by Leo Zagami, Mr. Daniele Dal Bosco ended up with Neil Keenan's bonds, which had a face value totaling 144.5 billion dollars.

The Kuomintang had signed over control of these bonds to Neil Keenan in the hopes of getting them freed up -- in order to help end Financial Tyranny.

Dal Bosco then stole the bonds. There is no direct evidence that Zagami was involved with this theft, or benefitted from it in any way. It will be interesting to hear his side of things if / when this case goes to trial.

Admittedly, Leo's thick Italian accent and very fast conversational speed makes it hard for most English-speaking listeners to follow him. The Project Camelot transcripts allow you to follow everything in his interview.

BREAKING AWAY

Zagami has said he represents the younger generation that is ready to break away from the old traditions and start fresh, in a manner that will more directly benefit humanity.

When Zagami's website first came out, he published photographs of himself with many top Illuminati people. Some of them are still available, while others are broken links that still need to be repaired after the transfer of the site to a new server.

Zagami also released pictures of documents he received as he attained various high-level Illuminati degrees.

This is another rare glimpse at what are very likely real Illuminati documents. We can see that the Illuminati degrees now go well above 33.

This first document lists a 90th degree, 95th degree and 97th degree. The rite itself appears to have been created as of March 8, 1997.

The top of the document seems to feature the Four Beasts of the Apocalypse -- flanked by winged beings with cloven hoof feet.

DISTURBING IMAGES FROM WITHIN A RITUAL SITE

One of the very first posts Zagami made on his new website, at the time, also featured this disturbing image of a mosaic made out of human bones nailed to a wall.

These bones may not have been from fake medical skeletons. It is possible that they were obtained from humans who had been sacrificed.

This mosaic appeared directly next to a discussion Leo wrote up about the P2 Masonic Lodge in Italy.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE THAT IS EVEN LARGER

This page features an even larger example of mosaic "bone-work", fashioned into a crucifix -- apparently inside a high-level Illuminati facility. We can see that the bone-work is very elaborate -- and continues well outside the frame of the photograph.

It is very important to note that Leo did not announce either of these photographs with any large-scale fanfare. He just randomly tossed them onto his page.

Even if they are made with plastic bones, someone obviously went to a great deal of trouble to make these designs.

If Leo had done this as a "fake," then why did he only publish this one picture, without even really mentioning it -- when clearly there is much more to see outside the visible frame?

I know this is unpleasant to look at, but this is one case where a picture truly is worth a thousand words.

Thick, visible dust has gathered on the tops of the skulls, as we see here. They clearly have been nailed up to the wall for some time.

SYMBOL OF THE JESUITS IN BONE

A comment came in on these disturbing images that is worth sharing. The first image, as it turns out, is actually a Jesuit / Christian symbol as well.

Author: Arend Lammertink
Email: [REDACTED]

Comment:

The "image of a mosaic made out of human bones nailed to a wall" has remarkable resemblance to the logo of the Jesuits:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Society_of_Jesus

The Society of Jesus (Latin: Societas Iesu, S.J., SJ, or SI) is a Catholic male religious order that follows the teachings of the Catholic Church.

The members are called Jesuits, and are also known colloquially as "God's Marines"[2] and as "The Company," these being references to founder Ignatius of Loyola's military background and members' willingness to accept orders anywhere in the world and live in extreme conditions.

It reads "IHS", which in public explanation refers to the holy name of Jesus:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Holy_Name_of_Jesus

In Christianity, the Holy Name of Jesus refers to the theological and devotional use of the name of Jesus. The reverence and affection with which Christians have regarded the Holy Name of Jesus goes back to the earliest days of Christianity.[1]

And you can find this same logo atop the main altar, Church of the Gesù, Rome, for example:

In reality, IHS refers to the Egyptian Gods Isis Horus Seb:

<http://www.sabbathcovenant.com/IHS.htm>

Pagan Rome worshipped Isis, Horus, and Seb. The round disk wafer IHS symbol of Isis, Horus, Seb, was eaten as food for the soul.

This was integrated into Christianity as The wafer used in the eucharist is round with IHS engraved on it. And this pagan Trinity of Isis, Horus, Seb was represented by IHS which was then made the Christogram for Jesus Christ.

<http://www.godlikeproductions.com/forum1/message772711/pg1>

Sun worship dominated Egypt. Egyptian priests practiced "transubstantiation", claiming to be able to transfer the sun god Osiris into a circular wafer.

In rituals prefiguring Catholic Mass, the faithful then ate the "body" of their god to nourish their souls.

The letters IHS on the sun-shaped wafers stood for Isis, Horus, Seb (later, Roman Catholics claimed they were the first three letters of Jesus' name in Greek)....

At any case, it is clear that the picture with the bones has little to do with "Iesus Hominum Salvator", that's for sure...

UPDATE 2/5/12: THESE IMAGES ARE FROM A ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPEL!

I must admit that finding such gruesome images on an Illuminati whistleblower's website was quite a shock.

What has now become even more of a shock is that anyone can go to visit this site. It is not secret and not closed to the public -- and those are all real human bones.

However, the GREATEST shock is that this is the entrance to a Roman Catholic chapel known as Sedlec Ossuary -- in the Czech Republic.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sedlec_Ossuary

The Sedlec Ossuary (Czech: kostrnice Sedlec) is a small Roman Catholic chapel, located beneath the Cemetery Church of All Saints (Czech: Hřbitovní kostel Všech Svatých) in Sedlec, a suburb of Kutná Hora in the Czech Republic.

The ossuary is estimated to contain the skeletons of between 40,000 and 70,000 people, many of whom have had their bones artistically arranged to form decorations and furnishings for the chapel. The ossuary is among the most visited tourist attractions of the Czech Republic, attracting over 200,000 visitors yearly....

In 1870, František Rint, a woodcarver, was employed by the Schwarzenberg family to put the bone heaps into order. The macabre result of his effort speaks for itself. Four enormous bell-shaped mounds occupy the corners of the chapel.

An enormous chandelier of bones, which contains at least one of every bone in the human body, hangs from the center of the nave with garlands of skulls draping the vault.

Other works include piers and monstrances flanking the altar, a large Schwarzenberg coat-of-arms, and the signature of Rint, also executed in bone, on the wall near the entrance.

COAT OF ARMS HAS 32ND DEGREE MASONIC CROWN IN IT

The Sedlec Ossuary features the Schwarzenberg coat-of-arms, which has a curiously familiar crown on top.

Now look at the top portion of the 32nd-degree Masonic sash.

Here is a side-by-side view of the two of them together. There is a remarkable similarity in the design, as you can see.

WITH TRUTH COMES FREEDOM

The Sedlec Ossuary is a classic example of the principle of "hiding it out in the open."

The evidence is overwhelming that the Illuminati really do exist -- and are involved in occult ritual magic practices.

Though many of their members strongly disagree with the group and its rigorous control, they have thus far been powerless to escape this living hell.

I look forward to a day where they can come forward and share their experiences -- so we can all heal together as a planet.

Directly and indirectly, depending on the situation, I was approached by this group and offered fantastic riches for very little up-front investment.

Now that my life has been threatened, I have nothing to lose by telling you exactly what I was offered -- and how it works.

HOW TO BECOME A MULTI-MILLIONAIRE FOR LESS THAN TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS -- IN MONTHS

If you haven't studied the previous five sections of this stunning investigation, what you are about to read will seem impossible.

You may laugh in disbelief and fire off searing comments -- telling me I'm crazy.

Go ahead... but I'm going to tell the truth anyway for those who will listen.

The bonds we have now seen from four different sources are used to underwrite a covert economic system -- run by the Federal Reserve and its global equivalent, the Bank of International Settlements or BIS.

This system is backed by massive quantities of gold that were seized from countries all throughout the world, beginning with a secret agreement in 1921 -- slightly over seven years after the founding of the Federal Reserve.

World leaders were given worthless bonds -- in astronomical denominations -- in exchange for massive quantities of gold. They want their gold back -- but it is being kept from them with deadly force.

PROFITING FROM THE 'COVERT' ECONOMY

An incredibly massive 'covert' economy has since been created. Insiders are told this economy is backed by the massive quantities of gold on 'deposit' with the BIS.

The dollar values in this covert system are much larger than anything in the open world.

Yet, you can deal in this system, pull profits out of it and use them in the open world.

Could you spend, say, $7,500 dollars and end up with millions of dollars in profits in just a few months?

Yes. Absolutely.

(These programs have apparently now been shut down, according to Fulford and Scott, but a small number of top insiders are apparently still using it.)

Let me make myself clear. This system does exist. More importantly, it is 100-percent LEGAL. The key to whether you can actually get into it and use it is all about who you know.

Due to my public position and the wide variety of contacts I have made with insiders who have access to highly compartmentalized top-secret programs, I was offered several ways in which I could have done this.

Given what we have learned in this investigation, I now consider this to be the Ultimate Ponzi Scheme -- custom-made to destroy the legitimate world economy.

NEVER, EVER TALK!

Multiple individuals have explained this system to me, beginning in 2007, and offered to help get me in. Each one of them threatened me to never, ever talk about this, or else government agents would come knocking at my door.

If all these fine gentlemen did was give me a "friendly chat," I would be quite fortunate.

Nonetheless, Truth and Full Disclosure is now my best protection.

Many groups are standing behind me and protecting me -- so that I may reveal all of this publicly, in one place, for the first time.

By writing this, it also paves the way for many, many others to come forward about their involvement with this system, now that none of it is a secret anymore.

There have already been at least four different people who have emailed me with their stories -- and I'm sure there will be many more.

I have spoken to others in my field who have had similar financial offers extended to them, including Benjamin Fulford.

I do not have clearance from any of the others to reveal their names at this time.

I DID GIVE IT SERIOUS CONSIDERATION

More than once I have been faced with the question of whether or not to do this. I did give it serious consideration, as the funds could have been used to dramatically assist and expand the work I'm doing in many different ways.

The idea of helping to design humanitarian relief funds appealed to me. I am sure I could create many valuable methods for significantly alleviating human suffering if I had the access.

The rationale I was being asked to consider was that if this system exists, and it is legal, why not get involved to help direct it towards a more positive purpose -- such as expanding the outreach of what I can do with my work?

I ultimately saw all of this as a great temptation that I needed to avoid completely.

Those who extended me the lines of credit and who held these accounts in my name could have used this as leverage to damage me very significantly.

I could have started out with a reasonably small investment and ended up being held liable for millions of dollars of debt.

I also could be savagely outed in public as a financial conspirator who had embezzled millions and millions of dollars.

I DON'T WISH TO ATTACK ANYONE

I do not wish to attack, accuse or impugn the entities I will be discussing, as their full contact information is on the Internet.

Let me say again that what they are doing does not violate any laws.

You do not need more than 10-50 thousand dollars to get into this system, depending on how you do it.

What I will reveal is enough for you to potentially get involved in this system if you have the basic starter capital -- but again, most of it has apparently now been terminated.

Obviously, I do not recommend trying to do this.

I also want to make it abundantly clear that I will not offer help to anyone who wishes further assistance on how to get involved in this... nor will I even reply to such queries.

I myself have not done it -- and have no intention to. We cannot solve Financial Tyranny by joining the very system that allows it to continue.

My work is 100-percent financed by clean, above-board, open-economy public money from people like you, ordering our downloadable products and conference tickets.

Nonetheless, I will show you how this system works.

I will begin by sharing my own personal introduction into this world as a result of my efforts to finance my Hollywood film CONVERGENCE, which is still not funded yet -- but we are getting very close to doing it the right way.

MY FIRST EXPOSURE TO THIS SYSTEM

The first time I heard about this system was in 2007. I went to a meeting of movers and shakers from the entertainment industry at a private residence in Malibu, and was particularly impressed by one individual who wanted to start a concert to promote world peace.

I approached this person at the event and let him know who I was, and the film I was working on. We had some written and telephone exchanges after that.

Somehow, I was fortunate enough to have him and his partner invite me to their next meeting with their financier.

The meeting took place at the Casa Del Mar, a posh hotel / restaurant with valet parking on the waterfront of Santa Monica. Everything inside was very high ceilings, Victorian furniture and decor, and affluent-looking people.

The menu was competitively priced with most other restaurants in the area, which surprised me.

I saw Jennifer Garner, the actress, sitting at a neighboring table when I went into the main area to order food. We made eye contact but I did not bother her.

We also saw the CEO of a major Internet corporation arrive with two stunning Asian women in matching bikinis -- one white and one yellow -- both of whom had the same hair, the same sunglasses and the same gigantic breasts.

This is the closest matching picture I could find, regarding the way they both looked and the bikini style they had on -- except for the color, and the fact that they were both wearing sunglasses.

Imagine seeing two women looking this amazing on either arm of this gray haired man -- walking proudly through the middle of this posh restaurant!

Well, there I was... but things were about to get even more interesting.

THE FINANCIER ARRIVES

I sat with my new contact and his business partner in the dining area and ordered food. He wanted to be there well in advance of when the financier arrived so we wouldn't miss him.

Eventually the financier showed up. We paid for the meal and left the dining area, retiring to a table in the far corner of a huge lounge closer to the entrance.

The financier had a blood-red snakeskin leather briefcase and a curious gold necklace in which a crucifix was outlined in gold. The edges of the crucifix had stylized circular "bumps" on them.

This necklace is about as close as I could find to what the general shape was like.

However, what I saw was just a line of gold that outlined this shape -- a cross with circular "bumps" on each edge -- without the circular area around the center.

When I commented that this was a Templar cross, he seemed happily surprised -- and told me that he was, indeed, a Templar.

Right away I knew I had gotten myself into a very, very interesting situation.

"TRILLIONS AND TRILLIONS AND TRILLIONS AND TRILLIONS AND TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS"

Before long, we got down to talking business.

This was the first time that the financier had explained to these guys how the system really worked. I was very lucky to be there and be able to hear what he said.

Before long, I was asking such intelligent and pointed questions that the other two guys acted like I was the boss.

The financier told us how he first found out about this vast, hidden economic system.

The gist of the story was that a business associate told him money is not at all scarce in the world -- if you know the right people.

In fact, his insider told him there were "trillions and trillions and trillions and trillions and trillions" of dollars available. You just have to know where it is and how to access it.

At least two or three different times, he stressed the fact that his insider repeated the word "trillions" five times in a row.

ONLY FROM THE INTEREST -- NEVER THE PRINCIPAL

I didn't understand it at the time, but I was told that any money you get out of this system will only come from interest payments.

You can never touch the principal that is held in your name -- for however long it takes to generate the interest.

If you have a film that you want to get made that costs 100M, (you never say the words "million" or "billion" out loud, even on the phone,) a bank will move a certain amount of principal into a separate account for you.

The money stays in this account, in your name, long enough to generate the interest necessary to finance your project.

Depending on the size of the principal, 100M could be generated in less than a month -- sometimes only in days.

At the time, the CONVERGENCE budget was hopefully going to be less than 5M -- whereas now we're looking at a larger figure to do it right.

The financier told me it would be "very easy" to generate this kind of money -- and almost laughingly dismissed it.

"Why do a film for 5M when you could just as easily do one for 100?"

"Well, we want the film to make a profit," I answered.

"But you don't ever have to pay it back!"

He smiled -- as if to say, "Do you get it?"

IF YOU PRESENT THE CERTIFICATE, THEY WILL RIP IT UP

The financier told me I would receive a certificate for the principal that would be held in my name.

However, if I went to the issuing bank and handed it to them, wanting to redeem the balance in "my" account, they would rip it up -- and I could even be arrested.

Instead, I would let the money rest in the account until the proper amount of interest was generated.

Then, I was told that "a foundation such as one of many Rockefeller entities" would pay me in the form of a grant.

I was told that once I got this money, it was mine. I did not have to pay it back. There would be no further strings. It was that simple.

(Of course, the truth is that nothing is free and nothing is easy.

At the very least, we would have ended up with a "script consultant" who would have steered the message of our film into something that fitted their agenda.)

EVERYTHING CHECKED OUT

Documents were provided from the blood-red snakeskin briefcase that seemed stunningly credible.

The financier said "I'm not supposed to have these" and seemed nervous to show them to us -- but I did get to see them and handle them.

I couldn't help but ask the financier the names of the banking families involved in this.

I went through the laundry list of Illuminati family names as seen in Fritz Springmeier's books: "Astor, Bundy, Collins, DuPont, Morgan, Rockefeller, Rothschild, Warburg, Van Duyn..."

He was quite surprised and impressed at how much I knew. He confirmed that every single name I mentioned was part of this financial system.

I also asked him if he was familiar with Leo Wanta, a name I'd heard in many articles from Sherman Skolnick.

He again was surprised, and said that this group had worked with Wanta in the past but there had been a falling out.

"DO YOU REALIZE WHAT THIS IS?"

I've never been shy. The curiosity was killing me.

So, I took a great risk and started asking the financier more pointed questions.

"Let me ask you this. Have you ever heard of the Illuminati?"

"No," he answered. "Why?"

"All the names you just mentioned are apparently part of a spiritual group that practices a particular faith.

"And it's not Christianity.

"It's based on the teachings of the world's most ancient mystery schools. Really interesting stuff."

The man completely and genuinely seemed ignorant of the fact that the people he was working for had any spiritual philosophy.

SVALI CONFIRMS FOUR LEVELS OF SECRECY

Illuminati whistleblower Svali confirmed that there will be about four levels between the real insiders and the "handshake" where the money is transferred.

The people at these lower levels genuinely do not know who they are working for, or what they believe.

In this excerpt she is talking about other types of business, but the same principles always apply.

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030808142923/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/10/chapter01.html>

Drug running: The Illuminati linked up with the Mafia and the Columbians, years ago, to help each other out with bringing drugs into the United States. They also provide couriers for taking drugs and money out of the States.

The Illuminists are generally wealthy businessmen who have 4 layers of people underneath them. The fourth layer down actually has contact with the people in the drug industry.

They never identify themselves as Illuminists; only as people interested in investing, with a guaranteed profit, and are highly secretive....

Banking: The original Illuminists were bankers, and they have highly trained financiers to organize their money, and funnel the above illicit funds into more "respectable" front groups/organizations.

They will also start benevolent charities, community organizations, etc., as fronts, and funnel the money from a broad base into these groups.

The Illuminati particularly pride themselves on their money making and manipulation skills, and their ability to cover their paper trails expertly, through layer after layer.

All banking trails eventually will lead to Belgium, the Illuminati financial center for the world.

They have a lot of financial resources backing their enterprises, which means that in reality they can engage the best lawyers, accountants, etc. to help cover their trail as well.

MORE RECENT INFORMATION

I do not wish to cause harm to any of my contacts, so I am not going to drop hints or go into specifics about how I learned the rest of this information. Nor do I wish to harm the companies running the websites we will be looking at.

The important point is that this information is all entirely provable.

I can talk about this insider world, in which people carry much greater balances than in the open economy, but the best way to make you aware of it is to show you exactly how and where to get involved.

Bear in mind that it is still almost impossible to succeed in this program if you don't have support from the inside -- so I have heard.

Furthermore, the vast majority of people who were doing this "trading" have now been weeded out, and Keith Scott has said the total number is now down to only about 200.

STEP ONE: BUY A SHELF CORPORATION

I want to be clear that there are several different ways to build yourself into this program without spending a tremendous amount of money. However, the purchase of one or more "shelf corporations" appears to be the most popular way.

Put simply, you can buy a company that was created years ago, has filed tax returns and annual statements, and is legally real. You then gain all the benefits of that company.

This can instantaneously transform your credit rating from being in the dumps to being absolutely sterling. Apparently some newly-minted celebrities do this in order to rebuild their credit.

Now that you are the head of an aged corporation, you can then get banks to offer you a line of credit against it -- with dollar values much higher than you might imagine.

It is important that the management of the corporation does not appear to have changed hands -- otherwise it will be "re-aged" to the time you acquired it, and its credit value will thereby plummet.

The best shelf corporation to buy is an "aged" corporation that has a 10 to 14-year history, as this will insure the largest credit lines. The value decreases when you go over 14 years or under 10.

THE WIKIPEDIA ENTRY ON SHELF CORPORATIONS

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shelf_corporation

A shelf corporation, shelf company, or aged corporation, is a company or corporation that has had no activity. It was created and left with no activity -- metaphorically put on the "shelf" to "age".

The company can then be sold to a person or group of persons who wish to start a company without going through all the procedures of creating a new one.

Common reasons for buying a shelf corporation include:

- * To save the time involved in taking the steps to create a new corporation.
- * To gain the opportunity to bid on contracts. Some jurisdictions require that a company be in business for a certain length of time to have this ability.
- * To show corporate longevity in order to attract consumers or investors.
- * To gain access to corporate credit.

These reasons are open to criticism. Many years ago, it would take months to properly incorporate a business. However, it is now quite easy, at least in Australia, Canada, the United States and Western Europe, to do so.

In fact, it can now be done in as little as a couple of hours in some jurisdictions....

A Reuters report described Wyoming Corporate Services as an example of a vendor of shelf companies, which were literally stored in mailboxes labelled as "corporate suites" in the main room of a 1,700-square-foot (160 m²) brick house a few blocks from the Wyoming State Capitol.

Over 700 companies were available at prices depending on their age, ranging from $5,995 for a six-year-old company to $645 for one recently created.

It is one of scores of similar businesses setting up shop, primarily in Delaware, Wyoming, and Nevada due to regulatory considerations.^[1]

One item to be aware of is the re-aging of the shelf corporation. If the credit bureaus learn about the company being under new management, they will list it on their reports, effectively "re-aging" the company.

THE REUTERS REPORTS ON SHELF CORPORATIONS

Reuters has already blown the lid off of this business -- it just hasn't gained any widespread exposure, because hardly anyone knew about this to begin with.

There are two articles to read -- A Little House of Secrets on the Great Plains and How Two Shell Companies Duped the Pentagon.

There is also a very fascinating video to watch -- U.S. house on the prairie where corporate secrecy thrives -- but it cannot be embedded.

IT'S A BOOMING BUSINESS

This first Reuters excerpt reveals how easy it is to buy one of these companies -- and conceal your ownership. A "shell" company allows you to hide your identity. Shelf corporations are one type of shell company.

<http://www.reuters.com/article/2011/06/28/us-usa-shell-companies-idUSTRE75R20Z20110628>

A growing niche in the shell business is shelf corporations.

Like paper-only shells, which enable the secrecy-minded to hide real ownership of assets, shelf companies are set up by firms like Wyoming Corporate Services -- then left "on the shelf" to season for years.

They're then sold later to owners looking for a quick way to secure bank loans, bid on contracts, and project financial stability.

To speed up business activity, shelf corporations can often be purchased with established bank accounts, credit histories and tax returns filed with the Internal Revenue Service.

"They just slot in your names, and you walk away with the company. Presto!" says Daniel E. Karson, executive managing director at investigative firm Kroll Inc. "The purpose is to conceal ownership."

On its website, Wyoming Corporate Services currently lists more than 700 shelf companies for sale in 37 states. The older they are, the more expensive, like Scotch whisky.

Brookside Management Inc., formed in December 2004, sells for $5,995, while Knotty Management LLC, formed in May, costs just $645. In Delaware, incorporator Harvard Business Services markets First Family LLC, created in May 1997, for $10,000.

"If they're signing a large contract, they may not want it to look like they've just formed a company," said Brett Melson, director of U.S. sales at Harvard Business Services.

But he added: "Unsavory characters can do a lot of bad things with the companies."

THE U.S. IS BREAKING THE RULES

This next excerpt shows us how the U.S. has allowed this system to proliferate without any real legal oversight.

<http://www.reuters.com/article/2011/06/28/us-usa-shell-companies-idUSTRE75R20Z20110628>

The loopholes in U.S. disclosure of bank-account and shell-company ownership have drawn fire.

The U.S. was declared "non-compliant" in four out of 40 categories monitored by the Financial Action Task Force, an international group fighting money laundering and terrorism finance, in a 2006 evaluation report, its most recent.

Two of those ratings relate to scant information collected on the owners of corporations. The task force named Wyoming, Nevada and Delaware as secrecy havens.

Only three states - Alaska, Arizona and Montana - require regular disclosure of corporate shareholders in some form, according to the 2009 report by the National Association of Secretaries of State.

Some lawmakers want tighter rules.

Senator Carl Levin (D-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Homeland Security Committee's Permanent Subcommittee for Investigations, has introduced the Incorporation Transparency and Law Enforcement Assistance Act each year since 2008.

The bill would require states to obtain and update information about the real owners of companies, and impose civil and criminal sanctions for filing false information.

"Criminals use U.S. shell companies to commit financial fraud, drug trafficking, even terrorist financing, in part because our states don't require anyone to name the owners of the companies they form," Levin said in an email to Reuters.

The bill has been beaten back by a coalition of state officials and business groups, citing concerns about the cost of implementing the new law and federal government infringement on state incorporation rights....

Other U.S. agencies raise similar complaints about shells.

The 2006 U.S. Money Laundering Threat Assessment, prepared by 16 federal agencies, devotes a chapter to the ways U.S. shell companies can be attractive vehicles to hide ill-gotten funds.

It includes a chart to show why money launderers might like to create shells in Wyoming, Nevada or Delaware, which offer the highest levels of corporate anonymity.

BILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SUSPICIOUS TRANSACTIONS

This excerpt shows how huge this business already is -- to the tune of billions of dollars -- and how little regulation it has.

<http://www.reuters.com/article/2011/06/28/us-usa-shell-companies-idUSTRE75R20Z20110628>

"In the U.S., (business incorporation) is completely unregulated," says Jason Sharman, a professor at Griffith University in Nathan, Australia, who is preparing a study for the World Bank on corporate formation worldwide.

"Somalia has slightly higher standards than Wyoming and Nevada."

An estimated 2 million corporations and limited liability companies are created each year in the U.S., according to Senate investigators.

The Treasury Department has singled out LLCs as particularly vulnerable to being used as shell companies, as they can be owned by anyone and managed anonymously.

Delaware, Nevada and Wyoming had 688,000 LLCs on file in 2009, up from 624,000 in 2007.

Treasury and state banking regulators say banks have flagged billions of dollars in suspicious transactions involving U.S. shell companies in recent years.

DEFRAUDING THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

This next Reuters investigation focused in on numerous shelf corporations that received juicy government contracts. 90 percent of these contracts were from the Department of Defense.

<http://www.reuters.com/article/2011/06/28/us-usa-shell-companies-pentagon-idUSTRE75R21G20110628>

(Reuters) - Two companies incorporated at a little house in Cheyenne, Wyoming, won Pentagon contracts after their owner took advantage of the state's liberal incorporation laws to create the firms using an alias, and then represented them as minority-owned to win favorable treatment as a military supplier.

The firms and their owner were later banned from doing business with the Pentagon for providing knock-off parts.

A Reuters investigation has found that more than 2,000 companies are registered at 2710 Thomes Avenue in Cheyenne, the headquarters for Wyoming Corporate Services, a business incorporation company that specializes in corporate anonymity.

Among the firms incorporated there is a small subset that make their money from government contracts.

A Reuters review of federal contracting databases found nine firms registered at 2710 Thomes Avenue have been awarded 93 contracts worth more than $1.6 million by a half dozen government agencies, including the U.S. Department of Defense, the U.S. Treasury's Internal Revenue Service, the Centers for Disease Control, and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

More than 90 percent of the contracts were awarded by the Department of Defense.

Again, I also recommend you watch this short video of the investigation to really help all of this sink in and become "real" in your mind.

STEP TWO: OPEN UP A LINE OF CREDIT AGAINST YOUR SHELF CORPORATION

Let's say that you've now gotten your shelf corporation and set yourself up as the owner. You don't have to disclose this ownership publicly.

The next step is to "monetize the debt" of the corporation -- and open up a line of credit against it.

In short, you get money -- a large loan -- for being the owner of the corporation.

When I decided to be "Brave Enough" to do a search on these terms, I found a website called aged-corporations.com. I want to stress, again, that I am not attacking them and this is all perfectly legal -- at least for now.

<http://aged-corporations.com/>

Welcome to Aged Corporations -- where you can invest in your future with the proper set of business tools from credit development, corporations with credit to asset protection methods.

We prefer using Colorado Corporations, Delaware Corporations, Wyoming Corporations and lastly Nevada Corporations or LLC's -- then build credit with real transactions....

A corporation with credit or company with trade lines is the answer for those with personal financial problems, restrictions and negative credit reports.

Also Look at our Private Investor Funding and the SBLC Funding from $1M! These are Highly in Demand in the current financial climate!....

We build a business with verifiable credit backed by actual transactions, invoices and bank statements!

First we use a clean and clear operating entity or shelf corporation or LLC. Next we register this entity with Dunn and Bradstreet.

We then create a bank account and start actual transactions between this developing company and our network of companies.

Credit Applications are sent and credit cards issued and used. Paydex Scores and Composite Scores are developed by Dunn and Bradstreet.

After these steps are complete, we approach lenders for credit....

100-300K IN IMMEDIATE LOANS

Once you've purchased your shelf corporation, you can apply for loans. On this page of aged-corporations.com, it discusses how you could quickly acquire 100 to 300K this way.

<http://aged-corporations.com/credit-using-your-company.html>

However, this is not "the good stuff."

If you understand the secret world of central bank trading, as I've been describing it, you know that these loans are only a stepping stone -- to a vastly bigger and tremendously more lucrative fortune.

The next step, in this particular case, is to use shelf corporations to acquire one to eight million dollars of funding in ten to thirty-five days.

Once you secure your millions, you then buy into a "private placement program" or PPP -- such as with a "Stand By Letter of Credit," or SBLC.

WHAT IS A PRIVATE PLACEMENT PROGRAM?

I know that what you are about to read will sound crazy, but I can assure you this is very true.

A "Private Placement Program" is simply an investment opportunity where you get to become one of the "brokers" cutting deals between central banks.

The gains in these programs can be quite spectacular, as Inside Trade LLC spells out here.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/private-placement-programs-high-yields/>

Seemingly every day there are hundreds of more people learning about the private placement business, usually either through online research or word of mouth.

Once an exclusive opportunity which was limited to just a few privileged individuals, the private placement business is now full of thousands of "professional brokers".

As you would expect, some of them are very successful, but the other 99% are not!....

1 Million: This is the [buy-in] level that most investors lose money, or have less than expected success....

Though there are real programs at 1M, they do NOT trade bank instruments, and offer far lower returns.

MAX POSSIBLE RETURNS: 20% per month

10 Million: At this level, you may be able to find legitimate private placement programs, but your success depends on if the trader will accept such a small file....

At such a small level, it is still very tough to even be placed in a REAL bank instrument trading program.

As you may know, bank instruments are cut in 100M+ increments, and even with a steep discount, you still need over 65M to purchase just one note.

MAX POSSIBLE RETURNS: 10% per week

50 Million: Usually at this level, you can find a trader that will combine your file with another concurrent applicant to meet the minimum needed to purchase a discounted bank instrument.

Though this is possible, it is not guaranteed that you can enter into a program unless you find a REAL trader, who is happy to make an exception for you.

MAX POSSIBLE RETURNS: 20% per week

100 Million: At this level, the trader can purchase instruments with the line of credit that is drawn against the client's collateral... there is no need to combine the account with another client, since the client's funds are sufficient to purchase the note alone.

Needless to say, this dramatically increases your potential returns, and opens up opportunities for project funding and humanitarian developments.

MAX POSSIBLE RETURNS: 40% per week

As you may already know, there are many programs out there that may talk the talk, but when it comes to actually paying out, most of them disappear, or change the expected yields at the last minute.

Though yields can be even higher for some opportunities, it is very unlikely that you will find a safe and stable program earning more profit than the numbers listed above.

THINK ABOUT WHAT YOU JUST READ

Imagine that you have 100 Million dollars and you are earning 40 percent per week on this money. You can take those profits and add them to the principal as they come in.

In the first week, you have already made 40 Million dollars. In the second week you make an additional 56 Million dollars -- and your total balance is now 196 Million dollars. You've already doubled your money in two weeks.

In the third week, you've earned an additional 78 Million, 400 thousand dollars. Your balance is now 274 Million, 400 thousand dollars.

By the end of the month, another 109 Million, 760 thousand dollars has materialized. Your total balance is now 384 Million, 160 thousand dollars.

You've literally just created $284,160,000 -- over 284 million dollars -- out of thin air. And that's just the first month!

If you keep enjoying these gains, your balance will quickly balloon into numbers much greater than any billionaires in the legitimate market. The typical program runs for 40 weeks -- and then you can buy your way into another one.

BULLET TRADES

I have had direct sit-down interviews with people and firms who have profited enormously from being involved in Private Placement Programs.

I want to make it clear that this is not a scam -- though again, if you get too greedy you will get tossed out.

People's eyes light up when the term "Bullet Trade" is thrown around. Once I knew what it was, I found I could get quite a reaction just by mentioning the term.

A "Bullet Trade" can be a 2X, 4X, 6X or even a 40X. This means that the value of your entire portfolio either doubles (2X), quadruples (4X), sextuples (6X) or increases by a factor of 40 (40X).

According to Inside Trade LLC, you can't trust bullet trades. You'll have to settle for 40 percent gains per week!

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/top-10-red-flags-for-private-placement-programs/>

"Bullet Programs", or Short-term "Leveraged" Programs: Short term or "bullet programs" typically promise extremely high yields, and very rarely work.

Most real private placements last 40 weeks, due to the contractual agreements between the trader and their exit buyers who purchase the medium term notes (MTN)/bank guarantees (BG).

Usually, short term programs claim to "leverage" the funds, and by doing so, "create immensely higher returns".

THIS IS VERY, VERY COMPLICATED STUFF

You do have to go through a pretty steep "learning curve" to understand how this system works and get involved in it.

If you don't believe me, just click on this next link and look at all the jargon there is to learn.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/glossary-of-private-placement-program-terms/>

Notice this comment by Gerald Pippen at the bottom of the page. This reveals that many people are being brought into this system and are getting scammed -- they are unable to pull any money out.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/glossary-of-private-placement-program-terms/>

Which companies that are participating right now and there is actually a payout? There are a tremendous amount of people out there trying this but have not been paid.

PAYMENTS OUT OF PRIVATE PLACEMENT PROGRAMS

Inside Trade LLC has a very informative page called Steps for Applying to a Private Placement Program.

This excerpt reveals that if you get into a "real" program, the payments come quick and easy.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/steps-for-applying-to-a-private-placement-program/>

(9) Client receives payment of profits weekly or according to the contract

NOTE: Once everything is set up with the banking, it is a very smooth process to get continual profits into your account.

Typically the first payment is made within 10-15 banking days after trading has started, so they can ramp up the account to purchase larger notes.

After the first payment, the client will receive disbursements on a weekly basis, or whatever their contract specifies.

Most clients and brokers would be best served in setting up international bank accounts, or better yet, they can have an account at the bank where the trading is occurring.

This will prevent the need to send external wires through different countries and banking systems. All profits would be internally transferred "ledger to ledger", and would not attract as much attention.

70 PERCENT FOR "HUMANITARIAN RELIEF"

Various insiders told me you have to allocate 70 percent of the profits towards "humanitarian relief" programs.

However, if this were really true, then there shouldn't be a single hungry person left on Earth -- when in fact the majority still are.

The reality, as I have heard, is that most humanitarian programs are actually money-laundering schemes. However, I also heard that in the last 2-3 years in particular, there has been a major crackdown on these practices.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/steps-for-applying-to-a-private-placement-program/>

(10) Client uses profits to fund projects and retains the rest for personal use

NOTE: Most real private placement programs are intended to fund humanitarian projects in underdeveloped nations.

Typically 60-70% of the program's profits must go to projects, while the remaining 30-40% is for "administrative use".

In essence, the 30-40% can be used at the client's discretion, but you must make sure you are funding projects as well.

The platform does not regulate this, but the FED overseas [sic] all of the companies who have applied and received money in these types of programs.

Once the client completes this 40 week trading process, they can re-enter, but they must have projects to funnel the profits into. Most private placement contracts are for 2 years, and are renewed upon expiration if both parties choose.

In summary, if you understand what we have described above you will know how to proceed with a private placement transaction, and be aware of how to overcome obstacles before they present themselves.

Though there are some programs which follow different steps, this is the basic template for all REAL private placement opportunities above 100M.

In order to get into such a sweet deal -- the Private Placement Program or PPP system -- you will need a "Stand By Letter of Credit."

STAND BY LETTER OF CREDIT (SBLC)

Before we go back to aged-corporations.com and see how we can build all this up for as little as $7500 -- amounting to micro-fractions of pennies on the dollar -- we must first understand what a Stand By Letter of Credit is.

<http://insidetradellc.com/blog/what-is-stand-by-letter-of-credit-sblc/>

What is a Stand By Letter of Credit (SBLC)?

In the private placement business, the bad joke is, there are more acronyms than there are closed deals....

Since understanding this “lingo” is a key part of conversations in private placement, we thought we’d cover one of the most important terms of all, the “SBLC”.

Until recent years, very few private placement brokers mentioned SBLC’s, or even knew what they were.

This was a time where investors pledged cash or bank instruments for their private placement investments, not “fictional” leased assets.

In today’s private placement world, SBLC’s are all over the scene, popping up like weeds! Unfortunately, they have become popular in bank instrument leasing programs, and are now associated with this “niche” of the industry....

By definition, an SBLC (Stand By Letter of Credit) is a document issued by a bank, guaranteeing payment on behalf of a client.

This is used as a “payment of last resort” if the client fails to fulfill a contractual commitment with a third party.

In all reality, the SBLC is just a piece of paper with a “value” backed by the good credit of the bank, allowing clients to use a “conditional collateral” if needed.

Inside Trade LLC says that the Stand By Letter of Credit "is only important when investors are in the USA." That's obviously why I've heard of it.

THE NEXT STEP: $1M TO $8M OF FUNDING IN TEN DAYS

Now that you've heard the basics of how the game works, and what terms you need to know, let's go back to aged-corporations.com and see how easy it can be.

Shockingly, you can get a bank to issue you an SBLC for much, much less than its face value.

This money -- which could be well over a million dollars -- then becomes yours to invest into a Private Placement Program and profit from.

You can take those profits and then "close out your line of credit," repay whatever guarantees were in place, and then you're up and running.

There is a LOT of paperwork involved in doing this properly -- and if you don't do it exactly right, you will get nowhere.

The buzzword for doing all your paperwork properly is "due diligence." This is a term you hear over and over again in these meetings, and everyone loves to use it.

In fact, the emotional response that the words "due diligence" created in these meetings reminded me of hearing fundamentalist Christians saying "Jesus."

I did my own due diligence and quickly joined the fun by using the same lingo.

ALL THE FORMS YOU NEED ARE ONLINE, READY TO GO

All three forms you need to get started are ready for download: the CIS \(Client Information Sheet\) Package for SBLC Funding, the Flash Funding Agreement for \$50,000 Escrow and the JV \(Joint Venture\) Agreement for SBLC Funding.

<http://aged-corporations.com/1m-8m-funding-in-10-days.html>

We now offer Bank Guarantee / SBLC (Stand By Letter of Credit) Funding in 10- 35 Business Days

Amounts range from $1M to $20M and can be used for Forex Trading or Real Estate Flipping and Short Sales!....

50,000 per Million (Fee for $1M) must be placed in an Escrow with Providers Escrow Service. These are hard funds that must move.

New Flash Funding Source will provide $50,000 for 45 Days at $7,500 for this program only.

Must Send Certified Funds to establish flash funding account for the SBLC program....

Upon Approval you must then Bank Wire Funds into Escrow and pay the due diligence and initial administration set up costs of $550 plus $500 per Million in funding applied for ($1M is $1050; $2M is $1550 etc with a cap of $3000).

We will engage contract for funding when we have $20M in Commitments and respective amounts escrowed.

OTHER IMPORTANT POINTS JUMP OUT IN THE CONTRACTS

Certain phrases in the Non-Solicitation Statement within the Client Information Sheet offered at the above link jumped out at me.

<http://aged-corporations.com/attachments/article/69/0-CCE-CIS%20APPLICATION-V2.pdf>

I herein represent that I am not an informant, nor am I associated with any government agency such as secret service, IRS, FBI, CIA, SEC, banking commission, or any agency whose purpose is to gather information regarding such offering.

I understand that the contemplated transaction is strictly exchanging funds against bank guarantee and is no way relying upon, or relating to the United States security act of 1933, as amended or related regulations, and does not involve the sale of securities.

Further, I hereby declare that you, the provider, have disclosed that you are not a licensed security trader, attorney, bank officer, certified public accountant or financial planner.

Any information, work or service conducted hereunder is that of a private individual and that this is a transaction that is exempt from securities act and not intended for the general public, but "just for my private use only."

I had already heard that you could not get placed in these programs if you were a "licensed security trader, attorney, bank officer, CPA or financial planner" -- and / or if you had anyone like this working for you as a financial advisor.

When I saw this all spelled out in the contract from aged-corporations.com, it was another major clue that everything I had heard was indeed correct.

UP TO 200M IN THIS PROGRAM

In the Client's JV / Partner Letterhead section, on the page entitled RESOLUTION OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS, the following number pops up -- revealing that you can go up to 200M in this program.

<http://aged-corporations.com/attachments/article/69/0-CCE-CIS%20APPLICATION-V2.pdf>

It is resolved that _____, Managing Director and authorized Signatory of the company, to arrange the Lease of Bank Instruments, in the amount up to 200 Million EUR or equivalent US Dollars ($200,000,000 EUR)

DON'T CALL THE BANKS ON THE PHONE

This part of the Escrow Agreement reminded me of what I heard from the original financier I met at the Casa Del Mar restaurant.

As you remember, he told me if you took your account statement of the principal to a bank, they would rip it up and throw you out of there -- or worse.

You could not go after the principal, ever -- only the interest -- and you could never deal with the bank directly.

Obviously, no one in the bank wants there to be a telephone recording of this -- only a paper trail that has plausible deniability.

Therefore, don't bother to call the banks on the phone about your new deal -- they'll deny it ever existed, and cancel the whole thing.

<http://aged-corporations.com/attachments/article/69/0-CCE-JV%20AgreementV2.pdf>

Any attempt, by any of the parties to this transaction, to communicate with any bank(s) involved in this transaction, by telephone, is strictly prohibited.

All communications must be conducted, on a bank-to-bank basis, or as per the agreed upon and accepted procedures. Any breach of this condition will cause this transaction to be aborted and forfeited.

All notices, requests, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered or mailed, first-class, postage prepaid, to the appropriate party...

IT'S DEFINITELY THE TOP FEDERAL RESERVE / BIS BANKS

If you read the beginning of the Escrow Agreement, you find out that Barclays Bank is directly mentioned -- and other "top world banks" are involved as well.

<http://aged-corporations.com/attachments/article/69/0-CCE-JV%20AgreementV2.pdf>

1. PARTICULARS OF BANK INSTRUMENTS:

ISSUING BANK: BARCLAYS BANK OR ANY TOP WORLD BANK

TYPE: BANK DRAFT, BANK GUARANTEE OR SBLC

CURRENCY: EURO

TERM: ONE YEAR AND ONE DAY

DELIVERY: MT760 SWIFT MESSAGE

SERVICE FEE: $1,000,000 (ONE MILLION US DOLLARS)

FACE VALUE: €100,000,000 (ONE HUNDRED MILLION EURO)

1ST PAYMENT: $1,000,000 (DEPOSITED INTO ESCROW)

MAKE SURE YOU PAY OUT $7500 PER MIL., EVERY 45 DAYS

It isn't immediately clear that the $7500 dollars per million is also a revolving fee that comes up again every 45 days. That comes out when you read the Flash Funding Agreement for \$50,000 Escrow.

If you don't get paid out by the Private Placement Program as you've been promised, in a timely fashion, you could end up owing lots of money that you don't have.

However, if the PPP doesn't pay out as promised, you could probably cancel the contract and avoid losing any more money.

<http://aged-corporations.com/attachments/article/69/0-CIS-FF-TOWERV2.doc>

1. Client shall pay a fee of $7,500 per 45 days for funding an escrow account with $50,000 to be solely used for Commercial Credit Exchange, Inc. SBLC Funding Plan.

2. The leased funds are for the period stated above and can be renewed for two (2) additional times at the same service fee rate.

3. The leased funds that are released for program are considered to be in first position and to be repaid immediately upon funding.

IS IT REAL OR JUST A MASSIVELY ELABORATE SCAM?

Of course, now that I've made all of this public, many people will start doing their own research. They will be unable to believe this could possibly be true -- and the theft could be so vast.

The documents we revealed from Guyatt's book already show you how this "deposited" gold is being used to underwrite financial accounts that are so massive as to be theoretically limitless in size.

The incredible amount of "bubble money" that has been created within this system -- by the banks themselves -- may be responsible for why they needed over 26 Trillion dollars in bailouts to stop a total collapse.

Various insiders told me not to search for any of these financial terms on the Internet.

They also said there was elaborate disinformation about it that was put out on the Internet deliberately -- so that if anyone found out about it, they would conclude it was a huge scam.

READ THE "PLANTED DISINFORMATION" FOR YOURSELF

Here is a great example. They actually describe exactly how it works... but then say it is all a fake.

http://www.quatloos.com/prime-bank_HYIP.htm

Ever since Breton Woods and the formation of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank in the late 1940's, the major banks in the world have engaged in trading programs among themselves, yielding returns ranging from 10% to 100% per month, at little or no risk.

Only these banks, and a few select traders authorized by the Federal Reserve, are allowed to participate in these trading programs, which are principally designed to generate funds for humanitarian and other worthwhile projects.

On occasion, particular traders allow individual investors to participate in these secret trading programs by pooling the individual's funds with funds from other investors until a certain amount, usually a minimum of $100 million, is accumulated for a trade.

However, these individuals must enter nondisclosure agreements with the traders and agree to contribute half of their profits to a designated charitable cause.

Interested? Your investment advisor never told you about this?

Maybe that's because all of what you have just read is false.

Nevertheless, thousands of people during the past decade have fallen prey to scams based on similar claims and lost billions of dollars believing they were investing in such mythical trading programs.

A HUMOROUS STATEMENT AT THE END: "DEALING WITH UNCOOPERATIVE VICTIMS"

I particularly enjoyed reading Section VII at the end of this article -- claiming that any and all of these "Prime Bank / High-Yield Investment Programs" were completely fake.

http://www.quatloos.com/prime-bank_HYIP.htm

VII. Dealing with uncooperative victims

Unlike victims of some other crimes, victims of prime bank schemes often do not know or want to believe that they have been scammed.

Often fraudsters have told them up front not to believe the government. Some prime bank victim /investors may, at least initially, refuse to cooperate with agents or prosecutors.

Many victim/investors are "true believers," who have received "interest payments" in a timely fashion and are often talked into "rolling over" or "reinvesting" their principal.

While much of the principal has been secreted away by the fraudster, true believers remain convinced (or want to remain convinced) that the "high yield prime bank market" does exist and that their proverbial ship has come in.

This belief, coupled with the non-disclosure, secret nature of the investment, prevents them from cooperating with the investigation, their reasoning being: "why risk breaching the non-disclosure provision of the contract by talking to the government when I'm getting paid?"

Most investors have been told that the government will deny the existence of the "programs," and that speaking to an FBI agent or other government agent will jeopardize the success of the secret programs, as well as bar them from any future opportunity to invest in these trading programs.

However, some investors may recognize the Ponzi scheme but want it to continue for just a few more payment periods so they can get their money back.

These investors have little interest in seeing a speedy investigation and would rather be left alone so that they can get their money out before the roof caves in.

Dealing with each of these types of investors can be difficult. However, being forewarned that you may encounter some of them will allow you to plan ahead.

In our experience, a few low-key meetings or phone calls from the agent will allow at least the first two categories of witnesses time to come to grips with reality.

If they remain uncooperative, simply move on and concentrate on counts centered around more helpful witnesses.

IT APPEARS TO BE BOTH

Let me be perfectly clear that there are obviously many different Ponzi schemes that try to lure people in, and make them think they are getting involved in something like this.

However, as I said, I'm also aware of people and groups who have profited ridiculously from these "trading programs" -- and met with some of them firsthand in the course of my work.

The problem that a system like this poses, of course, is that it really IS a Ponzi scheme at the end of the day -- even the "real" ones.

An account holder may have what appears to be hundreds of billions, if not trillions of dollars in their account.

However, any attempt to pull out large amounts and actually use them -- such as to buy a major corporation like Yahoo -- would literally collapse the global economy.

That, from what I've heard, is the problem. As a result, almost all "traders" have now been shut down and locked out of the system.

INTERESTING COMMENT FROM A FINANCIAL INSIDER

Almost as soon as this part of the investigation went up, a financial insider going by the name Lee wrote in a comment. Lee obviously seems to know what he is talking about. There have been other insiders surfacing now as well.

I am proud of the fact that I didn't get sucked into this world. I am risking my life to share what I do know, and others obviously know a lot more. All I'm doing is cracking the door open -- and showing a paper trail.

Just a few tips to look into~

Edward Falcone did a PPP with a group... 500M invested... still no return of even his principal. Preparing a lawsuit much like Keenan... ok? -see White Hats Report* [DW: #35 is the most recent update at this time and has a lot of info about this.]

Next: Bernie Sanders... you reported this from July off his website.

How about the subsequent report dated October 19, 2011 \(GAO report\) that does state the obvious conflict(s) of interest of actual names of people who are on the Board of the FRSystem?

[These are] violations indeed that are not allowed by other Central Banks around the world.

Comment: Trades involving SBLC's into the world of high finance don't exist anymore.

Maybe they did in '07 when you spied Jen Garner, but they were very risky snakeoil types of deals which totally disregard the basic tenets of an actual legit trade program.

[These tenets] are compliance, CIS, (vetting of the client,) NDA signed by the investor, source of funds: clean and unencumbered origins... so they can't be laundered by criminals!!

That part is one reason why these little bitty programs you talk about DON'T exist anymore, because they were scams for the most part. You are right to warn people away from these... hey, $7500 is still too much to lose!

MORE FROM INSIDER "LEE" ON HOW THE GAME IS PLAYED -- AND A BIT OF CRITIQUE

It does take a minimum of 100M to play, and that's small potatoes. 500M is the average, with most playing with 1-5B or more, depending on the licensure cap of the trader working the trades on behalf of the platform.

The mechanics of it does not involve "interest" either, but it would take me longer to explain it or even write about it here.

Trust me... even an international finance degree from the Sorbonne would not teach you the mechanics of this vehicle, which does indeed provide humanitarian aid.

However, I agree it needs much more supervision -- even on the corrupted UN groups who follow suit right behind the bad guys at the FRS.

Much more can be done in oversight, so that progress in AID gets actually to the people who it was designed to help.

It's essentially just an extension of the Marshall Plan to rebuild Europe & Japan after WW11, but then it got off track with the military/industrial complex....

Yes, AU has been manipulated for a long time, and your research has been sterling in this area. The trading part... mmm, not so much....

Section 5-6 didn't really live up to your best work, David, but I continue to support your awesome, tireless work like Source Field Investigations. That is a masterpiece for sure, IMO~~

Thank you, Lee, for acknowledging the "due diligence" I put into SFI.

ANOTHER INSIDER WHO SPOKE OUT ON DECEMBER 16, 2011

Now is the time to share what Peter, another insider who worked in this system, had to say on December 16, 2011 -- back when the preliminary stages of this investigation were published.

Author: Peter

Comment:

Thank you, David, for your courage to bring out the full background of our current, artificially-created slave world... wow.

I must inform you all (although it is dangerous for me and my family to disclose details about the people I worked with, which I will not do for now) that I have been involved and worked with the so-called Secured Investment Programs (better known as HYIP - High Yield Investment Programs).

Back in 1994, I was given the understanding that these programs were good for mankind, since these programs came out after the Bretton Woods Convention, with the purpose (that's what they said) of rebuilding especially the Baltic countries (Axis countries) after WWII.

For you who have never heard of these programs, these are for high-net-worth individuals Only, requiring a minimum of USD 500 million in cash from the investor/funder. They bear no risk to the funds invested.

The investor is needed, since a bank issuing bank bonds (called MTNs or Medium Term Notes) is not allowed to sell their new issue directly to another bank.

Therefore the funder/investor and his/their account holding the 500 million is needed to take delivery from bank 1 and place with bank 2, so the investor earns the spread/fee for trading or moving the Bond/Note from Primary to Pre-secondary market.

COMMITMENT HOLDERS AND PRETTY DARN GOOD PROFITS

The spreads can range from 5-10% per trade. These trades usually are done Monday to Thursday (from 4-8 trades per week) over a contract period of typically 1 year (these days can be a longer contract of 5 years, i.e.)

Agreements are made with the investor so the majority of the earned profits (20-40% per week or more) are going to so-called humanitarian projects (which I see now is all a lie).

You will ask yourself why banks are selling their bonds/notes way below market price, since you would think that this would create a loss for them, or a very expensive way of borrowing, but that is not the case ...

Fractional Bank Lending, where the bank holds the 500 million of the investor's money, can these days issue debt for between 20 and 100 times the cash on the balance sheet.

These MTNs are issued Off Balance. There comes the Grey screen in the picture -- so imagine how much money is there, not recorded for.

I know that some reading this may have sniffed to this kind of business, or maybe even have tried to make it or facilitate such trades -- but never have been close enough to a So-called Commitment Holder.

PETER REVEALS HOW DEEP THE RABBIT HOLE GOES

I have been a member of a group which was directly connected to a now-deceased commitment holder who was, let's say, buddy with a US president -- and represented by a Senior Partner in a major US law firm who was the former Secretary of the US Treasury.

I know this business well, and I am so glad that I quit it, since their plan was to get me much deeper involved (they even said they had been watching me for years before contact was made... scary).

Let's end it here, but if you, David, wish to know more about how these programs work, I will answer these questions (please contact me off this blog then).

I will not disclose the names of these persons I was working with, since the system is breaking down and these programs have only a short life left now (they are being exposed and we all have to survive ;-).

These programs are depending upon strong issuing banks with strong credit ratings, and we all know that the current financial system is in too much debt.

Since this is the backbone of the trades, it is practically over... Thank you God.

Love and light to you all
Peter

THIRD INSIDER "ALEXA" WHO SPOKE OUT ON DECEMBER 31, 2011

Yet another insider, whom I have met in person, sent in the following information on December 31st, 2011. She asked that her name be withheld. I have chosen to call her Alexa.

Now I have a clear conscience. I have shared with you all the most significant intel that these brave whistleblowers have sent me regarding these programs.

Due Diligence!!!

ALEXA'S INTRODUCTION

As per the recent release of photos and information regarding Philippine gold/assets, I provide the following firsthand description -- with the offer of further details, should David be interested.

Further to our conversation on the last article you sent (Evidence Corroborating David Wilcock's Recent Allegations: Philippine Gold on Steve Beckow's site) please contact David and advise him of the following problems with the photos.

ALEXA'S FIRST POINT -- THE BARS ON BECKOW'S SITE ARE NOT PLATINUM

1. Picture 17 - These bars are not platinum, but are Nickel Babbit bars manufactured by ASARCO (American Smelting and Refining Company and other suppliers).

Nickel babbitt is primarily lead, with other impurities such as antimony, copper, etc. We have lab-tested a number of samples and they range from 92% to 98% lead.

There are a great number of these bars in the Philippines, and I was given several different stories about them from potential sellers of the material.

The US military had taken a lot of this material into the Philippines, reportedly to make munitions.

Another story was that President Marcos was going to use the lead to shield miniature nuclear reactors, which he planned to use to power remote communities in the Philippines.

There is likely a degree of truth to both of these stories.

The real platinum I have seen in the Philippines is in ball form, each weighing about 8 kilograms. They are few and far between but they are there.

ALEXA'S SECOND POINT: 100,000-DOLLAR BILLS

2. Unnamed Picture of $100,000 Bills - These "Gold Seal" bills are in abundance in the Philippines, and I have seen them on many occasions.

The containers they came in identified them as being from JP Morgan in HOLLAND.

While some are real, there are a lot of fakes as well. I understand that they were used for bank-to-bank transfers.

As to why they are in the Philippines, like the Federal Reserve Notes (FRN's), Federal Reserve Bonds (FRB's), Treaty of Versailles boxes (TOV's), uncut US dollars and other boxes/documents, it is my understanding that some of them were sent to Marcos in payment for borrowing silver, gold and/or gold certificates.

After getting hosed by the banksters, they started to issue certificates against the gold -- but kept the gold in "bodegas" (long tunnels used as warehouses) where it could not be kept by the banksters.

The Philippines reportedly also has at least 6 printing presses for printing US Dollars.

They were supplied with the presses, plates, ink, gold dust and other necessary materials, and authorized to print certain amounts of USD. The generals in charge reportedly printed about four times more than authorized.

However, the US did not provide cutting machines, and most of the bills were kept in full sheets on pallets.

ALEXA'S THIRD POINT: OTHER BOND BOXES

3. Other boxes - There are a great number of these boxes, and I have photos of many different types from my 8 years in the Philippines. Some are real, and a great number of them are fake.

It is my understanding that there are at least 4 fake ones (made in the Philippines but authorized by the US) for each real box.

Due to our involvement and relative success in locating these assets, a close personal friend and business partner who is currently living in the Philippines was trained by the US Treasury to identify the various boxes as to their authenticity.

Even the real ones have obvious typo's in the documents for deniability. (Oh come on, we would not have made a mistake like that!!!)

This is a "gimmick" which reportedly originated in England.

ALEXA'S FOURTH POINT: WELLS FARGO BOXES

4. Wells Fargo - There were a number of these safes/boxes in the Philippines, Hong Kong and elsewhere.

They reportedly came in sets consisting of $25,000,000, $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 boxes.

Many of these boxes have been opened, the contents removed and replaced by newspaper.

Each of the boxes also had up to 20% "deliberately counterfeited" notes in the box.

This enabled the Secret Service to pull some of the fake notes out, point out that they were counterfeits, and confiscate the rest.

Quite a racket!!! And the person that originally had the real money spent a long time in jail.

The boxes could have contained "Silver Certificates", "Federal Reserve Notes" or ``US Banknotes`` (Green Seal, Blue Seal or Red Seal). These were all series of 1934, which was used until at least 1975.

[DW: Keith Scott says 1934-series bonds continue to be printed right up through to the present.]

We have also encountered $25,000,000 boxes of 1928 series. These may have been primarily used for US Military payroll.

There were also large volumes of Trade and Morgan Silver Dollars.

A lot of the coins presented to us were Chinese gambling tokens, likely confiscated by the Japanese and brought to the Philippines before or during WWII.

The tokens were easy to identify, as they weighed about 2/3rds the weight of the real coin.

ALEXA'S FIFTH POINT: JP MORGAN'S BANK IN CEBU

5. "JPMorgan Chase Manhattan & Co opened a Bank here in Cebu".

An interesting point, and one which I called my friend about.

He has resided in the immediate area for over a year, and was not aware of that bank -- but he will check into it.

ALEXA'S SIXTH POINT: KAIN DOH

6. You may want to have David's contacts check the name Kain Doh in the Philippines, and for bank accounts as applicable.

This is the code name recently assigned to another long time "Canadian" friend still in the Philippines (by an old man who died very recently,) and has reportedly had a number of bank accounts and other responsibilities assigned to him.

Kain Doh's mother/father were of Spanish Royal blood, related to "Mommy".

As you know, Mommy's real name was Enjiluz Rebecca Divinigracia Onate, and she was the real wife of Ferdinand E. Marcos (Imelda being a "show" wife).

It was a marriage arranged by the grandmothers, and took place when Mommy had just turned 13 years of age, and FEM was 12. The marriage took place in the City of Davao in the southern Philippines.

Mommy passed away on April 16, 2008 of pancreatic cancer.

Several weeks before when I had last been in the Philippines, my friend and I spent several days with Mommy in the hospital -- and paid many of the hospital bills.

I walked Mommy into the hospital exam when she was diagnosed with cancer, but immediately thereafter I left to catch my flight back home. My friend returned to the Philippines about three weeks later for the funeral.

Kain Doh has been in the Philippines for about 20 years, working with Mommy, has an amazing memory and can provide many details of assets and events -- if that would be of any help.

ALEXA'S SEVENTH POINT: HAPPY TO HELP

7. If David or his associates have any questions or comments about any of these matters, you can provide my contact details, and I would be happy to help them in any way possible.

If this goes public, please sign it as "Name intentionally withheld" -- as we are still working in this area, and do not wish to have additional problems for any of us.

ANOTHER COMMENTER WITH INFO -- SUNDAY, 1/29

Once this section was already posted, another commenter going by "Tiger" added more commentary on this discussion -- along with a link to information about "repurchase agreements" or "repos."

Comment:

Aged corporations, stand by letters of credit, tranches have been all over the Internet for years.

If you sign up for a private placement online, chances are it's a scam. The "legitimate" ones require a personal introduction to the trader's agent and are truly very, very private.

The money they produce most often comes from the overnight repo market. The returns can be staggering, but only if you can play big from the beginning.

FINANCIAL TYRANNY MUST BE STOPPED

I've now given you a good overview of the evidence. I have done my best to draw off of external references, rather than just saying "someone told me this is how it works."

Other authors have done an amazing job of putting these various pieces together. Original, new insider testimonies have now been shared in our investigation as well.

If you really do your "homework," you will find that all I've done here is dip a teaspoon in the ocean compared to the amount of data that is available. I did present some intriguing new material that most authors miss.

Anyone who doesn't see the truth for what it is, at this point, is suffering from the cumulative effect of multi-generational brainwashing -- through the media, the government and the educational system.

Behind their arrogant, brash, sarcastic, know-it-all skepticism, and scathing Internet character assassinations, THEY ARE SCARED TO DEATH.

How did we get to a point where in the United States -- supposedly one of the most affluent countries in the world -- the average person has no more than two thousand, one hundred dollars in the bank?

"FAIR" HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH IT

If you or I were to steal this 2,100 dollars from someone -- destroying their entire life savings in the process -- we would probably get caught... and go to jail for grand larceny.

Yet, when the financial corporations take extravagant 100-to-1 casino bets and fail spectacularly, they get repaid - they are supposedly "Too Big To Fail" -- and give themselves lavish bonuses for all the anguish they had to suffer through.

If they had given even ten thousand dollars to each American household -- out of the total of $226,000 per family they stole -- it would have been an incredible economic stimulus.

It would also be a good way of apologizing and begging for clemency from the public.

Instead, they continue to rely on dinosaur media brainwashing that no one even listens to anymore -- while pathetically trying to destroy the Constitution, treat protestors like terrorists with NDAA, and smash all Internet opposition with SOPA and PIPA.

YET ANOTHER STUNNING NEW DEVELOPMENT

Literally just before I was ready to publish this entire investigation, there was yet another stunning new development. It would appear that the Powers that Were, as I like to call them, are now coming right out in the open.

We first broke the story of these "gold bonds" here at Divine Cosmos as of October 31, 2011 -- but Fulford had already been talking about it long before then.

I didn't publish a more in-depth analysis of the situation until December 12, 2011, when I published the first comprehensive investigation into this story -- and interviewed Benjamin Fulford.

No actual pictures of the bonds appeared on any website -- other than the long-standing Unwanted Publicity -- until Steve Beckow published Udo Pelkowski's images as of December 31, 2011.

I didn't publish these pictures myself until the first part of this investigation was published on January 13, 2012.

The day before I published what may be the definitive collection of bond images here -- including never-before-seen photographs from the Dragon Family -- a video was released.

This video starred rap sensation P. Diddy, among others -- and it featured countless millions of dollars in gold bonds.

YOU CAN SEE FOR YOURSELF

The video was primarily released by German artist DJ Antoine, and also starred P. Diddy and Timati. It's called "Dirty Money -- I'm On You."

One verse of the song runs at the beginning of the video with P. Diddy doing the vocals.

Then the song cuts to Hollywood-style suspense music. We see P. Diddy land a black helicopter and meet with Timati, who is there with an attractive blue-eyed Asian woman.

P. Diddy pulls out an Ipad and shows Timati a picture of a 100,000-dollar gold bond -- exactly identical to the real ones we pictured in Section Four of this investigation.

DIDDY: You ever see one of these?

TIMATI: No.

DIDDY: It's a hundred thousand dollar bill.

CHASING DOWN THE GOLD BONDS

The woman with Timati reveals that she has seen these bills before. Timati is then sent on a quest to find the missing briefcase in Europe that is stuffed with these gold bonds.

Timati and the woman then arrive at the house of a sweaty billionaire.

P. Diddy's insider team, led by DJ Antoine behind a futuristic spy-agency console, locates the suitcase once Timati's crew is inside the house.

Timati pulls the suitcase out of a cement-lined trap door in the house.

Then we see him and the woman outside the house with the suitcase. They hit a detonator and blow up the entire house, killing everyone still inside.

Then we see a series of scenes with Timati and the woman enjoying the rewards.

Notice the bottom of the bills in the above image. The color is red and the design is exactly the same as we've seen in the real bills.

It is patently obvious that, at the very least, these bonds are extremely good fakes -- if not actually the real thing -- although they do seem too small to be real gold bonds.

Both sides are exactly as we see them in the images from Udo Pelkowski and others.

In order to help refresh your memory, here is one of the images Pelkowski risked his life to show us -- on December 31, 2011.

Getting back to our story, Timati then emerges from the inside of his yacht to discover that the woman, who apparently he was in love with or at least having sex with, had betrayed him.

She waves to him from another ship -- with the suitcase in hand.

P. Diddy and DJ Antoine both smile in satisfaction. They betrayed their own ally -- after he risked his life to recover the stolen bonds.

All of this sounds very familiar, doesn't it?

Stolen bonds. Someone attempts to recover them. Then the bonds are stolen back -- or so the insiders hope -- and the heroes who recovered the bonds end up with nothing.

This is remarkably similar to both the Joseph Riad and Neil Keenan cases we have been discussing.

THE MASS ARRESTS HAVE ALREADY STARTED

It appears that we will soon see mass arrests of many key conspirators in this problem -- by a majority faction within the Pentagon.

The majority Pentagon faction is, in turn, backed and supported by an alliance of 122 nations. Many more will undoubtedly join the alliance once action begins to take place.

According to Fulford, over 60 percent of the US military in the Pentagon now supports the overthrow of this cabal. Recently, a new military witness has gone public -- providing even more corroborating details.

Much of what he and I discussed must remain off the record. None of us have been given enough detail to cause any damage to the plans if we were interrogated.

However, I do believe these plans are very real, and will succeed. The timing of when this will be done is unknown -- but it does appear that it all depends on how quickly things come to a head.

Given what has just happened -- right as we were about to publish the final investigation -- it seems the arrests have already started.

At the very least, we are seeing the first phase of the arrests.

AN UNPRECEDENTED HOUSECLEANING

The full event will create an unprecedented housecleaning of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the US government.

It will also sweep through large corporations, the finance industry, the military and the mainstream media complex -- which is largely dominated by a handful of corporations.

The logistics of actually accomplishing this feat are staggering to comprehend.

I fully understand how terrifying this will be to most people -- and there will be incredibly powerful disinformation suggesting it will be a "New World Order takeover" once it happens.

However, it appears to have already started as of Saturday, January 28, 2012 -- and no one seems to be going into a panic.

FOX NEWS WAS THE FIRST TO BE TARGETED

Fulford has been predicting these mass arrests for over a year. I've been promoting this story heavily since October, and I gained a lot more information about the arrests as of early January.

I was even more surprised when a new ex-Navy Seal whistleblower came forward and confirmed everything I had been hearing -- putting a public face to what otherwise had been an extremely secretive story.

Despite all of this, I was still shocked to see that the first wave of arrests has already started -- before I could even finish publishing this.

<http://news.yahoo.com/police-search-news-international-offices-london-arrest-four-110211281.html>

LONDON (Reuters) - British police arrested four current and former staff of Rupert Murdoch's best-selling Sun tabloid plus a policeman on Saturday as part of an investigation into suspected payments by journalists to officers, police and the newspaper's publisher said.

Police also searched the paper's London offices at publisher News International, News Corp's British arm, in a corruption probe linked to a continuing investigation into phone hacking at its now closed News of the World weekly tabloid.

News Corp's Management and Standards Committee, set up in the wake of the phone hacking scandal, said Saturday's operation was the result of information it had passed to police....

NAMING NAMES

<http://news.yahoo.com/police-search-news-international-offices-london-arrest-four-110211281.html>

The arrests included The Sun's crime editor Mike Sullivan, its head of news Chris Pharo, and former deputy editor Fergus Shanahan, a source familiar with the situation told Reuters.

Also arrested was the paper's former managing editor Graham Dudman, now a training director at News International, the source said.

Police said a 48-year-old man from north London and two other men from Essex, east of London, aged 48 and 56, were arrested at their homes. The fourth man, aged 42, was arrested after reporting to an east London police station.

A Sun reporter, who asked not to be named, said: "Everyone is a bit shocked, there is disbelief really. But there is a big difference between phone hacking and payments to the police."....

Thirteen people have now been arrested over allegations that journalists paid police in return for information.

Their detentions are part of Operation Elveden -- one of three criminal investigations into news-gathering practices.

Last week, News International settled a string of legal claims after it admitted that people working for the tabloid had hacked in to the private phones of celebrities and others to find stories.

The phone hacking scandal drew attention to the level of political influence held by editors and executives at News International, and other newspapers in Britain.

It embarrassed British politicians for their close ties with newspaper executives and also the police, who repeatedly failed to investigate allegations of illegal phone hacking.

WHY IT HAD TO BE DONE

Now, to close out this section, I want to clearly explain why the "good guys" in the military have been working on this plan for some time now -- in the most absolute secrecy.

They were well aware that conventional methods could not be used to conduct this plan. Even the most highly secure computer systems were still at risk.

PENETRATION OF ILLUMINATI INTO MILITARY SECRETS

In one of her reports, Svali revealed that the Illuminati have a big business in buying and selling access codes to military computers.

<http://web.archive.org/web/20030808142923/http://www.centrexnews.com/columnists/svali/2000/10/chapter01.html>

Buying access codes for military computers: The Illuminati will have people from all strata of civilian life trained to go and make pickups near or on military bases.

A typical person used might be the innocent-looking wife of a military person, a local businessman, or even a college student.

There is a contact inside the base, also a dissociative Illuminist, who brings the information to the outside contact.

Occasionally, the contact person is paid with money, information, or goods.

The military computer codes are changed on random schedules; the Illuminati have at least 5 or 6 contacts on each major base, who alert them when the codes are getting ready to change, on pain of death.

The Illuminists like having access to military computers, because that will gain them entrance to closed files the world over.

No one can keep something this big, and this damaging to national security, a secret. Svali published this intel online, for everyone including top military personnel to see, as of the year 2000.

This is yet another reason why the United States military has been very carefully, very quietly building up to these mass arrests for a long time now.

When you read the Oath of Enlistment, you can see what every new recruit swears to do. This is a sworn oath to God -- or whatever universal Creator they may believe in. Even an atheist would at least see it as a sworn oath to the people.

Many high-ranking military personnel have taken this oath very seriously -- and intend to carry it out. They have conducted their plans under the most strenuous security protocols, so as to evade detection.

THE OATH OF ENLISTMENT

Every soldier takes a sacred oath, before God and Country, when he or she decides to consecrate his or her life in service to others. It is called the Oath of Enlistment.

<http://usmilitary.about.com/od/joiningthemilitary/a/oathofenlist.htm>

I, (NAME), do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic;

that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; and that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States and the orders of the officers appointed over me, according to regulations and the Uniform Code of Military Justice. So help me God.

Those who administer the oath are rigorously trained to emphasize the first section above all else. The soldier has to have it explained in great detail, and answer multiple questions, in detail, showing they understand it.

<http://usmilitary.about.com/od/joiningthemilitary/a/oathofenlist.htm>

I, (NAME), do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the [Constitution of the United States]....

So help me God.

THE OATHKEEPERS

Another brave soldier going by the pseudonym "Bill Wood" has now risked his life -- risked everything -- to tell us a very controversial, compelling and breathtaking story.

He has gone on camera and given extensive detail. I have since had several long conversations with him -- including a three-hour video interview with Project Camelot.

Bill is saying the same thing I've been hearing -- but has added significant new information to the case.

A growing majority of the Pentagon and United States military does NOT think the Constitution is a useless piece of paper.

They actually RESPECT the Oath they took -- to valiantly serve, protect and defend our fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters.

I was since notified that there is an Oathkeepers website you can visit to learn more about them. Obviously there is no public statement about any planned arrests at this point.

REVEALING THE OATHKEEPERS

The very first thing Bill Wood says in the original video is a disclaimer, saying he is developing and marketing a fictional book based on his testimony.

This is standard practice for whistleblowers in order to avoid being killed for speaking out, or sued for any ridiculous claims that could be used to further damage his life.

The very next thing he says after this is as follows.

KC: At this point, we are going to start in the beginning. I'd like you to talk about why you came and contacted me, and what group or groups you, in a certain sense, represent -- if you want to use it sort of loosely in that term.

BW: I don't really have any group that I represent. However, there are many, many people, both former and current military, which have a huge amount of concern over what the members of the military know to be what's really going on in the Middle East -- and places that we are occupying currently outside of this country.

Those concerns have grown more and more throughout the years, and it's to the point where a lot of these current and former military members speak. The best description of these military members would be "Oathkeepers."

An Oathkeeper is somebody who focuses primarily on the oath that they took when they joined the service, and not so much what they're ordered to do -- to keep secret, or to tell a secret, as opposed to what is in the best interests of the constitution and the country.

KC: Okay. Let's say also that there's a purpose behind this that has to do with the NDAA.

BW: The main purpose for this interview was the enactment of the National Defense Authorization Act. The individuals that I speak with on a regular basis have grown a consensus that this is the end of the erosion of our constitutional rights.

It pretty clearly spells out in a lot of paperwork that America has been declared a war zone, and American citizens are subject to arrest and detainment outside of the constitutional protections of a trial by jury, or the right to an attorney. The right to being charged with a crime even is stripped away in that bill.

I don't believe most of the American public has been properly informed via the media. So, we're trying to get the message out, and get some support, in the fact that we cannot continue to allow the progressive erosion of the constitutional rights, and expect to have our rights ever be taken seriously at some point.

STATEMENTS FROM THE OATHKEEPERS WEBSITE

The official Oathkeepers website has a list of ten "Orders We Will Not Obey". Here is the short summary of those ten points. You can click here for more information.

<http://oathkeepers.org/oath/2009/03/03/declaration-of-orders-we-will-not-obey/>

1. We will NOT obey orders to disarm the American people.

2. We will NOT obey orders to conduct warrantless searches of the American people.
3. We will NOT obey orders to detain American citizens as “unlawful enemy combatants” or to subject them to military tribunal.
4. We will NOT obey orders to impose martial law or a “state of emergency” on a state.
5. We will NOT obey orders to invade and subjugate any state that asserts its sovereignty.
6. We will NOT obey any order to blockade American cities, thus turning them into giant concentration camps.
7. We will NOT obey any order to force American citizens into any form of detention camps under any pretext.
8. We will NOT obey orders to assist or support the use of any foreign troops on U.S. soil against the American people to “keep the peace” or to “maintain control.”
9. We will NOT obey any orders to confiscate the property of the American people, including food and other essential supplies.
10. We will NOT obey any orders which infringe on the right of the people to free speech, to peaceably assemble, and to petition their government for a redress of grievances.

MORE FROM BILL WOOD LATER IN THE INTERVIEW

This all appears shortly after the one hour and 30-minute mark.

BW: Over time the build-up of what I was seeing, what I was experiencing, what I knew from my previous military experience and what I learned since getting out of the military -- it began to build and build and build, until it eventually got to the point where even I couldn't take it anymore.

And at that point I began looking up information up on the Internet, doing research, information gathering -- kind of quote-unquote “building my case”.

Shortly after I began doing that, I was contacted by a group of people that were also doing the exact same thing; [they] were much more aware of who I was and what my experience in the military was -- on a Top Secret level.

I was very surprised by that [laughs], but I learned very quickly that there are people out there with a huge amount of information -- fighting for the good guys.

KC: So, in essence, you were contacted by a group of, what we call “White Hats”?

BW: I call them Oath Keepers. Essentially, they are the patriots that our government would classify as terrorists [laughs].

KC: But they are ex-military, by and large, and some of them are still in the military?

BW: I would assume a large number are still in the military or in the government -- in the FBI, the Secret Service, CIA...

KC: ...alphabet agency...

BW: ...any alphabet agency. There's got to be a percentage of people that are seeing the-day-to-day and going: this is wrong -- we've got to do something!

BILL WAS 'VETTED'

We continue right where we left off -- and hear how Bill Wood was 'vetted' to join into this very unique group, which I also have had extensive contact with.

KC: So they contacted you?

BW: Yes, and over the course of a few months, I was vetted.

If you don't know the meaning of the word, it is a cute term for saying how much you could be trusted [laughs] -- how much you would lie, and what you didn't want to talk about when you figured out that the people on the other side of the vetting process already know all that.

They're just trying to figure you out and see if all that's true.

If you respond in exactly the way that you are portrayed in their minds, it's very encouraging. They knew my deepest, darkest secrets and they knew even more than that.

When I came out with the information I did, I kind of graduated -- and got a trusted role in a very compartmentalized world [laughs]....

I WAS "VETTED" AS WELL

I have been "vetted" over the course of years now. I did this by repeatedly not going public with various pieces of classified information I have been given.

If I was explicitly asked not to share something, I did not. In so doing, I have gained and built up trust.

This was a necessary step in order to insure that I could be entrusted with key information that will now help to rescue the fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of the world from Financial Tyranny.

I would never have put this much work into one single investigation had I not been directly asked to -- from the highest and most secretive levels of the Oathkeepers.

I wish to thank Bill Wood, and the Oathkeepers, for finally coming in and giving Benjamin Fulford and me both some backup on this mission -- when we needed it most, at the time of our greatest personal risk.

Bill wanted me there for the first interview but I was too swamped in this investigation. The Livestream event occurred the following Tuesday night. Bill's foundation in the original interview allowed us to go much farther in the Livestream event.

THE NDAA ACT IS A DIRECT ATTACK AGAINST THE CONSTITUTION

Remember -- the first line of the Oath of Enlistment tells the soldier his responsibility is to the Constitution of the United States of America -- regardless of what foreign or domestic enemies may do to threaten it.

That responsibility can include going against direct orders from the highest levels of the unelected and / or occult government.

KC: So you're working with this group and one of the reasons you came to me was actually because of this [National] Defense Authorization Act?

BW: Yes, that sent shock waves through the community that I'm involved in.

Basically that is the final straw of the complete erosion of Constitutional Rights.

It literally has government giving itself permission to violate the rest of the Constitution and that has a lot of people concerned.

A lot of people would like to see something done about that; it's my opinion and their opinion that something could be done about that.

Because, quite honestly, we are one false-flag away from enacting all of that legislation that's just been created.

KC: Right, I would agree with you on that. [snip]

BW: The popular belief is that there is a very, very easy way to prevent that from happening, and to get that information out to the public.

It has been surmised that... if we address the issue directly via our Constitutional Rights, and begin to notify the public in general that this is a problem that needs to be dealt with, [change will occur].

The way it's been proposed to me -- and to a lot of people -- is to create a petition that calls for the impeachment of every political person in Congress and the Presidency that enacted this legislation as treasonous.

It is treason to attempt to alter the Constitution through an unconstitutional means.

If you create a law that circumvents the Constitution, you commit treason.

KC: Fair enough.

GAME OVER

While I agree with Bill's statement about the petition, I have also heard there is a much deeper and more compelling initiative at work.

Therefore I would like to speak directly to the people who are continuing to perpetrate Financial Tyranny.

Guys... This is it. Game Over. You can rape us, beat us, kill us, detain us and silence us, but you cannot stop The Avalanche.

It's here. It's real. It's much bigger than you could ever possibly imagine.

A paper-thin layer of fear is the only thing holding back The Avalanche right now.

You know that. I know that. We're not stupid. We're adults. We know what happens in history when this occurs. It's called a coup.

It's going to happen no matter what. I have nothing to do with it.

I believe the plan is so comprehensive and brilliant that there is no possible way for you to stop it.

I know you're scared -- but the best thing you can do is STOP LYING.

You still have a chance to give humanity the greatest gift of all time -- an end to secrecy -- and the most mind-blowing awakening in the planet's history.

So far you haven't done this. I'm going to help you finish the job -- by telling the rest of the story of Financial Tyranny.

Now no one needs to stick their necks out. It's already public.

No secrets left for anyone to be threatened for speaking out about. This is it.

THE DRAGON FAMILY LAWSUIT

As we head into Section Seven of this investigation, it's time to review what we've learned about the lawsuit Neil Keenan and Keith Scott have filed on behalf of the Dragon Family / Kuomintang group, formerly the ruling party in China.

This lawsuit will blow open the whole story of the "occult economy" that I have been discussing here. It includes absolutely damning recordings from the defendants -- as well as an incredible wealth of supporting evidence.

The Oathkeepers are supporting this lawsuit as one critical element of their greater plan to end Financial Tyranny.

Once we review the story and look at a variety of new data points, we will feature an extensive set of interviews I have conducted with Keenan and Scott -- two of the plaintiffs -- on many key topics.

This interview series will then conclude with the next volley in their campaign -- the world debut of a Cease and Desist order against the people profiting from Financial Tyranny.

UPDATED 2/17! At last -- the final four sections of our epic investigation into Financial Tyranny. Get the overview of what we have learned, with stunning new information that paves the way for an end to Financial Tyranny -- once and for all.

All updates will be listed at the end of the Comments Section as they come in. Stunning new events are happening on almost a daily basis that show this historic defeat of Financial Tyranny is now imminent.]

SECTION SEVEN: The Evidence is Irrefutable

LET'S REMEMBER THE BIG PICTURE

Before we feature our exclusive interviews with the key players in the lawsuit that could defeat Financial Tyranny, let's step back and look at the Big Picture.

We now have a compelling storyline of Financial Tyranny, dating back to 1776 with the publishing of Smith's The Wealth of Nations -- and the founding of the Illuminati in Bavaria.

Click here to start from the beginning if you have not already read the first six sections.

We have scientific evidence that a monopoly of 1,318 corporations, headed by the Federal Reserve banks, is now earning 80 percent of the world's wealth. This 'core' is in turn being run by a "super-entity" of 147 corporations, most of which are financial institutions.

The top corporations in the "super-entity" are the Federal Reserve banks -- and they created 26 to 29 Trillion dollars in bailouts for their own companies from 2007 to 2010.

The Rothschilds admitted in their own 1962 biography that Mayer Amschel's five sons "conquered the world more thoroughly, cunningly and lastingly than any Caesar before or Hitler after them."

Nathan Rothschild destroyed the British economy by making the entire market think Napoleon had defeated them. In one single day of trading, he was able to increase his net wealth by 6500 times -- and did what Napoleon could not.

Rothschild conquered Great Britain.

MANY OTHER DATA POINTS TO CONSIDER

We gave links to multiple books full of information -- now free to read online -- proving there was a government-led uprising against the Illuminati in 1784... and a massive worldwide revolt against Freemasonry beginning after William Morgan's murder in 1826.

Freemasons openly bragged about controlling the media, the police, the judiciary, the financial system and the government. 45,000 out of 50,000 Masons in the United States -- 90 percent -- all quit once the scandal broke, and were treated as heroes.

I believe there is abundant evidence that we are right on the threshold of another historical event like this -- only of significantly greater magnitude.

We have also thoroughly documented how the global media is in the hands of a very small number of corporations.

We gave compelling evidence that its content is controlled through Operation Mockingbird, which was implemented in the dawning years of the CIA.

DON'T FORGET SVALI

We have explored shockingly detailed and specific testimony from a modern-day Illuminati member, Svali, who risked her life to appear once, and only once, on the radio -- and never asked for money.

Svali also generated a tremendous body of written information that is highly informative, although extremely challenging to read. She has since gone into hiding, fearing for her life if she were to speak any further.

Svali's written information thoroughly agrees with our historical research. It also suggests that the gigantic Eye of Horus painting I found under the Sunnyside Avenue bridge in Scotia, New York was, in fact, a ritual site -- just a mile away from a Masonic lodge.

Svali's testimony also explains the strangest, scariest story from my childhood -- where both of my parents witnessed Masonic couples entering the house across the street, without knocking, in the middle of the night, with no lights on outside or inside the house.

The Illuminati is really only a European / American entity -- mainly the G5 countries of Germany, France, Britain, Italy and the United States -- and in the United States only 1 in 1000 people, or 0.1 percent, are a part of this group.

The attempts they have made to control other countries have been systematically undermined -- and a massive 138-nation alliance has now formed against them.

The lawsuit you will hear about in the next section is one of several tools intended to help break through the silence once and for all -- and free us from Financial Tyranny.

THE OCCULT ECONOMY

We have now studied the public legal documents of the Bank of International Settlements (BIS) -- the global arm of the Federal Reserve. The BIS allegedly began in 1921, but did not fully incorporate until 1929-1930.

The BIS documents openly reveal that they took in "deposits" of gold and treasure from countries all over the world. Central banks were then allowed to trade with each other -- using accounts backed by this gold.

These trades are completely free of taxation -- and some of the monumental profits they generate are shared with private individuals who are members of the BIS.

The countries who either surrendered their gold willingly or had it stolen from them -- such as by Hitler and the Japanese -- were given worthless Federal Reserve bonds, in huge denominations, in exchange for their riches.

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR EXPOSES THE BIS

Bill Clinton's mentor, Georgetown University Professor of History Dr. Carroll Quigley, revealed quite a bit about the BIS in his 1966 book Tragedy and Hope.

<http://www.rense.com/general85/tower.htm>

In Tragedy and Hope: A History of the World in Our Time (1966), Dr. Carroll Quigley revealed the key role played in global finance by the BIS behind the scenes.

Dr. Quigley was Professor of History at Georgetown University, where he was President Bill Clinton's mentor. He was also an insider, groomed by the powerful clique he called "the international bankers."

His credibility is heightened by the fact that he actually espoused their goals. He wrote:

"I know of the operations of this network because I have studied it for twenty years and was permitted for two years, in the early 1960's, to examine its papers and secret records.

I have no aversion to it or to most of its aims and have, for much of my life, been close to it and to many of its instruments....

[I]n general my chief difference of opinion is that it wishes to remain unknown, and I believe its role in history is significant enough to be known."

QUIGLEY'S DEFINING STATEMENT ON THE BIS

<http://www.rense.com/general85/tower.htm>

Quigley wrote of this international banking network:

"[T]he powers of financial capitalism had another far-reaching aim, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands, able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole.

This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences.

The apex of the system was to be the Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland, a private bank owned and controlled by the world's central banks -- which were themselves private corporations." [p.324-325]....

The BIS is now composed of 55 member nations, but the club that meets regularly in Basel is a much smaller group; and even within it, there is a hierarchy.

In a 1983 article in Harper's Magazine called "Ruling the World of Money," Edward Jay Epstein wrote that where the real business gets done is in "a sort of inner club made up of the half dozen or so powerful central bankers who find themselves more or less in the same monetary boat" -- those from Germany, the United States, Switzerland, Italy, Japan and England.

DON'T INCLUDE JAPAN IN THAT LIST ANYMORE

Japan has since cut off the flow of money to the Federal Reserve / Illuminati bankers. Fulford covered this extensively in Part One of our investigation, published December 12, 2011.

Benjamin Fulford has numerous pieces of evidence that Fukushima was an intentional disaster -- a hideous attempt to force Japan to hand over the money.

Fulford published threats from Federal Reserve bankers that they would do this -- set off earthquakes that caused a nuclear disaster -- several times before it actually happened. This included statements he made on video.

What this horrific act of mass, ritual murder has actually done, however, is create a revolutionary overthrow of Illuminati power and influence in Japan.

This has not yet become public... but it certainly will.

FOUR DIFFERENT WHISTLEBLOWERS CONFIRM

We have now seen four completely different sets of photographs of Federal Reserve bonds from whistleblowers: Neil Keenan, Udo Pelkowski, "Unwanted Publicity" and Joseph Riad. The images are extremely compelling and consistent.

Riad filed a comprehensive lawsuit to reclaim his stolen bonds on December 23, 2011. Keenan filed a comprehensive lawsuit to reclaim his stolen bonds -- on behalf of the Kuomintang / Dragon Family -- as of November 23, 2011.

Astonishingly, US government agents confirmed to Riad that his bonds were genuine -- but then a Homeland Security officer ran off with fifteen billion dollars' worth of them.

We then saw a big-budget music video, starring P. Diddy, in which a suitcase of 100,000-dollar Federal Reserve gold certificates was stolen by a CIA-type agency. The bonds were identical to the ones our brave whistleblowers revealed.

THE DEADLIEST INFORMATION ON EARTH

We have now conducted a comprehensive examination of what is believed to be the deadliest, most classified and secretive information anyone could possess on Earth -- the occult economy built off of this stolen gold.

Nothing I've ever encountered in my entire career has been considered as dangerous as this information -- even though I spent years gathering testimony from people working in very classified programs.

The insiders who know about this occult economy are much more comfortable talking about almost any other subject -- no matter how classified it may be.

David Hutzler and his 8-year-old son Mackie both died of gunshot wounds to the head. Their home was then burned to ashes in an obvious attempt to conceal the evidence. There has been no word about the murder weapon as of yet.

This sent a brutal warning to both Benjamin Fulford, and to me, to abandon this investigation.

Obviously, neither of us acted on these threats -- except to become even more dedicated in exposing the truth.

BLATANT ILLUMINATI RITUAL ON THE MOST WATCHED TV PROGRAM OF ALL TIME

Think about the size and scope of what is about to become public knowledge if this story breaks open and becomes mainstream.

Think about how meticulously these plans have been followed -- literally for centuries -- and how this will be the first time that it has ever been exposed on a global level.

For some in the Order, this exposure will be a tremendous disappointment. However, many other members will be spectacularly relieved -- and they are going to need our help and support when this happens.

The Illuminati seem to have responded to this imminent exposure by staging the most dramatic, blatant, in-your-face public ritual during the Super Bowl halftime show on Sunday, February 5th, 2012.

This was the most-watched show in the history of television.

Super Bowl Program Most Watched Ever – 111.3M Viewers

http://hosted.ap.org/dynamic/stories/F/FBN_SUPER_BOWL_RATINGS?SITE=AP&SECTION=HOME&TEMPLATE=DEFAULT&CTIME=2012-02-06-15-59-03

NEW YORK (AP) -- For the third consecutive year, the Super Bowl set a record as the most-watched television show in U.S. history.

The Nielsen Co. said Monday that an estimated 111.3 million people watched the New York Giants beat the New England Patriots on Sunday night. That narrowly beat the 111 million who watched Green Bay's win over Pittsburgh last year....

Madonna has some bragging rights, too. Her halftime show was seen by an estimated 114 million people -- a higher average than the game itself - and was the most-watched Super Bowl halftime entertainment show on record, Nielsen said.

I DON'T BELIEVE MADONNA IS "IN ON IT"

Let me say for the record that I do not believe Madonna is a member, nor did she have any knowledge of this plan. I have seen arguments to the contrary, but I am not convinced by them.

Madonna's efforts to improve the world clearly show that she does not subscribe to a negative, self-serving, tyrannical mindset.

However, in this case she was offered the gig of a lifetime. It involved design concepts that were intended to out-sizzle Lady Gaga, and she obviously went along with it -- adding her own input at various points.

The Daily Mail published an article that included pictures of key moments you do not see in the official video version.

Madonna Illuminati Ritual in Super Bowl

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/tvshowbiz/article-2097020/Madonna-Super-Bowl-halftime-2012-Singer-suffers-small-slip-up.html>

LET'S LOOK AT SOME PICTURES

The Illuminati believe they are the descendants of extraterrestrial human "Gods" that arrived on earth millennia ago. I have heard this from more than one whistleblower firsthand.

Whether you believe it or not is immaterial. The greater point is that this is what they believe.

Madonna is literally presented as a God in this ritual. It begins with an army of Roman soldiers bringing her out on a huge throne, surrounded with enormous feather-like fans.

The feathers symbolize how these people allegedly arrived here in their "winged discs". The wings were used as a metaphor to indicate how their discs would fly through the air.

Roman Procession Leading In the Goddess

Notice the sinister glowing eyes of the dark sphinxes flanking the throne.

Many people have compared this image to bat-winged god Baphomet.

The Roman headdresses of her cohorts include blatant ram's horns on the right.

The winged disc is a classic symbol in Egyptian, Babylonian and Sumerian mythology.

Up-and-coming star MIA gave the middle finger to the cameras while every dancer had their legs provocatively spread.

We were supposed to believe this gesture was an "accident".

MIA gave the finger as she said the word "shit" at the very end of her rap. Knowing how well-rehearsed these events are, it does not appear that any of this was unintentional.

The Eye of Horus appears as a swirling vortex when Madonna sings "I close my eyes" in Like a Prayer. The lights above the stage reveal the same shape -- triangular beams with a central vortex.

The Eye became fully formed over several seconds as it swirled -- and appeared to be made of stars and nebulae.

Madonna's headdress resembles the Sumerian goddess Ishtar. Notice the all-seeing eye on her belt as well.

The following morning, Good Morning America was one of a series of media outlets that referred to Madonna as "the High Priestess of Pop."

A LAST-DITCH RALLYING CRY

This blatant display of Roman, Egyptian and Illuminati symbolism appears to be a last-ditch rallying cry to their members -- as if to say that they still control the world, and are getting ready to formally announce their presence.

The truth is that they have no choice. Ready or not, here we go.

So many people began 'outing' the Illuminati symbolism in this show that Daily Mail took the unusual step of closing the comments section within two days of putting it online.

Alex Jones' Prison Planet was one of a wide number of independent media outlets that wrote about this stunningly blatant display.

UPDATE MONDAY 2/13: MUCH MORE GROTESQUE RITUAL A WEEK LATER AT THE GRAMMYS

Yet another mass Illuminati ritual -- this time seen by almost 40 million people -- took place the very next week.

To me, this is an even more blatant sign of how truly desperate they have become.

As you can see here, Nicky Minaj appeared in the Super Bowl halftime show.

Nicky Minaj also had a short rapping part in the song Give Me All Your Luvin.

MINAJ WEARS BLOOD-RED MEDUSA COSTUME AND APPEARS WITH 'POPE'

A week later at the Grammys, Minaj strode in with probably the most outrageous, anti-Christian stunt in the entire history of the awards ceremony -- and that was before the performance itself.

She came in wearing a blood-red costume with the Versace logo -- which is openly acknowledged to be the face of Medusa, the snake-headed goddess of Greek mythology.

MEDUSA AND THE GREEK
KEY SYMBOL

The world of Versace is reflected in the Medusa symbol.

Medusa is an icon of Greek mythology, who has been portrayed in many works of art over the ages.

The obvious implications here are that the snake-headed, demonic Medusa has now 'possessed' the Pope -- and established dominance over him.

SATANIC ELEMENTS IN HER PERFORMANCE

The performance itself was the biggest surprise. It opens with Minaj offering a confessional to the man originally playing the Pope, now apparently just a priest.

During this confessional she sings "I Feel Pretty" from West Side Story -- but in an off-pitch, disjointed way that causes visible agitation to the priest.

The performance then cuts to a pre-recorded clip -- in which the priest appears at a house, where a grandmother answers the door.

The very tense music and the grandmother's demeanor lets us know her 'son' is upstairs -- and is possessed by a demonic entity.

Once he goes up and confronts her, she acts like she is about to perform oral sex on a stick of pink lipstick -- and then suddenly jumps up into the corner of the ceiling, in a move obviously impossible for a normal human being to perform.

THE RITUAL

After this clip ends, we are back on the main stage -- wherein the ritual becomes much more blatant.

Minaj is strapped to a coffin-like sacrificial slab -- as church windows loom behind her.

Then, after a verbal cue from Minaj, the windows all abruptly shatter -- revealing blood-red skies behind them.

TEMPTATIONS

Once the Church is shattered and the demonic spirit within Minaj is set free, we then see church altar boys seduced by female dancers clad in black leather.

Notice in the first image how the camera angle is set so that a person's right hand, flashing the sign of the Devil, is maintained within frame for that entire shot.

Shortly after the above, we cut back to the same scene -- only now the altar boy dressed in white has been killed by the female dancer, and is slumped dead over the altar.

Minaj quickly occupies the altar where the slain boy's body had just been.

THE PRIEST ENTERS TO TRY TO PERFORM AN EXORCISM

At this point the priest enters to try to perform an exorcism on Minaj.

This only causes the ritual to become even more outrageous -- complete with blazing fires and Minaj slowly levitating 75 feet above the stage.

WHAT ABOUT WHITNEY?

Isn't it strange that Whitney Houston -- the biggest pop diva of the 80s other than Madonna -- died in the very same hotel where the pre-Grammys parties were taking place?

► Is that really appropriate? Kim, Amber and Britney are far from demure as they party at hotel while Whitney Houston's body lies upstairs

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/tvshowbiz/article-2100026/Kim-Kardashian-Britney-Spears-party-Beverly-Hilton-Hotel-Whitney-Houston-died.html>

In Hollywood, they say the show must go on.

And last night not even the death of one of the music industry's biggest names was enough to halt a pre-Grammy's party in Hollywood.

Clive Davis decided to press ahead with his annual soiree at the Beverly Hilton Hotel despite the fact his protege Whitney Houston died in the same establishment, mere hours earlier.

The scene could not have been more dramatic or bizarre - as the guests made their red carpet arrival downstairs, Whitney's body remained upstairs in her fourth-floor suite while the authorities investigated the death scene.

Poignantly Houston - who was found dead in the bathtub - was supposed to appear at the gala and was expected to perform after rehearsing for the show on Thursday with Brady and Monica.

Kim Kardashian, Britney Spears and Amber Rose were among the stars who were arriving on the red carpet while the police investigation carried on upstairs.

The young Hollywood starlets didn't bother with subdued mourning attire in light of the tragedy and instead turned up in low-cut and very daring dresses.

WHITNEY'S DEATH MASSIVELY BOOSTED GRAMMYS RATINGS

Whitney may or may not have been killed deliberately, but if it was truly an accident, it was remarkably well-timed for Grammys ratings -- as it instantly turned into an outlet for everyone to grieve.

SONY JACKED UP THE PRICE -- AND PROFITS ARE EXPECTED TO SOAR

In a highly controversial move, Sony increased the price of Whitney's Greatest Hits album by more than 60 percent -- immediately after her very opportunely-timed death.

<http://www.guardian.co.uk/music/2012/feb/13/whitney-houston-album-price?newsfeed=true>

Sony Music under fire after cost of greatest hits set on iTunes rises by more than 60% after singer's death....

Sony Music has come under fire after it increased the price of a Whitney Houston album on Apple's iTunes Store hours after the singer was found dead.

The music giant is understood to have lifted the wholesale price of Houston's greatest hits album, The Ultimate Collection, at about 4am California time on Sunday. This meant that the iTunes retail price of the album automatically increased from £4.99 to £7.99.

Houston's The Ultimate Collection, originally released in 1997, was the second top-selling album on iTunes on Monday morning. Apple returned the album to its original price late on Sunday.

Music fans described the move as a cynical attempt to capitalise on Houston's in-demand greatest hits records.

AS TERRIBLE AS IT IS, IT ALL ADDS UP

Whitney's sudden death generated over 13 million more viewers than the Grammys from the year before, which weighed in at 26.6 million.

Speculations that Whitney Houston was murdered have already begun -- as we see here from Nancy Grace, speaking on CNN.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2012/02/13/nancy-grace-whitney-houston-underwater_n_1274757.html

Nancy Grace speculated on Monday that someone might have "pushed" Whitney Houston underwater, leading to her death.

The HLN host was speaking to CNN's Brooke Baldwin about the late music icon, who died suddenly on Saturday. Police said on Monday that she had been found underwater in the bathtub of the hotel room where she was found.

Grace appeared before the police's press conference. But she seemed to sense that some kind of foul play was afoot. Speaking about the prescription drugs found in Houston's hotel room, she wondered "who if anyone put it in her system or gave it to her?" Then, she went further.

"I'd like to know who was around her, who, if anyone gave her drugs...and who let her slip, or pushed her, underneath that water?" she said. "Apparently, no signs of force or trauma to the body. Who let Whitney Houston go under her water?"

"Might it have been one person, might it have been multiple people, all excellent questions," Baldwin said. "Again, we don't know the cause of her death."

INSTEAD OF GRIEVING, THEY SAW ONE OF THE MOST BLATANT RITUALS IN TELEVISION HISTORY

Many of the people who tuned into the Grammys expected to be able to grieve Whitney's loss. Yet, instead they were subjected to a traumatizing satanic ritual.

There were other signs as well -- including Dave Grohl, lead singer of the Foo Fighters, wearing an upside-down cross while he was speaking on stage.

In case you forget, Dave Grohl was originally the drummer in Nirvana -- up until the lead singer, Kurt Cobain, shot himself in the head.

We may never know if Whitney was deliberately sacrificed -- but these are questions that will only grow stronger as time goes on.

THIS IS NOT THE FIRST TIME THEY'VE "HIDDEN IT OUT IN THE OPEN"

When I visited the UK in 2010, I was stunned by what I saw in the Salisbury Cathedral.

Masonic symbols appeared all over the place inside this cathedral. I didn't photograph all of them, but people in my tour group were filming as I pointed things out like Templar crosses and a huge doorknob adorned with the Masonic double-headed eagle.

We started to get ominous trouble from the church as I excitedly pointed out Illuminati symbols, with a loud voice, in front of my group as they were filming.

Before long, I was ordered to stop talking as I was "disturbing the service" occurring in one area -- even though hardly anyone was there.

I went to go see where this "service" was happening... and an even greater surprise was in store for me.

This was the "service" that was taking place. Not one person was even sitting down as I approached this area.

However, I could hardly believe my eyes as I approached the altar. There, in plain sight, was what appeared to be a human-sized black sacrificial slab.

Knowing this was very likely the real thing, I went up and put my hand on the slab. I said a silent prayer for the souls of whomever may have lost their lives in occult rituals on this slab.

There was a sense of great, oppressive darkness as I touched the slab. I did my best to let it course through me so it could be released, with love.

Svali is on record saying that human sacrifice rituals have been conducted in "black mass" ceremonies that take place in various churches during the night.

Everyone in our group was totally creeped out by this. The cathedral was a veritable grab-bag of Templar crosses, Masonic symbolism and other strange and disturbing regalia.

I'm sure some Illuminati members are thrilled to go through this cathedral and have so many in-your-face symbols on display. And now, they've exposed themselves in front of the entire world -- in the Super Bowl halftime show.

THEY KNOW THEY HAVE RUN OUT OF TIME

Such an outrageous, totally obvious ritual showcase of Super Bowl symbolism does strongly argue that they know they have run out of time. The truth is about to come out -- one way or the other.

Most of their members will be very glad to be free once this happens.

As I have said throughout this entire investigation, fear is what stops people from seeing the obvious. This blatant, global display in the Super Bowl halftime show was a very aggressive, tactical move.

This investigation -- and the lawsuit behind it -- is one key element that is now forcing this astonishing conspiracy out into the open -- so we can finally heal as a planet.

THE ULTIMATE PONZI SCHEME

The Illuminati's plan calls for the complete destruction of the global economy -- at a time of their precise choosing.

They needed a global currency that was backed by nothing but "faith and credit." Top insiders have told me the word "faith" is very important -- and there is a reason why that word always appears first.

The greatest secret of the 20th century was how the gold and treasure of the world was systematically plundered and hidden away... only to be used as collateral for vast, secret bank accounts.

This "gold-backed" occult economy allows for wealthy private individuals to become brokers -- who facilitate "trades" between central banks.

UPDATE 2/10: DOCUMENTED, WRITTEN PROOF IN THE NEWSPAPERS

Is there any documented proof that this gold was shipped to the Federal Reserve? After publishing this investigation, I got an anonymous tip -- and I acted on it immediately.

David, go to <http://news.google.com/newspapers>, which is Google's news archive scans of old newspapers. If you do a search there for China Gold, or similar, you will see a number of articles that talk about shipments -- and Chinese gold being held here in the US!!

This correspondent was absolutely correct. I restricted my search to the New York Times, with the keywords "China gold", and a great wealth of data showed up.

Benjamin Fulford said seven destroyers' full of Chinese gold -- totaling 125,000 metric tons -- was shipped to the United States in 1938, to protect it from the Japanese, who were invading China.

Obviously, such a mission would need to be kept absolutely secret from the militant, powerful Japanese, or else they would retaliate. However, someone made a mistake -- and one of these secret shipments of Chinese gold actually got intercepted.

It wasn't a large shipment, relatively speaking, but the important point is that they got caught.

Here's the link -- where I then paid $3.95 to download a copy of the original article:

SEEING IS BELIEVING -- 2.5 METRIC TONS OF GOLD TO SHIP FROM CHINA TO FEDERAL RESERVE IN 1938

Gold was at 35 dollars per troy ounce back then. $2,800,000 dollars in gold was 80,000 troy ounces. There are 32,150.746 troy ounces in a metric ton. Therefore, if we don't count the silver, this one shipment alone would be 2.488 metric tons' worth of gold.

The article reveals that the shipment was coming to the US from Chiang Kai-Shek. The Japanese were angered by this -- and refused to allow the ship to depart until all 2.48 tons of gold were removed.

President Coolidge Unloads
$2,800,000 in Bullion to Get
Shanghai Clearance Papers

PROTEST BY U. S. CONSUL

Shipment Goes Back to Chase
Bank After Japanese Insist
Metal Is Chinese-Owned

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.
SHANGHAI, Tuesday, Oct. 25.—
The Dollar liner President Coolidge unloaded a cargo of gold bars, silver bars and coins collectively worth $2,800,000 last night after Japanese-controlled officials had refused to clear the ship unless she sailed without the shipment.

[With the unloading completed, the President Coolidge sailed today for Kobe, Japan, The Associated Press reported.]

The cargo had been taken aboard Sunday under United States Marine guard for a scheduled sailing yesterday. But the Japanese-dominated Nanking Reformed Government and Japanese naval and military officials canceled the liner's clearance papers.

Clarence E. Gauss, the United States Consul General, made a formal protest on the ground of undue interference with American property, for the shipment was from the Shanghai offices of the Chase National Bank, but apparently the Japanese offered tangible evidence that the bullion belonged to the Chinese Government or some government leader.

The legal basis for detention of the liner was, first, an order, issued by the Japanese after their capture of Shanghai last November, declaring that the export of gold, silver, arms and ammunition from Shanghai was forbidden. Moreover, an order was issued by the Nanking Reformed Government early this month forbidding the export from Shanghai of gold, silver, arms or anything else likely to result in an advantage to the regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

This fortune in precious metal, now returning to the vaults of the Chase National Bank here, has had an involved history.

When the bank moved to a new building after the Japanese occupation of Shanghai Chase officials obtained a United States Marine escort through the streets for this metal, which, it was explained, had been pledged to the bank as security for loans made to the Chinese Government. The bank now claims ownership of the metals consisting of $300,000 in gold bars and $2,500,000 in silver bars and coins.

The export of bullion from China was forbidden when the government nationalized silver, but in special cases permits were given that specified an export tax of 10 per cent on bullion and 7½ per cent on coins plus a special equalization tax on both that varied daily with the New York and London silver prices.

The mystery of the present attempted shipment was deepened when, according to Japanese officials, Sir Frederick Maze, Inspector General of Customs, received telegraphic orders from H. H. Kung, Chinese Minister of Finance, to permit the metal to go tax free. This, the Japanese assert, was evidence of Chinese Government ownership or interest.

Although the United States has not recognized the new Nanking regime's right to control the customs, Washington has not protested against Americans' paying the new import-export customs schedule enforced after the inauguration of the Nanking and Peiping regimes.

Two precedents already exist for stopping American shipments. The first was when an attempt was made to move from Shanghai to Hong Kong a large consignment of automobile tires believed destined for the Chinese Army. The second was when an attempt was made to ship to Hong Kong cement mixers believed intended for use in pillbox construction.

2.488 metric tons is, of course, a very small shipment compared to a total of 125,000 tons -- but this was probably a final clean-up mission after the majority of the Kuomintang / Dragon Family gold had already been removed.

That may also have explained why their security was weaker on this shipment of gold bars, coins and silver -- thus leading to them being caught.

MANY OTHER NEWSPAPER ARTICLES TELL THE REAL STORY

Throughout this investigation, we have discussed how the Bank for International Settlements took in gold from all over the world, and put it on "deposit" with the Federal Reserve -- their main stronghold -- in exchange for bonds.

Here are some of the news stories I found that prove it -- with hardly any digging. I searched 1938, 1937 and 1934 -- the year on most of the Federal Reserve Bonds we've been exploring.

The first article you are about to read is from February 19, 1937. Then we begin on April 14, 1934 and move forward chronologically throughout the year: June 8th, September 21st, and December 1st, 1934.

Federal Reserve Bank Reports Receipt Here Of $6,120,500 Gold From Abroad in One Day

Engagement of $1,650,000 gold in England for shipment here was reported yesterday to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which also noted receipt here of $6,120,500 in gold, the largest single day's arrival in two weeks. The total included $2,545,200 from Canada, $2,005,100 from Switzerland, $1,461,500 from Australia and $108,700 from India. The bank also reported the arrival at San Francisco of $292,000 gold from China and $97,000 from Australia.

Included in the receipts here yesterday was the gold from Australia that had arrived in Boston on Wednesday and been forwarded to this city by armored car. The truckload came through without incident and reached the bank early yesterday morning.

In its statement of gold transactions for the week ended on Wednesday, issued yesterday, the bank listed receipts here of $13,404,000 gold, of which $7,529,000 came from England, $2,546,000 from Canada, $2,008,000 from Switzerland and $1,321,000 from India. It reported that $430,000 gold had been received in San Francisco during the week, $138,000 coming from Australia and the remainder from China.

The course of the foreign exchanges yesterday was mixed, with sterling again slightly weaker but most other currencies firm. The pound dropped 1-16 cent to $4.89 7-16. Francs rose 1-16 point to 4.65½ cents, guilders were up 4 points to 54.70 cents, belgas gained ¾ point to 16.86¼ cents and Swiss francs advanced ¾ point to 22.82 cents.

Reserve Bank Reports Receipts From Canada and China.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York yesterday reported the receipt here of $1,682,900 gold from Canada and the arrival at San Francisco of $941,000 gold from China.

Foreign exchanges continued quiet, but were generally reactionary. Sterling fell $1\frac{1}{4}$ cents to \$5.15 $\frac{1}{4}$, the franc was again unchanged at 6.60 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents, guilders cheapened 3 points to 67.67 cents, belgas 2 points to 23.40 cents and Swiss francs 1 point to 32.39 cents. The mark was off 3 points to 39.54 cents, the lira down 4 points to 8.53 cents and the Canadian dollar dropped $\frac{1}{4}$ cent to 1-32 cent premium.

No gold transactions were reported locally yesterday but the Federal Reserve Bank of New York received word from San Francisco of the arrival there of $814,000 gold from China. The Reserve Bank's weekly summary of gold transactions up to Wednesday showed a net gain of $9,443,000, resulting from imports of $11,725,000 gold received at New York and $211,000 received at San Francisco from China, offset by the earmarking of $2,493,000. The gold earmarked had been received here from Colombia. Other imports received here were $3,366,000 from Canada, $3,146,000 from India, $2,152,000 from England, $416,000 from France and $152,000 from Jamaica.

The Federal Reserve Bank reported the arrival here yesterday of $11,300 in gold from Guatemala to go into the stock held under earmark for foreign account. No exports of the metal were made.

In its statement for the week ended on Wednesday, the bank reported exports of $877,000 in gold to Chile, and no imports. There was, however, a gain in the monetary gold stock through the release of $1,577,000 earmarked gold. San Francisco received $230,000 in gold from China.

$8,076,000,000 Nov. 21.

Unsettled financial and political conditions abroad in November caused a demand for dollars, which resulted in severe weakness in foreign exchanges and a subsequent movement of gold here not equaled since March. Imports of gold totaled $112,912,700, while no exports were reported, compared with imports of $6,850,900 and exports of $1,004,800 in October. In November a year ago $1,689,299 in gold was exported and none was received.

Of the gold shipments here in November, $66,636,700 came from France, $12,759,600 from Belgium and $10,423,000 from India.

Earmarked gold was increased slightly, gaining $337,500 in the month, following a reduction of $307,900 in October, and compared with a drop of $1,015,916 in November, 1933.

Gold arriving at San Francisco totaled $605,000 in November, all from China, contrasted with $49,000 in October and none a year ago.

The net gain in the monetary gold stock, which, incidentally, touched a new high mark of $8,076,000,000 on Nov. 21, was $118,580,200 for the month, compared with one of $6,203,000 in September and a loss of $673,383 in November, 1933.

DO THE MATH

The last newspaper article we just read, from December 1, 1934, reveals a total excess of $222 million, 385 thousand and 270 dollars' worth of "imported" gold to the US between 1929 -- when the BIS was officially founded -- and 1934.

At the stated "new price" of $35 an ounce, this adds up to roughly 6,540,743.23 troy ounces, or 203.43 metric tons of gold.

As we can see, this process continued well after 1934. Our first article revealed that $6,120,500 in gold was taken in by the Federal Reserve in a single day -- on February 19, 1937.

Chiang Kai-Shek supposedly sent 125,000 metric tons of gold to the US in 1938. This is obviously much higher than the publicly-reported 203.43 metric tons that had been taken in from various countries between 1929 and 1934.

However, let's not forget that we now have documented proof that secret gold shipments were conducted from China to the US in 1938.

Japan intercepted 2.488 metric tons of gold, bound for the Federal Reserve, on October 24, 1938. It is very likely that many other shipments occurred and were not intercepted -- just as we have been told -- and Federal Reserve bonds were issued.

The Federal Reserve and BIS put this gold "on deposit" -- and after the Bretton Woods agreement in 1944, the "deposited" gold was used to underwrite a secret economy, in which private individuals facilitated trades between central banks.

ENORMOUS PROFITS

The profits created by this occult economy are enormous -- and completely non-taxable. Even the "normal" gains at the high end can be as much as 40 percent per week.

The Bretton Woods agreement stipulated that 70 percent of these profits should go to humanitarian relief efforts -- but that definitely does not appear to have happened.

I spoke to a new, high-level financial insider recently. When I told him it seemed like the whole purpose of this "occult economy" was to collapse the legitimate economies of the world, he told me I was absolutely correct.

Think about it. The more people pull money out of these enormous accounts and use it in the legitimate economy, the more it destroys the value of legitimate currency.

INSIDERS HAVE STEPPED FORWARD

Now that I have broken the silence and revealed what I know, three new insiders stepped forward to share their stories, in detail, at the end of Section Six -- as well as a fourth person who only spoke briefly.

"Lee" chastized me for my lack of knowledge of the occult economy -- and confirmed the real game doesn't begin until you have 500M to invest.

"Peter" revealed that he had a direct connection to one of the "Commitment Holders" -- who apparently are also called "Gatekeepers", as others have informed me.

These "Commitment Holders" are the ones who control which people are allowed into the occult economy.

Peter's commitment holder was a "buddy of a major US President", and his commitment holder's attorney was the former Secretary of the US Treasury.

"Alexa" revealed a variety of intriguing bits of inside information. This included the fact that at least four "fake" bond boxes are made, in the Philippines, for every real box.

Alexa also said that even the real boxes contain up to 20 percent counterfeit bonds. This way, any legitimate bond holder could be arrested at any time -- while the Secret Service makes off with the rest.

EVEN MORE INSIDERS ARE COMING FORWARD

Directly after we published Section Six, we were contacted by Carol Adler, the CEO of Dandelion Books, and were given even more information.

On October 31, 2003, Carol published a press release on Rense.com revealing her contact with a CIA insider who provided her with extensive documentation of the occult economy.

The insider was dead before she could ever finish the book he wanted her to write. A vast wealth of supporting documentation was immediately stolen.

Nonetheless, Carol's press release should sound very familiar by now.

<http://www.rense.com/general43/dand.htm>

On December 1 [2003], a former CIA contract agent will go on trial in the Southern District Court of New York State, charged with attempting to negotiate a fictitious 100-million dollar note -- when in fact documents show it was submitted for due diligence only.

On assignment from July 1995, the accused former CIA contract agent, whose name cannot be disclosed at this time, was instructed to find and recover Morgenthau bonds, Federal Reserve Notes and currencies -- and bring back these assets to the US.

He is among several former CIA contract agents who successfully completed their assignment. In doing so, he worked closely with Taiwanese counterparts.

Because of the groundwork done by this former CIA contract agent, several teams are now successfully recovering these assets.

MORE FROM CAROL ADLER'S PRESS RELEASE

As Carol Adler's press release continues, the similarity with what we have already been discussing becomes nothing short of astonishing.

<http://www.rense.com/general43/dand.htm>

Many of these bonds and currencies are part of the Morgenthau diaries and are discussed in the book, THE BROTHERHOOD OF MONEY, by Murray Teigh Bloom [BNR Press, 1983].

The value of these assets--"an amount with so many zeros after it, it's mind-boggling even to consider that much money," states the former CIA contract agent, "would dissolve America's debt on all levels of government and abolish the need for a federal income tax."

"We're talking about more than enough money to take care of all of this country's ills: education, social welfare, employment, industry, environment [and] improvement of the quality of life for every US citizen," states Carol Adler, Dandelion's CEO and president.

Issued to China and other Asian countries prior to, during and after World War Two up until 1999, the instruments and commodities are worth trillions of dollars in the form of large-denomination Federal Reserve Notes, bonds, gold and platinum currencies and jewels.

Even though the instruments and assets have been tested and approved forensically, the US Government claims either the assets are false or non-existent.

According to the accused former CIA contract agent, the instruments were printed by the US Bureau of Engraving and Printing -- and several bank note companies approved by the US President and Treasuries in the US, Canada, England and China.

"It is no longer possible for the US Government to deny either the existence or authenticity of these instruments and assets," claims the accused former CIA agent. "The volume of these commodities is so great -- and too many of them have proven to be authentic."....

"I am an American patriot. I risked my life for my country, only to discover I was never to have "successfully performed my mission" and come out alive -- if the American people ever learned of these assets."

THE BONDS EVEN AIRED ON NATIONAL TELEVISION

An NBC show entitled American Greed revealed this secret world to the public -- including images of the bonds themselves -- only to write it off as a "Nigerian email scam for rich people."

This episode, entitled Suicide is Painless, originally aired on February 3, 2010. It discusses the downfall of Samuel Israel III, who tried to abruptly enter into the world of 'trading' as his hedge fund, Bayou Investments, was collapsing.

His plans may well have succeeded had he not been in such a desperate rush to get cash. As I said before, people are occasionally sacrificed to make the system itself appear to be fraudulent.

If you watch a video of it, you can start at the 20-minute mark to hear about Israel's involvement with the bonds. Each bond in the box had a face value of 100 million dollars. I have transcribed it below.

TRANSCRIPT OF "AMERICAN GREED: SUICIDE IS PAINLESS" -- FEBRUARY 3, 2010

NARRATOR (20:02): As the venture capital investments failed, Israel's strange saga takes a wild turn as his desperation grows.

At some point in 2004, Sam makes a friend who claims he can solve all of Bayou's problems -- for a slight fee.

FBI AGENT: This individual was a pretty shadowy figure. He told Sam that he was an ex-CIA officer, he was involved in black operations. A lot of super-secret spook stuff, which Sam just bought hook, line and sinker.

NARRATOR: This man tells Israel about a shadow world of secret government projects – some humanitarian, some “black ops.”

All financed by “Select” or “Prime Banks,” and invite only, to exclusive investors.

The man sweetens the pot. He tells Israel about a mysterious Federal Reserve box he has that contains unimaginable wealth. Even better than the background story is the incredible rate of return promised Sam.

FBI AGENT: [He said if] you send over a hundred fifty million dollars, you can generate up to 100 percent return within a couple weeks’ time.

NARRATOR: Israel is essentially singled out for the super rich man's equivalent of a Nigerian email scam.

Israel pays the man ten million dollars to get him in. In return, he is offered a fascinating bit of collateral.

A so-called Federal Reserve box, supposedly from World War II, that contains over 100 million dollars in Federal Reserve bonds.

[DW: "Over 100 million dollars" is misleading, considering that each individual bond has a face value of 100 million dollars -- as you can see in the following pictures.]

FBI AGENT: This individual told Sam I have this super-secret box. I'm going to give you this thing.

You can't tell anybody about it. It could destabilize the US economy if you told anybody about it.

NARRATOR: Of course, it's too good to be true. The catch? The Federal Reserve issues notes, not bonds.

The box is an elaborate hoax. One FBI agents have heard of, but never seen until now.

FBI AGENT: So somebody went through a lot of work to create this fraudulent box to steal ten million dollars from Mr. Israel.

NARRATOR: The scam Israel falls for is well known to federal investigators. They are called prime bank frauds or high-yield investment frauds.

HIDE IT OUT IN THE OPEN

By showing these bonds on national television and labeling it as a "scam" and a "hoax," the controlled media took damage-control steps in the event that any of this scandal ever became public.

In April 2009, the Dragon Family -- i.e. the former ruling party of China known as the Kuomintang, run by Chiang Kai-Shek in the 1930s -- issued two sets of bonds, hoping to free up some of their seized assets.

One set ended up seized in Chiasso, Italy. The other was given to Daniele Dal Bosco by Neil Keenan and was stolen -- thus forming the basis of our investigation.

Another incident occurred in Spain less than two months later, on June 1, 2009 -- involving an even larger quantity of bonds. In this case, it was rigorously covered up by the media outside of Spain.

It appears that the Illuminati-controlled media was deeply concerned that if two of these stories got publicity at the same time, people might start asking too many questions.

If each and every legal case involving Federal Reserve bonds is nothing more than a hoax, why would there be so much secrecy around this Spanish event -- and others like it?

UNWANTED PUBLICITY ON THE SPAIN BOND SEIZURES

This is just a very small summary of all the information there is to read about this intriguing case on Unwanted Publicity -- the very site that David Hutzler sent me to, a week before he and his 8-year-old son died of gunshot wounds to the head.

Posteriormente, los agentes localizaron un negocio de Terrassa, de 67 años, que dispone de dos maletines este con billetes falsificados e incluso con recibos de color azul en su interior. Ambos maletines, que en su principio no se sospechaban que eran objeto de una estafa, acabaron en manos de un empresario legitimado en su firma. Investigador localizó algunos maletines y encontró otros maletines con billetes de 100 dólares (FBI/Spain).

Esta estafa se conoce con el nombre de "big brother". Los estadísticos, que han sido empobrecidos con importantes pérdidas económicas, se perdieron en contacto con sus víctimas con una pérdida de unos 100 millones de dólares. Los investigadores que disponían de datos sobre el valor de la Reserva Federal americana correspondiente a 1984, por lo tanto, se localizó en el interior de una caja que fueron recibidos a través de un agente a finales de la 2ª Guerra Mundial.

ENFOQUE DE LOS AÑOS 90

Los estadísticos extranjeros los trasladaron a sus lugares a cambio de grandes sumas de dinero. Pero los estadísticos con la colaboración de que perdieron los billetes y dólares de los años 80. Lo que desconocían es que el departamento del Tesoro de Estados Unidos jamás había estado con una cantidad de billetes de esa época. Las cosas están perfectamente elaboradas y se dio a los estadísticos y el papel de estadísticos de esa época para dar una apariencia a los estadísticos.

Muchos sospechan que hay varias organizaciones criminales que podrían haber sido víctimas de esta estafa y que podrían haber sido víctimas en su casa, por lo tanto, se quejaron tener un otro valle de estadísticos. Pero eso se refirió a las personas que se fueron de los estadísticos en sus casas, que se pongan en contacto con la policía de la Guardia Civil.

“El sistema educativo no está pensado para atender la diversidad de las aulas”

Marta Casas, antropóloga, dio una conferencia en el Centre Cultural de la CET

“El sistema educativo no está pensado para atender la diversidad de las aulas”, expresó la antropóloga Marta Casas en su conferencia en el Centre Cultural de la CET. Casas es una de las referencias que hizo que Marta Casas, antropóloga y pedagoga en su investigación, en el momento de su conferencia sobre la diversidad en el aula, organizada por la red de TerrassaEduca y realizada en el Centre Cultural Oscar Terribas de la facultad.

En su opinión, el sistema educativo que se está pensando para atender la diversidad de las aulas, especialmente desde la escuela, implicaría de los docentes años. “El modelo que se aplica está basado para grupos de alumnos homogéneos y no atiende, lo que genera una gran desmotivación en los alumnos y la pérdida de la calidad de la enseñanza”, dijo. Casas también dijo que el sistema educativo debería adaptarse a las necesidades de los alumnos y no al contrario. En este contexto, la antropóloga explicó, en el coloquio, algunas de las medidas que el departamento de Educación ha implementado para gestionar la diversidad en el aula de acogida. Casas, que defendió la diversidad como una riqueza, concluyó que “se va hacia un futuro mejor para que se dé a conocer y se valore de su calidad y de la evaluación del alumno”. El acto contó con la presencia de un grupo de docentes y de un grupo de alumnos de la escuela de acogida. Si se aplica por el lado de acogida, el problema educativo y académico (cómo se incorpora al grupo clase). Los alumnos de acogida (cómo se incorporan al grupo clase) y de la evaluación del alumno de acogida.

CAMBIO DE PARADIGMA
Al igual que muchos otros investigadores en el tema, Casas defendió que no hay que olvidar a los alumnos que se incorporan al grupo clase y que deben tener un espacio de acogida. La antropóloga señaló cuando dijo el público se comentó que el problema de cómo el sistema educativo es un proceso diferente a la gestión de los grupos de alumnos en las aulas de acogida. Al respecto, la antropóloga concluyó que la Diversidad Educativa de los estudiantes (DDE) produce y debe ser respaldada el momento para formar los grupos. También afirmó que con cambio de paradigma se puede lograr. “Los alumnos que están acostumbrados hoy a una única diversidad como algo natural”, concluyó.

El proyecto impulsado por Fernández se enmarca en el trabajo de fin de curso de un estudiante especializado en Ingeniería Técnica de Telecomunicaciones en Ingeniería y Tecnología. Para llevar a cabo el proyecto Fernández ha contado con el apoyo del Centro por la Cooperación y el Desarrollo de la Universidad Politécnica de Cataluña y el Ayuntamiento de Terrassa. La creación de esta red de radiofrecuencia se realizará en dos años.

The Spain news report details were 'extremely convoluted' with a 'wide spectrum of information disparities.'
Plus, the U.S. mainstream media news blackout of the Spain seizures of U.S. Federal Reserve Bank Federal Reserve Notes and more (face value of more than $1.6 trillion)... went un-noticed by the rest of the world public....

The only reason I found it is I did a keyword search on Jeff Rense's website. This was one of very few articles that popped up once I began looking for words like "Morgenthau bonds."

<http://www.rense.com/general43/whow.htm>

Deep in the vaults of a London bank lay 22 cases stamped with the American golden eagle. They were crammed with US Treasury bonds whose face value was so high that if anyone tried to cash them it would virtually bankrupt the US government.

An extraordinary story was attached to them. In 1934, the Chinese Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-Shek was facing a twin threat -- from the invading Japanese and from the Communist rebels of Mao Tse-tung.

For safekeeping, [Chiang Kai-Shek's] supporters sent 125,000 tons of Chinese gold to America and, in a covert deal with the president Franklin D Roosevelt, were given US bonds in return.

The sum was so large that it led to the creation of Fort Knox and paved the way for America to abandon the gold standard....

THE PLOT THICKENS

This UK Independent article sounds very familiar -- it is the basis of the Dragon Family lawsuit that started this investigation. The lawsuit, remember, is backed by physical proof of key conspirators discussing the truth of this gold exchange.

As we continue studying this case, we find out that Graham Halksworth sent two men to a bank, with 25 million dollars' worth of these bonds, hoping to use them as collateral -- to open up a line of credit.

<http://www.rense.com/general43/whow.htm>

Two years ago, two men -- a Korean living in Japan and a Canadian -- walked into the Imperial Bank of Commerce's main branch in downtown Toronto and tried to cash $25m (£15m) of US Treasury bonds.

With the bonds, they offered a certificate of authentication bearing Halksworth's signature. What the eagle-eyed Mountie spotted was that the letter "s" was missing from the word "dollars" on the bond....

The idea was not to try to cash the bonds: it was to offer them to financial institutions, along with the authentication documents, and the indication that the US government backed the documents with gold, to secure a line of credit.

But the attempt to cash them subjected the whole scheme to close scrutiny. It was not long before the police were knocking on Halksworth's door.

HALKSWORTH EXPLAINS THE DELIBERATE MISTAKES

As our excerpt continues, Halksworth shared what he knows about how this system works with the Canadian mounted police.

<http://www.rense.com/general43/whow.htm>

Even then the old hand was unfazed. Deliberate mistakes were often made in such bonds as a security device; ask the CIA, he said.

But some bonds had so many mistakes on them it looked like a child had printed them, the police said; exactly, he replied, as if that proved his point....

But there were some pieces of evidence to which Halksworth had no answer. He and Slamaj, the man who had ostensibly received the bonds from the Mindanao tribesmen, claimed that Chiang Kai-Shek had given the Americans 125,000 tons of gold in the 1940s.

[DW: The Independent probably got this detail wrong -- as most of these shipments occurred in the 1930s.]

But police inquiries on the London Bullion Market revealed that the cumulative total of all the gold mined in recorded history was only 63,500 tons by 1950.

Even more damning, the documents contained zip codes which the US postal service introduced only in 1963 - and a Treasury Seal which was too modern. Furthermore, analysis showed that some of bonds had been produced on an inkjet printer....

REMEMBER WHAT 'ALEXA' SAID

These particular bonds may have been hoaxes -- but maybe not. Keith Scott has told us that as the price of gold rises, more bonds are issued to cover the difference. This would explain the zip codes and the newer Treasury seal.

Our whistleblower 'Alexa', whom I have met and spoken with in person, confirmed that obviously fake bonds are included in every 'real' box -- so that anyone trying to cash them can be arrested.

Probably the single best way to make a 'fake' bond is to use an inkjet printer. It would look almost exactly the same, but the colors would run once you got it wet.

That may be what happened here.

TELEVISION COVERAGE OF THE HALKSWORTH / SLAMAJ CASE

The Halksworth / Slamaj story did appear in a few other places as well -- including a Scottish newspaper and a UK television documentary produced by Journeyman Pictures.

This documentary openly revealed how "CIA records show that there was indeed a secret mission to remove gold from China" -- as you can read in this transcript.

Journeyman Pictures UK Television Documentary: Who Wants to Be a Trillionaire?
<http://journeyman.tv/?lid=12192&tmpl=transcript>

Halksworth told police an extraordinary story.

He reckoned the bonds were printed by the American Secret Service in the 1930's.

They were in exchange for the gold of this man, Chinese Nationalist leader Chiang Kai Shek, to protect it from Mao's communists....

Like all good conspiracy theories this one has an element of truth.

CIA records show that there was indeed a secret mission to remove gold from China.

DRAMATIC CONFIRMATION FROM A NOTTINGHAM UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR

On September 20, 2003, The Scotsman revealed that Nottingham University Professor Richard Aldrich discovered that the CIA did, in fact, extract gold reserves from China. The article is still online as we publish this section.

Professor Aldrich's research proved that large quantities of gold were removed -- at least as of 1948 -- but there is plenty of other evidence that the process had started well before then.

Let's not forget that Halksworth said the bonds were printed in the 1930s in the previous link -- in exchange for 125,000 tons of gold from Chiang Kai-Shek.

http://www.scotsman.com/news/international/naive_scam_or_secret_cia_counterfeits_1_665329

A HAUL of $2.5 trillion dollars worth of United States Federal Reserve notes, dated 1934, bearing the signature of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, packed in sealed tins, some said to be protected by canisters of poisonous gas, does require explanation....

Slamaj claimed the vast haul was recovered from the wreckage of a B29 bomber that crashed on the Filipino island of Mindanao in 1948.

Professor Richard Aldrich, of Nottingham University and the co-editor of the journal Intelligence and National Security, was hired to investigate the claim -- and his findings suggest it is plausible enough for Slamaj to have believed it in good faith.

As Chairman Mao's forces advanced through China in 1948, says Prof Aldrich, Britain and the US dreaded the prospect that one of the world's largest stocks of gold -- worth $83 billion at current prices -- would fall into communist hands.

So it was decided to extract the gold reserves from China before the communists could seize them.

The CIA provided the means for this bullion-rescue mission. Flying in B29 bombers decked out in the livery of its proprietary civilian airline, Civil Air Transport (CAT), it flew numerous missions to move huge shipments of gold from mainland China.

ALDRICH EXPLAINS WHY THE BONDS WERE ISSUED

As we continue with this surprising story in The Scotsman, Professor Aldrich offers his opinion for why Federal Reserve bonds were printed in exchange for the gold.

Although Professor Aldrich apparently did not have enough of a security clearance to know the truth, as the co-editor of the Intelligence and National Security journal, he seemed to have gotten quite close.

http://www.scotsman.com/news/international/naive_scam_or_secret_cia_counterfeits_1_665329

Where might Federal Reserve notes have fitted into the operation? Prof Aldrich explains that they may have been used "for persuading managers of major banks in the interior of China to part with their vast stocks of gold".

Printing Federal Reserve notes to a value much greater than that of the gold they were intended to replace could have been an operational necessity. The US almost certainly had no intention of honouring them anyway.

In fact, suggests Prof Aldrich, the monetary instruments obtained by Slamaj may be intricate forgeries, but if they are, it is possible that the CIA manufactured them....

Slamaj is preparing to appeal. He remains adamant that he truly believed the notes were authentic.

If that is the case, Prof Aldrich suspects the CIA expected them to disappear into civil-war China and that their re-emergence has threatened to lift the lid on still-classified aspects of economic warfare.

He says: "I cannot prove these FRNs were part of the operation to extract gold from China. But there is absolutely no doubt that such an operation took place.

JEFF RENSE MAKES A STATEMENT

Jeff Rense mirrored the above Scotsman piece on his website as well as another mainstream article that has since disappeared from the Net, but originally appeared on uk-fraud.info.

The mirrored UK Fraud article ominously ends with the Orwellian statement, "If you are presented with documents of this nature, the US Secret Service at the US Embassy would be delighted to hear about it -- and will assist in any way that they can."

Jeff's statement reveals that he had heard these stories enough times to believe there was a grain of truth in them -- but he had no further information at the time.

<http://www.rense.com/general41/lost.htm>

There have, over the years, been a number of attempts by various individuals and groups to redeem some of these Treasury notes (real or hoaxed)... with alleged values of $20 million to $100 million dollars US... for cash at banks and other financial institutions around the world.

As far as is known, all efforts to collect have failed... the banks and institutions have been told, it is suggested, that under NO circumstances are they to cash the notes.

As one might imagine, the US Treasury is more than a little concerned about the potential of a couple trillion in legitimate Treasury notes floating around or getting into the hands of adversaries.

We have received reports that the Treasury has conducted secret talks with a few of the note holders and has made offers to redeem them for a small percentage (1-10%) of their face value.

The Treasury clearly wants these notes turned in and removed from 'circulation'... but will not pay full face value for obvious reasons.

If anyone has anything further -- of substance -- on this story, please let us know. --ed

COMING FORWARD

Jeff Rense published this request for more information on September 20, 2003. Five weeks later, Carol Adler's article appeared on Rense's site. Let's again review what it said.

<http://www.rense.com/general43/dand.htm>

On December 1 [2003], a former CIA contract agent will go on trial in the Southern District Court of New York State, charged with attempting to negotiate a fictitious 100-million dollar note -- when in fact documents show it was submitted for due diligence only.

On assignment from July 1995, the accused former CIA contract agent, whose name cannot be disclosed at this time, was instructed to find and recover Morgenthau bonds, Federal Reserve Notes and currencies -- and bring back these assets to the US.

He is among several former CIA contract agents who successfully completed their assignment.

Here is part of what Carol Adler wrote me in the letter she sent, featuring the above press release about this case.

I had visited Philadelphia to meet with a marketing person -- and also to discuss a book that one of his associates wanted me to ghostwrite. The associate was a former contract CIA agent... you'll read about him in the press release.

I met this man, who visited the office with a "suitcase." [DW: Here she is talking about a Federal Reserve bond box.] My eyes dropped to the floor when we met in a back office and he opened the suitcase.

The end of the story isn't pretty. Before he died, he begged me to contact the NY Times and disclose the story. It was too late. "They" took all of his documents, etc.

A REVIEW OF THE SEAGRAVES' GOLD WARRIORS

Sterling and Peggy Seagrave based much of their stunning research on David Guyatt's pioneering work -- causing Guyatt to feel he had not received enough credit.

Nonetheless, at this point it is worth reading a few quotes from Phil Shannon's review of the Seagraves' 2003 classic, Gold Warriors: America's Secret Recovery of Yamashita's Gold -- on the Green Left website.

<http://www.greenleft.org.au/node/30468>

In June 1945, with US tanks less than 30 kilometres away, General Yamashita, head of the Japanese occupying army in the Philippines, knew the war was lost.

He held a farewell party in Luzon province for 175 Japanese chief engineers, in one of the 175 underground tunnel complexes the engineers had constructed.

At midnight, with the sake and patriotic singing in full flow, Yamashita (with two of Emperor Hirohito's princes) slipped out and detonated dynamite at the tunnel's entrance.

Buried 70 metres underground, the engineers had only the mute company of row upon row of gold bars, looted by the Japanese army from the territories it had conquered in Asia....

LAUNDERING THE ACCOUNTS

As Phil Shannon's review continues, we find out what happened with the looted gold next -- according to Guyatt and the Seagraves' research.

<http://www.greenleft.org.au/node/30468>

US President Harry Truman set up a secret, high-level government team to launder the stolen assets into 176 bank accounts in 42 countries. In charge was US war secretary Henry Stimson.

The Japanese militarist regime's looting of Asia had been systematic and vast. Government treasuries, banks, factories, homes and art galleries had been raided with ruthless efficiency, exemplified by the meticulous attention paid to hammering the teeth of corpses to extract gold fillings....

US President Bill Clinton continued his predecessors' secrecy surrounding Yamashita's gold. He allowed the CIA to remove Golden Lily documents from declassified US records on the war in Asia, to avoid embarrassment for Washington.

According to the Seagraves, two weeks into George Bush junior's presidency, two US Navy ships and navy commandos were dispatched to the Philippines to recover more gold -- to replenish US gold reserves.

Swiss banks remain some of the major repositories and beneficiaries of the loot stolen by Japanese regime (and the Nazis). They cashed in on Switzerland's neutrality during the war.

One Swiss bank holds more than $190 billion (bigger than Microsoft's Bill Gates' net worth) in a covert US government account, the Seagraves report.

US BANKS AND "BLACK GOLD"

As Shannon's review goes on, we learn about the intended purposes of the "black gold" that was laundered by US banks.

<http://www.greenleft.org.au/node/30468>

US banks also have had their fingers deep in the golden pie, including the Chase Manhattan Bank, the Bank of America, Wells Fargo Bank and Citibank.

Just as Swiss banks have denied for decades that they were sitting on, and turning a huge profit from, gold stolen from Holocaust victims, so US banks clammed up about Yamashita's gold, hoping to wait out the death of potential claimants....

"Black gold" was secretly put to work by all US presidents to "interfere in the political life of sovereign nations, to buy elections, to undercut the rule of law, to control the media, to carry out assassinations, in short to impose America's will", write the Seagraves.

It was used by the CIA to manipulate post-war elections in Italy, Greece and Japan, to fund the dictator Diem in South Vietnam, to spread anti-communist propaganda during the Cold War, and to reinforce the treasuries of Washington's anti-communist allies.

BANK OF ENGLAND REFUSES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS ABOUT GOLD TRANSACTIONS

Even in the aftermath of a Freedom of Information request, the Bank of England completely refused to reveal anything about their own "gold transactions" -- many of which have remained secret, just as in the US.

This data was revealed by GATA -- the Gold Anti-Trust Action Committee -- on November 3, 2011.

<http://gata.org/node/10635>

Denying a recent freedom-of-information request from a citizen of the United Kingdom, the Bank of England has insisted on secrecy for its swapping and leasing of gold from the national reserves.

Replying on October 24 to GATA supporter James Bern, who sought a more precise accounting of the British gold reserves, Bank of England spokeswoman Jackie Keating wrote that the gold swap and leasing information is "market sensitive" and its disclosure "would allow enquirers to find out what gold transactions have been taking place."

This, the bank's spokesman wrote, would impair the interests of both the British government and the bank's "private customers," to whom the bank "owes a duty of confidentiality."

The statement thus confirms that the Bank of England is surreptitiously active in the gold market on behalf of both the British government and the bank's "private customers" -- and that the interest of British citizens in knowing how their government is meddling in supposedly free markets is quite secondary....

The Bank of England's reply to Bern has been posted at GATA's Internet site here:

FIVE MAJOR US BANKS ABOUT TO GO INTO 'UNDECLARED' DEFAULT

Obviously, the 26 trillion dollars in secret Federal Reserve bailouts shows that this occult economy is not working anymore. The rest of the world, outside the key G5 countries, has systematically cut them off.

As a result, the banks are going into freefall -- and we can expect major changes very soon. This next article gives us a good sense of what is coming.

Notice that this will be an undeclared default. It is not clear how much longer they can prop it up -- but probably not by much.

Impending Undeclared Default of 5 Major Banks -- January 30, 2012

<http://www.jsmineset.com/2012/01/30/the-impending-undeclared-default-of-5-major-us-banks/>

The following interview with Ellis Martin of www.EllisMartinReport.com covers in detail the impending undeclared default of 5 major US banks this week by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association.

This even has the potential to cause a second financial crisis that would require significant financial intervention.

If you have time to spare, listen to this interview. If you don't have time to spare, listen to it anyway.

BLOOMBERG ARTICLE REVEALS MULTIPLE, IMMINENT TROUBLES FOR BIG BANKS

You can read more about these imminent bank defaults in a comprehensive Bloomberg article that just emerged as of February 6th, 2012.

Included in the list are Bank of America, JP Morgan, UBS and Goldman Sachs. The incredibly dastardly subprime mortgage loan scandal -- causing massive waves of home foreclosures -- is also reaching a head.

DROP IN THE BALTIC DRY INDEX ALSO SUGGESTS MAJOR CHANGES ARE AHEAD

On January 30, 2012, Alt Market described how the plummeting volume of international shipping, as measured in the Baltic Dry Index, suggests that major economic changes are very near.

Drop in Trade Signals Collapse is Near

<http://www.alt-market.com/articles/540-baltic-dry-index-signals-renewed-market-collapse>

Much has been said about the Baltic Dry Index over the course of the last four years, especially in light of the credit crisis and the effects it has had on the frequency of global shipping.

Importing and exporting has never been quite the same since 2008, and this change is made most obvious through one of the few statistical measures left in the world that is not subject to direct manipulation by international corporate interests; the BDI.

Today, the BDI is on the verge of making headlines once again, being that it is plummeting like a wingless 747 into the swampy mire of what I believe will soon be historical lows....

SHARP CORRELATIONS BETWEEN BDI AND IMMINENT FUTURE ECONOMIC MOVES

As our Alt Market article goes on, we see how neatly the changes in the Baltic Dry Index have predicted imminent market moves.

<http://www.alt-market.com/articles/540-baltic-dry-index-signals-renewed-market-collapse>

Introduced in 1985, the Baltic Dry Index first and foremost is a measure of the global shipping rates of dry bulk goods, mostly consisting of vital raw materials used in the creation of other products.

However, it is also a measure of demand for said materials in comparison to previous months and years. This is where we get into the predictive nature of the BDI...

From 2001 to 2002, a similar sharp collapse in the BDI preceded a progressive drop in the Dow of around 4000 points, ending in a highly suspect (Fed engineered) illegitimate recovery.

In 2008, the index fell to near record lows once again, just before the derivatives and credit crisis hit stocks full force.

To imply that the BDI is not a useful measure of future economic trends seems like an astonishingly ignorant proposition when one examines its very predictable behavior just before major financial downturns....

CANADA IS RISING UP AGAINST FINANCIAL TYRANNY

Another amazing sign of progress is Canada's sudden legal uprising against Financial Tyranny. This press release was published on Jeff Rense's site as of December 19, 2011.

COURT CHALLENGE

Bank of Canada and Minister of Finance, Defendants

PRESS RELEASE

Toronto, ON., Canada- 19/12/2011

Two Canadians and a Canadian economic think tank confront the global financial powers in the Canadian federal court.

The Canadians plead for declarations that would restore the use of the bank of Canada for the benefit of Canadians -- and remove it from the control of international private entities, whose interests and directives are placed above the interest of Canadians -- and the primacy of the constitution of Canada.

MORE INFORMATION ON THE CANADA LAWSUIT

As we read more about the Canada lawsuit, we begin to see how significant it really is.

<http://www.rense.com/general95/centbank.htm>

Canadian constitutional lawyer, Rocco Galati, on behalf of Canadians William Krehm, and Ann Emmett, and COMER (Committee for Monetary and Economic Reform) on December 12th, 2011 filed an action in Federal Court, to restore the use of the Bank of Canada to its original purpose, by exercising its public statutory duty and responsibility....

The Plaintiffs state that since 1974 there has been a gradual but sure slide into the reality that the Bank of Canada and Canada's monetary and financial policy are dictated by private foreign banks and financial interests contrary to the Bank of Canada Act.

The Plaintiffs state that the Bank of International Settlements (BIS), the Financial Stability Forum (FSF) and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) were all created with the cognizant intent of keeping poorer nations in their place....

[This] has now expanded to all nations, in that these financial institutions largely succeed in over-riding governments and constitutional orders in countries such as Canada -- over which they exert financial control.

The Plaintiffs state that the meetings of the BIS and Financial Stability Board (FSB) (successor of FSF), their minutes, their discussions and deliberations are secret and not available nor accountable to Parliament, the executive, nor the Canadian public -- notwithstanding that the Bank of Canada policies directly emanate from these meetings.

These organizations are essentially private, foreign entities controlling Canada's banking system and socio-economic policies.

TROUBLE FOR FOX NEWS EXTENDING INTO THE UNITED STATES AS WELL

Earlier we described how the sudden arrests in Fox News phone-hacking scandal has given us a preliminary glimpse of what may become a much larger series of mass arrests -- likely this year.

Now, on February 7th, 2012, just as we are preparing to publish the final version of this investigation, we find out that this Fox News scandal may extend into the US as well.

The FBI is conducting an investigation into possible criminal violations by Murdoch employees of the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), a law intended to curb payment of bribes by U.S. companies to foreign officials, a U.S. law enforcement official said....

If it is found to have violated the FCPA, Murdoch's News Corp, which has its headquarters in New York, could be fined up to $2 million and barred from U.S. government contracts....

Individuals who participated in the bribery could face fines of up to $100,000 and a jail sentence of five years.

THE DRAGON FAMILY / NEIL KEENAN / KEITH SCOTT INTERVIEWS

As you can see, there is a tremendous amount of evidence that the world's gold was seized, bonds were issued, and a vast occult economy has been formed -- using them as collateral.

A variety of initiatives are surfacing that could break this all open. One of them, which apparently has the direct support of the "good guys" in the Pentagon as well as a 138-nation alliance, is the Dragon Family lawsuit.

As we head into the next section, we will explore this lawsuit and its full ramifications -- with original, firsthand interviews with the principals in this case.

If the rumors we are hearing are true, this lawsuit could be one of the most important keys in defeating Financial Tyranny.

Section eight – The Interviews

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1026-financial-tyranny-final?start=1>

THE EVIDENCE IS OVERWHELMING

In this investigation, we have now inspected seven completely different sets of photographs of Federal Reserve bonds: Neil Keenan, Udo Pelkowski, "Unwanted Publicity," Joseph Riad, the P. Diddy music video, the American Greed television show, and the 1.64 trillion-dollar Spanish bond case.

These bonds were all part of a comprehensive plan, dating back to at least 1776 with the foundation of the Illuminati in Bavaria, to seize the world's gold -- and exchange it for bonds -- so that no gold-backed currency could threaten Financial Tyranny.

In Section Seven, Georgetown University professor Dr. Caroll Quigley spoke quite frankly and unapologetically about the Bank for International Settlements' (BIS) desire to "create a world system of financial control in private hands, able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole.

"This system was to be controlled in a feudalist fashion by the central banks of the world acting in concert, by secret agreements arrived at in frequent private meetings and conferences."

On Sunday, February 5th, 2012, the Super Bowl halftime show featured a blatant Illuminati ritual, witnessed by 114 million people -- the largest event in the history of television. We then saw a disturbing coffin-shaped black "sacrificial slab" in Salisbury Cathedral.

Carol Adler told us how she was going to publish the story of a CIA agent whose job was to recover these Federal Reserve bonds overseas -- only to have him suddenly die before she could go public. All his explosive documentation was stolen.

ALDRICH'S CONFIRMATION OF "BLACK GOLD"

The 2.5 trillion-dollar Halksworth and Slamaj bonds case from 2003 brought forth Nottingham University Professor Richard Aldrich, whose research confirmed the CIA did indeed remove gold from China -- to protect it from the Communists.

Professor Aldrich concluded the bonds may have been used "for persuading managers of major banks in the interior of China to part with their vast stocks of gold."

Furthermore, Aldrich concluded that "[the Federal Reserve bonds'] re-emergence has threatened to lift the lid on still-classified aspects of economic warfare."

In Phil Shannon's review of the Seagraves' Gold Warriors, we found out that this "Black Gold" was secretly put to work by all US presidents.

Its purpose was "to interfere in the political life of sovereign nations, to buy elections, to undercut the rule of law, to control the media, to carry out assassinations, in short to impose America's will."

EVERYTHING IS COMING TO A HEAD... RAPIDLY

On November 3, 2011, we saw the Bank of England flatly refuse GATA's Freedom of Information request about gold swaps -- saying it would disturb the confidentiality of their "private customers."

On January 30, 2012, Ellis Martin revealed that five major US banks are about to go into an impending, "undeclared" default. This "has the potential to cause a second financial crisis that would require significant financial intervention."

On February 6th, 2012, Bloomberg News revealed that multiple financial institutions are reaching a critical mass for imminent failure. This includes Bank of America, JP Morgan, UBS, Goldman Sachs -- and the entire subprime loan home foreclosure scandal.

On January 30, 2012, Alt Market revealed that the Baltic Dry Index -- one of the only true indicators of the economy -- is sending out the same signals it has before the last two serious market upheavals -- after 9/11 in 2001, and the "Lehman shock" of 2008.

On December 19th, 2011, a prominent Canadian lawsuit appeared -- with the goal of freeing Canada from the BIS, in order to reclaim their central banking system from Financial Tyranny.

On February 7th, 2012, a comprehensive FBI investigation was announced that suggests the Fox News phone-hacking scandal may be sweeping its way into the US -- signaling a major blowback against mainstream media control.

EVEN MORE BOND PICTURES

In addition to the seven different sources' worth of bond images we've now surveyed, Neil Keenan sent me even more private, firsthand bond pictures as I was completing this investigation. Have a look.

THE LAWSUITS

Joseph Riad filed a comprehensive lawsuit to reclaim his stolen bonds on December 23, 2011.

Astonishingly, US government agents confirmed to Riad that his bonds were genuine -- but then a Homeland Security officer ran off with fifteen billion dollars' worth of them.

Keenan filed a comprehensive lawsuit to reclaim his stolen bonds -- on behalf of the Kuomintang / Dragon Family -- as of November 23, 2011. And this is where our story concludes.

You can get your copy of the lawsuit from this link -- saved locally on our website for your protection and privacy.

THE DRAGON FAMILY LAWSUIT

On January 18, 2012, Dr. Michael Salla was one of the first, other than Benjamin Fulford, Courthouse News Service and our website, to write a good summary of the Dragon Family / Keenan case.

<http://exopolitics.org/Study-Paper-13.htm>

A mysterious trillion-dollar lawsuit, filed on November 23, 2011 in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, claims that 145.5 billion dollars worth of gold was secretly given to the U.S. government in the mid-1930s -- by the then-Nationalist government of China -- for safekeeping.[1]

The lawsuit claims that 1934 U.S. Federal Reserve notes were issued to the Chinese government, and the gold transferred to the Federal Reserve Bank.[2]

It is claimed that a total sum of almost one trillion dollars, representing both the principal and accumulated interest of the 1934 Federal Reserve notes, was fraudulently taken from the plaintiff, Neil Keenan, an agent for the owners -- a mysterious Asian entity called "The Dragon Family."

THE CHIASSO INCIDENT

Here, Salla explains how two different sets of bonds were released -- and how this factors into our story.

<http://exopolitics.org/Study-Paper-13.htm>

What makes the lawsuit worth paying attention to is that involves the unresolved June 2009 "Chiasso incident," where two Japanese citizens were caught on a train in Italy near the Swiss border town of Chiasso -- while traveling with 134.5 billion dollars in US Federal Reserve notes, bonds and other financial instruments.[3]

The "Chiasso incident" involves a separate but complementary set of high-denomination US Federal Reserve notes that have a similar origin, history and ownership.

The U.S. District Court lawsuit supports claims by David Guyatt, author of The Secret Gold Treaty, that missing World War II era national gold reserves have been intentionally kept out of public circulation ("black gold").

Furthermore, the lawsuit reveals a coordinated international effort to launder, trade and defraud owners or investors of bonds and other financial instruments issued against the "black gold".

A VERY IMPRESSIVE LIST OF DEFENDANTS

We wrote about this case in some detail in Part One of this investigation, on December 12, 2011.

The list of defendants is very impressive: the Italian Republic, the Italian Financial Police, Italy's Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi, the World Economic Forum, Ban Ki-Moon (the head of the UN), and the United Nations itself.

I kicked off Part One of this investigation by interviewing Benjamin Fulford, who had been telegraphing the release of this lawsuit for over a year before it arrived.

The reason I was so interested is Fulford said this lawsuit had backing from the "good guys" in the Pentagon, who are now the majority -- and who want to use this lawsuit to help legally defeat Financial Tyranny.

They want to have full, open, public justification for doing so. I have done my very best to help pave the way for them to complete this process... and begin the mass arrests.

A SHOCKING, WORLD-TRANSFORMING DISCLOSURE

This event may well be the most shocking and significant moment in human history once it actually happens. It will pave the way for Disclosure of many, many hidden truths.

I do believe the Pentagon, and the 138 nations backing them, are doing their job -- by responding to the collective will of the people.

For freedom.

Once I read the Keenan lawsuit, I could see it was highly complex -- but a few minor things, such as quoting from Wikipedia to obtain a description of the Davos World Economic Forum, caused me to question its legitimacy.

I was contacted by Neil Keenan and later Keith Scott in an effort to clear up the misunderstandings. They provided me with an incredible amount of documentation, including photographs, to legitimize the story.

Among other things, Keenan asked me to share the following quote with you, as it is very revealing.

ON HIS DEATHBED WILSON STATED:

"I am a most unhappy man. I have unwittingly ruined my country.

A great industrial nation is controlled by its system of credit. Our system of credit is concentrated. The growth of the nation, therefore, and all our activities are in the hands of a few men.

We have come to be one of the worst ruled, one of the most completely controlled and dominated governments in the civilized world.

No longer a government by free opinion, no longer a government by conviction and the vote of the majority, but a government by the opinion and duress of a small group of dominant men."

INDONESIAN PRESIDENT SOEKARNO

If you want to understand the history behind this lawsuit, it is important to know who owned the historical rights to the Asian gold that was forcibly seized and put "on deposit" with the BIS.

The Asian countries received Federal Reserve bonds in exchange for their gold. Indonesian President Soekarno was put in charge of this fund -- as their main signatory.

Technically, Soekarno was supposed to be responsible for where this money would go, and how it would be spent.

Soekarno was quite a popular international figure in his day -- though his memory has been largely lost in the sands of time, likely due to media suppression.

THE GREEN HILTON AGREEMENT

As the years rolled by, Soekarno realized that the promises of the Federal Reserve and the BIS... promises for a peaceful world, rebuilt by humanitarian projects financed by the gold on "deposit"... had not been kept.

In 1963, Soekarno recalled the gold from the BIS and created a new deal with President John F. Kennedy that came to be called the Green Hilton Memorial Agreement.

This article was sent to me by Neil Keenan as an excellent overview of what happened.

The Green Hilton Agreement

<http://lisnosetiawan.blogspot.com/2008/11/green-hilton-agreement-geneva-1963.html>

In 1963, the gold that had been entrusted to the care of President Soekarno was recalled by the Nations -- to underpin the issuance of further US Dollars, in order to further facilitate international trade.

Under this Agreement, Soekarno (as the International Trustee Holder of the Gold) began the process of repositioning the gold, which had earlier been entrusted to the care of the Indonesian People, back into the banking system -- to create a fractional backing for the US Dollar.

Initially this was managed under the arbitration of the Tripartite Gold Commission in The Hague -- as per the decisions of the International Community, through their Government representatives at the Innsbruck/Schweitzer Conference... and its later revisions.

Under the agreement signed between President Soekarno and President John Kennedy, the control of these assets would cede automatically to the US upon the fall from power of President Soekarno. This occurred in 1967.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 11110 -- AND THE AFTERMATH

As our excerpt continues, we learn about Executive Order 11110 -- which may very well have been the final straw that led to John F. Kennedy's open, public assassination.

<http://lisnosetiawan.blogspot.com/2008/11/green-hilton-agreement-geneva-1963.html>

The potential of this agreement led to Executive Order 11110, issued July 1963, which would have provided the Department of the Treasury with the power to issue United States Dollars. [This, of course, would destroy the Federal Reserve.]

Within two weeks after signing the Green Hilton Agreement, which would have then enabled consolidation of EO 11110, Kennedy was assassinated... With the death of Kennedy, the authority granted to the Treasury was never taken up....

The assets were placed into the International Collateral Combined Accounts that form the Global Debt Facility.

While an apparently innocuous document to read, in its proper and full interpretation, The Green Hilton Agreement is one of the most profound agreements made between Presidents of any two countries within the twentieth century -- and most probably, in the history of the world.

[This is] particularly so, as this agreement was made between a President of the United States and the Trustee of the hidden, but combined wealth of the world.

These assets are not the property of the United States, but centralized assets under the authority of a centralized system -- to be used as independently deemed to be for the better benefit of the World.

138 NATIONS HAVE AGREED TO SET UP A NEW SYSTEM IN THE MONACO ACCORDS

In Part One of this investigation, published December 12, 2011, the former Forbes Magazine Asia-Pacific bureau chief Benjamin Fulford discussed how this long-standing issue has finally reached a tipping-point with the 57-nation alliance that met in Monaco.

This alliance has since swelled to 117, 122 and now 138 nations in the ensuing months. It encompasses almost all of the biggest countries in the world outside the G5 Western elites -- namely the US, UK, Italy, Germany and France.

Together, they have joined forces to combat Financial Tyranny -- and this lawsuit is a very important part of the process.

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/995-lawsuit-end-tyranny>

BF: We need an open discussion involving lots of people. That discussion is going to take place at the forum of 117 nations, the Monaco Accords, who have agreed to set up a new financial system.

We need to get the G5 nations and their satellite countries to participate in these discussions, so we can as quickly as possible come up with new global structures to replace the corrupt and rotten UN, World Bank, BIS and IMF with something more representative of the people on Earth.

I don't mean a global government. I mean a common set of rules for the planet we all share, the air we all breathe and the oceans we all use. Not some centralized New World Order control grid. All right?

DW: Absolutely!

MY INTERVIEW WITH NEIL KEENAN AND KEITH SCOTT

After I interviewed Fulford and gave a detailed but flawed critique of the lawsuit, Neil Keenan and Keith Scott contacted me. I wanted to get to the bottom of the story. I had many questions. I have not censored any of their answers.

I found their answers fascinating, and it dramatically increased my understanding of the underlying issues. This also serves as their first public presentation of written statements since the release of the lawsuit itself.

WHAT ARE YOUR CREDENTIALS?

WILCOCK: Can you explain why Soekarno's nephew put you in charge of recovering a trillion dollars' worth of stolen assets? [Note: The matured value of the bonds stolen by Daniele Dal Bosco in the lawsuit total a trillion dollars.]

What are your credentials?

KEENAN: My credentials in this matter, David, are simple. I am pursuing the theft of bonds entrusted to me by the Dragon Family.

Edy Seno of the Soekarno Trust has signed the Soekarno Trust over to us, because he believes we just might have success in recovering what rightfully belongs to them as well.

Edy Seno is a friend of Keith Scott's and his friends. As you may know, the trusteeship of these assets was not easy to get -- not at all.

Dr. Edy Seno did not put me in charge of recovering a trillion dollars in assets. Those assets were entrusted to me by the Dragon Family, and I had an obligation to maintain control over them -- not to lose them.

The trillion dollars had nothing to do with Dr. Seno, who is in charge of the Soekarno Trust. The Soekarno Trust was turned over to Keith Scott, myself and one other (best to leave him be for the time being).

WHY WAS THIS TURNED OVER TO YOU?

KEENAN: Why was it turned over to us? Dr. Seno is not getting any younger, and he has not been well.

Seno has been the heir holder of said collateral accounts, as President Soekarno's Will emphasizes, for many years -- and has nary seen one cent for the Indonesian People.

He is tired, and realizes that what is owed his people will never be accomplished without litigating. His dreams of developing Indonesia are disappearing as he grows older -- and he wants to see this within his lifetime.

He continually receives quarterlies from UBS, substantiating the accounts and what is owed the Trust -- but despite having the credentials of holding the Trust, there has not been one payment made.

Soekarno M1, as appointed by the Nations of the World, never received one cent. Why? Because of the looting taking place by the Western World!

It began right from the outset and continues on to this very day. The very same people have created our financial crisis.

This is a man-made crisis, and they are going out of their way to create the world in their image. They believe they are the chosen ones!

EVERYONE COMPETING FOR THE FUNDS

KEENAN: They cannot deny the fact that Dr. Seno is the heir of this trust, as stated in the documents and even the UBS statements -- but they will not give the Indonesians one cent.

They attempted to circumvent Dr. Seno and Soekarno's Trust by going direct to the Indonesian Government -- with the hopes that they could find a way to eliminate the need for that Trust. This was a task impossible to do.

The Dupont family from Montreal was most recently there with some very powerful people, trying to convince the Suhartos to give them the Codes -- but they did not get anything.

The very reason Seno turned to us is because we are very persistent in our quests to have returned what belongs to the Dragon Family.

KEITH SCOTT CAME FORWARD TO HELP -- AND EXPOSED THE "BLACK SCREENS"

KEENAN: For this reason, and the fact that people very close to Keith Scott advised him that we could help him, Keith did listen -- and came forward to help. He did not hesitate in his attempt to better Indonesia's lot.

This is how we gained copies of the Book of Codes and Maklumat/Ledgers etc... the secret codes to the Black Screens that the Federal Reserve and BIS use to print money out of thin air.

These books and Codes are currently in several places throughout the world -- and will be opened up if need be.

They are not only for trading purposes to verify certain financial instruments, but they are also the best form of security for everyone involved.

Should these books be opened, the Black Screens will follow -- and there will be a long line of very powerful people heading to jail.

WE WANT TO GET EVERYTHING STRAIGHTENED OUT

KEENAN: Our goal is not to put people in jail. We just want to get things straightened out, so that the accounts can and will work properly for everyone -- not just the chosen few, who have stolen from the accounts for far too many years now.

The IMF, the World Bank, the BIS and the many federal banks, Sarkozy, Blair, the Bushes and many others have continually used them illegally.

The Books and Codes will reveal the outright thefts that have taken place throughout the past with the accounts, and expose the thieves -- but our real reason for needing it was to authenticate the stolen bonds.

COULD WE PROVE THAT THE BONDS ARE AUTHENTIC?

KEENAN: I heard so much about how they would defend themselves by claiming the bonds were not real, so I had to work at proving them wrong. I delved into a world that I never even knew existed.

I felt like Alice falling into Wonderland -- when in fact, initially I was concerned about what a collateral account was. I had no idea! Thank god for Scott, who eventually gave me the knowledge I have today of them.

If we could not prove ourselves that the bonds were authentic, then where would we be?

We had received much information from various groups that they were real, but we did not have anything from the FEDS stating as such (FRB).

If they stood fast and did not help us, then we would be lost -- and the theft would be complete.

We had no choice but to dig deeper and deeper, which brought us further and further into this big dark financial hole.

It was not scary -- it was confusing. How do we justify the bonds?

WE HAVE SENT THEM OUT FOR SAFE KEEPING

KEENAN: Many have been after these books because they expose the World's Global Accounts, but in fact they do much more than this.

Now we have them. I sent them out for safe keeping in 6 different directions throughout the West, and Scott sent them out throughout the East.

Should anything happen to anyone involved in this case, I repeat -- and this includes you, David, or Ben Fulford -- arrangements are in place for these books to be opened... and the Black Screens to follow.

At that point, a long line of very powerful people will be heading to jail -- as I said before.

Again, it is not our quest to put people in jail, but to just get things straightened out -- so that the accounts can and will work properly.

We will use them only if we need to authenticate the Bonds. We have much documentation that the bonds are good, but we are not taking any chances.

THIS BECAME BIGGER THAN HE EVER IMAGINED

KEENAN: We, Attorney Mulligan, Scott, and others have continuously seen that the FEDs will pull the rug out willingly from underneath you if you give them a chance. Despite the fact I am comfortable with the FEDs involvement in this, one can just never be too safe.

We entered into an agreement providing we would continue on with our battle to have the stolen financial instruments returned to us -- and we will fight for what is owed to the Soekarno Trust as well.

This was never the initial intent, but following in Alice's footsteps, I went from door to door. I found that the entire world was illegally being used by certain groups using the accounts controlled by the Soekarno Trust.

This then became bigger than I ever imagined. It was a James Bond thriller, David -- and the only James Bond I know lives in California. It seems as though he is the straw that stirs many drinks worldwide.

Dr. Seno entrusted us with the Accounts -- seeing, as he said, that it was the first time in his lifetime he saw anyone take a stand.

Thank God Keith Scott was able to work this out with his dear Asian friends. The books and the Black Screen and even the Green Hilton Agreement clearly authenticate the stolen bonds.

HAVE YOU SEEN ANY OF THE GOLD YOURSELF?

WILCOCK: Have you personally seen any of the "off-market" Asian gold Fulford and others refer to, and can confirm that it actually exists?

KEENAN: My Associate Keith has seen it. It is not off-market but on ledger -- it is just that people do not know about it.

I will send you a photograph of one of the warehouses. It is in Thailand.

The bunkers and boats and tunnels do exist, and Al Gore's nephew Bruce is there at this moment trying to work it. People think they are not registered, but they are. It is all part of the Global Accounts and registered.

Even the gold in the hills in the Philippines is registered. The Japanese registered everything. It is all in the Garuda Green Hilton Agreement.

IF YOU WIN THE LAWSUIT, WHAT DO YOU INTEND TO DO WITH THE SETTLEMENT?

WILCOCK: What do you intend to do with this settlement, should you actually be paid as the signatory for the Kuomintang / Dragon Family?

KEENAN: There is no settlement at this time, and no reason to think so until it actually happens -- but I do have contractual obligations which I cannot reveal to anyone.

I can only speak for myself, and what I will do with what I receive -- and that is to develop Free Energy and New Technologies.

This goal had been established even before the bonds were stolen.

DANIEL DAL BOSCO TRIED TO STEAL THE BONDS

KEENAN: As a matter of fact, the actual thief Daniel Dal Bosco was there with me at the factory where these technologies were being developed.

He has since tried to circumvent us there with his cronies as well -- attempting to get them to work with him with the Free Energy.

My friends know all about Mr. Dal Bosco, so his calls to people such as Mr. Santi and others fall on deaf ears.

He has ruined himself, as far as I can tell -- and his statement that he only took the bonds so they could be returned to their rightful owners does not fly, seeing the rightful owners are the Dragon Family.

Dal Bosco and the OITC/David Sale and Ray Dam attempted to unsuccessfully place them in a Trade in May 2010.

This is beside the 100 Million USD they offered to me to go away (this was to be split with Dal Bosco).

HAS YOUR ATTORNEY SEEN PROOF THAT THIS IS A CREDIBLE LAWSUIT?

WILCOCK: Has your attorney William Mulligan been shown bonafide, undeniable proof that this is a credible lawsuit? Can you describe any of it for us in generic terms?

KEENAN: William Mulligan is one of the best attorneys in the United States, and comes from a long line of professional litigators.

He might not be out there on the front pages of the papers, but then again he is not a Khazar [Illuminati]. The papers keep feeding their own but never ours.

You may not have heard of him, but this does not mean he hasn't been out there -- quietly going about his winning ways.

In my eyes, he has earned the nickname Wild Bill, seeing he comes out with guns blazing -- just the way I like it.

On the other side, I have seen him passionately deal with people. He is one of the few that can deal with a case like this.

Now that he took the leap into this Wonderland of financing as I did, he often pissed me off -- but he made sure that everything was backed by evidence and fact before putting his name on the complaint.

WHAT TOOK SO LONG?

KEENAN: The waiting made me insane, and this is what took us so long -- but in the end it was the right thing to do.

So many people asked when is it going to get filed? I had no idea. Everytime we got closer it seems we got further. New information was coming in often, and would not match up with what we already had.

So it would be back to the drawing board. Everything had to match up -- and we had to have the evidence to back up everything we claimed.

It took a lot longer than I wished, but I had no choice if I was going to continue pursuing this. I can imagine that so many hoped that I would let it go.

TELL US MORE ABOUT BILL MULLIGAN

KEENAN: The firm itself has been around for more than 100 years (I believe) and has been instrumental in much development in NY.

Bill's father is a good example of his pedigree: Dean of Fordham Law School and Federal Judge in the Southern District of NY. He comes from a good long line of litigators and professionals.

His assistant Justin is also no slouch, and he continually checked things out to make sure we did not stray from our course.

I read where attorneys stated this cannot be a civil suit, seeing too much has been given away too quickly.

Are they sure it cannot be a civil suit -- and that we give what we have given away as part of a strategy?

What if it is all we have, and we are shooting the mother lode?

Or, in essence, attorney Bill Mulligan may be just that much sharper than they could ever conceive of him being.

He is a clever man. Do you believe an intelligent man would not keep the best for last? Decisions, decisions!!!!

It was great to have Bill screaming at me to stay online and not to run amok after the bad guys. which I always did. It was Bill who understood what had to be done, and how to do it.

Keith Scott also worked many, many hours attempting to get this right. He was in a world different than mine, which contained treasure troves of information -- like the actual buried Treasures. It was a world of darkness unbeknownst to the average person like me.

HOW LONG DID IT TAKE YOU TO PREPARE THIS LEGAL DOCUMENT?

WILCOCK: Approximately how many hours or days did it take for your team to prepare this vast, 111-page legal document?

KEENAN: I spent 20 hours per day since June 2010 until it was filed. I looked under every rock, hoping to find something. Not one moment of it was easy.

When Dr. Seno gave us the rights to the Soekarno Trust on November 6, 2011, along with the Books, I could finally sit back and rest once I saw it confirmed the bonds. 18 or 19 months of constant pursuit finally came to an end.

The only problem was that to confirm the bonds, we must open the books and the Screens. When we do this, all hell just may break loose – as it will reveal the names and entries of those who illegally used the accounts.

Bill Mulligan worked so many hours, I cannot begin to tell you.

We thought we were getting close to filing the complaint on numerous occasions, only to find out that we had more information that contradicted what we had. We had to go back and do it over again and again and again.

HOW MANY DRAFTS?

KEENAN: I think Bill said he did 18 Drafts of the complaint before finally feeling comfortable enough to put his name on it.

You must understand that this is not just a complaint, as some have said – this is a VERY well-thought-out complaint, and there is a method to our madness. Bill is that clever!!!!

When we could not see any more to gain, and knew that we could authenticate all of it if necessary – (this ties into the Garuda Green Hilton Agreements as well) -- this was when Bill filed it.

Keith Scott pushed this over the hill with his assistance. It is not possible that anyone out there understands the collateral accounts such as he does.

Keith has such an innate feeling for banking and numbers, and seems to have this magical twist that makes things work. Without Scott, there would be no Indonesia. It was he who once again brought to me what was needed to make this ready to file.

It seems like it took forever, and I took to sleeping on the sofa -- not wanting to wake my wife up at all times of the morning. It was horrible, and I never want to do it again.

This all has to end sometime -- or end and be reborn the proper way.

CAN'T THE DEFENDANTS JUST "MAKE IT GO AWAY?"

WILCOCK: Can't the defendants just "make it go away" thanks to corrupt judges, media blackout, and / or the lack of proper jurisprudence to appropriately handle such a vast, international scandal?

KEENAN: I am sure lots of things can happen, but usually Federal Judges are very proud of who they are and what they do.

My belief is that this case is a Judge's Legacy. Understandably, one would think they have the clout to do this -- but it only takes one good judge to make this happen. They are not all corrupt.

As for a media blackout, isn't this what is happening now?

Without Benjamin Fulford's help, I never would have been able to pump these guys for information.

HOW DID BENJAMIN FULFORD PARTICIPATE?

KEENAN: Benjamin even participated personally. As he stated, he wanted to know himself what was going on.

He directly investigated the case by speaking with Dal Bosco.

He even flew to Italy to meet with the P2 Masonic Lodge -- only to find that the Italian Financial Police told him the bonds are real, but were stolen from me.

Then they tried to kill Benjamin by poisoning him. Thank God he got out of there in time.

THE RUMOR MILL NEWS CONNECTION

KEENAN: Even Hobie at RMN (Rumor Mill News) gave me a big hand in this. I see I was not alone -- and I could not have gotten this filed without everyone's contributions.

It was on RMN where Sale made his admission of guilt.

I acted foolishly, on a continuous basis, to get him furious. The man kept responding, so I kept pushing. Finally he blew up and let it all out -- to show me he had one-bettered me.

At this point I went into silence. I had him. There was no need for more discovery -- he had just admitted his guilt.

THOUSANDS OF TRILLIONS

KEENAN: Speaking of Benjamin, with all due respect it must be noted that 371 Trillion is not the entire amount contained within the collateral accounts. Not even close. It is Thousands of Trillions!

I'm sure Keith Scott would say the same thing.

GIANCARLO BRUNO OFFERED 100 MILLION DOLLARS -- NOT UN SECRETARY GENERAL BAN KI-MOON

KEENAN: Also, UN Secretary General Ban Ki Moon never offered me 100 Million Dollars, as Fulford had accidentally stated.

The person whose name I have is Dal Bosco's buddy Giancarlo Bruno, from the World Economic Forum -- as mentioned in the lawsuit.

Bruno is another person whom I have never spoken to, but many others have.

THE BOOK OF CODES IS AVAILABLE, BUT HAS NOT BEEN SEEN BY WILCOCK OR FULFORD

KEENAN: On the Power of Attorney from Indonesia, there are three names: Scott's, mine and one other who requests not to be named for safety purposes.

Other than the people we have sent the Book of Codes to, there are no others who have them from us.

I think Benjamin got into trouble by claiming he has them, when in fact he has a couple of pages similar to what you have, David.

The Books are in good hands, and if we need them, they will be available.

IF THE BONDS WERE NOT STOLEN, NONE OF THIS WOULD HAVE HAPPENED

KEENAN: All this happened because of Dal Bosco, Sale, Dam and the OITC -- the Office of International Treasury Control, which helped manage the Collateral Accounts with no official UN charter -- though they do claim to have one.

It is they who are responsible for having put so many people on edge. If they had not stolen the bonds, this never would have happened.

They opened the doors, knowing that they were throwing others in harm's way -- but they frivolously continued without thinking of the repercussions. It was never my plan for any of this to happen.

Finally, if the case is ever dismissed, there are many options. I doubt this will ever happen, seeing the importance of this to the US....

IS THE MAINSTREAM MEDIA CULPABLE IF THEY DON'T PICK UP THIS STORY?

WILCOCK: Is the mainstream media equally culpable if they fail to report on this, now that it is a confirmed legal complaint, filed with Judge Holwell in the Southern District Court of New York as 11-civ-8500?

KEENAN: I leave this answer to you, David. You know better than I that it is possible that those who run the Banking Cabal will go to work, and can even suppress the ink that prints the news or paper as well.

They have their hands in everything. They literally control the world.

However, my belief is that the media will finally pick it up -- and begin to enlighten the people as to just what is happening all around, and not just this case. Again, we only need one to begin.

There are publishers with Principles, who do not want to see the world collapse at the hands of few.

When they do start printing the actual truth, I believe a change will take place. Until then, it is just a matter of getting things properly into place -- including this lawsuit.

Expect this to take a slow turn -- as we are exposing much of what they consider sacred. Remember -- they control the media industry itself. Look at what just happened with the Super Bowl halftime show.

DO YOU HAVE ANY KNOWLEDGE OF THE MONACO ACCORDS?

WILCOCK: Do you have any direct knowledge of the Monaco Accords, an alleged meeting of 57 nations off the coast of Monaco referred to extensively by Fulford, and how those discussions factor into this puzzle?

KEENAN: This is a later matter for discussion -- not particularly for the lawsuit. It is up to 138 nations now!

What I can state is that once you hear their names out loud, you will realize it is an awakening from a long long sleep.

We have all been punished enough -- but remember, in the land of the blind, the one-eyed man is king.

THE REAL KEY IS WHAT HAPPENED IN CHIASSO

KEENAN: The real key here is what happened in Chiasso -- and the effects that this has caused.

Yamaguchi and Watanabe were detained with the 134.5 billion dollars in bonds at Chiasso, Italy. The Italians then used the Chiasso detention of Yamaguchi and Watanabe to steal these bonds/notes.

There is no mention in any of their databases of such an arrest, complaint or judicial decision -- but there is an Italian named Alessandro Santi, who received 16 months' probation.

Yamaguchi and Watanabe each received 3 year sentences -- in absentia.

The head of the Financial Police checked all 3 databases and found nothing. He is also the Liaison from Italy to Interpol, so no secret files either.

There is nothing there -- so you tell me what happened. Why are sentences delivered when there is no case?

This is one hell of a story -- and it exposes Italy. This is where the bonds entrusted to me also ended up, and where they are now.

Read the complaint we filed about Chiasso, and you can get into the details of what happened.

THE BRETTON WOODS AGREEMENT

KEENAN: The Bretton Woods Agreement was the creation of a fiat currency system -- and the methods of management and control over the world of banking.

It created the International Monetary Fund and the Bank for Reconstruction -- now known as the World Bank.

Bretton Woods has nothing to do with the assets, but is the creation of the banking system that existed from 1945 and lasted until the 1970's.

At this time, the concept of banks stealing from national treasuries was promoted through a process known as assecuritization.

THE GREEN HILTON AGREEMENT

KEENAN: The Green Hilton Memorial Agreement in Geneva was an agreement between President John F. Kennedy and the assigned owner-controller of the International Collateral Combined Accounts, President Soekarno of Indonesia -- over assets being transferred to the United States.

The process of Agreement began in 1961, and proceeded through to Agreement by 1963.

After the death of President Kennedy, President Lyndon Johnson amended EO11110, and unilaterally transferred the assignment to the Federal Reserve.

Under this agreement, vast amounts of gold were assigned to the control of the United States of America on the fall of President Soekarno.

The agreement was not effected till 1967, when Soekarno fell from power.

That amount of gold was then vastly increased to include all the gold and gold value assets under the Combined Garuda Hilton Memorial Agreement in Jakarta.

This Agreement listed all the precious metal assets assigned into the banking system through Union Bank of Switzerland in 1972 -- and all counter-assets in US Dollars.

WHAT ABOUT THE COMMITTEE OF 300 DOCUMENT?

WILCOCK: One of many documents you sent me is from the Committee of 300, entitled an Identical Code Termination Certificate. President Ferdinand Marcos is named in the document as a holder of "Gold, Silver, Platinum and Other Precious Items."

The document reveals that this gold is being held in "mountainous and undersea areas of the Philippine Islands" and the position is "immovable and restricted".

The document also says the financial intention is for "Humanitarian and National Development Program." The Depository Institution is listed as "All Financial Institutions of the Committee of 300," and the official Location is listed as "Top Secret and Worldwide."

KEENAN: David, the person you need to speak with about the gold is Keith. I am sending him a copy of this communication, so he knows you need his help here.

You must know that Queen Elizabeth is the Head of the Committee of 300 -- and they believe it is their duty to control the World! What a bunch of hogwash, eh?

She cannot even run England -- and in Rothschild's City of London, she has to get permission to enter -- and must walk 6 feet behind the Mayor.

This one square mile within London is the banking headquarters of the Rothschild Empire. They make the rules and break the rules -- and as far as they are concerned, there is nothing you can do about it.

NEIL KEENAN'S WRITTEN INVITATION TO KEITH

KEENAN: Keith, you are the most brilliant person when it comes to the Philippines and the collateral accounts, etc. You know more than anyone I know, and David Wilcock wishes to do a complete paper.

Would you please explain the 900,000,000,000,000 and many more zeros to him? Help him get things right.

David, you need to have people like Keith with you when it relates to Gold or Banking. He knows it inside and out. Keith is my dear friend. He is the one who helped me put together the lawsuit regarding gold and banking, etc.

They tried to kill him as well -- but I will let him tell you about it.

As I write this, Ray Dam has said he is going to kill Keith before Xmas -- and me, I am going to have an early coffin.

Good old Keith also got suckered in by Ray Dam, seeing Keith once worked at the OITC. Again I will let him tell you about it. Anyway, their loss is everyone else's gain, because Keith is doing a whale of a job.

Keith, help David -- he needs to get things right, and so far no one has really given him the meat to go with the potatoes. You know all about my case, and also what happened everywhere else.

Good Luck with your article, David. Keith is the man you need to answer all your final questions. He is in Vietnam right now, so it is 4 in the morning my time right now there.

Figure out your timing, and good luck when you get together. He is a treasure trove of knowledge about this stuff, and has been involved in it, I believe, for 25 years.

KEITH SCOTT: THE WORLD'S GOLD WAS CONFISCATED IN THE 1920s, 1930s AND 40s

KEITH SCOTT: Dear David,

The Gold of the United States was surrendered to the Federal Reserve in 1934. The gold of all nations was surrendered to their central banks -- and through them to the Federal Reserve.

The world's gold disappeared through the second world war. The institutional gold of governments that had been handed in by citizens, and the gold that had been withheld privately, were both located and forcibly taken by armies.

Those who failed to comply with the law were marked for capture. Their wealth was confiscated -- and after this, they were executed. This was to prevent massive reparation claims through legal redress.

CAN WE PROVE THAT SEVEN BATTLESHIPS TRANSFERRED CHINESE GOLD TO THE US IN 1938?

WILCOCK: Is there ANY way we can prove, with public records that are available online, that these seven battleships transferred Dragon Family gold to the US for safe keeping in 1938, as Fulford said? This seems to be a critical part of the story.

In the interview Fulford said it should have been out in the news at the time it happened.

When I've tried searching for it online, I can prove that things reached a head with Japan raiding China in 1938, but so far the only things about this gold shipment that come up are links to Fulford talking about it.

SCOTT: No. It is absolutely irrelevant. What can be shown is the gold in the system from the records of UBS (Union Bank of Switzerland) -- but publishing these would be considered illegal, as they endanger National Interests.

It takes many years to even begin to understand these accounts.

GOVERNMENTS AND SOVEREIGNS WERE FACED WITH TWO TERRIBLE EVILS IN 1921

SCOTT: I feel there are other issues derived from this that are more important than a historical reconstruction of the gold accounts. Much of that is best left hidden, for it is wrong for us to make judgments on the options faced by Governments and Sovereigns in 1921.

They were faced with the potentials of two terrible evils. No matter how you look at it, they made decisions that even to them would have been terrible -- but in my mind, they made the right choices, as the alternative was far too terrible to even contemplate.

What we can be very critical of is how a system, created for the better benefit of the world, could be hijacked by evil people with a most evil plan.

This occurred off the back of the NSA 5412 Committee, who were charged by Richard Nixon with finding ways to steal these assets.

There is so much it would take an enormous book to provide the full story.

CAN YOU TELL US MORE ABOUT THIS MEETING IN 1921?

WILCOCK: I do understand the greater context you are speaking of here -- regarding that the real key is simply demonstrating the vast Asian gold hoard is real.

I will continue looking for ways to validate the 1938 shipments, as Fulford says they should be in newspapers from the time.

The date of 1921 is unfamiliar. If there is anything you are at liberty to reveal there, that may prove helpful.

The only reason I asked you about these gold shipments is Fulford said they played a key role in the T-dollar bonds issue that broke this lawsuit.

THEY DECIDED TO ELIMINATE THE GOLD STANDARD WORLDWIDE

SCOTT: David, type "Hirohito 1921 London" into Google.

This was fundamentally the most important meeting Hirohito ever attended. From London England, he went on to France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Italy and Yugoslavia.

At this meeting, they considered the ramifications of the Versailles Treaty -- and the eventual consequences of that Treaty.

It became apparent to all of them that the gold standard was the real precursor of the First World War.

The gold standard had to be eliminated -- and the financial system had to change.

THERE WOULD BE ENDLESS WAR

SCOTT: As per their understanding of the Jekyll Island Agreement, if the global financial system was not changed, the disparity of wealth between rich nations and poor nations would expand exponentially.

That would condemn the world to war endlessly.

And worse, through World War I, mankind had had demonstrated the capacity of technology to destroy human life on a scale never seen before.

Thus, they understood the world was on the edge of human self-destruction.

Belgium, Italy, France, Japan, Great Britain and Germany, together with a group of American banks that owned the Federal Reserve, worked toward the creation of the Bank for International Settlements.

They also decided to centralize global assets -- and allow all nations equitable access. This was followed by further meetings and agreements until the system was implemented.

HOW DID YOU GET INVOLVED WITH NEIL KEENAN'S CASE?

SCOTT: To explain my involvement with Neil Keenan's case, I was contacted by Keenan initially through Fiji – after he called them regarding what occurred there in 2006.

The Fijians contacted me to let me know they had been contacted by Keenan. They then advised Keenan to contact me, which he did.

I advised him that the bonds were the property of the Dragon Family – no question about that. The Collateral Accounts could not hold both the asset and the counter assets: it cannot hold the asset on deposit and the obligation against the asset.

I spoke to Ray Dam several times since learning of this debacle, and he denied all knowledge of it. He told me he knew that bonds were available through David Sale, and he intended to place them into trade.

I told him that in my opinion he needed to clear it up and get the bonds back to Keenan, or this thing would blow up in his face -- and would do immense damage.

He simply said "I am not involved, and I do not know anything about it." I no longer believe any of this to be true. I believe he knew, and he lied to me whenever I raised the matter with him.

WHEN DID YOU BEGIN HELPING KEENAN?

SCOTT: I began to co-operate with Keenan when I realized that this court case could bring about an opening of the Collateral Accounts.

If we manage to get them open, we will be able to expose the revolving frauds committed by banks, and the extraordinary extent of the cost to the general public.

What I liked even more was the fact that I was able to convey this to Neil.

Together, using this case as a stepping-stone, Neil and I (mostly Neil, who is a brilliant strategist,) have planned to clean the entire system out -- and force changes that would otherwise be impossible.

DO YOU BELIEVE THE UNITED STATES TOOK GOLD FROM THE KUOMINTANG IN 1938?

WILCOCK: Guys, this is fantastic stuff.

The biggest question I have right now is whether Fulford is even on the right track. Keith, do you consider that the United States did take gold from the Kuomintang dynasty on seven battleships in 1938? Is this the source of the 134.5 billion in bonds?

SCOTT: I have no knowledge of that, though it does sound right, because at that time the Japanese had already occupied Manchuria.

The need to have that gold away from where it could fall into the hands of the Japanese would have been high in the minds of the Chinese.

They certainly did take gold from China, but whether it was in seven battleships is not known to me.

Yes, that is the source of the bonds. Much of the physical gold is in China, some in Harbin and other lots in Guangzhou and Yunnan. This is all book-entered into the global system.

To their great credit, the Chinese Government honor the old agreements, and keep this gold secure for the benefit of the Global Financial system. People can criticize China on many things, but in this case they have been very honorable.

FULFORD'S FOCUS IS THE ELIMINATION OF THE ROTHSCHILD AND ROCKEFELLER FACTIONS

WILCOCK: I'm not sure if Fulford understands all of this yet, as I've never heard him talk about a lot of the stuff you are saying, but it's coming together for me. Now I'm trying to get more specific.

SCOTT: I think Ben has a different focus and he also has his own agenda, where history becomes less important and the imperative is the changing of the entire economic and geopolitical system.

His focus is the elimination of the underlying power of the Rothschild / Rockefeller / Bush faction.

WHAT WAS THE REAL PURPOSE OF THE GREEN HILTON AGREEMENT?

WILCOCK: The Book of Maklumat shows a total of 900 quintillion dollars in gold assets, based on the value of gold in 1963 dollars.

Was the Green Memorial really just an attempt by Soekarno and Kennedy to break the back of the Federal Reserve and divert the use of this 900Q in assets to something outside the control of the existing system -- given that Soekarno had signatory control over the assets?

SCOTT: The Green Hilton Agreement was not just an attempt – it was the changing the matrix of the global financial system.

Originally, Kennedy intended to get rid of the Federal Reserve, and the Green Hilton Agreement would have done that – as the underlying assets and accounts of the Federal Reserve would have moved to the Treasury.

It was a plan that could not work. It would have created a US Dollar that would have been the only pre-eminent gold-backed currency.

This would have been dangerous, and would have undone the entire purpose of the creation of the central system. It would have led to war.

Johnson amended EO11110, and transferred the gold to the Fedsystem. The US Dollar became the world currency backed by the assets.

DID THE UNITED STATES TAKE GOLD INTO CUSTODY IN 1938?

WILCOCK: Did the United States actually take gold into custody in 1938, or are the bonds in this suit simply part of the overall equity being held in the Global Collateral Accounts?

SCOTT: Not the United States. The Federal Reserve did, via the Treasury. Remember, at that time it was illegal to hold bullion gold outside of the Federal Reserve System.

WILCOCK: It's a lot to piece together, but I do thank you. It will probably have to be done in sections.

I have many questions and I need to get something out now, so I will probably start with the Fulford interview.

SCOTT: I can see you are a serious researcher, thus it is a pleasure to help.

CAN YOU GIVE US YOUR OPINION ON DAVID GUYATT AND HIS DATA?

WILCOCK: Keith, could you vouch for the accuracy of the following data? That would be my next question. David Guyatt's research seems to be very central to everything we are discussing and I want your take on it.

About David Guyatt

<http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/about.htm>

GUYATT: Following a twenty eight year career in investment banking (Member AIBD) based in the City of London, David's last position was Associate Director & Treasurer of the Forfaiting division of a major international bank.

Aged 56 years, he is married with three children, and pursues a career writing in a variety of mediums as well as researching and producing factual material on a wide range of associated subjects....

SCOTT: Guyatt was credible in many things, but never really knew the history behind the system -- and therefore he only wrote about what he could see.

DAVID GUYATT'S ARTICLE "THE SECRET GOLD TREATY" -- AND SCOTT'S COMMENTS

The Secret Gold Treaty

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/secret_gold_treaty.htm

GUYATT: Yet, the world of money holds many more and darker mysteries still. The most startling of these is that the official figures revealing how much gold exists are fabricated.

This, it seems, is because it has been determined that there are two sorts of gold. The "white" gold of the West is mined in small quantities, and is used as the basis for official purposes.

The "black" gold of the Orient is not official, and so cannot be allowed to exist on the books at all.

Such are the massive quantities of black gold in existence that had this singular fact ever been publicly disclosed, the price of gold across the world would have plunged to the depths -- and remained there forever more.

SCOTT: True. The total amount of gold recorded in the market is around 120,000 tons. The total of gold in the system (as per the records from UBS) is more than Two Million tons.

TWO MARKETS FOR GOLD

GUYATT: This has given rise to two distinct markets for gold. There are official markets that are quoted in the financial press and which appear to be open and above board (but, as we have seen, are not).

Then there is the black market. Like gold itself the black market has a long and grimy history. Of this, no period is grimmer than the Second World War.

SCOTT: There is no market for black gold, as this is held irrevocably within a single system -- and underpins the currencies of the world through the use of SDR's (Special Drawing Rights.)

The system was originally devised to be equitable to all Nations, but via Khazarian control of the central banking system, the original system has been totally perverted to serve the interests of the owners of the Central Banks. (All Khazars.)

This is where everything has gone wrong.

THE STRIPPING OF CHINA'S WEALTH

GUYATT: Beginning in 1935, Japan set about stripping China of its wealth. This "rape" was extended, with the outbreak of WWII, to include a total of twelve Asian nations.

The haul gathered by the Japanese plunder teams was simply beyond belief -- gold in quantities never dreamt of.

This was black gold, long hoarded by the Chinese. Also stolen were large quantities of silver, platinum, gemstones and irreplaceable religious artefacts, some made from solid gold and, in some instances, embedded with precious stones.

SCOTT: Japanese in Asia... Germans in Europe. This was planned in 1921. It was essential.

The world needed to move to a Fiat currency system, as under a gold standard the divide between poor countries and developed countries would only become greater and greater.

The solution was to centralize the wealth, by whatever means necessary, and remove any risk to sustaining that centralization.

Thus, private assets became public assets, and all claims against those assets was eliminated. This not only occurred in Asia, but also in Europe -- and the gold was centralized through WWII.

LOTS OF BURIED TREASURE

GUYATT: Much of this was buried in the Philippines between 1943 and 1945. Altogether, there were 172 Imperial Japanese burial sites stuffed full of plunder.

One site, designated as a triple seven ("777"), held gold and other plunder valued by Japanese accountants at 777 billion yen. At prevailing 1945 exchange rates, this equated to 200 billion US dollars.

Included was an oil barrel packed full of loose diamonds, totalling 150,000 carats. There were dozens of Japanese "triple seven" sites dotted around the Philippines.

There were also many "triple nine" troves, too, and a long list of smaller ones. Indonesia also held many equally impressive Japanese treasure troves.

In the Philippines, Ferdinand Marcos was one of those who set about recovering some of this war loot as soon as the Japanese had left....

SCOTT: All registered through the BIS. Japan was a founding nation of the BIS.

Marcos, like Hirohito, was a servant of the system.

Santa Romana was an interrogating officer for the OSS. Santa Romana, as I have been told, is also the actual father of Imelda Marcos.

There is a striking facial similarity, therefore I think it is so.

It also explains why Marcos was induced to marry Imelda. One of the most powerful forces behind Marcos being elected as President of the Philippines was Santa Romana, who at that time worked for the CIA.

Marcos was married to Virginia Reyes, a very beautiful actress, and had four children with her when he married Imelda. Marcos had another three children with Reyes.

GUYATT'S ARTICLE "THE SECRET STORY OF WWII JAPANESE & NAZI GOLD" -- AND SCOTT'S COMMENTS

The Secret Story of WWII Japanese & Nazi Gold (2002)
http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_spoils_of_war.htm

GUYATT: The story about what really happened to the loot plundered by the Nazis and Japanese during WWII remains one of the best-kept secrets of the last fifty years.

Few outside of the charmed circle of initiated insiders possess any knowledge whatsoever of the true dimensions of what can be described as the biggest cover-up of all time.

SCOTT: Totally true.

GUYATT: But it is not just public awareness of what exactly "happened" to this plunder in the post war years that is the cause of supreme unease amongst the powers that be.

SCOTT: It is not what the public think it is.

GUYATT: It is the sheer magnitude of treasure forcibly confiscated by the Axis powers that causes trepidation.

SCOTT: Why? It had to happen, there was no choice in that.

GUYATT: Were the actual dollar numbers involved to be revealed, it would lay bare an even more sensitive secret -- one that has endured for a hundred or more years.

SCOTT: The failure to tie the pieces together is the real problem. We cannot blame the Axis forces, as this was part of an agreed plan made by all Nations that had to be executed by the Axis forces.

Hirohito and the Germans rounded up all the loose gold out there that could threaten the fiat currency system, and centralized it into the global system.

A fiat currency system could not co-exist with a gold standard system. Impossible.

That meant the gold had to disappear into a single system.

That allows currencies to appear to be fiat, while the underwriting was in fact gold-backed on an equitable basis.

This was seen as being good for trade, and good for securing the world against destructive wars. Short-term sacrifices had to be made in pursuit of long term goals of peace and security.

GUYATT: A decades-long propaganda campaign had served to focus public attention on the gold stolen from governments -- known as monetary gold -- as a means of eclipsing from public view far larger amounts of privately held gold that was also stolen.

SCOTT: Not stolen. It was nationalized and centralized.

People were given the opportunity to surrender their gold bullion and coin gold. It was made illegal to own them. Many decided not to surrender their gold, and paid for that decision with their lives so there would be no possible right of claim for reparations.

While gold remained freely available, systems would have been devised, no matter how illegal, to maintain a gold-backed system.

Fiat currencies and gold-backed currencies cannot co-exist, which is why Kennedy was killed. The Germans cleaned out Europe and the Japanese did the same in Asia. The gold and other metals they took ended up in the central banking system.

GUYATT: The heavy cloak of disinformation and double-talk had still another layer.

By putting the spotlight on Nazi plunder from the very beginning, public attention was diverted away from the industrial scale looting undertaken by Japan's special plunder teams known as the "Golden Lily."

And it is here that the real story dwells....

SCOTT: Not at all. The amounts of gold and treasure handed in by the Germans was also huge, and the gold surrendered by the Allies who sent their gold to the Philippines, Netherlands or to Singapore was truly vast.

The concept that the Chinese provided all this gold is just total nonsense. A lot came from them, and the amount looted, vast though it is, pales into insignificance when compared to the amounts that were surrendered.

If you consider that even the Templar Knights gold, which had been hidden at Languedoc in France, was recovered and delivered into this system. This includes gold that came from as far back as King Solomon. That was gathered up by the Gestapo, transferred to Argentina and then eventually transferred to Philippines.

GUYATT: The quantity of gold and other treasures buried was phenomenal. Japanese cartographers made maps of each site, and trusted accountants marked them with three digits -- signifying the Yen values of the gold, diamonds and other assets buried in each.

SCOTT: The amount buried was indeed phenomenal.

More to the point, every country in the world contributed their gold into this same system, including countries such as Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Great Britain, all European nations, Russia, France, India, China and Japan.

Anything that could have been used to support a gold standard was swept up.

GUYATT: A site bearing the designation "777" was valued at 777 billion yen. With 1945 exchange rates fluctuating between 3.50 and 4.00 yen to the dollar, just one triple seven site was worth almost US$200 billion -- a king's ransom by any measure.

There were many triple seven ("777") sites as well as triple nine and lesser sites.

SCOTT: The value was never the issue. The complete sweeping up of anything that could be used to support a gold standard currency was the real point.

GUYATT: Not only were these figures based on 1945 values -- when a dollar was really a dollar -- but also when the price of gold was $35.00 an ounce.

Today the price of gold is closer to $300 an ounce. But add to this the fact that in the Philippines alone there were over 170 burial sites, and a picture forms of a wealth so unimaginable that it almost defies belief.[i] [4]

SCOTT: 170 sites is merely a part of it. It is not only buried in the Philippines and Indonesia, but also in China, Laos, Thailand, Burma, Cambodia and Malaysia.

GUYATT: With the defeat of Japanese forces in the Philippines in 1945, a project of the utmost secrecy was launched to recover the buried Golden Lily plunder.

This project was placed under the day-to-day control of Captain Edward Lansdale and OSS operative Severino Garcia Santa Romana.... The CIA would later recruit both officers.

SCOTT: Partially true. Lansdale headed the establishment of the Central accounts in actual structure. This brought about the creation of the International Collateral Combined Accounts under the control of Soekarno.

GUYATT: Over the next few years, numerous plunder sites were located and the stolen assets recovered.

The gold, gemstones and other treasure were deposited in over 170 bank accounts spread across more than forty countries -- all of whom were signatories of the 1944 Bretton Woods agreement.

Collectively, the recovered loot came to be known as the Black Eagle Trust or fund.

SCOTT: All the main treasure sites were registered into the international system by the Japanese long before Lansdale ever came along.

GUYATT: Even to this day, the mere mention of the Black Eagle Fund causes unease, and the entire subject remains cloaked in official secrecy.

For example, during a 1999 discussion on this subject, one highly placed banker familiar with the existence and arrangements of this slush fund cautioned:

"If you wish to discuss certain aspects of military program finance on the internet, you may be doing so in contravention of several statutes and regulations -- both in the United States and in any NATO-member jurisdiction."

A RARE LIE

GUYATT: According to official figures, the present volume of above ground gold stocks is approximately 142,000 metric tonnes. This, it is claimed, accounts for all the gold mined over six thousand years.[ii] [5]

In contrast to these figures, just one of the many “777” Golden Lily sites would have held, using a conservative estimate, upwards of 90,000 metric tonnes.[iii] [6]....

SCOTT: There is more than two million tons in total.

GUYATT: The key to understanding the secrecy that embraces this story is that much -- probably most -- of the gold that was plundered by Japan and Germany was already “black” gold that didn’t officially exist.

Consequently, when the United States re-plundered this metal, it did so in complete secrecy.

Not only was there the fear of crippling the price of gold -- and the world economy with it -- were it discovered that monumental quantities of gold existed, in addition to official stocks, but also the use to which [the gold] was to be put demanded secrecy as well.

SCOTT: True.

GUYATT: How can fabulous volumes of gold exist when all the world’s bankers and economists continue to tell us that this metal is so rare? The answer is as prosaic as it is damning.

SCOTT: Because that is what they have been taught, it is what they know and the scoff at the possibility of it being otherwise.

Those at the very top know better, but never speak because they are held to silence by their own criminal conduct.

GUYATT: Mining industry sources reveal that as much as 30% of annual production of gold is quietly filtered into the “private market” and does not, therefore, impact on the official figures.

In years past, off-market sales by the mining industry have been reported to be as high as 80%.

The reasons for selling into the private market are varied, but the central one is the avoidance of tax.

In addition, as we have already noted, gold production in the former Soviet Union -- the world’s second largest producer after South Africa -- and that of China and Southeast Asia have never been included in official gold mining statistics....

SCOTT: True.

GUYATT: The total quantity of gold buried in the Philippines during WWII has been reported to be over 1 million tonnes - or roughly 90% of the worlds “actual” gold stock.[iv] [33]

During the course of a seven-year investigation into the subject, this writer has accumulated information from a variety of sources suggesting this is indeed, a more accurate figure. In other words, official statistics represent a modest 10% of reality....

SCOTT: 10% is not all that far from the truth.

GUYATT: Since its inception in 1954 (the same year that the London gold market reopened following its closure in 1939) Bilderberg has had a large German representation over the years....

SCOTT: The Bilderbergers are post war Nazis. They have combined with British, European, American nazi counterparts, and are working toward a One World Government.

Their control in banking and access to the accounts are the cornerstone to the possible realization of this insane dream.

GUYATT: The Trilateral Commission -- which can be said to be the Bilderberg group dressed in another frock

(membership critically includes Japan's elite) - has been deeply involved in black gold, according to several accounts.

Prior to the ousting of Ferdinand Marcos as president of the Philippines, representatives of the Trilateral Commission tried to persuade him to turn over 63,000 metric tonnes of gold to them.

Marcos didn't like the terms presented and refused. A few days later his reign as President came to an abrupt end.[v] [40]

SCOTT: True.

GUYATT: But the last word about the involvement of the Trilateral Commission in plundered gold comes from Mr. Goldfinger himself -- Severino Garcia Santa Romana.

Prior to his death in 1974, Sta. Romana told his wife that he was a senior member (indeed, he claimed to be the head) of the Trilateral Commission that he said "controlled world finance."

He also revealed he was deeply involved with a secret society known as the "Illuminati", which he maintained had set in motion a fifty-year plan to "corner the major part of the worlds gold supply." [vi] [41]

SCOTT: He was caught up being among such luminaries. All true.

EXCERPTS FROM GUYATT'S ARTICLE "HIROHITO'S GOLD" -- WITH KEITH SCOTT'S COMMENTS

Hirohito's Gold

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/hirohitos_gold.htm

GUYATT: Operating under the command of a Royal prince of the Imperial household, a highly secret unit was tasked with the methodical plunder of Southeast Asia.

The project was called "Golden Lily" - named after a poem written by Emperor Hirohito.

The unit plundered such profoundly large quantities of loot from China and Southeast Asia that, following the end of the war, the west determined to keep its activities secret.

A mixture of fear, greed, an impending cold war and a vast complex of international corruption sat behind this decision.

SCOTT: Not completely true. Direct command for dealing with the treasure was Lt. General Sigenori Kuroda.

Chichibu was like an accountant for the Emperor. Hirohito had committed to deliver the gold and repository information to the central system in the BIS. He did exactly that.

GUYATT: Cynically forgotten were the horrific deaths of Allied POW's who were forced to build complex tunnel systems and other underground depositories and then buried alive with the loot.

One reason, perhaps, why history will record this as one of the most explosive stories of World War Two ever to be told....

SCOTT: Thousands of Filipinos and Japanese were also killed.

I remember opening a tunnel at Camalaniugan in Northern Luzon where bunkers had been built off the tunnel. I ordered the workers to remove everything but hard rock.

We found sand, about five feet across and two feet deep full of blood -- and it ran for several hundred meters. The stench and gas from it, even after forty years, were terrible.

When I asked Kuroda what happened, he told me that everyone who worked on the tunnel had been killed in there, so their spirits would guard what they had given their lives for.

At the entrance to the tunnel we also found blood. I was told that would have been from the engineer, his wife and children, who were beheaded there. Kuroda then killed the soldier who killed them.

GUYATT: In January 1944, when it became clear that the Allies would win the war, Privy Seal Kido called a meeting of Japan's leading investment bankers to advise the throne on how best to preserve the wealth of the imperial family.

SCOTT: True, but it relates to treasure used to create the funds that rebuilt Japan into the modern industrial state it became. That had been pre-agreed prior to the war. In fact, it was the keeping of the agreement Hirohito made in 1921.

GUYATT: The authors go on to reveal that in addition to large foreign investments and shareholdings, the emperor's large portfolio of gold, silver and platinum was "held under various covers in the vaults of banks in Switzerland, Sweden, the Vatican, Portugal, Argentina, Spain, Britain and the United States."

SCOTT: It was not the Emperor's personal portfolio, but gold he placed into the system – and which the system used to maintain the agreements they made with Hirohito.

GUYATT: The bullion that could not be laundered in time was trucked to a vast underground imperial "bunker" where it was stashed in secret.

SCOTT: Nothing to do with laundering, rather it was a matter of re-introducing.

GUYATT: This was at Nagano, north of Tokyo, a backwater town artfully developed by Tsutsumi Yoshiaki in time for the 1998 Winter Olympics.

Tsutsumi, as head of Japan's Olympic Committee, had earlier courted Juan Antonio Samaranch, chairman of the International Olympic Committee. This would later lead to sensational press stories that huge bribes had changed hands.

SCOTT: I do not know about the bribes. Not my business.

GUYATT: The Nagoya bullion bunker was only one of numerous treasure sites where loot from all over Asia was buried before the war's end. On the Philippines alone, there were 172 locations used to stash booty plundered by the imperial Golden Lily treasure teams.

SCOTT: Much more.

GUYATT: The authors reproduce one of Prince Chichibu's burial maps showing a complex tunnel system dug by POW's under the army base at Teresa, near Rizal, southeast of Manilla.

SCOTT: Amazing place. There is a fully equipped field hospital there within the mountain.

GUYATT: Here, bullion, platinum, diamonds and valuable religious artefacts -- including a golden Buddha figurine weighing one tonne -- and collectively valued by Golden Lily accountants at $190 billion -- were buried together with live Allied POW's that had been forced to dig the tunnels.

SCOTT: Filipinos, POW's and Japanese were all killed around these sites.

GUYATT: Part of the Teresa site was later recovered by Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos - lending real weight to tales of "Marcos gold" that have been treated more as fantasy than fact by the international media....

SCOTT: True. Marcos tried to steal quite a bit. But it was already recorded in the system, and the only one who missed out was Marcos.

GUYATT: The sheer quantity and value of plunder gathered by the Golden Lily was mind-numbing. The whole of Asia under Japanese control had been combed for treasure. Most of it was shipped to Prince Chichibu's headquarters in the Philippines....

SCOTT: Not true. Only a very small part of it went to Manila. Chichibu was like an accountant on a job site.

The real key person who knew where everything was put was Sigenori Kuroda, as he was in charge of burying the gold. Not Yamashita. Not Chichibu. Chichibu was responsible to get the records back to Hirohito.

GUYATT: There was no intention on the part of the OSS/CIA to return any of the plunder to the rightful owners.

Instead, Santa Romana set up numerous front companies to launder the gold bullion secretly recovered. In all, OSS/CIA gold bullion was secretly deposited in a total of 176 bank accounts located in 42 countries....

SCOTT: Not true. The plunder was placed into the central system, and still belongs to the countries it was stolen from.

The 176 bank accounts is about right. 46 Countries sounds about right.

The gold was irrevocably placed into the Central System, and the depositor Trustees (who act as owners) were provided counter assets to operate their treasuries in the form of 1934 series Federal Reserve Notes.

GUYATT: The twice-looted gold became "the basis of the CIA's 'off the books' operational funds during the immediate postwar years, to create a worldwide anti-communist network."

To ensure loyalty to the cause, the CIA distributed Gold Bullion Certificates to influential and well-known people throughout the world.

The authors hold documents showing that "one of the big gold bullion accounts set up by Santa Romana was in the name of General Douglas MacArthur."

Other documents indicate that gold bullion worth $100 million was placed in an account in the name of Herbert Hoover, former President of the United States.

SCOTT: True. But all that was before the Collective Agreement made between Kennedy and Soekarno. That formerly centralized the system.

GUYATT'S ARTICLE "THE ELECTRONIC BLACK MARKET" AND SCOTT'S COMMENTS

http://www.deepblacklies.co.uk/the_electronic_black_market.htm

GUYATT: An offer posted in March this year on the international trade board hosted by Thaipost.com (<http://www.thaipost.com>) was hocking "1.8 million ounces of unprocessed gold in 12 kilo bars."

This originated from a seller in Ecuador who offered the gold at a 7% discount to the "Second London Gold Fix" due to the impurity of the bars and because they bore no refiners mark or "chop."

Clearly, this gold was straight out of a mine and destined for a buyer who cared little if local tax or other laws were breached in the process.

SCOTT: Wrong. This was gold from the system held in Thailand. It has been on offer for a very long time and a lot of people have been badly burned trying to buy this gold.

The Thais will provide an export certificate and approve it for lifting, but this is a scam. Wherever you take it, you will be met by law enforcement who will confiscate the gold.

GUYATT: This deal is an exception, however. It is far more common for gold to be offered or bid on the basis of Good London Delivery.

SCOTT: Most mines send their gold direct to refineries and sell it through the refineries, who log the money onto the miners' accounts.

GUYATT: This specifies the bar size, minimum required purity and an acceptable hallmark. While London Delivery remains the bar of choice for many, the preferred destination is Switzerland, and in particular, the free trade zone located at Kloten airport.

Hidden beneath the airport runway well-guarded vaults house large stocks of bullion for a diverse range of customers.

One of the most notorious black market gold dealers in the world, the late President Marcos of the Philippines, rented space at Kloten to store some of his plundered gold. By depositing the metal at the airport's free zone, he avoided registering it with Swiss customs, thus also keeping it hidden from prying eyes closer to home.

SCOTT: Not true. While the gold delivered to Kloten by Pedro (Peter) Laurel was originally stored there, it was immediately entered into the system. It never belonged to Laurel or to Marcos. It always belonged to the system.

GUYATT: Marcos, however, preferred to avoid keeping all his golden eggs in one basket and therefore stashed bullion in banks vaults all over the world. Documents given to this writer in confidence purport to identify 57 banks in 33 countries where Marcos gold was deposited.

Verifying the accuracy of such gold deposits is often fraught with danger. . A copy fax message dated 1994, noted that a Swiss lawyer who had undertaken to "probe" a sensitive gold deposit once belonging to Marcos, was now "missing, presumed dead."

SCOTT: A number of Swiss lawyers have been killed over the years. Marcos, like Hirohito and Soekarno, deposited system gold into the system for the benefit of the system.

SEAGRAVE'S ARTICLES GIVE ADDITIONAL DETAIL

The Japanese Golden Lily (Seagrave -- Additional Details)

<http://gold.greyfalcon.us/gold10.html>

<http://gold.greyfalcon.us/gold11.html>

SEAGRAVE: The immense wealth of the Japanese war loot is confirmed in a 1950 report prepared by MacArthur's headquarters. An excerpt appears below:

SCOTT: True.

SEAGRAVE: Japanese owned gold and silver--property that was acquired by Japan under duress, wrongful acts of confiscation, dispossession or spoliation--property found in Japan and identified as having been located in an Allied country and removed to Japan by fraud or coercion by the Japanese or their agents--great hoards of gold, silver, precious stones, foreign postage stamps, engraving plates--precious metals and diamonds stockpiles owned or controlled by the Japanese--30,000 carats of diamonds in one stash, and a single find of 52.5 pounds of hoarded platinum --

SCOTT: Mac Arthur never knew the inside workings of the system. There was no need for him to know. He knew a lot about what was going on, as did the Keenan Fund that was set up to fund the hiding of the truth and to protect Hirohito.

[Note: The Keenan Fund is not related to Neil Keenan in any way.]

SEAGRAVE: One of the spectacular tasks of the occupation dealt with collecting and putting under guard the great hoards of gold, silver, precious stones, foreign postage stamps, engraving plates, and all currency not legal in Japan.

Even though the bulk of this wealth was collected and placed under United States military custody by Japanese officials, undeclared caches of these treasures were known to exist.

FINAL QUESTIONS BETWEEN WILCOCK AND SCOTT

WILCOCK: Keith, I do have one big set of questions / statements that I realize I didn't already ask you, all that being said.

If I gather what you've told me correctly, it would seem that the international community realized that precious metals, held as collateral for national economies, was a negative. It would restrict economic growth to whatever the net value of those assets were and could therefore cause massive inflation.

SCOTT: If a specific item such as gold is used as the basis of currency, the rich keep acquiring the gold and the poor keep selling it. It is a ludicrous and antiquated system, and it cannot be sustained.

Prior to WWI, gold in Europe and America was predominantly owned by Jews. (I am not being derogative here, just stating history). Nothing wrong with that.

However, one must understand them as a distinct culture living within the realms of other cultures.

In pre-World War I Europe, most of the gold was owned by private families who moved their gold from country to country for various reasons.

Gold being the base and the basis of currency issue, it meant Nations had no control over their own economies.

This is why we cannot return to the gold standard.

FIAT CURRENCY

SCOTT: Fiat currencies may appear to be debt-backed, but that debt would be backed by assets of value.

For example, when a mortgage is entered into, the bank issues new money (a fiat) against the signature of the Mortgage Note Maker -- but there is a real asset behind it, which is the property purchased via the mortgage note.

The fiat is then guaranteed by the underwritten cash value of the property. And so, the money created has value - as long as the new money (the fiat) and the value of the property are both book-entered in the treasury.

This gives you X100 (the fiat) minus Y100 (the underwriting offset for the property), which on balance gives $XY=0$.

When you book-enter X100 as the Fiat but then fail to register Y100, you have a balance of X100 negative balance -- and the bank has Y100 positive balance.

The problem now is the discharge on the negative balance Y cannot be met, because the X position (now privatized) seizes the discharge.

This expands the profit scope of private position X and decimates the public position Y, which continues to be sustained only by the third party collateral accounts. This occurs only because the collateral accounts are being misused.

DOES FIAT CURRENCY IDEALLY ALLOW FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH TO OCCUR AT ITS OWN PACE?

WILCOCK: If I understand you correctly, the ideal of creating a fiat currency was to create a more peaceful planet where people weren't fighting over gold -- and money could be issued in accordance with the amount of economic growth taking place.

Ideally, the amount of money issued would be proportional to the amount of new wealth generated in the form of commodities, services and labor -- including property.

SCOTT: Correct. It worked well for a few years, and then along came securitization.

Instead of registering property in the National Treasury and making payment to Treasury Direct, the banks simply securitized the mortgage, billed it against the Treasury in their ledgers, packaged the security through Freddie Mac or Fannie Mae or Sallie Mae etc, referenced the underwriting against the global accounts (by just mirroring the accounts and without authorization,) and then sold it as AAA paper.

So what they did was charge the cost to the Treasury, which is the public side, and then took the mortgage repayments as profit on the private side. They did this by failing to register the Mortgage Note which they entered against the Treasury. This is a breach of Charter.

People are losing their homes as banks foreclose on them. This is in fact outright theft. The bank is not the end holder of the Mortgage Note, they are the escrow holder only and therefore they are not a party in interest.

The Bank is just being a common thief, they lie and cheat their way through what they arranged as an administrative procedure. I will provide you the information on how to fight a foreclosure. This is information everyone should have:

http://divinecosmos.com/media/KEITH_SCOTT_GETTING_BACK_TO_BASICS.pdf

DID THEY SEE IT AS A NECESSARY EVIL?

WILCOCK: I gather that the international community saw this massive confiscation of worldwide gold supplies as a necessary evil in order to stop much greater humanitarian crises from occurring down the road.

That could explain how leaders who didn't otherwise embrace the Hegelian dialectic / genocidal mindset would be OK with creating the atrocities necessary to accomplish this task. Is this correct as you see it?

SCOTT: In 1921, when the agreement was made between the nations, they understood that equity was the key essential for a peaceful world.

They had just seen a world war fought, won and lost – and it changed nothing, other than the World now had some thirty million less people in it.

At the end of World War II, Hirohito told MacArthur that he regretted the war as being so essential. Only those of us who know what the centralizing of this wealth was all about understand his sadness.

WHAT PERCENTAGE OF THESE FUNDS WAS SUPPOSED TO BE DELEGATED FOR HUMANITARIAN RELIEF?

WILCOCK: Bretton Woods called for something like 75 percent of the fiat money generated to be allocated for humanitarian relief causes. That amount has more recently gone up to 80-85 percent, if I remember what I was told correctly.

SCOTT: Wealth generates wealth. That is a basic fundamental. Debt generates debt, which is the other side of the coin.

This is what forfeiting (pre-purchase of debt) is all about, as it is the recycling system.

The structure actually requires 65% of the money to be used on projects of humanitarian benefit. It became totally perverted through the years of George Bush Sr., Clinton and George Bush Jr.

Today the entire system is totally corrupted, with the powerful robbing everyone.

WILCOCK: I was also told that various humanitarian funds became money-laundering operations -- even though those involved in the trading programs were already enjoying ludicrously fantastic, almost unimaginable profits.

SCOTT: As above.

IS THE SEC CRACKING DOWN ON THIS?

WILCOCK: Furthermore, I've heard that the SEC has been heavily cracking down on those who were abusing the system, particularly in the last two years.

This is why new people are being invited in at lower entry levels. The system needs people to hold these positions in order to function, as currently designed, and many have been quietly weeded out.

SCOTT: Traders who do not operate the system correctly are as guilty as anyone. Most are only interested in churning paper, and have no regard to who takes profits or what happens to those profits.

People who work in the financial system must have a better moral compass, and if they do not make sure money is being directed properly, they should be shut down.

HAVE THE TRADING PROGRAMS BEEN SHUT DOWN? WHO IS STILL USING THEM?

WILCOCK: Fulford has said that the trading programs have recently been shut down. If this is actually what happened, how has it affected the international economic system? Is this why the Euro has gone into free-fall collapse, in part?

SCOTT: Around 200 top people are still using it.

The reason the Euro has gone into collapse is the same reason why the Dollar has gone down.

The difference is that the Dollar has a safety net (i.e. the collateral accounts,) and the Euro has no safety net -- just the dream.

The Euro's days are numbered.

WHY HAVE ANY BULLION IN CENTRAL BANKS IF IT'S NOT A GOLD STANDARD?

WILCOCK: Getting back to the central question, if 90 percent of the world's gold was taken off-market, why allow there to be the appearance of gold bullion in central banks in Europe and America?

Doesn't this defeat the whole purpose of confiscating all the gold?

SCOTT: Normalcy. It appears normal to people. Investors like to think there is some form of safety net. The amounts in these banks is actually small -- insufficient to run an economy.

DID THESE COUNTRIES HAVE ENOUGH MILITARY POWER TO COUNTER ANY THREAT?

WILCOCK: Was the degree of military power possessed by these countries deemed sufficient to counter any perceived threat that this gold might have?

SCOTT: Countries in general have a knowledge of the agreements, thus the military issue never really arises.

China, for example, has vast amounts of gold, but never touches it -- so therefore their economic stability is never threatened.

HOW COULD THIS TWO MILLION TONS OF GOLD HAVE ANY EFFECT ON THE ECONOMY?

WILCOCK: OK... then, let's talk about these global collateral accounts. From the documents you've shown me, there is roughly 2 million tons of gold in total.

How could this much larger illicit economy have any relevance or impact upon the mainstream financial world and the goods and services of the world?

SCOTT: It is the underlying value for a fiat system.

For a debt to be of value, it requires two things: the promise of the debtor, and the surety of his promise. Those two things confirm actual value to the debt.

Secondly, where there is a secured debt, unless the bank has registered that at the Treasury, then the fiat is non-applicable.

By that, I mean there is no underwriting.

Banks say they underwrite debt, but if the banker understood what he was doing and did his due diligence right through, he would find the underwriting is a mirage of smoke and mirrors.

This is because the debt is applied against mirrored accounts, and has no value -- because the debt was never registered through the Treasury.

LET'S SAY YOU HAVE 753 TRILLION DOLLARS...

WILCOCK: Put bluntly, let's say someone has a series of well-aged insider accounts that have ballooned to 753 trillion dollars, given how quickly entire balances can double in value for those who get really into trading.

That's over 12 times more than the combined GDP of every country in the world.

SCOTT: Yes, and it is the underlying value of all currency when it is accessed through the National Treasury.

Banks do not do that anymore, because they make money from securitizing and selling the debt.

CAN YOU DRAW THIS EQUITY OUT OF THE SYSTEM?

WILCOCK: Let's say that person wants to release some of that equity and cash out.

Doesn't it become extremely detrimental to the system if people start pulling out a few hundred billion here, a few hundred billion there, and attempting to convert it into assets they can use in the mainstream world -- such as to buy out some big giant like Yahoo, for example?

SCOTT: That is why you cannot draw it out of the system. It always remains there to underwrite the value behind the debt fiat.

THE TARP BAILOUTS SUGGEST THIS BECAME IRRELEVANT

WILCOCK: The TARP funds, and the relish with which they were absorbed, suggests that this money did indeed get to the point where it lacked all relevance.

Money from within the open, public system was needed, or else nothing would do.

The banks and institutions post-2008 seemed to quite desperately embrace the TARP bailouts.

SCOTT: They had no choice -- and still, the central system does not force banks to comply with their Charters as public institutions. It is either intentional or extremely ignorant.

DO WE ULTIMATELY NEED A FIAT-BASED CURRENCY SYSTEM?

WILCOCK: However, just playing devil's advocate here, do we ultimately need a fiat-based currency system? Was there indeed wisdom in the move to confiscate all these gold holdings?

Fulford's utopian visions aside, would it actually damage the world to repatriate all this treasure and let people know about it?

SCOTT: Yes, but value on the fiat must be registered with the treasury – for that in turn puts value in the currency.

HOW DO YOU SEE THINGS WORKING OUT FAVORABLY?

WILCOCK: How do you personally see things working out favorably?

SCOTT: Difficult to say. The Irish have taught Europe a good lesson on what happens when the Fiat system is abused.

It has consequences when people are aware that a debt is actually a credit extension of the note maker.

Europe will have little chance of collecting on the debts of Greece, Portugal, Spain and probably Italy.

This is because they entered the debt against the note maker without completing the conversion process, which is the registration of the debt within the Treasury.

DID SOEKARNO AND KENNEDY CREATE AN ALTERNATIVE SYSTEM DUE TO THE ABUSES?

WILCOCK: Clearly it seems the system has been massively abused. Would you agree that this is why Soekarno and Kennedy began moving to create an alternative system in the 1960s?

SCOTT: Yes, they both realized that the system was entirely corrupt.

WOULDN'T THIS LAWSUIT BRING THIS GOLD BACK ON THE MARKET?

WILCOCK: You have indicated that this system would have caused suffering and atrocities by putting the US in disproportionate control of hard assets.

However, is this not what your lawsuit would be doing -- repatriating assets and bringing them on-market, reducing gold to at least 10 percent of its current market value, if not closer to 2 percent?

SCOTT: We have no intention of repatriating the assets, and I would warn anyone against thinking this way.

Such a thing has too much danger for the world. What must happen is that the basic system be retained and operated correctly.

IF THERE IS A MASSIVE GOLD DEFLATION, WHO BENEFITS?

WILCOCK: If everyone who has bought gold to protect their assets, almost with religious fervor, goes through this massive gold deflation, cui bono?

Where does all the equity they had parked in those assets actually end up going at the end of the day, once gold becomes a pretty but fairly cheap metal?

SCOTT: The gold in the accounts should never be brought onto the market.

Gold is currently a blown-up balloon that is an inch from the end of pin. That is without the Global Accounts gold.

The gold should remain where it is, but be publicly managed by an independent public institution -- barred from trading or engaging in any business.

DO YOU AGREE WITH THE IDEA OF A COMMODITY-BACKED CURRENCY?

WILCOCK: Do you agree with the idea of a commodity-based currency, in which dollars are issued against assets stored in a warehouse such as wheat, corn, steel, copper, et cetera?

SCOTT: I am a great believer in this concept.

Why just stop at commodities? Why not use all value in society as a nation's worth for currency issue?

HOW DO YOU THINK WE CAN RE-DESIGN THE SYSTEM?

WILCOCK: What are your personal feelings about how best to re-design an economic system that benefits humanity and the Earth in the most genuine way possible?

(I personally do not see the need to reduce population, however we do have the technology to migrate off-planet - and that will obviously be necessary if people want to have the comforts of the Western world on a larger-scale basis.)

SCOTT: Economics are fundamentally very simple. I drafted a short paper on this and will add it.

Fundamentally, it is really a simpler vision of the Bretton Woods plan -- with a clean management.

The simplicity of it is scary, and it is a little arbitrary, but much less so than the current system that nobody understands.

One of the main issues is transparency.

People can believe in what they can see, rather than believe what the market leaders are telling them -- which is usually just a ruse to allow the financial system to cheat them.

DO YOU THINK THEY SHOULD ALL BE PUT ON TRIAL?

WILCOCK: How do you see this system unfolding and unraveling in the real world? Do you agree with the idea of a Nuremberg / South African truth and reconciliation committee?

SCOTT: No. Simply expose them and then take their money away.

WILCOCK: Will there not be a tidal wave of people attempting to locate and pillage these gold holdings as soon as this goes public?

SCOTT: No.

WILCOCK: How do you plan on addressing the criminal elements of our society once they become aware of the amount of plunder that is potentially available?

SCOTT: There is no chance to plunder if a new system is established correctly.

HOW DO YOU PROTECT THE ASSETS IN A MASSIVE UPHEAVAL?

WILCOCK: If the enforcing arm of the groups protecting these accounts is crippled by a massive international upheaval, how do you protect those assets?

SCOTT: It will remain in the system. All that will change is the management structure.

WILCOCK: Is it even possible to protect those assets?

SCOTT: Yes, too easy. The system was structured with certain weaknesses. All we need to do is tighten it up.

WILCOCK: Do you think the average person will ever be able to understand why these actions were originally taken and deemed necessary, or will most people become furious and take to the streets?

Will the top people involved be able to have a fair trial, or will they most likely be executed by angry mobs?

SCOTT: I would not blame people who have been cheated out of their homes taking revenge. This is bound to happen in many cases.

Yes, I can see angry mobs literally hanging bankers off whatever they can find. However, this is not our intention - and it can be avoided.

HOW DO WE AVOID GOING THROUGH SUFFERING IN THIS TRANSITION?

WILCOCK: How do we avoid going through profound economic suffering in the midst of this transition?

Will all legitimate monies in all legitimate banks be protected as this happens, by some sort of international consensus via an emergency stimulus program?

SCOTT: America does not have to go through any period more painful than now. (I will attach part of a plan I sent to various authorities who can be trusted in America.)

The solution to the so-called debt problem can be eliminated almost overnight.

In the attachment you will need to go down a little, as the first part is the same as some of the information you already have.

WILCOCK: If the toxicity is pulled out of the system, shouldn't the average person have much greater ease and comfort in life than at present? It certainly doesn't seem right that so many people are in such adverse poverty.

SCOTT: Absolutely. Prosperity will greatly increase once the stealing stops. Specifically, there will be 100 Trillion dollars a year that can be devoted to improving the planet and its people's welfare.

WILCOCK: Are you trying to tell humanity that there is a need to continue using fiat currency, albeit in a more regulated and transparent fashion? Does the global collateral accounts of gold have any relevance in this new system?

SCOTT: A fiat currency, yes... but it must be booked with equivalent asset value.

Section nine – Closing the Doors -- Cease and Desist

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1026-financial-tyranny-final?start=2>

CLOSING THE DOORS

DAVID WILCOCK: As we were nearing the end of this incredible process, I had an additional dialogue with Neil Keenan that he ended up entitling "Closing the Doors" -- as follows.

NEIL KEENAN: After months of hard work, you have constructed a masterpiece. For this everyone thanks you.

Call it a classic in the making, if you wish, but this will be the mantle everyone reaches for when writing about such a difficult subject as the collateral accounts.

You have mastered the impossible -- and this is no less than a Work of ART.

DW: I thank you, Neil. I have worked for months to produce Financial Tyranny. It has been quite an extraordinary burden: it nearly ruined my health and my sleep, it got me death threats, and I'm very glad to have finally finished.

TELL US MORE ABOUT IT

DW: Just as it was all coming together, you wanted to make this new announcement -- Closing the Doors. Can you tell us a little more about it?

NK: To be perfectly honest, we wanted to issue it before the New Year, which is the right time to end things -- but, after the fantastic response you had from the first article, we felt it was better to wait until this third and most revealing piece -- really now a full-length book -- was published.

As you know, when the first issue was done, the Monaco Group had 117 countries supporting our plan of specific action -- but now there are 138 nations involved.

All are concerned, as they know certain people are trying to sell gold and utilize financial instruments that do not belong to them.

They are aware that they need to clean up the banking system as soon possible. The conspirators need to be stopped in their tracks. And NOW!!

WHAT DOES THE CEASE AND DESIST NOTICE DO?

DW: You have asked me to publish a Cease and Desist Notice at the end of this investigation. What does this notice do?

NK: It acts as a provisional notice, informing everyone who is not entitled to touch those Accounts that they must leave them alone, or be responsible for the consequences.

(This includes the BIS, who are hand-in-hand in all the thefts taking place to date.)

We have mentioned specific people and institutions who are already among the worst offenders.

The fact is, the entire system is operating illegally, outside the trust provisions -- and we must serve notice.

As we act as Settlers for the Trust, we need the Beneficiaries (which are the Governments) to help us reset the operating conditions of the Trust.

HOW DO WE STOP FINANCIAL TYRANNY FROM REPEATING?

DW: Couldn't these governments go corrupt if they gain control of these accounts? How is it going to be set up? Who makes the decisions? How do we stop Financial Tyranny from occurring all over again?

NK: Just as with the initial trust established between 1961 and 1971, the rules of ownership are that the assets shall be privately held.

This allows for an administration body and an independent arbitration panel at the top level to manage the Trust.

All Governments will be allowed to apply for support to build and develop their own economies.

Good sense requires that no singular country, or any group of countries, will be allowed control over these assets.

WHAT EXACTLY DO YOU MEAN BY "CLOSING THE DOORS?"

DW: When you say "closing the doors", what do you mean?

NK: The collateral accounts have been illegally used for years -- and not one thing has been done to stop it.

The inmates have actually taken over the asylum -- and we have done nothing, nothing at all, to put an end to it.

We, our group, were just entrusted with the Rights to the Soekarno Trust, and we will clean it up from top to bottom -- with the proper help.

There are many individuals and groups who continually make claims against these accounts -- from the Philippines, the US, the UK and all other nations. It goes a lot deeper than just those mentioned in our Cease and Desist order.

They now have to realize that just because they have some papers in their hands, these accounts are not theirs to plunder.

There is a process -- and if you abuse that process, you will go to jail.

THE BICKERING IS NOW OVER

NK: The bickering over the accounts is finished as of this C & D.

There will be some fights coming forth, but this time someone will fight back -- and expose them.

They have been stealing too long -- destroying not only the US but Europe, Asia and everywhere else. Many have cowered in their corners, despite the fact that only a small number of people have taken over the financial world.

I am ashamed to think that humans can act so cowardly, but this is a fear that has been manipulated for hundreds of years now.

THEY HAVE BEEN MASTERFUL -- BUT NO ONE WANTS TO FOLLOW THEM

NK: Despite all this, one must not say that the Rothschild family, for example, has been anything less than masterful in enacting their plans.

We may not like them, but they really were ingenious -- waiting and waiting for the right time to come forth, knowing they would never even see it in their own lifetimes.

However, they came out much too early. No one wants a Luciferian New World Order – not even their own members. We are all wired to crave freedom – even to die for it.

The technologies they have suppressed make any and all of their arguments about “overpopulation” irrelevant.

We are more than capable of migrating off-planet. Let’s be honest – the real issue here is that this is the severest case of racism, hatred and intolerance ever seen on Earth.

FAKE MEDIA, FAKE ANGER

NK: Our money has been spent on a fake media, creating fake anger and fake divisions between countries.

Some of these countries were created by these same people. They just drew borders wherever it suited their best interests, insuring these territories would have constant civil wars and internal unrest.

MASS HUMAN SACRIFICES

NK: Then they spend the majority of all our money – we, as a collective species – in acts of mass ritual human sacrifice that they call “wars.”

These “wars” are staged. They are not real. The cabal finances both sides. They profit. They win no matter which side comes out victorious. “Order out of Chaos.”

It can all be stopped -- but we need to wake up first. That is what is finally happening.

WHAT ABOUT PEOPLE VISITING THE BIS AND TRYING TO USE THE SOEKARNO ACCOUNTS?

DW: I have heard that many people visit the BIS (Bank for International Settlements) with the hopes of using these Soekarno accounts. Do you know anything about this?

NK: I do, yes. Our group had someone placed outside the BIS (Basel) monitoring a situation just this past week. They came back with the fact that a Sovereign Nation we are familiar with is trying to get the BIS to assist them in using the accounts.

One of our yet-to-be-named partners acted as the eyes, in this case, and Keith was our internal control on this operation.

They do understand that the Soekarno Trust is the sole authorization of said instruments. And yet, despite this, they still try to work directly and behind the backs of the Trust.

Our observers saw them enter the BIS early in the day, and exit the BIS late at night.

Something is going on there. We know who they are -- and it must be stopped immediately.

LAGARDE SAYS THE IMF WILL NO LONGER PARTICIPATE IN MONEY LAUNDERING

NK: A further note to make is that Christine Lagarde, Chief of the IMF, has already made it clear that the IMF, a FED creation, will no longer launder the FED's money.

This is, in effect, her telling the Cabals that their day in the sun is over with.

Some strong hints of this made it into the media, as you see here in her statement from January 23, 2012:

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/business-16689211>

In a BBC interview, Ms Lagarde said now was the time to act in order to avoid a 1930s-style depression.

She said: "Looking at it from this perspective, 2012 must be a year of healing. But as Hippocrates put it long ago: 'Healing is a matter of time, but it is sometimes also a matter of opportunity.'

"And today, it has to be an opportunity of our own making. Otherwise, we could easily slide into a 1930s moment.

"A moment where trust and co-operation break down and countries turn inward. A moment, ultimately, leading to a downward spiral that could engulf the entire world."....

However, she added that there was still a chance of a resolution to the crisis.

She said: "I remain ever hopeful. I believe we can avoid such a scenario and I say this for a simple reason: we know what must be done.

"Although the economic outlook remains deeply worrisome, there is a way out. Now the world must find the political will, the collective will, to do what it knows must be done."

HOW CAN YOU STOP THEM?

DW: How can you stop these nations and the BIS from continuing to steal such massive amounts of money?

NK: You punch them in the mouth before they eat you up! No... just joking. (Am I?)

It has been going on for a long time, David. The sole reason it continues is because all Central Banks, with the exception of two, are controlled by the FEDS.

The BIS is also a private institution controlled by the FEDS, who are in turn controlled by six major commercial banks.

This is all FED, and has nothing to do with the Soekarno Trust -- other than the fact that they illegally have placed people into positions without the proper procedure. This, in turn, has allowed everyone to steal what does not belong to them.

It has created many problems. Look at the IMF, which is also an extension of the FED. Now Christine Lagarde wants nothing to do with this laundering of money, as she calls it.

What money? They are just mirroring the accounts, and illegally creating money from smoke and mirrors.

IT'S ALL A VERY ELABORATE CON JOB

NK: The entire European Union has been bailed out by these smoke-and-mirror schemes, which in the end game means no money actually ever exchanges hands.

There is no debt to any of these Nations. The EC has been conning them. The Irish scared the living hell out of them by simply requesting to see where the money came from.

They cannot show this, because all the money came from smoke and mirrors.

Therefore, as we now know this is accurate, how can they illegally appoint anyone such as Monti to any Sovereign Nation position? Yes, appoint!!!

He is formerly from Goldman Sachs (one of the Fed Owners) and is ready to sell his own country down the tube by agreeing to pay for loans that were mere book entries -- but must be paid for in real money.

WHO IS DOING THIS?

NK: If you do not pay back this money that never existed, they will take your high-ranking political posts, your energy rights, your water rights, et cetera. Remember the 147 Super corporations owned by these FED-associated companies?

And who is doing this? A couple of rankled old men who used to work behind the Iron Curtain -- and still believe in Global Domination.

This is why we must stop it, David. Once we do this, it ends their silly little game -- and puts Europe back on an equal footing.

The European Union is best described as "fascism on steroids". Here you have a group of appointed dictators, who are dictating to elected Governments.

It is the beginning of global corporate Governance, and should be thrown in the dustbin of history as one great experimental folly.

Out with the Old and in with the New, so to say -- but they want Out with the Old and In with the Old.

Forget it. Time for a change. This is not 1995 all over again. Oz has been exposed as an old man!!!

WHAT ABOUT THE MONACO GROUP?

DW: What about the Monaco Group? Any news on this front?

NK: From what I know, this group will come into action in the very near future.

There is supposed to be another group with 130 nations, but this is nonsense -- so I do not want to waste any of our time addressing it.

They are copycat pretenders, nothing more.

The Soekarno Trust is the top of the mountain, and everything rains down from there. That spoils many a parade, doesn't it?

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO THE PEOPLE WHO WILL NEVER BELIEVE ANYTHING POSITIVE?

DW: Many people are so weary of reading about this vast international conspiracy that they will never believe anything positive -- even once it actually happens.

What can you say to them? Do you really think you can close the doors on Financial Tyranny?

NK: They will be closed -- and will not be opened again.

The Foundation to be established will make efforts to compensate those that have been stolen from -- and even set up a legal department to go after those who have illegally used the instruments.

The Foundation will keep their eyes on things -- along with those who have the legal monitoring and management rights.

In order for certain banks to continue, they must tow the line -- and allow themselves to be rigorously audited and cleaned out.

We also will have our own people within the private sector of each Bank to keep an eye on things. No more secrets. No more hiding. Truly transparent auditing.

THE BANKS CANNOT BE TRUSTED

NK: As we have all learned from experience, the Banks cannot be trusted.

We will have our own group of Professionals overseeing the entire operation, whether the Banks like it or not. Their stealing must be stopped. No more back-room deals.

Do not take "Closing the Doors" literally, David. We are just beginning to free humanity from Financial Tyranny. We are closing their doors, not ours.

We have to take time to heal after what they have put us and the world through.

DO YOU WANT TO RUN THE TRUST?

DW: Let's just be clear on this one point. Are you saying that you want to be the ones to run the Trust?

NK: No. The intention is to place highly qualified people in charge of the Trust.

We need people who are qualified to make the decisions that need to be made. They need proper advisors.

We would hope to see highly qualified and strong, ethical people, with a clean history, who can make the decisions that need to be made.

We will remain as Settlers of the Trust. We should have no part in controlling it -- rather we will act with the Beneficiaries if the Trust gets offline.

HOW DO YOU SEE THIS EVOLVING?

DW: How do you see this all evolving as we head into the future?

NK: In the future? Wow, you have me living forever!

I am not one of those elders who live hundreds of years. I am still relatively young, but this was never my life's work. It just seemed to happen, develop and grasp me, and not let me go. So much had to be done -- and no one was doing it.

Once this is all set up -- and I cannot speak for our group -- but once it is set up, I personally plan on getting on my horse and riding off into the sunset.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO DO NEXT?

NK: There are many things to do. One of the things I will be doing almost immediately is to activate our Free Energy initiatives.

Everything is all set to go right now. We just need the security to move forward without our people being killed.

Numerous nations are already requesting it, and every nation will demand it once they know it is real. This is the end of the OIL & GAS era the Cabal had us choking on.

THIS ALL BEGAN WITH A THEFT

NK: What I cannot seem to get over is that this all began with Daniele Dal Bosco, an Italian Citizen stealing bonds that were entrusted to me by the Dragon Family.

From there he led me to David Sale, Ray Dam and the OITC, which really when you do your homework is actually a non-entity and fraud.

From there, he took me on an adventure inside the Masons. This is something he now personally realizes he should never have done, but he did it anyway.

He exposed people such as Leo Zagami and those that work with him to me – and to many others. I would think he is in danger now as a result of doing this.

Without Dal Bosco, David Sale and Ray Dam, we would know absolutely nothing. Maybe we should thank them for exposing the evil and corrupt organizations that have taken over our planet.

We now have found out that Dal Bosco has not renewed his Italian Passport. He cannot be found, although he is presumed to be in Italy or France.

Of course, the Italians will hide him or bury him, seeing he created this mess.

On the other hand, Sale left Thailand in a hurry -- seeing another organization did their checking on him, only to find out there is no United Nations diplomatic immunity. It was all a lie. They will cuff him shortly.

HAS ANYONE STEPPED UP TO HELP YOU?

DW: Has anyone other than your own group stepped up and assisted you during this final period of closing the accounts and re-designing the regulations that will run them?

NK: David, if I did not know any better, I would say you must have some insider information... Hahaha...

I must thank Professor Dr. Drs. Seno Edy Soekanto (Jakarta), for his patience and tenacity to carry out the content of Soekarno's testament.

He has gone through extreme difficulties over the past decades with so many different groups and organizations attempting to steal what was never theirs to begin with.

Even today, they are all attempting to split up what actually belongs to the Global depositors in the BIS in Switzerland.

Hopefully Dr. Seno will finally realize the development of a new Indonesia.

WHO ELSE?

NK: I thank Nelu, our representative in Indonesia, for all the legwork and hard work he has put into getting others to believe -- not only in what we are doing, but in Indonesia itself.

We also have some retired Indonesian Generals, who have for a very long time desired to release the funds owed to President Soekarno and the Soekarno Trust.

THE INDONESIA CONNECTION

NK: These funds must be released, returned and utilized in the Humanitarian Projects that were originally designated for Indonesia.

John F. Kennedy was killed for trying to create a deal with Indonesia that would have allowed these funds to transform our world.

If Indonesia continues to step up, as they have started to do, the World can jump on their backs – and together, we can bring everyone to a vastly safer and better place.

Indonesia has sat still for 50-60 years, waiting for the corrupt Western Cabal -- the very same Cabal that is destroying America and the World today -- to release the funds promised to M1 President Soekarno of Indonesia.

The Cabal will never release those funds, seeing they are intent on destroying the world as we know it. Nonetheless, Indonesia's day is still coming!!

THANK YOU, NEIL!

DW: Thank you very much, Neil. I wish you well.

NK: You are welcome, David. It is we who should thank you -- for putting so much of your time and effort, as an unpaid volunteer, into something you initially never really believed in – and risking your life to help us, and help the planet.

You now understand that in this world of ours today, there really is a BOOGEYMAN....

Now you, the reader, can understand how we feel. Once enough of us reach this point, there is no way even the Boogeyman can beat us.

UPDATE FRIDAY 2/10: DR. SENO HAS BEEN THREATENED

NK: I have been told that because of our issuance of the C & D in the Financial Tyranny report, Dr. Edy Seno has been threatened by someone only identified as the Cabal.

It was not just one call, but many that have concerned Dr. Seno.

Although anyone has the right to be frightened when their lives are threatened, I would like to make it perfectly clear to the Cabal at this time that Dr. Seno has signed over all rights to the Accounts -- in an Agreement signed on the 6th of November 2011.

It does not matter who calls and threatens Dr. Seno, seeing he has no legal control over the Accounts any longer. If they wish to make calls and threaten people, then they should call me.

But save your calls, because I will most likely put the phone down and let you speak to no one in particular -- and let you blab for 30 or 40 minutes while I'm in the other room, running up your phone bill.

So, in essence what I am telling you is that we do not care about threats, because the actual threat is in the opening of the books.

So, if some fool decides to just play with us, that fool might actually find himself facing such people as the Cabal -- explaining why he did such a foolish thing, and was the one responsible for why our associates had to open the books.

I have since learned that the phone call did not come from the Bush Cabal, as I had heard, but from some unnamed person. Despite this, it is important for everyone to understand that Edy Seno has finally divested himself of this obligation -- in accordance with the aforementioned agreement.

Regards
Neil Keenan

COMMENTS SECTION

I wanted to close out this investigation by sharing a few excerpts from Benjamin Fulford's two most recent updates.

I have found many occasions where Fulford independently heard the same things my own insiders were saying.

Despite widespread disinformation, it is an established fact that Fulford said, in advance, that the Cabal was planning on creating an artificial earthquake in Japan that would trigger off nuclear reactors.

This tragic threat came true -- and in other reports I have tracked this story. Fulford hasn't been right about everything, particularly the dates, but I do believe that in time he will be vindicated on many points.

I thank Ben for breaking this story to the public in the first place -- so it seems fitting to close with these latest inspiring updates from his paid journal.

FULFORD ON JANUARY 31, 2012

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2012/01/31/out-of-the-box-negotiations-are-proceeding-at-the-highest-level/>

The reason that many of the top Federal Reserve Board crime syndicate crooks have not been arrested yet is that the old system needs to be kept going with string and wire and duct-tape until final preparations for a radically new system are completed.

For example, an Asian proposal now being negotiated calls for 10 million yen or about US$125,000 to be budgeted for each and every individual human being on earth.

The Pentagon is also making similar radical proposals for a complete change of how humans interact with each other and with nature.

The big conclusion being reached at the highest level is that the old financial system in the West was an illusion used by a secret cabal to keep us enslaved.

We are now about to become truly free in ways that will exceed most people's most optimistic expectations. However, there will be some hard work at first before this becomes true....

The Pentagon, for its part, has reached an agreement to merge with the Chinese and Russian Military to form a global peace-keeping force, according to a high ranking agency source.

There has also been an agreement to break up many of the large corporations controlled by the Khazarian Satanic Cabal.

Microsoft was specifically mentioned as a company that was about to go Kaput. The major corporate media corporations will also be broken up. Many other top 100 corporations will be broken up into as many as 20 smaller units, according to this source.

The cabalists in charge of the G5 countries are also going to be excluded from the new financial system. If necessary, the Pentagon will round up both the Illuminati and the Nazis, in order to make sure they cause no more trouble.

In the US there is also going to be a detailed study of what happened over the past 100 years since the Federal Reserve Board took over -- and a lot of stolen funds are going to be returned to their rightful owners.

SECOND FULFORD EXCERPT: THE TAKEDOWN IS PROGRESSING SMOOTHLY

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2012/02/07/the-takedown-of-the-satanic-cabal-is-proceeding-smoothly>

Despite widespread pessimism on the part of many truth seekers about the situation in the G5 terrorist states, behind the scenes the satanic cabalists in control of the Western central banks are in a state of extreme fear.

One reason is that US Defense Secretary Leon Panetta told a White Dragon Society representative last week that the Pentagon and the US agencies were in no mood to let off the cabalists with a truth and reconciliation committee.

"We have been watching these guys for a long time," he said. The conclusion reached was that Federal Reserve Board needs to be dismantled -- and the cabalists jailed.

The 65% drop in the Baltic Dry Index (the price of shipping) this year is one visible sign of the dismantling.

This is related to a growing global boycott of the G5 terrorist states as seen in the growing number of countries refusing to use US dollars or Euros for trade.

Another sign was the stoppage on February 3rd of the Federal Reserve Board owned Clearing House Interbank Payments System. Under the surface, much more radical events are being planned.

[The] complete revamping of all the institutions set up after World War 2, including the BIS, the World Bank, the IMF, the International Court of Justice and the UN will mean the wholesale removal of agents for the Satan-worshipping Zionists who have been in control of these institutions from behind the scenes....

Once the Khazarian Satanic cabal is removed from power, there will be so much money and so many investment opportunities that all areas will experience a boom.

For example, the old plan to turn the Philippines into a fully modern nation with large nature preserves is being dusted off. There will be similar development projects taking place all over the world -- so no area is going to feel left out or left behind.

A MESSAGE FROM A CLOSE FRIEND OF DAVID HUTZLER

WILCOCK: We received the following letter from someone who only wishes to be known as L*M. We now have tracked down a blog post David made just hours before he died.

There isn't the slightest hint of suicidal ideation in this post -- quite to the contrary.

I have known Davie Hutzler since 1982 when I bought a business from him. We spoke many times over the years, except for the last 10 years, because I was just so busy with building homes -- which is what I have done for a living since around 1999.

That business tanked, as you are well aware, due to the bubble busting on that industry. I have often thought about stopping by to see Davie, but never took the time, which I now regret.

I do know that the man I knew 10 years ago loved his son, and I just cannot see him doing what they say he did. David was always cash poor because he was always putting his money in other things, Businesses, land, gold, silver, and recently Iraqi Dinars.

He was also way too open about this. I believe he was either killed for the precious metals he kept around the home or there was another underlying reason.

The police never released all the details, and I sure as heck would love to know what they know... or what they think they know.

I read where he had made a comment to someone (maybe you) that he would have some kind of information about something which was posted on a site called Turf Wars: <http://turfwarsapp.com/forum/43/topic/98670923/>

There is secret stuff going on but the () is almost there ... () everything seems to be in place...

government reset like fullford said is planned west va got in today ..

going to get more details soon .

hutz

This was written the night before he died, which was the next morning according to the newspaper. Someone phoned in the fire report around 8 something in the morning.

Maybe his outward political views caused his death. Since his death I have googled his name and came up with several sites that he frequented and see he was opinionated in his views politically.

Who knows why he is dead... but I do know that he would not take his own life or that of his child. He just was not that kind of man. That man was kind, caring, giving, shared everything he had, and had a religious faith/belief.

Police have closed the case, and in my opinion the dumb asses really didn't care as they have drawn their assumption... and so they walk away thinking they're "Dick Tracy" the great crime solvers.

I believe Davie was murdered, plain and simple. There is more to this than what is being revealed, in my opinion.

I only hope someone brags or something, because I would love to see his name cleared -- and the perpetrators brought to justice.

Thanks for reading.

UPDATE 2/11: EIGHT MORE ARRESTS -- INCLUDING FIVE SENIOR FOX NEWS STAFF

On Saturday, February 11th, eight more high-profile arrests took place in England -- including a defense ministry employee, a member of the armed forces, a serving police officer and five senior staff from the Sun tabloid.

If what we've been hearing about the mass arrests is true, this is still just the very beginning. Nonetheless, data like this heavily validates everything we've been telling you. The time has come.

<http://news.yahoo.com/police-arrest-five-sun-newspaper-news-corp-111943053.html>

LONDON (Reuters) - British police threw Rupert Murdoch's scandal-hit News Corporation into fresh turmoil on Saturday by arresting five senior staff at the top-selling daily The Sun in a probe into journalists paying police for tip-offs.

The move is part of a wider investigation into illegal news gathering practices that has rocked Britain's political, media and police establishments and last year prompted the closure of the Sun's sister Sunday title, the News of the World.

Saturday's arrests came after the company passed information to the police, a move that infuriated staff and sparked talk of a witch hunt amongst journalists by a proprietor who previously celebrated their work.

Murdoch is due in London next week and is set to meet staff, a source familiar with the situation said.

Four current and former Sun staff had already been arrested last month, and the latest detentions raise questions about the viability of Britain's best selling daily.

News International chief executive Tom Mockridge sent a memo to staff saying: "I have had a personal assurance today from Rupert Murdoch about his total commitment to continue to own and publish the Sun newspaper."

Sun editor Dominic Mohan said he was "as shocked as anyone by today's arrests" but determined to keep fulfilling the paper's "duty to serve our readers".

The source said the arrests included the Sun's deputy editor, picture editor, chief reporter and two other senior staff. Police said a serging police officer was among a total of eight people arrested on Saturday and later released on bail.

The source said a defense ministry employee and a member of the armed forces were the others. The ministry declined comment.

I THANK YOU FOR YOUR ONGOING SUPPORT

I risked my life to conduct and publish this investigation. I do believe it is worth it -- in order to create the future we all deserve.

David and Mackie Hutzler were not so lucky. I hope their deaths will not be in vain. By finishing my work and publishing this full investigation, I feel that justice has been served.

I look forward to getting back to a slightly more normal life now that this is behind me. Sleeping on a consistent schedule again will be nice -- as will be the satisfaction of knowing this is finally finished.

I thank you for your ongoing support in spreading the word about this investigation to your friends and family. Without you, I could have never done this and expected to have lived through it.

I thank Benjamin Fulford, Neil Keenan, Keith Scott and so many others, working behind the scenes, to build a world we can all live in.

Together.

In peace.

UPDATE NEXT MORNING: A GREAT SYNCHRONICITY

Right at High Noon -- 12 PM as I am putting the final touches on this investigation -- I was stunned by my hit counter as I completed the 94th, and possibly the last minor edit to the document.

The hit counter was at precisely 14444 -- after I had already posted it at 3:33 AM.

Go ahead and laugh if you must, but the very next thing I'm about to finish, now that this is done, is an entire book about this kind of thing, and the hidden spiritual world it eventually leads to -- entitled The Synchronicity Key.

This will be the long-awaited follow-up to The Source Field Investigations, and we hope to publish in September or October of this year.

OK, FULL DISCLOSURE...

I wasn't originally going to use this next data point for our investigation, but now that this incredible synchronicity has happened, I feel like it's not a bad idea.

As is public knowledge, since 1996 I have received hundreds of pages of verbal messages from what you may call the subconscious mind, but what I like to call the Higher Self.

I go into a deep state of focus, based on remote-viewing protocols, and attempt to let the words come through without paying any attention to what they are saying.

The messages have been extremely positive, loving and supportive, and a wonderful source of spiritual guidance and inspiration.

I have rigorously documented how I do this, step by step, so you can learn to do it yourself if you are willing to practice -- in the Access Your Higher Self video series.

Anyone who would skeptically attack this ability as "pseudoscience" should read The Source Field Investigations - in which I provide over 1000 academic references to prove that we all have access to a collective consciousness.

PROPHECIES THAT COME TRUE

Furthermore, as the Readings Transcripts section of my website reveals, there have been many astonishing prophecies that have come through as well. Click here and then set the "Display #" pull-down box to "All."

Many transcripts from 1999 described the situation we are now in very precisely. I also published several prophecies of 9/11 that were so specific that I wrote it all up that very same day.

Most recently, I had a series of startling dreams suggesting the next big disaster was about to occur -- similar to the BP oil spill.

The dreams told me this would NOT destroy the planet, but for a while everyone would be afraid that it would.

The warnings were so strong that I actually took a bold risk and published them on my website -- within a piece entitled Bouncing Back from Hack Attack.

I immediately realized the prophecy had come true after Fukushima, and wrote it up here.

I briefly mentioned it in this comprehensive analysis as well.

NOT BOUND BY LINEAR TIME

There are many people out there who claim to be able to do this process accurately. However, there are ongoing failures of prophecies to actually come true. Some examples are very recent.

Then, the alleged source simply makes excuses for why it didn't happen -- such as the egos of the people reading them.

The messages I received were not bound by linear time. Not by a few days, a few weeks, a few months, or even years.

I'd have a stack of tapes on my desk that were over a month old, and at the exact moment I began transcribing them, the tapes would be talking about whatever had just happened to me.

This astonishing phenomenon has even happened when I transcribed tapes that had gotten lost in the shuffle -- after eight years of delay.

In one of those cases, there was a description of a sweet potato having tall shoots coming off of it -- and that's exactly what I had on the top of my refrigerator. This was one of several undeniable "coordinates" to my present moment.

A STUNNING CONFIRMATION

The shame and ridicule I have endured over the use of this skill -- including from my own professional colleagues in the past -- caused me to almost completely stop using it, even though it works. I do still track my dreams meticulously every morning.

As I was finishing this investigation, I got very strong dream messages telling me to go back and read my original transcripts, beginning around 9/11 and thereafter.

Shortly after I started doing this -- on February 1, 2012 -- an event occurred that was so shocking that I literally burst into tears.

I do not in any way want to besmirch the good work I have done in this investigation. Therefore, if it hadn't been for the above synchronicity with the hit counter, I would have saved this one for some other time.

Nonetheless, I feel that this data is significant, and should be included. I will be writing a lot more about these experiences in The Synchronicity Key.

I did not always publish the messages I was getting. In general I do not read the transcripts after I write them up. This particular message had been waiting for me ever since December 31, 2001 -- the eve of the New Year.

I can easily prove that this is not a lie or a fabrication, as I have multiple storage locations revealing this file had remained untouched since January 2002. Those files can be opened and read. I have not changed what was written in any way.

Here is what I typed in, while in a deep state of trance, just three and a half months after 9/11.

A PROPHECY FOR OUR TIME -- FROM DECEMBER 31, 2001

Monday 12 / 31 / 01 – 5:38 pm

The ghosts of war have again awakened from their slumber. Now is the time that so many have feared.

Be ye not afraid, for God is with thee.

And those who would stand close, stand close, for the coming of the Son of Man in the heavens is nigh.

Blessings be unto those brave souls who prepare themselves accordingly, through wit and wisdom, to navigate the labyrinth of the mind in pursuit of higher Truth -- and loftier aspirations than whether or not one is to make or lose a dollar.

The bankers will be beaten back by the public at a time of great unrest, and it is these events that shape that which is to come.

*So stand true in your power and belief in freedom, and know that the loosening of constrictions long imposed is so soon arriving.

It is a time of great happiness that awaits you now, and you can revel in that fact.

[2/1/12: I am in tears. This is an utterly amazing synchronicity. I was guided to read this just as I'm finishing my article on Financial Tyranny. It is absolutely calibrated to the present moment.]

THANK YOU AGAIN FOR YOUR SUPPORT

I did not want to edit this message in any way. I do not know what is meant by "the coming of the Son of Man in the heavens."

I do believe there are many Ascended people out there who are helping us, and encourage everyone not to take a narrow-minded, fundamentalist view of what was said.

I do believe we are not alone in this struggle to end Financial Tyranny.

The intuitive guidance has served me well over the years, and I have had many, many dreams urging me to conduct and publish this investigation.

Of course, some people will have trouble believing I am telling the truth, but the Readings section of the website has extensive documentation of these transcripts.

Either way, this investigation stands on its own. I do believe Truth and Justice will prevail.

The synchronicity just happened again as I edited this section for final publication. Very interesting indeed.

UPDATE 2/11 -- IT HAPPENED AGAIN

Right as I logged in to update this article about the eight high-profile arrests, I again hit a triple-digit number in the hit counter. The timing of something like this is beyond any rational ability to create -- and yet it keeps happening.

UPDATE MONDAY 2/13: IT HAPPENED AGAIN

Oddly enough, when I logged in to update the article with pictures from Nicky Minaj's satanic ritual at the Grammys, and the suggestions that Whitney Houston's death was timed very opportunely, it happened again.

Right after I'd arranged all the pictures and text and logged in to update the article, the hit counter was at exactly 95559.

To me, this is yet another signal that all is well.

These people are being exposed.

And Financial Tyranny is about to come to an end.

UPDATE FRIDAY 2/17: SIX TRILLION IN "FAKE" FEDERAL RESERVE BONDS SEIZED IN ITALY

The global media (outside the US) has literally exploded with news about the largest seizure of counterfeit bonds in history -- six trillion dollars.

The pictures are stunning. They look like everything else we have covered in this investigation. There are literally dozens of different articles being written about this.

This article on zerohedge directly quotes from FINANCIAL TYRANNY -- including pictures of the Chicago bond chest we published here exclusively. The chests seized in Italy are essentially identical -- albeit much newer-looking.

We are investigating this story through the various contacts available to Neil Keenan and Keith Scott -- specifically to discern whether these are, in fact, real bonds or elaborate fakes.

We should have something more substantial to report about this tomorrow.

15 TRILLION DOLLARS AND 759,000 METRIC TONS OF GOLD

We are also investigating another story that has erupted at the same time -- Lord James of Blackheath, in the UK Parliament, discussing "15 Trillion Dollars and 759,000 Metric Tons of Gold."

Video Footage of Blackheath's Speech (Begin Watching at 17:20)

The timing of BOTH of these stories is very encouraging. FINANCIAL TYRANNY is now the defining standard of investigative journalism into this subject.

Now that Zero Hedge has picked up our story, and pointed out our identical Chicago bond chest pictures, how much longer can the rest of the media refer to these cases without mentioning our investigation -- or the Keenan lawsuit?

Whether by synchronicity or deliberate intent from insiders, these events are causing many more people to ask questions -- and when enough people begin investigating this subject, the truth will automatically prevail.

UPDATE FRIDAY 2/24 -- YOU CAN DO YOUR PART!

I'm here in Hawaii and am about to start a 16-hour CONVERGENCE lecture weekend -- my most ambitious ever, with 1175 slides in total, meaning I have to do 73 slides an hour to stay on schedule. I'm very excited about it -- there is a lot to talk about!

The Internet is exploding with lists of major financial industry CEOs who are resigning, mostly just within the last month. The silence from the mainstream media about this is deafening.

I have heard there are 10 different cases in the US, on a very high level, and they've already fled to Brazil and Paraguay. These are NOT in the lists circulating on the internet -- at least not yet.

This only adds further evidence to support the idea that "Something Big Is About to Happen" -- namely the mass arrests of so many conspirators.

I have heard leaks from the inside that the "Next 9/11" is being planned for February 26th. The negative elite are hoping to bring America to its knees by doing something that will turn the power off so it can never come back on.

I consider it very highly unlikely that these plans will succeed, due to the remarkable number of "Divine Interventions" that have been happening lately to throw off any and all attempts to start World War III.

I do believe ETs / Angelic humans are real, and apparently the rules have changed radically.

John Kettler has recently stepped forward and is giving incredible testimony that supports what I've been tracking for the last year and a half on this website with the "China's October Surprise" story. Kerry Cassidy's recent interview with him is fascinating.

Over 40 different attempts to start World War III have been thwarted in the last 2 months by "impossible" means.

For example: three different times the Israelis and Palestinians have tried to have an all-out shooting war, but their guns jammed on the battlefield. Then when they took them back to the gunnery range, they worked just fine.

Why do you guys think you will be allowed to destroy the United States power grid on February 26th with all the other signs that this is Game Over?

Anyway, I hope you all have a nice weekend. Meditate on the positive and stay peaceful and centered to help offset any possibility that this nefarious plan will succeed. I highly doubt it has even the slightest chance of doing anything.

I thank you again for your continuing support!

Oh, by the way... I had to laugh as I logged in to write this update and AGAIN got a synchronicity. This time the hit counter was at 218555. I have to be timed down to the second for this to work, but consciously I have no idea!

DIVINE INTERVENTION: Section I -- Defeating Financial Tyranny

Written by David Wilcock Wednesday, 28 March 2012 18:18

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1035-divineintervention1>

Massive, unprecedented ET interventions are completely disrupting any and all plans to start World War III, according to multiple whistleblowers. This and other fascinating developments suggest that 2012 may live up to many prophets' expectations.

[PLEASE NOTE: This investigation is undergoing dynamic updates, including new sections that will be uploaded as time permits. For this reason, please LINK to it and pull excerpts, but do not COPY and REPOST it, as it will be constantly changing. Thanks!]

NEGATIVE FORCES ARE REAL -- AND SO IS THE RESISTANCE

Whether we like it or not, everyone is now being confronted with evidence that the world is being controlled by powerful, occult, negative forces behind the scenes.

In my full-length e-book entitled Financial Tyranny, I shared everything I have gathered on this controversial subject -- since I first found out about it in 1992.

If you have already read Financial Tyranny, the full scope of the problem we now face will be much more apparent as you enter into this investigation. Some of it will become clear as you read this first section.

This is the sequel to Financial Tyranny -- where we talk about the "good side".

MASS ARRESTS

Multiple insider sources, each of whom have been "vetted out" for their credibility and trustworthiness, have now confirmed that mass arrests of thousands of key conspirators in this vast cabal are about to occur.

A highly secretive, highly coordinated operation -- working for the good of humanity -- is about to make its move.

The Pentagon "good guys" are now in full political and logistical cooperation with a remarkable 134-nation alliance -- to bring the perpetrators to justice and free our planet.

The security around this enormous operation has been vast. Even those who will be affected by it -- and arrested -- have no idea of the staggering scope of what is about to be revealed before the eyes of the public.

Very recently I had four hours of verbal discussion with a new, public, high-level whistleblower regarding these imminent mass arrests.

We are set to record an interview at 6PM Pacific time for public release on this website -- within hours of when this first section should be posted. I will post-produce and release this interview as soon as possible.

I fully confirmed this man's bonafides and his testimony with one of my top insiders, who I brought into the discussion.

Dozens of specific points, not available in any public form, were authenticated in this vetting-out process.

22 TRUCKLOADS' WORTH OF DOCUMENTS

We now know that the plan for mass arrests has been very actively in the works for at least 33 years. A five-inch thick briefing document was presented to our new contact in 1979 that outlined the whole plan.

A staggering wealth of irrefutable evidence is backing this plan, including over 22 eighteen-wheeler truckloads' worth of documents that have long since been scanned and secured in multiple locations.

We were told that one single file-box of documents like this was strong enough to bring down the former Italian government, as you see here:

Prosecutors demand 5-year sentence for Berlusconi over witness tampering
<http://rt.com/news/line/2012-02-15/#id26529>

Prosecutors have demanded a five-year prison sentence for former Italian Premier Silvio Berlusconi in his trial on corruption charges.

Prosecutor Fabio De Pasquale asked the court on Wednesday to find the former PM guilty of having paid a British lawyer $600,000 to lie in other trials.

Those proceedings involve charges of tax evasion and false accounting during Berlusconi's business career.

Other cases pending against him in the Milan courts include a trial on charges of having paid for sex with an underage prostitute. Berlusconi stepped down as the Premier in November last year.

EVERY EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO REASSURE AND PROTECT THE PUBLIC

The people who are about to do this are well aware of every concern you have -- as an informed reader of truth websites and materials.

Martial law will NOT be declared when this happens.

The military will NOT take control of the government.

Innocent civilians will NOT be imprisoned or harmed in any way.

Any troops who attempt to carry out unlawful orders of this sort, on behalf of the "bad guys," will be outnumbered and resisted.

Every effort will be made to focus on eliminating the problem -- and immediately returning the power to the people in an orderly fashion.

New elections will need to be organized, considering that many, if not most politicians in the United States could be found culpable -- either directly or through failure to have taken action.

This alliance intends to break out free energy and many other technologies that were stolen from us. The fossil fuel economy ensured that occult global control and the systematic killing of our planet would continue.

THEY DIDN'T PLEDGE THEIR LIVES FOR THE COMFORT OF BANKERS

We now know that 90 percent of the US military are aware of this plan in some form -- and at least 60 percent are in support of it. Many more federal marshals, police, active and retired military, and civilians will help out once they realize what is happening.

Our warriors pledged their lives to protect us. The world is not in a cartoon war between "good" and "evil", with everyone in government, corporations, media and military on the "dark" side.

Our brave and valiant soldiers have taken an oath: To protect the Constitution of the United States, and its people, against all enemies -- foreign AND domestic.

They did not pledge their lives -- their blood -- to keep a handful of sociopathic, genocidal bankers in control of the planet, its people and its resources.

We all have to live here. And if your superiors are systematically killing the planet, they are not superior.

They are similar to a massive infection that must be treated with powerful antibiotics -- before it destroys the host.

Everyone has seen enough Illuminati movies by now to know that if you work for these people, no matter how high up or important you think you may be, they will undoubtedly betray you.

IT'S TIME TO READ THE TEA LEAVES

Many, many top generals left active duty, since Bush I, because they realized what was happening -- but they certainly did not retire.

We all owe them a significant debt of gratitude.

Everything is now coming to a head -- very rapidly.

The signs may be mysterious, but they are increasingly obvious.

We will review some of them in this investigation.

IT MAY SEEM DIFFICULT TO BELIEVE

I do understand the difficulty of believing that such a massive, coordinated maneuver would even be possible.

If you speak to real military people, and truly understand the role they chose to fulfill, the bigger question is: "How could they NOT do something like this?"

How could they stand by and do nothing while the entire planet itself -- and all life on it -- is being destroyed?

If a mother and child are being tortured to death in front of you, and you have the means to stop it, would you just stand there and watch?

Unless you are a sociopath, you would do something. And most people -- including our military personnel -- are not sociopaths. That number is only estimated to be 1 in 100 people, as we will see later on.

IT WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE IN A STRICTLY 'CLOSED' SYSTEM

Nonetheless, the scope of the negative side is so vast that it seemed impossible to be defeated -- or even resisted.

If our planet was a strictly 'closed' system with no outside players and no higher spiritual forces involved, I would definitely have to agree that this plan is so well-thought out, so massive, systemic and vast that it would be nearly impossible to defeat.

However, Divine Intervention -- not a fantasy, but very real and very tangible assistance -- is insuring that our movement into true freedom and peace will occur... with the absolute minimum amount of damage possible.

Dozens of ancient cultures featured the same prophecies about the times we are now in. These prophecies all directed our attention to a 26,000-year cycle in the Earth's axis as being the key issue to study.

As I revealed in The Source Field Investigations, the Mayan Calendar, Egyptian astronomy, Greek astronomy and Hindu astronomy all triangulated on the period of 2012-2014 as the end of the cycle -- ushering in a Golden Age of peace and prosperity.

[Technically, the Hindus are the only ones to have mentioned 2014, by tying it to a rare conjunction involving Jupiter.]

The oldest, original prophecies were not doom and gloom oriented at all. They indicated that although we would go through difficulties, like we've already been seeing, the end results would be extremely positive.

EVERYONE IN THE PENTAGON IS NOW AWARE OF IT

Top insiders have now confirmed that everyone in the Pentagon is now aware that some form of Divine Intervention is happening -- regardless of what side they are on.

Most of them do not know who is responsible. Even the "bad guys" are now saying it could be "Angels or Aliens" doing this stuff.

No one on Earth has the technology to do the things they are now seeing -- regardless of how classified that technology may be.

It is utterly astonishing that even the "bad guys" are now acknowledging this may be an angelic intervention.

Very few people have dared to break ranks and reveal what is happening, as this information is considered very highly classified.

They know that speaking out could get them, and their families, tortured and killed.

I have decided to personally take the risks involved in order to help alleviate fear -- and help you understand what is happening.

WE HAVE NEVER BEEN ABANDONED

Divine Intervention is very real.

You may be surprised to discover how extensive the intervention has now become -- and how far back in time the trail of evidence goes.

The forces behind the great religions of the world are not mythological. They are not historical artifacts buried away in scrolls and texts fewer and fewer people bother to read.

They've been here all along. They have openly walked among us in every ancient culture -- and were highly revered.

They have their own rules, their own governing bodies, and their own code of ethics.

They have avoided appearing in any obvious, worldwide, public fashion for well over 1000 years now.

Nonetheless, they have been thoroughly involved this entire time -- guiding and steering our evolution.

This critical step allowed us to become "modern", and to give us the opportunity to forget that they ever really existed -- even as they continued to guide our development, behind the scenes.

And now -- very recently -- the rules have changed... and they are being permitted to do much, much more to help the Earth and its people evolve into a higher state of consciousness.

A BRIEF OVERVIEW OF THE INVESTIGATION

You can't fully understand the truth if you are still living in denial.

Some of the strongest denial is from people who still believe that the "bad guys" are winning -- and are unwilling or unable to see the obvious signs of how the whole house of cards is coming down.

For that same reason, in the first section of this investigation, we will go through a variety of pieces of current-day evidence -- showing how Financial Tyranny is already very, very close to collapsing.

One of the most shocking pieces of evidence is a very public divorce between warring Illuminati factions -- namely JP Morgan/Federal Reserve versus the occult powers that have secretly occupied and seized control of the Vatican.

After reviewing many of these types of current examples, we will then debut brand-new whistleblower testimony -- suggesting 9/11 was indeed an "inside job."

This adds valuable context to our discussion of Financial Tyranny -- and gives even more evidence that the official story was a complete fabrication.

We will also explore the shocking evidence that a 7.4 earthquake on March 20th in Mexico was man-made -- for a nefarious purpose, by a group that knows it has run out of time.

SECTIONS II AND III WILL CONSIDERABLY EXPAND THE INVESTIGATION

In Section II, we will explore the mysteries, shared by insiders at great personal risk, revealing how Divine Intervention is occurring -- to prevent World War III and defeat Financial Tyranny.

Some of this material has already been distributed online. However, I will be featuring many other fascinating data points that have remained highly classified and unavailable to the public up until now.

Then as we head into Section III, we will open up the vault, so to speak -- and explore an astonishing wealth of data that helps explain who is performing these increasingly bizarre interventions -- and why.

This stunning body of information has been available to us all along -- and has been almost completely overlooked.

Most of the pages I gathered this data from still have less than 50 hits -- as of today's date.

TIME-ENCODED PROPHECIES

Section III will add incredible context to everything we've discussed up until then... and you won't want to miss it. I myself didn't realize what we really had until I went back and did the "homework."

Some of this new data came in the form of highly clever time-encoded prophecies that could not be fully understood and appreciated until the actual dates took place.

As it turns out, the date of March 13th, 2012 was given, years in advance, as a pivotal moment in the defeat of the Old World Order. This was all documented -- and can easily be verified.

I was stunned to discover this data, for the first time, on March 11, 2012. I would have loved to have been fast enough to get it posted the next day, but this investigation could not be rushed.

March 13th was also when the ancient cycles of the Mayan Calendar went into full lock-step synchronization -- regardless of which of three counting systems you use.

These cycles will now remain harmonized -- right straight through until the Calendar's conclusion on December 21, 2012.

Of course, perma-skeptics will immediately get a satisfying laugh from this -- and that's fine -- but in The Source Field Investigations, chapter 16, page 337-358, I proved that the Mayan Calendar cycles are all neatly tied in with planetary and celestial movements.

There is solid scientific data for how planetary movements affect human behavior and emotions, which I am incorporating into my new book, The Synchronicity Key, due out this fall.

BREATH-taking REAL-WORLD CORRELATION TO THE PROPHECY

A very interesting real-world correlation occurred around the prophetic March 13th date.

The very next day after this cycle synchronization occurred -- March 14th, 2012 -- a top Goldman Sachs official blew the whistle on Financial Tyranny... triggering an avalanche that has only just begun.

Goldman Sachs is one of the main Federal Reserve banking families -- along with the likes of JP Morgan, the Rockefellers and the Rothschilds.

THOSE WHO ARE OUTSIDE OF TIME

I have had many personal examples of "angelic" or "extraterrestrial" forces bending time and giving me accurate prophecies. Many of them have been documented on this website.

As one recent example, last February I published very powerful dreams telling me "the next disaster on the scope of the BP oil spill" was about to occur -- and three weeks later we had the Fukushima nuclear disaster.

I have twenty years of documenting my dreams every morning. They have been remarkably accurate in predicting the future.

Four years after I began this practice, I established direct contact with the people who are helping this planet "from above."

For this same reason, I do not see a difference between "angels" and "extraterrestrials."

The media has manipulated us into believing extraterrestrials are scary creatures.

Once people realize that the vast majority of them are humans -- and in many cases nearly indistinguishable from us in their appearance -- the fear factor will significantly reduce.

WE ARE ALREADY AN INTERSTELLAR SPECIES

Over the years I have built up a team of reliable and trustworthy intelligence sources -- people who have direct access to various parts of the highly classified insider world.

The UFO cover-up has been a key part of this insider world all along. Modern computer technology is only one of many tools we have reverse-engineered from this "celestial endowment" of deliberately crashed discs.

If events like Roswell hadn't happened, we may not have developed computer technology at all. Thankfully, we now have the full power of the Internet as we move through the great prophetic year of 2012.

Furthermore, the technologies we did not get public access to are so advanced that everything we see in Star Trek, Stargate and just about any other sci-fi movie you can think of is available now -- ready to use.

Many insiders have confirmed this. You can see them, hear them and meet them at conferences. The main avenues for Disclosure have been Dr. Steven Greer's Disclosure Project and Kerry Cassidy and Bill Ryan's Project Camelot. I have closely worked with both groups.

Laughter and sarcasm is simply the result of an elaborate brainwashing campaign -- ongoing since the 1940s -- and it is rooted in fear. This fear was programmed -- by an astonishing crush of xenophobic Hollywood propaganda films.

Regardless of most people's inability to believe such a vast conspiracy is possible, earth humanity is already an interstellar species. The truth simply hasn't been aired in the mainstream media... yet.

UNINTENDED CONSEQUENCES

Our opinions have been cleverly manipulated by a vast, occult conspiracy going back hundreds of years in the past -- if not thousands.

The higher forces ultimately are not allowed to intervene, beyond a certain level, before a given moment in time. That moment has now arrived -- as has been predicted for thousands of years.

Prior to the moment of mass, public Divine Intervention, the negative forces on Earth will be confused -- as many of their dirty tricks will be allowed to occur, while many others -- far more devastating -- are completely blocked.

The negative elite intended for 9/11 to be the "kill shot" that would defeat all resistance -- and usher in the New World Order.

History has a great sense of irony, as 9/11 became the critical error that triggered a global awakening -- and ensured the cabal's own defeat.

This is almost certainly why it was allowed to occur -- by the same higher forces that are now systematically preventing much greater atrocities from occurring.

The enormous scope of these interventions will become clear as you read Section II -- and they have been ongoing since at least the dawning of the nuclear age.

Most importantly, Divine Intervention cannot occur until and unless there is a significant-enough movement from the mass public to support these actions. Those are the rules.

IT WILL BE A PROFOUND SHIFT -- AND IT HAS ALREADY STARTED

That mass public will has finally arrived -- and the positive militaries of the world will help ensure it will succeed.

If the rumors I am hearing are true, we will soon see mass arrests of many key conspirators in government, military, finance companies, defense contractors, media, pharmaceutical corporations and so on.

The evidence that will be presented will leave no conceivable room for doubt -- except, perhaps, for those most addicted to "fear porn", who automatically assume whatever they see, hear and read must be the opposite of the truth -- regardless of the evidence.

Benjamin Fulford, former Asia-Pacific bureau chief for Forbes Magazine, has been covering this evolving story on a week-by-week basis for well over three years now -- and other sources have since come forward.

Fulford spoke for over a year about a lawsuit that would help break open this vast conspiracy -- and end Financial Tyranny. An exact date for the filing of the complaint was given as it got closer.

A little over a week after the date -- on November 23, 2011 -- the complaint was filed, for everyone to read. The legal expenses involved in its preparation were vast. Fulford's credibility was significantly enhanced. He promised -- and his sources delivered.

Little did I know that by publicly tearing it apart and looking for flaws and weaknesses, I would be contacted by the alliance that filed it -- and would become one of its strongest public advocates.

DRAMATIC NEW DEVELOPMENTS

I can now say from firsthand knowledge that this 134-nation alliance is supporting an imminent, massive geopolitical shift -- into freedom.

Our ancient brothers and sisters, seemingly lost to the pages of history, have provided critical support -- now including direct, astonishing military interventions -- to help make this unprecedented operation achievable... and ensure its success.

Therefore, it is now safe to say that everything is happening right on schedule.

This may sound crazy to you now. I get that. I would have felt the same way if I had not found so much evidence to the contrary -- much of which I released in the epic Source Field Investigations book.

WE HAVE OVERLOOKED THE OBVIOUS SIGNPOSTS

Once we realize the human race is much, much more extensive than we thought, and that our relatives do indeed follow a Prime Directive, we will marvel at how many obvious signposts we have overlooked.

For over 1200 years now, our ancient human allies have been using a unique method to communicate with us -- and all of these communications were focused on what is happening now.

During the last 30 years in particular, they have used this system extensively -- revealing who they are, what they are doing, and why they are doing it.

All of this will be laid out for you in Section III.

For now, we will go into the "meat" of Section I -- and discuss some of the obvious, public signposts of what is about to happen.

THE SIGNS ARE ALREADY THERE -- 450 TOP CEOs FLEE THE SINKING SHIP

The vast majority of trouble in the world is being generated by a highly occult, highly secretive elite, hidden away in the G5 countries -- and manipulating the financial system, politicians and militaries behind the scenes.

There are increasingly blatant signals that the mass arrests are about to happen. CEOs and top corporate executives are now resigning in massive numbers.

"American Kabuki" has diligently cataloged an incredible 450 confirmed resignations -- just since September 1, 2011 -- in chronological order, complete with supporting links in every case.

The number of resignations has significantly increased in the last 2-3 months, including an astonishing number of very high-profile people.

For example, there was a remarkable 48-percent increase in the number of CEO resignations just between the months of December and January -- as you are about to see.

Skeptics -- who may well be paid disinformants -- have tried to write this off as all part of the normal turnover in the corporate world. However, a Fiscal Times article from February 23rd clearly revealed this is not "normal" at all.

THE FORCED REBUTTAL

The mass resignations have not gone unnoticed to the readers of The Fiscal Times. This is a very real story -- causing very real anxiety.

Michelle Hirsch wrote "What CEO Musical Chairs Means to the Job Market" for The Fiscal Times on February 23, 2012 -- to hopefully soothe their readers' fears.

What CEO Musical Chairs Means to the Job Market

<http://www.thefiscaltimes.com/Articles/2012/02/23/What-CEO-Musical-Chairs-Means-to-the-Job%20Market.aspx>

After three years of relative stability in the corner offices of corporate America, 2012 is shaping up as a year of CEO musical chairs.

That's because a wave of executives are looking to step down, cash in their stock options as stocks rise and avoid new government regulations that many see as too challenging and stressful....

In particular, the revolving door is spinning faster among health care and financial services executives, who are jumping ship, retiring, or being forced out at a quicker clip than their counterparts in other industries.

Last month, 25 health care CEOs and 13 financial services CEOs departed, making those sectors the two biggest culprits of the rising turnover tide.

A growing push from the federal government to police the financial services industry and clamp down on executive compensation is prompting the exodus of CEOs in the financial services industry, said Don Hambrick, a professor at Penn State's Smeal School of Business....

The number of CEOs who left their posts in January spiked by 48 percent over December, rising to 123 -- the highest level since May 2010, according to data from outplacement service firm Challenger, Gray & Christmas.

Fifty-one percent resigned or stepped down, 26 percent retired, and only 9 percent left to take other jobs....

While changes at the top may unnerve some employees, rarely do CEO switches bring about mass terminations of existing employees, [Matt McGreal, a principal at Crist|Kolder Associates, a CEO search firm] said.

STUNNING CHANGES ARE UNDERWAY

The 450 resignations are documented, proven, and cannot be shot down.

This Fiscal Times article is our key to prove that this is real enough to be tracked by the media, and is in no way part of "normal turnover" in the corporate world.

We applaud Fiscal Times for their bravery in covering this evolving story.

Better yet, these mass resignations are only one part of a much larger mosaic of stunning new developments.

MASS ARRESTS HAVE ALREADY STARTED

Mass arrests have already taken place against senior staff of the Fox-owned Sun tabloid in England in three separate bursts -- now encompassing 21 top Sun employees under "Operation Weeting".

In case you haven't followed this story, Fox (News Corporation) was working with the police and the government to tap people's phone calls and voicemails -- and publish disparaging information on celebrities and public figures through these ill-gotten means.

When you include the two other known operations that have been reported -- code-named Elveden and Tuleta -- the total number of arrests has now encompassed a stunning 47 people.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2114290/Rebekah-Brooks-arrested-husband-Charlie-Operation-Weeting-phone-hacking-probe.html>

The number of people arrested in Operation Weeting, which has been running since last January when police reopened investigations, stands at 21.

Two other linked investigations – Operation Elveden into corrupt payments to police and Operation Tuleta into computer hacking – have resulted in 26 [additional] arrests.

JAMES MURDOCH STEPS DOWN AS EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN OF [FOX] NEWS INTERNATIONAL

Rupert Murdoch's son, James Murdoch, resigned from his position as executive chairman of News International on February 29th -- indicating the extreme scope of the trouble.

In time, this resignation will be seen as a monumental event -- one of the greatest signposts of the mass arrests that were about to happen.

American readers may not be aware of the power and magnitude of what is already happening in the UK -- but our next excerpt will spell it out very nicely.

THE "DAY OUT OF TIME"

It may also be significant that Murdoch announced his resignation on February 29, 2012.

As our graph shows, February 29, 2012 is the "Day Out of Time" immediately preceding the pivotal March 13th Mayan Calendar date -- where the cycles shift into full synchronization.

This "Day Out of Time" has great significance in the Mayan system, as we will see in Section III.

Some scholars consider this "day out of time" to be "highly exceptional", in that it has "never happened before and will never happen again" in the Mayan system -- and it directly sets up the final synchronization date of March 13th.

The above image was generated years before 2012 -- in anticipation of the events that were predicted to come.

Little did we know that the "Day Out of Time" would become the very day that Fox News International effectively admitted, to the public, that the accusations against them were true.

The crimes they are accused of could, and will, ultimately engulf a vast majority of the mainstream media -- in its totality. Not all journalists are culpable, but those who wanted to keep their jobs have been heavily manipulated.

JAMES MURDOCH STEPS DOWN AS CHAIRMAN OF NEWS INTERNATIONAL

Here is the article that announced James Murdoch's resignation -- and revealed many things the American press has fastidiously avoided discussing.

James Murdoch Steps Down as Chairman of News International

<http://www.independent.co.uk/news/media/press/james-murdoch-steps-down-at-ni-7464770.html>

James Murdoch is to step down as executive chairman of News International, it was announced today.

Parent company News Corporation said in a statement the move would allow him to focus on expanding the company's international TV businesses.

Mr Murdoch has faced intense scrutiny in the wake of the News of the World phone hacking scandal....

Labour MP Chris Bryant, who received a £30,000 settlement after having his phone hacked by the News of the World, said: "After all we've heard, James Murdoch's resignation is long overdue.

"On his watch, we have seen the biggest corporate corruption scandal since 1720 -- and historic titles like The Sun have been brought into disrepute... He is not a fit and proper person."....

Ex-minister and former National Union of Journalists president Denis MacShane, who received a £32,500 settlement, said: "The Murdoch empire, as in Greek tragedy, is collapsing in full view of an astonished world."

"The crown prince has been sacrificed to appease the public horror at what is being revealed of the collusion, corruption and criminality of the Murdoch empire -- as it bought politicians and police indiscriminately."

TWO SENIOR MURDOCH JOURNALISTS ATTEMPT SUICIDE

Sadly, in addition to the mass arrests of 47 people and the resignation of executive chairman James Murdoch, two senior journalists were so threatened by this imminent exposure of wrongdoing that they tried to kill themselves.

http://worldnews.msnbc.msn.com/_news/2012/03/06/10594806-two-murdoch-journalists-reportedly-attempt-suicide-as-pressure-mounts

Two senior journalists working for Rupert Murdoch's News International have attempted suicide as pressure mounts at the scandal-hit publisher of the now-defunct News of the World, according to media reports.

The suicide attempts follow weeks of intense scrutiny of the role of The Sun, another Murdoch paper, in the phone-hacking scandal and police bribery case.

The man and the woman, who were reportedly involved in separate incidents, were rescued in time, a friend of one of them said, according to a report Tuesday on stuff.co.nz....

"It was not a suicide pact," the friend told the New Zealand-based news organization. "The attempts were not simultaneous and there is no suggestion of a pact."....

"People think that they've been thrown under a bus," one News International employee told Reuters. "They're beyond angry - there's an utter sense of betrayal, not just with the organization but with a general lynch-mob hysteria."

News International, the European arm of Murdoch's empire, is facing multiple criminal investigations and civil court cases as well as a public inquiry into press standards after long-simmering criticism of its practices came to a head last July.

Politicians once close to Murdoch, including Prime Minister David Cameron, turned their backs on him and demanded answers after the Guardian newspaper revealed the News of the World had hacked the phone of murdered schoolgirl Milly Dowler.

The London Evening Standard reported that other News International journalists are "terribly stressed and many are on the edge." The company has reportedly offered psychiatric help to any journalist who wants help.

I certainly would not want to take the invitation to "step into my office" from any News Corporation psychiatrist -- given what we know about MK-Ultra techniques, which were revealed in open Congressional hearings from the 1970s.

Prime Minister David Cameron, the highest elected official in Great Britain, turned on Murdoch in the hopes of saving himself -- as he has been directly linked to the corruption.

The blowback from this "Epic Greek Tragedy" -- the "biggest corporate scandal since 1720" -- will almost certainly return to the United States. Obviously these criminal practices within the Fox News empire were not limited to the United Kingdom.

It is very likely that other journalists, in other media conglomerates, are starting to feel the same sense of foreboding.

How much have you been hearing about this "epic" story in the Federal Reserve-controlled American corporate media?

KERRY CASSIDY REVEALS EVEN MORE IN HER BLOG

Insider sources revealed a "plot twist" in this story to Kerry Cassidy of Project Camelot -- whom I've collaborated with for years now in our search for truth and freedom.

This critical detail has not emerged... yet... but the trials have barely even started. If the full-blown mass arrests do happen, the disclosure of what you are about to read will pale in comparison to everything else that comes out.

<http://projectcamelotproductions.com/blog-hp.html>

March 8, 2012 Update 12:35PM

CLANDESTINE SHADOW PHONE NETWORK also referred to as an INTERNATIONAL INTRANET

ACCORDING TO A SOURCE: There is a deep shadow network behind the traditional telephone network that you only get access to by invitation.

It involves people who are on the criminal side -- as well as, no doubt, government and alphabet agency types who tap into phone calls, and then sell them on a black market for lots of money.

[They are sold] to, for example, HIGH FREQUENCY TRADERS \(HFTs\) -- who then use this info to make trades, currency calls, etc.

You can see where a network like this can be very advantageous to the participants.

FURTHER: This also relates back to the recent MURDOCH TELEPHONE TAPPING SCANDAL ... because what apparently did not come out during that inquiry and trial is that Murdoch's boys did not have to tap anyone's phone directly.

Instead, they simply connected with an individual who then gave them access to this hidden phone network.

They told them what calls, from which people, they wanted to PURCHASE... and paid them for the 'tapped calls'.

RUSH LIMBAUGH AND THE FALL OF SHOCK-JOCK HATE RADIO

There is no question that News International owns and runs the right-wing hate speech industry in the US. They are now engulfed in a massive scandal on this front as well.

Advertisers have abandoned Rush Limbaugh's program in droves -- 98 different corporations within days of when the problem started.

This was triggered by the public uproar that occurred when Limbaugh labeled Georgetown University law student Sandra Fluke as a "slut" and a "prostitute" -- for lobbying to provide better public access to birth control.

The total number of companies that have dropped Rush Limbaugh, as of March 21, 2012, is now up to a staggering 142.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE

Here's a story that was published when the first 98 were announced.

<http://thinkprogress.org/media/2012/03/10/442048/breaking-98-major-advertisers-dump-rush-limbaugh/>

Premiere Networks is circulating a list of 98 advertisers who want to avoid “environments likely to stir negative sentiments.”

The list includes carmakers (Ford, GM, Toyota), insurance companies (Allstate, Geico, Prudential, State Farm) and restaurants (McDonald's, Subway). As you'll see in the note below, those “environments” go beyond the Rush Limbaugh show.

“To all Traffic Managers: The information below applies to your Premiere Radio Networks commercial inventory....

“They’ve specifically asked that you schedule their commercials in dayparts or programs free of content that you know are deemed to be offensive or controversial (for example, Mark Levin, Rush Limbaugh, Tom Leykis, Michael Savage, Glenn Beck, Sean Hannity).”

This helps explain why, on Rush Limbaugh's flagship station WABC, almost all of the commercial breaks were filled with unpaid public service announcements....

But it's not just Limbaugh that these advertisers want to disassociate with, but other big names in right-wing radio too.

As the Daily Beast's John Avalon notes, this is unprecedented in the 20-plus years that Limbaugh and his imitators have been on the air -- and could spell real trouble for an industry that's already suffering demographically....

The advertising flight is reminiscent of Glenn Beck's Fox News program. After major companies refused to advertise on Beck's show in light of racially insensitive comments, he was left with just fringe businesses like survival seed banks and gold sellers.

Not long thereafter, he left Fox, reportedly under pressure.

NOT ALL OF IT IS BAD

Clear Channel is the mega-conglomerate that owns Premiere Radio Networks, which carries Rush Limbaugh and almost all other right-wing hate-radio “shock jocks.”

However, “Almost all of Clear Channel's primary talk stations are affiliated with Fox News Radio for national news -- part of a multi-year deal between Clear Channel and Fox.”

Though the names may change, it's the same corporate entity running the show here. Not all of it is bad, either.

Clear Channel and Premiere run Coast to Coast AM with George Noory, which I've appeared on more than 15 times -- and is a marvelous program.

It is perfectly acceptable to see how a company can have positive and negative aspects mixed together.

MOST TELEVISION NETWORKS FEATURE A VARIETY OF POSITIVE THINGS AS WELL

Most network and cable television stations feature a variety of content that is positive, in varying ways, for humanity. The vast majority of people working within these groups are honest, hardworking and positive -- and I know some of them.

I would strongly encourage everyone not to throw the baby out with the bath water. Once the conspirators have been arrested, these people will be able to step up much more -- and make a difference that will benefit everyone.

Many of the broadcast and cable networks have already aired programs that have a positive impact on the world - and in some cases have assisted with Disclosure.

As one example, I have appeared in seven episodes of Ancient Aliens on History Channel -- and am now developing my own show around the Source Field Investigations book.

This is not just a "what if", but is already significantly far down the road. I have not published the details of this just yet, for everyone's protection -- but once we have a more stable footing, I will definitely do so.

By the time we are ready to air the show, it may well be a very different world.

I look forward to seeing these good people be allowed to do their jobs, without restrictions -- and the incredible revolution of awareness this will then generate.

HATE DOESN'T SELL ANYMORE

Advertisers are now fleeing right-wing hate programming in droves. Without the oxygen of advertising money, these programs will quickly suffocate.

This programming is -- and always has been -- propaganda.

It is designed to support and enhance Financial Tyranny -- by agitating the public and getting them to turn on each other, thereby steering them away from the "men behind the curtain."

<http://freakoutnation.com/2012/03/10/its-not-just-rush-98-advertisers-now-fleeing-from-all-right-wing-radio-shows/>

The impact from Rush Limbaugh's unrelenting assault is vast. In fact, the entire right-wing radio industry could potentially go down with him.

The money making industry thrived due to Rush Limbaugh's highly controversial rhetoric -- and now, they can thank him for its potential demise.

Three long decades of misogyny has poured out of his mouth endlessly into the airwaves....

But this latest controversy comes at a particularly difficult time for right-wing talk radio. They are playing to a (sometimes literally) dying demographic.

Rush & Co. rate best among old, white males. They have been steadily losing women and young listeners, who are alienated by the angry, negative, obsessive approach to political conversations.

Add to that the fact that women ages 24--55 are the prize advertising demographic, and you have a perfect storm emerging after Limbaugh's Sandra Fluke comments.

Advertisers are waking up. Extreme partisan views conveyed through the airways against their main targeted demographic, do not sell.

THE WEBSITE WAS SCRUBBED -- BUT HE CANNOT ESCAPE ACCOUNTABILITY

Startlingly, the Fox / Clear Channel conglomerate attempted to hide the evidence and delete all the offending content from their websites featuring Rush Limbaugh -- but it was far too little, too late.

<http://crooksandliars.com/karoli/major-advertisers-tell-premiere-networks-no>

It turns out brands aren't really very excited about being associated with bullies smearing private citizens. The list of brands insisting on this is pretty impressive. Ford, Toyota, GM, McDonalds and Subway, to name a few.

All of which leaves Rushbo and Company with a dilemma. After all, their bread and butter is controversy and hate.

If these major national advertisers don't want their ads associated with hate, the haters may become loss leaders for their local affiliates. Wouldn't that be too bad?

This is all the product of the outcry against Rushbo's three-day tirade against Sandra Fluke, which caused the netroots to rise up and reach out to the advertisers keeping him on the air.

Despite the fact that Rush has scrubbed his website of the transcripts and offending content, he can't escape accountability for this.

LOS ANGELES PASSES LAWS AGAINST HATE RADIO

As the Rush Limbaugh scandal continues to explode in its scope and proportions, the Los Angeles city council has stepped in -- and passed a resolution forcing media companies to avoid broadcasting racist and sexist slurs.

LA City Council Close to Passing Resolution Blocking Hate Radio

<http://losangeles.cbslocal.com/2012/03/21/city-council-warns-crack-ho-comments-intolerable-calls-for-diversity-in-talk-radio/>

LOS ANGELES (CBS) — City Council members took a step closer on Wednesday to becoming the first in the nation to adopt a resolution condemning certain types of speech on public airwaves.

Councilmember Jan Perry introduced legislation that would call upon media companies to ensure “on-air hosts do not use and promote racist and sexist slurs” on radio and other broadcasts.

Members of Black Media Alliance, National Hispanic Media Coalition, Korean-American Bar Association and American Indians in Film and Television were on hand to voice their support for the proposal....

The proposal cites a “long history of racially offensive comments as well as deplorable sexist remarks, particularly towards women and Black, Latino, and Asian communities” at KFI 640 and calls for parent company Clear Channel Communications to hire a more diverse workforce to offset the trend.

“It is easy to become desensitized to what other groups find intolerable, which ultimately fosters an environment where negative comments can go unchecked -- and corporate guidelines and policies are no longer being enforced,” the resolution reads.

Remarks from syndicated talk show host Rush Limbaugh referring to Georgetown University law student Sandra Fluke as a “slut” and a “prostitute” for testifying on Capitol Hill about women's access to contraception were also cited in the proposal.

The very next day, the law was passed, 13-2, in the Los Angeles City Council -- as you can read here.

What you're seeing here is only a tiny taste of what is about to come. These are but the very first pebbles to have fallen from the coming avalanche. The roaring sound is becoming harder and harder to ignore.

The public hearings that will result from these mass arrests will break the whole story of Financial Tyranny wide open.

This will happen right on schedule -- following prophecies that were given to us thousands of years ago.

"MUPPETGATE" IS ANOTHER PEBBLE FROM THE COMING AVALANCHE

Greg Smith, a former high-ranking Goldman Sachs employee blew the whistle in a New York Times editorial on March 14, 2012 -- triggering a revolutionary public awakening now being called "Muppetgate."

So far, very few have "connected the dots" and realized that Goldman Sachs is one of the main Federal Reserve banking conglomerates -- but I doubt this part of the story will remain secret for very long.

According to Smith, Goldman executives call their clients "Muppets" and treat them as pathetic sub-humans -- purely to be exploited and stolen from. This has effectively revealed the sociopathic "Illuminati" mindset to the mass public.

Goldman Sachs has already gone into financial free-fall from this expose' -- hemorrhaging more than two billion dollars in a matter of days.

Goldman Sachs Loses 2 Billion from "Muppetgate" http://bottomline.msnbc.msn.com/_news/2012/03/15/10700472-goldman-sachs-roiled-by-muppetgate-loses-2-billion

Question: What's the cost to a company of one disgruntled former employee?

Answer: About $2 billion if it's Goldman Sachs.

That's how much of the bank's market value was wiped out after one of its directors, Greg Smith, resigned from the company and penned an op-ed piece in The New York Times attacking the firm's culture and treatment of clients.

The bank's shares fell 3.3 percent in trading Wednesday as London-based Smith's article set Wall Street and the media ablaze with discussion about the behavior of big banks bailed out by taxpayers after the financial crisis.

The share price decline meant Goldman lost some $2 billion in market value. Its market capitalization is currently just short of $65 billion.

A "TOXIC ENVIRONMENT"

This next excerpt from MSNBC reveals even more about how terrible it is to work at Goldman Sachs -- and the genuine darkness its employees find themselves in.

http://bottomline.msnbc.msn.com/_news/2012/03/14/10682553-goldman-sachs-exec-greg-smith-quits-saying-environment-at-firm-is-toxic

In a very public and scathing resignation letter, Goldman Sachs executive director Greg Smith has called the atmosphere at the massive investment bank "as toxic and destructive as I have ever seen it."

"Today is my last day at Goldman Sachs," wrote Smith, who was the head of the firm's U.S. equity derivatives business in Europe, the Middle East and Africa, in an Op-Ed in the New York Times on Wednesday titled "Why I am Leaving Goldman Sachs."

Smith, who is based in London and has been with Goldman for 12 years, went on to describe what he says is a deteriorating culture at Goldman Sachs where clients are called "muppets" and their interests are given short shrift.

"The firm has veered so far from the place I joined right out of college that I can no longer in good conscience say that I identify with what it stands for," Smith wrote....

"It makes me ill how callously people talk about ripping their clients off. Over the last 12 months I have seen five different managing directors refer to their own clients as 'muppets,' sometimes over internal e-mail," wrote Smith....

In an emailed statement, Goldman Sachs, said, "We disagree with the views expressed, which we don't think reflect the way we run our business. In our view, we will only be successful if our clients are successful. This fundamental truth lies at the heart of how we conduct ourselves."

UK TELEGRAPH EXPLORES THE ILLUMINATI MINDSET

This next excerpt from the UK Telegraph discusses the Illuminati mindset within Goldman Sachs that has been revealed as a direct result of "Muppetgate" -- the day after a Mayan Calendar shift-date that had been anticipated for years.

<http://www.telegraph.co.uk/finance/comment/damianreece/9142970/The-time-for-Goldman-Sachs-to-split-the-top-job-is-long-overdue.html>

This market autism has continued. If a trade makes a profit and it's within the rules, then do it. Ethics, perception, morals, emotional intelligence and even good old common sense are ignored....

[Goldman is] a bank whose alumni include two US Treasury Secretaries, including Paulson....

Goldman is a bank in denial and heading for a crash. I can't see any President recruiting from Goldman again, given recent years. And unless things change, the bank will lose clients....

Outbursts such as Smith's makes it easier for companies and investors to drop Goldman.

The bank needs to change, and has needed to do so for years. Some improvements have been made but they look superficial, and perception is nine tenths of reality here.

Remember -- if Goldman Sachs crashes, so does the Federal Reserve.

1 IN 10 WALL STREET BANKERS ARE CLINICAL PSYCHOPATHS

On March 2, 2012 -- just two days after the critical Feb. 29th "Day Out of Time" in the Mayan Calendar -- the Huffington Post ran an article that seemed to anticipate the bomb Greg Smith was about to drop on Goldman Sachs.

This might sound like the punchline to a joke -- but the destruction of the planet is no laughing matter, and these people must be stopped.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2012/03/02/psychology-book_n_1315990.html#s747885&title=Inhumane_or_simply

One out of every 10 Wall Street employees is a clinical psychopath, the CFA Institute (an investment and financial analysis organization) reports in the latest issue of CFA Magazine.

That makes psychopathy 10 times more prevalent among New York's financial elite than among us plebeians, for which the accepted statistic is a more palatable one in 100.

Psychopaths "generally lack empathy and interest in what other people feel or think," according to the study.

"At the same time, they display an abundance of charm, charisma, intelligence, credentials, an unparalleled capacity for... manipulation, and a drive for thrill seeking."

That Wall Street should harbor more than its share of psychopaths, then, will come as no shock to those frustrated by the entitlement and greed of the one percent.

The study also shows how easily psychopaths can pass, however, blending into our lives as co-workers, friends and even romantic partners.

JP MORGAN STAFF WARNED OFF OF TALKING ABOUT "MUPPETGATE"

Goldman Sachs is one of the Federal Reserve banks. So is JP Morgan Chase.

The lower-level employees probably don't know this, but the higher-ups at JP Morgan are directly aware that an attack against Goldman is a direct attack against JP Morgan, the Federal Reserve, and the Illuminati.

So, the proverbial "STFU" warning came out from the higher-ups.

JP Morgan Staff Told to Go Easy on Goldman Sachs' "Muppetgate"
<http://uk.reuters.com/article/2012/03/15/uk-jpm-goldman-idUKBRE82E09820120315>

(Reuters) - Investment bank JPMorgan tried to contain damage to Wall Street's reputation on Thursday by telling staff not to try to profit from rival Goldman Sachs' embarrassment over a vitriolic resignation letter published in the New York Times.

Equity derivatives salesman Greg Smith caused a firestorm across the banking industry on Wednesday with the letter, published as an opinion column and calling Goldman (GS.N) a "toxic" place to work where senior staff saw clients as "muppets".

JPMorgan Chase & Co (JPM.N) Chief Executive Jamie Dimon warned employees in an internal memo not to seek advantage from Goldman's "alleged issues", imploring them focus on standards, not on the furore stirred by Smith in what media and bloggers have called "Muppetgate".

"I want to be clear that I don't want anyone here to seek advantage from a competitor's alleged issues or hearsay -- ever. It's not the way we do business," Dimon said in the memo, a copy of which was seen by Reuters.

Dimon's memo, awaiting Asia employees in their e-mail inboxes on Thursday morning, was sent to the bank's global operating committee and later forwarded to wider parts of JPMorgan, said sources who have seen the memo.

JPMorgan declined to comment.

SUDDEN, STUNNING PUBLIC DIVORCE BETWEEN JP MORGAN AND THE VATICAN

Just five days after "Muppetgate," JP Morgan announced they were cutting off the Vatican Bank's private accounts, permanently -- by the end of the month.

This is of monumental significance to our discussion. The Federal Reserve is literally dropping everything and running from any financial association with the Vatican -- as fast as they can.

The divorce was announced on March 19th -- and will already be finalized as of March 30th. If nothing is going to happen, why would we see such urgency?

Many "Truth" researchers have concluded that the Vatican has been penetrated at the highest levels by the Illuminati. This does not mean the Vatican itself is evil, nor are most of the people working there -- but they have a very serious problem to deal with.

SCATTERING BEFORE THE AVALANCHE

All these Illuminati factions used to be on the same page -- but now, just like with the mass CEO resignations, they are turning on each other and scattering before the avalanche hits. Let's read more about this epic event.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2012/03/19/vatican-bank-image-hurt-closed_n_1363432.html

VATICAN CITY/MILAN, March 19 (Reuters) - JP Morgan Chase is closing the Vatican bank's account with an Italian branch of the U.S. banking giant because of concerns about a lack of transparency at the Holy See's financial institution, Italian newspapers reported.

The move is a blow to the Vatican's drive to have its bank included in Europe's "white list" of states that comply with international standards against tax fraud and money-laundering.

The bank, formally known as the Institute for Works of Religion (IOR), enacted major reforms last year in an attempt to get Europe's seal of approval and put behind it scandals that have included accusations of money laundering and fraud.

Italy's leading financial daily Il Sole 24 Ore reported at the weekend that JP Morgan Chase in Milan had told the IOR of the closing of its account in a letter on Feb. 15.

The letter said the IOR's account in Italy's business capital would gradually be phased out starting on March 16 and closed on March 30.

In Milan, JP Morgan Chase declined to comment and the Vatican also had no comment. It was not possible to contact IOR officials because Monday was a holiday in the Vatican.

Il Sole said JP Morgan Chase informed the IOR that the account was being closed because the bank's Milan branch felt the IOR had failed to provide sufficient information on money transfers.

The financial newspaper, which gave the number of the IOR account, said some 1.5 billion euros passed through it in about 18 months.

It said the account was a "sweeping facility," meaning that it was emptied out at the end of each day with funds transferred to another IOR account in Germany.

A STRING OF SCANDALS PLAGUES THE VATICAN

Illuminati whistleblowers Svali and Leo Zagami have both said the Vatican is the "spiritual head" of the Illuminati. That's why this news is so significant within the insider world.

In her radio interview with Greg Szymanski, Svali revealed that all members are forced to endure human sacrifice rituals that are conducted in the Vatican -- in a secret subterranean chamber, accessed by a door hidden behind a giant painting.

http://divinecosmos.com/Illuminati_Defector_Svali_Speaks.mp3

Any significant exposure and downfall of the Vatican will, therefore, reveal an incredible amount of sinister, hidden truth.

No one knew what Svali looked like until Ed Koni recently posted the newssvalispeaks.com website -- and included the above picture, without revealing what program it came from, or when it aired. No footage of the program is available on the site.

After I posted this, our intrepid commenters discovered this footage. It is from a BBC Conspiracies program in 2001, entitled "Satanic Panic." 2000 was the year Svali was the most active in writing articles. You can skip ahead to 6:24 to see Svali. Either link works:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=12ti-QTCeI4>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=v-F0t3x7uNI>

Svali has definitely not sought the limelight -- nor has she profited from her disclosures in any way. Instead, telling the truth got her tortured -- and she may have been killed.

Even her close confidante Ed Koni does not now know if she is alive. If she still is alive, she has gone completely into hiding.

THE PUBLIC DIVORCE

Now that we have more background on this subject, let's continue reading about this staggering public divorce between the Federal Reserve and the Vatican.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2012/03/19/vatican-bank-image-hurt-closed_n_1363432.html

The closure move by JP Morgan Chase, which was also reported by two leading general newspapers on Monday -- Corriere della Sera and La Stampa -- was a further blow to the [Vatican's] IOR [bank], whose image has been tarnished by a string of scandals.

In September, 2010, Italian investigators froze 23 million euros ($33 million) in funds in two Italian banks after opening an investigation into possible money-laundering.

The bank said it did nothing wrong and was just transferring funds between its own accounts. The money was released in June 2011 but Rome magistrates are continuing their probe.

The public image of the bank has also been harmed by the so-called "Vatileaks" scandal, in which highly sensitive documents, including letters to Pope Benedict, were published in Italian media....

THE "OCCULT ECONOMY" REVEALED

I was asked to write the epic Financial Tyranny piece by the "good guys" orchestrating the mass arrests. Some of this data has started gaining traction and coverage in the alternative media.

This article by Activist Post features some of the juicier parts of our investigation, with credit:

Secret "Occult Economy" Coming Out of the Shadows?

<http://www.activistpost.com/2012/03/secret-occult-economy-coming-out-of.html>

LORD JAMES OF BLACKHEATH BLOWS THE WHISTLE

Furthermore, within days after we published Financial Tyranny, Lord James of Blackheath publicly blew the whistle on 15 trillion dollars of fraud before the British Parliament -- validating everything we had just reported.

Specifically, Blackheath discusses three sums of $5 trillion each -- corresponding to 750,000 metric TONS of gold. This is significantly more gold than has ever existed in the "legitimate", registered economy, which weighs in only around 120,000 metric tons.

Lord James also reveals that his evidence includes an original, signed document from Alan Greenspan and Timothy Geithner -- which he has in his personal possession.

This is an utterly explosive accusation -- and we have definitely not seen the end of it yet.

The original link can be found here -- and you have to scroll ahead to 17:20 in order to hear Blackheath's speech.

Here is a YouTube clip of his speech:

TRANSCRIPT OF BLACKHEATH, PART ONE

Here is a link to an unofficial transcript of Blackheath's February 16th, 2012 speech -- along with a brief excerpt.

<http://www.rayservers.com/blog/lord-james-of-blackheath---15-trillion-dollars-and-750-thousand-metric-tonnes-of-gold>

I have been engaged in pursuit of this issue for nearly two years and I am no further forward in getting to the truth....

In April and May 2009, the situation started with the alleged transfer of $5 trillion to HSBC in the United Kingdom. Seven days later, another $5 trillion came to HSBC and three weeks later another $5 trillion.

A total of $15 trillion is alleged to have been passed into the hands of HSBC for onward transit to the Royal Bank of Scotland.

We need to look to where this came from and the history of this money. I have been trying to sort out the sequence by which this money has been created and where it has come from for a long time.

It starts off apparently as the property of Yohannes Riyadi, who has some claims to be considered the richest man in the world.

He would be, if all the money that was owed to him was paid -- but I have seen some accounts of his showing that he owns $36 trillion in a bank.

It is a ridiculous sum of money. [DW: The combined world GDP is only 62 trillion.]

However, $36 trillion would be consistent with the dynasty from which he comes -- and the fact that it had been effectively the emperors of Indo-China in times gone by.

A lot of that money has been taken away from him, with his consent, by the American Treasury over the years -- for the specific purpose of helping to support the dollar.

TRANSCRIPT OF BLACKHEATH'S SPEECH, PART TWO

<http://www.rayservers.com/blog/lord-james-of-blackheath---15-trillion-dollars-and-750-thousand-metric-tonnes-of-gold>

Mr Riyadi has sent me a remarkable document dated February 2006 in which the American Government have called him to a meeting with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, which is neither the Federal Reserve nor a bank.

It is a bit like "Celebrity Big Brother". It has three names to describe it -- and none of them is true.

This astonishing document purports to have been a meeting, which was witnessed by Mr Alan Greenspan, who signed for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York of which he was chairman, as well as chairman of the real Federal Reserve in Washington.

It is signed by Mr Timothy Geithner as a witness, on behalf of the International Monetary Fund. The IMF sent two witnesses, the other being Mr Yusuke Horiguchi.

These gentlemen have signed as witnesses to the effect that this deal is a proper deal. There are a lot of other signatures on the document. I do not have a photocopy; I have an original version of the contract.

TRANSCRIPT OF BLACKHEATH'S SPEECH, PART THREE: BUYING IT OUT

<http://www.rayservers.com/blog/lord-james-of-blackheath---15-trillion-dollars-and-750-thousand-metric-tonnes-of-gold>

Under the contract, the American Treasury has apparently got the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to offer to buy out the bonds issued to Mr Riyadi -- to replace the cash which has been taken from him over the previous 10 years.

It is giving him $500 million as a cash payment to buy out worthless bonds. That is all in the agreement -- and it is very remarkable.

Establishing whether I have a correct piece of paper is just two phone calls away -- one to Mr Geithner and one to Mr Greenspan, both of whom still prosper and live. They could easily confirm whether they signed it.

Mr Riyadi, by passing these bonds over, has also put at the disposal of the US Treasury the entire asset backing which he was alleged to have for the $15 trillion.

I have a letter from the Bank of Indonesia which says that the whole thing was a pack of lies. He did not have the 750,000 tonnes of gold which was supposed to be backing it; he had only 700 tonnes. This is a piece of complete fabrication.

TRANSCRIPT OF BLACKHEATH'S SPEECH, PART FOUR: TRUTH OR FICTION?

<http://www.rayservers.com/blog/lord-james-of-blackheath---15-trillion-dollars-and-750-thousand-metric-tonnes-of-gold>

Finally, I have a letter from Mr Riyadi himself, who tells me that he was put up to do this, that none of it is true, and that he has been robbed of all his money.

I am quite prepared to recognise that one of the possibilities is that Mr Riyadi is himself putting this together as a forgery in order to try to win some recovery.

But it gets more complicated than that because each of the $5 trillion payments that came in has been acknowledged and receipted by senior executives at HSBC -- and again receipted by senior executives at the Royal Bank of Scotland.

I have a set of receipts for all of this money. Why would any bank want to file $5 trillion-worth-$15 trillion in total-of receipts if the money did not exist?

The money was first said to have come from the Riyadi account to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York -- and from there it was passed to JP MorganChase in New York for onward transit to London.

The means of sending it was a SWIFT note which, if it was genuine, ought to have been registered with the Bank of England.

TRANSCRIPT OF BLACKHEATH'S SPEECH, PART FIVE: A FRIGHTENING PIECE OF PAPER

<http://www.rayservers.com/blog/lord-james-of-blackheath---15-trillion-dollars-and-750-thousand-metric-tonnes-of-gold>

When this came about, I took it to my noble friend Lord Strathclyde, and asked what we should do with it.

He said, "Give it to Lord Sassoon. He is the Treasury". So I did, and my noble friend Lord Sassoon looked at it.

He said immediately, "This is rubbish. It is far too much money. It would stick out like a sore thumb, and you cannot see it in the Royal Bank of Scotland accounts".

He went on to say, "The gold backing it is ridiculous. Only 1,507 tonnes of gold has been mined in the history of the world, so you cannot have 750,000 tonnes". That is true.

The third thing he said was, "It is a scam", and I agree with him. The problem is that at that point we stopped looking, but we should have asked what the scam was instead of just nodding it off.

We have never resolved it.

Today, I have this quite frightening piece of paper, which is my justification for bringing it into this meeting.

It is available on the internet and I am astonished that it has not already been unearthed by the Treasury -- because every alarm bell in the land should be ringing if it has.

OFF-MARKET GOLD ON "DEPOSIT"

The "off-market" gold is much, much greater than the "legitimate" gold. Blackheath and his colleagues cannot comprehend what they are looking at, so naturally their first impulse is to dismiss the whole thing.

Nonetheless, they have the "smoking gun" documents to prove how much gold is really there. You've already seen the pictures of bond boxes and gold hoards we've featured in Financial Tyranny -- which are far too numerous to be part of some elaborate hoax.

As I revealed in Financial Tyranny, the "off-market" gold was secretly hidden away in various locations throughout Southeast Asia by the Federal Reserve -- which is also known as the Bank for International Settlements.

It will be quite a shock when people realize how much gold there really is -- and how it was systematically plundered from the world.

The countries who surrendered their gold were told it would usher in a new era of peace and prosperity. This obviously did not happen.

Instead, confiscating the vast wealth of gold throughout the world -- from America, Europe and 85 percent of it from Asia -- created the opportunity for the Federal Reserve to print money out of thin air, backed by nothing.

This "magic printing press" allowed them to financially ruin just about everyone, seize natural resources, buy the media, starve impoverished countries, install puppet governments and attempt to establish a world dictatorship.

THE ITALIAN BONDS SCANDAL

Blackheath wasn't the only authority to step forward about massive financial scandals immediately after the release of Financial Tyranny.

The day after Blackheath gave his speech, Italian authorities seized six trillion dollars' worth of Federal Reserve bonds. This story quickly spread like wildfire throughout the international mass media.

These were in Chicago Federal Reserve boxes and chests that looked exactly the same as the ones in pictures the 134-nation alliance had given me to publish in Financial Tyranny.

http://www.msnbc.msn.com/id/46428102/ns/business-world_business/t/italian-police-seize-trillion-fake-t-bonds/

This astonished even the most hardened skeptics -- who had just finished reading our investigation.

I must cut everything below this point for now so I get this out before my interview at 6PM PST.

UPDATE, SAME NIGHT: WOW!

The interview was mind-blowing -- much better than I even expected -- and went on for three hours. It will be processed and released ASAP. More will be posted as soon as possible, but I am too tired to do any more tonight.

This so far is about one sixth of the entire piece in size. Most of it is already written.

One thing I still have to do is organize over 30 different links to the Italian bonds scandal. Much of the rest after that is already finished. Section III still needs a final "threading" as well.

This investigation is spreading like wildfire. Truly astonishing. We've already exceeded 20,000 hits as of 1AM PST, and it only was posted as of 6PM PST -- a mere seven hours earlier. That's 2,857 hits an hour. There are already over 120 comments, and many of our articles never used to get that many, ever.

I'm not saying this to brag. Rather, this reveals that you are getting the message -- and spreading the word.

UPDATE NEXT MORNING, 9:14 AM

As an intuitive, the amount of attention this article is getting is making it very hard to sleep and stay asleep. It's like a noisy conference call in the dream space right now.

This was represented as my having to do a lecture at a venue where there was a large dance class happening to my immediate left, and also over our heads as well -- but the show had to go on.

The only other time I've had this "interference problem" this strongly is after I first did Art Bell's radio show in 2000 for a whole night. Millions of people were listening back then -- and I could not sleep afterwards.

I came here to make one correction that had been suggested by email, and the "hit counter synchronicity" phenomenon happened again. It was 43332 when I loaded the page, and when I clicked on the link, a split-second later (literally) it was at precisely 43334.

It's still there now as I write this update, and will be until I post -- so I took a screen capture. Bear in mind this requires extreme coordination within fractions of a second, and is totally not planned on any conscious level.

The reason things like this happen is to again remind me, and then on to you, that there are higher forces orchestrating all of this and insuring that we will succeed. It's a nice reminder of what's really going on here.

Additionally, we are processing the audio from my interview right now and it will be uploaded as soon as it's done.

Unfortunately, since I did it with a very low-fidelity setup, my voice has some distortion and buzz when I talk. We will have to live with that. I will use Skype in the future to avoid this.

UPDATE 2:59 PM -- INTERVIEW WITH TOP INSIDER ABOUT IMMINENT MASS ARRESTS

I am on the plane to this weekend's conference in Austin. You are about to hear a stunning interview with Drake, an insider specifically asked by the Pentagon "good guys" to come forward and explain what is going to be done.

I was blown away by the information he was giving. If you didn't already believe this was really going to happen, this may very well change your mind.

I ran Drake through an extensive validation process with one of my top insiders and he passed with flying colors. He is the real deal.

We have an urgent-status rush transcription order for our Divine Cosmos Transcription Team on this, and will get it posted ASAP.

These are ZIP files. All you have to do is download them, open them and tell them where you want your MP3 to go. It's that simple -- just like our downloadable products. Here they are:

<http://divinecosmos.com/media/DivineCosmosDrakePart01.MP3.zip>

<http://divinecosmos.com/media/DivineCosmosDrakePart02.MP3.zip>

<http://divinecosmos.com/media/DivineCosmosDrakePart03.MP3.zip>

These MP3 files will load into ALL standard MP3 players and also into iTunes. However, iTunes has had some issues with MP3 files lately.

If you try to load these files into iTunes and it crashes, you need to update your iTunes. The current iTunes version 10.6.1 fixes most of these bugs.

Please update your iTunes to load them into your iPhone, iPod, or iPad in order to listen to these files on those devices.

ONE LAST NOTE ON COMMENTS...

We have a bit of a crisis regarding moderation as well. Your comments are coming in so fast that we do not have adequate staff support to hand-process them.

What I mean by this is the vast majority of people do not tag their links. Without these tags, they are dead links unless our staff fixes them by hand. There is no cyber-shortcut we've found for this in our system, unfortunately.

You have to type [url] before the link begins and [/url] after the link ends, like this:

[url]http://www.yourlink.com[/url]

Remember the second "tag" has to have a slash before the letters "url" in order for it to work properly.

A faster trick is to simply highlight the text of your link, again, after you've already pasted it into position. Then you will see a button above the comments window that is a blue circle. Hit that button and it will type the [url] text for you around whatever you highlighted.

Unfortunately, anyone who fails to do this will have broken links. It's the only way we can keep up with the volume of comments now coming in.

Also, you are on your own with the size of your paragraphs.

Please bear in mind that Internet sites require you to hit ENTER after every second or third sentence in order for your text to be readable without eyestrain. Notice how it is done here. This is the Web standard now for all professional journalism.

Our moderators used to do this for people manually, by hand, because so many gargantuan paragraphs were coming in and those comments would go unread.

Now we don't have the time to do this, so please remember to make your comments readable. Hit ENTER twice after every sentence or two, and you will be golden. Hitting it only once does not create a space between each sentence group.

We thank you for your support!

UPDATE SATURDAY 3/31: A BUSY WEEKEND

Once I'm in the flow of a weekend conference like this, it's very difficult to make time to do other things -- like work on this article.

I was going to try to post Section II in the cracks, and I dug in there just now -- but I can see I will need about three or four hours to get it done.

Therefore, you don't need to keep re-loading this weekend to see new updates. I will make another notification when the new section is posted -- hopefully early this coming week -- and will also tell you when the dynamic updates will be finished.

Thank you for all your support!

MASS ARRESTS: David Interviews Drake -- Transcript!

Written by David Wilcock Thursday, 05 April 2012 12:12

<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1043-massarrests>

Thousands of top conspirators in finance, media, pharmaceuticals and government are about to be arrested. Read this landmark interview transcript with "Drake" now -- before it becomes front-page news!

THIS IS A GOOD THING

The problems we face in today's world are extraordinary. You may feel as if there is no way out.

There is a core group responsible for the majority of these problems. If this group is defeated, it will be much easier for us to heal our planet.

Mass arrests of this core group have been planned since at least the 1970s -- according to Drake, a new whistleblower I recently interviewed.

This is the official, full transcript of that discussion -- where we combined the strength of what both of us have heard independently about this plan.

Like it or not, a civilian uprising alone would never have the logistical and tactical ability to resist such a well-armed and deeply-entrenched group.

There is an absolute requirement that the military, or at least a significant majority of it, supports the will of the people in a case like this -- in order for us to have a real chance at succeeding.

Despite the intrinsic paranoia and fear associated with any change of this scale, I firmly believe this will be a quantum leap in the healing of our planet. Freedom is not a pipe dream. The people demand it.

BREAKING THE DENIAL

Although a certain percentage of people are not strong enough to face the truth, just yet, everyone is aware at some level that we have occult forces manipulating finance and government.

Movies like "Thrive" lay it all out for you -- including the fact that these groups hope to kill billions of people, reducing Earth's population to a size they feel would be easier to control.

Foster Gamble recently made a video announcement that Thrive will now be distributed free of charge online -- as of today's date, April 5, 2012. See for yourself -- this is not a hoax:

Official Announcement that THRIVE Will Be Free

SEE THE MOVIE "THRIVE" FREE OF CHARGE -- OFFICIALLY!

Here is the new, dedicated link to the FULL version of Thrive. When I checked it there were still only 203 hits, as it had just gone live. You can copy this, distribute this to your friends, and it will remain stable:

If anyone still doesn't believe that these genocidal plots are real, send them this link and watch this movie with them -- together.

They will have a lot of questions -- and will probably need to pause it frequently and talk.

GENUINELY SOCIOPATHIC PEOPLE DO EXIST -- AND HAVE ORGANIZED

It may seem impossible to believe that anyone would want to install a global dictatorship -- but genuinely sociopathic people do exist.

In this case they are very well-organized, and have seized power very effectively -- particularly in the US, UK, Germany, France and Italy -- the G5.

My own definitive statement on this is the Financial Tyranny ebook, featured here at Divine Cosmos.

CONTROL OF THE MONEY SYSTEM

The real core of this group's power lies in the control of the money system -- through the Federal Reserve banking families and their international equivalent, the Bank for International Settlements or BIS.

This Financial Tyranny is the underlying root of a staggering number of problems on Earth.

Starvation and disease is epidemic in much of the world, and even in the modern countries there is widespread poverty and economic hardship.

The majority of the world is completely fed up with Financial Tyranny, and has formed an alliance to stop it -- using as non-violent a means as possible, while still achieving the necessary results.

Drake has revealed startling new information. The plan was already developed into a five-inch-thick briefing document as of 1979.

THE EFFORT IS GROWING AT AN INCREDIBLE SPEED

This plan will be carried out by a 60-percent majority of heroes in the Pentagon and US military -- who do NOT support Financial Tyranny, and genuinely have our best interests at heart.

There are now signs that this majority has recently become a lot more than 60 percent.

Drake just told me on the phone that he is now in direct contact with the underground on a mass level.

He is now working with every significant group having to do with freedom. The numbers are incredible. There are crushing demands on his time as a result. Everyone wants to get clear on how they can help.

His latest show, after our interview, consumed more bandwidth than every other program in the entire history of Blog Talk Radio -- combined -- and strangled the server.

An estimated 1.3 million listeners tuned in -- live. There are already YouTube copies of my interview with Drake that have over a hundred thousand views each.

The original MP3s have been downloaded hundreds of thousands of times from this website as well.

THE MASS ARRESTS

Former Asia-Pacific bureau chief Benjamin Fulford was the first to break this story, as far as I am aware. He has been talking about it for at least three years now.

The complexity of an operation like this is staggering -- as this cabal effectively controls the media, and uses murder, torture, blackmail and bribery to insure it is never exposed.

I became personally involved by interviewing Fulford several times now -- and posting the transcripts, which have never ceased to be fascinating.

In addition, I began directly working with some of his top contacts behind the 134-nation alliance of countries ready to end Financial Tyranny -- as of last November.

If these mass arrests do occur, and I very much believe they will, this will be at least as significant as 9/11 in world history -- if not far more so. And in this case it will be significantly positive, not negative.

Everyone will be talking about it. There will be no possible way NOT to talk about it. The scope will be that vast -- and all-encompassing.

THE BACKSTORY -- OPERATION NORTHWOODS

The full details of the plan, including its origin, are classified -- as some of the people involved are still alive. Any attempt to attach it to a particular time window could significantly increase the threat of exposing them.

However, in Operation Northwoods, the US government seriously considered terrorizing its own cities to provoke a war with Cuba -- as of 1962.

ABC News published the details of this plan on May 1, 2001 -- before 9/11.

U.S. Military Wanted to Provoke War with Cuba
<http://abcnews.go.com/US/story?id=92662>

By David Ruppe
N E W Y O R K, May 1, 2001

In the early 1960s, America's top military leaders reportedly drafted plans to kill innocent people and commit acts of terrorism in U.S. cities to create public support for a war against Cuba.

Code named Operation Northwoods, the plans reportedly included the possible assassination of Cuban émigrés, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas, hijacking planes, blowing up a U.S. ship, and even orchestrating violent terrorism in U.S. cities.

The plans were developed as ways to trick the American public and the international community into supporting a war to oust Cuba's then new leader, communist Fidel Castro.

America's top military brass even contemplated causing U.S. military casualties, writing: "We could blow up a U.S. ship in Guantanamo Bay and blame Cuba," and, "casualty lists in U.S. newspapers would cause a helpful wave of national indignation."

You can read original scans of the entire document, in all its chilling clarity, here.

The Wikipedia page on Operation Northwoods is also quite good -- at least right at this time.

ONE POSSIBLE TIME WINDOW FOR THE GENESIS OF THE PLAN

Kennedy turned the plan down after it was offered to him. This plan also undoubtedly caused a great deal of alarm among many top military brass.

Seeing Kennedy assassinated, in broad daylight, not long thereafter made them very aware of what they were up against.

The same types of operations detailed in the Northwoods document had now been used against their own Commander in Chief.

For those who swore an oath to protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, and its people, against all enemies -- foreign and domestic -- this was certainly a powerful wake-up call.

Very likely this is when the plan for mass arrests started to gain momentum and support.

ANOTHER TIME WINDOW FOR THE PLAN: NIXON'S PLANNED COUP

When I did the interview with Drake, it occurred to me that Nixon's planned coup, which he circulated amongst all the top military brass, undoubtedly influenced the plan for mass arrests.

I had first read about this in William T. Still's epic work, New World Order. Here are a few excerpts from the first chapter, which spells it all out.

Excerpts from New World Order: The Ancient Plan of Secret Societies by William T. Still 7 On about October 15, 1973, I was given a memorandum by my father, Lt. Col. William L. Still, a retired Air Force officer, one of the architects of the military's defense communications network.

On October 3, 1973 he was approached by an acquaintance, Joe Josephson, who claimed he had connections with the White House of President Richard M. Nixon.

This acquaintance asked my father how he and his military friends would feel about a military takeover of the U.S. government....

The Watergate hearings had gone on throughout the summer and now President Nixon was refusing to comply with court orders to surrender the White House tapes as evidence....

My father was dumbfounded by the suggestion that a coup was afoot. Fortunately, he was able to conceal his shock long enough to learn some of the details from his associate, Mr. Josephson.

LT. COL. STILL'S MEMORANDUM

8 Shortly thereafter, he wrote a memorandum detailing the incident and circulated it in military intelligence and FBI channels. This startling memorandum reads as follows:

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Subject: Rumor concerning planning for a Military Coup within the USA.

INTRODUCTION

My name is William L. Still, Lt. Col., USAF (Ret). I am not an alarmist, and consider myself to be intelligent, objective and an analyst of above average capability. I am writing this statement only after careful consideration of its potential impact on both the country and myself...

A committee exists which is dedicated to... keeping Mr. Nixon in office by any means – INCLUDING A MILITARY COUP BY HIGH RANKING OFFICERS!

I heard this rumor on 3 October 1973. The man from whom I heard this story stated that he had recently been "sounded out" on a writing job for the committee, and that there was apparently unlimited money behind it as "price was no object" in salary discussions....

We then entered into a discussion on the tactics which could be used to execute such a coup.

During the course of the discussion, I was questioned as to the feasibility of the plan, and asked whether I thought senior military men could be enlisted for such an effort.

A PLAN TO BOMB AMERICAN CITIES

This next part of the story is particularly provocative in light of 9/11 -- and this is much less known than Operation Northwoods.

Part of this plan to declare martial law and suspend the Constitution involved assassinating the vice president in broad daylight, and bombing American cities.

Then, the whole thing would be blamed on terrorists -- and would force a declaration of martial law and the suspension of the Constitution.

Nixon's continued power would be ensured -- regardless of the public uproar over Watergate. That was part of the plan.

10 THE AGNEW AFFAIR – SEPTEMBER 1973

A mass-market paperback book entitled The Glasshouse Tapes was published by Louis Tackwood, who claimed that he was a member of a super-secret domestic intelligence unit of the Los Angeles Police Department which was working on a plan to create a chaotic domestic political situation in the U.S. that would give President Nixon the justification for declaring martial law.

Tackwood claimed that he helped set up a secret operation which would allow anti-war demonstrators to break onto the floor of the 1972 Republican convention, then scheduled to take place in San Diego, just as Vice-President Agnew began to speak.

Tackwood and his accomplices would then cause a riot on the convention floor, with the demonstrators battling police. During the resulting uproar, the vice-president would be shot on nationwide TV to gain maximum impact.

This incident would be followed by a wave of nationwide bombings, for which the revolutionary left would openly take credit.

In response, President Nixon would then have the justification to declare a state of national emergency, and essentially suspend Constitutional rights....

11 The idea in such an assassination strategy is, of course, to create a chaotic condition. This is usually considered a necessity in coup-making. At the peak of chaos, you move quickly and ruthlessly to seize power by force and kill your opposition during the turmoil....

THE STAKES IN WATERGATE WERE HIGHER THAN WE REALIZED

This next set of excerpts are only two of the most powerful examples of people speaking out about what almost happened back in 1973. We are very fortunate that these plans did not take place.

Again -- I believe that in the fullness of time, we will find out that the plan for mass arrests significantly accelerated as a result of these events.

12 In June, 1982 Watergate grand juror Harold Evans appeared in a segment of the ABC news magazine 20/20 and said that [Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon] Jaworski had warned the grand jury that if indicted, the president might have "surrounded the White House with armed forces."....

13 Seymour Hersh, writing in the August 1983 edition of the Atlantic Monthly, stated: ...

"The notion that Nixon could at any time resort to extraordinary steps to preserve his presidency was far more widespread in the government than the public perceived in the early days of Watergate -- or perceives today."

THINK ABOUT WHAT THIS MEANS

I've just shared two very powerful examples with you, each of which has been thoroughly documented, where certain high-ranking members of the military planned on attacking American cities and blaming it on terrorists.

The Nixon coup in particular made it clear that this wasn't just to go after a commonly-perceived enemy like Cuba -- it was to establish a military dictatorship in the United States, and take away all freedoms promised in the Constitution.

The most significant new data from Drake's testimony, to me, is how these mass arrests have been planned since at least 1979 -- and the briefing document was already five inches thick by then.

It is ridiculous to assume that "everybody is in on it" if they are in finance, media, government, corporations or military. That is a cartoonish, ignorant view -- and actually constitutes a form of mental illness.

The reality is that most of the people working in these areas are good. Only a very small number of folks at the very top have been causing all the trouble.

Drake and I discuss many other subjects in our interview as well. Everyone would be well advised to read this and get informed.

My own insiders have told me that this plan for mass arrests has been in very high gear ever since 9/11. However, they cannot move until they have everything lined up properly -- and legally. That moment has finally arrived.

Now that I have posted this transcript, I will get back to finishing its companion piece, DIVINE INTERVENTION.

INTRODUCTION: THE PLAN FOR MASS ARRESTS

DAVID WILCOCK (DW): Hello. This is David Wilcock. You're listening to a Divine Cosmos audio blog. Today's date is, let's see ... the 28th of March. It's a Wednesday. It's 6 p.m., Pacific Daylight Time.

I'm here with a remarkable new whistleblower who has just come forward. His name is Drake. That's what he's going by.

I contacted him because I have been covering this story about pending mass arrests.

You have to understand the scope of what we're talking about here. We're not talking about 10 people, 20 people.

We're talking about a systematic, potentially world-wide effort -- although most of these conspirators are in the G5 countries, so I've heard.

[The G5 countries are the US, UK, Germany, Italy, France.]

This is a very wide-spread effort to effectively give us, as a planet, a massive dose of antibiotics -- against an infection that has been threatening to almost completely destroy its host.

The host would be the Earth and its people; the animals, the plants, the trees and everything.

DAVID DIDN'T GET IT AT FIRST

DW: Drake came along on the Internet recently. I was sent an email by him, announcing that he was going to have some radio shows.

But, when the email first passed by my desk, I didn't quite catch the impact of what it was saying.

Up until now, the only people who have really been reporting on these pending mass arrests whatsoever have been Benjamin Fulford and myself.

In both cases, we have, together and independently, sets of contacts, some of which are deeply embedded within the Pentagon, who have reported to us that this is VERY REAL.

In fact, I had heard from an off-the-books source -- this is not somebody who's gone public at all -- that this had been sparked by 9/11, to a large degree.

Many people in the military realized that they were not in the chain of need-to-know.

This was not Arabs with box cutters that caused these buildings to fall into their own footprint.

If that could happen -- if kerosene can melt steel -- then every kerosene heater ever built is a massive hazard; but yet they're all sitting there just fine.

SOMETHING IS GOING ON HERE

DW: Something is going on here. People know about it. They're scared of it.

And, in what I call the Sheep Effect, they feel that if they keep their head down, then the wolf won't know that he's been spotted.

The sheep who's dumb enough to look up and stare the wolf in the eye is going to make him charge. That's the one who ends up dying.

I'm not afraid of death. Neither is Drake.

He's here, and he has put a public face behind something that, up until now, has sounded like two guys stroking their egos -- trying to say something that makes everybody feel good, but has no teeth behind it.

[to Drake] And now, here you are. I want to hear what you have to say.

Why don't you tell us a little about yourself and how you got into all this? [Sound of an elephant roar]

DRAKE WAS FULLY VETTED OUT

DRAKE (DK): [laughs] What I'd like to do ... in conjunction with that is let people know what we're not.

DW: Okay, great.

DK: This will give everybody a better idea as to what's going on.

DW: Oh, I'm sorry, one more thing I should point out is that I called you the other night. We spoke for ... 4 hours and 22 minutes is what the phone said when I hung it up.

DK: [laughs]

DW: I called you jointly with one of my very senior top insiders. You will now be able to vouch that you spoke to him, and how amazing that discussion was.

More importantly, I've trusted him, built it up over years, and he vetted you out.

He actually identified dozens of specific points you said that are not on public record, that you could not have known unless you are the bonafide, authentic, real deal.

I wanted to make that point first.

DK: Cool. [laughs]

WHAT ARE YOU NOT?

DW: So, some disclaimers you said you have to give us here. What are you not?

DK: You know, uh ... [takes a breath] there's a ... [sighs] a boat-load of people who would like to jump on the bandwagon and get whatever they can get in terms of snatching names or name-dropping, that sort of thing.

They post a website with a certain name, and everybody gravitates to it because of this or that. Whether it's selling anything or not doesn't seem to matter, basically.

I want to make this absolutely clear. There's a thing out there [on the Internet] called nation-states.

The project we [originally] undertook falls under the definition of what a nation-state is -- in terms of sovereignty.

However, there is no such thing as nation-states. It does not exist. There is nothing by that name from us. Okay?

DW: Okay.

DK: Without affiliation, there is even less.

Any of the websites out there that say nation-states is probably somebody trying to either sell a widget or build up their importance.

Or, they've got an ego problem -- or they want to take issue with what we are about.

WE DO NOT HAVE A GROUP, NOR A LEADER

DK: We do not have a group. There is no group. There are several groups, but no main group.

There's no leader. And we don't have a database that we keep on anybody. Most of the people are anonymous, in that we do not know exactly all of the people involved in this.

Primarily, this was a project given to us -- and I'll explain the parameters of it in a minute.

The process was, at first, an accident in some ways. The information I contributed originally came over a radio show where I complained about something.

Somebody took notes, tried it and it worked. We'll cover a little of that in just a minute.

The only basic thing that we've done is a notification process that was defined by the basis of lawful notification of a nation-state, its existence and the proclamation of that to the world.

DW: The idea behind doing this is ultimately for sovereignty and freedom.

DK: Exactly.

DW: For actual states in the United States, as well as for individuals in the United States.

DK: Exactly.

DW: Okay.

WE DON'T KNOW EVERYONE INVOLVED

DK: There are several things that go into this. We're not affiliated with the White Knights, Gate Keepers. It's just us.

And we, as I said, don't even know everybody involved.

DW: Neither do I. It's funny because another contact I have was demanding that they be put in touch with this group. [DK laughs]

And I said: Look. I only have two points of contact with this group. Well, okay, three, but nobody wants to say anything.

The amount of information I've gotten has just been in little bitty trickles.

But nonetheless, if you add up what the trickles are saying, this is an incredible, incredible story of what's getting ready to happen here.

Some of the things you were saying on the other radio show about how much has already been moved into position and how much is ready to go right now -- it's astonishing.

I want people to hang in there, because right now we're going through some of the bookkeeping that has to be done to build up to this.

But, once we get to the main thrust of this story, it's absolutely amazing. So, please, go on.

FREEDOM REIGNS

DK: Okay. If somebody wants to know about what we're doing and they would like to listen to the radio programs which are archived, they need to go to Freedom Reigns.

That's F-R-E-E-D-O-M, just like freedom. Reigns is R-E-I-G-N-S dot US.

[<http://www.freedomreigns.us/>]

That website has been put up to alleviate us having to repeat ourselves, and the extraordinary glut of letters filling up the mailbox and this sort of thing -- so we have time to do what we're needing to do.

NOT AFFILIATED WITH RESTORE AMERICA PROGRAM

DK: There is one stipulation in this, and I want to make this absolutely clear. We do not have anything to do with R.A.P., RuSA, which is Tim Turner's group. His people...

DW: Restore America Program [R.A.P.] is what you're talking about, right?

DK: Uh ... yeah.

DW: Okay.

DK: If you go on the <http://www.freedomreigns.us/> website, there are exposures for that group.

DW: Yeah. I was just going to say, the name 'Tim Turner' seems to be popping up in my mind because I think someone wrote an expose' on him recently, didn't they?

DK: Yes. One of our principals has an extraordinary library of things that out the group as to what the people in charge were doing, or what they intend to do.

The ultimate goal was to literally arbitrarily create their own government -- and put it in place.

Tim Turner has declared himself as a, quote: "savior," "god," or whatever.

All funds collected in the country were to go to him personally -- among other things.

And it gets worse from there. I'm not going to get into the details.

DW: Wouldn't this also serve the function of owning the opposition? Flushing out the people that really want to do something, and making them think that...

DK: I'm pretty sure that that's probably what the idea was.

DW: Okay.

DK: There're several of these types of operations. I call it the cabal.

DRAKE WAS VALIDATED IN MANY WAYS

DW: Right. And one of the main reasons why I'm confident that you're not one of those is I vetted you out with someone who has impeccably proven trust over years of time.

The degree to which we validated you was vast. It encompassed over four hours of discussion. So, I do not consider that you are in that group.

I have to keep my thinking cap on as you're talking.

I have to remember that one of the epidemics we have on the Internet right now is people who think they're smart just because they disagree with every single thing they hear.

They believe that every single thing they hear must be a lie -- and must be the opposite of truth.

It's very difficult to counteract that, because it's a knee-jerk response that people have had due to the extent to which they've been lied to.

I know that you're not lying, because ... first of all, your words resonate to me as truth.

And second of all, I proved that you're telling the truth in a multiplicity of ways in this conversation that we had.

So, please, go on.

DK: I thank you for that.

DW: Sure.

CHECK THE WEBSITE

DK: I want to tell everybody who listens to this or reads it -- and I understand it's going to be transcribed -- do your own research and homework, please.

Go to freedom; F-R-E-E-D-O-M. Reigns; R-E-I-G-N-S dot US. Put it in your search engine.

And the website that that contacts run through to the group and things that we get -- our radio show, this sort of thing -- is all there.

[<http://www.freedomreigns.us/>]

If you need further questions, ask the webmaster. We will see what we can do about supplying an answer to it. Now, basically this is the prelude to what exactly went on.

Uh, you want me to go into that now?

DW: Well, actually, let's talk about underwater basket-weaving. That might be a little more interesting.

DK: [laughs] I have trouble holding my breath that long.

DW: [laughs]

DK: [laughs] Um...

DW: No. I mean, this is what we're here for, right?

DK: Yeah.

A VAST AMOUNT OF INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE

DW: I've heard from my own sources that there is an absolutely vast amount of incriminating evidence that has been collected that will bring down whatever you want to call them -- the New World Order, the Illuminati, et cetera.

You gave me some very specific information about how much of that evidence exists. I don't know whether that was public or not, so I'm not going to say more right now.

You also have given much more specific information publicly than what I've heard privately.

You have fleshed this thing out into a three-dimensional entity that has gone way beyond the point of a speculative what-if, and into: Okay. This is a vast operation.

They've been building up to it for a long time. It's extremely clever and it's extremely intelligent how it's been put together.

It has been calculated for maximum effect and maximum success. And there's a great deal of coordination that will be involved.

THIS IS NOT A MARTIAL LAW, NEW WORLD ORDER TAKEOVER

DW: I think that probably one of the main things that needs to happen, and why they asked you to come forward, is we really need to help the public know that this is not another silly New World Order martial law takeover.

This is what, obviously, certain disinformation outlets are going to try to spin this as once it happens.

But this is in fact the saving of the planet. And it's the military, as you were saying, not following unlawful orders -- and actually living up to their Oath of Enlistment.

It says right in the Oath that every soldier has to swear to, before God, that he will defend and protect the United States against all enemies -- foreign and domestic.

DK: That's the United States Constitution.

DW: The Constitution. That's right.

DK: You are right about this.

NO ONE ELSE WAS PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

DK: I came up above the radar by accident. But, nobody else was putting out any of the basis of the plans involved, nor the level at which this is actually coming from.

Consequently, I felt it my patriotic duty to at least lay out some of the basics.

Now, some detail I cannot go into, and won't go into.

If we reach a certain level, I'll say: No. We can't talk about that.

And we can go on to another subject.

THE VIETNAM WAR

DK: The basis for this is that I learned how to walk point in Vietnam. So, shooting at me does not do a lot of good -- other than to really upset me.

This is for the simple fact that in Vietnam, every time we sat to eat, we'd get shot at.

Scooping your food off of the ground ain't no fun. It's crunchy, among other things. [DW laughs]

It really does things to me when somebody shoots at me. So that's not something I recommend.

DW: My father voluntarily enlisted in the Army Reserve and served our country in Vietnam. He was actually one of the only journalists over there reporting on, among other things, the rock-and-roll movement and Woodstock.

So, he was sort of like one of the Good Morning Vietnam people. [DK laughs]

He did get PTSD. I had kind of a rough childhood because, in a way, it was like having a drill sergeant for a father. [DK laughs]

That's sort of the aftermath of how Vietnam has impacted me. I just turned 39 years old.

I have every degree of respect and admiration for your service. I thank you for serving this country.

DK: You are very welcome.

PROPAGANDA AND "FEAR PORN"

DK: The basis of this is two-fold. I learned how to walk point. And now, my goodies are above the radar. So, I got put in the open for two reasons.

One, I felt it my patriotic duty to try to inform the people as to what is really going on -- so that they don't have to listen to a bunch of idiots on the Internet spouting off whatever kind of imaginary stuff they come up with.

People do not need to listen to those bad dreams. That's primarily what they are.

Most of it is propaganda, and most people don't know what the word propaganda means. In Spanish, they put it on trash cans, because that's where it goes.

DW: [laughs]

DK: Everybody needs to get their heads wrapped around this.

DW: I call it fear porn.

DK: Yeah.

DW: I coined that term because I believe that people read this and get addicted to it, because it physiologically stimulates you in the same way that sexual material does.

It actually makes your heart rate go up; your breathing rate goes up. You get a high off of being terrified.

MANIPULATED NEWS

DW: Unfortunately, the Powers That Were, as I like to call them... [DK chuckles] ...have very effectively manipulated that human response.

You have entire outlets of alternative news that, as you just said, have built themselves and have profited extensively off of the undeniably pessimistic view they keep having.

It's almost impossible to listen to them.

When folks like you get on there, who have a positive message, you just come against this incredible wall of negativity and fear, and just ... absolute denial that anything good could be coming out of all this stuff that's going on in the world.

I do believe that good people have seen what's going on. They're rising up and they're not going to take it anymore.

DO YOUR OWN RESEARCH AND HOMEWORK

DK: Well, that pretty much sums it up. I'm going to reiterate this again: Do your own research and homework.

It's not the responsibility of somebody to teach you the basic English language in order to read a website.

Most people have the capability; they just refuse to do so, and would rather go off in gaga land in front of the TV, or play video games, or they're busy texting their friends and playing with themselves.

The ideology is this -- we're coming up against the wall.

Now, most people -- and I don't care who reads this -- most people with any kind of common sense at all knows that.

There are some real serious things going on in the economy. The lack of jobs, the amount of foreclosures [and] the separation of families because of economic problems, okay?

These are some of the basis of the fear that these people who originate it, live on.

LAYING OUT THE BASICS

DK: I'm going to lay the basic[s] of how I found this. It was an accident, quite honestly.

DW: Okay.

DK: I've been studying and been involved in freedom movements and all that stuff for years.

I've tried, in every way, shape or form, to get somebody to put the beer down and get up off the couch, and do a little something -- go talk to the neighbor, anything.

DW: Yeah, but what if it's really good beer?

DK: Well, yeah. But the problem is, you sit on the couch and all you do is you consume the beer and you yak about stuff that doesn't necessarily mean anything.

[to David] You probably would have a good conversation, but... [DW laughs] most people are talking: Ooh, look at that guy shoot that ball at the hoop, or whatever.

I'm going to tell you -- that's superficial. That's one of the distractions.

DW: Absolutely.

DK: Just like texting. Just like a lot of phone conversation, and the things that do not stay on target.

STUDYING FREEDOM PHILOSOPHERS

DK: Within all this, I've also studied a lot of what's called freedom efforts. This includes freedom philosophers and their type.

This man got on a radio show and was spouting off all kinds of half-way measures that would get somebody put in jail if they did them.

DW: You're saying he was encouraging people to grab their guns and just ... Oh, Now is It! You gotta go out there and start shooting!

DK: No. This was even more basic than that.

DW: Oh.

DK: This was like being able to argue a traffic ticket out of court. Real simple stuff.

DW: Oh, right, right.

CRITICAL INFORMATION WAS BEING LEFT OUT

DK: Well, the only problem is that you can get up to six months for playing games with the judge if you do not know how to do this.

This guy was leaving out critical information that would almost guarantee that you got the six months, because you were giving the finger to the judge.

There are some things you do not do.

DW: Yeah.

DK: The guy basically had upset me.

DW: You don't want to get a Vietnam vet grumpy; that can be a big problem.

DK: Well, yeah. But the deal was this, okay? I needed to know. And everybody had told me: You can't do this and you can't do that -- okay?

FREEDOM SCHOOL OF TEXAS

DK: Then you have things like the Texas Freedom School or Freedom School of Texas -- I forget which it is -- that does have some good information, but it is kind of fragmented.

DW: Okay.

DK: Some of it is not complete, even though people would like you to think they are. But for $9.95, you can get the book that explains it all just right.

Well, I'm not willing to pay for freedom.

That's not what it says anywhere about freedom at all, as far as I can find it.

DRAKE DID HIS OWN HOMEWORK

DK: I decided to do my own research and my own homework.

I had looked at this stuff. I tried to get people up off the couch and that didn't work. So, I didn't have much to do except the research.

I started looking at the basis of law, where it comes from. I'm talking about way back in the woods of history.

Some of the places I went required me to have anything that I was intending to copy or borrow a copy of electronically, approved before they would release it.

DW: Hmmm.

DK: Some of this stuff is not for consumption by the general public. They make sure of that.

After two-and-a-half years, I figured out pretty much what everything said.

HE WOULDN'T TAKE NO FOR AN ANSWER

DW: I'm sorry. Can an ordinary civilian gain access to these documents? Or was this because you had some sort of classified access?

DK: No. It depends on whether or not you're as nasty as a junkyard dog and tenacious as a bulldog... [DW chuckles]

You refuse to take no for an answer, and you bother somebody until they decide to allow you to do something -- simply because they don't want to fool with you anymore.

DW: I gotcha.

DK: That basically does research, and it covers all of it. Those people who won't listen, they eventually do when you get a hold of them every day.

DW: Right.

DK: When you just send them 50 emails a day, one every minute or something, it bugs them enough -- it's like mom. [laughs]

When you used to want to get something from mom, if you bug her enough, she'll say: Confound it, leave me alone!

And it works, okay? [DW chuckles]

So, the song, I believe, was: You Get Your Way by Insisting, okay? [DW laughs]

I insisted, so I got the information.

HOW TO STEP OUT OF THE “NORMAL” CONSTRAINTS OF LAWS

DK: I studied this over about two-and-a-half years. And, believe me, it is intricate.

It is extraordinary. What it told me was a simplistic, basic way to step outside of the normal controls of what people consider as “laws.”

You have limitations, supposedly, between a citizen of one country and a citizen of another.

Those two, legally, are supposedly separated. That's not quite true. Little things of that nature were what I was after to learn.

I had studied this stuff for about two-and-a-half years. I finally took a break from it because my head was beginning to hurt.

I decided to listen to a little Internet radio and play a little cards on the machine.

And, lo and behold, here comes this friggin' idiot -- he's one of these freedom philosophers.

This is somebody that thinks they know what they're doing when they are missing several critical points that will get your butt put in jail -- but they want you to try it.

You know: Oh, I've done this. Yeah, right.

GETTING OUT OF TRAFFIC TICKETS, ET CETERA

DW: This is the guy that would teach you how to beat a traffic ticket, but you could go to jail for six months?

DK: Yeah.

DW: Right.

DK: That sort of thing. Real simple.

DW: Okay.

DK: If you'd go about it correctly, it works fine. Okay? But if you don't, you end up actually opposing the judge.

DW: Right.

DK: That's a big no-no. What you do is, you allow the law to oppose the judge -- then the judge has to rule in a succinct manner. Plus, you're not standing in a land-mine field.

That is not a nice place to stand, believe me, I've been in one.

So, this thing gets on there and decides to mouth off about this stuff. All he did was to almost instantly make me mad.

DRAKE CALLS IN TO THE RADIO SHOW

DK: So, I snatch the phone and I call in, and I said: Hey.

And he said: Hi.

And I said: According to what you just put out, most of that belongs in the toilet because you're going to get people in trouble.

[in a lower voice] What do you mean?

I said: Your information is not total, is not complete, and you're going to get people in trouble by espousing this, by saying that: 'You know, if you do this, you can get away ... you can tell the judge what to do.'

Well, no, that ain't part of this and you know it. And if you don't ... I've been giving you a lot more credit than you deserve, so why don't you shut up and listen?

Well, about this time, the host of the show comes on and says: Hey, come on now. You're going to have to watch it.

And I said: Hey, look. Did you realize that you can be held liable if somebody gets in trouble for what this guy's saying onto your show?

DW: Hmm!

DK: Really?

I said: Yeah! Now you want me to clear this mess up?

Yes.

DK: Then the guy comes back with this "sovereignty" routine.

I got upset for the second time, and told him to shut up and listen, and maybe he would learn something; that he might want to learn how to read at the same time.

DECLARING SOVEREIGNTY

DK: I laid out the primary basis for what is required in order to declare any area.

Let's say you got an area somewhere in the middle of Timbuktu-land, but it's yours and it's registered in terms of the boundaries, basically.

Or, you have at least real definitive markings as to so you can tell where it is, what it is and how big it is.

You can then declare that area sovereign.

And by doing so, you actually create your own nation-state.

DW: Well, if I declared my toilet a sovereign zone, then I could drop waste into it and be pretty much like the government.

DK: Well, so long as it stays within your area, yes.

By that I mean you should declare the whole yard -- and use a finger system if you're going to do something of that nature. [DW laughs]

That way you're protected legally.

DW: Right on.

PENNSYLVANIA SOVEREIGNTY

DK: But I'm saying, there are little bits of information. It can get squirrely, and it's a lot of fun to deal with, but ...

I laid this process out. Basically what we did, and the way the process worked, happened, as I said, by accident.

While I'm telling this guy how this works, somebody in the great State of Pennsylvania took notes.

DW: Oh wow.

DK: I didn't have any idea anybody would even be listening, other than to shut this turkey up that didn't know what he was talking about.

DW: Right. So, obviously, a state itself could be a "sovereign zone" or declared as such – and those who govern the state could get wind of what you've figured out from your extensive research and implement that research.

DK: Yes.

DW: Wow.

DK: That's basically what happened in Pennsylvania.

NOTIFYING THE HAGUE

DK: The person that took the notes was fairly knowledgeable in the real sovereign legalities and lawfulness.

This person took that knowledge, in combination with what I had put together, got with some other people, and they said: Well yeah, let's see what happens.

So, they put together a Process of Notification and they sent it off to the International Court of the Hague.

[http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/International_Court_of_Justice]

DW: Oh my God.

DK: This is the Civilian Division, as I understand it, or Civil Division. And they, of course, sent a reply back when they received it, that they had received that package.

The rest of it was a receipt of the intent of the package. They had made a copy of what they had sent, a Certified Copy of the original, that sort of thing.

Now they're sitting on a package there, and the Hague's got one in their records.

DW: Right. So now you have a complete paper trail.

DK: Exactly.

ONLY A NOTIFICATION PROCESS

DW: This might be like a Subpoena, where the simple fact that the Hague accepted the paperwork by definition locks them into some sort of binding arrangement.

DK: No. No.

DW: Oh, okay.

DK: No. This is exactly and only a Notification Process. I want to make that perfectly clear.

DW: Okay.

DK: What happens through receipt of the paperwork is that it goes into the Hague Record.

In that manner, the Notification then is a Publication, like you'd use in a newspaper to advertise: I'm not responsible for my debts any further.

DW: Okay.

DK: Well, this thing says: We are now a sovereign nation-state.

DW: Wow. Gotcha.

DK: It's very similar to that, only this is an 'international newspaper', in effect.

We have, basically by sending one pack -- one little pack like that -- created a sovereign, independent nation-state.

DW: Wow.

THE PENTAGON BECOMES INTERESTED IN THE NOTIFICATION

DK: Okay. As soon as that got a receipt that this thing had been delivered, they got a call from a higher-up in the Pentagon.

DW: Mmm.

DK: And that person says: I understand you guys have been doing some Notification internationally?

Yes.

I understand that you seem to find this process as being rather simple?

Yes.

The next thing was: Do you think you can replicate or reproduce that sucker?

And the person went: I don't know.

DW: Mmm.

THE PENTAGON SAYS "GO FOR IT"

DK: What you got right then was: I have no idea, quite simply. We can see what's available; we can try and find out.

The guy -- the person at the Pentagon ... I'm not going to say it's a 'guy' because I'm not going to put gender on it; simply that, you know, it could be a female [laughs].

The man -- the people at the Pentagon -- said: Go for it. Let's see what happens.

And they said: Okay, we'll give it a shot.

Now, these people are involved in freedom, just like I was.

They wanted to be able to do something that was real, proactive, didn't get anybody in trouble and yet was something that could also be used in other ways.

Okay, they didn't know at the time what that little simplistic package for that one state did.

They didn't find out until after they started researching it.

WHEN DID YOU DO THIS?

DW: What's the time window we're talking about right now?

DK: In terms of the...

DW: When this all happened.

DK: This started in about October of last year [2011].

DW: Okay, okay.

DK: This is not an exact date. As of November, we decided that we were going to move on this.

I got involved because I knew one of the people that had been involved with these people before anyway.

I was requested, you know: Hey, would you like to be involved in this?

And I said: Sounds good to me. It's better than anything else I've seen.

And then when they hit me with the idea of what it contained, I said: Now wait a minute. I was on a radio show, and I explained to them what happened.

And they said: Really?!

“CAN YOU DO IT AGAIN?”

DK: Okay, so here you go.

You got somebody getting upset because some idiot gets on a radio show; he [Drake] tells them what they can do with themselves, and how to do it for real instead of playing games with things.

Somebody takes notes, they do it.

Then, all of a sudden, officials from the government and the military are interested: Can you do it again?

Along with that, there's a combination of other people involved with their own shows at different times during the week.

I met those people, and got involved sort of indirectly with them.

THE RULES MAY DIFFER FROM ONE STATE TO THE NEXT

DW: Right. I was going to say, it would seem that each state is going to have squirrely barriers to go through, different from Pennsylvania, in order to get this all off the ground.

DK: Well, it depends on whether or not you're a part of the original Thirteen Colonies...

DW: Oh.

DK: ...and/or whether or not your constitution is de jure, which is lawful, by Common Law...

DW: Uh-huh.

DK: ...or de facto, which is the corporate government. There is a difference.

DW: Okay, gotcha.

DK: I hate those key words simply because people ... everyone ... people hear it.

They turn the frigging TV on; they don't want to hear that.

Well, I'm sorry, but you do need to pay attention to the difference.

DW: Right.

THEY DECIDED TO RUN WITH THE PROJECT

DK: At any rate, we start boogieing with this: Okay; we'll take the project and we'll run with it.

We were able to receive Notice on about the end of February of this year [2012] that the package, the whole package, of a majority of the states had been received by The Hague.

DW: Oh, wow.

DK: In other words, each little nation-state package went into a big box.

The big box was delivered to The Hague, and we got Notification of the entire package.

DOES THIS CIVILIAN MOVEMENT GIVE THE MILITARY PERMISSION TO ACT?

DW: Let me ask you this.

DK: Yes?

DW: Let's say the military, in its Oath to defend the Constitution of the United States against domestic enemies, gets word of a civilian-based initiative which demonstrates that the states wish to have their sovereignty returned to them.

Doesn't that legally give them the right to move forward on this -- and enforce the will of the majority of the states?

DK: Well, that's part of the process I'm coming to.

DW: Okay, great.

DK: This is not just a simplistic process of sending a newspaper clipping overseas with the receipt that it got to where it was going.

DW: Oh, I get that.

THE BASIC PREMISE OF A NATION-STATE

DK: So, the basic premise of a nation-state is this:

What most people used was either their own constitution or they wrote one. It had to agree with the 1787 United States Constitution, to include the 13th.

And I mean the Original Thirteenth Amendment -- where certain people are not allowed to hold foreign offices here in the states.

The Bill of Rights, the Articles of Confederation, and that real cool document called the Declaration of Independence.

DW: Mmm.

DK: By declaring our sovereignty and our disengagement, or our effort to remove ourself -- ourselves; ourself meaning individual states -- from the corporate United States government, what this did was to re-birth the Declaration of Independence...

DW: Mmm.

DK: ...which states on page two that when the government gets out of whack, you got the right to take care of the problem.

DW: Absolutely.

THE PEOPLE HAVE THE RIGHT TO MAKE A DECLARATION

DK: Now, here's the other part of this.

The manner and format of using those documents, the original founding documents, in conjunction with a meeting by representative residents of a state, gives those people the right to make the Declaration.

DW: Mmm.

DK: This then gives legal authority, by the civilian authority, to the military to take actions as necessary to back up the civilian action.

DW: That's what I thought. Okay. Perfect.

DK: It's kind of convoluted, and I know it's not real simple. But simply, we sent off Notification. The military gave us a gold star; they just loved it, okay?

WERE THESE ORDINARY PEOPLE?

DW: I'm assuming that, just so people get clear on this, you're not talking about just a group of ordinary folks who are like surfing the Net and listening to 'truth radio.'

These are actually people who have some degree of influence in these states that you were networking with.

DK: No. As a matter of fact, some of them are not very well educated. I'm going to make this perfectly clear: You don't need influence in order to take certain actions.

DW: I see. So, the simple fact that we are all American citizens -- everyone whom you're speaking about, myself included -- any citizen has the right to do this.

DK: Yes, basically.

DW: Okay. Perfect.

BECOMING A SOVEREIGN NATION

DK: Now, the premise is this.

In term of declaring your state as free of the United States government -- and I'm talking about the corporate government and all of its affiliates -- what happens is that each state becomes, according to the Notification Process, its own sovereign nation.

DW: Mmm.

DK: So, this is where the "nation-states" handle comes from.

DW: I see.

DK: It's just a plurality of what individual states did. You have to have a certain number of people who reside in each state in order to accomplish the process.

It's not difficult. We do have backup and assistance for that if somebody has problems.

WE GOT A MAJORITY OF THE STATES

DK: In our effort, we got enough of a majority of the states to have a cushion -- in case there was some problem with some of the paperwork.

This was along with a fair group of Indian nations, who also submitted paperwork in such a fashion that the basis is this:

The [de jure] United States has been set free from the corporate [de facto] government ... literally, on a lawful basis, as recognized internationally.

DW: I just ... I can hear the howling laughter of skeptics who are already stroking their egos and saying:

Oh sure, you know, he can say whatever he wants, but if it ever even made it up to the Supreme Court, they would just knock it down, just like they appointed Bush in the whole election debacle between Bush and Gore.

DK: Not exactly.

DW: Okay.

THE ORIGINS OF LAW ON ANCIENT SUMERIAN TABLETS

DK: As I stated, I went back to the origins of law, and the origins of law come from the origins of law as written on Cuneiform tablets by the ancient Sumerians.

DW: Mmm.

DK: The tablet that I was privileged to get a copy of comes from somewhere in the neighborhood of 11,000 BC.

DW: Wow.

DK: Okay, from that tablet you've got Ecclesiastic Law. From Ecclesiastic Law, you've got Canon Law. From the combination of Ecclesiastic and Canon Law, you have all of your statutes and regulations that are considered law, under Common Law.

[EDITOR: Common Law predates Admiralty law (which is the corporate "law," legal fiction "law" and under the UCC Code), which is the basis of all the current statutes, regulations, etc, that currently "govern" the US.

It's all color of law, which means that it's a mere imitation, an imposture of the Substantive Law that is the Organic Constitution for the United States of America, as Lawfully amended.

Color of law has its origins in Common Law, but it does not operate within the Common Law.

Common Law is like clear water; color of law is like petro oil -- the former supports life, the latter destroys. Note that I underlined "for" above. The two links below will explain why I underlined the "for":

http://constitution.org/constit_.htm -- This is the Organic Constitution of 1787, as Lawfully Amended.

<http://constitution.org/usconsti.htm> -- The corporate version. "Of" means "owned" by the "United States" that is a corporation that was incorporated in 1871. This corporation functions outside of the Common Law and entirely within the color-of-law system. The current US "government" is NOT YOUR government!

This is explained very well by this link: <http://www.barefootsworld.net/usfraud.html>

COMMON LAW WAS MADE TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE

DK: Now, Common Law was developed basically in England, so that the poor serf -- and this is the hired hand that works the land and tries to feed his family and make money for their boss -- would have some form of protection.

DW: Right.

DK: In case some dude they were working for decided to go crazy and kick him off the land, he could object. That's where Common Law comes in.

The basis and premise of Common Law is simple. It contains two basic things. One is, no injured party; and [two] no property damage -- and it's property of any kind -- no crime. Just that simple.

DW: Mmm.

DK: This is the basis for much of the legal documentation that we used. It's also some of the basis for which we used the process.

IT STEPS OUT OF ECCLESIASTIC-BASED LAW AND CANON LAW

DK: The neat thing about this is that the manner of the process steps outside of both Ecclesiastic-based Law and Canon Law.

Any formal statute, be that local, state, national, or international [that operates under color of law – ED.] And it protects itself, because it does not state anything other than the simple Notification Process.

[EDITOR: I inserted the above comment to make sure that people understand that the “formal statute” mentioned is under color of law, which is the corporate, Admiralty “laws” that currently dominate the entire G5 nation structure.]

DW: Mmm.

DK: It stays within the system, but also is set in such a fashion that it's outside of any challenge. This is the idea that I was trying to find out about...

[EDITOR: If the Notification Process arises anywhere in the color-of-law system, it can be challenged by any color-of-law entity/agency, hence the critical need to stay within the Common Law system.

The value of the Notification Process is that it is recognized by an existing legal authority -- the International Court of Justice in the Hague -- hence any color-of-law authority automatically has no standing, no power of law over anything within Common Law.

Color-of-law is inferior to Common Law, because Common Law is real and substantive by being based on the land, the will of the People, the Organic Constitution and being in a group of sovereign nation-states united by a Declaration of Independence.]

THEY INTERFERED AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE

DW: Well, these occult governments obviously don't want people knowing about this. That appears to be why you had so much trouble getting those documents.

DK: That's pretty much a part of it. Now, the rest of it is that they found out about the process we were using, and interfered with that as much as possible.

DW: Mmm.

DK: The Notary seals were challenged. Certain Secretary of State offices refused apostillian documentation, and a whole bunch of things.

IT HAS BEEN DELIVERED

DK: However, in spite of all the fun and games, we did get it done; it has been delivered.

The copy -- and I'm talking about the real copy; this is not something you run off a copy machine, but something that is traditionally accepted as a de jure copy of the legal documents.

The copy was submitted to the correct people in the military, who were just delighted to find this.

DRAKE HAD A SECURITY CLEARANCE BACK IN 1979

DK: I'm going to go back to something else. Back in the day, I was involved with nuclear defense of the country.

I had some rather high Security Clearances, et cetera.

Due to that fact, I was allowed at a later date -- now this was after the Security Clearances and whatnot.

I had proved that I was trustworthy, because there was nothing I let out that was classified.

There was nothing that was of a sensitive nature that I would divulge, even though I knew it.

And I've talked with a couple of people about this.

DRAKE WAS CALLED IN FOR A SPECIAL TOP-SECRET MEETING

DK: Eventually, this certain person wanted to know about me.

I got interviewed a couple times by some Colonels and whatnot.

And finally, one of them showed up in a staff car -- and said: Somebody wants to see you. Can you come with me?

And I said: I ain't going to be, you know, put in the trunk, am I?

He laughed, and we took a ride over to this certain level officer's house...

THIS WAS IN 1979

DW: What time window are we in right now?

DK: Um, '79? [intentionally in a questioning tone]

DW: Okay, so '79 is when this event that you're speaking of happened.

DK: Basically...

DW: Okay.

DK: ...in that area. I'm not going to give exact dates because...

DW: That's fine.

DK: ...I don't want to have to.

DW: I just wanted a window, that's all.

IF SOMEONE FINDS OUT WHO THEY ARE, THEY WILL BE KILLED

DK: Let me express this real clearly. If somebody finds out who these people are, they're dead.

DW: Oh, I know that.

DK: So are their families. They get to stand there and watch their families be tortured to death.

And I'm not going to put anybody through that by outing them.

So, I'm going to say arbitrarily, '79, give or take.

DW: Okay, great.

A FIVE-INCH THICK BRIEFING DOCUMENT

DK: In that process, this officer invited me into his home.

I asked him what I was doing there, because I had no idea. Now, this is after I'm out of the military.

The officer said: I've got something I need you to read.

And I said: Why me?

Then he said: Because I feel I can trust you, and I want your opinion.

He put a stack of papers -- it was about five inches thick, in a binder -- on the table.

DW: Five inches thick!?

DK: Yeah. I don't know how many pages; I didn't bother ... [laughs]

I didn't even get to read it all. I spent about four hours reading, and I went through about, give or take, three quarters of it.

DW: Okay.

DK: I didn't read the whole thing. I got tired of reading and it was like 4:30, 5:00 in the morning.

DW: Mmm.

DK: And I wanted ... I had to have more than just the coffee he was offering, and preferably some kind of a soft place to lay down on. [DW laughs]

“THE PLAN” HAD BEEN IN THE WORKS FOR QUITE A WHILE

DK: So I said: Well, what is it -- what kind of opinion do you want?

He said: What do you think of it?

I said: Well, it says: 'The Plan.'

I said: Where'd this come from?

He wouldn't really answer. He said it had been in the works for quite a while.

I said: Give me a date. And he did.

And I thought: Well, that's interesting.

I said: So in other words, certain people took issue with what was going on at the time, and figured that the ship of state was going to head in the wrong direction.

They decided to start putting this plan together so that you guys would have some form of guidance in terms of what the general outcomes would be.

He said: Exactly.

I said I liked what I read.

WAS THE PLAN ABOUT RESCUING AMERICA FROM THE ILLUMINATI?

DW: You might have told this story a lot. You didn't say anything about what the document said.

I'm assuming [Drake laughs] this is something about rescuing America from these Illuminati people?

DK: At the beginning it discussed how the ship of state was screwing up badly.

DW: Okay.

DK: And to keep it from sinking, they actually implemented the general plan real quick. That was probably the first interest of the documentation.

They did it in such a manner that the people in the military could cause influence to happen to people outside the military, who had the capability of changing some simple things.

WATERGATE WAS A MAJOR AWAKENING

DW: Well, it must have been frustrating to see Watergate come and go. But then, basically, after a little slap on the wrist, it's all business as usual.

DK: Well, you have to realize what was really going on. Tricky Dick was trying to become a dictator...

DW: Sure. [This can be corroborated in the first chapter of New World Order: The Ancient Plan of Secret Societies by William T. Still, as we shared in the introduction.

Still features a detailed expose' of how Nixon circulated a memo asking the military to surround the White House with tanks and troops so he could avoid losing power from the Watergate scandal.

The plan also included assassinating the Vice President during the Republican national convention and bombing cities nationwide, then blaming it on terrorists. This would in turn lead to martial law and a suspension of the Constitution.]

DK: He could not pull the power correctly. So that's what happened basically, yeah. Somebody got a little slap on the wrist, and nothing really came out of it.

DW: Sure.

“THE PLAN” INVOLVED NOT REVEALING WHO OUTED WATERGATE

DK: Now they did not want to out the fact that they had been involved.

This is the other reason that you saw only a slap on the wrist -- and you saw nobody in high office involved in it much one way or the other.

There are a couple of people that were used as scapegoats, but other than that, nobody of significance. That's exactly part of The Plan.

DW: Right.

DK: However, they could put these people in a real, uh, sticky situation with a lot of pressure -- if at any time they decided they didn't want to comply with the next portion of The Plan, which starts after about an inch of this.

So, you're going through these things one at a time. And, as this is going, you're also increasing the scope of The Plan.

“THE PLAN” STARTED WITH THE IDEA OF A MILITARY COUP

DK: Now, The Plan basically started with the idea of a military coup; I'm not going to lie to you.

They were that fed up at that point.

They felt endangered enough at that point that they actually considered it.

Each and every last person involved signed a pseudonym name -- it's a code name. Each one of them has got one.

They disagreed with the idea and said it is not the way to go, because it disagrees with the basis or premise of Posse Comitatus.

This is the law that the military does not have authority over the civilian population -- and are not to engage them.

So, there were enough old-timers that disagreed that convinced everybody that it was not cool -- so they decided no.

THE PLAN BUILT UP OVER THE YEARS

DK: So, over the years, this plan built up and it got more convoluted. It got more complicated.

DW: And this is all in the five-inch document you saw in '79?

DK: Yeah.

DW: Okay.

THERE WAS A "DEAD ZONE" IN THE PLAN FROM 1975 TO 1986

DK: In '79 they didn't really know which way things were going to go because, if you remember, from about '75 on, after the fall of Vietnam, there was kind of a dead space.

Nobody did any real serious actions of any kind, anywhere -- not in politics, militarily, or anything. During that particular time is where the rest of the document came about.

These people were working 24/7 in order to make sure that The Plan encompassed everything they could think of that could possibly come up, okay?

It's been added to. I guarantee you that. But the dead zone lasted until about '85, '86, when things started happening again.

People were taking definitive action; you had a lot of combinational, political, and military, and financial things going on at that time.

THE THREAT OF TOTAL ANNIHILATION BECAME A MAJOR INCENTIVE

DW: People must have realized, among other things, that the escalating war rhetoric between the U.S. and the Soviet Union could annihilate the planet.

You're not going to stand by and watch the planet be killed, and not attempt to do something to stop it -- if it's within your means to do so.

DK: Exactly. The threat of total annihilation was one that was unacceptable to any of the military powers, no matter what the politicians told them.

DW: Right.

DK: If the Commander in Chief during those times had stated quite clearly: We're going to start World War III -- shoot your nukes.

The military would have told him to go take a flying leap at a rolling doughnut: No, we ain't doing that [DW laughs] for that reason.

"THE PLAN" HAS BEEN FOLLOWED EVER SINCE

DK: To go on with this ... okay, you've got these periods of build-ups. Now, I saw that document way back when. I thought that it probably was a dead duck.

I can tell you right now it's not only NOT a dead duck, but it's something that they've been following rather religiously.

The thing laid out certain premise[s] -- certain areas of concern. Some of those things have changed, so this is why I say that the document itself has been added to and modified.

But the basic premise of it is simply this:

They also, just like me, were extraordinarily frustrated by freakazoids such as the Hare Krishnas, or whomever, who were dancing in California at the time.

They didn't want those people running the country; they didn't think they'd really do that great of a job.

THEY WERE WORRIED ABOUT WHAT GROUPS MIGHT STAND AND FIGHT

DW: I don't understand how Hare Krishnas could run the country.

DK: Exactly. And that's what they thought too, and that's how come they're not.

DW: Are they saying that these people were socially active and wanted to take over the government, or something?

DK: They would have liked to have found somebody that would stand up as a group and actually do something in terms of freedom.

They've been trying ever since the Hare Krishnas, and whomever; war protesters, you name it.

Nobody as a group -- collectively, nationwide -- would stand up and do anything.

It's the same problem I've had. It's the same problem everybody that I know in the freedom areas has had.

Trying to pry somebody off the couch. It ain't easy.

DW: Right.

THEY DIDN'T HAVE THE CIVILIAN AUTHORITY TO DO ANYTHING

DK: So, they're kind of bumping along, going: Boy, I hope the end of the world don't come.

What are we going to do? We don't have any civilian authority to do anything.

THEY WERE VERY CONCERNED ABOUT THE NAMES LEAKING

DW: The amount of secrecy that would have to be observed in order to preserve this plan is vast.

DK: Yes.

DW: I mean, one weak link in the chain and the whole damned load falls and breaks apart.

DK: Well, they weren't so concerned with that, but they were concerned with the fact that there were certain code names in it that would out people that were seriously interested in implementing The Plan.

DW: Right.

RESURRECTING ORIGINAL "DE JURE" GOVERNMENT

DK: The Plan was simple. The military was willing to back, with civilian authority, a resurrection of what we started out with, originally, in terms of [de jure] government.

The idea that a politician has control over a battlefield is totally averse to the idea of even being on a battlefield.

DW: That's true.

DK: My recommendation to them was to quietly sneak up -- it would take some Navy SEALs or somebody that's really good -- and pick one of them politicians that's got a big mouth.

You snatch that doe, put him on the battlefield, not necessarily in danger, but get him close enough so that it becomes a personal deal.

And then, when it's time to leave, again put him back. I'll guarantee you there'd be a whole bunch of attitude changes.

Well, they wouldn't do it. That was my suggestion a long time ago. [DW laughs]

THEY TRIED EVERYTHING THEY COULD

DK: Anyway, so, we're bumping along with this.

I've tried everything I could. I've had a combination of contacts and whatnot.

I've had a combination of political dealings in conjunction with a whole lot of people.

WHAT IS THE TIMELINE NOW AS WE MOVE FORWARD?

DW: I'm sorry, let me just take one moment here to try to track this in terms of a timeline. [Drake laughs]

DK: You can't get an exact timeline because that will expose people.

DW: I understand, but I just want to give a very vague overview. So, you encountered this five-inch monster document in '79...

DK: Basically, in that area.

DW: And you mentioned ... you mentioned that you still had contact with this insider network, circa '86.

DK: Yep.

DW: So, these people stayed in some degree of contact with you and continued to spitball about what group you could actually contact that would be able to back you on this.

You kept coming up short, because none of these groups were sufficient in terms of the motive and the intent to actually carry through with this plan.

THERE WAS NO NATIONAL GROUPING

DK: Not only that, but there was no national grouping of any kind.

You cannot take a group from one state and infuse it into another one from another state.

All they want to do is argue about who's in charge, or whatever -- and it is a righteous mess trying to do so.

DW: Understood.

DK: It doesn't matter what group it is. Believe me, I used to get lists: Here, try these guys. Here, here's some more. You know?

I must have gone through, I don't know, I'd say a few thousand groups.

Somebody would have a website on the Internet, I'd contact them. I tried everything that I could think of.

I tried being nasty. I tried actually putting pictures of politicians out visiting whorehouses. You name it, I've tried it. [laughs]

I couldn't ... I didn't even get the politician to get mad. [DW laughs]

I mean, he wouldn't address it because he didn't have to, you know: It was just somebody, some idiot; he probably made the picture up, duh-duh-duh-duh.

THEN ALONG CAME THE PENNSYLVANIA ISSUE

DK: And so, we're bumping along. I'm bumping along and I'm beginning to get tired of it. Quite honestly, I was even at the point of quitting.

I just thought, you know: Well, I got my gun. Hopefully I'm still able to shoot it if they decide to break down the front door. I was giving up.

And, lo and behold, along comes this crazy person in Pennsylvania, who takes notes on a radio show.

And this was back mid of last year, give or take, actually probably around May -- May / June area -- that I got on that radio show.

These people took notes, and all of a sudden, they did it. And then, all of a sudden, they contact some of the people that I'm in contact with.

I'm just kind of playing around, seeing what's out there.

And they say: Hey -- we've got a possible project!

I said: What's that?

They explained it to me.

I said: Now, wait a minute. I put that out over a radio show just not too long ago.

And: Well, somebody not only took notes, but they did it.

I said: You're kidding me. You mean somebody got off the couch?

Yes.

DW: Wow. After all those years. It's just incredible.

DK: Well, so over the period of time from about the 20th of February this year [2012], since that day, we have had a free country.

THE MILITARY WILL ASSIST

DK: Now, The Plan is this.

The military will back [the civilians]... and believe me, you've got to have the military involved. Whether you like it or not, it doesn't make a difference.

Now, there's a difference. You do have good guys and bad guys, no matter where you go. There are more good guys than there are bad guys in the military.

I have found very few that are actually really evil, even in the bad guys. Some of them ain't too cool to be around, but most of them are pretty great people.

As a veteran, I fully support our troops. Period. So does everybody in this movement.

DW: I would say that people join the military to pledge their lives to defend and protect the Constitution -- and the people.

DK: Yeah, exactly.

DW: They're not out there to enhance the lifestyles and comfort of the rich and famous, or those who don't wish to be famous, but who are oligarchs who basically are living off of everyone else.

DK: Yes. That's true.

DW: That's not what they did it for.

IF YOU WORK FOR THEM, THEY WILL STAB YOU IN THE BACK

DW: All you have to do is watch a few of these Illuminati propaganda films to realize that if you do work for these people, they will stab you in the back -- almost as a law of nature.

Anybody who thinks that working with them is a good move -- wait until what happens when you're no longer useful.

See how quickly they'll torture and kill you and everyone you care about. Nobody is immune from that.

MASS RESIGNATIONS

DK: It's even actually worse than that. The onion that makes up what we're talking about has basically four levels to it.

The outer level was notified, on the same day that our package landed in the International Court, that they were no longer under their protection.

Over a period of a few months there have been several thousand resignations, house arrests.

There have been tons of banks closed, or closed for a couple days and reopened. You name it.

This is not just bankers; this is also financiers, your exchange people, everything.

DW: Oh yeah! I cover it on my website. There're 358 resignations [actually 450 at the time I did this interview] documented by somebody going under the anonymous name American Kabuki.

There's a link for every single one of them -- and they're all in chronological order.

This includes, on February 29th, the resignation of James Murdoch, Rupert Murdoch's son, from the Executive Chairman position of News International Corporation, which is Fox.

DK: Yeah, that's basically called a protection move.

It wasn't a question of them protecting him as much as it was his own protection, because he didn't have that much to do in terms of the illegalities that Dad pulled.

DW: Right.

DK: He's just ... actually he's not all that bad one way or the other, in comparison to some of them.

LET'S SEE IF WE'RE HEARING YOU CORRECTLY...

DW: But to get to the deeper grain of what you're saying, if I'm hearing you correctly.

I'm getting that you had this package delivered to The Hague.

That was the critical moment in which those on the inside were aware that these mass arrests -- that have been planned ever since the five-inch document you saw in 1979 -- could actually move forward.

This could be done by the will of the civilians in terms of Common Law, going back to the Code of Hammurabi and 11,000-year-old documents.

DK: Exactly.

DW: Okay. Great.

DK: When they received it and it got past their agents who worked at The Hague, they knew that it had arrived because that person was made aware.

There was nothing they could do about it.

So consequently, their protection evaporated. This is like steam on a hot highway. The sun comes out, and poof -- it's gone.

DW: [laughs]

DK: Okay. Well, there are thousands of resignations in Europe to date. Now in one week, and I'm talking last week, there were 450 resignations, retirements and this stuff -- and 200 arrests.

DW: That's a staggering number.

DK: That's 650 people involved in finance. Now, here's the difference.

THEY HAVE SYSTEMATICALLY CONTROLLED THE MEDIA

DK: Those people under house arrest or who have been taken into custody, or who retired and are staying at home, are considered not very important, one way or the other -- they are primarily figureheads and not much more.

DW: Right.

DK: The difference is those who were arrested, those who are being arrested and those who are going to be arrested -- that's the second layer of the onion, in other words...

DW: This is why we're not seeing a lot of newspaper and website articles about this.

There's no accountability of these people getting arrested in the outside world, because they don't have a public position.

DK: Well, not only that, but the mainstream media's controlled by them.

DW: Exactly.

DK: Therefore, you're not going to hear this.

OPERATION MOCKINGBIRD -- AND WOODROW WILSON'S QUOTE

DW: I documented that extensively in my investigation, Financial Tyranny. It goes back to Operation Mockingbird...

DK: Yeah.

DW: ...and traceable information regarding the Masonic Order and guys who, in 1826, were saying: Yeah, we own the press, we own the judiciary, we own the police and we own the government. F you if you don't like it.

DK: Yeah. Basically, there's nothing you can do about it.

People have alluded to the fact that there's something out there everybody's afraid of in terms of industrialists, people of power. This is basically what they were afraid of.

DW: That's Woodrow Wilson's quote in his book, The New Freedom. Yes, a very important quote.

DK: Exactly.

THE G20 COUNTRIES ARE ON THE EDGE – AND COULD GO EITHER WAY

DK: What people didn't realize was the limitation of ... you mentioned the G5, I'm going to say the G20.

DW: Okay.

DK: And the reason I say the G20 is that some of these nations have not quite come to the light yet that they have got a real serious problem, or how serious it is -- and they're not fully under the control, or fully beholdng to, or involved with the G5.

DW: I understand.

DK: They're kind of on the edge, and they could go either way.

The basis of this is very simple.

HOW THE ARRESTS WILL BE MADE

DK: Several things have happened.

Number one -- we convinced enough people to abide by documentation, done the correct way.

We submitted it to The Hague in terms of a majority of states.

This basically set a precedent for being free, and for military/civilian action.

The military backs us up by way of federal Marshals [U.S. Marshals], who contact local law enforcement.

Local law enforcement actually makes the arrests.

HOW DO THE FEDERAL MARSHALS FIT INTO THIS, EXACTLY?

DW: I'm sorry, just so that people understand, are federal Marshals members of the Army National Guard or the Air Force? Or what are federal Marshals?

DK: [laughs] federal Marshals are federal law enforcement officers, basically.

DW: Okay.

DK: The definition, though, is: by present authority, which puts them in the trick bag of having to follow the edict of what we've done in terms of the will of the people to go along with the military plan.

[<http://www.usmarshals.gov/index.html>]

[EDITOR: I'm going to not capitalize "federal" because that's not part of the official name like "Marshal"; if Drake had said "US Marshals," then I would have capitalized "US," of course.

What's great about US Marshals is that they date all the way back to the original Republic, so their source of power PREDATES their conversion into a "Service" that supports the current, corporate form of government.

The reactivation of the Declaration of Independence reactivates not only the Republic, but any Lawful police-related offices that the Republic had on all levels – County, State, etc, including the US Marshals acting under the Organic Constitution.

Another important thing to understand is that the local County (de jure County, not the corporate county) Sheriff is THE #1 Lawful Officer in the de jure County.

He has the full power to apply the necessary police action to protect the fledgling, born-again Republic within the County.

His power supersedes ANYONE acting under color of law, be it county, state and federal. A sheriff can order the CIA, FBI, FEMA to leave. Period.]

US MARSHALS ARE INDEPENDENT OF MOST OTHER GOVERNMENT ASPECTS

DW: If you wanted to meet a federal Marshal, what offices would you go to? I mean, are they FBI? Are they CIA? Are they Homeland Security?

DK: They're on their own.

DW: Okay.

DK: That's the nice thing about a federal Marshal; he's relatively independent of most things, okay?

There are some that say: I'm in charge of them. They're liable to get a strong argument that that only depends on the situation.

In some situations a citizen is in charge of the FBI or the CIA, depending on the situation, and it varies.

But basically, a federal Marshal is between; he's a federal employee of the current power.

DW: Okay.

DK: Okay.

So, the Notification Process authorized the military to contact the federal Marshals, who then contact the local authorities to actually take the actions of arrest.

HOW WOULD YOU FIND A US MARSHAL?

DW: Okay. This might piss some people off but I really want to clear this up. [DK laughs] Do these Marshals exist in different offices?

I mean, how would you find one? What kind of offices would they be employed by?

DK: National Security Administration would probably be the end office if you wanted to really look them up in that relationship.

DW: Okay.

[EDITOR: Drake is one man and it's OK that he doesn't know everything about this. That shows he's the real thing.

It turns out that the US Marshals predate the NSA.

Thus, the Republic-based aspect of the US Marshals is superior in lawful power to anyone in the NSA.

The NSA is a color-of-law agency that derives its power wholly outside of the Common Law / Constitution.]

US MARSHALS ARE ALLOWED TO CROSS STATE BORDERS

DK: They are primarily tasked in such a way that a federal Marshal can go across the border -- when the border is common to the country he comes from.

So you could go from, say Arizona or New Mexico, into Mexico if need be, and you would have law enforcement authority there, okay?

DW: Would these Marshals potentially be employed in a police station? Would they be at the police station?

DK: No, they have their own offices, federal Marshals offices. There's a variety of them.

DW: Okay.

DK: They have a combination of different duties.

DW: I don't mean to sound like an idiot. I'm just cautious to make sure that people don't think that you invented the term "federal Marshal"

I don't want them to think that it's just some guy on the Internet... [Drake laughs] reading websites and: Oh yeah, I'm a Marshal and here's the little badge that I made.

DK: [laughs] Yeah. I bought one of those yesterday down at the Dollar Store. I understand what you're saying.

DW: [laughs] This is real. These guys are federally employed.

AIR MARSHALS

DK: Well, they're ... You've heard of Federal Air Marshals?

DW: Yeah, yeah, they're on the airplane.

DK: He is a federal Marshal. He just simply is on air duty.

DW: Okay. Got it.

DK: That's all the difference there is.

[<http://www.tsa.gov/lawenforcement/programs/fams.shtm>]

[EDITOR: I don't mean to undermine Drake's info here, but the Fed Air Marshals seem to be a part of TSA, not of the US Marshal Service.

I've searched through the US Marshal site and see nothing related to any air service, other than prisoner / alien (human) transport in jets.

Federal Air Marshals were started by Kennedy; it was later absorbed into the monster of the TSA, which in turn is part of the DHS.]

US MARSHALS STAND BETWEEN CIVILIANS AND MILITARY

DK: There are a lot these guys out there. They're very well trained, they're very knowledgeable and they're extraordinarily professional.

DW: And they're not soldiers?

DK: No. That's the neat part about this. They're in between the civilian and the military.

DW: Right.

DK: Okay. Now, you've got those three entities: the military, the federal Marshal and the local law enforcement.

What our paperwork did was to give the military civilian authority to contact the federal Marshals, to contact local law enforcement -- and have a BIG party for all these arrests.

DW: Wow.

[EDITOR: If I may add another note here, "Law Enforcement Officers" is the term for the corporate-service cops.

"Peace Officers" is the term for police officers who serve the Republic.

There are many cops within the current color-of-law framework who would not hesitate to support the police action to bust the color-of-law conspirators – and support the re-creation of our beloved Republic.]

NO COUP, NO DIRECT MILITARY ACTION, AND NO MARTIAL LAW

DK: This does not include any military coup. It does not include any military action, and it does not include martial law.

None of that is going to happen.

What is going to happen is you will see federal Marshals backing up local law enforcement, taking people into custody.

There may be a stand of troops -- in case they need extra bodies to snatch somebody that decides to run.

Or, let's say there's a whole bunch of people in a building, and they didn't know there were 7,000 of them in there.

You're going to need an extra hand in order to incarcerate all these people, put them on the bus and send them wherever they need to go.

So the military will act in a backup fashion, in some ways.

THIS DOES NOT VIOLATE POSSE COMITATUS

DW: Does that violate Posse Comitatus?

DK: No, because the military is not acting as a police force directly.

DW: They are assisting a police action.

DK: Exactly.

DW: Okay, got it.

DK: And the police action is one of control of and/or prevention of rioting or general civil disobedience that would call for a police situation.

You have to look all this stuff up.

A regular protest of citizenry basically can be met with a general police force.

The people that called out the National Guard on several occasions during things that were a problem have found that they acted illegally.

They were told: Don't ever do that again.

There were a lot of people who were informed that this is a no-no, [that] is ok, and don't you cross that line.

DW: Sure.

MORE DETAILS ON WHAT "THE PLAN" STIPULATES

DK: Ok, so you've got these three entities. Now back to The Plan. The Plan stipulates several things.

One -- you're not going to have a police state. You're not going to have the military in control.

It's not martial law. They're not going to come in the house and snatch you up. That ain't happening.

THE INTENT AND PURPOSE IS TO MINIMIZE CHAOS

DK: What's happening is this -- the intent and purpose of this plan was to minimize the chaos involved in the action.

Now, when you arrest several thousand people in a city, it's going to create a little bit of a hubbub.

People are going to see the military. They're going to see a lot of policemen doing their jobs -- and this will be on video.

I mean you're going to have CNN and all the local news people. Everybody is going to have some kind of video of this stuff.

WILL THE POLICEMEN BE IN RIOT GEAR?

DW: And I assume these policemen will probably be in riot gear, which will have black uniforms and scary-looking stuff.

DK: Maybe. That depends on whether or not they expect problems with who they're dealing with. Generally no, because it's not a riot situation.

DW: Okay.

DK: It could turn that way. They'll bring the gear. I mean, it'll be in the trunk, most likely.

Most of your people that have been responsible for the problems are office-type people.

They're not necessarily physically active or capable.

And, to go along with that, they're not going to torture them, or say "Oh, he fell down 14 flights of stairs" -- or any of that.

DEEPLY EMBEDDED MOLES READY TO MAKE THEIR MOVE

DW: I've heard from my own insider that there are an astonishing number of very deeply embedded moles who are much closer to these people than they ever thought anybody would get -- and actually not have been outed.

DK: Exactly.

WE WILL BE NOTIFIED A DAY IN ADVANCE

DK: There're a couple of things in this. First of all, the gist of The Plan is to not create chaos. In other words, you're going to have public announcements.

People such as yourself and myself will be notified approximately a day ahead of schedule -- in terms of putting this on the Internet so it can go viral.

DW: Okay.

DK: I would imagine, doing this interview, this is going to get kind of viral-like.

DW: Very much so. Some of my videos have millions of views. This will be distributed throughout hundreds, if not thousands of different blogs, and re-posted.

And if we let people know that there's going to be a one-day window of notification, you can absolutely guarantee that there will be a massive tidal wave of publicity once this moment arrives.

DK: Well, that moment arrives when we are given the green light to notify our people -- the ones that we have contact with.

At that point, then, it is to go viral on the Internet. We have been asked to try to access as much mainstream media -- be that AM radio or whatever, it doesn't matter -- but as much as we can.

THIS IS NOT AN ATTEMPT TO OVERTHROW THE GOVERNMENT

DW: I would imagine that the oligarchs, who are the bad guys, are going to be hearing this and getting their soldiers and their mercenaries to listen to this and say:

You gotta get these SOB's, because they're trying to overthrow the government.

DK: No. What we are doing, in terms of the action that's going to be taken -- and I'm not talking about us or our actions -- our actions are only a part of The Plan.

The Plan, basically, is to arrest these people. No destruction. No firefights. No gunplay or any kind of violence, if possible.

The idea of this is -- no chaos, no violence, AND a legal way to do it -- a lawful manner in which to conduct the operation.

This has been coming since George Washington made federal districts out of our innocent group of Thirteen Colonies. So, [laughs] uh ...

THE PLAN CALLS FOR FULL STABILITY IN ALL INFRASTRUCTURE

DK: The Plan also offers protections of keeping the lights on, making sure the Internet works, that the phone works, you can flush the toilet, you can go to work and not have to worry about it.

DW: Right. We've heard from other insiders -- in fact, it was from the one you met on the phone with me.

These people, since the '80s, (and I mean the conspirators now, the bad guys) have elaborate plans to blow up a whole bunch of bridges, wipe out power, wipe out sewage and wipe out water, in the event that anything like this were to happen to them.

And I also know, however, that there are so many moles and so many people who will not stand by and let this happen, that if they think they're going to be able to do this, they're sorely mistaken.

But they may try, and there may be certain levels of disruption that will need to be prevented, as you're saying.

TACTICAL POSITIONING IS GOING ON – RIGHT THIS MINUTE

DK: Right now, tactical positioning is going on. And I mean right this minute. The tactical positioning is being done in such a manner that nobody's going to be the wiser.

DW: Right.

DK: These are regular people they see every day. They have no idea that that person happens to be an agent for the good guys, as you say, moles or however you want to look at that, okay?

THEIR POWERS HAVE BEEN CURTAILED TREMENDOUSLY

DK: Irrespective as to what the fear mongers will tell you, the bad guys have lost enough funds, lost enough support and there are enough people that are upset with them that their powers have been curtailed tremendously.

DW: Well, look, Drake. They wouldn't have done those bailouts if they could have possibly avoided it.

DK: Right.

DW: That was an astonishing move [DK laughs] that really showed that they are just absolutely grasping at straws.

It's like Wile E. Coyote when he's paddling in the air and he hasn't realized he's falling yet.

DK: [laughs] Exactly.

RECENT EXECUTIVE ORDERS ARE A SIGN OF DESPERATION

DK: To give you an example of how desperate they are, they just had a couple of executive orders from their main lackey in the White House saying that they got rights to everything.

DW: I'm well aware of that, and it's utterly astonishing.

The only thing I can think of is this.

These guys are so desperate and they're so lacking in common sense that they think that even at this late stage in the game, they can be in this poker-bluff.

They think they can actually get people to believe that they could have the boots on the ground to enforce these ridiculous, ridiculous executive orders.

DK: Well, then you've got the NDAA, which didn't help. Basically, as you're saying, the idea is to foster fear within the freedom movement -- and primarily within the citizenry.

DW: Well, it's working very well.

DK: I'm glad to see people stand up and start taking these things to task, at least.

DW: Yeah.

DK: That shows that there are some people out there that do have some guts.

THESE ARE LAST-GASP EFFORTS

DK: Primarily though, you have to remember that these are last-gasp efforts.

The only thing they've got left is, at this point, mostly control of the press -- and they're losing their grips on that.

They are doing this sort of shake-the-bush-to-see-if-the-rabbit-comes-out maneuver right now.

DW: As I was saying, you have to have people to hold the guns.

DK: For anybody who wants to listen to it, I addressed the troops. That's active duty, reserve, retired and disabled.

That is again, on the website, freedomreigns.us.

[http://www.freedomreigns.us/Home_Page.php]

THE TWO BIGGEST THINGS THAT CONCERN THE ACTIVE DUTY TROOPS

DK: The basic thing I have heard from active duty troops is that they have two things that concern them.

The first one is that if they disobey orders -- it doesn't matter whether it's lawful or not -- but they're going to be kicked out of the military.

Well, there ain't any jobs out there, and if these guys ain't got skills, they're screwed -- and they realize this.

They're a little bit fearful of that.

NINETY PERCENT OF TROOPS WILL GO AWOL IF MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

DK: The other part is that if somebody decides to declare martial law, 80-some, 90% of them, give or take, are going to go AWOL.

And they're taking their equipment with them and going home.

DW: NINETY percent?

DK: Well, somewhere between eighty and ninety percent are saying: No. That ain't happening.

DW: Wow.

DK: We're not going to go after somebody's grandma with a combat weapon. That's stupid, okay? That's ridiculous.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LAWFUL AND UNLAWFUL ORDERS

DK: What you have to remember is that there's a difference between lawful and unlawful orders or directives.

The unlawful order or directive will tell you to go against what you know to be the truth -- according to the Constitution.

Posse Comitatus says that you are not a police force.

Therefore, you are not to go in and extract people from houses.

That ain't cool. And it's not to happen.

And you will receive counter-orders, possibly, that tell you: Nah, forget that -- and arrest that officer.

That's liable to happen if somebody ordered it.

So, the lawful order is going to be something that is going to be in operation that can be carried out lawfully.

WHAT IF A SOLDIER IS PUT UNDER NATO JURISDICTION?

DW: I've heard some people say, "Oh, the U.S. government is under the jurisdiction of the United Nations or NATO."

What if they tried to make the soldier have a NATO badge that he's operating under?

DK: Okay.

DW: Is that a lawful order?

DK: Well, okay. That gets into the issue of being in uniform.

You are not allowed to carry out your service duties when you're out of uniform.

You take your shirt off, leave it off, go to formation in your T-shirt, and you'll find out how that feels.

DW: Hmm.

DK: The basis of this goes to the fact that you are in the United States military. And I don't care which branch it is -- doesn't matter.

You have to have, to be in uniform, the stars and bars above any other service emblem -- to include your insignia patch. That includes the United Nations and NATO.

WE ARE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE

DK: Now, the problem is that we made agreements in 1933 and 1945, which primarily started with the North American Treaty Organization, known as NATO.

These agreements also deal with the United Nations, where basically, the group known as the United Nations and/or NATO, or an authorized group of nations that are our allies, can request or require our presence militarily -- and we are required to comply.

DW: Okay.

DK: The reason for this is that our representatives could rescind this, but don't have the guts to do so. Basically that and that alone.

When they do so, then you come out from under it.

THE DOCUMENTS SUPERSEDE ANYTHING PAST THE ORIGINAL 13TH AMENDMENT

DK: Now, there are some other things in this process people are not aware of. And that is that our documents supersede anything past the date of the [Original] Thirteenth Amendment.

And what it does is, at the point of action, all of the executive orders, all the horse hockey and other garbage that has been perpetrated upon the people illegally after the point of the [Original] Thirteenth Amendment -- that's 1812.

Remember that date and think about what's gone on since then.

Anything that disagrees with the Constitution, first of all, is null and void of any legal or lawful impact.

[<http://constitution.org/c5/index.php>

EDITOR: This is the best site on the Internet, bar none, for accurate and transparent information about the differences between the Organic, Lawful Constitution of 1787 and the corporate constitution that has been unlawfully in effect since the 1800s.]

Further, anything that disagrees with the Constitution, basically, is to be stricken if it is a law, rule or regulation.

“I WAS JUST FOLLOWING ORDERS” IS NOT A PLAUSIBLE DEFENSE

DW: How well did ‘I was just following orders’ hold up at the Nuremberg Trials?

DK: It didn't. Everybody that did that got convicted.

This is not considered a plausible defense, simply because you know the difference between torturing somebody and not.

The Field Manual states that you're not to engage civilians. That means you're not supposed to step on them, et cetera. All of this has been covered.

[http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/United_States_Army_Field_Manuals]

THE MY LAI MASSACRE

DK: I'm going to give you an example from Vietnam called the My Lai Massacre, okay? There was not too much done with that, but the problem was that several people came up with that exact defense.

And the court-martial said: No. That don't fly. Period.

Now, they lucked out -- and I mean this literally. They lucked out because a court-martial that deals with the taking of civilian life also carries the death penalty.

DW: Oh, my gosh. Yeah.

DK: They were lucky they didn't get executed. And I mean all of them -- because everybody that was involved is up for the death penalty under those conditions.

And it's not up to me. That's military code.

And I agree with that, primarily.

TORTURING PEOPLE IS NOT NECESSARY

DK: Torturing people and that sort of thing is not necessary. You're not going to get good information anyway.

Now, if you make somebody think that you might torture them, you talk to them and say: Well, do you really want me to do that?

And they'll say: No!

And you say: Well then, tell me what you know.

Okay.

And off you go down the road, and they'll tell you. Okay?

You wait a little while. You treat them correctly, you know, give them a little something, a little water to drink, maybe a little food to eat.

You come back and ask them a second time: Look. That was all B.S. We're not going to do anything to you. Can you talk to me about what's going on?

Yeah, man. You know?

And then you get the real information. But torturing somebody? You will tell them anything to make it quit.

DW: Right. You'll make up whatever is going to stop it.

DK: It's about as accurate as somebody's imagination. Just that simple.

IF YOUR C.O. IS SCREAMING IN YOUR FACE...

DW: Let's say a soldier in the United States military has a commanding officer with the bulging earthworm on his forehead, screaming with both of sets of teeth, the top and bottom of the iris, screaming in his face: You have to obey this order!

If he does so -- he's liable for federal court-martial?

DK: Exactly.

DW: It might be easier, you think, to say yes when somebody's screaming in your face. [DK laughs]

You're also describing a majority of the United States military that already supports these mass arrests.

And so, if you were on the losing side, you're in the minority.

If this mass arrest works, which it very much looks like it will, then you're going to be held accountable.

DK: Exactly. You may have a few opposing forces, but there shouldn't be many.

A SEARCH-AND-DESTROY MISSION ORDER IN VIETNAM

DK: The situation is simple.

I know of an incident in Vietnam, where a unit was told to wipe out a friendly village. And it was called, back then in the day, a search-and-destroy mission.

Search and destroy means that you go through a village at several levels. We were told go through at Level 1.

A Level 1 search and destroy means you kill everything that lives.

You burn, mangle and torture whatever kind of physical structures you find, to include statues or anything. You leave a burnt spot, basically, with dead bodies laying around.

DW: Wow.

DK: Well, the problem was that I was involved in this. I knew some of those people -- and so did a lot of the other troops.

And we told the captain: No.

And he said: Yes, you will.

And that's when we pointed our guns at him.

Some of the guys -- there were a few -- who decided: Well yeah, I guess, you know, killing gooks. That's what we're here for, so let's go.

And we pointed our guns at them and said: No you ain't.

DW: Wow.

IT ONLY TOOK A FEW MINUTES FOR THE ORDERS TO CHANGE

DK: It only took a few minutes.

Are you going to really shoot me? The Captain's asking these guys.

Well, are we going to go down here and shoot people that are friendlies?

And he said: Well, I'm not sure. Hold on a minute.

A couple minutes later, the orders changed. [DW laughs] The incident was never reported.

DW: Wow. And you were there. You witnessed this.

DK: Yes, this happened a lot in a lot of cases, simply because it ain't cool to do this.

YOU CAN'T HELP BUT SYMPATHIZE WITH THE PEOPLE

DK: Once you get to know somebody and you find out they are real people, irrespective as to the differences....

You're talking a Third World country where there're dirt floors and that's about it, basically. Thatched huts, or thatched houses, whatever you want to call them. We called it a hooch.

It's basically a one room, maybe a one-room-and-a-half. These people make their living by wading in leech-infested rice-paddy water, planting and harvesting rice.

They use their water buffalo a little bit in some cases for some of the heavier work, and they harvest the rice in order to have something to eat.

Now a rice diet is not the greatest thing in the world, but there are also a lot of streams around.

So, you end up with a combination of fish and rice, primarily, as a base diet.

You can add to that some leaves of plants that are good to eat.

Sometimes you can get bananas.

It varies a little bit, but [it's] an extraordinarily and I mean extremely poor place.

THEY WORK 20 HOURS A DAY AND STRUGGLE WITH HUNGER

DK: When you get to know these people, I mean, they're working 20 hours a day if they can, daylight to dark.

Every chance they get they're doing something -- and this includes little kids. They are actually given tasks to do.

When you see somebody working like that just simply to survive, and you've got an extra can of beans, you make sure that they got it.

DW: Right.

DK: That's just how it is.

You actually look at that and go: Man, you know, that little kid's hungry. You open a can of beans and you make sure ... and even sometimes you stop and you sit down and you make sure that they eat it. [laughs]

Sure, you can use the can for a landmine later, yeah. Well, collect the can and take it with you.

But, you see people that are, you know, little kids that are bony. I mean their bones are sticking out because they haven't had enough to eat. The reason is they got fish heads and rice to eat -- maybe.

That messes with you. You remember these things.

WE DON'T HAVE THE RIGHT TO KILL THEM

DK: So, I don't see it as a right.

Now, here we are. We are extraordinarily wealthy. We've got the best weapons in the world. We're going to take automatic weapons, M16s, grenades, go through and kill everybody?

You give me a good reason and I'll consider that. If somebody's shooting at me, that's different.

These people not only didn't have any weapons but they would actually come in the night and they would even come up to our position, certain positions, and say: Hey, man.

Yeah, who is it?

And they'd tell you their name, and you'd say: Okay.

And you'd ask them a question. If they'd answer the question correctly, you knew you were talking to the right person. If they didn't answer the question correctly, you pulled the trigger.

DW: Right.

DK: They would tell, you know: Hey, you got a bunch of them coming over, coming at you from the other side over that way in that little gully. Nine times out of ten, it was correct.

WE TOOK CARE OF THEM AS THEY TOOK CARE OF US

DK: And this one little village ... and these villages were all over, friendly villages, and we made sure they had plenty to eat.

We made sure any kind of needs they had were taken care of; we give them medical care, you name it.

I mean this was an asset to us, because unless you've been in the jungle, or ... [laughs] another example would be in the sand. Unless you've been in a condition of that nature, you've got no clue.

So, this was my reason for wanting to abscond with a politician, bring him over there and run him through a couple of rice paddies, get him a couple of good sets of leeches going on his butt, and put him back [laughs] -- give him some kind of firsthand taste.

DW: And these people you're describing are the ones that you were given the category one [Level 1] seek-and-destroy orders against?

DK: Yes and we told them: no.

Most of the people in our unit knew for a fact that these were friendlies.

We had dealt with them. They would invite us in and would feed us when they didn't have any food, hardly.

WHY WERE YOU GIVEN SEEK-AND-DESTROY ORDERS?

DW: And what was the reasoning? Did you guys try to understand why they would want this done? I mean, what could possibly...?

DK: Never did find out the reason for the order.

DW: Right.

DK: The orders were arbitrary in a lot of cases.

DW: Right.

DK: There's a book about Vietnam called The Bright and Shining Lie. I suggest everybody get a hold of a copy of it and it will give you a good idea as to what kind of a mess that was.

THE MASS ARRESTS ARE NOT INTENDED TO TAKE OVER THE GOVERNMENT

DK: Now, what we're dealing with here is something a little different.

A lot of people say: Ooh, insurrectionists!

No, because you're not trying to infiltrate a government and take it over. You're not an invader.

You're not trying to bring a bunch of people in -- unlike certain people in certain agencies that like to play games with guns across the border down South.

Unlike those people, you're not trying to do any of that.

It's not illegal because it's a Notification Process only. But it does give the military the authority, in terms of civilian authority under the Constitution, to take action according to the betterment of our way of life.

This restores the American dream of mom and apple pie, being able to be peaceful, and not have to worry about a whole lot of things.

WHAT DO YOU TELL THE PERSONNEL WHO WANT TO BE INVOLVED?

DW: I would assume that the majority of retired personnel from the military, active personnel from the military, Special Forces and Black Operations guys are going to realize that if something like this starts to happen, they want to be involved.

But, right now they're feeling like they've been given the mushroom treatment. [DK laughs] They're sitting in the dark – and being fed a lot of BS.

Let's assume that most of these people want to get involved. They want to know what to do once the time comes. What do you tell them?

LOOK AT THE CONSTITUTIONAL PREMISE OF A LAWFUL ORDER

DK: Look at it in terms of following the Constitutional premise of a lawful order.

A lawful order will not put you into a police situation. It does not call for roadblocks.

It does not call for martial law.

It does not in any way interfere directly with the civilian population and its operations.

What a lawful order does is it allows you stay out of those areas in such a fashion that you can carry out whatever duty it is -- and it could be any kind of a thing.

It could be playing war games or whatever, maneuvers. You might go down and assist somebody with logs. You never know.

It could be strictly a preparedness or ready training thing: Well, we've got to get these guys ready, see how quick they can get their gear, put them in the truck, take them over here and can you hump up over that hill? How long does that take?

These kinds of things are lawful orders.

AN INVASION WAS OFFERED – AND TURNED DOWN

DK: If there were to be an invasion -- and I understand that that's been offered and turned down.

The difference there is you're going to have people trying to come across the border -- for the strict purpose of taking you out.

That's different.

DRAKE WAS ASKED TO CONTACT PEOPLE AND TELL THEM TO GET READY

DK: I was requested to contact as many of the underground as I could ... to include militias, to include freedom groups.

This also included the people by themselves that just happen to have a gun, or are kind of like me -- too much hillbilly, too red of the neck, I've got too many guns and live in the woods.

DW: [laughs]

DK: The premise for my contacting those people was to tell them to get ready -- because this is coming. It's not going to be stopped. And it's coming a lot sooner than people think.

DON'T ENGAGE OUR MILITARY

DK: And the other part of it is -- don't, under any circumstances -- engage our military.

That's not what this is about. You find out from them, you know: What's up?

Oh, we're just going down here.

Oh, okay.

Sometimes, some of these people will be contacted to assist them.

In other words, this is going to be an all-out effort in this country, and it's going to take a lot of people.

FEMA CAMPS WILL BE USED TO HOLD THOSE WHO ARE ARRESTED

DK: There are [laughs] a considerable number who need to be removed from office or their responsibilities: contained, retained and arrested.

Now my understanding is they're planning to populate the FEMA camps with all these dinks. And I feel that's appropriate. They built them for us. Now you can go take a camping trip in them. [laughs]

DW: Karma is a bitch.

DK: Yeah, so I'm looking at that. Okay.

THERE MAY BE SOME INTERRUPTIONS

DK: Doing this is not, to me, as extraordinarily anxiety-producing as a lot of people would think. I'm not as concerned with this part of it as I am [of] what comes after. There is going to be some interruption.

In other words, you need to get some extra toilet paper and a few extra cans of canned goods.

And I'm talking about have enough for, say, a month or two. That should basically cover the lapse in time.

Not all the trucks are going to be running, so those groceries get cleaned out when everybody thinks that the world's gone mad -- or a little like they do during a hurricane.

DW: Right.

DK: Then, you know, if it doesn't get resupplied, what are you going to do?

Well, this is why we got extra food. This is why a lot of people up here do. This is why people up here raise their own gardens.

Simply, you can [as in canning food] stuff and you put it up.

Having that extra not only is less expensive than going to the grocery, but just in case something does screw up real bad.

It's coming for, say, ten days.

GET SOME EXTRA TOILET PAPER

DK: I don't know how many people consider the importance of this, but to me, being civilized does equate to the use of certain hygienic items.

One of those that I know of that, to me, is extraordinarily important is simple, plain 'ol toilet paper. [laughs]

It might behoove people to think about not being able to go down to the grocery when you run out and get some more.

And I'm going to tell you, newspaper doesn't make it. It's hard on certain things that you don't want to rough up...[laughs]

DW: [Laughs]

DK: You know. Very simply, I mean, you know, you have to think in terms of what do you use, okay?

And what do you use commonly? And what are the convenience items that might not be part of a shipment that does make it through, okay?

Or does get to you that's not considered a survival-level item? Toilet paper, simple tissues for your nose, sanitary napkins for ladies ...

SIMPLE RICE AND BEANS MAY BE ENOUGH FOR FOOD STORAGE

DW: People can subsist on simple rice and beans, you know. All these elaborate products that a lot of these freedom sites are selling are not really necessary.

I mean, it might make you more comfortable, but if somebody's really at poverty level, you can get by with just buying some kidney beans, some brown rice and just keep that in your pantry.

DK: Yeah, exactly. It doesn't take a lot. The idea is this, okay? Yeah, lay up some extra toilet paper. If you're lucky, you can find it on sale, go at it that way.

If you find something that you know really tastes extraordinarily good, but it's $1.49 and they got the other ones two for a dollar, take the two for a dollar.

It's not that much different and you can make out just fine on it. Add a little bit of spices to it and you're good.

THE PLAN CONTINUALLY SAYS IT IS TO BE PEACEFUL AND NON-INTERRUPTIVE

DK: Anyway, the survival part I don't think is going to be all that critical, and I'll tell you why.

The Plan itself reiterates many times -- the portion that I read -- that this is to be a non-interruptive, non-chaotic [and] peaceful -- meaning non-shooting type of an action.

That is an extraordinary difference between all these people out here saying: Oh boy, rosin up your gun, get your bullets out.

You know: Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition -- they're comin'.

Well, yeah -- in fact, the military is going down the road because they need to go over and secure the power plant that the bad guys would like to blow up.

ANY ACCOUNTABILITY, AT THIS POINT, IS REAL PROGRESS

DW: I would also encourage people [to relax.]

As I said, there are many people out there who are playing a game. The game is that everything they hear must not be true.

So they're going to say every single thing this guy, Drake, is saying is not true -- and this is all a pretext for martial law, and for a New World Order.

So, I would say to them -- and you can address them as well -- but I want to say something first.

Let's realistically consider that if arrests start to be made and evidence is provided -- that is progress, no matter what.

Even if it is ultimately -- and that might be as far as they could think of it in their own minds -- one negative faction against another negative faction.

The fact is, let's be honest. How many bankers went to jail during the bailout?

How many people have ever been held accountable for anything? If we start seeing real accountability, by God, that's progress.

Regardless of what you may think, you've got to be able to see that it's a step forward, no matter what.

If you start seeing mass arrests, something has changed. It breaks out of that policy that goes back to the Masons, which is: Everybody who's in on it gets a free pass.

DK: Exactly. [laughs]

RELAX AND DO NOT TAKE IMMEDIATE, AGGRESSIVE ACTIONS

DK: My suggestion is to, yes, be ready, but also relax.

Be calm, cool, collected and slow to pull the trigger -- unless somebody acts unfriendly toward you; I wouldn't necessarily take any aggressive action toward them. Wait and see.

DW: Sure.

DK: Yeah, you can let them [US military, etc] just walk right up to you. It doesn't matter.

THIS IS A RESTORATION OF FREEDOM

DK: As I said, this plan calls for a combination of the things that our original documents call for.

The basis of this is to officially remove those people who tax you to death for no good reason -- other than to put it in their pockets.

This is to remove the private central banking system.

This is to remove a whole load of regulations and regulatory agencies that don't serve any purpose other than control.

In other words, this is the freedom.

Now with that freedom come the responsibility of being what you're supposed to be to everybody that you come across.

This is contained in the Golden Rule: Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You.

Say Hi to somebody. Wouldn't you like somebody to say Hi and wave at you? It feels good, okay?

ALTERNATIVE ENERGY PATENTS HAVE BEEN SUPPRESSED

DW: Let me also point out that in my book, The Source Field Investigations, I quote from the Federation of American Scientists, which says that there's been over 5,000 patents that were classified for 'national security'.

Any patent that gets above 70% efficiency in converting energy is automatically classified.

What that means is if anybody invents anything that could challenge oil, you will never see it.

DK: Well...

DW: All that stuff needs to be released.

I know that that's part of what you all are planning on doing here.

DK: Well, that's part of The Plan, but some of that is already coming out, too.

DW: Right.

THE BAD GUYS HAVE LOST THEIR POWER BASE – AND CASH

DK: The bad guys, I'll say, have lost a considerable amount of a combination of things. One of those is their power base.

They can't say: Well, I'm the mucky muck, do so, and have it done.

The other part is they don't have the cash on hand, the finances, to pay the bad guys that work for them.

DW: Yeah. Mercenaries don't work if you don't pay their salary.

DK: Exactly. You've got a situation where they have lost most of their power; they're beginning to lose most of the finance.

A NATIONWIDE CLAMP-DOWN

DK: I wouldn't be surprised, to be honest with you, to wake up tomorrow morning and find out that the nation had been clamped down.

That clamp-down is complete.

The satellite systems will not work.

You will not be allowed to make international calls.

There's going to be no traffic in or out of the United States -- period.

DW: Hang on, Drake. You said that it would be a court-martialing offense and unlawful orders if any soldiers would block roads.

Now you're saying that air traffic is going to be blocked? How do those two things line up?

DK: Hold on and listen.

DW: Okay.

DK: [laughs] This is a neat one.

THE MILITARY IS ALLOWED TO CLOSE BORDERS IN EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES

DK: The closure of our national borders does come under the military auspices of control. They are allowed to do so in the event of extraordinary circumstances.

This extraordinary circumstance deals with the freedom of our country, and the crooks who would take every last dime in this country with them when they decided to run for the hills.

DW: Well, yeah. The average person has now heard about "Muppetgate," where this guy Greg Smith, who was an executive chairman at Goldman Sachs, comes forward and says that he saw internal memos.

He said that the prevailing climate there was toxic and destructive.

He said that the only thing they cared about was sucking as much money out of their clients as they could.

They called them "muppets," which is a British slang term that means a stupid, ignorant person.

TRILLIONS OF DOLLARS WERE SENT OUT IN THE GREAT 2008 CRASH

DK: If you want to get down to the crux of it, I rather imagine most people remember the great fall of the stock market back in '07, '08.

DW: Yeah, sure.

DK: Okay. We were lucky. One of the reasons it went as deep as it did was that trillions of dollars were automatically sent electronically out of the country.

This was noticed because there are people that watch such things, called Stock Watch, uh, Money Followers, things of that nature.

It automatically set off an alarm, which a guy noticed -- and their communications got cut.

DW: Hmm.

DK: Otherwise it would have been a 1933 all over again. They did save us that much.

DW: You're saying trillions, with a "T", were flying out of the country?

DK: Yes -- and this happened within a matter of about seven minutes.

DW: Jesus.

DK: The reason the satellites are going to be turned off is to protect us from that.

DW: I see.

THE WORK WILL BE DONE IN STAGES

DK: The reason for no international travel is to keep the bankers from loading up a Learjet and taking off. If they do so, they will be shot down.

This is going to be a complete, total clamp-down for a period of 72 hours, if need be.

Now, it should take about 24 hours for the sweep necessary to do the mass arrests, and all this stuff.

A secondary sweep will probably take another 5 or 6 days -- to make sure they get all the records necessary to convict these people.

PREVENTING RECORDS FROM BEING BLOWN UP

DK: There are certain areas that are sensitive that may contain explosive charges of varying kinds in order to blow up a record.

You've seen a lot of these movies lately where they blow things up -- and there're big balls of fire.

DW: Absolutely.

DK: That sort of explosive takes out records like you wouldn't believe, okay?

So, in order to protect against that -- this is the reason for the closure.

THERE WILL BE A DAY'S TIME TO MAKE SURE THIS GOES VIRAL

DK: Now, this is a limited operation.

At the time that they know that it is cleared, that the military portion of the action has been culminated, then -- and I say military -- the military backs the federal Marshals, who use the local police, et cetera.

After that action is taken, we are going to have about a day's time to make sure that this goes viral on the Internet: Hey, guess what, look at this.

And there will be some video supplied, as I understand it. I didn't know about this until just the other day.

MANY DVDs WORTH OF PRODUCTIONS – AND FIVE DAYS OF AIRTIME

DW: I may be talking out of school here, but I think you're underestimating when you say the word "some."

I have been informed that there are DVDs upon DVDs worth of productions -- some of which involve some very famous names that people would immediately recognize -- narrating these documentaries.

And these productions will be apparently airing on television, nothing else, for 5 days running.

It's going to be wall to wall.

They're going to be educating people about everything they need to know.

That's what I heard.

A SPECIFIC EDUCATION CHANNEL WILL CONTINUE AFTER 5 DAYS

DK: There's another aspect to this.

DW: Okay.

DK: They're going to have what's called a Specific Education Channel.

That channel's going to run specifics as to the origins of these guys, the manner in which they accomplished what they did, and how the bad guys got in charge, basically.

DW: Wow.

DK: The DVDs you're talking about are similar, but this is a direct education thing, I understand. It could be.

And it's not going to be limited to 5 days.

This is going to run for several months.

What it's going to do is out this in terms of the bad guys and their structure, how they took over, and how to prevent it.

COUNTY, STATE AND NATIONAL PROJECTS

DK: After that, then you get into what's called County Projects, which lead to State Projects, which lead to National Projects.

You're going to have enough people vacating from office that there's going to be an extraordinary, immediate need for people who can step up temporarily.

Now I want to make this clear -- temporarily -- to fill offices, so that we can keep the function of the structure we have, basically.

That way you don't have a train wreck, so to speak, in terms of the economy.

You don't have everything going in the toilet all at once, or services interrupted, et cetera.

You're going to have some people appointed temporarily, and it will be specifically stated: temporarily.

A PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT WILL BE MADE FROM THE WHITE HOUSE

DK: Now, as I understand it, at the end of the 72-hour period -- if it takes that long -- at the end of the period of time necessary, 72 hours or less, a public announcement will be made from the press room at the White House.

That's according to The Plan.

The Plan has become fluid a little bit, because there's been some different things going on that weren't even available in terms of materials, in terms of the types of things that are available now, back when The Plan was originally written -- or basically completed.

So, it is basically something that is totally awesome, to be a part of something that deals with the rebirth of a country.

I feel like I ought to have a musket and some kind of funny-looking hat, you know, on me, running around in the woods hollering: Yahoo!

WHY DAVID WAS TRUSTED WITH THIS INFORMATION

DW: I'm thrilled by this.

The whole reason why I wanted to conduct this interview was specifically to talk to you, as you have all of a sudden popped out publicly, and backed up something that I was almost the only person talking about.

I do want to make it clear that despite the fact that there's all this hate about me on the Internet -- and I am primarily a guy who writes about UFOs -- the reason why I was trusted with this information is very simple.

I'm not anonymous. It's my real name. I'm out there.

I'm brave enough to talk about this stuff and risk whatever could come my way.

All it takes is for people to step up and do that. I happened to do that.

So I'm sorry if people wanted somebody else, but this is what you got. I'm the one that they told. And now you've come forward, and I really appreciate that.

THEY HAVE SUPPRESSED SCIENCE

DW: I also want to just kick in one very important point here.

As I wrote in FINANCIAL TYRANNY, the Illuminati was revealed when documents from the original group, founded by Adam Weishaupt in Bavaria, were seized after an Illuminati henchman was struck by lightning on his horse.

Then the Bavarian government officials found these Illuminati charter documents in his breast pocket of his blazer.

It was from that point onward, and a series of other arrests that have happened since then, that they found that one of the key areas these people want to control and completely dominate is science.

And so in my book, Source Field Investigations, I have presented information regarding the truth of science -- and the truth that has been suppressed.

WE HAVE TOTALLY MISSED SOME OF THE MOST IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF HEALTH

DW: It's very important to understand that human health does not require the products of the pharmaceutical companies.

There is an aspect of human health that is related to consciousness.

There is an aspect of human health that is related to good diet.

There are aspects of human health that are strictly energetic -- and I'm talking about cures that require nothing but energy.

That energy, believe it or not, can be harnessed by building a pyramid. It appears that the ancients who did this were much more knowledgeable than we gave them credit for.

DK: [laughs]

DNA OPERATES BY STORING AND USING PHOTONS

DW: [laughs] My point in bringing this up is that scientific suppression is vast.

It includes a variety of information about the idea that our DNA's primary function is to store photons. There are about a thousand photons per DNA molecule.

When you have an area of your body that's sick, it loses those photons -- and your DNA doesn't have those photons in them anymore. That's how you can measure where sickness is.

A guy by the name of Dr. Fritz-Albert Popp studied cancer and found that the only commonality between carcinogens is that they scramble light that comes in at 380-nanometer wavelengths, which is ultraviolet.

What does that mean?

Cancer is when cells run out of control in your body. The ultraviolet light is being stored by your DNA to send control messages to the cell -- telling it to stop reproducing.

WE ARE GOING THROUGH AN EVOLUTIONARY LEAP

DW: This is one of a vast variety of things that all leads into my main point.

It appears that we are going through some sort of evolutionary stimulus to the energetic portion of our DNA.

This is not a random speculation.

This is actually based, for example, on the work of Dr. John Hawks, an anthropologist from the University of Wisconsin, who has studied the last 5,000 years of mummies and grave sites that he could dig up and analyze the DNA.

He's concluded that our DNA has changed structurally by a whopping 7% in the last 5,000 years. That means that human evolution has already rapidly sped up on a genetic, measurable level. You can trace it in the DNA.

In the last 100 years there's also something called the Flynn Effect, which is that IQ scores have had to be readjusted every decade -- because people keep getting smarter and smarter and smarter.

THE ILLUMINATI INHERITED KNOWLEDGE OF CYCLES CULMINATING IN 2012

DW: All of this leads back to ancient knowledge about the times that we're now in.

This knowledge was inherited by these Illuminati New World Order people. I make a very compelling case that they are well aware of these ancient cycles.

They know that the cycles end in 2012.

They believed that this would result in some sort of catastrophic Earth change.

This is a misunderstanding.

I want to make that point very clear if I bring this up at all.

YOU HAVE TO TRACE BACK WHERE THEY GOT THE PROPHECIES FROM

DW: The origins of these ancient prophecies can be traced back to two ancient civilizations.

One of them was in Antarctica, which we call Atlantis; the other was in what's now Siberia.

The Earth's position did shift at that time. According to a variety of credible threads of evidence that I've tied together, it was actually the result of nuclear weapons being used.

People don't realize that the Earth was home to very advanced civilizations that lost their technology -- because 90 to 95% of beachfront property, which is where everybody wanted to live, was inundated.

These people had very advanced knowledge. That knowledge was passed down from the Siberian strain to Iran, in the form of Zoroastrianism; to India, in the form of Hinduism; and on into Europe.

You have to go back to Zoroaster and Hindu prophecy. What did they say about what was going to happen in the times that we are now in?

Because everything else -- and that includes Hebrew prophecy, Christian prophecy, Islamic prophecy, you name it -- all traces back to these original seed teachings.

THE ZOROASTRIAN PROPHECY OF "FRASHOKERETI"

When you read the original seed teachings, the Zoroastrians say that we're going to go into a period they call frashokereti -- which is where time changes.

Something very intrinsic happens that changes the nature of our reality.

[<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Frashokereti>]

It's always been a mystery as to what exactly do they mean by that. The same thing with Egyptian prophecy, the same thing with ancient Greek prophecy that they inherited.

It all keeps going back to -- the Hindus said this, too -- the coming of a Golden Age.

It's been widely misconstrued that this was going to lead to some sort of catastrophic disaster.

What it really says, if you go back to the Hindu prophecy, for example, is that great saviors would come to the planet.

They didn't specify exactly what that was, but they did say that it would turn things around in such a dramatic fashion that evil would be completely wiped out.

And if you go back to the Zoroastrian prophecy, the time of frashokereti I was speaking of, it says that evil actually withers away due to the concentrated and focused efforts of the Just.

WE ARE DOING OUR BEST TO HELP USHER IN THE PREDICTED "GOLDEN AGE"

DW: What I believe is that here we are, talking on this radio program, we're doing our own humble best to do what's right for the planet.

And, in some greater incomprehensible framework that we may not be able to fully understand, our ancient mothers and fathers squirreled away these prophecies for us today.

They wanted to let us know that things are going to be OK, that we can do this, and what will happen once we uncork the bottle of the suppressed science which has been deliberately held down.

The benefits that we gain at that point are so much different than the society we have right now, that it is literally equivalent to a dimensional shift.

It is literally a coming Golden Age once the technologies are set free -- and once people have such a massive awakening about the level of wrong that's been done.

THERE WILL BE A MASS AWAKENING

DW: I believe that there will be a wave of compassion and a wave of sentience that people will have where they say: My God! You know, Hitler was just a footnote.

Everybody says: Oh my God, the Nazis, the Nazis, the Nazis!

Well, that's just like one little bitty line item in the contract that happened to squirt out by accident -- compared to what's really there.

And I think once people realize that, and once they see what's been suppressed, they're not going to want to be living in ignorance anymore.

They're not going to want to perpetuate these lies and these hatreds that have been so prevalent.

I just wanted to squeeze that in. My perspective is that I'm very much optimistic. I believe these prophecies are speaking directly about what you're saying.

I think that this action you're referring to is fulfilling prophecies that have been in writing for six or seven thousand years, or more.

We're actually watching now how they're going to be fulfilled. For me, that's extremely exciting.

PUBLIC EXPOSURE OF FORMERLY-HELD SECRETS

DK: As we progress with this process -- and I'm saying we collectively, Americans, everybody that lives here -- my understanding is that all of these things that have been hidden for so long are going to be exposed very publicly.

These things that have not been taught are going to be taught, and that sort of thing. Imagine, now, a nation without secrets!

Imagine not having to worry about somebody doing something funny in the dark, in the closet, where you can't see them. Pretty simple.

I've also done research in areas you're talking about -- and I found this to be extraordinarily interesting.

The tablet that goes next to the law tablet of the Sumerians that they took from -- they said, antiquity -- also covers what you just said in terms of what is to come.

DW: Wow.

DK: That was the part that I ... I left that out, simply. I don't deal with a lot of the things that you do. That's not what I do.

FREEDOM CAN BE BROUGHT TO A WHOLE NEW LEVEL

DK: I have a tendency to be able to open doors. I don't know how that works. I guess God's doing that, or something beyond what I can understand.

And, to be able to be a part, like I said, of setting a nation free again, I'm thinking about when I was around in the 1950s.

I'm thinking about how much fun we could have back then, and not have to worry about being in serious trouble.

Teenagers today get felony arrests for stuff we used to do all the time.

The police would get real upset with us, take us home and mom and dad would definitely -- I'd rather have a felony arrest than have what my mom and dad really wanted to do to me. [laughs] It's quite that simple. [DW laughs]

The ideology of morality can be contained very simply. How would you want to be treated in a situation? How do you act?

GET INVOLVED ON A LOCAL LEVEL

DK: People are going to want to know what to do. The secret to it is locally. You go down to the local level, get to know your neighbors.

You get to know what's going on in the small town that's close to you where you go buy groceries. You find out what the problems are.

If there's something you can do to solve a problem, go ahead and take care of it. You'd be amazed how many people appreciate it. They may not know you did it.

You don't have to worry about it; you know you took care of something and this can grow into anything.

This is what's called a County Project. This is listed on Oath Keepers; this is listed on [http://www.freedomreigns.us/Home_Page.php] our website. And it gives you the information necessary to be able to be the person you really know you can be.

And, you know, think about not having to have guns anymore because you don't have to worry about it.

YOU MAY STILL NEED GUNS FOR MOUNTAIN LIONS

DK: Now, there might be a problem. I don't know, David, how far the research has gone in terms of what our relationship to the animals are going to be.

I've had at least one mountain lion out here that decided to take exception and thought I was lunch [DW laughs].

So I took a shot in his direction and he decided that wasn't a good idea (or she) and everything's fine.

I got hissed at a few days later when it was out there and I happened to walk out on the porch.

So it knows who I am and knows that I'm not something necessarily that's on the menu anymore.

DW: Wow.

DK: You know, other than that, I don't have any concerns.

I LOVE nature! I wouldn't live in the woods if I didn't. So, you know, these are just a few ideas, but think of something where you don't have these secrets.

WE WILL NEED TO REBUILD OUR BASIC MANUFACTURING PRACTICES

DK: And David mentioned the sciences. I'm going to suggest that it goes even further than the sciences.

It's going to require rebuilding a lot of the basic manufacturing so we can build these machines that treat people for diseases, and take care of them.

We're going to need farming.

THE GOLDEN AGE IS THERE IN THE ANCIENT TEXTS

DK: Whether the ascension, as a lot of people refer to it, or change in dimension, or whatever this great change that's supposed to be so great and beneficial does, I don't know.

I have not been given that information.

But the Golden Age is there. It's mentioned in the Sumerian tablets and that's, like, 11,000 years ago.

If they knew about it back then and the Maya picked it up and did a calendar that actually supersedes time, uh, these guys are 'unwashed savages', and they knew about this?

Okay, that tells me that somebody was a really, really good scientist.

And out comes the knowledge -- and away we go.

THE MAYAN CALENDAR IS TETHERED TO THE PLANETARY ORBITS

DW: Yeah, in my book, I also explain how every level of cycle of the Mayan calendar is tethered to super-cycles that underlie the planetary orbits.

That wasn't even discovered until the 1980s by an Australian scientist. It wasn't even published until after the year 2000. And yet, how did they know?

DK: [laughs] Somebody had to tell 'em!

DW: There you go!

WHAT ABOUT THE GREATER WORLDWIDE ASPECT OF THIS?

DW: Another thing I just want to say here because we're on two hours now, and I want to honor people's time...

DK: Go for it.

DW: You're probably used to speaking on shows that are essentially Americentric. They're speaking to the patriots and the people who are wanting to defend freedom in America.

DK: Yes.

DW: We haven't talked about the fact that there is a G20, and there are other countries in which there are plenty of cabal conspirators involved in this whole thing.

Have you been given any information as to this operation outside the continental United States?

DK: Yes, I got some interesting information, uh, well, let's see, I'd say over the last two weeks.

One of the things that's been going on is that the small nations of the world are tired -- or are getting tired -- of the bad guys that are operating out of the United States.

They come in and snatch up everything of value, then disappear and leave them in the dirt. Consequently, they got together and decided that that was not cool.

FINANCIAL CHANGES

DK: The other thing that they have is financial backing that is ancient. Now, by that I mean the original Chinese rulers, people in Taiwan, people in Viet Nam. They're all throughout the Eastern areas.

This deals with the extraordinary accounts called Global Settlement Accounts, and things of that nature, as well as a funding organization. Benjamin Fulford has mentioned this extremely well.

One of the things that took place recently -- and this is something that I was really following closely.

I found a couple of places that note world financial changes.

One of those changes is that the unallied nations finally formulated an agreement -- and the agreement was that they would have their own financial system.

That basically started last Thursday, in terms of being operational. They actually turned it on for the first time to see that everything worked.

Friday they tested it. Saturday they tested it for real, in terms of transfers of small amounts of money back and forth sonobody would notice.

And Sunday they gave the thing a rest, put it on standby. They turned it on Monday morning.

And I thought this was really neat -- they didn't say anything to anybody!

MOST NATIONS OF THE WORLD HAVE FORMED AN ALLIANCE

DK: There are about 200 nations, give or take, out there.

As I understand it, the non-allied nations that are participating in this, they number like 130 or 140, something along in there.

DW: Right.

DK: They have stepped outside of the financial control of the G5, G20.

They are outside of that -- and offer an immunity to the capability of these bad guys to get a hold of any finance.

This is the reason that the Eurozone is having such troubles. This is the reason that the United States is looking real "iffy", and it goes on from there.

THE DOLLAR WILL CHANGE FROM A "DEBT INSTRUMENT" TO AN "EQUITY INSTRUMENT"

DW: Well, the US dollar is the global reserve currency, as per the Bretton Woods Agreement -- and the US dollar is a Federal Reserve Note.

DK: There is going to be a change from what I understand, from what we have now, which is called a "debt instrument," to an "equity instrument".

In other words, there's been enough dollars printed lately [laughs] to probably sink something.

I don't know the volume of the money that's been printed, but I DO know that as a world reserve currency, there's a large load of dollars out there.

DW: Right.

THE EXCHANGE SHOULD BE ONE-TO-ONE FOR THE LITTLE GUY

DK: The number of dollars in relation to this new currency is such that a revaluation, or refunding of, or exchange of that number of dollars for this agreed-to currency supposedly puts us in a position of a basic one-to-one type of ratio of exchange for the little guy.

It does not include the big guys, from what I understand.

JP MORGAN, CITI AND BoA ARE ABOUT TO COLLAPSE

DK: I heard today that JP Morgan, Citi, and Bank of America are just about to collapse.

Now, I don't know how true that is. We'll find out in the next few days.

MAJOR, PUBLIC DIVORCE BETWEEN JP MORGAN AND VATICAN

DW: I put up something on my website right literally before I called you. Then as soon as I'm done with this interview, we're going to process it and get it up in that article.

This was regarding the public admission by JP Morgan that they are divorcing the Vatican, saying that the Vatican bank was using JP Morgan bank accounts to pass funds through -- as sort of like just a very temporary holding facility.

The funds didn't stay in JP Morgan; they just were shooting through it.

DK: Yep.

DW: And they've completely closed that door and it will be fully closed as of March 30th, 2012. They only made the announcement on March 19th, 2012.

That's a very, very interesting thing when you understand that these are two warring factions that used to be all working together.

DK: You're going to have that kind of separation now. I'm not going to say that JP Morgan/Chase, uh, is as innocent as they'd like to make themselves out to be.

DW: Sure.

REVERSAL OF FORTUNE

DK: Then you want to take it the step further. I'm going to suggest that it may be a reversal of fortune.

You do have the Rothschilds and Rockefellers as two basic principals.

You can add minor people that call a lot of the shots, such as Bush, and et cetera.

SEPARATION BETWEEN U.S. AND EUROPEAN UNION

DK: The thing that I'm seeing is that you have a separation between the United States and the European Union simply for the idea of preservation.

I was told, from a couple of different people that I listen to that know what's going on, that the European Union is very close to collapse in terms of the euro.

As the euro goes, so goes the dollar in terms of our economy.

The other part of this is that you got about a two-week span before it starts hitting here.

OLD FUNDS COULD REPAY U.S. NATIONAL DEBT FOUR TIMES OVER

DK: The other part of what our plan entails is finance.

There are old funds held by patriotic entities here in this country who have enough money -- or valued assets, however you want to look at that -- to pay our national debt some four times over.

DW: Wow.

DK: That would be sufficient funding to take care of pretty much anybody's needs for quite some time.

Now, this is not one of the collateral accounts; this is private accounting.

DW: Wow.

DK: That's a big difference than what a lot of people have been talking about, to include Benjamin Fulford. And I respect that man highly.

MASSIVE FINANCIAL SPLITS BETWEEN SECRET ORGANIZATIONS

DK: Okay. There've also been a couple of splits that are coming up in some of these secret organizations that are extraordinarily large AND directly financial.

And you're dealing with extraordinary amounts of money or valuation, again.

You're going to have a bunch of things running around loose that should take care of things for us.

TECHNOLOGIES FOR A GOLDEN AGE

DK: You want a Golden Age? [laughs] Think about not having to use gas anymore or not having to pay taxes. Think about not having to worry about having food to eat.

They do have -- and I can tell you this from personal experience.

There was a sci-fi series called Star Trek. Gene Roddenberry was connected to some people who were basically foretelling future events.

DW: Hmm.

DK: Some of the things you saw on there, to include transporters, which are referred to today as stargates -- this stuff's real. It's been being used for years.

The idea of a food replicator has been around for a long time, but they've also been in use for a long time. So, you're talking about extraordinary, major and fantastic changes.

You want a Golden Age? How about if somebody's hungry or you're thirsty, you go punch in ... you know, it shows you a picture and it says drink and you punch that and it says, you know, what flavor do you like?

Bingo, you got something to drink.

Or if you want a, you know, a steak, it makes it out of matter. You don't have to slice up cows anymore. [laughs]

MATERIALIZER TECHNOLOGY ALREADY EXISTS

DW: You just mentioned something that I have heard and I've never gone public with. I refer to that technology as amaterializer.

I think that's probably a better-sounding word. The classified term I heard is called a constructor.

DK: Yeah.

DW: I've heard that those are very real. It also works with your mind, so it's not like you speak the command.

DK: Yeah.

DW: You literally visualize what you want to eat, and it will then scan and do the best possible job that it can.

This includes the fact that the food cleans your mouth as you eat it -- and it actually turns into pure nutrition as you digest it.

A MONEYLESS SOCIETY

DK: Well, now you want to take this a step further. There was something else in that twenty-fifth century, 2500 AD, sci-fi series, and that was that there is an economy running.

Everybody's running around doing stuff. People are getting food and et cetera. They got clothes, a place to live.

DW: Yep.

DK: And you might note one thing, and this was something that wasn't taken into consideration in terms of getting into details, but it was a moneyless society.

DW: That's right. Somebody's in Ten Forward and they want a drink. They're not plunking down coins to get it.

DK: Exactly. And that extraordinary change, as I understand, is down the road after we complete a whole bunch of this stuff.

KEEPING THE PEOPLE IN CHARGE – AND SAFE

DK: The basis for this is that the United States has been looked at as the bastion of freedom.

The crux of that relies upon our founding documents, the original intent of how things were structured, and the idea that the People, not somebody else, is in charge.

Like I said, the military will install certain people that they have in mind that they know can do certain jobs for a temporary period of time -- and under limited powers.

DW: This means that the bills will be paid, the lights will stay on and there will be continuity of the goods and services that people need for their basic livelihood.

DK: As much as possible. There's going to be some interruptions. That's just a given; that's going to happen.

But it shouldn't be anything extraordinary.

It's not going to be the end of the world, it's not going to be martial law and, you know, the whole thing is not going to go in the toilet.

WILL SIMILAR MASS ARRESTS OCCUR IN OTHER COUNTRIES?

DW: Just to briefly loop back to my previous question, since we have a huge international audience. We have a massive audience in Australia, and a massive audience in Europe.

I have my own intuition and intel on this, but do you personally have knowledge of there being a coordination in which the mass arrests in the United States will correlate with similar police actions in other countries as well?

DK: That CAN happen, but it's not absolutely necessary. The reason for that is that when you close the borders, you don't lose anybody that way.

DW: I see.

DK: And if you take down portions of it at differing times, it's not going to make that much difference.

It would be nice, and probably to some extent simpler, to do it all at once.

You have to realize the extraordinary amount of tactical problems that you come across -- the manpower involved, and whether or not ... if you look at this, we've got a pretty massive job here, okay?

Maybe somebody else might in another country need some assistance from us in order to accomplish the same goal, or we may need assistance from people outside; it could be INTERPOL, it could be anybody -- who knows?

DW: Right, Drake.

THE MEDIA SUPPRESSION WILL BREAK OPEN – WORLDWIDE

DW: I also want to make it clear that most of the world media that is propaganda-based is all based from American corporations -- which are now syndicated throughout television networks all over the planet.

Therefore, when you break the back of the leviathan in this country... We're already seeing, right now, much more truth being told in the British press and in the news media of many other countries.

I would bet dollars to donuts that once this mass uprising occurs in the US, the people are going to realize the lies that have been told.

Those in other countries who have been part of the problem, who probably will be named when this happens, are going to have to scoot very quickly, and find themselves a very, very distant hiding place -- because they're not going to be able to operate publicly.

They're not going to be able to stay in their homes, because people are going to be really pissed when they find out what's been done to them.

THE EUROPEAN PORTION OF THIS HAS BEEN MORE OUT IN THE OPEN

DK: That's part of it, but what you have to remember is that there are two ways that these people operate.

One is covert or under the covers and out of sight, that sort of thing. And one is out in the open. The European portion of this has been more out in the open.

THEY ARE TAKING PERMANENT FOREIGN VACATIONS

DK: I don't know if everybody has noticed or not, but there's been a large load of resignations, retirements, and arrests.

I thought it was interesting to find out from one source that supposedly the people here are running for cover, too. The only problem is I hadn't heard anything about it.

So, I did a little investigation of my own and asked a couple of people I know personally, and, lo and behold, what's happening is that they're not resigning and they're not surrendering.

What they're doing is they are taking permanent foreign vacations.

DW: Hmm.

DK: They're just simply walking out, collecting the family, with a bag full of money and going.

WE ARE ALLOWED TO GO GET THEM WHEREVER THEY GO

DK: Now, the problem with that is the agreements that, as I understand it, are in place, is that we are allowed to go get them wherever they go.

DW: Wow.

DK: Shame on anybody that's in the way.

I do not know a country on the planet who could withstand the full force of the United States military, especially when you got the whole civilian population screaming for blood.

So yeah, there's going to be ... I would imagine there's going to be hangings; you'll have people jumping out of windows here and there; you'll probably have some gun fights.

AVOID RIOTING – IT WILL ONLY CAUSE PAIN AND DESTRUCTION

DK: I do not want to see the riotous lynch mob attitude from anybody.

DW: Neither do I.

DK: The idea of tearing up your neighborhood because somebody told you that you were black is ludicrous and stupid.

You've got people in the neighborhood who have lived there for years, as they make a living out of that store, and you're going to screw it up for them?

That's real intelligent. I wonder what you're going to do with the people that normally would work there? I mean, you know, you're screwing the whole thing up.

The idea is to keep cool, calm and collected because everything will be sorted out over a period of time -- and I do mean everything!

THE NEW “RESPONSIBILITY IDEOLOGY”

DK: The idea of the police state is not going to exist as it does now. Common Law doesn't allow for that.

This is going to be the new basis. This is going to be the new responsibility ideology.

If you're not going to be responsible, somebody is liable to snatch you up and confine you or something.

Or, they might put you to work someplace possibly doing something, or being some place you don't want to be -- or doing something you don't like.

Cleaning outhouses ain't cool. So, it's going to be reoriented to the old-fashioned basis in the '50s.

Some things you didn't do because you knew mom and daddy would kill you if you did it, and you knew that it wasn't right anyway.

So you didn't do it. But you could go out and scream, holler, jump, run, roll in the grass, ride your bike at 5,000 miles an hour, whatever you wanted to do and you didn't get in trouble for it, okay?

YOUR CONSCIENCE CAN DECIDE RIGHT FROM WRONG

DK: The kids today don't get to do that because of the load of information, and it's mostly not correct, that's being put out by the education system -- that they've got to learn something that doesn't fit with them.

It disagrees with the idea of memorizing certain things because it's false.

Lies do not fit well within the brain, period.

And these people have changed the history books and a whole bunch of other stuff and lied to you terribly. This is why this stuff don't go in your head well.

Your brain is made by God, not by man.

God knows the difference between right and wrong, and consequently, so do you.

That little voice, conscience, tells you what's what ... you know, to do this, don't do [that], okay?

Real simply -- the lies don't fit. That's why they're so hard to cram in your head.

CONSCIENCE IS WRITTEN INTO THE CONSTITUTION

DW: Thankfully, the Founding Fathers -- I learned this from my own legal research -- put provisions in the United States Constitution that stipulate that conscience supersedes the written law.

In other words, if conscience is very clear about something, then what's written cannot go against that. And that's in the Constitution. It's not something most people talk about but it's definitely in there.

IT'S VERY HARD TO LEARN THINGS THAT ARE OBVIOUSLY INCORRECT

DK: Exactly. But the inference of what I'm saying is the reason why the education is so difficult, the reason it's so hard to learn stuff is simply because it ain't right! [with emphasis]

DW: Yes.

DK: It's like eating something that's going to upset your stomach. You get a steady diet of that and you're going to have some problems.

This is basically what the difference between real education and what they're giving out now. That's the difference between it.

This is why everybody is having such a problem.

You don't need to do all of what's being done, in terms of information overload, in order to accomplish the goals that we have set before us.

YOU CAN DO ANYTHING YOU PUT YOUR MIND TO

DK: You're going to have to be smarter than you think you are -- and that comes with the territory.

But, you can, and I have found this to be true, anybody who really decides they're going to do it, there's not too much that a person can't do.

THESE ARE GOING TO BE MASSIVE CHANGES

DK: The education system's changing, the tax system's changing, the money system changes -- the government's going to flip itself on its head.

These are not little, simple changes.

Everybody needs to pay attention to that fact and realize that it's serious -- and it's already on its way.

There's nothing nobody can do to stop it.

The United States can't pay its debt; therefore, the currency is going in the toilet.

It's going to be replaced with something of equitable value, rather than a debt instrument, which is what you have now in the way of money.

That's a given. You have to do that.

There's going to be barter and trade. There're a lot of things that are going to change.

WHAT ABOUT NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY?

DW: What about national sovereignty? One of the other things everybody's so paranoid about is: Oh, New World Order, they want to take away my country and just merge us all into some gigantic octopus.

DK: No. That was what the bad guys had in mind for us. That's what the FEMA camps were built for. They were going to reduce the population and all this other happy stuff.

WE ARE GOING TO BECOME WORLD-CONSCIOUS

DK: What's going to happen is that, yes, we're going to become world-conscious.

This means that you're going to be aware of the Chinese, Japanese, whomever you're dealing with, the Russians, whoever. They will also have to be conscious of us.

There will be much more friendly compliance in terms of trying to accomplish things than has ever happened before for this ... for one simple fact: sovereignty, yes; war, no.

Now, nobody... [laughs] War is good for absolutely nothing, just like the song says!

DW: [Laughs]

DIVINE INTERVENTION

DK: The idea of war has been stepped on. People don't believe in ETs, but I'm going to tell you something -- there is a thing called the Law of Averages.

Any gambler knows that trying to pull a royal flush in a five card draw game is extraordinarily difficult.

You cannot have more than, on average, 10 out of 100 guns that won't fire at the same time. And yet, there's been whole armies and groups of troops that have had all misfires.

You put a battalion on line, you aim at the enemy and pull the trigger and it goes clink? That's not possible. I'm sorry. Somebody's screwed with something.

DW: Right.

DK: I don't know what it was, don't care. I'm just glad that it worked.

It's sort of like um ... The Day the Earth Stood Still. That movie is excellent. All he did was turn the electricity off for about 10 minutes and it screwed everybody's mind up!

DW: Yep!

DK: And these are the kind of things, of proof, that are going to be readily available in the very near future. This is not very far down the road.

THEY ARE GETTING READY TO DO THIS

DK: The thing that's going on now is tactical positioning. They're getting ready to do this -- and I'm hoping that it happens sooner than later.

I wish it was last week, but I'm not in charge.

So, you know, I don't really know, but I listen to some people that do deal with these things. That's how come I know what I know.

DW: Yeah, there are windows that already came and went for when they were considering possibly doing this.

THEY ARE NOT GIVING EXACT DATES FOR SEVERAL REASONS

DW: What I've heard is that they're not giving out specific dates now because they don't want something else to come along that changes the window and then have everybody get disappointed.

DK: Well, not only that, but the bad guys are liable to put a road block in or...

DW: Of course.

DK: ...you know, roll a landmine up under your truck, or something, while you're driving down the road. That's not fun either.

THEY ARE REALLY PUSHING THE ENVELOPE

DW: They're really pushing the envelope, too. They're trying to get away with as much as they can, because they know the window is very narrow of how much time they've got.

So they're passing executive orders and doing all this crazy stuff in this last gasp, which is ironic, because the more of this kind of stuff they do, the faster they bring about their own demise.

DK: Exactly, because what they're doing is spending their ammunition. You want to make sure you don't run out of bullets when you've got bad guys coming at you.

DW: Right.

DK: When they're shooting at you, you need to be able to shoot back. If you don't, you got a problem!

The ammunition, you have to look at the ammunition they're shooting.

In some cases they have done a lot of different things, but lately the ammunition has been simply press, or hollow, or without meaning.

DW: Right.

DK: And that's a big difference. That's like shooting a blank.

DW: Yeah, it's a psy-op.

DK: Yeah.

DW: It doesn't have any tactical advantage other than the psychological advantage.

DK: Yeah. They want to psych everybody up and make people real nervous and scared and this and that, and...

REMEMBER HOW HITLER WAS DEFEATED

DW: You know, if we go back in military history and we look at how Hitler was defeated, basically his communications had been secretly tapped. He didn't realize this.

Winston Churchill had to make the terrible decision of allowing his own family to be bombed in London, knowing that if he gave it away, they wouldn't be able to win the war.

They tweaked Hitler's ego to such an extent that they got him to march on Stalingrad, Russia -- in the winter! [DK laughs]

Then the slash and burn policy was used so that his soldiers couldn't find any homes to plunder, any people to rob, or any food to get...

DK: Exactly!

DW: ...and they perished in the winter...

DK: Exactly!

DW: ...and it wiped out his army.

PEOPLE GET STUPID WHEN THEY ARE ANGRY AND DESPERATE

DW: And so, the lesson of history is that when people get desperate, when they get angry, they get really stupid.

Ultimately it was Hitler's narcissism, his ego, his pride and his vanity that brought him down.

It was him starting to get stupid in the heat of battle and making dumb moves.

He wasn't thinking like a chess player. He wasn't thinking five moves ahead.

I think that there is such a lack of central command right now that they can't think far enough ahead.

They're making these knee-jerk decisions out of fear -- and that's what's bringing them down.

They're getting stupid, they're getting sloppy, and you're seeing more and more evidence of this right out in the open on the headlines of the news.

DK: Exactly.

NEWS MEDIA WILL FINALLY REPORT REAL NEWS

DK: Now I understand one of the key points that they're going to take is control of all of news media.

So, you're going to have a full channel. All of the news media, to include all the other channels, are going to carry the information for a time.

They'll return back to movie channels and things of that nature afterwards.

DW: Right.

DK: All of your news channels then will be free to actually report some news.

I'm going to give you guys an example real quick.

Look at the news during the day. And I'm going to tell you, if you look at it closely, you'll find that there isn't any news. They're not reporting squat.

The reason is, they don't want you to know what's going on for real.

That's the difference between them and us, and the reality of this program as it's been laid out.

The Plan is very simple -- and it's being followed to the letter.

THE "CAYLEE CHANNEL"

DW: I remember back when I was working on my music album Wanderer Awakening, I was staying at my friend Larry Seyer's house in Austin, Texas.

For about nine months we were working on this album. It's fifty songs -- so it took a long time. [Laughs]

I'm not going to say which one it was, but there was this one channel when he was flipping through the channels on TV and we called it the "Caylee Channel."

Every single time we went to this channel, day or night, they were talking about this very cute missing little girl, presumed dead.

How can that generate enough news to feed an entire channel -- day in and day out?

But that's what was happening. All the talking heads on this channel, all they talked about – Caylee, Caylee, Caylee --all day long. It was crazy!

[DW: This became a running joke in the studio. I don't normally watch any TV, but when Larry wanted to, I would say "Let's go see how Caylee is doing."]

A TOTAL BLACKOUT ON INTERNATIONAL NEWS

DK: If you want to update that, I would suggest you look at the deal with the Supreme Court right now. The only thing you're hearing about is Obamacare.

DW: Right.

DK: What happened to Syria? What's happening in the Middle East?

DW: Right.

DK: What is going on with the other countries such as China and Russia, who are major players on the world stage?

Nothing's going on in any of these places, according to what you hear on the news; it's only us.

DW: Right.

DK: Even your usual news from Great Britain is not coming through like it used to.

It's beginning to become bland, pointless and actually newsless, okay?

Like I said, they've lost the capability to influence people the way they'd like.

And, through various means, they're getting ready to take the last or final plunge.

From what I've heard, the tactic's getting ready to happen. So, everybody can look for a nice bright sunny day right down the road.

DW: That's very exciting. I want to thank you for taking the time out of your valuable schedule to speak with us today.

YOU CAN HELP – BY INFORMING OTHERS

DW: Please let us know when this window starts to come, so that we can do the viral maneuvers necessary.

I want to be clear that just about everyone listening to this is going to want to help in some way.

If you're not a soldier or retired military, for the majority of the people listening, what really is going to help the most is you simply letting other people know that this is real.

This is not an Internet conspiracy theory. This is not Chicken-Little, sky-is-falling speculation.

This is a plan that, as you said, Drake, was already a five-inch-thick document in 1979.

They've been building up to this for a long time. Action is going to be taken. It's too late to be reversed.

It's not a question of if; it's a question of when.

It will be swift. It will be dramatic. It will be probably the most significant moment in any recorded modern human history.

A MASSIVE WORLDWIDE PANIC ATTACK IN THE EARLY STAGES

DW: There is going to be a massive worldwide panic attack in the early stages of it; it's inevitable.

People are going to freak out because they've had their heads in the sand; they didn't want to see that there was something bad going on.

For everybody who is hearing this -- you're the ones who now have the charge.

You know about this in advance. You have the insider knowledge of what's coming.

It's really important to help other people get prepared so that they know when this occurs, it's not all of their doom and gloom fears coming true.

It's not a coup. It's not martial law. It's not New World Order. These people who are doing this are valiantly defending our freedom -- and they can be trusted.

[DW: It's also very important to focus on the extreme positives this will create -- massive prosperity, clean energy and real peace -- rather than opening up with alarming statements about stocking up on toilet paper.]

BREAKING THE SECRECY CREATES A PERMANENT, POSITIVE CHANGE

DW: At the very, very least, even if you don't trust it, stand by and just watch and see what happens -- because I'll tell you something.

Let's say we uncork the bottle of secrecy.

Let's say all these people that have been fed a lie a day, or ten lies a day, or a hundred lies a day -- from every corner, from every magazine, from every television network -- find out that all that stuff isn't true.

At that point, how in the world can you ever put the genie back in the bottle?!

This is something I think all the fear-mongers fail to realize. Once you break the secrecy, once you break the back of the leviathan, you can't put the genie back in the bottle.

Corruption will never be able to fester again -- because the truth is a weapon that subdues this cabal.

They don't want the truth to come out. Period.

Therefore, when the truth does start coming out, that's your sign that they are no longer running the show -- and that positive changes are happening.

Would you agree with that, Drake?

DK: Absolutely!

DON'T FREAK OUT – EVEN THOUGH THE NEWS WILL GO BALLISTIC

DK: Something to remember is -- don't freak out, no matter what's going on.

Just sit there, kinda watch out the window and see what's happening.

You probably won't notice any difference between one day and another, other than that the news will probably go ballistic...

DW: Right. Think 9/11, but on a bigger scale -- because the news is there to make people freak out.

DAVID WAS VERY CALM DURING 9/11 – HE HAD PREDICTED IT IN ADVANCE

DW: When 9/11 happened to me, I'd already been accustomed to having very intense things happen in my life.

I was perfectly calm.

I drove home -- and I proceeded to write articles the whole rest of the night about how I had been publishing dreams that had predicted all this stuff well in advance.

The dreams phrased it in very specific terms -- including airplanes, economic collapse, all kinds of specific details I already had on my website.

[DW: I have also now had dozens and dozens of dreams discussing these imminent mass arrests, urging me to get involved, and saying this is a very positive step that will free us from Financial Tyranny.]

THE MEDIA WAS "JUST FOLLOWING ORDERS"

DK: The media tries to make you think that you're in danger; that you're in fear, that there's a threat going on.

When they realize what's going on, and that these things that have been talked about in advance, such as what you and I are doing, are coming to pass....

Nobody wants to be that guy on the Nuremberg Trials who said: [with a German accent] I vas just following ordahs -- and that includes the media!

DK: [laughs] A lot of the media is going to be replaced, it's that simple. It's a little too far gone to keep them.

So, you know: Sorry about that, but you're going to be adjudicated.

SOME OF THEM HAVE DONE TRULY HORRIBLE THINGS

DK: One of the things I want to say here is that you've got a lot of bad guys -- some of them worse than others -- some have done things that human beings shouldn't do at all, okay?

The level of what they did is the way I would suggest how they be judged.

It's going to be up to us to figure out exactly how nasty we want to get with these guys.

However, you might want to consider keeping a few of them around, simply so that they can show you what they did, and how they did it.

We make sure it don't happen or can't happen again -- and we can find that little closet they had specially built into the house where the record boxes are at.

There're a lot of advantages to treating people a certain way.

WE MUST AVOID THE GENOCIDAL MINDSET

DW: I also want to make it clear that Hitler's actions against the Jews were felt justified by the people, because the Jews were blamed for everything that was wrong.

DK: Exactly.

DW: In a lot of cases, what you're dealing with when you talk about Illuminati -- in truth -- is a vast, multinational secret combination of a huge number of different corporate entities, military entities, governmental entities, everything.

DK: Mm hm.

DW: And there are many, many levels of that hierarchy of people who would be killed if they tried to get out.

In my view, probably the greatest travesty of all in this whole situation is that all these folks on the Internet who are into the conspiracy stuff think that everybody who can have this label put on them is equally culpable -- and equally evil.

In fact, as a whistleblower named Svali has said from the Illuminati perspective, the majority of these people don't want to be in it.

They hate what's going on. They hate doing their jobs. They would do anything to get out. But, they know they would be killed and tortured -- and have everyone they love killed and tortured -- if they did.

You'd better believe that there are going to be a lot of people who are brave patriots -- who deserve to be given amnesty and given a chance to testify to what happened -- in exchange for some degree of clemency.

Then they can help fish out who the real problems are -- and be given a chance to reform.

I think that it's a fatal mistake for us to embrace a genocidal mindset and slap the word Illuminati on people, and think that means they should be put to death -- just like the Germans slapped the word Jews on somebody and put them to death.

IRS AGENTS COULD HELP CLEAN UP THE MESS

DK: I'm going to give a real simple illustration that everybody should think about. I'm sure everybody's heard about the IRS. I'm sure that everybody has heard about the massive record keeping process that goes on.

DW: Sure.

DK: Now, somebody that sets the precedent of: Let's go take this guy's house just because we can -- that turkey needs to be dealt with rather harshly.

Now, the guy that works for him -- the clerk, the person that files, the person that answers the phone -- might know how things work well enough that we can more quickly unwind the mess that's been made, and at the same time exonerate what their actions were.

I mean, you got to eat, so you got to have a job.

And the only job I can get is the one at the IRS, even though I got a degree -- but at least I can eat, and I can feed my family, so I'm going to be a clerk. And what I'm going to do, I will eventually end up being a senior file clerk.

All he's doing is putting papers in a drawer? I can't say that he's the evil mother that came out and foreclosed on houses or put tax liens up somebody's whatever. That was the boss -- those are the people that we're after.

And a lot of them are going to turn too; because they don't want to ... they do not want to bear the brunt of being strung up in a tree.

It's just that simple.

And in Germany [laughs] there were a whole bunch of people got strung up and left in the public parks, strung up in trees.

I don't advocate that.

SOMETIMES YOU MUST DEFEND YOURSELF

DK: I don't like violence, never have. But I'm not beyond pulling the trigger on somebody if I need to, to protect me or my wife.

I don't necessarily feel that it's a good idea to go into, say, JP Morgan / Chase and go after them with loaded guns -- because some idiot is liable to pull the trigger, even by accident, and do something ... and cause something they don't want to happen.

You have to take the responsibility and the position that: Well, we already got them, we can decide later if they need to be shot, or hung, or whatever happens to them.

Some of them, I'm going to say right now, even though I don't advocate violence, there are some of them that need to be chopped up into little pieces before they're executed!

DW: [nervous chuckle]

DK: I'm serious. I know that you have the capability of looking in somebody's eyes and getting a reasonable feel for the condition of that person's soul or spirit.

I have looked into some of the eyes of some people -- it's blank, it's dark and they look back at you like you're on the menu!

DW: Right.

DK: I personally am not going to put up with that -- period.

That person is either going to be executed or put away permanently by itself. Whether it's male or female doesn't make any difference. They will be kept that way until they pass away or are executed for crimes, or whatever.

MANY PEOPLE WILL DEMAND THE DEATH PENALTY

DW: I think that if you go back to that Sumerian Common Law you were referring to earlier, it's essentially something that I would argue is actually a Universal Principle.

And that is that we don't harm other people.

If someone has done massive, massive harm to others -- and that includes torturing people, killing people in large numbers, doing it with a sadistic glee and with people who are innocent -- then we, as a society, do have the right to issue a death penalty.

Now, some people are going to disagree with me on that -- and say the death penalty should never, ever, ever be done.

It's going to be difficult to argue, otherwise, with the number of people who are going to be upset -- and who are going to want to see some degree of justice occur.

[DW: Some people have taken strong offense to my having said this. I do believe the death penalty should only be used in extreme circumstances, if at all -- and I absolutely do not condone any form of torture whatsoever.]

PEOPLE HAVE THE RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY

DW: But all that being said, I think it's really important that we not be quick to do this, and that we don't start making assumptions.

I think that people have a right to a trial by jury.

I think that doing a bunch of shooting at the beginning is a terrible mistake.

It makes us no better than the people that we're attempting to supersede.

I think that these people do have a right to defend themselves, just as our law stipulates.

DK: I'm inclined to agree with that. But, like I said, I don't advocate torture and I don't like violence, but some people do need to be executed.

DW: Right.

DK: That's just how it is.

DW: If you look at, for example, the South African Truth and Reconciliation Committee, some of that did happen, but it happened in context of public hearings.

DK: Yeah.

DW: Right.

DK: I think we've pretty much covered it. I don't know of anything to add to this.

DW: I feel we've done a terrific job.

LET'S TALK A LITTLE MORE ABOUT THE DIVINE INTERVENTION NOW OCCURRING

DW: About the only other thing I would add is just to second what you said about this bizarre situation that's happening with guns jamming on the battlefield. It's a pretty big issue.

It's the main subject of the article I'm writing right now. There's been over forty of these types of events that I'm aware of in just the last few months.

I'm going to be detailing many of them in my article called DIVINE INTERVENTION, which is on divinecosmos.com.

[<http://www.divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1035-divineintervention1>]

These are crazy events.

And from what I've heard, and apparently now you're hearing the same thing, everybody in the Pentagon, good guys and bad guys, is aware that this is being done.

They know that these actions are not singling out any one nation -- they're actually going against anybody committing an act of aggression.

"THE DAY THE EARTH STOOD STILL" WAS A DOCUMENTARY

DW: You're absolutely right about The Day the Earth Stood Still as an excellent point of comparison for that.

It is a teaching that seems to have been sort of like a time capsule of truth.

We wouldn't realize exactly how prophetic it was until these moments actually started to happen for real. That movie was a documentary; it was not fiction!

DK: [Laughs]

DW: [Laughs]

THE IRAN DRONE SCANDAL IS BIGGER THAN MOST PEOPLE THINK

DW: A series of very compelling pieces of evidence are coming out. One is the Iran drone scandal, in which our best RQ-170 Sentinel Drone was flying over Iran.

Somehow, they gained control of it and landed it.

And landed it intact; they published the pictures of it on the Internet, and everybody can see that.

The thing is, what people may not realize is that the RQ-170 Sentinel Drone uses a communication system that is quintuple encrypted, and was believed completely impossible to be hacked.

It is the most advanced communication system in any of the classified assets that we have, including all the stuff that comes out of Area 51, Lockheed Skunk Works.

Nothing that we have in the Black Ops community has a communication system and a guidance system more advanced than what was on the RQ-170.

Therefore, the fact that that could be overtaken and grounded means that nothing in our possession, nothing in our arsenal, is free from potentially being over-ridden.

This is one of a variety of things you can look at in the mainstream media right now.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT BEGGED FOR THE DRONE TO BE GIVEN BACK

DW: You can see when this came out and in fact the US Government, in an astonishing act of humility, pretty much begged Iran to give it back!

DK: [Laughs] I can't blame them!

DW: It's unbelievable that they actually acknowledged that it was real, acknowledged that it was taken and said: Would you please give it back?! [DW laughs]

DK: They're very expensive!

DW: [Laughs] I want people to stop and think about that -- and realize that's probably the most traceable of these events so far, where you can read all about it on the Internet and see something that actually happened.

A very classified piece of technology was downed for reasons that shouldn't ever have been able to happen!

WE ARE BEING PROTECTED BY DIVINE INTERVENTION

DW: What I'm hearing is, from the insiders, that there are cruise missiles that won't fire. There are bunker-buster bombs that won't go off. There are tanks that won't start!

DK: [Laughs]

DW: And, it goes on and on and on. It's unbelievable, the scope of what's happening.

That leads me to believe that we are actually dealing with a joint operation in which the boys from topside, as some like to call them, are making darn sure that this plan you're talking about right now will succeed.

"TREE-HUGGING HIPPIES FROM SPACE"

DK: [laughs] I've heard a description that I thought was pretty funny, but does fit.

As I understand it, these guys were described as: "tree-hugging hippies from space" had a "primary directive of non-interference -- and what are you doing zapping me into ga ga land?" That's a quote from somebody on a security thing!

If somebody wants to know about us as much as can be, and wants to hear recordings -- http://www.freedomreigns.us/Home_Page.php -- that's all I got to say!

LET'S DISTRIBUTE THIS INTERVIEW

DW: Terrific. Drake, I thank you and I encourage everyone ... in this case, let's not worry about copyright; let's distribute this.

You can re-post it, you can put it on the Internet and put it under your own name, break it up into a thousand different ten-minute sections -- whatever you want to do.

We need to get the word out. Nobody's trying to profit off of this, so just spread the word.

[DW: As stated in the beginning, we may need to update this post as events continue to occur. So you can post anything up to very long excerpts, but please link your readers back to the full, complete original version here so they don't miss anything.]

We're going to get the transcript done as soon as we can, and let people know -- because this is going to be the most significant event in history when it happens.

And your role, you listening to this, is going to be to help calm people down, get them educated so that they're not going to freak out -- and this can happen in as orderly a fashion as possible.

DK: Well, David, I appreciate you having me on, I really do.

DW: Thank you, Drake, it's been my pleasure. And to everyone out there, God bless you and keep up the good work! Thanks so much.

STAND BY FOR MORE

This interview is a subset of a greater body of data that will follow in the final version of DIVINE INTERVENTION.

Many naysayers will be surprised once I get the full version posted.

Freedom is at hand. The people are taking the power back. This is a very exciting time to be alive on Earth!

[NOTE: An untrusted, unproven source associated with the "White Hats" sent us a photograph purporting to be a "leaked" image of new US currency. It turned out to be money from the 1800s, while US Treasury notes were still being printed.

This was an obvious set-up, so as soon as we were notified by readers, I took the picture out of this article.]

CONFERENCE TOURS IN EUROPE AND AUSTRALIA / NEW ZEALAND

Without your support, we would not be able to do this -- and I do very much appreciate your help. Since we have had tons of questions about this, yes -- I am doing a European tour in May and an Australia / New Zealand tour at the beginning of June.

The European tour includes a mega-conference in Toulouse, France with Neale Donald Walsch and many others.

There will also be two events in Amsterdam, Holland the following weekend, which are about to go online in a day or two. I still have to write the descriptions of what I will be talking about!

The Australia / New Zealand tour will feature five different events in five major cities -- with no two precisely alike, since my lectures are improvised around my slides, and I make changes between each event.

Early-bird discount prices are available if you lock in your tickets before April 15th. VIP tickets include an after-party event where I meet everyone in person. These conferences are being produced by Veritas Magazine.

Of course, as events unfold in real time, they will be worked into these talks.

These conferences are shorter in length, and therefore more affordable than our 16-hour all-weekend events, which are our main lifeline that allows us to continue doing this.

We do have three more 16-hour CONVERGENCE events coming up -- including New York in June, Chicago in July and Vancouver in August. These are small enough that everyone gets to meet me at the end -- and the satisfaction level is very high.

Comments about "charging money for events" will not be posted. Each event costs between six and nine thousand dollars to put on, and the profits provide critical financial support for five different staff members.

We are all very grateful for your support! We also deeply appreciate the work of all our volunteer staff as well. Without our transcription and moderation teams, none of this would be possible -- so I thank you!

ONE LAST NOTE ON COMMENTS...

We now have a full-blown moderation crisis. Your comments are coming in so fast that we do not have adequate staff support to hand-process them.

What I mean by this is the vast majority of people do not tag their links. Without these tags, they are dead links unless our staff fixes them by hand. There is no cyber-shortcut we've found for this in our system, unfortunately.

You must type `[url]` before the link begins and `[/url]` after the link ends, like this, or your link WILL NOT WORK:

`[url]` <http://www.yourlink.com> `[/url]`

Remember the second "tag" has to have a slash before the letters "url" in order for it to work properly.

A faster trick is to simply highlight the text of your link, again, after you've already pasted it into position. Then you will see a button above the comments window that is a blue circle. Hit that button and it will type the `[url]` text for you around whatever you highlighted.

Unfortunately, anyone who fails to do this will have broken links. It's the only way we can keep up with the volume of comments now coming in.

PLEASE DO NOT WRITE RUN-ON PARAGRAPHS

Also, please break up your paragraphs so they do not run on and on, sentence after sentence, without any spaces.

Please bear in mind that if you want your text to be readable, without eyestrain, you need to hit ENTER -- twice -- after every second or third sentence. Notice how everything is formatted here. This is the Web standard now for all professional journalism.

Our moderators used to do this for people manually, by hand, because so many gargantuan paragraphs were coming in and those comments would go unread.

Now we don't have the time to do this, so please remember to make your comments readable. Hit ENTER, twice, after every sentence or two, and you will be golden. Hitting it only once does not create a space between each sentence group.

We thank you for your support!

MAJOR EVENT: Liens Filed Against All 12 Federal Reserve Banks

Written by David WilcockFriday, 13 April 2012 18:18

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1047-liens>

The next major milestone for Mass Arrests of the cabal has now arrived. Liens have now been filed against all twelve Federal Reserve banks. A Cease and Desist Order has also been filed -- to prevent the world's wealth from continuing to be stolen.

PRELUDE TO THE MASS ARRESTS

If you have been following this and certain other websites, then you have already heard the eyewitness testimony suggesting that thousands of conspirators in finance, media, defense, military, corporations and government are about to be arrested.

The mass resignations of CEOs, worldwide -- now numbering well over 450 in the last few months alone -- is a tangible sign that a major event is anticipated within the insider community.

Let's be clear, again, that this is NOT a coup, NOT martial law, and NOT a takeover of the government in any way.

IT ALREADY HAS BEEN TAKEN OVER

Our financial system, media complex, defense industry, corporate world and government has already been taken over.

It is not being run for the people and by the people. It has been systematically manipulated by a secretive, occult Cabal.

We cannot sit back and wait for their next attempt to generate mass chaos and destruction, and say "let's just leave everything the way it is," simply because this group has been so circumspect in revealing its true intentions.

This system threatens the welfare of everyone on Earth. In their plan to secure global control, they have repeatedly attempted to create mass casualties -- by a variety of different means -- and significantly reduce population.

Many, if not most of these efforts have been thwarted. Much of this is thanks to the will of the people; great heroes who take a stand. This includes countless hundreds of millions of people doing their best to spread the word -- and inform others.

More recently there appears to be Divine Intervention, for lack of a better term -- which is utterly destroying the Cabal's ability to do any further harm on a mass level.

That does not, in any way, reduce or eliminate our need to act. For now, we focus on the practical, tangible, on-the-ground steps we must take to free our planet from Financial Tyranny -- within this very opportune set of circumstances.

THE PLAN REQUIRES THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE

The plan for mass arrests appears to have been in development since the 1960s, as my interview with a new insider named Drake revealed.

Drake was asked by the "good guys" in the Pentagon to provide a public voice for a plan that, up until then, had almost entirely been disclosed by Benjamin Fulford, since 2007, and myself since November 2011 -- when I was personally briefed on it.

This plan requires the will of the people to succeed. Otherwise, our supporters within the military and the justice system do not have the legal precedent to perform such actions.

After many years, the public outrage is now sufficiently high that the will of the people has become more than sufficient to take these steps. Elements within our civilian and military sectors alike have had enough -- and are taking a stand.

US marshals from the Department of Justice and peace officers will carry out the arrests, with the assistance of military personnel -- in the event of any unforeseen disturbances.

By assisting a legal civilian operation in this manner, the military personnel are following their Oath of Enlistment - - to protect and defend the US Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic.

THIS WILL BE A POINT OF NO RETURN FOR THE CABAL

Again, to reiterate, the mass arrests will generate a situation from which there is no turning back for the Cabal.

Once the truth is exposed, there will be no further walls of secrecy for them to hide behind.

Every genuine fact you've ever read on the Internet about this problem will quickly become common knowledge. The "learning curve" is steep, but this is what everyone will be talking about.

The rules of logic are absolute in a case like this. Full disclosure of this group guarantees that no such actions will ever be tolerated again by the public. It is a full-stop Game Over for the cabal.

That is why they are so terrified right now.

There are plenty of headlines showing this -- such as Muppetgate, the public divorce of JP Morgan and the Vatican, the mass resignations of over 450 CEOs, and the passing of ridiculous and tyrannical executive orders.

This cannot and will not be a "cleaning out of middle management" only. The upper levels will be clearly exposed. These people's lives will never be the same. No one will tolerate the continuation of their plans.

AN INCREDIBLE AMOUNT OF DAMNING EVIDENCE

Particularly since 9/11, an incredible amount of damning evidence has been quietly collected -- all for use in this single moment of Truth.

This evidence includes extensive video proof of how they talk, what they do and what they have planned -- in countless, allegedly secure locations.

Bohemian Grove is only one of many locations that have been thoroughly compromised by hidden surveillance.

Yes, it will be shocking. Very shocking. It will also be undeniable. This evidence has been rigorously collected since 9/11, and distilled down to its most powerful core elements.

There is so much evidence that any attempt to "debunk" it, or say it is the work of CG animation, et cetera, will completely fall apart.

All international air travel and all domestic borders will be closed, to prevent the conspirators from fleeing. Those who have already gone into hiding, internationally, will be located and brought to justice.

There will NOT be a mass power outage unless the negative groups try to do this. The lights will stay on and everyone should be OK during this process.

THERE WILL BE SOME DISRUPTIONS -- AS WELL AS AN AVALANCHE OF TRUTH

There may be local disruptions of Internet service and international phone calls for the initial three-day period. This is by necessity, to avoid trillions of dollars flying out of the economy and collapsing the nation -- as began occurring in the 2008 crash.

Had this massive hemorrhage not been quickly stopped in 2008, the economy could have been destroyed beyond any hope of repair.

Any outages of these critical services will be turned back on as soon as possible -- in no more than three days' time.

For the first five days after the arrests occur, every television station will have wall-to-wall coverage of information that makes our finest civilian investigations pale by comparison -- and leaves no margin of doubt.

Scores of DVDs' worth of documentaries -- some narrated by instantly-recognizable public figures -- will be airing, revealing the truth, with as much sensitivity as possible -- while also not pulling any punches.

I have been told that the most disturbing content will not be made available to minors. Anyone will be able to review it, but they will need to do so under supervision, such as via Skype.

Enough information will be released to make people aware of the exact nature of this disturbing content, however.

THE GREAT ILLUSION IS BROKEN

Once this information is released, there will be a mass grieving process that must occur, akin to the sudden death of a friend or loved one.

A good buddy of mine died this week. I got the call on Wednesday. I have been in shock ever since. I have broken down many times. Today (Friday) is when most of this article was written.

Four days before he died, he dropped off a package in my mailbox with two DVDs' worth of information in it -- information like we are discussing in this investigation.

His family has requested that all details remain confidential, for their own privacy and protection. I will honor that request. I am aware that people will accuse me of lying about this. I do not care. I wish it was not true, but it is.

Though it does not appear that foul play was involved in his death, it also cannot be completely ruled out. He died very close to where I live. This seems like it could not possibly have been a coincidence.

At first I thought the police were going to need me to ID the body, due to its level of distress. Thankfully I was spared from having to see that.

When someone you care about dies, that's it. There's no turning back. There is a body. You don't get to talk to that person anymore. That body is not alive anymore. Your life has changed... forever.

THIS WILL BE THE BREAKING OF THE GREAT ILLUSION

This event will have a similarly "defining" effect in creating a sudden grief process -- worldwide -- though very little, if any deaths should occur.

Many great illusions -- in which we, like children, wanted our "parents" to love, protect and support us -- will come crashing down.

In some ways it will be as if everyone is vomiting at once -- and this may be literal in certain cases. It is a typical reaction when the body goes into shock.

I have not thrown up, but I have body aches, difficulty sleeping and eating, and periodic waves of sorrow that overtake me.

Some levels of shock have already started happening with the pending mass arrests -- as our readers and listeners realize how absolutely serious this is, and that these arrests will be conducted regardless of whether we talk about it or not.

The reason why the public is being notified is only this: to reduce the likelihood of mass panic, rioting and chaos in the initial confusion and fear that will invariably result.

PERSONAL VALIDATION

Some are expressing extreme fear, distrust and superstition in their comments. I understand that. And I respect you for that.

Without 20 years of experience capturing, analyzing and implementing dream guidance, and seeing the remarkable accuracy of the results, I would not have had sufficient criteria to trust what I was hearing either.

For eight years I processed a total of 500 clients for "dream readings." That means there are 500 witnesses to the process I perfected and offered through this website, beginning in 1998 and ending in 2005.

These witnesses could be subpoenaed and testify under oath of their experiences. Audiotape documentation of our sessions has been preserved in almost every case -- and could be released if the client's permission was obtained.

Other than the name, email address and the day we would speak on the phone, I knew nothing about my clients before these dreams came in.

Nonetheless, each client was given data that rigorously demonstrated full knowledge of their deepest issues. They were shown how to transform personal weaknesses into spiritual enlightenment, to become a more loving, forgiving and mature person.

The accuracy level was so high, so consistent and so insightful that it was quite common for the client to burst into tears.

ACCURATE DATA WAS GIVEN IN ADVANCE

It is a matter of public record that dreams have been posted on this website -- which later proved to be extremely accurate.

I do not consider myself special. We all have this ability. I merely listen to what I am getting and document it rigorously.

In my David's Blog entry entitled "Bouncing Back from Hack Attack," I posted a series of powerful dreams that led me to conclude "the next planetary disaster at the level of the BP oil spill" was imminent.

Three weeks later, we had the Fukushima disaster. In this follow-up article I clearly spelled out all the correlations with the dreams I had just posted.

I have had hundreds of dreams, for many years now, preparing me to see a massive, unprecedented exposure and arrest of this Cabal on a worldwide level.

Extensive amounts of data were published about this future scenario on this website -- particularly in 1999 -- as can be found in the Readings section of divinecosmos.com.

Since my briefings on the plan for Mass Arrests, I have now gotten literally dozens of staggeringly intense dreams about it. The overall "data cluster" indicates this will indeed be of tremendous, unprecedented, positive benefit to humanity.

IT WILL BECOME MUCH CLEARER ONCE IT HAPPENS

All that being said, no one will ever fully be able to prove anything until it happens. Intuitive data is still intuitive. It is not admissible in a court of law. It is speculative.

Therefore, I do understand that people's grievances are legitimate. Information is being given, but no absolute proof can be shared.

Some are inclined to distrust, and believe that any operation of this scope and magnitude must, by design, be an evil attempt to instill martial law.

This is one side-effect of mass, worldwide post-traumatic stress disorder -- PTSD -- from everyone having to knowingly live in a lie.

The lie has been that we live in a "basically good" world that is not being secretly run by psychopaths.

However, there is now far too much evidence for even the most stubborn folks to avoid.

Fear is the only reason why this hasn't already become a mass, public understanding. However, that "fear of Truth" is already just about broken.

THE PLAN HAS BEEN METICULOUSLY FOLLOWED FOR AT LEAST 300 YEARS

The economic, political and social concerns we struggle with today are the result of a plan that was systematically put into practice as of 1776, with the founding of the Order of the Illuminati in Bavaria.

This group networked, infiltrated, consolidated and enacted plans that had been in place for much longer periods of time.

They created the hidden infrastructure, secrecy, membership, documentation and blueprints necessary to effectuate what they had hoped would be a global takeover -- in the hopes of declaring a New World Order.

A very important part of this plan, laid out in Adam Smith's 1776 treatise, "The Wealth of Nations", called for the systematic confiscation of the world's gold -- to prevent any competition against a worldwide system of fake, fiat "bubble money."

If they could gain complete control of the money system, they could decide who lived and who died. Who ate and who starved. Who won and who lost.

In addition, this New World Order had a key religious and spiritual component. Quite literally, it would be an attempt to convert everyone in the world, either willingly or by force, to a philosophy known as Luciferianism.

It was believed that the Church would collapse, along with the general social order -- by design -- and in its place, people would accept Lucifer as the unsung hero in this grand cosmic drama.

THAT BRINGS US TO TODAY

I have already extensively documented what happened, and when it happened, in the Financial Tyranny investigation.

Both the Super Bowl half-time show and the Grammy Awards ceremony, this year, featured blatant Luciferian rituals.

This is real. You can go watch what happened for yourself in both cases, or read Financial Tyranny.

WHITNEY HOUSTON'S DEATH

Additionally, Whitney Houston died under suspicious circumstances in the hotel where everyone was staying for the Grammys.

I doubt the celebrities had any idea what was going on -- and believe them to be innocent bystanders in this case.

It is also a disturbing fact that the private reception for Whitney, before her funeral the next morning, was flanked by Egyptian sarcophagi on either side of the entrance.

Where did they get these sarcophagi? How did they already have them, ready to go for the ceremony, when she had just died so soon before?

THE SARCOPHAGI COME IN AT THE 33-SECOND MARK

In the video that clearly reveals there are two, not one of them, the sarcophagi appear at precisely the 33-second mark. 33 is a number of key ritual importance to the Cabal.

You can watch it at the bottom of this Huffington Post article. If you think this is a coincidence, you haven't done your homework.

THE GOLD SEIZURES MUST BE REVEALED

In order to stop this game and bring about true peace, any plan for mass arrests must involve a full exposure of the gold that was confiscated worldwide -- by the bankers themselves.

The world's biggest banks are unified under the umbrella of the Federal Reserve and its international component, the Bank for International Settlements or BIS.

Together, this conglomerate is now earning and controlling a staggering 80 percent of all the money there is to be made in the world. The scientific proof of this is featured in Financial Tyranny.

Adam Smith's treatise was used -- in the tragic aftermath of the completely manufactured, pre-planned World War I -- to convince world leaders to hand over their gold.

Much of the Asian gold was being held in complete secrecy, by ancient family dynasties, for security purposes -- but the insiders knew all about it.

The total amount of gold that was confiscated and put on "deposit" with the BIS is 2,420,937.4 metric tons. That's two million, 420 thousand, 937.4 tons of gold.

Two different economies were set up: the public economy, where we currently have about 62 trillion dollars in world GDP, and what I call the occult economy.

THE OCCULT ECONOMY

The occult economy has dollar values ranging in the thousands of quadrillions. Cabal insiders are bribed and enticed with private bank accounts -- with sums that may eventually rise into in the trillions of dollars.

My friend who just died was one of my associates who came into direct contact with people who were working this system. He was never directly invited in, and distrusted the whole thing as much as I did.

Nonetheless, the fact that he knew me, and could drop my name and contact info, led to direct offers for me to be brought into this system.

Imagine the psychological value of someone thinking they are actually a trillionaire -- and laughing sarcastically at the billionaires of the world, thinking, "If you only knew, my friend, if you only knew."

In order to use any of this money, however, it must be withdrawn from accounts held in the occult economy -- and converted into real money in the public economy. Therein lies the problem.

THE BANKS HAVE BEEN IN CONTROL

The banks have been strictly controlling this process all along. Numbers suddenly appear in bank accounts that were not there before, and shouldn't be there.

There is no honest, open, above-board world auditing system, so these numbers can appear without people really noticing it.

No one is ever really allowed to withdraw that much, relatively speaking. If you try to grab too much cash, you get refused -- plain and simple.

As of last fall, these accounts have been almost entirely closed -- by the international "good guys" freeing us from Financial Tyranny.

Only a very small number of key "traders" still hold any accounts in the occult economy.

The whole thing was never more than a series of enormous numbers in a massive glut of fake bank accounts -- designed to pump up their members' egos to super-human levels.

THE "TRADERS" ARE HEADING FOR THE HILLS

Many disappointed "traders" have recently figured out that it was all a scam. Now they're "broke." They put real money in, to get these accounts started, and now they've got absolutely nothing to show for it.

Groups like the SEC have completely shut these accounts down. No one can whine about losing their "money" in public, because it was all illegal to begin with.

If they speak out, they will be tortured and killed -- as will everyone they love and care about. If my friend's death was a "message," I have decided not to listen. The stakes are too high at this point.

The shutdown of these illicit accounts is another reason why so many CEOs have resigned since this happened. Where do you think most of their "big" money was being held?

Suddenly, the wimpy public-economy bank accounts are all they've got. Many of them are now running out of the burning building, screaming -- and grabbing whatever cash they can carry on the way out.

I WAS INVITED... BUT REFUSED

Five different sources offered to bring me into this occult economy -- and set me up with outrageously high bank accounts.

My deceased friend had overheard someone saying my name while he was hobnobbing at a high-echelon party of movers and shakers in Los Angeles.

The whole way he got invited there was strange enough to begin with. Unfortunately I cannot call him and ask him to remind me of the details at this point.

He called me the next day and didn't know what to make of it, but passed along the information. The resulting contact ultimately led to two out of five of the proposals I received.

One of the proposals had been four years before this happened. Strangely, though, the other two proposals came in during this exact same timeframe -- all within about a month -- from seemingly unrelated sources.

In each case, as long as I could raise a few tens of thousands of dollars, I would have quickly been able to build an account worth millions and millions -- growing by 20 to 30 percent every month.

LINES OF CREDIT THAT ARE THEN RETIRED

I took great risks and completely outlined one of the ways I could have gotten into this system in the Financial Tyranny investigation -- with supporting documentation and links.

I was told that any mention of this system, or the jargon that goes along with it, could have led to the dreaded "knock on the door" -- but so far I have been fine.

I cannot change the fact that my friend "Bob" is dead. Nonetheless, as long as I shall live, I will continue fighting for our freedom.

Had I decided to get involved in this occult financial system, Federal Reserve-owned banks would have extended lines of credit to me -- using the initial monies I raised as collateral.

I would then use one line of credit to open up another line of credit -- and soon, after a great deal of paperwork, I would control an account in the occult economy that was worth millions of dollars.

Then, with the fantastic gains my account would earn, I could have quickly paid back the loans -- and closed out the lines of credit.

I refused these offers. I would not tolerate anyone attempting to buy my allegiance and using money to control me.

UNPRECEDENTED MONEY LAUNDERING

If you have an occult bank balance of, say, 300 billion, and you wish to free up a few million for something, that money has to be created as a ledger entry by one of the major banks.

This is done by what are called "Black Screens" and "Blue Screens." There may be other color screens as well, such as red.

Through this process, trillions of dollars of illicit, occult funds have been laundered into the public economy.

This is why the numbers do not add up -- and the books do not balance -- in the public economy.

This is why Rumsfeld announced 2.3 trillion dollars was missing from the Pentagon's budget -- just one day before 9/11.

This is why the Federal Reserve had to create 26 trillion dollars' worth of new money, in the public economy, after the 2008 collapse.

THIS IS RIDICULOUS

This is ridiculous. It is a bubble. It was meant to be that way.

The plan, all along, was twofold. First of all, it would buy the allegiance of Cabal members and make them feel like they were the Gods of earth. Literally, each one of them would be vastly more "loaded" than the wealthiest people in the public economy.

Secondly, any good banker could do the numbers and figure out what this really is. A Ponzi scheme. That was always part of the plan.

Despite the impressive power of having nearly two and a half million metric tons of gold "on deposit," supposedly as collateral, in reality the occult economy -- and its fantastic bank balances -- was, is and always will be the greatest Ponzi scheme on earth.

It was built to be that way. It was designed, from its inception, to destroy the public economy beyond repair. Then, in the aftermath, a global Luciferian dictatorship would be installed.

These people are absolutely serious. This plan is very real. I didn't learn about the confiscated gold until fairly recently -- initially by interviewing Benjamin Fulford last November.

THE COLLATERAL ACCOUNTS

The plan for mass arrests, discussed by Drake and others, does involve the restoration of the United States Constitution to its full lawful status.

It also requires that the confiscated gold, and the occult economy built off of it, be fully revealed to the world. Fulford has been discussing this aspect of the plan, to varying degrees, for years now.

The insider name for the confiscated gold is the Global Collateral Accounts. 85 percent of this gold belonged to Asian countries.

The Federal Reserve stole this gold by vastly lying to its owners.

The owners were told that the public could not know about the gold. It was much too dangerous. It could collapse the world's economies and lead to unprecedented financial terrorism.

The gold would all be hidden away, and secretly used as collateral for the global economy. All the insiders would know it was there, but everyone else would be kept in the dark.

The numbers would not add up in the public economy. The amount of money being printed would not be appropriately backed by solid assets. Secretly, the Collateral Accounts would have more than enough equity to back up whatever was printed.

PEACE AND PROSPERITY

The Asians and all other countries were told that this would usher in a new era of peace and prosperity.

At least 60 percent of all the money created from the Collateral Accounts would go into humanitarian relief programs.

These programs would eliminate poverty and give everyone in the world a healthy lifestyle -- running water, sanitation, good food and a decent place to live, at the very least.

Only a very small number of countries were aware of the true nature of the plan.

Once they secured control of the financial system, through the BIS, they used lethal force to stop anyone from speaking out.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE BONDS

Those who held the original gold, such as the Asian countries, needed to have something offered to them in exchange for what they handed over.

As a result, they have been given a continuous supply of Federal Reserve bonds -- issued by any one of twelve Federal Reserve banks in the US -- as collateral.

As the price of gold goes up, more bonds are issued -- so they always have an equivalent dollar value, in bonds, to the gold they originally put on "deposit" with the Federal Reserve / BIS.

"AS GOOD AS CASH?"

Technically, these bonds serve as legal tender. They are United States Federal Reserve Notes, as good as cash.

However, there are thousands of boxes of these bonds in existence -- each of which can contain billions or even trillions of dollars' worth of bonds.

Obviously, if these bonds were cashed, it would destroy the world's economy. That was always the plan. Chaos was intended all along.

The bonds, boxes and chests were deliberately made with spelling and grammatical errors in them, so that if anyone did try to cash these bonds, they could be apprehended for counterfeiting and forgery.

Nonetheless, there is an abundance of documentation that these bonds are very real. Extensive photographic proof is provided in my main investigative work on this subject, Financial Tyranny.

Furthermore, the gold is very real. It's sitting there. It can all be exposed once the threat of lethal force is eliminated.

If this were to ever actually happen, the whole game would collapse. This much gold is not supposed to exist, anywhere -- but it does.

THE GREATEST BANK ROBBERY IN HUMAN HISTORY

This was the greatest bank-robbery in human history. It has still not been exposed on a mass public level. I have worked tirelessly to break this story and give it full documentation.

There are nearly 100 different "depositories" where vast amounts of gold are stored. Most of them are in Southeast Asia. Indonesia has a large number of them, as does the Philippines.

The gold was not moved very far from where it was originally confiscated. Every bar of gold in every facility is rigorously cataloged, documented and "deposited" within the Global Collateral Accounts.

The Federal Reserve's charter for these accounts expired in 1998.

And now, at this point, I will hand it over to Neil Keenan -- who ended up being granted signatory control of the Collateral Accounts by their original heirs.

All the legal documentation is there to support this. I have seen it myself. Keenan and Scott have cooperated with Fulford for some time, and have assisted the group Fulford calls the "White Dragon Society."

NEIL KEENAN ON CURRENT EVENTS

KEENAN: Strange things are happening in Indonesia nowadays. The once well-protected collateral account assets, which still are well protected, are now under attack.

As we all know, the New Dollar is supposed to be backed by Gold -- and he who has the Gold will once again control the system. This has caused fierce competition.

The very same groups that have messed up the system, all the while calling themselves the New World Order, are making a push for the Global Assets -- which mostly belong to Asiatic countries, and has nothing to do with them.

We have most recently watched Rothschild and Dupont fly to Indonesia to try and illegally move the assets -- to no avail.

Now David Cameron, the Prime Minister of England, has his eyes set on the Gold.

<http://www.marketwatch.com/story/british-pm-visits-indonesia-as-earthquake-hits-2012-04-11>

LONDON (MarketWatch) -- British Prime Minister David Cameron on Wednesday continued his four-day tour of Asia, bringing his trade mission to the capital city of Jakarta the same day as an 8.7-magnitude earthquake rattled the broader region.

A tsunami warning was in effect for countries across the Indian Ocean after the shaker slammed the waters off Indonesia's Aceh province, which had already been devastated by a 9.1-magnitude quake and tsunami back in 2004.

According to media reports, the quake was felt as far afield as Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur and Singapore.

<http://www.ft.com/intl/cms/s/0/48ffd926-83c4-11e1-82ca-00144feab49a.html>

David Cameron pledged British support to Indonesia as he arrived in the south-east Asian country on Wednesday just as it was struck by an 8.6 magnitude earthquake.

The prime minister said the UK "stood ready" to help in any way necessary at a press conference after he met Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono, Indonesia's president. "We will stand with you and your government and your people at this time of worry," he said.

The visit to south-east Asia's largest country is part of Mr Cameron's Asian tour to promote trade ties with Britain.

The leaders set a target to at least double bilateral trade between the two countries within three years, a crucial part of the UK's ambition to boost its relatively weak performance in emerging markets.

"I am here with two objectives: to achieve a step change in trade and investment between Britain and Indonesia and to build a partnership with Indonesia," he said.

TRANSFORMING OUR WORLD

KEENAN: Swiss authorities state that in a roundabout way, the Indonesian Central Bank met with the English, discussing the Collateral Accounts within the past couple of days as well.

It seems to me that the English are making a push to steal whatever they have not stolen during the past 300 years.

Fortunately, the bonds are now under agreement to myself, Neil Keenan, and my associate Keith Scott. We have stood strong in support of the Indonesian people throughout the attacks and pressure applied to them.

We intend to establish a trust that will allow these funds to be utilized for the healing and transformation of this planet. The releasing of formerly-classified technologies is a very key element of this plan.

No one needs to go hungry. No one needs to suffer. Particularly once these technologies are declassified, the world can become something much different -- much better -- than what we have all had to tolerate.

The "good guys", representing a majority of the Pentagon, are behind everything we do -- and the cavalry is not far behind us.

THE INDONESIAN GOVERNMENT HAS STOOD TALL

KEENAN: On the other hand, the Indonesian Government has stood tall in defense of their honor -- and has to date refused any and all offers relating to corruption.

As Mr. Rothschild and Mr. Dupont did, Cameron also left empty-handed.

Furthering this note, a powerful Singaporean/Malaysian businessman made his attempt at stealing the accounts within the past week.

He had his hacks fly in and offer bribes to Edy Seno, to sever the relationship between Keenan/Scott and Seno.

Little did they know, after spending more than 2.5 Million Dollars, that they had the wrong person all along. Now that is a strange twist of events.

See the Cease and Desist notice we have filed below for more details.

A SURPRISING 180-DEGREE TURN

WILCOCK: This past Monday, April 9th, 2012, Fulford posted an astonishing 180-degree turn on his paid blog.

The "Dragon Family" is the Asian group that once held as much as 85 percent of all the gold and treasure in the world.

This money was confiscated by the Federal Reserve banking families and put "on deposit," secretly, as I have been re-iterating here.

As of this past Monday, though Fulford had supported the Dragon Family all along as one of his top allies, now he was suddenly saying they were actually working for the bad guys.

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2012/04/10/bernanke-and-geithner-are-still-trying-to-cash-bad-checks/>

It appears that both the so-called "dragon family," and the "harmonious world banking system" are just the same criminal godfathers that Ben Bernanke and Timothy Geithner have always worked for.

They are running around now claiming they have 600 trillion dollars inside the Federal Reserve Board computers, ready to be used for "humanitarian projects worldwide."

Indeed both Eijiro Katsu, the top bureaucrat at the Japanese Ministry of Finance, and Bank of Japan Governor Masaaki Shirakawa have confirmed the money is sitting there inside the Federal Reserve Board computers.

The problem is that the same crooks who have been spreading biological mass murder weapons and carrying out countless other unfathomably evil acts are now saying they will be doing good.

The fact of the matter is that the owners of the Fed are a bunch of gangsters who murdered, bribed and lied their way to the top of the planetary power system, only to preside over the largest mass extinction event (including both humans and nature) since the dinosaurs were wiped out.

Here is what the world has to say to you murdering crooks: "you are fired."

MORE INFORMATION IN THE PAID PART OF BEN'S BLOG

As we continue into the paid part of Ben's blog, more information was revealed.

<http://benjaminfulford.net/2012/04/10/bernanke-and-geithner-are-still-trying-to-cash-bad-checks/>

This latest twist in the ongoing financial war came as two individuals (whose names we promised to keep off the record) came to Japan claiming to represent the "dragon family royal society."

They said they had $600 trillion waiting to be distributed to the world, and that this could be confirmed by punching a certain access code into the Fed "Black Screens" or "Euroclear screens."

We used considerable political capital to get Bank of Japan Governor Masaaki Shirakawa and top MOF honcho Eijiro Katsu to confirm the money was indeed sitting inside the Fed computers.

The problem is that the representatives from the "dragon family royal society" claimed to represent Asian royal families. They said a man by the name of Hiroshi Nakano was the real power behind the Japanese throne, and that he could confirm this.

We asked that they get a formal letter from one of the public members of the royal family, such as the Emperor or the Crown Prince, to prove they were speaking the truth. They apparently could not, because their representatives dropped out of sight....

These people were so arrogant they thought they could buy off Japan, their largest creditor, with $10 trillion -- a mere 1/60th of the money they were planning to spend.

Even that tiny share of the money could only be spent pending approval from a secret committee that reports directly to "celestial beings." Message to David Rockefeller et al: "you are gangsters, not celestial beings."

The "dragon family royal society" that has been putting its name out there refers mainly to the Merovingian European Royal bloodlines -- not Asian royal families.

Neil and I were both shocked by this sudden reversal, as were many others. We both sent emails off to Fulford, asking him what the heck had happened!

A COMPLETE RETRACTION WAS POSTED THE NEXT DAY

The next day, Ben posted a complete retraction on his free, public blog, as follows. It appears that he was "shaking the bush to see what kind of snakes come out," as Drake might say.

<http://benjaminfulford.typepad.com/benjaminfulford/2012/04/re-latest-update.html>

Since my story came out, I have been given new information about the "Dragon family." There is a genuine Dragon family that is based on Asian royal bloodlines. They have been setting up a benevolent new financial system.

What has happened is that the Feds, Bernanke, Geithner and their Bush, Rockefeller, Rothschild bosses last week approached Japan Ministry of Finance boss Eijiro Katsu and BOJ Governor Masaaki Shirakawa, and pretended they were the Dragon family.

Somebody also sent me a long article about the Merovingian kings, calling them the Dragon family too. It is basically the same old crooks, doing their best to block the new financial system by muddying up the waters.

We are on their case now, and have identified specific individuals who were working for the Feds in Japan -- who are now being asked to back off.

We are simply stirring things up to see who is who. The MOF (Ministry of Finance) and BOJ (Bank of Japan) have already said they will not work with the Feds on this one.

Nonetheless, I refuse to offer any specific dates for when this will all be resolved. Time is on our side, not theirs.

There will be violent revolution in the US and Europe before too long if the Feds do not step aside gracefully.

SETTING UP THE CEASE AND DESIST ORDER

And now, without further ado, it's time to get down to business. This constitutes the first public posting of the new Cease and Desist Order on behalf of Neil Keenan, signatory for the "real" Dragon Family and its assets, and Keith Scott.

I would have posted the new Cease and Desist order on Wednesday, but was distracted by the news of my friend's sudden death. You will have to wade through some legalese in the order itself. After this, we will get to the even bigger news.

As of this posting, liens have now been placed against all twelve Federal Reserve banks. We already know they do not have the assets to meet these obligations.

This is a critical step leading to the mass arrests and the defeating of Financial Tyranny.

The notice of the liens will follow the Cease and Desist Order. If you start getting lost in the jargon, please hang in there and make sure you skim through the whole thing.

WILCOCK / KEENAN QUESTIONNAIRE ABOUT THE CEASE AND DESIST ORDER, PART ONE

Before we read the Cease and Desist order itself, here is a list of questions I had for Neil after I read it -- and the useful answers he supplied me with.

DW: Let's start with the basics here. Why did you file this Cease and Desist order against the Chairman of UBS, Kaspar Villiger?

NK: Actually, David, it was not so much Villiger as it was the other participants. They thought they could get cute and steal what we had already signed for -- because of our delays.

Little did they know that they went to the wrong person looking for help.

Also, you must understand we have an enormous amount of evidence that UBS have been playing with these assets for years -- and they need to realize they will be held accountable.

DW: Are you saying they tried to steal the accounts?

NK: Well, they tried, but bet on the wrong horse. You see, they have been betting on this horse for a while -- but never properly locked him in.

At one time, this person controlled the Family Heritage Guarantees, but never was he aligned with the Accounts themselves.

Nevertheless, we also are in agreement with their horse, seeing their mandate expired in 1998. We did not want to deal with the past, but the future -- with hopes of using our leverage to acquire some of the debt owed him.

WILCOCK / KEENAN QUESTIONNAIRE, PART TWO

DW: Am I correct in hearing you say that this person owns nothing at this time, but you are trying to help him?

NK: Firstly, the Family Heritage Guarantee belongs to the People of Indonesia. President Soekarno left that as his gift to the Nation. Seno failed to collect it.

We all are trying to help him, but he has quite a few people with hands out, just looking to grab from him.

What they are finding now is that they made mistakes: big mistakes. We are simply going to apply pressure to the Banks, seeing we are the Settlers of the accounts. We are the only ones that can help this person -- and Indonesia.

DW: There's lots of news stories of people with these bonds getting arrested recently -- and that's probably only the ones that are making it into the media. Are all these various players trying to steal from each other now that it's close to the end?

NK: The Indonesians are pretty good people, but you always have a few that think they are warranted to have everything in everyone else's possession.

You have the same here, but overall they are hard-working and warm people.

Our Associate Nelu in Indonesia is a good example. He will dig a hole to the other side of the earth if he thinks it will help his country. At one time we had such loyalty in our country -- and still do -- but now we cannot make such a claim too loudly.

WILCOCK / KEENAN QUESTIONNAIRE, PART THREE

DW: When do you think this process will end?

NK: When we return, I will give you that answer. Of course, we can never say when it will end, but we can tell you when sneaker sales will go up.

Invest in sneakers!!! Hahahah. They will be running -- and the Dog Catcher will be snatching them up in his net. Did I say Dog? Hahahah.

DW: Now now. Be good. I hear you saying we have to wait until you return. That's going to frustrate some people, but these things do take time. Is there anything else you need to let us know before we say goodbye for now?

NK: Of course. Look at those names, and what you see are two banks.

One bank deals with the Collateral Accounts, and is supposed to be watching over them with the Attorney General of Switzerland. And yet, they have been in all sorts of corruption -- from the very day they allowed the American Banks to buy into them.

Now you look at Mr. Ling, and what you see is a Director of one of Asia's most prominent banks. What do you get when one has his agents run off to see Edy Seno Soekanto? A Conspiracy!!! We are very lucky we have eyes everywhere.

DW: Everyone is very lucky. I understand the implications of what you are doing for humanity here and I support you. Any final statement, Neil?

NK: Invest in Sneakers -- and I did not say Snickers. Excuse me, David, I must leave. I have to take my seat; it is nearly SHOWTIME.

DW: Excellent. Let's read your Cease and Desist letter now.

NOTICE OF CEASE AND DESIST

Alex Ling See Soon

It has been brought to our attention by Swiss Authorities that Chairman Kaspar Villiger of UBS has made attempts to circumvent the lawfully appointed managers and Settlers of the Soekarno Trust -- namely Neil F. Keenan and Keith F. Scott.

According to the oversight Guardians of the accounts, on this 8th day of April, 2012, this fraudulent attempt to unlawfully demand payments from the Collateral Accounts was engaged by persons associated with Alex Ling Lee Soon from Singapore.

This agent of Alex Ling Lee Soon, namely Jack Singh, at this very moment of writing, is meeting with Dr. Seno Edy Soekanto -- in an attempt to gain control over the Family Heritage Guarantee.

Seno Edy Soekanto failed to collect this Guarantee for over forty years, and the claim was lost on the closing of Seno Edy Soekanto's Authority in 1998.

Alex Ling Lee Soon, and/or his company, have paid some $2.5 million dollars to Seno Edy Soekanto for books of no worth or value in exercising management control over the Collateral Accounts.

It is furthermore understood that they are trying to wrest the Collateral Accounts, which are under the Group K Ltd. Umbrella, by seducing Seno Edy Soekanto into signing instruments intended to create fraudulent claims.

These claims would then be used as a public excuse to allow them illegal access to the International Collateral Combined Accounts.

This plan is being conducted through mutual arrangement with UBS-AG, even though UBS-AG and Alex Ling both know that such an arrangement is criminally fraudulent.

This is due to the fact that the International Collateral Combined Accounts are under the control of the Soekarno Trust -- and the current Settlers of said Trust are Neil F. Keenan and Keith F. Scott.

Seno Edy Soekanto at one time was the holder of the Family Heritage Guarantee -- the fund he was supposed to deliver to the people of Indonesia -- but he failed in his responsibilities, and this position ended in 1998.

After this time, Seno Edy Soekanto no longer had control of the Family Heritage Guarantee. He was never at any time the controller of the International Collateral Combined Accounts, as he was never at any time Mandated with any such authority.

His signing an agreement with us on the 6th day of November 2011 was not to take control over the Family Heritage Guarantee. It was, in fact, a request for us to assist him in recovering anything and everything that could be salvaged from his failure to obtain that Heritage.

This agreement is valid until 2020. No matter what arrangements Seno Edy Soekanto now makes regarding said Heritance, it is not relevant due to the expiration of his authority, which was dated 1998.

It is furthermore noted that Kaspar Villiger, the Chairman of UBS, has previously been placed on notice, along with his bank, to Cease and Desist. Such order was issued from the control authority.

The BIS has furthermore been placed on similar standing by the same control authority as well.

On April 8, 2012, an Employee of Alex Ling Lee Soon entered Indonesia in an attempt to commit fraud on behalf of Mr. Ling and/or his company.

This not only targeted the funds of the Family Heritance Guarantee, but was also intended to create an opportunity to illegally cheat and steal from the collateral accounts -- which have nothing whatsoever to do with Seno Edy Soekanto or Alex Ling Lee Soon.

WHEREBY; we, the undersigned, are ordering Alex Ling Lee Soon, Jack Singh, Mr. Chee, Kaspar Villiger, and the Union Bank of Switzerland to stand down -- and to CEASE AND DESIST on this, the 11th day of April, 2012, or face litigation.

Be aware that on the week of the 13th of April, you will be exposed internationally for your wrongdoings.

SIGNED by the Settlers of the Soekarno Trust – otherwise publicly known as the International Collateral Combined Accounts.

THE AFFIDAVIT OF OBLIGATION -- FILING LIENS AGAINST THE TWELVE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

And now for the grand finale. Neil and I had an extensive conference call with Drake and his associates, including a remarkable new insider I had never met before, as of this past weekend.

Drake was told that a certain sequence of events needed to occur before the mass arrests could happen. The filing of this lien is one of those events.

The first part, again, has some legalese to establish the point. Afterwards, you will see the good stuff. Everything from this point down is part of the Affidavit of Obligation. I will signal my return by writing WILCOCK.

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed---All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves -- and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard -- because no Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company, and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days).

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation -- hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

A Security (15 USC)
This is a USSEC Tracer Flag
Not a point of Law

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully outside of, or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS

All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, and the policy number of the bond -- and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

WILCOCK: AND THERE YOU HAVE IT

Neil Keenan and Keith Scott wanted this website, Divine Cosmos, to be the first to debut these Orders -- due to how hard I have worked, and how much I have sacrificed, to support this worthy cause.

If my friend's death had anything to do with what I'm working on, I deeply apologize -- both to him and to his family.

This does not cancel my resolve. If anything, it strengthens it. The freedom and safety of our planet is more important than my personal concerns or issues.

This is something I am doing for the good of everyone. I will not stand down. I will not be intimidated.

We will not stand down. We will not be intimidated.

I am only giving a voice to the real heroes -- the brave men and women who will conduct these mass arrests, and free our planet from Financial Tyranny.

Let's give them full credit where credit is due. We are all banding together and facing our darkest fears to create a future we can be proud of -- for ourselves, our children, our children's children, and so on.

I do believe I will be fine. No one has hurt me directly. I want to make it absolutely clear that if anyone else I care about is harmed, there will be direct repercussions. You are ordered to Cease and Desist. Now.

UPDATE NEXT DAY, APRIL 14: HOAX

Hackers invaded Disclose.tv and posted something that appeared, at first blush, to be a government notice. It was a hoax. The agencies and provisions named in the notice do not exist.

This may have been a deliberate move by insiders to provoke more fear, while also having it then appear to be the work of simple hoaxers.

In my grief I felt overwhelmed by the idea that sites were starting to be attacked and shut down. I should have done more fact checking on this but in my emotional state I screwed up. I apologize.

We have reached a critical moment where historic events are happening, and will happen. This is actually a very exciting time. The amount of evidence that mass arrests are imminent is overwhelming.

Let's band together and all do our parts to insure that peace will come to this planet. Please help spread the word and insure that the truth cannot be smothered.

UPDATE MONDAY, APRIL 16, 2012: SYNCHRONICITY STRIKES AGAIN

Take it for what you will -- or nothing at all -- but synchronicity continues to happen as I write these articles.

For many years now I have had repeating numbers appear at auspicious moments -- such as with clocks, cash register receipts, bank balances, license plates and the odometer of my car.

Clock synchronicities tend to be the most common, because we look at clocks more than anything else.

However, since I've started working with this website software, the hit counter has been doing very interesting things -- almost every time I write something.

A little over six hours after I first posted this article, while I was making further minor edits, the "hit counter synchronicity" happened twice in a row -- exactly ten minutes apart. First it hit a 7222, and then a 7444.

The 7222 came in with the time being 00:44. Then, exactly ten minutes later, the 7444 arrived on the 44th edit I made to the article:

COMMENTER POSTS ONE SECOND AWAY FROM 3:33:33 -- JUST AS MODERATOR FINISHES

One of our comment moderators was really surprised to see a comment posted that was one second shy of 3:33:33. It came in at the exact moment that she had finished approving nearly 100 comments, and was about to log out.

When she hit the button to post the last few, after having done the bulk of them, this new comment appeared.

She saw the time immediately, took a picture of it, and posted a moderator note about it in the comment and saved it. Then she photographed it, still at the "top of the stack," before approving it -- and logging out.

I still didn't feel like I should post this, as I didn't want to discredit the work, but it was fascinating nonetheless. I took out the commenter's email address and IP address in Photoshop for his protection. Here are those graphics:

Silva called this "the biggest event of all time." The synchronicity seemed to be saying he was right.

I WASN'T GOING TO SAY ANYTHING, BUT....

I wasn't going to post these synchronicities in this case, since some people invariably think this is superstition -- but just now I came back to do one minor change, and it happened again in a highly dramatic fashion.

The article was originally posted at 18:18. And, as I'm writing this right now, we have 111818 hits -- and exactly 60 edits. 60 is a key "harmonic number" in sacred mathematics -- such as in our time system.

To get a triple-digit sync in the 111, and the 1818 in the hit counter, and to have it on the 60th edit, really blew me away.

As an investigator, I consider this to be data. The interpretations may vary from "this is totally BS" to the idea that some form of Divine guidance is at work over this entire process, but this was really amazing and I wanted to pass it along.

UPDATE SUNDAY, APRIL 29, 2012 -- NEXT ROUND IS IMMINENT

We are about to post the next round of this battle -- prior to my finishing the Divine Intervention piece.

It has taken quite a while to get everything properly in order, and I have had quite a grief process to work through on a personal level. Part of the problem is I see the site where it happened every time I go for a walk.

Nonetheless, I have made excellent progress.

Amazingly, when I went in to start the new article today, in preparation for posting, the exact time was 18:18:18 -- down to the second. It was also 18:18 when I originated the previous article.

I must admit that even after seeing a lot of these synchronicities, this one particularly shocked me.

I couldn't believe it was timed down to the second in this case, but there it was -- right in front of me. Consciously, I had no knowledge that this might happen -- but somehow my body just did it right on time.

THERE WAS A PROPHETIC DREAM I HAD FORGOTTEN ABOUT

I did have a dream, over a year ago, that this same friend could potentially die if I confronted the "Illuminati" like this.

I told him about the dream and discouraged him from his idea of trying to have a direct, in-person meeting with them. He had hoped that he could change their minds, but I said this would only get him killed.

The same dream said that others I know, and myself included, would be fine, but this particular friend might be lost. Right after having this dream, he called me and wanted to attempt to solicit an in-person meeting with them.

I said this was almost certainly impossible -- and at the time, I thought that it was only a warning about what would happen if he actually tried to get that meeting. Now I see it differently.

I was quite shocked to remember this dream in retrospect. It came in while I was staying at a hotel for a conference in Atlanta.

The next step is imminent -- so stay tuned.

ARREST WARRANTS: Liens Filed Against G7 Central Banks

Written by David Wilcock Tuesday, 01 May 2012 11:33

<http://divinecosmos.com/start-here/davids-blog/1051-g7banks>

Arrest warrants have now been issued against the international branches of the Federal Reserve -- the European Central Banks, BIS, Germany, France, Netherlands, Belgium, Italy and Japan.

MAJOR CHANGES ABOUT TO HAPPEN

It is terrifying to discover that the world is being run by psychopaths -- who want to see billions of people die.

Many people can't even face it. Their mind just shuts down -- and they often attack the messenger.

Nonetheless, no corrupt regime has ever survived the light of full public exposure. Our current situation is no different.

There is abundant evidence that this group is real -- and will soon be defeated. Major changes are about to happen in the world.

We have proven that a small group of international bankers have seized control of the planet and its resources. Their plan has been in place for 300 years, and was followed with ruthless efficiency.

The difficulty of unseating this group is extreme, due to their penetration into all aspects of our society -- including the media, the government and the judiciary.

Nonetheless, it appears that they are about to be overthrown by an international coalition of 138 nations -- who have banded together to end Financial Tyranny.

I NEVER EXPECTED PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT

Benjamin Fulford, the former East-West bureau chief for Forbes Magazine, had been discussing this for some time -- and although I had interviewed him four or five times, that was the full extent of my involvement.

Last November, the long-awaited lawsuit finally appeared online. It was filed in the Southern District Court of New York.

I actually went in and attacked the original lawsuit -- tenaciously. I made some salient criticisms. My critique manifested within a few days of when it was released.

Much to my surprise, I was directly contacted by Neil Keenan, who had filed the lawsuit on behalf of the alliance. Keenan gave me an incredible body of supporting data to study. Much of it had not yet been released.

I took that data, including never-before-seen photographs, and conducted a massive investigation. The final results were published as Financial Tyranny on this website, divinecosmos.com.

My conclusion was that this story is very real indeed -- and mass arrests are being planned. Trusted insiders gave me astonishing details of how thorough and far-reaching this plan really is.

MASS ARRESTS AND LIENS

Not long after I published the investigation, a new insider named Drake came forward -- claiming to have been given information by the "good guys" in the Pentagon, to prepare people for what they are getting ready to do.

Obviously, for operational security it is best for them to say as little as possible. This is a dangerous process. Let's be honest.

That doesn't change how urgently it needs to be done -- to secure a peaceful future for everyone, and prevent the Earth from total annihilation.

Nonetheless, this alliance is concerned about the public reaction in the aftermath of this event -- as the early days in particular will be very sensitive.

Drake has done his best to share this information. However, I want to be clear that no one knows precisely when this is going to happen.

What we do know, however, is that Keenan's lawsuits are a critical part of this plan.

They are intended to return control of the world's wealth to the people -- and directly pave the way for the release of classified technologies that can transform our biosphere, and usher in a true Golden Age.

A BIT OF BACK STORY

An insider named "Jade Lion" came forward late last year. A friend of mine has known him for many years -- and he is impeccably trustworthy.

Jade Lion revealed that there is a massive vein of gold running through southern China and parts of Southeast Asia, including Cambodia and Laos.

Once this is made public, geologists can argue over how such a huge deposit formed in one area of the world -- but that's the situation.

These Asian countries pulled out tons and tons of gold from this deposit, and fashioned it into all sorts of wondrous treasures.

They kept this gold a secret, as much as possible -- but no one can completely hide something that spectacular.

The Federal Reserve bankers knew about this gold, and concocted a systematic plan in the 1700s to seize it.

HOW IT WAS DONE -- IN BRIEF

Though I have said this several times before, here is a brief recap of what happened.

Adam Smith published "The Wealth of Nations" in 1776. This argued that private ownership of gold would inevitably cause wars and catastrophes, as people continued fighting over scarce resources.

The "Illuminati" was formed in Bavaria, now a part of Germany, that same year.

The goals of the "Illuminati" included a total domination of the planet and its resources.

Documents were seized and published by the Bavarian government that laid out the whole plan -- and some of the conspirators were arrested.

Nonetheless, the plan persisted. World War I was planned, decades in advance, to convince world leaders that they had to surrender their gold into a combined world depository if they wanted peace.

THE PLAN SHIFTS INTO ACTION

After World War I, Japanese emperor Hirohito had a key meeting in 1921 with the bankers in London to work out the details of a largely-secret plan to confiscate the world's gold -- and put it on "deposit" with the Federal Reserve.

The international version of the Federal Reserve came to be called the Bank for International Settlements, or BIS.

By hiding away all the gold, no nations could publicly compete over it. They were told they would all be given fair access to it through their Ministries of Finance.

The public would not know how much gold was there -- and the actual depositories would be guarded and protected with lethal force.

Laws were passed worldwide making it illegal to own gold. Those who did not hand it over willingly had it stolen from them. This is a matter of public record.

THE BONDS

Federal Reserve bonds were issued to the countries who surrendered their gold -- from one of the twelve Federal Reserve banks in the United States.

Some of these were 1928 series, but most were 1934 series. We have extensive photographic documentation of these bonds in Financial Tyranny. Over and over again, you hear stories about it in the news -- especially recently.

In a future update, I will cover the stunning number of bond seizures that have occurred just in the last few months -- at staggering dollar values. Even so, the mainstream media continues to try to tell us that this is purely a scam.

The bonds were given deliberate mistakes so that if anyone tried to cash them, they could be seen as fraudulent.

More recently, a certain number of bonds were printed on inkjet printers and included in the collection -- so they could be further used as "proof" that they were fraudulent.

EVERYTHING IS REACHING A HEAD NOW

As the spot price of gold has increased, the Federal Reserve has been obligated to issue more and more bonds to the original holders in Asia -- but they are worthless.

A typical chest of bonds, filled with ten sealed metal boxes of bonds, has three trillion dollars' worth of bonds in it.

The Federal Reserve has done its best to suppress the price of gold -- so as to avoid this situation continuing to spiral out of control, requiring them to print more and more bonds for the original holders.

Nonetheless, they have been cranking out 1934-series bonds for many years now. This situation has reached a peak point of crisis. The aggrieved countries have formed an alliance to stop the corruption.

IT'S HARD TO IMAGINE

The scope of the lie is so vast, so worldwide and all-encompassing, that it's hard for people to believe it could be real. That was always a part of the plan.

Most people could never uphold that big of a lie in their own life -- so they certainly don't think it could happen on a worldwide stage.

Nonetheless, this "occult economy" is the most dangerous thing you can possibly talk about in public. It is vastly more classified than the UFO subject, for example. The secrecy around it has been very good -- until recently.

THE "JOURNEYMAN PICTURES" DOCUMENTARY ON HALKSWORTH

This documentary recently came to my attention. I covered the Halksworth story in Financial Tyranny, but now we have the original documentary that broke the story on British national television.

Of course, they try to make light of it -- but this information keeps surfacing again and again. People are continuing to be arrested as they frantically attempt to cash these bonds while there's still time.

A BIT OF THE LEGALESE

President Soekarno of Indonesia was given the legal, historic rights to the seized gold, since 85 percent of it was from Asia. This was granted in 1948, under UN Resolution MISA 81704, Operation Heavy Freedom.

Soekarno was appointed as M1, (Monetary Controller). The entire centralized system was legally put under his disposal as Trustee.

The bullion was deposited into the centralized system of the "Bank for International Settlements" by a group of Trustees that Soekarno appointed.

These Trustees formed an association now known as the Amanah, or the Mandates.

After years of total frustration and deception, the Mandates have been completely unable to regain any access to their gold.

They assigned their authority over the accounts to Neil F. Keenan and Keith F. Scott.

This allowed for the networking necessary to draw the international community -- including the "good guys" in the Pentagon -- into this fight, so justice could be served.

The filing of liens against the Federal Reserve and its constituents is the next big step in freeing our planet.

ADMIRALTY LAWS

Many people have attempted to tear apart the liens against the twelve Federal Reserve banks that were posted in our previous update.

I did not want to avoid this controversy. These new liens were filed within the Admiralty Law system, which is extremely complicated and mysterious.

Like other aspects of this story, the Admiralty Law system has been kept almost entirely secret from the public -- including law schools -- but the information is available if you know where to look.

Nonetheless, you can end up with a J.D. in law and have little or no knowledge of the Admiralty Laws used by the insiders.

TIME TO TALK TO AN EXPERT

I needed more information in order to be comfortable with posting these liens. Keenan's top expert on Admiralty Law, Winston ShROUT, agreed to take all my questions in an interview.

I did my best to let the man speak, knowing that I could not possibly keep track of everything he was saying in real time. I look forward to reading the transcript and absorbing all this new information.

The last third of the interview is where we hit a 'stride' where I felt fairly confident in being able to follow what he was telling me.

Nonetheless, we have a massive new body of information now to sort through and consider.

Here is the link to that interview. Simply download this ZIP file, open it and decide where you want your MP3s to go. It's that simple.

ARREST WARRANTS

Though Winston covered a dazzling array of subjects in this interview, one thing that really stood out for me was the fact that these liens constitute legal arrest warrants for the Federal Reserve conspirators.

An arrest warrant is only as good as its enforcement. Winston directly admits that the "good guys" in the Pentagon, on behalf of an international alliance of 138 nations, are prepared to use these liens as legal grounds for mass arrests.

This is NOT intended to supplant or take over existing elected governments. If this Cabal were not so heavily woven into our society, these mass arrests would be much simpler to perform.

THE EVIDENCE KEEPS MOUNTING

The evidence keeps mounting that this is real. Winston ShROUT is only the most recent voice adding to the story.

All that being said, most people probably will not take the time to delve into this enough to really understand it. Many commenters are saying they are getting nowhere with their family and friends when they try to explain this.

The best thing to do, if they are at all interested, is encourage people to read Financial Tyranny as a starting-point.

The information in it is vast, but if they really want to know, it's all been documented for them.

AN INTERVIEW WITH NEIL KEENAN

When Neil asked me to post another round of liens -- this time against the international divisions of the Federal Reserve -- I was naturally skeptical. I wanted more information.

The Federal Reserve bankers are getting desperate. They are doing their best to try to steal the gold and hide it away. That is the first thing we discussed.

DW: Neil, I've heard you say that the Feds -- specifically those you are now calling the Old Feds -- are trying to ransack the UBS for the Global Account gold. Is that really true?

NK: It sure is, David. Today the word is that the Old Feds, not the Young Feds, who want nothing to do with this -- including Bernanke -- are pushing their weight around in UBS, et cetera.

DW: Look at what Bernanke has already gone through on the global stage. He was publicly grilled and made into the fall guy for something much bigger than he is, during the bailouts. I certainly understand why he would have backed off.

The real issue here is the frantic attempts to steal these accounts that you have revealed. This is by no means a normal way of doing business. It definitely sounds like you got their attention, and they know their time is up. Wouldn't you agree?

NK: Obviously they know it is over, David, when they show such desperation. We are demanding an audit and review. I've sent all the paperwork for you to include here.

Once we get the audit, we will find who did what -- and this includes the people within the BIS, another branch of the good old FED Group.

DW: How can they even be doing this? If these accounts are on "deposit," then the depositors should be protected!

Though some people want to quibble about how much gold is really there, it is a provable fact, within the BIS charter documents themselves, that people's gold from all over the world was pooled into these accounts.

Where is the protection for these accounts, Neil?

NK: The Attorney General's Office of Switzerland is supposed to protect them -- but it seems as though they are sleeping on the job, wouldn't you say?

The President is the receiver for the Swiss Council, and they are supposed to make sure the Accounts are not abused. The final authority comes under the Swiss Attorney General.

You can see them getting caught again and again if you read the headlines. There has been one “fake bonds scandal” after another. Behind the scenes, it’s far worse than that.

These people now find themselves on the short end of the stick – so they are looting and robbing, just as any common thief.

However, they are anything but common thieves. They are meticulously following a plan they drew up over 300 years ago.

DW: Right. I wrote about this extensively in Financial Tyranny. It’s an incredible story, and people admittedly have a hard time with it because they don’t want others to accuse them of being “crazy.”

Can you tell us a little about how you see this from your perspective?

NK: Many people have been “asleep,” and do not realize what this plan really involves. It’s easy to understand why – because when you hear about it, you can’t help but feel terrified.

It’s psychologically overwhelming to discover that the world is being run by a Luciferian cult – whose goals are every bit as diabolical as any Biblical analogy you could find, from the perspective of anyone outside their own ranks.

Most people are conditioned to deal with an irreconcilable, faceless fear by stuffing it down mentally. They don’t want to face it. They need to be able to function in their lives, work a job, raise children and be happy.

Not only do they look the other way, David, they actually end up attacking those people who bring them the truth. They do this to protect their fragile grip on the peace and stability of the world they wanted to believe in.

DW: Right. So how do you see them breaking out of that? How can they come to realize that they are not “crazy,” and that everyone is waking up to the same things at the same time?

NK: What they do not realize is that their worldview was created for them by the media, the educational system and the governmental “authorities.”

All of these “authorities” have been thoroughly infiltrated and co-opted by the Federal Reserve – as you so effectively documented in Financial Tyranny.

DW: Thank you.

NK: They have been taught to buy, buy, buy – believing that products will make them happy. All the while, these products are really just a crutch that they use, like a drug addict, to avoid facing the desperate truth of their circumstances.

The “Wizard of Oz” analogy is very accurate, David. The lie is so vast, so all-encompassing, that everything we thought we know about the world is an illusion – and there really is a “Man Behind the Curtain.”

Even the people who are into “conspiracy theory” tend to only see certain parts of the picture.

There is so much disinformation out there that most of this knowledge has to be questioned as well, and often has little more value than common folklore.

DW: I think I know where you’re going here, but that’s a pretty bold statement to make, Neil. What would you consider to be an example of a “common folklore” within the Truth movement?

NK: Probably the greatest example is the idea that “everybody is in on it” – everyone in the government, financial world, military, corporate world and media complex.

This is a very useful deception, because it has made it nearly impossible for anyone within their own ranks to turn against them -- and be respected by the public for their efforts.

DW: Thank you. I've been saying that all along. It's amazing to see how powerfully people cling to this "folklore," as you called it.

Susan Lindauer spoke out, as a former CIA agent, and completely blew the whistle on 9/11 being an inside job. She was the top go-between interacting with the Iraqis prior to the Gulf War.

She desperately tried to create peace – but was ordered to sabotage the negotiations. She was also given plenty of warning about 9/11 before it actually happened – and ultimately was imprisoned for her refusal to go along with their plans.

There's no way that what she said could benefit the people who so desperately need to keep this a secret.

And yet, just those three initials attached to her name are probably the main reason why this story isn't much more popular.

NK: As soon as they hear certain names, or titles, they shout "Demon!" and want to grab their torches and pitchforks.

DW: Exactly. Yet, most of these folks just want to work a job, raise children and enjoy a respectable life, just like you said. They don't want to be supporting a bloodthirsty group of bankers whose sole allegiance is to themselves.

NK: You've caught hell for saying that, David. I can tell you from firsthand knowledge that many people thank you for sticking up for them. Benjamin Fulford is another key exception to the rule.

I've seen the kind of fire you've drawn for taking this position, and it's not pretty. However, I do understand why people are getting on your blog and chastising you, David.

You're revealing something that threatens their entire worldview. They don't want it to be true, but everything lines up in that direction.

Then, if it IS true, it desperately cries out for a solution. It's a lot easier for people to attack the messenger than to focus on becoming a part of the solution.

Nonetheless, the most important tool we have is simply to tell the truth. Once enough people know, it is absolutely impossible for these plans to continue.

Some of your hate letters are generated by employees for the Cabal, who are desperately trying to steer the narrative in a direction that favors their agenda.

DW: I would agree. If you can believe this group really exists, and there is plenty of evidence in that direction, it would be an absolute necessity for them to do this.

One of the most consistent comments we see coming in is people want this all to be immediately resolved. They expect me to give exact dates for when things will happen. Then, if those exact dates fail to materialize, they become extremely angry.

What do you say to those people? I know there have been at least 2-3 strong time windows that had to be abandoned in this quest already.

NK: There is no question that we have taken longer than we had hoped in order to finish things up. I do apologize for that.

However, we cannot just move for the sake of moving. We have to make sure that everything is in place.

Our guy Nelu in Indonesia has been brilliant representing the Indonesians. He is working hard to put things in place. The poor guy hardly sleeps, but he realizes this is all for his family and nation.

To date, and this includes today, I have to say the Indonesian Government has held strong and not weakened a bit – despite the promises made by the OLD FEDS.

What I still do not realize is why the YOUNG FEDS do not just put the OLD FEDS out to pasture. Why allow them to continue taking up space when they are making life so hard for the young?

They want 5-6 Billion people on this planet dead. That's right – dead. We, as a global community, cannot stand by and watch this happen. Something must be done.

DW: I am happy to be a part of that effort. I have already given you this public platform to post liens against all twelve Federal Reserve banks in the United States.

I've been doing dream work for 20 years and have found the guidance to be remarkably accurate and consistent. The fruits of that work can be found all throughout my website.

In fact, if it were not for so many dreams I've had, literally urging me to continue, I would have never gotten wrapped up in all of this.

As you and I both know, a friend of mine died right near my house, under suspicious circumstances, within days of when you provided me these liens to post.

It has taken me a while to recover from the shock of this enough to want to keep going on this quest – but now I am ready to continue.

Now, on behalf of your alliance, I'm posting liens against France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Japan, the European Central Banks and the Bank for International Settlements.

Neil, how exactly did it come to this?

NK: First of all, David, I am terribly sorry for your loss. As you know, in any war there are casualties. That doesn't make your grief any less, I'm sure, but in a situation like this, we cannot prevent all losses.

Many people have given their lives in this struggle to free humanity from financial tyranny. And many more are risking their lives every day for our freedom.

When you connect the dots, everything ties back to the banking world. Everyone's real wealth – in physical gold – was confiscated and hidden away, so a global, fake currency could be created -- backed by nothing but numbers in a computer.

Confiscating all significant quantities of gold in the world was the only way this plan could actually succeed.

Otherwise, people would naturally favor a gold-backed currency over one that is ruled by nothing but "faith and credit."

Now it's time to change the game. I'm admittedly in a unique position, because the Asian countries signed over the rights to these accounts to me.

I'm working on behalf of a much larger alliance, who have assured me they will take these steps we are making very seriously – and use them as grounds to move against our common enemies.

DW: The countries you've listed certainly can't represent the full extent of the thefts that have occurred from these accounts, though.

NK: Maybe we took it easy on a couple of countries, but we did cover the vast majority of antagonists who have actually hijacked the accounts for the past 60 years or so.

DW: So is this your big, final move to make after connecting all the dots?

NK: Naturally there is a lot more, David, but how much can a couple of people do? We spend day and night working at this, and it just keeps growing on us.

I thought we would be finished with everything within the next 10 days, and my trip was delayed.

I cannot give a rational explanation for why the trip was cancelled, and I leave this to others to think about. They nearly blew everything we had created.

Last night I started thinking about filing against the nations we had omitted. I decided that they all participated in this, so they should all share responsibility -- but only the nations that were considered G5 or G7.

DW: Just to be clear, the G5 is France, Germany, Japan, the UK and the US. The G7 also includes Italy and Canada. So you are saying they are all involved in the hijacking?

NK: Yes, they are all involved to varying degrees. We did not include Canada, but we did include the Netherlands and Belgium -- based on who is actually stealing from these accounts the most.

The conspirators have actually excluded nearly every other nation, including the owners of said accounts, from using them.

It is as though they conspired to trick the nations into pooling their gold into a couple of places so that they could use it as collateral to print fake money whenever they wished -- and keep everyone else from doing the same.

Connect the dots, and you will see they even created the IMF, BIS and World Bank to further their scheme. Talk about RICO actions.

DW: Let me pop in a definition of RICO here, so people know what you're talking about.

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/RICO>

The Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act, commonly referred to as the RICO Act or simply RICO, is a United States federal law that provides for extended criminal penalties and a civil cause of action for acts performed as part of an ongoing criminal organization.

The RICO Act focuses specifically on racketeering, and it allows for the leaders of a syndicate to be tried for the crimes which they ordered others to do or assisted them, closing a perceived loophole that allowed someone who told a man to, for example, murder, to be exempt from the trial because they did not actually do it.

RICO was enacted by section 901(a) of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (Pub.L. 91-452, 84 Stat. 922, enacted October 15, 1970). RICO is codified as Chapter 96 of Title 18 of the United States Code, 18 U.S.C. § 1961–1968.

While its original use was to prosecute the Mafia as well as others who were actively engaged in organized crime, its application has been more widespread.

It has been speculated that the name and acronym were selected in a sly reference to the movie Little Caesar, which featured a notorious gangster named Rico. The original drafter of the bill, G. Robert Blakey, refused to confirm or deny this.

DW: So now you legally have the rights to said accounts from the Amanah, who represents all owners/depositors?

NK: We do -- and we will begin to enforce the rights of the depositors. The inmates have run the asylum long enough, and it is time for everyone to be set free from their shackles.

DW: What do you expect to get out of this?

NK: Recognition, first of all. Everyone must recognize how they have worked.

They kept the money amongst themselves, and have excluded everyone else -- even the owners -- from one cent of it for 60-plus years now.

This is outright robbery. Now it is time to recover what belongs to others, and to look at the damage done to our own systems as well.

Secondly, let's repair what needs fixing if it is at all possible.

Third, many humanitarian projects throughout the world will no longer be funneling into the pockets of private interests, but can actually do what they are intended to do.

There is so much more to look at. It can go on forever.

DW: Do you really expect this to all come tumbling down? About 10 to 15 percent of our audience is very sarcastic about this and cannot believe anything we say until it actually happens.

NK: If the legal system or Admiralty Law does its job, it will come down -- and it will be a new beginning for all.

For some, it will just in the nick of time. For others it will be too late. For far more people, who have much time to spare, it directly paves the way for a wonderful future.

DW: Do you have anything else to say before we go?

NK: Yes, David, one final note. We have all the agreements in hand -- not just from the Amanah. We will bring them forth, if necessary, to the Admiralty Courts.

It will be insane for anyone in the Federal Reserve to even attempt to fight this. Any documentation they might attempt to fabricate and produce would have about as much value as a bubblegum wrapper.

They have trapped themselves in their own system -- with no room for escape. It has taken many, many years for this to reach a head, but we finally have freedom within our grasp.

I wish everyone the very best. I will continue fighting this good fight and making sure that justice will be served.

DW: We all appreciate it, Neil. And I personally can't wait to get back to writing about flying saucers.

NK: [Laughs] Bye for now, David.

DW: Until next time!

LETTER TO H.E. EVELINE WIDMER-SCHLUMPH, PRESIDENT OF SWISS CONFEDERATION

Attention of:

H.E. Eveline Widmer-Schlumph,
President,
Swiss Confederation
Presidential Palace, Berne,
Switzerland

Dear Madame President,

It has come to our attention that members of the old guard of the Federal Reserve System are in Switzerland, rifling through and attempting to steal the International Collateral Combined Accounts.

These people have no actual title or claim to these assets. They are abusing their position of influence in an attempt to continue exploiting this combined wealth of the world for themselves.

They are doing this in naked pursuit of world domination -- through global economic control.

I, the undersigned, have been appointed by the owners -- who have granted Neil Francis Keenan, Keith Francis Scott and one other full authority and power over these very same accounts that Federal Reserve hooligans are rifling through and stealing from.

Our mandate requires that we defend these accounts from all those who would attack them or steal from them.

It is clear that there has been rampant and blatant stealing from, and abuse of, these accounts ever since their inception.

On behalf of the owners of the accounts, which are guaranteed secure by the Swiss Confederation via the office of the Attorney General of Switzerland, we require that the Attorney General's office undertake a full audit and review of these accounts.

Considering UBS-AG Bank denies any approach of the mandates who own the accounts, we demand that a full audit and review of these accounts be undertaken immediately -- and that no further use of these accounts be allowed by anyone until this has been done.

It is time for the Swiss Confederation to do what is needed in order to meet their international obligations.

The Swiss Confederation guaranteed the security of these accounts under the international agreements and treaties that were signed.

In the interests of honoring your own jurisdictional obligations, as assented to and agreed within International Treaties, we require the International Collateral Combined Accounts be fully audited.

We also require that the use of any of these assets be reviewed, to determine if it complies with legal entitlements. This is the only way we can determine what has been stolen -- and by whom.

We are ready, willing and able to provide all the account holder codes in order to undertake a full audit and review of these accounts.

We want the whole world to know we have made this demand. Therefore, this is an open letter -- to be published globally.

Faithfully,

Neil Francis Keenan

AND NOW FOR THE LIENS

DW: This is admittedly not going to be an easy read. There are eight liens, and only minor differences between them. It's well over sixty pages long in total.

I had asked Neil if we could combine them together, for simplicity, but he said that there were enough differences that we had to do them all separately.

Formatting all of this for publication online, as HTML text, took a great deal of work -- hence the delay. Now, here they are.

Again, if you want more information about the logic behind how this was done, my interview with Winston Shroud is a good start.

Each document has unique signatures attached to it. We got complaints before that people thought they looked too similar to each other. Rachmat and Martha therefore varied their writing styles from one to the next, to make each signature unique.

Now, MANY people are sending in comments and trying to attack these liens -- simply because Rachmat and Martha's signatures are not similar enough!

We are aware of this. It does not change the fact that these are real signatures by real people, and the liens are valid.

[EUROPEAN CENTRAL BANKS]

Affidavit of Obligation Commercial Lien (This is a verified plain statement of fact)

Maxims:

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed—All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves – and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard.

No Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company -- and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days.)

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation – hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free-enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully, outside of or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract, or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor -- and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS: All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond, and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

[BANK FOR INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENTS]

Affidavit of Obligation
Commercial Lien
(This is a verified plain statement of fact)

Maxims:

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed—All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves – and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard.

No Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company -- and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days.)

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation – hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free-enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully, outside of or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract, or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor -- and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS: All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond, and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

Allegations:

1. The amount of gold under lease contract to the Federal Reserve System through the Bank for International Settlements is 2,420,937,400 kilograms.
2. The lease payments on this gold is payable at the rate of 4% per annum. The total owed, starting in 1961 through 2012, is 4,638,791,996 kilograms of pure gold.
3. Proof of the Federal Reserve Obligation is in the form of Federal Reserve Bonds, series of 1928 and series of 1934, which have been issued at various times between 1934 and 2012.
4. Proof of the interest obligation is further demonstrated by the issue of international currencies that have been issued to the Holders of the Gold Accounts, but against the Federal Reserve Bonds.

These international currencies, by virtue of a criminal conspiracy devised by Central Banks that are members of the Bank for International Settlements, have been blocked to prevent the Lien Claimant from recovering leasing payments owed from the gold they committed into the Bank for International Settlements -- which is the Central Bank for the Central Banking System.

5. The gold was acquired through a time when gold coin and gold bullion could not be privately owned, and had to be surrendered to the State.

The States then combined the gold into an international gold pool, to be used by Ministries of Finance in each country on an equitable basis -- thus ensuring a greater probability of peace and security within the world, and greater economic stability.

However, instead of the gold being used as per agreements between the Nations, the Bank for International Settlements has conspired with Central banks and Commercial banks to use these assets outside legal authority - and contrary to law.

6. The World States (as per 8 below) combined the bullion into a single, central deposit, whereby all countries would have equitable access through their Ministries of Finance, not their Central Banks.
7. The gold registered in the Bank for International Settlements is actually owned by Governments deposited by the Amanah members (The Mandates) on behalf of the combined Ministries of Finance, but is available to Central Banks for underwriting purposes, subject to approval of the Owners through the Lien Claimant.
8. In 1948, under UN Resolution MISA 81704, Operation Heavy Freedom, President Soekarno was appointed as M1, (Monetary Controller), and the entire centralized system was put under his disposal as Trustee.
9. The bullion is deposited into the centralized system by a group of Trustees appointed by Soekarno. These Trustees formed an association of Trustees now known as the Amanah, otherwise known as the Mandates.
10. The Mandates have assigned their authority over the accounts to Neil F. Keenan and Keith F. Scott.
11. The owners of the gold and other assets leased to the Federal Reserve System / Central banks between 1928 and 1968, at a 4% per annum rental fee, have never received substantive payment since 1928 until today.

They have been constantly tricked and deceived by Central Banks, who have the obligation to pay for the leases of the gold back to the Ministries of Finance through the Amanah.

12. All persons from several organizations of persons who consider themselves to be the global elite have illegally used these assets, making fortunes for themselves or otherwise benefitting from the illegal use of these accounts.

This illegal use of the gold has been extensive, and very damaging to Lien Claimant. This damage was caused by the Lien Debtor, who engaged in many conspiracies to allow and even assist in cheating the Lien Claimant.

13. The Federal Reserve System/ Bank for International Settlements are part of the privately owned Central Banking system. All debts of that private banking system, beyond the value held in gold, is the obligation of that Central Banking System only -- and is not a debt obligation of the people of the United States of America.

14. The Bank of England / City of London / House of Rothschild are the primary owners and controllers of the Federal Reserve System, who act as the actual principals of the Banks that own the Bank for International Settlements.

The Bank for International Settlements is an integral part of this conspiracy.

16. The Owners, Shareholders, Directors/Executive Officers and Bonding Companies of the Bank for International Settlements are deemed lien debtors, collectively and severally.

17. The Bank for International Settlements has tolerated, allowed and participated in malfeasance and the abuse of Lien Claimants, resulting in over 50 years of accumulated losses to Lien Claimant.

18. For gold leased through the Bank for International Settlements, Central Banks have caused to be printed and issued Bank Notes and Bonds, which were given as evidence of the debt obligations of these Banks. These Notes and Bonds were accepted for value in good faith by the Lien Claimant, to be returned to issuing banks for settlement and closure.

19. The Bank For International Settlements member Central Banks have failed to redeem for value any of these Bank Notes and or Bonds that are due and payable in substance on presentment.

20. The Lien Claimant requires satisfaction and payment of damages from Bank for International Settlements, who have helped orchestrate and participate in innumerable detrimental acts against the accounts of the Lien Claimant.

Affidavit of Obligation
Commercial Lien
(This is a verified plain statement of fact)

Maxims:

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed—All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves – and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard.

No Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company -- and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days.)

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation – hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free-enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully, outside of or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract, or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor -- and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS: All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond, and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

Affidavit of Obligation
Commercial Lien
(This is a verified plain statement of fact)

Maxims:

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed—All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves – and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard.

No Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company -- and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days.)

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation – hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free-enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully, outside of or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract, or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor -- and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS: All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond, and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

Affidavit of Obligation
Commercial Lien
(This is a verified plain statement of fact)

Maxims:

All men and women know that the foundation of law and commerce exists in the telling of the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

Truth, as a valid statement of reality, is sovereign in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit stands as truth in commerce.

An un rebutted affidavit is acted upon as the judgment in commerce.

Guaranteed—All men shall have a remedy by the due course of law. If a remedy does not exist, or if the existing remedy has been subverted, then one may create a remedy for themselves – and endow it with credibility by expressing it in their affidavit.

(Ignorance of the law might be an excuse, but it is not a valid reason for the commission of a crime when the law is easily and readily available to anyone making a reasonable effort to study the law.)

All corporate government is based upon Commercial Affidavits, Commercial Contracts, Commercial Liens and Commercial Distresses. Hence, governments cannot exercise the power to expunge commercial processes.

The Legitimate Political Power of a corporate entity is absolutely dependent upon its possession of Commercial Bonds against Public Hazard.

No Bond means no responsibility, means no power of Official signature, means no real corporate political power, and means no privilege to operate statutes as the corporate vehicle.

The Corporate Legal Power is secondary to Commercial Guarantors. Case law is not a responsible substitute for a Bond.

Municipal corporations, which include cities, counties, states and national governments, have no commercial reality without bonding of the entity, its vehicle (statutes), and its effects (the execution of its rulings).

In commerce, it is a felony for the Officer of a Political/Public Office to not receive and report a Claim to its Bonding Company -- and it is a felony for the agent of a Bonding Company to not pay the Claim.

If a Bonding Company does not get a malfeasant public official prosecuted for criminal malpractice within sixty (60) days, then it must pay the full face value of a defaulted Lien process (at 90 days.)

Except for a Jury, it is also a fatal offense for any person, even a Judge, to impair or to expunge, without a Counter-Affidavit, any Affidavit or any commercial process based upon an Affidavit.

Judicial non-jury commercial judgments and orders originate from a limited liability entity called a municipal corporation – hence must be reinforced by a Commercial Affidavit and a Commercial Liability Bond.

A foreclosure by a summary judgment (non-jury) without a commercial bond is a violation of commercial law.

Governments cannot make unbonded rulings or statutes which control commerce, free-enterprise citizens, or sole proprietorships without suspending commerce by a general declaration of martial law.

It is tax fraud to use Courts to settle a dispute/controversy which could be settled peacefully, outside of or without the Court.

An official (officer of the court, policeman, etc.) must demonstrate that he/she is individually bonded in order to use a summary process.

An official who impairs, debauches, voids or abridges an obligation of contract, or the effect of a commercial lien without proper cause, becomes a lien debtor -- and his/her property becomes forfeited as the pledge to secure the lien. Pound breach (breach of impoundment) and rescue is a felony.

It is against the law for a Judge to summarily remove, dismiss, dissolve or diminish a Commercial Lien. Only the Lien Claimant or a Jury can dissolve a commercial lien.

Notice to agent is notice to principal; notice to principal is notice to agent.

PUBLIC HAZARD BONDING OF CORPORATE AGENTS: All officials are required by federal, state, and municipal law to provide the name, address and telephone number of their public hazard and malpractice bonding company, the policy number of the bond, and, if required, a copy of the policy describing the bonding coverage of their specific job performance.

Failure to provide this information constitutes corporate and limited liability insurance fraud (15 USC), and is prima-facie evidence and grounds to impose a lien upon the official, personally, to secure their public oath and service of office.

UNTIL NEXT TIME...

I am right about to head out the door for my trip to Europe, for a conference in Toulouse, France this weekend and two more conferences in Amsterdam the following weekend. The details can be found on this site.

I'm excited to do this. These are great cities and I definitely need a change of pace!

We also have a five-city tour of Australia and New Zealand coming up in June, and events in New York, Chicago and Vancouver thereafter. You can read more in the Coming Appearances section of divinecosmos.com.

These are exciting times -- and I will be going through hundreds of slides' worth of dazzling information.

CHANGES ARE AHEAD...

On the intuitive side, I have continued to have dreams that are ridiculously blatant in telling me that this is real, these arrests are going to happen, and the results will be beneficial.

It is my honor to participate in this process, in whatever way I can. I also want to thank you for your support -- including the many heartfelt letters of condolence and encouragement.

I look forward to a future where we can all have the prosperity and peace we deserve. I invite you to help co-create that with me by doing your part to spread the word.

The Occupy movement is heating up again, and getting out in the streets is the most powerful tool we have. Don't be shy -- it's a great party, and you just might meet your future life partner!

"Four years after the financial crisis, not a single of the too-big-to-fail banks is smaller; in fact, they all continue to grow in size and risk," the group's press office said in an April 26 e-mail.
